Twelfth Is Celebrated In Port Hope

SIXTY-SIX ORANGE LODGES WITH TWENTY-SEVEN BANDS TAKE PART IN BIG PARADE

Peterborough With Her Twelve Lodges Play Large Part in Event.

BATTLE OF BOYNE RECALLED

Loyalty To Empire, Order and God Are Themes Stressed By Speaers.

(By R. Doubt)

Days of King William III. and the Battle of the Boyne were brought vividly to mind ,amid pleasanest of surroundings yesterday afternoon, when over 5,000 Orangemen, ladies and children marched to the music of fife and drum bands through the beautiful streets of Port Hope to celebrate the "Glorious Twelfth" of July.

Not in many long years has port Hope stirred to scenes such as were staged for the occasion, and Port Hope was ready for it, with gaily-decorated street and cordial committees. Sixty-six lodges with twenty-five fife and drume and two brass bands took part in the monster demonstration. Representatives from five counties—Victoria, Peterborough, South Ontario, Northumberland and Durham— took part to swell the parade to over two miles in length. To stand at the foot of Walton street, Port Hope's main thoroughfare, and look towards the summit was a grand sight to see.

Thousands Line Streets

Thousands of citizens and visitors lined the street as the bands and lodges swept on up the hill in step to lively tunes, with overhead, gay banners waving, bordered with the green leaves of Canada's Maples.

That the walk was a huge success need not be mentioned, as it was evinced on every hand through the town. Starting early in the morning, small bands of enthusiastic Orangemen began to gather with their fifes and drums and "warm up." And right up to the time of parade, thousands of enthusiastic lodgemen and ladies swarmed into the town. Here they formed up in their lodges as they arrived, and marched to the town park to disband; where they mingled with the throng, making it an extremely gay scene of silken sashes and multi-colored uniforms.

Twelve Lodges from Peterborough

Peterborough, with her twelve lodges—seven men's three ladies' and two juveniles—totalling over eight hundred, made up the largest contribution to the grand event. Oshawa came next with two men's, four ladies' and one juvenile, lodges.

A new and pleasing feature of the parade, and one which took well with the spectators, was Peterborough's mouth organ band, also the juvenile fife and drum band, headed by Guardian William Wilson. Peterborough lodges were led by District

TARIFF VIEWS STATED TO U. S.

No Formal Protest Has Been Made By Dominion Government.

NO FURTHER STATEMENTS.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 13. —(By Canadian Press). — The attitude of Canada toward the United States tariff bill has been clearly stated to the United States authorities in representations made by the Canadian legation at Washington. This was stated here today by the Department of External affairs. There has been no formal protest against the proposed tariff changes by the Dominion Government, but, in the course of "conversations," which have taken place the position of Canada has been clear These conversations have been progressing for some time.

The department declined to give any indication of the position which Canada has taken through its representatives at Washington. It seems probable that attention has been directed to all the tariff changes, which are regarded as injurious to Canadian trade. Beyond saying that the United States Government has been fully apprised of how Canada regards the new tariff bill; the authorities here do not care to go further at present.

CANADA SENDS PROTESTS ON UNITED STATES' TARIFF RATES

Statement Cause of Much Speculation and Comment in Senate Circles.

PROBLEM DISCUSSED.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 13 (Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). — Disclosure that the State Department has been advised of the attitude of Canada on the tariff and that Secretary of State Stimson received what amounts to a protest on the House rates on lumber, shingles, logs and feeder cattle cause much comment and speculation in Senate circles to-day.

While the Canadian Legation is not admitting that a protest was made, either through Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister, or otherwise, it is positively given out in Senate circles that Secretary Stimson has informed Senators a protest was received, what its nature was, and his views of it. Moreover, it is well known that President Hoover has discussed the Canadian attitude on the tariff with colleagues.

There seems little doubt that the Senate will strike out the House increases on lumber, shingles, and logs What it will do about feeder cattle is a probem, as some of the farm organizations are pressing for still higher rates than the House rates.

ONE UNIDENTIFIED.

GILLINGHAM, Kent, England, July 13 (C.P.).—The number of dead in the mock fire disaster here Thursday night reached fifteen this morning with the death of Ronald Mitchell, fireman, who succumbed in a hospital to burns received in rescue work.

"How are the other boys?" the youthful naval cadet from the Chatham school asked his parents. "Daddy, did they get away?"

"There was not time to do anything, the heat was so terrible; I did not see what happened to the others," he said. Concern for their fate continued to occupy his thoughts until the moment of his death, with a smile on his lips.

HELD UP TAXI DRIVER.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., July 13.—(Canadian Press).—After holding up Arthur Turner, a taxi driver, binding him to a tree near the Golden Grove Road, relieving him of his watch and money, two men believed to be Alfred Belanger and Valmorg Leblanc, from the United States, drove off with the taxi cab to Hampton where they attempted to hold up the general store of J. William Smith, M.L.A. They were thwarted in an attempt by Murray Baird, manager of the store, who, after being backed part way down the cellar stairs, knocked the pistol from the hand of one of the men, grabbed the gun and covered the pair until he could get assistance. Then, with the aid of a man summoned to his assistance, Baird marched his two prisoners to Hampton jail where they were locked up to await the arrival of police officers from Saint John, who brought them to the city last night.

Roe, fireman, both of this city, were injured to-day when the connecting rod broke and forced its way through the boiler of a C.N.R. passenger engine. The brake filled the engine with steam and badly scalded the engineer. Both jumped and the fireman had his right shoulder dislocated.

PREMIER WILL STAND BY HIS SCHOOL POLICY

REPLIES TO CRITICS.

Cecil Armstrong Promises To Wreck Government in Ontario.

TORONTO, Ont., July 13.—(Canadian Press).—"I do not think anyone will try to argue that this is a bilingual province," said Premier G. Howard Ferguson, addressing more than 10,000 members of the Orange Association at Exhibition Park here yesterday. "This is an English speaking province," he said. "Our problem is to give each child in Ontario such training by some method as will enable him to master English and to become an English-speaking citizen."

Mr. Ferguson told his audience that a speech he delivered at Erin Ontario, in 1911 led to the appointment of an investigatory commission of whose probe was the framing of "Regulation 17".

He explained that regulation 17 stipulated that a French speaking pupil must learn enough English to take tuition in English before reaching the second class in public school.

"That was the result of that regulation?" he asked. "The result was that the French people, rightly or wrongly, regarded it as an attempt to obliterate their birthright and to supress their native tongue. They refused to carry on or to co-operate with the Department of Education."

Only One Compulsory Law

In reply to queries from members of his audience as to why he did not enforce co-operation, Mr. Ferguson said: "There is only one compulsory educational law in this province and that is the law which compels every parent to see that his child gets an education. The child can get that education in a public school or in a private school. The only compulsory law is that the child must be educated.

"The Department of Education establishes certain standards of equipment and tuition. But if a school does not live up to those standards, the province of education has no more right to walk in and close it than it would have to close up a place of worship."

"My purpose always has been sincere and honest. I have done what I have done after the fullest honest consideration of the problem. I have neve- asked a solitary man to vote for me, and I never will. I am not married to this situation, but I want to be of service.

Stand by Record.

"You can take my record and pull it to shreds, and if it does not meet your requirements you can get someone else whose will."

With these dramatic words, Premier Ferguson assaulted one of the most vigorous attacks ever made on the present Government's bi-lingual schools policy.

Sitting on the platform at the 12th of July celebration at Exhibition Park, the Premier had heard a short time earlier another speaker, Cecil W. Armstrong, Past Grand Secretary of the Orange Grand Lodge in Manitoba, tell a cheering audience how Orangemen had wrecked the Roblin Government in Manitoba on the same bi-lingual schools problem "We are going to do exactly the same thing in Ontario," declared Mr. Armstrong.

A section of the audience persistently interrupted the Prime Minister, as, rising after Mr. Armstrong, he laid down the policy followed by his Government. The contentious problem of teaching English to French-speaking children was being handled by the Department of Education with regard to local conditions, he asserted, and the reports he received as Minister of Education were that this plan was working out satisfactorily.

Pest Reported To Be Spreading In Wheat

The Examiner is informed that the destructive insect which was reported in Thursday's paper as having caused much damage to a field of fall wheat on William Stewart's farm, west of Keene, has spread its depredations farther and that many fields in South Monaghan are menaced by the same plague, which may possibly be the Hessian fly, but whose identity has not yet been determined. There are indications of considerable damage having already been caused by this pest.

The same informant, who is an authority on the subject, made a visit to Mr. Stewart's farm to examine the damage caused there and thinks the report was slightly exaggerated. He estimates the destruction in the ratio of fifty per cent. of the total crop on the field.

UP TEN DAYS GREAT RECORD

FABRIC GAVE WAY.

CULVER CITY, Cal., July 13. — (Canadian Press).—After ten days and a quarter in the air, two fliers completed a new aviation epic here yesterday when they brought their biplane "Angeleno" to earth bearing a new record for sustained flight.

Loren W. Mendell of Los Angeles, and Roland B. (Pete) Reinhart of Salem, Ore, upon landing their Buhl sedan at 2:13:02 p.m., had been aloft 246 hours, 43 minutes and 33 seconds. The "Angeleno" powered by a second-hand Wright Whirlwind motor left the ground Tuesday of last week at 7:29:30 a.m. Since that time the previous record had been established at Cleveland.

The gruelling duel between man and machine in this magnificent test in the skies ended in a draw as such, for both man and engine were ready to carry on. It was the fabrication of the second-hand ship which gave way.

The flight was brought to an end when the tail group started fluttering and made it impossible to carry out the thirty-eighth refueling.

"We have to give the engine credit for everything," was the first comment of Chief Pilot Mendell as he clambered from the ship. Never before has an airplane engine done anything like this. If the engine could talk, perhaps it would have naid a like compliment to the men, for never before have two humans undergone such a test.

ICE MOVING OUT.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 13. —(Canadian Press). — A message received late this morning by the Department of Marine and Fisheries from it radio station at Port Burwell, on the Hudson Straits, indicated that the 'Untin' bowler, the Chicago Tribune's giant amphibian Sesqui plane blying to Europe via the top of the world, would not take off before tomorrow.

The message stated that ice which had hemmed the machine in for several days had moved off shore about two miles. The crew of the machine was endeavoring to take off for Mission Cove, only a short distance away, where the pontoon, damaged by ice a couple of days ago, will be repaired.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—(Canadian Press).—Three new attempts to establish airplane records were being planned today.

In Honolulu Erick W. Priman, upon his arrival from Hollywood, announced he would attempt to fly from Hawaii to San Francisco, thence to Los Angeles and New York.

The advance party mapping the route of a proposed world flight sponsored by the Russian government was in San Francisco to-day to make arrangements for the plane's arrival here.

The flight is scheduled for late in August or early September.

Lieut. Harold Bromley, flying the monoplane in which he plans a non-stop flight from Tacoma to Tokyo, left here yesterday for Murdoc Dry Lakes in the Mojave Desert where he expects to make load tests.

RIVAL PILOTS OFF ON FIRST ATLANTIC RACE

French and Polish Fliers Are Winging Different Ways Over Ocean.

MAKE FINE STARTS.

Polish Are Unheard From, But Frenchmen Drop Note Over Spain.

LE BOURGET, France, July 13 (C.P.)—Two rival airplanes, one bearing the colors of Poland and the other those of France, to-day were speeding swiftly westward so far as known, over the Atlantic in the first great trans-Atlantic air race from Paris to New York.

Perfect weather conditions gave every hope that the Polish and French rivals of the air were well on their way, the Poles on a northerly route and the Frenchmen on a more southerly one.

Major Judwik Idzikowski and his companion, Major Casimor Kubala, took off first in their plane, the Marshal Pilsulski, at 4.47 a'clock this morning (10.47 p.m. Friday, E.S.T.), while Captain Dieudonne Coste, famous Fresh flyer and Jacques Bellonte followed just 45 minutes later at 5.32 a.m. The French flyers were reported four times in their passage across France, the Bay of Biscay and Spain, finally at Santander, Spain.

Sighted Over Spanish Coast

The men were sighted over the Spanish coastal city at 9.30 a.m. local time (3.30 a.m. E.S.T.), having covered nearly 470 miles in slightly less than four hours, indicating a good average speed of more than 115 miles an hour.

The progress of the Polish plane was not so clear. No word had been received as to its whereabouts this afternoon, but as it was last seen going strongly, having made the hazardous take-off with its enormous load of gasoline, the presumption was, it too was far on its way.

While flying between Tours and Bordeaux, Coste dropped a note saying that everything was going fine and that he intended to follow the steamship lane.

Both planes should reach New Yoork tomorrow afternoon if all goes well, the French a little in advance, for their machine is faster than that of the Poles.

Courses Come Close Together

Although the two planes headed in different directions at the start, their courses come close together near the Azores when both plan to continue by the same route by way of Halifax to New York.

The sensational start of the first trans-Atlantic air race soon became known in Paris and throughout France and excitement grew with each successive report of the progress of the "Question Mark," as the French machine is known.

The fact that the Poles had not been heard of was not considered remarkable as their wireless apparatus was known not to have been working well at the start and its light gray color would make it hard to distinguish against a cloudy sky.

The Marshal Pilsudski is equipped with a wireless apparatus for telegraph and telephone having a range of about sixty miles, while the Question Mark as a wireless apparatus for telegraphy having a range of between 300 and 350 miles. The French plane will use as its call letters "Frans" while the Polish plane will use "Spapo."

Interest Grows Keener

As the hours passed and still there were no indications that the rival airmen had turned back, French interest in the flight grew keener and keener. Paris was engaged in packing its picnic basket for Sunday's Independence Day holiday and was just beginning to realize that its favorite native birdmen were over the Atlantic in the first Paris to New York air race.

To make it even more thrilling it was realized that the flight, if successful would end on the famous July 14, a holiday known in history as Bastille Day.

Reported Over Gijon

PARIS, July 13.—A Havas despatch from Madrid says that the French plane Question Mark flew over Gijon, Northern Spain, at 10.10 o'clock this morning Greenwich time (5.10 a.m., eastern standard time), the weather was cloudy.

The Gijon report was one hour and forty minutes later than the Santander report of the fliers, indicating that they were following the Spanish coast to the west with the apparent intention of setting out across the Atlantic from the tip of Northwestern Spain at Cape Finistere.

It is somewhat over 100 miles from Santander to Gijon which would indicate that the fliers' speed had been cut down somewhat and that they were not making headway of much more than 60 miles an hour.

Find Transfer Houses Can Tell Identity of Cargo Lots.

CANADIAN GRAIN CLEANER.

MIDLAND, Ont., July 13—(By the Canadian Press).—The Saskatchewan Royal Grain Enquiry Commission arrived at Port McNicoll on are Canadian Pacific liner Assiniboia yesterday from the head of the lakes and spent the day visiting the grain elevators in the district. The Commission has been taking evidence since early last December and issued their interim report in April and are in the final stage of their enquiry. They arrived here after a one day session at the head of the lakes.

The elevators at Georgian Bay ports are commonly known as transfer houses, and the first visit was made to the C.P.R. elevator at Port McNicoll where they interviewed G. I. Shaw, the Superintendent, and learned the manner in which grain is handled in and out of this house. Mr. Shaw denied any mixing between grades as have all other elevator men at the various points visited. There have been no complaints received as to the character of the out-turn from this elevator. This house has facilities for cleaning grain but it is not used unless requested.

In the general evidence secured yesterday it was stated that execpt in rush seasons transfer houses can maintain the identity of cargo lots of grain received by them for overseas shipment.

When the commissioners had completed their work at Port McNicoll they proceeded to Midland and visited the four elevators at this point. The Canada Steamships Lines elevator operated by Levi Russ was visited before noon and the Midland Simcoe elevator immediately after lunch. At the Cotter house, S. R. Perry, the operating manager, handed the commissioners several samples of grain taken from wheat in the bins and these were examined by R. Steel, the grain expert with the commission.

The offense was committed Wednesday, June 19, 199. Col2. F. D. Boggs, K.C., Cobourg, appeared for Burgess. N. Alex MacColl appeared for the plaintiffs. James Grant, one of those honored, was district freight agent at Hamilton until his recent retirement on pension. During 58 years he was employed in every department of railway work, starting in 1871 with the old Midland Railway.

Joseph Richard Clancy, the other guest of honor, has a transportation career totalling 46 years. Starting with the Grand Trunk Railway in 1883, he finally became assistant foreign freight agent of the C.P.R. at Toronto in 1921.

R. E. Larmour, general freight agent, presented Mr. Grant with a cane and umbrella and W. Fulton, assistant general passenger agent, presented Mr. Clancy with an engraved wrist watch.

CONGREGATION HOLDS REUNION

Three Hundred Members and Former Members Attend Afternoon Service.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

At a reunion of the congregation of the South Dummer appointment of the East Peterborough circuit of the United Church last Sunday the sum of $175 was contributed as a voluntary offering to be used in repairs and redecorations of the church building.

More than 300 members and former members of the church attended the service which was held in the afternoon with Rev. Forbes Stillman of Norwood officiating, assisted by Rev. R. T. Ritchards of Port Perry, who was a pastor of the circuit some years ago. The church was filled to capacity, thirty or more coming from Peterborough and as many from Lakefield. Old Boys and Girls comprised about half the congregation, some coming from Toronto and a few from the prairie provinces.

The service was deeply impressive in its spirit of dedication to the old South Dummer circuit and its mission of relgion; not only in its past accomplishments but also in an assured future of good work.

Tea was served in the early evening, and the afternoon's congregation remained afterward for a pleasant hour of social intercourse and reunion.

SENTINEL ORANGE LODGE WINS HONORS AT CAMPBELLFORD

WANT NO NEW FLAG.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 13. — Yesterday the music of the drums and fifes marked the celebration here of the 239th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne as a day of celebration.

Orangeism, patriotism and Protestantism were linked together as all tending toward one and the same goal, when members of Parliament, clergymen and men prominent in the Orange Association addressed the hundreds of people who stood in the blistering heat of the sun to hear Orangeism expounded from 1690 right up to the present time. The parade extended over a route of about two miles long, and was marshalled by Fred Grills, County Marshall. J. A. Anderson, well known in local Orange circles, introduced the speakers.

17 Lodges Present.

There were seventeen distinct lodges in the walk, and visiting brethren from several others. The lodges followed in the order named:

L.O.L. 108, Warkworth; L.O.L. 526, Campbellford; L.O.L. 554, Castleton; L.O.B.A. 129, Sentinel; L.O.L. 1069, Alderville; L.O.L. 261, Roseneath; Ladies' lodge from Roseneath; L.O.L. 186, Brighton; L.O.B.A. 58, Brighton; L.O.L. 620, Wooler; L.O.L. 903, Little Lake; L.O.L. 1363, Codrington; L.O.L. 206, Trenton; L.O.B.A. 604, Trenton; L.T.B. Icebergs Are Numerous In Vicinity Of Cape Race

HALIFAX, N.S., July 13. — Passengers on the Swedish-American liner Cropsholm, arriving last night from Gothenburg, were thrilled off Cape Race Tuesday morning when a huge iceberg, estimated to be at least 150 feet high and little more than a mile from the ship, turned over repeatedly, a third of the mass breaking off and forming a growler. Ten bergs were sighted in the vicinity of Cape Race.

BODY IS FOUND TRAGEDY ENDS

UNABLE TO ESCAPE.

SIOUV LOOKOUT, Ont., July 13.—(C.P.)—The body of "Sandy" Morrison, the young Aberdonian who was drowned when the Canadian Air Force plane crashed and sank on Lake St. Joseph July 5, was recovered yesterday and buried at Osnaburgh House Post.

The body was found in the plane when it was raised. His legs were caught in twisted pipe and fuselage, indicating that he had to free himself when the ship crashed.

The plane was one of those accompanying Ontario and Dominion Government Officials in their flight to the Patricia District for the purpose of settling with Indians for the last of unceded territories.

Windshield wipers are now being fitted to the captain's bridge of some of England's battleships.

NO ARGUMENT WHITE THINKS

Chancellor Will Fail To Show Tariff Abolition Is Fair.

WEAKEN GOOD WILL.

TORONTO, Ont., July 13 (Canadian Press).— Doubt that Right Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, will be able to supply convincing arguments as to the fairness of the abolition of Imperial preferential tariffs was expressed yesterday by Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance in the wartime Government of Canada.

"I trust he will, upon reflection, realize that a vast amount of goodwill towards Britain and a powerful sentiment in favor of Imperial unity lie at the basis of the preferential tariffs enacted by the Canadian and other Dominion Parliaments." Sir Thomas said.

Abolition of preferences, he said, would only have the effect of "materially weakening the sentiment already existing throughout the overseas Dominions in favor of the preferences accorded, with so much loyal goodwill, to Britain in their tariff legislation."

Labor, in the opinion of James Simpson, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, strongly favors the Chancellor's pronouncement. The attitude taken, he said, is that free foodstuffs mean lower prices, cheaper provisions, and more wages to spend in other ways. The pronouncement merely was a fulfilment of the Labor Party's pledge, he said.

TWO AVIATORS SAFE IN NORTH

Missing Men Are Brought To Sioux Lookout By Second Plane.

DEPUTY MINISTER ILL.

TORONTO, July 13. (C.P.) — Walter C. Cain, Ontario Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, and Captain Roy Maxwell, director of the Ontario Air Service, are safe at Sioux Lookout. Word to this effect reached Toronto last night

Late last night government officials here received word that a Western Canada Airways plane, piloted by A. U. Westegard carried the missing men to Sioux Lookout yesterday afternoon where Mr. Cain was operated on at the hospital shortly after arrival following an illness which seized him during the flight.

Captain Maxwell explained on arrival there that after taking-off from Fort Hope for Lansdowne Landing their fuel supply was exhausted at Cat Lake, where they descended. Prospectors are numerous in this district and planes make daily visits, "which was a fortunate circumstance for us," he said, "as we soon secured aid in getting in the air again, for Westegard arrived shortly after we landed."

BANKS FAILURE CAUSES PANIC

Six Florida Banks Have Shut Doors in the Last Eight Days.

$9,000,000 INVOLVED.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 13.—(C.P.).—Approximately $9,000,000 in depositors' money was tied up to-day as State and Federal banking authorities worked toward the reorganization of liquidation of six Florida banks which have closed within the last eight days, five of them since Thursday.

The latest to fail were two in Daytona Beach, the Merchants Bank and Trust Company and the Atlantic Bank and Trust Company, which suspended business yesterday. Both were closed, according to notices on their doors by State Bank Examiners pending reorganization for the protection of their customers.

The failure of the Daytona Beach banks brought a run on the two remaining institutions in the city, which continued business despite heavy withdrawals. De Land, in the same county, suffered closing of the only two banks in the city, the Volusia County Bank and Trust Company and the First National Bank, Thursday, while the Colonial Bank and Trust Company of Miami, failed to open that day. The Peoples' Bank of Jacksonville had closed last Friday morning.

Cold Storage Eggs

EVERY man should have a hobby and ride it. I have heard that statement made, and not only believe it but practice it. I have one in which a slight indulgence has furnished me with hours of pleasure, mostly evening hours, in which I have learned not only interesting habits of tiny finny creatures, but have seen in them parallels of human traits and character. I have a pair of Jewel fish. Their scientific appellation is out of all proportion with their tiny, scintilating bodies. Suffice to say that an ever-changing display of opalescence makes them a delight to the eye. My pair had spawned on the inside of a small flower pot when I first saw them, and as an added incentive to my purchase, a wise salesman offered the pair of fish plus the pot and eggs at the regular price of a pair of fish. I took them. In a can, carefully insulated against outside chill, for tropical fish must have tropical temperature for their water, I rushed them home, tempered the water in a small aquarium in which were growing various oxigenating plants, and set the happy couple up in their new home. The pot with the eggs I placed about as they had been in their former location. But something had happened. If the eggs had not been fatally chilled, fish ardor for housekeeping and family raising had been. The erstwhile expectant parents avoided the promised nursery as though it were the plague, and I presume that to this day there is a perfectly good batch of Jewel fish eggs in that little crock, surprised and chagrined at the utter indifference toward them evidenced by those responsible for them. It is ever thus. Outside interference has always had a disconcerting way about it which has defeated progress and turned whole-hearted concern into cold indifference. If you have work to do, do it. Do it your way, and permit no chilling interference, or the task can never reach successful completion. That is the first lesson my little friends have taught me. The other is much like it, but from the other side of the fence. Encourage others in their undertakings and watch both them and their work blossom gloriously. Little is so conducive to good work, well done, as merited and unstinted cheering from the side lines. I have known of chilled eggs even in an ecclesiastical flower pot.

Queen Mary With the Wounded

* * *

QUEEN MARY of England has more than an ordinary natural shrinking from the sight of illness and human mutilation, Kathleen Woodard has said. Yet this happened: She was visiting in a hospital which had a sailor patient with almost the whole front of his face burnt away. Only to see the man was an ordeal, even to members of the staff; and so great was his consciousness of the horror of his appearance that the patient had lost all his confidence.

The head of the hospital approached Her Majesty thus: "We think if you could possibly sit and talk with him for a little while without betraying any consciousness of his appearance, it would do him more good than anything else in the world."

So for a long time the Queen sat alone talking with the patient in his room, "looking straight into his face, sitting near enough to touch him."

The significance of the story and its relation to the whole of Queen Mary's career is in her afterthought: "It was indescribable: but then, of course, there simply is nothing one can't do."—"The Life Story of the Queen of England."

Our "Darling Of Promise"

CHELSA SHERLOCK says in one of his comfortably, homey editorials, "The saddest thing in all this business of living is a soul out of which has gone that darling of promise, Hope," which implies an occasional exception of the old adage, "Where there is life, there is hope." I can recall in a dim, hazy sort of way some of the admonitions handed down to us by Prexy, from the chapel lecturn. I recall an isolated term snatched here and there from our science classes, but not their proper settings. I recall somewhat of the flights of an able "lit'" professor, a lover of Elizabeth Barrett, although I blush when I must admit to myself that "iambic pentameter" and "a priori" have become little more than the scars of a disease to which I was exposed in my youth and which time threatens effectually to eliminate. I shall never forget, however, the impression made upon my mind by one of the upper classmen, who had evidently settled all matters once and for all when he said, "What's the use? You have nothing to do with your being here. You are simply thrown into the pot to scramble for yourself. Nor do you have any say as to what lies ahead. Your way is charted by a fate over which you have no slightest influence." It staggered me at the time, as it does now. He had absorbed no such philosophy in the class-room of that school. Those of you who knew Prexy Blanchard of Wheaton will understand that. Where he got it I don't know, nor was I interested particularly in its source. The thing that came to me instantly was that, with such a view on life, there could be no hope. Take hope from me, hope for this life and hope for the next, and I willingly quit. It is the eternal springs of human accomplishment and high aim. "I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren—even as others which have no hope," still sounds down through the ages and portrays hopelessness as a matter of ignorance to which we may add Sherlock's modifier, in its superlative form. Hopelessness is the saddest of ignorance, for it deprives one of the full joys of life to-day and life to-morrow. I take it, little that a minister may do bears so rich rewards as his substituting, in the hearts of men, joyful hope for saddest ignorance.

To Father

Underneath a rough exterior
There I found a heart of gold:
Often stern and yet so tender,
Is the memory I hold.

Not too prone to show emotion,
Not too late to set aright,
When my wandering feet misled me
Or my judgment failed me quite.

But I knew he always loved us,
Toiled and wore his life away:
To provide to make us happy
Gave himself, his best each day.

Though uncrowned with fame or glory
As the world would echo fame,
In the book of my immortals
On page one is Father's name.

—By One of the Boys.

'Tis not in the high stars alone,
Nor in the cups of budding flowers,
Nor in the red-breast's mellowing tone,
Nor in the bow that smiles in showers,
But in the mud and scum of things
There always, always something sings.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Seeing The Roses

A LADY paying an early morning visit to a neighbor was ushered into a rather untidy room, for which her hostess profusely apologized, but her visitor smiling said: "I had eyes for nothing but those lovely roses," pointing to a bowl of Glorie de Dijon beauties, which occupied a prominent place on the table. Just as the eye sees what it looks for, so the soul that is itself beautiful finds all that is best and noblest, and most worthy of praise, in the men and women round about. And, in addition to this gift of hypervision, it has the equally beautiful gift of not seeing, which it exercises on occasion.—Sunday Journal.

Stories for Little People

Samuel, Or the Little Prophet.

He did not live in the tabernacle, but in some tents very near it.

You would like to know whether Eli had any children of his own. He had two sons, who were grown-up men, and they were priests, and offered sacrifices at the altar.

I suppose you think that Eli's sons were good because Eli was good; but I am sorry to tell you that they were very wicked men. They did not love God, they only cared for eating, and amusing themselves; and they did not wish to please God. Eli was good himself, but he did not punish his wicked sons; and that was very wrong of Eli. God has told fathers to punish their children when they are naughty and disobedient. My dear chilren, do your parents punish you when you fall into passions or are disobedient, or say what is not true? They punish you for your good.

Eli heard of the wicked things that his sons did; and he said to them, "Why do you do such wicked things? Everybody tells me of your wickedness. Oh, my sons, the Lord will be very angry with you, and punish you." But Eli's sons would not mind what their father said, but went on in their bad ways.

At last a good man came to Eli, and told him that God was very angry, and that he would let both his sons be killed in one day.

It must have grieved Eli to hear this. God was displeased with Eli for not having punished his sons. Yet Eli was a good man, and God loved him.

The two sons went on in their wickedness. And now you shall hear something else that God said.

One evening old Eli was lying in bed; and little Samuel was lying in another bed a little way off. Samuel heard a voice calling him, "Samuel." Samuel thought that Eli called him, and he answered, "Here am I"; and then he got out of bed and ran to Eli, to know what he wanted. You see what a kind little child Samuel was, and how ready he was to wait upon Eli.

But Eli said to Samuel, "I did not call you"; then Samuel went and lay down again.

Soon afterwards Samuel heard some one call again, "Samuel." So he went again to Eli, and said, "Here am I, for you did call me." But Eli said, "I did not call, my son; lie down again."

Then Samuel lay down, and he soon heard the voice again saying, "Samuel." Then he felt sure that it was Eli who called him, and he went to him and said, "Here am I, for you did call me."

Now Eli knew who it was who had called Samuel.

My dear child, do you know who it was? It was the Lord.

So Eli told Samuel to lie down again, and when he heard the voice, to answer, "Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth." Samuel was to call himself God's servant.

So Samuel went and lay down again, and soon the Lord came and stood by him, and called, as before, "Samuel, Samuel." Then Samuel answered, "Speak, for thy servant heareth." God had never spoken to Samuel before. Samuel must have longed to know what the Lord had to say to him. It was something very sad and dreadful; it was about Eli.

God told Samuel that He should soon punish Eli's sons for their wickedness, and that he was displeased with Eli for not having punished them.

After God had done speaking, Samuel remained in his bed, and Eli did not call him. Samuel did not like to tell Eli that God was displeased with him.

So when the morning came, Samuel did not go to Eli, but began to open the doors round about the tabernacle; for it was Samuel's business to open the doors. Soon Eli called Samuel, for he wanted to know what God had said to Samuel. Eli begged Samuel to tell everything to him, and to hide nothing from him.

Then little Samuel told Eli all that God had said.

How grieved Eli must have been when he heard that the Lord would punish his sons, and that the Lord was displeased with him; but Eli answered very meekly, and said, "Let the Lord do what He pleases." Eli really loved God, though he had done one wrong thing.

After this, God often spoke to Samuel, and told him how He would punish wicked people; and Samuel used to tell people what God had said, and all that Samuel told them came true. Samuel was a prophet; a prophet is a person to whom the Lord tells what He means to make happen.

People paid great attention to what Samuel said, but still many people went on doing wicked things. The people in Shiloh were very wicked, and God determined soon to punish them as well as Eli's sons. But God loved Samuel. What a happy child Samuel was.

My dear children, do not you wish that God loved you? If you love Him, I am sure that He loves you, for He has said, "I love them that love me." Pray to God to make you love Him a great deal more and to make you good, like Samuel. I hope that you will not grow up like Eli's sons.

What voice salutes young Samuel's ear,
So like to Eli's gentle tone?
Oh, let the child no danger fear,
It is the Lord from heaven come down.

And why does He to Samuel speak?
On him the Lord has poured His grace,
And made him holy, wise and meek,
And fit to fill a prophet's place.

With grief he hears of dreadful woes,
The sons of Eli soon shall feel;
Trembles the message to disclose,
Till Eli bids him all reveal.

Such was the tender, gentle child,
To whom these honors high were given;
On him the great Jehovah smiled,
And deign'd to speak with him from heaven.

Child.

O Lord, renew my sinful heart,
Which is by nature rude and vain,
That I may act a lowly part,
but in som e tents very near it.

SIXTY-SIX ORANGE LODGES TAKE PART IN BIG PARADE

The only three brass bands—Port Hope Town Band, which led the town's lodges; the Orono Regimental Band, smartly attired, and the Lakefield Band—were well received, the deeper music of the brass making a pleasing contrast to the shrill fifes.

Many and varied were the sizes of the lodges and the accompanying bands, for practically every second lodge had a band of some sort. Probably the most applause was drawn by the Juvenile Lodge No. 17 from Oshawa, attired in yellow, and led by their own fife and drum band.

As no prizes were given it would be an unwise act to pick prize winners, but had there been rewards for smart dress, marching or largest lodge there was plenty of material at hand to give judges serious thought.

Old Orangemen Present.

The oldest Orangeman present was Edward Nesbit of Port Perry, who is 92 years of age. He was born in Newtonville in 1837 and joined the Orange Order when he was sixteen. Since then he has been an ardent follower, having seventy-eight orange walks to his credit. Yesterday he rode for the first time. Next in line came Henry Rosevear of Port Hope, who is 85 years old, and had his sixtieth walk yesterday. Thos. - tterson, of Orono, was third oldest, with fifty-three walks. This time he rode. He is 76 years of age. All were still enthusiastic over the 12th and were unanimous in agreeing that the Order is going ahead by leaps and bounds. It is much more elaborately gotten up now, they said.

The Parade.

Forming up at the town park at half past one o'clock, standard time, the parade led off with Standard Bearer James Arkless carrying the Union Jack, followed by Marshal Wiliam Burt and James Paul, County Director, riding the proverbial 'white' horses. Behind them came the cars containing the speakers of the afternoon and noted Orangemen who were unable to walk. Following in order of march the lodges taking part were: Garden Hill, L.O.B.A. No. 76; Orange Corners, No. 41, Emily, No. 294; Lindsay L.O.L. No. 32; Lindsay Juvenile No. 37, O.Y.B., No. 397, L.O.B.A. No. 366, and L.O.L. No. 557; Reaboro, No. 820; Douro, No. 457; Keene Juveniles No. 33; L.O.B.A. No. 437; Buckhorn, No. 419; Peterborough, Juvenile, Dist. No. 3; Vimy Ridge No. 244; Star of Bethlehem, No. 265; Diamond L.O.L. No. 80; J. W. Bell, Memorial, No. 1175; Duke of Manchester, No. 50; Mays School House, No. 2440; Downers Corners, Lord Nelson, No. 321; Nassau, No. 457; North Smith, Wesley, No. 419; Keene Juveniles; Keene L.O.B.A.; Eastern Star L.O.B.A. No. 625; Deseronto, No. 451; Mohawk No. 99; Oshawa, L.O.L. No. 2167, No. 686, L.T.B. No. 55, Queen Mary, No. 97; Oakley No. 151, Victory No. 583, Juveniles No. 17, Young Britons; Whitby L.O.L. No. 2697; Vimy Ridge, L.O.B.A. No. 69; Port Perry, King Edward, No. 223; Utica, Kennedy No. 2139; Baltimore No. 52; Cobourg L.O.B.A. No. 3511; Coldsprings, No. 514; Blackstock, No. 133; Purple Hill, No. 399; Bowmanville, Purple Guard, No. 2336; L.T.B., No. 476; Cavan Senior No. 40; Fraserville, No. 46; Millbrook, No. 79; Carmel, No. 421, Bailleboro; No. 853; Janetville, No. 64; Marytown, No. 75; Garden Hill, No. 385, Bewdley, No. 149; Port Hope, Juvenile No. 2; L.O.L. No. 309; Pontypool No. 82; Lotus, No. 279; Bethany, No. 1022; Newtonville, No. 311; Kendal, No. 405; Orono, L.O.B.A. No. 715, L. O.L. 409; Elizabethville No. 424.

The parade finished its march at the town par, where the lodges were disbanded to hear the addresses.

Observed Minute of Silence.

Chairman L. McCullough opened the program of addresses by welcoming the lodges to the town, and asked them to observe one minute's silence in respect for Hon. W. T. McPherson, P.C.M. of Ontario South, and Dr. John W. Edwards, both of whom so recently passed into the Great Beyond.

In a very short welcome, Mayor R. J. Edwards said: "I take great pleasure in welcoming you all to this fair town, and I hope you have as much pleasure in your visit here as we have in welcoming you. The town is yours, do as you wish. We want you all to come back again. God bless you."

"It is fitting that we gather to commemorate the great event that happened long years ago on the 12th of July," said Rev. A. G. Emmet rector of the Anglican Church. "What liberty we have in our religious views to-day was won at the cost of blood. We celebrate the 11th of November as a date of a deliverance from a foes' oppression, and so even more so do I think it is fitting that we pay tribute to the many things the 12th of July means to us. My text I am taking from the name Premier Ferguson has named our great Kingston Highway the "King's Highway." We stand for liberty of the Protestant faith, liberty of everyone. The Order does not stand to attack anyone, Roman Catholic or Jew; we believe that everybody has the right to their own beliefs, everyone to follow the liberty of their own conscience, and the right of everyone to the Open Book. The greatest truth on the earth is the truth of God's open Word, in which we havelearned the secret of freedom. The letters of our Order, L.O.L., stand for loyalty to our King, our Country, and our Order as well, and as long as we stand by the principles of our Order and God's Word our lodges will progress and be a benefit to the Empire."

Rev. J. M. Crissal, rector of All Saints 'Church, Whitby, thought that all those attending the parade should be thankful for such a wonderful day as it was for the occasion, and for the work King William did for the world on this day hundreds of years ago. He told how King William came to England and upheld the faith that is ours to-day. "We do well to remember the facts of this event. It is not emphasized in the schools enough to-day, and that is the main reason that our '12th' celebration is so little understood. It is the 239th anniversary to-day of a victory that crowned the liberties of Great Britain and Ireland. Let us not only think of the glorious past, but also show gratitude and appreciation to the convictions by which we stand, and one and all cling to Christianity."

The Great Empire.

Speaking next, Rev. G. A. Sisco, pastor of the United Church, Port Hope, said as the rest of the speakers had dealt with the Orangie principles and the history of England, he would say a few words on the Empire. "Great Britain began to form the British Empire as it now stands purely as an economic experiment. But since then she has developed them into one solid Empire, like which there has never existed. Through a bit of mismanagement she lost the United States. However, the Empire stands wedged solidly together to-day, not only held by Governmental ties, but spiritual ties as well—the latter the more important of the two. The British Empire today is one of the most important factors in the contribution to world peace, and as long as she continues to follow such principles as those of the Orange Order, it will continue to be a great factor in world peace."

The address of the afternoon was made by Dr. T. E. Kaiser, M.P., of Oshawa. He said: "I come from the General Motors City, and when I arrived in town this afternoon, I was immediately placed in a Ford and paraded with a nigger band right behind me playing "Buy Yourself a Ford." How do you expect me to make a speech on top of that? However he did make a speech in spite of his ill treatment.

"I think we have been extremely lucky to-day. Dr. Kaiser said, for we have been favored with a bright sun and a blue sky, and the Clergy, all at once, to make up a glorious day. Concerning the Battle of the Boyne which we are celebrating to-day and which we will continue to celebrate. It was an insignificant battle but the consequences and privileges it gave to mankind were so great that once a year we celebrate it throughout the world. Those who have no allegiance to anything should celebrate it for the fact that it provides them with the peaceful life they are living. To think as we do think, every man the master of his own mind, soul and country, is what we celebrate this day, and that battle for. That little battle made every one of us a King, a Prince, master of our souls and minds. Do we value these privileges as we should? I'll say we do. Every day the Orange Order is growing and its principles are spreading. The British flag stood high in 1914, and to-day it stands higher, and the Empire is more firm—the direct descendant of William III the direct descendant of Willian III is more firmly established on his throne to-day than ever he was. Yet all around in the various countries Kings fall from power. There is no discording voice in the Empire today as was shown by the universal thanksgiving on the recovery of the King.

Dr. Kaiser paid great tribute to the late Hon. W. T. McPherson and Dr. John W. Edwards, referring respectively to them as a great Orangeman and a great Canadian. He also referred to the discussion held recently in Parliament on the change of the Canadian flag, saying that flags weren't made up out of our heads nor by any persons or committee, but were made by sacrifices of a country, and, "I say that the Canadian flag should remain as it has been made through the trials and sacrifices it has gone through in the building up of this fair Canada of ours. The greatest invention in the world is the British Parliament, and it was started by the victory we are celebrating. And as long as the Empire stands by the Parliament and the principles of the Orange Order, it is safe for centuries to come—but it is up to the people."

Would Extend Order.

The last speaker, Rev. T. E. Meldrum, Baptist clergyman of Port Hope, thought the Orange Order should be extended not only through the Empire but the whole world. He said he felt the same pulsations now as he did when he was a boy on hearing the fife and drum bands. I think that the Order is turning a little to politics, and if it does this it is bound to die. We should be loyal to the principles of the Order, and the British Parliament, and lastly to God."

At the conclusion of the addresses J. H. Wilson, W.M. of Port Hope L.O.L. presented the prize which was awarded to Pontypool L.O.L. No. 132 last year in Peterborough for the best lodge. In mistake through the number of the lodge it had been sent to Bailleboro.

Orange sashes and official emblems of the Order, the parade was a colourful spectacle. Music of the bands and the shrill fife filled the air and one lodge had provided bagpipe music.

Many women and children took part in the parade. They represented newly formed L.O.B.A. divisions in the district and also the Juvenile Orange Lodge No. 34 of Marmora which has been formed recently.

Three Mounted Leaders

Three mounted leaders went in advance of the procession. Following the Marmora band, the representations of the lodges marched. Each was headed by the lodge chaplain, who bore the open Bible, symbolizing the principles of the Order. The warrant of the lodge followed and then members with drawn swords. Most of the groups had fife and drum bands and carried the large banner of their organization.

The lodges that appeared in the parade were: Tanner 509, Wellman's Corners 172, Springbrook 442, Madoc 160, Haggard's Corners 1133, Ivanhoe 435, Flinton 907, Eldorado 517, Queensboro 437 and 465 (L.O.B.A.) Malone 275, Allen Settlement 253, Downey 425, Premier 531 (L.O.B.A.), Carleton 838, Tweed 747, Elliott 392, Unity (L.O.B.A.), Thomasburg 131, West Huntingdon 300, Millbridge 1070

On the return of the parade to the fair grounds where more than four thousand had gathered, a program of music and addresses was carried out. Under the leadership of T. Llewellyn Jones, the Marmora community band rendered a number of selections in an able fashion.

The list of speakers included many prominent men of the district. They were Worshiful Brother J. A. Nickle, county master; Brother Rev. R. Parker, county chaplain; Hon. J. R. Cooke, M.P.P.; Wor. A. T. Embury, M.P.; John Sexsmith, former M.P.; Rev. A. B. Caldwell and Rev. B. F Byers. The chairman for the occasion was A. B. Airhart, reeve of Marmora.

In delivering the chairman's address, Mr. Airhart extended a hearty welcome on behalf of the local brethren and sisters, to all the visitors expressing the pleasure of the people of Marmora on being privileged to act as hosts for the day.

"I am pleased with the fine turnout to-day that evinces the zeal and patriotism of the members of the Order," declare County Master J. A. Nickles in his address. "The importance of this occasion makes me conscious of the honor of my position as County Master. I hope today's celebration will be carried down into history."

Brother Rev. R. Parker, County Chaplain, delighted the attentive audience with his fluent anrd humorous remarks. He congratulated the chairman and citizens on the success of the celebration and commented on the extensive representation present.

The speaker then gave an outline of the formation work and principles of the Orange Order. "Those not belonging to the Order," he claimed, "are inclined to believv that it is an organization anxious to stir up trouble, but this is untrue. The efforts of the organization are as much to prevent trouble as anything else and in fact, the Orangemen take a stand that is a little too much on the defensive instead of the offensive Nevertheless the men of the Order are prepared to fight and if necessary will fight to the end.'

In his speech, Hon. J. R. Cooke M.P.P., commented on the happy fact that the Orange celebration gathered in all denominations of the Protestant religion. This, he said, is one of the basic principles of the Order. It exists because it provides a common basis of belief to all Protestants.

Dr. A. T. Embury, the member of parliament for Hastings, in a few words expressed his appreciation of the honor accorded him by inviting him to speak although he was not an Orangeman. Referring to the large crowd present at the demonstration, Dr. Embury said: "There must be a reason for it. The main reason is that the principles of the Orange Order are the principles of all."

Softball games were provided during the day by girls teams from Warkworth, Marmora and Stirling. The Stirling team won the silver cup by defeating the other entries. Meals were provided for the crowds on the fair grounds and also refreshments.

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1929

The health camp operated at Jackson Park by the Peterborough Health Association is an institution that is doing a most valuable community service, and the members of the association, the doctors who so generously give their service and the Kiwanis Club whose financial assistance means so much to the movement, all deserve thanks.

The work is long past the experimental stage.

It has been established beyond a doubt that children who are under-nourished and sub-normal in health can be materially benefitted by a few weeks of outdoor life under careful supervision and with proper nourishment provided.

Play hours and rest hours, scientifically regulated, work magic changes in some of the little folks, and the condition of practically every attendant at the Jackson Park camp is improved as the result of the outing.

It is a splendid thing this activity of the Health Association, and it should continue to have the warm-hearted support of the community on behalf of which it is being carried on.

The children at present on the camp strength will resume school next September stronger and healthier young Canadians because of the treatment they are receiving.

THE FLAG QUESTION.

The resolution passed by the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion at its convention at St. Thomas last week calling upon the Federal Government to make it a misdemeanor to fly foreign flags in Canada without the Union Jack, and proposing to confer with the American Legion and motor organizations over the border in regard to international courtesy in this respect, touches a matter that is frequently discussed.

Most of our friends from the United States require no law to regulate the use of flags.

When they come into Canada they either leave the Stars and Stripes behind or they are scrupulously careful about seeing to it that the Union Jack accompanies the United States flag.

They know that to display their own flag without that of the country they are visiting is a discourtesy that they would not tolerate on their own side of the line.

It is the ignorant few who cause flag incidents, and a law such as the ex-service men are asking for would give customs officials at the border a chance to deal with this small percentage of offenders and prevent them from causing trouble by their lack of thought and courtesy.

DRIVE CAREFULLY.

At the request of many citizens, Jackson Park has been thrown open to automobile traffic.

It is to be hoped that the privilege will not be abused by motorists.

The park, with its winding roads, sharp curves and summer population of children, calls for slow and careful driving, and unless this condition is complied with the authorities may again have to put the ban on automobiles.

Jackson Park is one of the city's beauty spots to which Peterborough people delight to take their visitors, and the privilege of driving through will be generally appreciated.

Motorists should indicate that appreciation by being careful in the manner in which they drive.

With the summer camp for children of sub-normal health open and scores of other children daily visitors at the park, any tendency to speed or drive recklessly round the sharp turns of the driveways might result in a serious accident.

If motorists are grateful for the lifting of the embargo on automobiles, they will respond by exercising reasonable care at all times within the borders of the park, remembering that parties of children are likely to be encountered at any moment.

FAMOUS MEN OF CANADA.

The Examiner, through the courtesy of Premier Ferguson, as Minister of Education, has a copy of the second volume of "Famous Men of Canada," written by John Henderson, and identical in style to the first series of life stories of some of the leading men of this country.

It will be remembered that when Mr. Henderson's first book appeared there were volleys of sharp criticism because the names of such famous Liberals as Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat were missing.

The volume was denounced as Conservative propaganda—until the explanation was made that the story of these and other great men not covered in the first series was being prepared to appear in a companion volume.

In a preface to the second series Premier Ferguson points out that these sketches are a "continuation of the original plan by which the interest of the young people of the schools is to be stimulated by knowing something of the careers of the eminent men of their country."

Mr. Ferguson adds that the proper approach to more extended courses in history in the schools is through biography, and in that opinion he will have the support of most educationists.

The second volume of "Great Men of Canada," containing non-partisan and brightly written sketches of such outstanding Canadians as Sir James Douglas, Robert Baldwin, Sir Oliver Mowat, Sir John Thompson, Dr. Egerton Ryerson, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Alexander Mackenzie, Sir James Whitney, Sir Adam Beck and others, should prove of great value in arousing interest among Ontario's school children in the career of the men who have helped to build up this great country.

CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP.

Problems connected with Canadian citizenship for foreign immigrants have been much discussed of late. In particular the discussion was keen during recent drives against the activities of communists in this and other Provinces. While many English-speaking people profess communism, it is the fact that in Canada the majority of its adherents are foreign. In an address to a Kiwanis Club in Montreal some days ago, E. J. L'Esperance made an impassioned plea for a better recognition of citizenship and its responsibilities. He contended that it should be made compulsory for all persons residing in Canada for a certain time, to take the oath of allegiance. Foreigners should be compelled to report at stated intervals to the proper authorities so that their ultimate intentions might be ascertained. "If this country is worth living in, then no apologies can be accepted for not becoming a citizen," he argued.

Mr. L'Esperance quoted from a reply made by President E. W. Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway in answer to the query as to what constituted a Canadian, these words:

"Where there are many of the nomad type who have not so established themselves we find less stability and less responsibility to the institutions of the country. A man must acquire full citizenship, in my opinion, to be a real Canadian."

The speaker also stressed the viewpoint that the schools of the country should teach more fully "the history, importance, grandeur and ideals of Canada." It was in those institutions that ideals and ideas were absorbed, and Canadians in control of affairs should take heed of the facts of the situation.

There is a lot of common-sense in these observations. Too much apathy in the past is bringing more or less serious trouble now to provincial and federal authority in various parts of the country where foreigners speak and act as if they were a law unto themselves.—Brantford Expositor.

THE SIN OF BEING FOUND OUT.

"Be sure your sins will find you out," says an old proverb. And in these strange times, when "debunking" has become almost an industry, and revelation of human frailties in supposedly moral giants almost a pastime, to be "found out" is a fearsome thing.

There is the sad case of Mr. James J. ("Gene") Tunney. Gene was held up as an exemplar to the boyhood of America. He was clean-limbed, clean-hearted, clean everything. He had risen from a clerkship to be champion of the world, gave pugilism an atmosphere of literature, consorted with Bernard Shaw and Thornton Wilder, lectured at Yale on Shakespeare, made a million dollars, married an heiress, got his name in the Social Register. Gene, in fact, was an Horatio Alger and G. A. Henty hero in the actual flesh.

Now he's debunked. Poor Gene somehow got tangled up in the meshes of a Mrs. King or somebody Fogarty, a gay lady who made him pay her $35,000 twice to keep her pretty mouth shut—and then didn't keep it shut. It's been a great thing for the columnists; but hard on Gene.

There was Bishop Cannon, militant Southern churchman. Bishop Cannon had two pet aversions—Satan and Al Smith. Not a day passed but this fighting prelate used up columns of the newspapers warring against sin, Tammany, wine, Al Smith, all the real and imaginary evils that afflict his countrymen. And now, lo, what a fall! To make a long story short, revelation has come that all the time the good Bishop was warring against the flesh and the Devil he was buying stocks from a bucket shop in Manhattan. Unluckily for him the bucket shop failed, whereupon his transactions came to light. Worse than that, there came to light also telegrams which Bishop Cannon sent to his dealer in stocks—on a Sunday.

There was Senator Robinson Gould, elected in 1926 as one of Maine's Dry Senators. Maine, as is well known, is the cradle of Prohibition. Senator Gould used to say that he stood by that cradle. He was a Dry of the Drys, an avowed and unceasing foe of John Barleycorn in all his moods and tenses. But last week Senator Gould was involuntarily shown to be not so dry as many of his countrymen had supposed.

Two grape-juice companies had a legal squabble in the courts in St. Louis. A distributing company sued a producing company on the ground that its product was inferior, that it spoiled in its customers hands before turning to wine as guaranteed. To defend itself the producing company exhibited testimonials from satisfied customers. From the U. S. Capitol in 1927 "Dry" Senator Gould had written:

". . . After a good deal of bother I got some very fair results. . . . The case of cordials . . . was very much appreciated, especially by the feminine side of the family. . . . As you know I come from a Prohibition State and I am supposed to be a prohibitionist, but I am about as loyal to the Prohibition element as some of these Southern Democrats are to the Democratic party. . . . While I find it is not policy to be too outspoken as to my sentiments, I don't mind telling you and the world that I believe a license for light wines and beers would be a great improvement over the present Prohibition laws. . . . I find a good many of the members of Congress feel just about as I do, but lack the moral courage to stand up and vote as they believe."

Three weeks later Senator Gould reported to the company his progress as a wine-maker:

"It (two kegsful) was working quite lively. In fact the pressure was so great that the head of the kegs was bulged. I worked the gas off gradually and finally got the bung out and was surprised to find so much gone. But what there is, is in fine shape and I have it horsed up with a gooseneck tube and it is working fine. . . . I know I shall have some fine wine out of this shipment. I may have an opportunity to do you people some good in Washington and if there is anything I can do, I shall do it with pleasure."

Now Prohibition Commissioner Doran says that Senator Gould has violated the Volstead Act, while Superintendent Francis Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon League repudiates him as a Dry, characterized him as a "Wet-Wet," and predicts his defeat this fall.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Hon. Mr. Robb's remark that the country appears to be doing pretty well without an election applies equally well to Ontario, Mr. Ferguson should note.

Hon. Charles McCrea's information in regard to fishing unfortunately doesn't tell just where the big ones may be had.

The motor car has changed the method of getting there, but the Orange walk is unaltered in none of its old-time characteristics.

A Thought

LOVE'S MAGIC.

Love is better than spectacles to make everything look great—Sydney.

What To-day Means To You.

"Cancer."

If July 13th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 11:45 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 4 p. m., and from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 5 a.m. to 7:30 a.m., and from 11 p.m. to 12 midnight.

A great deal of tact will be required on this date in order to avert contention and strife. There will be sensed a feeling of discontent and dissatisfaction; under such depressing influences, it will be advisable to stick only to routine work, and to abstain from embarking on any new venture.

The stars reveal that a child born July 13th will be very fortunate. It will be endowed with an affectionate disposition, a truthful nature, and an equable temperament. It may not develop that driving force so essential to material success, but it will enjoy its life, and make those, with whom it may be brought into intimate contact, enjoy theirs.

Materialism is your hobby, and you neglect the spiritual side of your life, and undervalue the mind and the soul. There is little doubt that, given your ambition and your push, success will attend your efforts. When you are unable, however, to continue these, there will be nothing left for you on which to feed those thoughts that, sooner or later, come to all of us.

Your originality is the serviceable kind, and not eccentric; your curiosity is an asset and not a liability; your optimism is convertible into accomplishment, and not the dreaming of dreams. At times, if events do not march along as quickly as you think they should, your self-confidence wanes, and you begin to lose hope. It would be well to cultivate more the virtue of persistency.

There is, of course, a streak of selfishness in your make-up, as, in your keen desire for advancement, you are disposed to subordinate all other issues, especially those that spring from emotion. You often find it necessary to stifle the finer feelings in order to gain your ends, and this, oft repeated has a deteriorating influence on your general character.

Your home life does not promise to be as internally happy as it will be outwardly successful.

The Tule Marsh Murder

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

The haggard beauty of David Orme as he walked firmly to the witness chair had its immediate effect on the courtroom. Despite the commonplace of modern dress and surroundings, his face might have served as model for the painting of a tortured god-Orpheus torn by the nymphs or Prometheus chained to the rock.

The carved immobility with which he had sat day after day beside the sheriff had given place to a controlled but vibrating tension. That face, with its hollowed temples and sunken eyes, somehow relegated the jurors, the group of court officials in their railed enclosure and the rows of newspaper men in their numbered seats to inconsequence, even tawdriness. Whatever else he might be, David Orme was not a sordid criminal.

Before he had opened his lips except to murmur an almost inaudible response to the oath, the room was attuned to strangeness. A shiver of excitement—something not heard, not seen, but felt like the blowing of a wind—rippled across the press rows. The men and women in the jury box uncrossed their legs, ceased fiddling with hand-bags, and leaned slightly forward.

"Will you just tell the jury in your own way the circumstances in which you first became acquainted with the lady known as Sheila O'Shay?"

"I was a member of the orchestra in the theater where Sheila was dancing." There was not the slightest concession to the formality of a court proceeding in Orme's manner. His voice was not raised in the consciousness of addressing an audience, neither did it sink to the embarrassed mumble of stage fright. It was low, but carried with perfect clearness to the farthest corner of the courtroom.

"I played——" his lips twisted sardonically as if forced to admit the point of a rather cruel practical joke—"I played the sandpaper. Rubbed sheets of sandpaper together, you know. It was what is called a jazz orchestra. Perhaps I may be allowed to explain that I was trained to be a concert violinist. I was what is sometimes called an infant prodigy——"

"Your honor," the district attorney blurted, "I fail to see what hearing the witness's musical abilities with sandpaper or otherwise have on the issue being tried before the court. Surely the present testimony is irrelevant and immaterial to say the least of it!"

The hurt indignation in the prosecutor's voice failed to win any response from the angular, unmoved face of the judge.

"This man has taken the stand in his own defense, charged with the most serious offense in the criminal code." He might have been waving aside the importunities of a troublesome child. "I am inclined to give the witness considerable latitude. You may proceed, Mr. Orme."

"I was studying with Ysaye in Belgium and was to make my formal debut the following year, when a bicycle accident resulted in the amputation of two of my fingers."

He glanced down curiously at his hand, as if, even yet, the tragic finality of that accident were hard for him to grasp.

"Naturally, that ended my career. But as I had lived nothing but music all my life, it did not occur to me that any other occupation was open to me. Friends interested themselves in my behalf and secured me the post of sandpaper artist in a jazz band." Again the exquisitely carved lips writhed in that sardonic smile.

"I am trying to be brief, but these things have really a great deal to do with what happened afterwards."

In some subtle fashion the angles of the judge's face had lost some of their sharpness.

"Take your time, Mr. Orme. The court is willing to hear whatever you have to say."

"Good boy!" whispered the Q twin to his mate—and received a warning glare from the bailiff.

"When I saw Miss O'Shay on the stage," Orme went on, twisting his hands together in his lap, "I thought she was the most glorious person I had ever seen. She was like a movement from Tartini's 'devil's trill' sonata. She restored music to me—the music I could no longer bear to hear.

"I had not the faintest notion of seeking her acquaintance—there really would have been no way for me to do so if I had wanted to, and the idea did not enter my head. But—for some reason she noticed me, sitting there below her night after night in the orchestra pit. She learned my name, sent me a note, and asked me to call one night after the performance. She was like that. She could always take what she wanted, hold it—and throw it away.

"I know this will sound almost incredible, but she really did love me, poor and unknown as I was, a failure with no possible prospect of success."

There was a mute apology in Orme's smile, and yet no one in the courtroom found it hard to believe that the facilely emotional, impulsive Sheila O'Shay had been stirred by the man with the face of a Greek statue whose worshipping eyes followed her every movement from the orchestra pit.

"She did love me then!" Orme's voice rang out, suddenly loud, in passionate affirmation. "It was as if somebody had stepped down out of heaven and lifted me up."

There was a long pause; then he went on with forced calmness. "We were married. And then, of course, she got over it—in what seemed a very little while. She—there were other men. I—found it very hard. You see, I——"

The face of the man in the witness chair became so ghastly white that the bailiff hastily handed him a glass of water. He looked down at it as if he hardly knew what it was. Then he gulped the entire contents of the glass, handed it back with a murmured "Thank you, I'm all right now," and continued

"She told me that I had no right to dictate her conduct—that she earned more in a week than I did in a year—that she had—bought me, like any other bauble that caught her fancy, and that, the fancy having spent itself, she was through with me. And yet, I struggled on. I could not believe it would end like that. I couldn't see love as an easy thing, easily relinquished. It wasn't like that with me, you see."

There was another long pause. The judge stared out of the window. Graham prodded a sheet of paper before him with the point of a pencil. The district attorney referred to some documents in a cardboard file at his elbow. The faint swish of pencils racing across copy paper, catching up, was audible from the press rows.

The jury regarded Orme with strained attention. He seemed to be calling upon some inner reserve of strength, gathering together his resources. At last he moved slightly, sitting up very straight in the witness chair.

"One night," he said in a low, penetrating voice, "she told me that she did not believe I had ever been a real musician. She said I had never been good for anything but to rub sheets of sandpaper together. She cast slurs on my music—on music! I lifted my fist,"—Orme glanced down at his clenched hand as if it belonged to someone else—"and struck her down. Then I left."

Suddenly he slumped back in the chair, his head falling forward on his lifted hand.

"We will take a recess for ten minutes. The jury will bear in mind the admonition of the court not to discuss this case with others or among themselves——"

LEAVE IS GRANTED TO APPEAL P.A.T.A.

Judgment of Canadian Supreme Court Will Be Appealed Against.

LONDON, July 12. — (Canadian Press Cable).—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council yesterday granted the Proprietary Articles Trade Association of Canada and the Attorneys-General of Quebec and Ontario leave to appeal from the judgment of the Canadian Supreme Court which declined a contention that the Combines Investigation Act is ultra vires the Dominion Parliament.

Judge L. V. O'Connor, of Cobourg, commissioner appointed by the Dominion Government two years ago, reported that the P.A.T.A. was a combine of wholesale and retail manufacturers and distributors of proprietary medicines and toilet articles, and the association then contended that the Combines Investigation Act and the section of the Criminal Code dealing with conspiracies and combines were ultra vires the Dominion Parliament. The Supreme Court of Canada, however, in April last rejected both contentions.

MINING MARKET DRIFTS WHILE TRADERS SLUMBER

Usual Summer Doldrums—Gold Shares Firm—Oils Heavier—Nickel and Noranda Quiet.

WEEKLY MINING REVIEW.

(By Ralph M. Radford.)
(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 13. — The picture presented by the past week's Standard stock and mining exchange is that of a typical summer market with trading at extremely low ebb. The general price trend continued downward, losses reaching twice the total of gains, though a number of issues managed to remain steady throughout the week. The only bright spots in the whole list were provided by the activity and price appreciation of Ajax and the advance of Base Metals, both stocks closng with substantal gains.

Feeling in market circles for some time that a revival of public interest in gold stock might be expected received a little confirmation this week. A certain strength was evident in several issues, particularly the higher-priced ones.

Lindsley issues were quiet during the week, and the gains of the previous week were forfeited under slow liquidation and poor demand. The Pacific and Manitoba groups also suffered at a result of the inactivity of the market, closing for losses in practically all cases.

The oil stocks, with the outstanding exception of Ajax, weakened under a fairly steady selling pressure, though strength in individual issues was apparent at times. The higher priced oils including Home Oil, Mayland and Associated, led 1 nthe extent of their losses, but throughout the whole list it was evident the downward trend was caused by the general market situation rather than any change of attitude toward western fuels themselves.

STOCK MARKETS CLOSED TO-DAY

Canadian Brokers Decide To Close Offices on Account of Dull Sessions.

BACK TO OLD STYLE.

(By A. D. O'Halloran, Special to The Examiner).

TORONTO, July 13—Trading slowed down to such an extent on the Canadian exchanges this week that brokers on Friday decided to call it a week, and Saturday the markets were locked up tight. The business transacted in the period could almost be crowded into one active session; the hectic days of last fall, when total daily transaction ran upwards of two hundred thousand shares, are now merery something to be recalled to be on the right side of the market. by those who were fortunate enough to be on the right side of the market.

Saturday closing under present conditions is a reminder of former years when the markets were in the habit of closing regularly on Saturdays during July and August. In days gone by, when the Canadian markets interested but few, Saturday closing bothered no one, and was looked upon as an opportunity of taking an extended week-end holiday. Later the public became interested in a large way, closing on any day began to meet with disfavor, and the Saturday holiday was abolished.

For three or four years the trading public led the brokers a profitable but altogether too hectic a life. Saturday closings were again resorted too not as a holiday but as a precautionary measure. Between one day to close and the next day's opening there was not sufficient time to carry out the detail work consequent upon active trading, and an occasional day's lay-off became a dire necessity.

The return to the old order was noticeable when the markets took advantage this year of any Saturdays preceding a public holiday to close up. This state of affairs, however, does not show an signs of becoming permanent. The public are only out of the market temporarily and are expected to come back in large numbers once the summer months are over. The exchanges to-day are national institutions catering not to the public at large. Stocks as a medium of investment are still more popular than bonds. Splitting and subdividing of shares have put marget prices within the reach of most everybody, and brokerage wires cover the dominion from coast to coast, drawing business from all centres. All classes of citizens are being educated to the proper functioning of the security markets and look to this channel as a means of employing their surplus funds, no matter how small, and also as a way of making money through specultion if one has the luck and the inclination.

WINNIPEG WHEAT SCORES ADVANCE

Array of Bullish Crop Reports Again Responsible For Active Trading.

NO RAIN IN WEST.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 13.— (C. P.)—July wheat ran up to $1.50 in the first two minutes of trading this morning and at the end of the first hour had scored gains of 3 1-2 cents over the previous close. An array of bullish news was again responsible for an active trade and the rapid price advance. Early reports indicate another dry map for Western Canada with no rain forecast over the week-end, while messages from the United States with wheat ready for cutting standing in deep water.

These fatcors all combined to bring good support to the wheat pit and very substantial purchases were made in the first half of the short session. Trade voltime was very heavy.

Wheat Advances Under Unfavorable Crop Reports

CHICAGO, Ills, July 13 (C.P.).—Abrupt new upturns here in wheat prices to-day resulted from an unexpected steep advance in Liverpool quotations and from persistent unfavorable crop reports. In some quarters it was contended that the crop situation is not unlike that of 1924-25, when wheat brought more than $2 per bushel in Chicago. Opening at 1c to 2⅛c rise, wheat afterward continued to climb. Corn, oats and provision went higher also, corn starting at ⅛c to ½c advance and subsequently mounting further.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 13 (C.P.).—Foreign exchanges steady. Quotations (Great Britain in dollars), demand, $4.84½. Montreal 99.48 7-16.

TWO DIE IN FIRE.

LONDON, July 12.— (C.)—While the Dummy House fire horror was taking place last night at Gillingham, there was a tragedy of fire in another nearby Kentish town also.

At Welling, only a few miles away, a cinema theatre caught fire from the operators' box and two were burned to death and several injured.

The audience was panic stricken but all managed to escape alive, the fatalities being the operator and his assistant.

MINING BRIEFS

A Special Service to The Examiner

Unofficial information is to the effect that interests identified with Ventures Limited have secured an option on control of a number of properties in the Birch Lake area, Patricia. Although former exploration in that district disclosed veins carrying high values in gold, widths were generally small. However, prospecting is said to have since resulted in the discovery of better widths, including high values. One of the more impressive discoveries recently reported is in the form of a 15 or 20 foot break carrying good values in gold.

Another attempt at development of the commercial ore possibilities of the eastern Kirkland Lake field is seen in plans for re-opening the Conroyal Mine, located in Lebel Township, about a mile west of the Bidgood. The old company known as Conroyal Mines, Limited, has just been reorganized under the name of Conroyal Gold Mines, Limited, and Havilah Gold Mines, Ltd., and funds are said to have been provided to finance development of the north vein system on the Lebel property. This is believed to be an extension of the Bidgood vein system and is said to offer a promising structure for ore deposition. It was partially explored previously from the 300-foot level from the Conroyal shaft.

In addition to its Lebel Township property, Conroyal Mines, Ltd., had a capitalization of 7,500,000 shares, $1 par, of which 6,000,000 were issued. Under the reorganization these were divided share for share in the two new companies each of which had 5,000,000 shares leaving both new companies with about 1,250,000 shares in their treasuries.

A wire from Rouyn is to the effect that an important strike has been made on the Brownlee property, adjoining Noranda on the north, in the trenching started two days ago in a body of heavily two large bodies of diabase. The ground has been stripped and shooting into this body has disclosed high grade copper. The mineralized rhyolite is from 50 to 100 feet in width.

The first diamond drill hole at the Buckingham is said to have been inconclusive. Drilling is proceeding. No. 2 hole is aimed to cut the quartz vein at a depth of 500 feet and results from this work should be available shortly.

Its customers include many automobile, vacuum cleaning and airplane manufacturing companies. It is not strictly an automobile equipment producer but a large part of its revenue comes from such makers as Ford, Dodge, Chevrolet, Buick, Studebaker, Chrysler, Packard, and others. The radio and washing machine manufacturers also are large customers.

The company and its subsidiaries operates seven plants of which six are at Detroit and one at Hamtramck, Mich. These have a monthly capacity of 2,500,000 bearings and 10,800,000 pounds of brass, aluminum and non-ferrous alloy castings and products. In 1928 the company acquired the Michigan Smelting and Refining Company. Through this subsidiary the company does a business in plumbing supplies, solders, slab lead and die castings.

As a result of the adoption of its aluminum motor pistons by auto manufacturers, net in 1928 reached $3,185,092, an increase of about 169 per cent. as compared with 1927, and was equal to $9.10 per common share.

Funded debt is $2,155,700 in 6 per cent. debenture bonds convertible at any time up to 1938 into common stock at the rate of one share of common for each $100 in debentures. Capital stock outstanding consists of 350,000 shares of no par value. The former preferred issue was retired in 1926. On the common, dividends have been paid since 1925. In 1928 payments totaled $1.87½. In 1929 two quarterly dividends of 75 cents each have been declared with two extras of 25 cents each.

As of Jan. 1, 1929, total current assets were $6,406,606, current liabilities totaled $1,802,199 and net working capital was $4,604,407. Book value applicable to the capital stock excluding patents, licenses and good will amounted to $20.47 a share.

ACQUIRE 52 COMPANIES.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 12. — The Borden Company, international dairy products producers and distributors, which reported sales of $180,000,000, in 1928, has acquired 52 additional companies operating in the United States, Canada, and Europe, it was formally announced last night.

Acquisition of the additional companies was through the outright purchase of assets or through transactions in stock, according to the announcement. The total value of the companies acquired was not known but estimates ranged from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Profits From South Shore Bridge Estimated To Amount To Around $3.00 Per Share On Dominion Bridge Stock

Joining of the connecting members in the centre span of the new big Harbor Bridge marks the completion of the biggest undertaking of its kind bby Dominion Bridge Company since the historic occasion when the Quebec Bridge job was finished. Happily, the present undertaking was brought to its conclusion without any of the tragic circumstances that preceded the successful linking up of the final span that joined the Ancient Capital to the south shore of the St. Lawrence.

From the standpoint of the company's shareholders, the event possesses several particularly interesting aspects. In the first place, when the contract was awarded back in 1925 it was figured the work would not be completed until 1930. Even as late as 1927 at the annual meeting President Duggan stated it was estimated only 66 per cent would be finished by the end of this year. The anticipation by nearly a year of the completion date means that profits from the jobs will accrue to shareholders that much sooner.

What these profits will amount to is, of course, a matter of some conjecture. It may be stated, however, that estimates made at the time the contract was awarded, placed the total value at around $7,500,000, from which a profit of around $1,250,000 might reasonably be expected to be realized. While a large porportion of this, it was stated at the time, would be utilized in distributing overhead expenses on other jobs, the ultimate result will be the placing of that much more earning power behind the capital stock of the company.

On the basis of the 409,835 shares of stock outstanding, this means the equivalent of around $3, per share from this particular contract, which forms only a portion of the large amount of current work being handled by the company.

It is, therefore, not surprising that the recent outstanding strength shown by Dominion ridge stock, under more or less unfavorable general market conditions, should have developed coincident with the approach of the date on which it could be said the South Shore bridge job was an accomplished fact.

Talk of Continental-Tidewater Oil Merger with $500,000,000

NEW YORK—A $500,000,000 oil merger, linking the newly organized Continental Oil Company of Delaware and the Tide Water Associated Oil Company is being discussed in quarters close to both companies as the next majo roperation 1234 234 2 22 ranged in Wall Street. reliminary conversations already have taken place, it was reported, but it may take some months to complete the transaction.

Such a merger would bring together oil properties in all important producing fields, and a distributing system extending from coast to coast. It would create one of the largest units in the industry, combining large production, extensive refining facilities and a complete marketing system. The merger, it carried out, it was said, would be negotiated by Wall Street banking interests that were largely responsible for the recent consolidation of the Continental Oil Company of Maine and the Marland Oil Company, resulting in the formation of the present Continental Oil of Delaware.

Directors who were asked regarding reports of such a merger said they were interesting, but that, so far as they knew, nothing definite had been done. One of the largest holders of stock in one of the companies said such a merger would be logical and advantageous to both companies, but that he knew of no concrete plans to bring it about. Reports of such a merger have been discussed in Wall Street for some time.

Interests identified with the First National Bank are large holders of Tide Water Associated stock and of Tide Water Oil stock. It is understood that these interests recently purchased a large block of Tide Water Associated stock from Blair & Co., Inc.

Lake of The Woods Milling and its Baking Subsidiary Make Good Progress

The Financial Times will say this week: Lake of the Woods Milling Company, which closes its fiscal year at the end of next month, is expected to show earnings well ahead of those for the year ended August 31, 1928.

In the previous period over $3.45 was shown on the common stock as against requirement of $3.20. Prices have been generally somewhat lower this year, but improved business both in the domestic and export markets has more than offset any cut in profits from that direction.

The baking subsidiary has made rapid strides during the period and has completed a big program of expansion. There is a belief that Inter City Baking is working into a position where dividends may be inaugurated on the stock next year, thus giving an additional source of revenue to Lake of the Woods.

Only 5 Per Cent of Brazilian Traction Preferred Now Outstanding

Preferred stockholders of Brazilian Traction Light and Power Company have again taken advantage of the offer of rights to the common stockholder by exercising their conversion privilege and today all but about five per cent of the total senior issue of $10,000,000 has been retired through exchange for common shares. On the previous occasion of the offering of rights it was announced that about 90 per cent of the total issue had been retired and, while exact figures are not available following the second offering of rights, it is officially state that there is now only about 5 per cent of $500,000 of the total amount of the preferred issue outstanding. Three shares of Brazilian preferred are convertible into ten shares of the present common and when the rights were offered common stockholders early this year permitting them to purchase one new share for each seven held at $40 preferred shareholders convertising their stock into common were extended the same privilege Today 788,352 additional shares of Brazilian Traction were listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange to cover the stock issued through rights. Final payment for the new shares does not have to be made on December 2, 1929, but stockholders were given the option of making payment in full on any instalment dates.

To List Maple Leaf Securities.

Application has been made for the listing of the new securities of the Maple Leaf Milling Co., the result of the split, the shares will be officially called for trading shortly on the local exchange. At a special general meeting of Maple Leaf shareholders held here June 25 the subdividing of the common stock of $100 par into four common shares of no par and one share of Class "B" preferred was approved. Under the new capitalization the company will have outstanding 100,000 shares of no par common and 25,000 shares of class "B" preferred. These securities have been traded unofficially on the local market and once the listing is approved trading will go on an official basis. The date for the exchange of the old stock for new has been set for September 1 next and when completed the old common shares of $100 par will be withdrawn from the market. Maple Leaf also has outstanding bonds and a first preferred issue. The old bonds were substituted by a new issue of $5,000,000, the funds being used to retire the old bonds and to pay off bank loans.

New Corporation for Central Vermont

ST. ALBANS, Vt.—Announcement of plans for the formation of a new Vermont corporation to take over the property of the Central Vermont Railway Company after the sale of the property at public auction here on July 29 was made today by Receiver John W. Redmont. Present plans Judge Redmont said call for the creaton of an operating company to be known as "Central Vermont Railway, Inc."

It is not expected, the statement further said, that there will be any bidders at the auction except the principal creditor, the Canadian National Railways. The required legislation has been passed to enable the Canadian National to own the stocks and bonds of the new company, and if the Central Vermont Railway property is purchased on July 29 in behalf of the Canadian National, "that company will occupy substantially the same relation to the new company that it has for years occupied in respect of the old Central Vermont Railway Company, that is, the new company will be a subsidiary of the Canadian National Railways."

It will take some months after the sale on July 29, Judge Redmont continued, to close the receivership which has been in effect since December 12, 1927, and turn the property over to the new company.

"The receivers have substantially completed their principal task of rehabilitating the property of the Central Vermont Railway Company," Judge Redmont asserted. "That railroad today is a better railroad than it was before the flood; has better equipment of every kind including the very best passenger and freight locomotives that can be made. It is now rendering freight and passenger service to the satisfaction of all its patrons. During the work of rehabilitation the Canadian National has aided the Receivers in every conceivable way, but especially by expert advice and co-operation to the end that the Receivers might be able in the most economic and efficient way to restore the devastated property.

CREW TAKEN OFF BURNING STEAMER

DURBAN, Natal, July 13 (Canadian Press). — The British steamer King Cadwallon, bound from Durban to Adelaide, Australia, with a cargo of coal, has been abandoned by its crew, who have been taken aboard the steamer Ardenhall.

The King Cadwallon caught fire in the numbers one and three holds when the ship was 500 miles out. It burned so quickly the crew was unable to control the blaze. They opened the sea cocks before abandoning it to prevent its becoming a menace to shipping.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

NEW YORK LIST REGISTERS GAIN

Many Issues Soar To New Heights Despite Week-end Profit-taking.

CALL MONEY RATE FIRM.

NEW YORK, July 13. (C.P.) — Operations for the advance were pressed forward with vigor during today's two-hour session of the stock market. Week-end profit taking did not fail to make its appearance but was readily absorbed at moderate concessions from the day's best prices.

The extraordinary optimism of the week-end trade reviews, which stressed the unparalleled vitality of several major industries for this time of year, and pointed out that only slight recessions are in prospect before the seasonal acceleration of activity in the fall may be expected, proved fuel to speculative fires.

Yesterday's call money rate of 9 per cent. carried over the week-end, and although Wall Street still persists in its belief that better credit conditions cannot be far away, bankers held out little hope of substantial improvement for several days as New York banks appear to have made little headway in paying off the heavy borrowings from the Federal Reserve, which were necessitated by the July 1, credit requirements.

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO LATE PRESIDENT

Splendid Reports Are Given At Meeting of Knox W. M. S.

The July meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Knox Church was held on Thursday afternoon. A short memorial service was conducted at the opening of the meeting in memory of th late Mrs. Jonn McPherson, who for many years was president of the society. Her favorite missionary hymn, "Zion's King shall reign victorious" was sung, followed by read of the 23rd Psalm by Mrs. Watt. A poem, "Autumn Leaves," written by Mrs. McPherson, dated October, 1874, was read by Miss Hazel Huffman, after which Mrs. Frank Morrison led in prayer. The hymn, "My God, I thank Thee." also well beloved by the late president, concluded the service.

Reports Received.

Proceeding with the regular meeting reports were received from the secretary and treasurer, followed by a short business discussion. The Watch Tower was in charge of three heralds. Mrs. John McCurdy bringing a message on the subject of Work Among the Canadian Indians, while Mrs. George Davis brought a message from North Honan, and Mrs. Carter a message on the subject of Prayer. The leaflet from the study text book "Drums in Darkness" was read by Mrs. Kenneth Denoon. The meeting closed with the singing of the hymn "He Leadeth Me" followed by the Lord's Prayer repeatd in unision.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Junior Mission Band, with their leaders and mothers, were entertained at a picnic on the church lawn by the members of the W.M.S.

GRAIN ENQUIRY

R. E. Preston, assistant superintendend ,explained that the larger part of the operations of this house was in American grain belonging to his company. The commission found that the wooden elevator at Collingwood, one of the oldest on the Great Lakes is used principally for corn and oats, no Canadian grain being handled as the insurance rates are too high.

At Tiffin Elevator, No. 2, in charge of Jas. E. Hickie, the commissioners were very much interested in samples of rye and rurum wheats examined. Eleven varieties were retained for further inspection. In general one fact the commissioners learned from evidence is that American grains handled by transfer houses are much dirtier than Canadian wheats of similar grades and this fact may be considered in connection with any proposals for mixing of wheats from these two sources, as it would lower the standard of Canadian western wheat.

Inspect Quality

Another phase of the grain trade in which the commission is very much interested is in finding out if the quality of the grain in transfer houses equals that shipped from the head of the Lakes and if there is any serious loss in transit. They also are anxious to learn the extent and conditions under which grain from the United States is handled at these ports. This latter phase of the enquiry will probably be resumed at Montreal.

The commissioners left for Toronto this morning and will spend Monday there. While their itinerary is not definitely arranged they expect to visit Buffalo and Port Colborne on Tuesday and then proceed to Montreal, later visiting New York one of the American ports through which large quantities of western wheat is still shipped.

PULLMAN CAR MADE FROM BUS

Tourists From Jackson, Michigan Believe in Modern Accommodations.

When frost comes to Canada it comes usually in the winter time, but summer frosts are welcome when they arrive in the city as tourists. A party of six Frosts arrived in the city yesterday with about the most complete camping equipment that has yet been seen in Peterborough.

A large automobile and a large size bus is thier means of transportation. There is nothing unusual about the car, but the bus attracted some attention as it was parked in the Exhibition grounds.

It is equipped like a Pullman car and has sleeping accommodation for the entire party. By night it is turned into a sleeping car and in the day it takes turns as a parlor car and a diner.

Little nooks and corners are used to the best advantage for storage space, electric lights and a refrigerator supply all the comforts of home. Easy chairs make life comfortable and riding easy—it is truly an ideal way to see the country.

The party consists of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. B. Frost, and Misses Helen and Carolyn Frost, all of Jackson, Michigan. They are on a vacation enjoying the beautiful scenery of the Kawartha Lakes and district.

A Column for Little Bits of Everything of Interest to Women Readers

It is time to say 'good-bye'.

To-day my stay of more than a year as your representative with the Examiner ends, and I move on to a new sphere.

• • •

In my life (which hasn't been too long yet!) I have paused for a time in many havens, but none where I was so well received as in Peterborough district.

• • •

When I started this new development of the Women's Page, it was in fear and trembling. But it wasn't long my page, because your splendid neighbors stepped in with your lovely letters and your recipes and old songs—and it became a real neighborly section of the paper.

• • •

From the bottom of my heart I thank every one of you.

• • •

At whatever ports of call my barque may come to rest in future years, there will come glimmering through the dream of things that were the memory of these happy months.

• • •

And if I carry nothing else with me but the inspiration of your acquaintance, I have gained great treasure.....You have shown me something of unselfish effort that I doubted existed.

• • •

It was inspiring to see the responses you made to a request for help with some problem; it was wonderful to see you rally round with advice and hints when a neighbor merely mentioned a difficulty.

• • •

Whatever may be said, not in favor of Peterborough district, I can always say that the womenfolk here are real neighbors.

• • •

And that's a lot!

• • •

In fact, it's the best thing in community life. If many a man had received from his men friends the support and incentice to greater effort that you women have given me, he would have achieved the heights of fame instead of the abyss of mediocrity.

• • •

And then men say we women are "catty", and "jealous". Fie on them!

• • •

The hundreds of letters and helps you have contributed to these pages show that you are more human and generous than our critics—but I must not mar this last Whatnot of mine by starting an argument. I, too, will be generous, and concede that the men, bless 'em, are all right in their places.

• • •

Time flies, and my service with you is getting short. We are like ships—
Ships that pass in the night, and speak each other in passing,
Only a signal shown and a distant voice in the darkness:
So on the ocean of life we pass and speak one another,
Only a look and a voice, then darkness again and silence.

• • •

Or, even more striking than Longfellow's picture, like ships that appear over the horizon, each to the other looking very small and insignificant. Then as they come nearer they grow, and each appears bigger and more important; as they pass they dip their flags in salute; and then they go on their way, till the horizon again swallows them.

• • •

In this column, my own little bit of our pages, I've tried since we have in sight to write on subjects to interest you all, and you have been kind enough to say I've succeeded.

• • •

One of the things I've tried to tell is that every woman, whether housewife or business woman, has the making of her own destiny. The day when we should be dependent on others to decide for us and provide for us, stultifying our own ambition, is past.....

Now at the flaming forge of life
Our fortunes must be wrought;
Now on its sounding anvil shaped
Each burning deed and thought!

• • •

Don't be satisfied with things as they are! Press on! Life is so full of achievements for you, if you will attempt to spin your own web of fate, and fashion your own destiny. Plan! Hope! Achieve!

• • •

For it is—

Better to sink beneath the shock
Than moulder piecemeal on the rock!

• • •

That is my closing message to you. We have been good friends, neighbors, during this year.....

• • •

And now that it comes to parting, I hate so much to go—but.....

• • •

Fare thee well! and if for ever,
Still for ever, far thee well.

IN WOMAN'S REALM.

By JEANETTE.

In looking over the lists of articles and their prices in a copy of The Examiner of 1881, one is struck by the difference in prices, as well as the manner of advertising them.

Fine French kid gloves in those days were $1 a pair; grey lustre was six cents a yard, and fine dress muslin five cents a yard.

For half a dollar, one might buy any of the following things, which were all described by the word "good": A pair of stays, ten yards of new dress goods, a summer mantle, a trimmed hat, a parasol, half a dozen pairs of white cotton hose, a pair of kid gloves, a pair of prunella slippers, a pair of brown duck pants, half a dozen of men's straw hats, a good white dress shirt, a pair of gentlemen's summer kid gloves, two yards of brown sash ribbon, eight yards of washing print, five yards of brown duck, or ten yards of "beautiful" embroidery.

In those days, Albert College at Belleville charged three dollars a week for tuition in the solid branches, with board, room and fuel.

To students seeking his advice, Paderewski invariably says: "If you like the work you are doing—then work, work as hard as you can and never allow yourself to be discouraged by any setback. Everything comes to him who tries hard enough."

• • •

There is an outstanding example of literary style in the description of the Abbess Madre Maria del Pilar, one of the characters in Thornton Wilder's lovely little book, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," and who was supposed to have lived about 1714. This woman was in advance of her time. The novelist says of her: "She was one of those persons who have allowed their lives to be gnawed away because they have fallen in love with an idea several centuries before its appointed appearance in the history of civilization. She hurled herself against the obstinacy of her time in her desire to attach a little dignity to woman. At midnight, when she had finished adding up the accounts of the House, she would fall into an insance vision of an age when women could be organized to protect women, women travelling, women as servants, women when they are old and ill, the women she had discovered in the mines of Potosi, or in the work-rooms of the cloth merchants, the girls she had collected out of doorways on rainy nights.

"But always the next morning she had to face the fact that the women in Peru went through life with two notions: one, that all misfortunes that might befall them were merely due to the fact that they were not sufficiently attractive to bind some man to their maintenance, and, two, that all the misery in the world was worth his caress. She had never known any country but the environs of Lima and she assumed that all its corruption was the normal state of mankind. Looking back from our century we can see the whole folly of her hope. Twenty such women would have failed to make any impression on that age. Yet she continued diligently in her task. She resembled the swallow in the fable who once every thousand years transferred a grain of wheat, in the hope of rearing a mountain to reach the moon. Such persons are raised up in every age; they obstinately insist on transporting their grains of wheat and they derive a certain exhilaration from the sneers of the bystanders. 'How queerly they dress!' we cry. 'How queerly they dress!'"

MARION'S MAIL

"Dear Marion:

It seems that each time I write to you I want to get something, and this isn't going to be an exception either, but I am sending along a recipe for Fish Sherbet which we enjoy as a change for supper, just to put a drop in the bucket in return for the help we have received through your valuable paper

I've tried several of the recipes that appeared on your page and they turned out just fine. Here's a hint that may help someone When blackening stoves, a little coal oil added to the black lead will make the stove much easier to polish and a little brown sugar will prevent the blackening from burning off so quickly

Marion, does The Examiner buy short stories from anyone who sends in suitable ones? If so, are there any set rules to follow when entering one and is it necessary to have a pen name; or is it just as the author fancies?

Well, I must say bye bye for now, Thanking you for the helps which I have checked on the enclosed coupon, and wishing your page every success,

Yours sincerely,

"Loraine".

Thank you 'Loraine' for your helpful hints. The Examiner is not able to handle individual stories as all the features are purchased through a syndicate.

—Marion.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red-hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysenterv, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or, if they come on suddenly, to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly, will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind,
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind.

Warsaw Women's Institute, has the year's program for meetings finally made. The July meeting is to be a roll call, answered by recipes or little helps. The questionnaire sent out by the National Council of Women, concerning the care of mothers and children, will be discussed.

On August the eighth, there will be a picnic to which the branches of East Peterborough are invited.

Dr. Munro will give a talk on prenatal care, a subject which he finds necessary, and in which Institutes as a whole, are much interested. In this district there have been no deaths of mothers for several years.

Mrs. A. F. Choate spent last winter in Southern Texas, among orange, lemon and grape fruit groves and in October she will give a talk on her trip to Texas and her winter there. In November, Mrs. Thomas Cooper will talk on Laws for Women and Children.

Dr. Sutton, will visit the Institute in December. The delegates to the Institute Convention will give their report in January.

Gentlemen's night comes in February when husbands or brothers are invited, and expected to put on a programme.

In March the young girls are asked to provide the topic and program. An effort was made during the coaching class to organize a junior institute, but the girls did not seem to wish it.

Mr. Cutcliffe, manager of the Royal Bank in Norwood, and of Warsaw branch, has kindly consented to give a talk on Teaching the boys and girls the management of money, at the April meeting.

The annual branch meeting of the Institute will be held in May.

It is possible that some meetings may be altered, as emergencies often arise. A definite programe which may be followed is found better than none. Illness or absence of leaders, classes, unexpected opportunities and many other things may interfere with the plans.

There have been years when Warsaw Institute carried out every program in addition to much other community work, and three years ago, six of the programs were wholly changed.

The Business at the meetings brings up many subjects, Warsaw Institute has now decided to keep a home of its own in view, one in which it can have demonstrations and classes, and all gatherings except public ones.

CAVAN

Last summer the Cavan Women's Institute enjoyed a picnic at Nicholl's Oval, Peterborough. The members chose the day on which a circus visited Peterborough, in order that the children should have the opportunity of seeing the animals in the parade.

This summer they are planning to participate with two other Institutes in a picnic at Wallace's Point.

The regular July meeting is withdrawn. The majority of the Institute members live on farms and as the next two months will be busy ones one needs to plan the work, that it may be done with the least waste of strength and time

This and mosquitos are a nuisance at this season of the year. Screens are a good deal less expensive than a doctor's bill. Screens not only add materially to one's comfort but they certainly lessen the danger to contract disease. The more medical scientists study vermin of all kinds the more convinced are they that they are definite disease carriers. Mice carry pneumonia; rats spread plagues; the common house-fly carries infantile paralysis, typhoid fever and other dangerous germs; the mosquito is responsible for much malaria and fever; and the still smaller pests have a bad account to give of themselves.

One must do away as much as possible with the breeding places of all these things. No slops should be thrown out the door to form in time a slimy pool; nor should the drain from the kitchen sink empty into the open ground to become an unsightly menace, to the nose, eyes and health.

Folks in general are pretty well disgusted with these pests and are striving to at least keep them out of their homes. Institute members, who have access to phamphlets dealing with health in all its phases, are quite aware of the menace to health which they are as well as the annoyance which they create, hence are doing everything possible to keep them out.

Screens to be effective should be perfect. A small hole will let in a lot of insects. The durability of a screen is very much lengthened by being painted. Some paint them before they store them away in the fall, others go over them in the spring before putting them in the windows. A painted screen looks better and will last twice as long. Screens are a real comfort to every inmate in the home.

Another thing to be remembered now that the busy season is at hand, is to take time for rest. Nothing is gained by working beyond our strength. A rocking chair or hammock in a shady nook, outside, offers an inducement and opportunity to rest. The following is good advice.

"Take your time! Don't ever hurry,
Hurry always leads to worry,
Worry is unhygienic,
Makes you pale and neurasthenic;
What is life without vacation?
Pal with old procrastination;
He's the proper sort of chum.
Take your time! There's more to come.
Take your time! You know there's plenty.
If you miss the seven-twenty
Take the seven-thirty-forty;
Wait till eight and make it sporty.
Never lend before you borrow.
Owe today and pay tomorrow
Be a snail for precept's sake,
Take your time! It's your to take.
Take your time! It's life's extension
That, at least, is the contention.
If you're winded, weak and haggard,
Cut out speed and play the laggard;
Haste is nothing sore of maddening.
Also you will note, I'm adding
One small cautionary line;
Take your time, but don't take mine!

Personally I prefer the center of a clump of arbor-vitas, about twenty-odd feet above the earth, a high clear blue sky and a southwest wind stirring the branches. An apple in one pocket, a few choice nibbles in another, the treasure tucked securely under the blouse—then hand over hand to the woven seat. There is nothing on earth that compares with that blissful content. The book and the day and the memory of it—color and fragrance and long sweet breaths—no, there is nothing known on earth that quite come sup to it.

Of course the books must be right. For the boy I choose three: Treasure Island, Tom Sawyer, Tonty of the Iron Hand. For the girl I offer three: Little Women, Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm and Ann of Avonlea. For the smaller boy and girl, they can read the same book with joy—I give you The Little Lame Prince, Pinocchio, Br'er Rabbit.

To get the full flavor of the book the reader must be free as air as to the reading of it. No one would think of forcing ice cream and grandmother's sponge cake down the throats of the grandchildren? In the first place it would be sheer waste of celestial bliss. In the next place, it would be entirely unnecessary. Left to themselves, the delicacies in sight—the thing is done.

Of course my choice will not fit all the children who will want to read in treetops this summer. The weeping willow tree may appeal to some children as precisely the right place to read. The wind in the willows. Imagine being a child in his early teens, aloft in a willow that hangs over glinting water, reading about Mr. Toad and Dr. Badger—and oh, the battle with the shoats. What would I give to read it for the first time.

And there may be a girl who prefers to lie sprawled flat on the sands by the shore of the lake and read Lorna Doone. Stiff reading but thrilling to the last page. And such a chance for dreaming of great things to do by and by.

Whatever the choice make sure it is given. There is that in a book, a child, and summer day that is past our understanding. We who have been children know and remember. Let us not forget, then, to pass the inheritance down.

That Body of Yours

(By Jas. W. Barton, M D.)

INFECTION REMOVED—RHEUMATISM STILL PRESENT.

"Nothing else so annoys a doctor as a patient who persists in having rheumatism after his teeth and tonsils are out."

I got a good laugh out of the above myself and most other doctors will also, because it has really a grain of truth in it.

Now, your own doctor will tell you that nearly 80 per cent of rheumatism can be traced to infection of the teeth and tonsils and that in removing them he is going to be right four times out of five.

The fact that he has seen scores of cases of rheumatism clear up in a few days or weeks makes him persist in the removal of teeth and tonsils.

The reason that many individuals persist in having rheumatism after teeth and tonsils are out "is that their system still holds some of the poison."

As I've said before, the removal of teeth and tonsils is like closing down a factory. But as the factory has been manufacturing its product—poison—for years, and hasn't sold or got rid of its product by throwing it out of the blood, then it finds itself with much of its manufactured goods on its shelves.

If the individual will help his system to get rid of this poison by means of exercise, hot baths, massage, alkalies to keep up the alkaline reserve of the blood, promoting intestinal action, then he will get rid of his rheumatism. It takes some time for poisons to get out of the system. The enlarged glands, due to poison from bad tonsils, sometimes take as long as three years to get down to normal size after removal of tonsils.

If, however, he puts it all up to the doctor, and expects the removal of teeth and tonsils to rid him of his rheumatism immediately, he may be one of the disappointed ones.

He will be the fellow who annoys his doctor by persisting in having his rheumatism.

HAPPINESS IN BOOKS.

Summer vacation offers children a chance to read a book through from start to finish. Can you remember the feeling of luxury, of deep and purring delight that used to steal over you when you escaped from the family to enjoy your book? The most innocent, the most delightful hours of a child's life are those spent in seclusion with the book of his choice.

Of course the setting must be right.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 13.—All classes of live stock for the block sold readily on an active market at the Union Stock yards this week and the price of good butcher cattle, calves, lambs and hogs advanced. Fololwing light supply last week, cattle receipts showed an increase of some 3,500 head, and the heavy offerings were cleaned up as regards killers from day to day. Stores, with some 500 westerns offering, were the only weak feature, light stockers selling a shade lower and slowly. Few farmers attended with a view of taking out cattle for grass, harvesting of the hay crop engaging their attention. A few native feeders sold at about steady prices, up to 10½ cents per pound, and light stockers brought anywhere from 7½ to 9 cents.

Heavy steers weer a light offering and sold firm to a quarter stronger at 11 to 12 cents for the bulk, with several small lots up to 12½ cents and the odd full loads at 12.20 cents a pound. Handy and light steers sold from 9 to 12 cents a pound, with weighty butchers up to 12¼ cents and the bulk of the run at 10½ cents or better. Butcher heifers made 9¼ to 11½ cents. Butchers' cows sold steady at 8½ to 9¼ cents for good to choice, with plain kind downward to 7 cents a pound, and canners and citters at 4½ to 6 cents. Bologna bulls were in good demand and showed a gain of 25 cents per cwt. in price, selling at 8 cents a pound for the bulk. Butcher bulls were scarce, but no more than steady at 8½ to 9 cents a pound. The light offering of baby beeves sold at a range of 11 to 14 cents, outside of the odd top on Monday at an outside 15 cents.

Supply of stocker cattle was the heaviest for a week this season to date, and the heavy run combined with weak demand to reduce prices in that class about 25 cents per cwt. Milkers and springers were a shade more active than last week, but prices were unchanged at $100 to $110 for best fresh cows and $110 to $120 for best springers.

Calf supply was over 1,000 heavies than last week, but strong demand locally and for export was responsible for an advance of 50 cents per cwt. in the price of veals generally, while grassers were a shade stronger after Monday, when the poorest sold down to 7 cents a pound, to close the week with few selling below 8 cents. Odd prime calves brought 15½ cents at the top, and most choice veals made 14½ to 15 cents a pound, with medium kind at 11 to 13¼ cents. Shipment to U.S. points accounted for 2,000 calves during this week.

Sheep and lamb supply was some 2,700 heavier than last week, the run of lambs being the heaviest for the year to date. Lambs sold steady on Monday and Thursday at 16 cents a pound for choice and advanced to 16¼ cents on Wednesday, when the price was higher than at this time last year. A few choice lambs brought 16½ cents a pound on closing day. Sheep sold a shade stronger at 6 to 6½ cents a pound for good light ewes and downward to 3 cents for culls.

Increase of 2,000 in hog receipts as compared with last week failed to have any weakening effect. On the other hand, the market showed increasing strength, sales on Wednesday showing a gain of 75 cents per cwt. for the week. Hogs closed firm at 13 cents f.o.b. and 14¼ cents w.o.c. for selects, with road hogs at 13¾ cents a pound. Receipts of hogs off the road amounted to 1,400 in the week.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, July 13.—Another bull movement struck the local wheat market yesterday, prices advancing 3½c to 3⅝. The rise was due mostly to continued dry weather in the Western Provinces, some sections of which were in urgent need of rain. All months touched new high marks for the season, the July future at one period climbing to $1.48⅝.

Cash wheat trading was inactive, and prices held unchanged. A fair amount of export business was reported.

Advances of 1½c were recorded in oats and rye. Flax soared 6c above Thursday's quotations. Barley held firm.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Julyc 13.—Reports indicating that huge sections of the Canadian and American Northwest are verging on actual crop disaster, gave another decided life to wheat prices yesterday. In this connection a statement from the Canadian Growers' Pool late yesterday placed the condition of the wheat crop in the Canadian Prairie Provinces at only 53.8 to 69.1 per cent., compared with 76.2 to 84.2 per cent. the last of June. Earlier yesterday an unofficial estimate from a trade leader here put North Dakota's wheat condition now at barely 52 per cent, against 74 per cent. on July 1, with South Dakota at 60, against 75, and Montana down to 55 per cent. against 100.

Closing Prices Are Higher

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 1⅝c to 1⅞c a bushel higher than Thursday finish. Corn closed ⅜c to ⅝c net lower, oats ⅛c to 1c up, and provisions varying from 20c decline to an equal gain.

Nevertheless, the upward trend of the market most of the time yesterday was of unmistakable force, and prices soared to about the topmost level reached since early last April.

Bullish incentives were also found in reports telling of heavy damage which torrential rains and floods had done to domestic wheat in the harvest section southwest, where additional moisture last night was also predicted.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 13.—There were no price changes announced on the local cash grain market yesterday. The cheese market here held steay, with No. 1 Western white and colored selling from 18¼c and 18½c per pound, and Easterns at 17⅜c to 17½c per pound. Receipts were 6,522 boxes. There was a firmer tone to the local butter market, with No. 1 Eastern Townships pasteurized selling at 37c to 37¼c per pound. Receipts were 3,259 boxes. Eggs continued steady, with prices unchanged. Both new and old potatoes were unchanged. The poultry market was dull.

SENTINEL LODGE IS PLACED FIRST

ence) 35, Campbellford; L.O.L. 36, Campbellford.

Following the usual custom, prizes were given for the best lodge in the walk. J. N. Carl, of Belleville, Grand Lecturer of Ontario East, gave the judge's decision.

The prize for the best ladies' lodge on parade was awarded to the Brighton lodge, number 58. Second prize was given to the Duchess of Clarence, Lady True Blues of Campbellford, number 35. The honors to the men's lodges were won by Sentinel Orange Lodge, number 2322, from Petherick's corners. Trenton and Codrington came in for worthy mention.

The speeches were delivered from a specially erected platform in the Seymour Agricultural Grounds. J. A. Anderson was in charge of this part of the celebration and introduced the speakers in rotation.

Major, the Rev. J. F. B. Belford, Codrington, was the principal speaker of the afternoon. He began his remarks by congratulating Campbellford on the great celebration and claiming that Orangeism was going strong in the hearts of the Canadian people. He had been impressed with the speeches he had heard, but was not able to understand why, if the organization was as worthy in their minds as the speakers had claimed, they did not join the association. He believed Orangeism would play a prominent part in the future of the country. At a recent convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, the editors had expressed favour of a new Canadian flag. Major Belford did not agree with them. He had lived a long time under the "Old Union Jack" the banner that had gone before for many years. It stood for something, he claimed. It had been the banner leading men into battle and the world along the lie of progress. It had abolished slavery and swept the pirates from the seas. Fifteen years ago, there had been people who thought the British Empire had become played out and careless. The Kaiser had thought so. But Britain had sprung to arms and it was under the Union Jack that the Canadian boys had marched into battle for their country and the peace of the world. The old Union Jack would be Canada's flag in spite of the Weekly Newspapermen. (Cheers). There was a greater danger than the matter of the flag, he thought. By this, he said he did not mean Roman Catholicism. Although he differed with them on some of their principles, he respected them as neighbors and good citizens. The danger he mentioned with Sunday Schools in the Dominion where children were being taught that there was no God. Orangement must combat this influence.

Commends L.O.B.A.

Major Belford commended the L. O.B.A. He believed that when the women of the country were united and exercising their influence, it would be strongly felt by the present civilization. He believed that the L.O.B.A. would be the greatest influence for Protestantism which Canada would have. He had found that where there was an active ladies' lodge, the men's lodge in that section was also up and coming. Next year the 100th anniversary of Orangeism in Ontario was to be celebrated in Brockville. He thought that these counties should be well represented, and suggested that the lodges get busy in their preparation at an early date.

Orangemen had also a political duty. It was for them to vote, not necessarily as their fathers voted, or for the best man, personally, but for the cause which they believed proper for their country. He believed that the present United States tariff wall to be unfair treatment to Canada, but said that that was the United States' business. It was up to Canada to look after her own interests, and then the tariff wall would fall.

Others on Platform

On the speakers' platform were seated M. E. Maybee, M.P.; Dr. Robertson, M.P.P.; Mayor McArthur of Cobourg; members of the local and district clergy, masters and mistresses of the lodges represented in the walk. M. E. Maybee, M.P., was the first speaker. Many things, he said, had transpired since the same date a year ago. Things which made it necessary for the Orangemen and similar organizations to adhere more closely to the principles of their order. There was much talk of national security, and of making Canada an independent nation. He pointed out that Canada had always relied on the British Imperial navy, and needed its protection. By virtue of its size and geographical location, it was possible for the British Empire to be independent of the world. Mr. Maybee then gave a brief resume of the present tariff situation between Canada and the United States and also touched on inter-Empire trade.

Canada, he said, needed no other flag. He wondered why we should disregard or attempt to disregard British nationality. He was proud to stand under the Union Jack and sing "God Save the King."

Dr. Robertson, M.P.P.

Dr. Robertson said it had been a pleasure to accept the invitation some months ago to speak here yesterday. He compared the local celebration to a second Toronto. He had been particularly pleased with the showing made by the ladies' lodges, although he did not know where they had all come from. Old Age Pensions, he said, were of interest to the people of the district, and he believed that a brief explanation of the scheme might be timely since there seemed to be considerable misunderstanding where it was concerned. The act was originally from the Federal government, and this government paid half the amount of the pensions. To qualify for this money, it was necessary first of all to be a British subject of seventy years of age or over. The applicant must have resided twenty years in Canada, and five of that twenty in the Province of Ontario. The amount of the yearly pension was in excess of three hundred dollars, and only available when the applicant's annual income was not more than the amount of the pension. It was for the Province to administer the fund. It, in its turn, had appointed boards in each county. There had been an error in appointing the board for Northumberland and Durham and two boards had been named. This was being changed and merged into one. In making application, he said, the names were sent to Toronto and it was there that the case was considered worthy and either accepted or rejected. One feature of the fund was that the money when paid to the pensioners, could not be attached for debt.

Mayor McArthur

Not being a member of the order, Mayor McArthur deemed it a very great privilege to be invited to speak. He believed that the Orange Order stood for British ideals and connections, and the members were not an association of intolerant people. He believed them to be a purely democratic people and in the lodge room, rich and poor, learned and unlearned, successful and unsuccessful, met on an equal basis. They were all citizens of the British Empire and were taught to Worship God, Honor the King and endorse the "Open Book." If these principles were followed, they could not help but be good citizens. He was aware that they were doing benevolent and charitable work not only among their own members and associates, but in a general way as well. He saw nothing in the Order to be ashamed of, but believed that its members stood four-square, and were honored and respected citizens.

The members of the local clergy who were on the platform and who delivered brief addresses were the Rev. D. A. McKenzie of Burnbrae Presbyterian Church; the Rev. W. J. Mark, D.D., minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Campbellford; Captain Mediar of the Salvation Army, and the Rev. L. M. Smith, minister of the Campbellford Baptist Church. All expounded and extolled the high principles of Orangeism, patriotism and the endorsation of the "Open Book."

SCHOOL PICNIC

Church and Sunday School Fortunate in Having Excellent Weather for Event.

MADOC, July 13.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Trinity United Church Sunday School held its annual picnic at Ozone Park and Pitts Sandbar, Moira Lake, on Wednesday. With excellent weather and a larger number in attendance than usual, a very pleasant afternoon was spent in swimming, football and baseball. The smaller children enjoyed very much the various races and eagerly competed for the prizes.

Ice cream, lemonade and a bountiful supper were much enjoyed.

BALL PLAYER SENT TO JAIL

GUELPH, July 13.—"Toots" Warde, former Kitchener ball player, who was with the Guelph Leafs early this season, pleaded guilty to three charges of passing worthless cheques and was sentenced in police court yesterday to serve from three to six months in the Ontario reformatory, the sentences to run concurrently.

WREATH LAID ON MEMORIAL BY ORANGEMEN

Tribute Is Paid Men Who Gave Their Lives in Great War.

SIMPLE CEREMONY.

With plenty of the Boyne spirit left, eight hundred Orangemen gave Peterborough reason to believe that there are rated among the best lodges in the province. Although there was no walk held in Peterborough this year, the members of the lodges from the city and district assembled on the Market Square last night about nine o'clock and marched to the War Memorial, where a wreath was placed in memory of those who have departed in glory for Freedom's cause.

Some came back from the Port Hope celebration by car, some by truck, but the majority came back on the special Canadian National train which arrived in the city about a quarter to nine, after which all lodges fell in line and marched to the music of the fife and drum to the Square where the rest of the contingent awaited their arrival.

The triumphal closing parade was under the direction of W. Millen, County Marshal, who led the march followed by C. Luffman, County Master; F. Millard, Deputy County Marshal, and J. D. Manley, District Master for Number 3 District, who carried the wreath.

Lakefield Citizens' Band

Next in the closing pageant of the day came the Citizens' Band from Lakefield, under the leadership of Bandmaster Walter Madill.

The Eastern Star L.O.B.A., No. 244, followed, the members of which rode in automobiles. Then the lodges of District No. 1 followed, under V. Fife, District Marshal; Nassau, May's, Downer's, Keene, Juveniles and Quahnelsba L.O.B.A. were represented.

District No. 2, under Marshal Melvin Dunlap was next in order with lodges from Wesley 419 and North Smith. Number 3 district concluded the parade and included the following lodges: Juveniles; L.O.L.'s 80, 75 and 50; Peterborough Juveniles and the ladies' lodges of Vimy Ridge and the Star of Bethlehem.

The parade followed the route up Water street to Dublin, over to George and then to the Confederation Square, where the memorial service was held. Here the lodges halted and drew up in column along George street, while C. Luffman, C.M.; F. Sanderson, D.M., and J. D. Manley, D.M., came slowly up the walk while the band played "Nearer My God to Thee," and Mr. Manley laid the wreath on the memorial as an Orange tribute to the memory of the boys who sleep in Flanders. After the placing of the wreath a minute's silence, out of respect for those brave soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice, was held.

The march then was resumed down George street to the Market Square where the various lodges marched off to their headquarters, and so another "Glorious Twelfth" was concluded.

Samuels Bests Harvin to Allow Leafs 2-1 Victory

HURLERS' BATTLES FEATURE DOUBLE PROGRAM AT TORONTO

Orioles Outhit Bisons But Lose Out As Buffalo Takes Eighth Straight Win.

TORONTO, Ont., July 13.—(Canadian Press).—The spoils of the doubleheader at the stadium yesterday were evenly divided. The Newark Bears won the first game 6 to 2 in 12 innings. The Leafs took the second in seven innings 2 to 1, and they won it in the seventh, which was the last inning.

Two pitchers of the old school had a battle of battles in the first game and Walter Laverenz pitched skilfully, but the southpaw was a tired man in the 12th, and he crowded the winning run home when he walked Joe Bush, another oldster, with the bases full.

The Bruins just by way of rubbing it in and at the same time making victory sure, added three more runs before Clary Fisher got the side out.

Two youngstrs engaged in pitching combat in the second game, and Joe Samuels, up this year from the Scranton New York-Penna Club, bested Al Harvin, who performed for Johnstown in the middle Atlantic loop last season.

5TH STRAIGHT FOR BISONS

BUFFALO, N.Y. July 13.—(Canadian Press).—Although the Baltimore Orioles rapped four homers and outhit the Bisons, they were unable to halt the rampaging locals, who went on to their eighth straight triumph here yesterday afternoon by a score of 8 to 7. It was a ragged, long-drawn-out game, with no less than seven pitchers working. Bool hit two homers for the Orioles, while Ganor and Lamotte also lashed the ball out of the park.

WINGS BEAT CATS 4-3

ROCHESTER, July 13.—(Canadian Press).—"Texas" Carleton, leading pitcher of the International league, won his twelfth straight game of the current campaign here yesterday as the Red Wings defeated the Jersey City Black Cats 4 to 3. Carleton won thanks to Gus Felix's line single in the eighth inning a blow which arrived after the Wings had scored one run on a wild pitch and with the bases still full. Torporcer and Collins crossed the plate with the tying and winning runs on Felix's wallop. Rochester now leads Toronto in second place by nine full games.

GERMAN STARS ROUT BRITISHERS

Hans Moldenhauser and Dr. Prenn Dispose of Austin and Gregory.

BERLIN, July 13. (C.P.) — Germany's tennis stars, springing a sensational upset, routed the British forces yesterday in the opening two singles matches of the European zone Davis Cup matches. Hans Moldenhauser defeated the English ace, H. W. (Bunny) Austin, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3, after Dr. H. Prenn had disposed of J. C. Gregory in equally decisive fashion, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

The straight-set character of the Germans' victories was even more surprising than the double defeat of the British, who went into the final round favored to win.

Germany now needs only one more victory, either in the doubles to-day or in the closing singles matches on Sunday to win the European zone competition and play the United States for the right to challenge France for the classic Davis cup.

LONDON, Ont., July 12.—(By the Canadian Press)—C. Ross Somerville, London Hunt Club, yesterday morning defeated J. H. Chipman, Toronto Lambton, four and three in the first round on the playdown for the Ontario Amateur Golf Championship. They played over the course of the London Hunt and Country Club, in great heat, the rain clouds of earlier in the day having dispersed.

Somerville, the present Canadian and Ontario Amateur champion, outplayed his opponent all the way around. He won the first five holes with three pars and two birdies. Chipman got a few back when Ross hooked a couple of tee shots out of bounds, but the local player was dormie four at the 14th, and halved the 25th.

They were the first in the championship flight to report.

Jack Nash, 17-year-old London Hunt player scored an upset when he defeated Jack Cameron Toronto, Mississauga, three und one. Cameron was runner-up for the Ontario championship last year. Nichol Thompson, Toronto, Cedar Brook, defeated N. Williamson, of Toronto, Five and four. Don Carrick Toronto, Scarboro, defeated Allen Skaith, Toronto, Lambton, four three.

The Giants tied the score on Malone in the ninth after two were out on Lindstrom's single and Ott's triple.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, Manager Swanston's boys started out this week in the hopes of taking 3 games from Belleville, seeing nobody else seems able to do it, but the 1st part of the program went bloole at Belleville Wed., chiefly due to the fact that when hits was needed the Petes had everything else but. This here Mister Utronki was the wildest thing seen in the loop in many a day, although Mister Mills was just about as wild trying to handle the erratic heaves of the young fellow from Renfrew. Mister Utronki could hit about everything else but the centre of the pan, plugging five of our noble athletes and passing seevn more, and the Petes had as many folks on the bases all day as they was old boys here last week. Getting them home was something else again, and the lack of punch in our lads' attack is visible to the naked eye in the fact that although 16 got to 1st base, only 3 went all the way round, and of them only 1 was batted in.

They was about everything, Mac, in that there game at Belleville that could be crowded into 1 ball game, including a verbal debate between our well-known heaver, Mister Jeff Hardill, and Mister Will Skitch, the Cobourg umpire. Mister Skitch win the bout by a knockout, for while Mister Hardill undoubtedly said the most, what Mister Skitch said counted for more, and our artilleryman dragged himself from the field of combat, casting baleful glances over his shoulder at the said Mister Skitch. The order, it seems, has gone out from league headquarters that ball tossers what question the decisions of the finely trained experts which arbitrate in the Central loop are to be chucked into the hoosegow. That seems like starting at the wrong end. The umpiring this year ain't been up to standard, and all the teams is kicking more or less, even Belleville, which is well out in front, but instead of reading the riot act to the umps the league officials is telling them to go ahead and chase all kickers, and with the judgment some of them birds is showing, the order is just like giving a green cop a revolver and telling him to use it. Even in the big show they stand for a reasonable amount of crabbing, and they usually pull a watch on the offenders before giving them the gate, but Mister Skitch in this case fired from his pocket, as it were.

Last Sat., Mac, the lads win a smart game from Deloro when Mister Heckman tied the Smelters gang in a knot and galloped home looking back. Beating Deloro has been a tough job for Mister Swanston's boys all year, so that victory was thoroughly appreciated.

Deloro, Oshawa and our lads is having 1 hectic fight for 2nd place, while the Belleville Nationals is all alone in the 1st division, and it looks like the 3 was going to battle until the last week of the season before they settle the argument which is going to play the Kingston lads for the right to figure in the final series. Of course, them Belleville dynamiters ain't cinched 1st place by any means yet, but so far only the Petes has been able to break even with them. The Nationals has taken 4 straight from Deloro and 2 outa 3 from Oshawa, and the Petes has been the only gang to give the Gerowmen a battle, winning 2 outa 4 and making a great bid for victory in 1 of the other 2 fixtures.

This here doubleheader for Sat. oughta play a big part in the final standing, Mac, and if the Petes grab 2 they'll be well away.

Sportfully yours,

Difficult To Secure High Class Team Calibre For Both Canadian and U. S. Seniors.

(Special to The Examiner. Copyright.)
(By Ralph H. Reirlie.)

TORONTO, July 13. — As freely predicted by me, in the three-cornered Seniors' Golf championship, at St. Andrews, Scotland, last week, neither the United States Seniors nor the Canadian Seniors, had a ghost of a chance against the British Seniors if they cared to field anything like their best team. There is no use mincing matters. There are a score or more of men, 55 years and upwards, in Great Britain, several of them former Amateur champions, who could give a team of sixteen of the best players of any individual club in the United States or Canada, a "run for their money" or probably licking. When it comes to Senior golf, the Old Country is in a class by itself and naturally so, because they have been playing there for years without number and we have been only doing so the last few decades. As a result they have a big field to draw from. It was not surprising therefore, that the Britishers, in the tri-angular championship, should have scored 41 points, the U. S. 15 points and Canada 12 points. A very lop-sided victory indeed.

These Senior International Championships by the way, will probably in the future be cut down to 10 or 12 players aside, and the event scheduled every two years, instead of every year. This following the Walker and Ryder Cup events. In other words, instead of coming here in 1930, the British team will next visit Canada and the United States in 1931 and the return visit will not be made until 1933. It is no open secret that Mr. Snare, the Captain of the U. S. Seniors and Mr. George S. Lyon of the Canadian Seniors, had a very hard time indeed, this year to get sixteen men anything like the strength of their respective Associations, as regard playing ability, to make the trip which calls alike for much time and much money. Bluntly, it is only men of the leisure class who can afford the jaunt. And they don't generally represent the best players in any Association or any club.

From letters just received, the members of the Canadian Seniors, are having the time of "their young lives". In England and Scotland alike, they are being feted and entertained. That is some consolation any way, for a rather bad defeat.

Two Prominent Championships

Apart from Provincial and other championships and tournament and there are many of them, this month will witness the staging of two of the most prominent championships of Canada, that of the Professional Golf Association at Laval-sur-le Lac Montreal on July 22nd. followed by the Open Championship of Canada, at Kanawaki, Montreal, July 25th, 26th and 27th. There is no question that these professional championships are more interesting to the average golfer and attract larger galleries than amateur events. They are of course, decided by medal play and therefore not as long drawn out as Amateur Championship, which after the qualifying round, are always decided by match play, often very tedious and uninteresting until the final is reached.

The present Canadian Professional champion is Willie Lamb, of the Uplands Golf Club, Toronto, a former Scottish Amateur and the Canadian Open champion, Leo Diegel. They will both be on hand to defend their titles with a galxy of other professionals and amateurs. It is quite on the cards, that Bobbie Jones, himself will be at Kanawaki for the Open. If he does enter there the galleries will be of record proportion.

When the Prince of Wales was in Newcastle for the opening of the North East Coast exhibition he played a golf match with the Lord Mayor Mr. Arthur W. Lambert and finished all square. A return match was arranged there and then a few days ago was played over the Coombe Hill course one of the best of the London links. The Prince was round in 89 and defeated the Lord Mayor by 2 up. Coombe Hill is decidedly a hard course to negotiate and a score there in the eighties is quite a creditable performance. His Royal Highness has apparently greatly improved his game since last in Canada as he never had a score on any courses here equal to this Coombe Hill performance of his. He is playing a great deal more golf these days, since giving up riding to a great extent.

Club House Opened

The Hamilton Golf and Country Club, which has at Ancaster one of the admittedly finest inland golf courses on the continent, recently formally opened its magnificent new club house, thereby completing and rounding out a really wonderful golfing property—a credit alike this prominent club and the city of Hamilton. The building is in the Old English style which lends itself to dignity and artisticness. It will be of interest to golfing executives throughout Canada to know that largely thanks to Mr. N. S. Braden, vice-president of the Canadian Westinghouse Co. and the members of the building committee, this magnificent club house was completed at a cost approximately of a little over $150,000 showing what careful and expert supervision can do in golf club construction economy. The building really looks like "a quarter of a million of more." The combined main lounge and dining room is especially a beautiful apartment 34x80. The separate men's private lounge is 17x34 and the private ladies' lounge 17x24. These private lounges form the balconies overlooking either end of the combined main lounge and dining room. In the main lounge under the men's private lounge is arranged a folding door partition by which a good sized dining room for special dinners can be entirely isolated from the general dining room. In the main lounge under the men's private lounge is arranged a folding door partition by which a good sized dining room for special dinners can be entirely isolated from the general dining room. The mens' locker wing is two stories 34x60 and the ladies' locker oom is 34x48. The imposing front verandah is two stories, 16' wide by 80' long. The ladies' verandah is also two stories each 16'x34'. The kitchens and quarters for the staff and servants are most commodious. The entire buildings are of fireproof construction and have the most modern heating and plumbing equipment and complete system of electric lighting and special hammered iron lighting fixtures and decorated lamps. The roof of the building is slate mounted on gypsum slabbs supported by steel rafters and trusses making a most substantial roof structure.

The wants of the professional, have not been overlooked either. He has been provided with a shop 30x50 w all modern appliances installed, including private office, shower facilities and also handsome show-room. The lot of the Hamilton golfer is certainly to be envied. Incidentally, what a change from 20 years ago or so, when more often than not, an old re-vamped frame house or barn on the farm taken over for golf links, served as a club house for the then but few followers of th eRoyal and Ancient game.

LAKEFIELD URGES DAYLIGHT SAVING

Movement Does Not Seem to Meet With Much Success.

LAKEFIELD, July 13.—(Examin-Corerspondence).—There has been a movement on foot to adopt daylight ssving in the village, but so far without success. With the neighboring city of Peterboro' using it, it would be more convenient for many people but on the other hand there is a strong objections from rural sections so it is not likely that any change will be made this year.

Next year it may become a matter of municipal vote. The Canada Cement Co. has adopted the system for its plant and finds it very satisfactory.

To Hold Social.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. A. Davis, in the chair. Plans were made for a pie and ice cream social to be held on July 27 in the Town Hall grounds and a committee was appointed.

Stop Signs Erected.

Queen street has been made a through street and stop signs have been erected at all the intersections. This is a step in the right direction and will prevent accidents. The fact that there has been no guarantee of permanent safety and it is well to feel that the authorities did not wait till too late to adopt safety first methods.

LARGE GATHERING HONORS TEACHER

OTONABEE, July 13.—At the close of the school term, guests to the number of seventy gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, of Otonabee, to say good bye and to do honor to Miss Helen Syer, who is leaving the community after completing four years as teacher of this school.

When all had gathered together on the lawn, the verandah serving as a platform, J. H. Burns took the chair and in his opening remarks, told of his pleasure in seeing so many families present. He then called on Clarence Swan and Harold Nurse to furnish several selections on the violin and accordion.

After the musical part of the program, Miss Syer was asked to take her place on the platform, when she was presented with a walnut chest lined with red cedar and a serving tray, the presentation being made by Miss Marion Beatty and Harold Nurse, the address being read by the chairman. Miss Syer made a very suitable reply, speaking in the highest terms of her associates in the community, after which a social hour was enjoyed, the ladies serving refreshments.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

TO A LIGHTNING BUG

For long I watched the dots of flame
That dance against the summer night
And fatuously thought you came
To scatter beauty and delight.
Your twinkling incandescence seemed Like floating motes of rainbow dust,
And till today I never dreamed
Of looking on you with mistrust

I knew, of course, that you must eat,
For even elfin things like you
Require their daily bread and meat
Their strength and vigor to renew.
But you so lightly poised in air
As passed the scented twilight hours
That I supposed you made your flare
The nectar of the full blown flowers.

But foolish trust soon comes to grief;
I found you firmly perched today
Upon a tender cherry leaf
Which you had eaten half away.
To shed those green and rosy beams
Which sparkle on the dusky leaves
And down the lawn, you must, it seems
Lap up the life-blood of my trees.

But such is futile human faith
We mortals harbor in our hearts,
Until, an evanescent wraith,
It spreads its pinions and departs
Hereafter when you gleam and glow
Across the darkling garden wall
I'll not applaud you; I shall know
You're just a beetle, after all

Acquits Hack Wilson On Donohue Charges

NEW YORK, July 13.—John H. Heydler, President of the National League, to-day in effect acquitted Hack Wilson, rotund outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, of an alleged "unjustifiable and brutal assault" on Pete Donohue, veteran right-handed pitcher of the Cincinnati Reds.

Wilson knocked Donohue down in the Union Station, Chicago, the night of July 4, after an argument. A formal protest from the Cincinnati Club led President Heydler to institute an investigation as to whether the attack was begun before Donohue was in a position to defend himself. The league executive decided that the evidence did not support such a charge.

MAUDSLEY IS INJURED IN THE FOURTH FRAME

Rays' Star Twirler Crashes With Mein While Chasing Infield Fly.

MAINTAIN SECOND PLACE.

Oshawa Gets Five Hits in Fifth Innings To Score Four Counters.

Raybestos ball club maintained their position right on the heels of the leading Port Hope team in the Lakeshore League's race by playing a 4-4 tie with Oshawa Arabs in the motor town last evening.

An injury to "Sailor" Maudsley's good left arm in the fourth innings caused him to weaken in the fifth and Oshawa plied him for five hits to chase all four of their counters across. Even at that with a few breaks the Rays on their play would have won.

Maudsley and "Shocky" Mein bumped when they both went after an infield fly for the last put out of the fourth innings. The pitcher's twirling arm was bruised by the collision and every throw cost him great pain when he went into the box in the fifth.. Against his slow balls Oshawa stepped in getting three on bases. Little cleared the runways with a lucky triple to right field. This hit, which should only have been a single, took a bad hop just as Corrin was trapping it, and it went over his shoulder and rolled away for three bases. Elliott scored Little on a roller, and that completed the damage.

The Rays got one run in the second innings on the two Oshawa errors that were crowded into this single frame. They had chances galor to counter in the innings following but the necessary hit was missing.

Rays were three down going into the sixth at the conclusion of the fifth's disaster and their cause seemed hopeless. But two walks and a hit by pitcher along with a sacrifice clout scored them a run in the sixth to make their total two.

Mein Takes Mound.

"Shocky" Mein relieved Maudsley for the sixth inning and although he issued two walks he escaped without a hit or a run being scored off him.

Collins saved the day in the seventh. Corrin with one down hit for three bases into deep centre. Collins next up poled out a home run over the centre fielder's head and on the Oshawa diamond it rolled and rolled. Hickey late got on and stole second with two down. Maudsley walked but O. Nicholl's roller made the third out.

Maudsley went back to the box in the seventh. He retired two batsmen on rollers when Hubbell hit for three bases into centre field. However, the best Gummow could do was an easy roller to the pitcher.

The game hadn't got underway until seven o'clock and at the end of the seventh the long shadows of darkness were creeping over the park and the game was called.

Maudsley twirled great ball up until his injury. He had allowed but one hit, that a very scratchy infield roller between the box and first base. He was always on top of the Oshawa batters with the exception of the fifth.

Frank, a speedy right hander, hurled for Oshawa and he managed to keep the Rays' hits well scattered until the seventh. Gower, a left hander, relieved him for four batters in the seventh and then he was shoved back in for the last out.

One of the fielding features of the game was the great catch Hickey made of McDougall's foul fly into the crowd. Oscar Nicholl's ran a block to gather in Hubbell's clout to the deep garden. Nicholls taking it over his head. Elliott, on third for Oshawa, made a great catch of Batten's foul rap.

LARGEST BRITISH COLUMBIA ATHLETIC MEET

Percy Williams is stepping out on the track again after having refrained from active competition since his famous tour of the east last spring. One of the largest athletic meets ever staged in British Columbia was held at Vancouver yesterday and comes to a close today.

Toronto is represented by their famous girls' relay team and by Ethel Catherwood. British Columbia has apparently discovered the knack of producing champions. Williams is not the only example of British Columbia prowess. Another native of this province. Torchy Peden, is making things hum in the cycle world and has carried off more than one purse.

RACE TIGHTENING IN LAKESHORE LOOP.

The race is tightening up in the Lakeshore Loop. Oshawa Arabs defeated Port Hope 5 to 4 in Oshawa on Monday evening, thus giving the league leaders two losses. The Rays have only two losses also, and Oshawa is right behind with three.

Rays should have won in Oshawa last night, and the motorists were lucky to have the game end in a tie. A bad hurt to Maudsley's arm gave him great trouble in the fifth innings, allowing Oshawa all four of their runs.

CIGARETTE STUB IGNITES CATCHER'S PAD.

Art Quinn, the Deloro catcher, had one hot innings in the second game with Oshawa last Wednesday. Quinn was working behind the bat in his usual form, when he felt something sear his flesh. He began hopping around as though a bee had stung him; ripped off his belly pad, and found it smoking and blazing.

Someone on the bench had tossed away a cigarette butt and it had landed in the pad. Two batters had been retired before Quinn noticed that the pad was getting too hot for him.

BETHANY OUT TO MAINTAIN LOOP LEAD.

There isn't a prouder man in the neighborhood right now than Doc. Hamilton of Bethany, over the great showing of his team. Ir his team wins the E. P. L. there will be no holding him. Somehow, it would be only about fair if Bethany did capture the honors this year. Ever since the league began Bethany has been in there fighting, and they were never the team to default a game, no matter how tough the sledding.

The mountain village lads can take almost a sure hold on first place if they defeat Crescents this Monday night in Bethany. Manager Brioux has had his players out practising regularly this week, and every effort will be made to turn back the leaders.

Activity is shaking the Cog camp, too, and the fans can be assured that there's a battle coming in the E.P.L.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

All Talking Programme, at the Capitol Commencing Monday. "INTERFERENCE," the Broadway Ilam Powell, Doris Kenyon and Clive Brook—All Talking Comedy and Singing Features.

Patrons of the Capitol Theatre have a surprise in store for them with the opening of "Interference," a Paramount picture. There is no single featured player in the film, on the contrary, all four main characters of the story are filled by actors and actresses who themselves enjoy stellar rating.

The screen version of "Interference" gives each artist an admirable opportunity to display his or her histrionic ability without fear of being overshadowed by any fellow player in the cast. Each player fills a vital role in the story.

Adapted From Stage Play.

"Interference" was first presented on the stage in London. It met with instant approval from English theatre-goers and held the boards in the English capitol for two years. It was then brought to New York where it was accorded as enthusiastic a reception as in England, running for nine months.

Scouts for Paramount considered the play ideal for presentation on the screen and the play was purchased for production.

When work began it dawned upon studio officials for the first time that the nature of the story demanded four central characters and was unsuitable as a vehicle for a single star. Forthwith it was necessary to draw upon the featured players under contract to Paramount. It was found that the company had three players who were considered ideal for the play, and it placed under contract another feminine player to fill the remaining role.

Story Laid in England.

As the play is English, and is laid in England, it was necessary that the player have an English screen personality. Clive Brook headed this list, he was born in England and appeared on the English stage. The other three, Powell, Miss Brent, and Miss Kenyon, had all lived in England at one time or another, so they were considered qualified to fill that requisite.

Eddie Cantor will be seen in an all talking comedy. "That Party In Person," while Ruth Etting will be heard in a song reel entitled "Blue Songs."

WORLD MARK IS EQUALLED BY WILLIAMS

Canadian Sprint Star Runs 100 Yards in 9 3-5 Seconds to Beat Wykoff and Fitzpatrick.

AT VANCOUVER MEET.

Toronto Girls in Sprint Final —Great Aggregation of Track Athletes Taking Part.

HASTINGS PARK, Vancouver, B. C., July 13.—Percy Williams here last night upheld the reputation which he made last year at Amsterdam as the Olympic sprint champion by outrunning Frank Wykoff, who came from California to beat him, and equalled the accepted world's record of 9 3-5 seconds. The event was the first heat of the 100-yard dash at the midsummer carnival and grand amateur athletic meet here, which opened last evening with the greatest aggregation of spring stars present that has ever gathered on the Pacific Coast. The final of the 100 yard dash will be run to-day.

Loose Dirt Track.

It was the firs ttime the Olympic champion came into world's record time for the 100 yards. Ten thousand people who came to see their hero against classy competition for the first time on his home grounds, went wild as he shot into the final ten yards, one yard ahead of the speeding Wykoff, exactly the same distance that separated them in the memorable two hundred metres final at Amsterdam last summer. Last night however, in contrast to the smooth cinder track of the Dutch stadium, Williams and his teammate, Johnny Fitzpatrick, who came 4,000 miles to run with him and place third, ran on a track inches deep in loose dirt and dust, one usually used for horse racing.

Fitzpatrick Qualifies.

Johnny Fitzpatrick, running easily, shot himself into the finals of the invitation 220 yards when he placed third in the second heat, which was won by the rangy negro, Wesley Foster, of Washington State College. Frank Wykoff, the Californian, ran second.

In the first important race of the day, Myrtle Cook, the Canadian girls' sprint champion, had an easy time in winning from Mary Frizzell, the Vancouver High School girl. Her time, fast for the slow track, was 6 2-5 seconds—two-fifths of a second behind the world's record for 50 yards.

The time of the second heat of 50 yards was exactly the same as that run by Myrtle Cook. But it developed into a battle between Florence Bell and her team-mate, Jean Thompson. Florence got a bad start, but recovered. Frances Davis, Vancouver, was third.

The other member of the Canadian girls' relay team, Ethel Hogarth, ran away with the third heat of the 50 yards.

LARGE DOG ATTACKS VISITOR

TORONTO, Ont., July 13.—Believed to have been crazed by the heat and confinement a large dog kept by a family living in a Dundas street west apartment, to-day attacked and bit a visitor, Mrs. A. Wittle, Kitchener, who with her four children was staying with Mrs. H. Martin in the apartment when the dog commenced to growl without warning and suddenly leaped at the woman biting her right hand.

The dog continued to act crazed until a neighbor entered and killed the animal. The head is being sent to the Ontario Laboratories for an examination for rabies.

PICTORIAL GOLF

SHOT DEPENDS UPON RIGHT FOOT PIVOT.

The right foot is used for a brace in the final stages of the pivot. That is, it has a certain work to do and much depends on how it does this bit. The foot comes up on the toe as the body turns. It is important because this is happening while the club is following through. Golfers who do not use this foot as it should be used can never hit a satisfactory ball.

If the foot comes around too far it shows that the body has worked too fast. If the foot fails to come around to a position in a line with the hole the most has not been made out of the pivot. Experts can watch the right foot and tell exactly what a golfer is capable of doing. Right or wrong, it is one of the points that they "check up" on in the swing.

Drummondville, Que., July 13. (C. This deal illustrates the conventional handling, when able, of a two-suiter (North's holding). The Auction bidding as given above is based upon the principle that the normal way to show two suits is to name the higher ranking suit first and subsequently (if necessary) the lower, in order that partner (when both are bid) may show his preference for the suit first named without increasing the contract. To reverse this order of showing two suits, that is, to bid the lower first and subsequently the higher, denies a Quick Trick (the Ace or King-Queen) in the higher ranking suit subsequently bid.

Salient Points of Bidding

Auction Bidding: No comment is required on South's pass and West's original one Heart bid. North has a powerful two-suiter with which, in order to arrive at the best bid between the partnership hands, it may be necessary to show both suits. Holding a singleton in Hearts and no Diamonds, North figures his partner's distribution may be equally freakish and despite his great strength bids no more than necessary to overcall West's Heart in order to leave open every possible approach to the best partnership bid. East, holding but two of his partner's Hearts and a seven card Diamond suit, overcalls with two Diamonds.

South and West passing, North shows his second suit, Clubs, which East again overcalls. South now comes to life and bids three Spades, having not only a preference for that suit but real support in the Ace of Spades and a third round ruff of Clubs, for what is obviously a strong two-suiter. The bidding proceeds until a contract of five Spades by North is reached and doubled by East who, while realizing that certain distributions would make six Diamonds possible, prefers the safer procedure of doubling. Of course, East's double is actually a re-bid of his hand, putting it up to partner whether to go on with Diamonds or rest content with five Spades doubled.

Contract Bidding: At Contract, North has a better vehicle for showing at once the powerful nature of his hand. His forcing overcall of two Spades, a bid of one trick more than necessary, is an imperative demand upon partner for a response other than a pass should there be no intervening bid.

This deal is unique in that not only North but East as well has a forcing overcall. Thus North's two Spade bid and East's four Diamond bid show both players to be equally desirous of keeping the bidding open and finding out from their respective partners the trick possibilities of the combined hands and their "fitability."

The four Diamond call shuts out South but enables West to bid for game, and North, fearing adversaries may make five Diamonds—or more—and willing to take a reasonable loss to prevent such adverse game, bids five Spades, barred as he is from showing the Club suit.

Again East doubles, figuring he has the contract set and unwilling to risk a bid of six lacking the King and Queen of Diamonds and holding three losing Spades.

The Play

East leads initially the singleton Ace of Clubs and follows with the 9 of Hearts which West wins with the Queen. West's correct response to East's lead of the Club Ace and his shift, is a small Club. Clearly East does not want a Diamond return and either Hearts or Spades are out of the question. East trumps the Club thus setting the contract one trick following which the Declarer makes the balance of the tricks laid down.

From an examination of all four hands, it will be seen that North's sacrifice was well justified as East-West would not only have made five Diamonds but would in all probability have made six odd. The fact that six odd on the other hand was not soundly biddable by either East or West is evidenced by the fact that such a contract can be defeated by the opening lead (by South) of a trump and a subsequent lead of a second trump when in with the Ace of Spades, as East, in order to make six odd, must trump two Spades in Dummy.

PREMIER SEEKS FAIR FIGHTING

Taschereau Wants Two Parties to Work in Interests of Quebec.

DENOUNCES PROGRAM.

Drummondville, Que., July 13. (C. P.) — "On Thursday, at Quebec, at the conclusion of a great convention, our friends of the Opposition chose their new leader. have nothing to say in regard to the appointment of that new man. It was our friends' business to name whom they wanted, but I would ask the new leader and his advisers, in the interest of our province, and of our race, to fight loyally and honestly and in the best interests of our province," said Premier L. A. Taschereau last night in referring to the election of Camillien Houde, member of the Legislative Assembly and Mayor of Montreal, as leader of the Provincial Conservative party. The occasion was a meeting and dinner given here to Hon. H. Laferte, recently appointed Minister of Colonization and Fisheries in the Provincial Cabinet.

Referring to resolutions drawn up for the guidance of the Conservative party, the Liberal leader said: "If one believes that, with a program such as that outlined at Quebec, the province may go ahead, he is mistaken."

NEW STORE OPENED ON WATER STREET

The Gilson Manufacturing Company, Guelph, recognizing Peterborough as an important centre, has opened up the Gilson Washer Store, No. 374 Water street. The store has been redecorated and furnished and is now a most modern store for the sale of The Gilson Snow-Bird, the aristocrat of electric washers.

The Gilson Manufacturing Company is one of the oldest manufacturing companies in the Dominion, having commenced business in 1850. They have been doing business here in the furnace line for some years, being well represented by W. A. McEwan.

The washer store will be in charge of H. Noonan, who will be pleased to have visitors call and see a demonstration.

ACTION BEGINS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 12. — (Canadian Press).—According to an affidavit fyled with United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter against Frank MacLean Smith wanted in Toronto, Ont., for alleged grand larceny, Smith, together with Joe G. Brotherton, is charged with having stolen money subscribed by persons for investments in Mining Company Stock, the charge stating that the acts complained of were committed by either one of them or through the firm of F. MacLean Smith and Company, with which both were connected.

The complaint was sworn to by Gerald Shepherd, acting British Consul General here, and will be used as the basis for a hearing on the extradition petition on July 31, which date was fixed late yesterday at the acting Consul General's request.

This deal illustrates the conventional handling, when able, of a two-suiter (North's holding). The Auction bidding as given above is based upon the principle that the normal way to show two suits is to name the higher ranking suit first and subsequently (if necessary) the lower, in order that partner (when both are bid) may show his preference for the suit first named without increasing the contract. To reverse this order of showing two suits, that is, to bid the lower first and subsequently the higher, denies a Quick Trick (the Ace or King-Queen) in the higher ranking suit subsequently bid.

Salient Points of Bidding

Auction Bidding: No comment is required on South's pass and West's original one Heart bid. North has a powerful two-suiter with which, in order to arrive at the best bid between the partnership hands, it may be necessary to show both suits. Holding a singleton in Hearts and no Diamonds, North figures his partner's distribution may be equally freakish and despite his great strength bids no more than necessary to overcall West's Heart in order to leave open every possible approach to the best partnership bid. East, holding but two of his partner's Hearts and a seven card Diamond suit, overcalls with two Diamonds.

South and West passing, North shows his second suit, Clubs, which East again overcalls. South now comes to life and bids three Spades, having not only a preference for that suit but real support in the Ace of Spades and a third round ruff of Clubs, for what is obviously a strong two-suiter. The bidding proceeds until a contract of five Spades by North is reached and doubled by East who, while realizing that certain distributions would make six Diamonds possible, prefers the safer procedure of doubling. Of course, East's double is actually a re-bid of his hand, putting it up to partner whether to go on with Diamonds or rest content with five Spades doubled.

Contract Bidding: At Contract, North has a better vehicle for showing at once the powerful nature of his hand. His forcing overcall of two Spades, a bid of one trick more than necessary, is an imperative demand upon partner for a response other than a pass should there be no intervening bid.

This deal is unique in that not only North but East as well has a forcing overcall. Thus North's two Spade bid and East's four Diamond bid show both players to be equally desirous of keeping the bidding open and finding out from their respective partners the trick possibilities of the combined hands and their "fitability."

The four Diamond call shuts out South but enables West to bid for game, and North, fearing adversaries may make five Diamonds—or more—and willing to take a reasonable loss to prevent such adverse game, bids five Spades, barred as he is from showing the Club suit.

Again East doubles, figuring he has the contract set and unwilling to risk a bid of six lacking the King and Queen of Diamonds and holding three losing Spades.

The Play

The fact that six odd on the other hand was not soundly biddable by either East or West is evidenced by the fact that such a contract can be defeated by the opening lead (by South) of a trump and a subsequent lead of a second trump when in with the Ace of Spades, as East, in order to make six odd, must trump two Spades in Dummy.

VISIT OF BRITISH MINISTER RAISES QUESTION IN HOUSE

J. H. Thomas Says Canada Is Leaning More To Industry.

STUDY WHOLE PROBLEM.

LONDON, July 12. — (Canadian Press Cable).—The coming visit to Canada of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment, to discuss migration, will be the subject of questions in the House of Commons. P. J. Hannon, Conservative member for Moseley, Birmingham, will enquire whether the Minister proposes to examine the possibilities for enlargement of the 3,000 family settlement scheme and whether he will endeavor to arrange an extension of the reduced fares agreement, applying to certain classes of British workers who desire to go to Canada.

Mr. Thomas himself has given hints that he intends to raise the question of migration of British Industrial workers to Canada. In his statement in the House, announcing his forthcoming visit, he pointed out the change from an agricultural to an industrial population which was now taking place in Canada. "Hitherto," he then said, "our migration schemes have been based on the assumption that agriculturists alone are wanted. That is not true today." The minister also said he proposes in Canada to discuss "the whole problem."

Stimulation of the movement of industrial workers has been the subject of previous discussions between the British and Canadian Governments. Canadian labor organizations have generally opposed this. The Canadian government confined the reduced fares to those intending to settle on the land. Among British migration authorities however there is a feeling that British industrial labor might well take the place of foreign labor from the continent. It was suggested some time ago that an industrial census might be taken in Canada to find out whether any real demand existed for British industrial labor, but the suggestion came to nothing.

COLE BARRETT BEEN IN CITY FOR 50 YEARS

Old Citizen Celebrated His Ninety-Second Birthday Recently.

BORN IN ENGLAND.

Cole Barrett of 492 Murray street is one of Peterborough's oldest citizens reaching the grand old age of ninety-two years, at his last birthday on the twenty-ninth of June. Although rather hard of hearing and with failing eye sight, this old resident is of a cheerful disposition, and recalls some of the memoirs of his early arrival in the city, fifty years ago.

"On George street there were scarcely any houses on the east side of the street, then he says, they all seemed to have been built on the west side. Murray steet, where Mr. Barrett has lived during his entire stay in the city, perhaps might have been called a street at that time but it was more of a path through a cedar grove and the street that was later put through that part was called Cedar street from the number of trees of that kind.

Later when most of the trees were cleared away in the west end of the city Mr. Barrett remembers sitting on his front veranda and looking to the south to where the Edison factory now known as the Canadian General Electric, stood and every noon and evening he could see the steam from the whistle as it blew the hour.

Mr. Barrett was born in Wells Norfolk England, in the year of 1837, and remained in that country for a number of years. His father's name was Cole Barrett senior and his mother's maiden name was Susannah Whitlock. Of a family of seven, Mr. Barrett is the only living member. He said in a rather sorrowing way: "They all have left me—all my brothers, sisters, and I am the only one remaining.

In England he received what little public school education was offered at that time which was not a great deal as most of the schools were regulated by some big factory, he explained. Some fifty years ago he made the voyage to Canada in a sail boat which was loaded with grain and which took a long time in crossing.

On arriving in Peterborough he found that work was very scarce. He learned the carpenter trade and worked on such buildings as the Quaker Oats, The Canadian General, the old West Ward school, where the Albion Knitting Works are now, and St. Andrew's Church.

For some years he plied his trade as a carpenter until he accepted the caretakership of the West Ward School and the St. Andrew's church which he held for over twenty-eight years. Some of the people in Peterborough today will remember how he used to chase them at recess or after school hours when they overstepped the rules and regulations that he had laid down.

Mr. Barrett has been married twice and is the father of twelve children, two of whom are dead, while some of the others are in Peterborough, some in Toronto and others scattered throughout the country.

PREMIER SEEKS RATIFICATION OF DEBT ACCORDS

OBTAINED POINT.

Occupation of Ruhr Has Been Important Operation For France.

PARIS, July 13 (C.P.).—Premier Raymond Poincare took up to-day where he left off yesterday, explaining to the French Chamber of Deputies why they must ratify the debt accords with America and Great Britain, expressing their reservations in a separate text.

"We must take things as they are," he said. "It is not enough to appeal to the noble sentiments of nations. Nations are egoistic collectivities. Men are men!" he added: "Even our financial restoration would be an argument against us."

The Premier recalled that when Secretary Mellon visited France recently, "He refused to talk on the debts. It was then that the French Government got the understanding with other nations for a committee of experts to draft a plan which created a liaison, in fact if not in law, between the payments of the debtors and the creditors.

Obtained Point

It was thus M. Poincare linked the debts to Britain and America with the reparations payments. France, he said, had finally obtained a long-sought point in this fashion.

He cited to the Chamber Article 7 of the Mellon-Berenger agreement, which authorized the United States to throw on the market French obligations giving during the war, which yesterday he described as exactly as binding as French treasury bonds.

Secretary Mellon, he said, however, had written him that America had no though of ever doing this in any way to injure France. In this clause, the Premier added, in all the American debt agreements to France, France fared as well or better than other countries.

The Premier said the occupation of the Ruhr had been an important profitable operation for France. Since it not only netted the country a billion and a half francs but assured creation and acceptance of the Dawes plan. He reminded the Deputies that when France entered the Ruhr in 1923 the Government more than once had declared it would not repudiate the debts but intended to pay them in proportion to the sums received from Germany.

Canadian Chautauqua Pleases Hamilton

Programs Give Entire Satisfaction — Adult Tickets Only $2.20, Tax Included—Children, Students and Nurses in Training $1.00, No Tax.

The Hamilton Herald has the following to say regarding the appearance of Chautauqua in that city

In spite of the fact that weather conditions during the local engagement have been far from favorable, the Chautauqua, which closed last night, has proved a most pronounced success prom every standpoint. Throughout the week the entertainment prdvided has, without exception, proved artistic and pleasing even to the most exacting taste, and it is certain that a return visit to this city will result in patronage worthy of the programs presented.

In spite of the fact that modes, manners and tastes change, so far as music is concerned the popularity of the negro spiritual and the old plantation melodies remains unaltered, and, for, that matter, seems to have increased during the last few years. As rendered by the Jackson jubilee singers, who were featured on last night's program, the popularity of these melodies can readily be understood, the members of the company having been chosen not merely for their vocal attainments, but also for their ability "to interpret and portray the truest types of negro in song and spiritual experience."

The program submitted was a most varied one, plantation melodies, voodoo songs, jubilee chants, old tribal melodies and spirituals being included and rendered in a manner which not merely satisfied but deeply impressed all present.

It would be a matter of extreme difficulty to express preference for any particular number, although "My Honey That I Love So Well," "Beloved," "The Three Questions," "Carolina Moon," "I've Got That Old Fashioned Love in My Heart" and an exquisite rendering of "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" may be referred to as, perhaps, outstanding. Special reference must also be made to the singing and dancing of little Van Osborne, nine years of age, who proved one of the most pronounced hits on a program literally full of such.

TWO ALLIGATORS IN OTTAWA RIVER

Bathers Refuse To Swim As Reptiles Escape While Being Unloaded.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 13 (Canadian Press). — The two alligators which escaped yesterday while being unloaded from their boxes at Luna Park, and made their way into the Ottawa River, have not been captured up to to-day. The two made their escape while a consignment of 26 were being unloaded into the new aquarium at the park.

Many telephone calls were received by the local newspapers to-day asking whether the alligators were still at large and when they were informed that the two southern reptiles were frequenting the waters of the river yet, the callers stated that they would no go in swimming until they were captured.

THEODORE PRAISES PREFERENCE SYSTEM

Says If England Quits System Australia Forced To Do Same.

SYDNEY, Australia, July 13 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters). — A stronge defence of the Imperial preference system was made by Hon. E. G. Theodore, former Labor Premer of Queensland, n a statement here to-day commenting on the reported intention of the British Labor Government to abolish the Imperial preference.

Mr. Theodore emphasized that the Australian preference on imports was worth $40.000.000 a year to Great Britain, while the United Kingdom's preference on Australian imports to Britain was worth only $4.000.000.

If England abolished the preference Australia would have to do likewise and many orders now placed in Britain would probably go to cheaper markets elsewhere, Mr. Theodore declared.

FARM CONDITIONS GOOD

General farm conditions about Peterborough and the district are good. The rain during the last few days was all that was needed to make things jump, according to J. B. Nelson, district agricultural representative.

Haying is well under way and a number of farmers already have their crop in the barn. There is some difficulty with help, which is annually experienced.

The insect that has been at work on the crop of fall wheat of William Stewart has not yet been identified as the Hessian Fly, but the field is still under observation and tests are being made to discover the cause of the blight.

BICYCLE DESTROYED

A wheel owned by Arthur Dainton was completely demolished this morning when a large sedan, driven by Mrs. Stratton passed over it, at the curb outside of the north Teco store on George street this morning.

Witnesses claim that the wheel was standing at the curb and that it was knocked down by the car which was not stopped until the front wheel had passed over the bicycle and the rear wheel rested on it. The driver left the car on top of the wheel and did not move it until the police arrived.

THOUGHTFUL CITIZEN

There is at least one thoughtful pedestrian in the city. A man walking across Hunter street at George, this morning stopped in the middle of the intersection to pick up a couple of nails that were in the roadway. These he threw down the drain into the sewer out of harm's way.

PRISONERS MAKING GOOD.

TORONTO, Ont., July 12. — Prisoners released from the Ontario Reformatory, Guelph, are making good to a remarkable degree, a report issued yesterday by the Citizen Service Association of Canada shows.

Following two months' operation this organization has placed 100 men from the Reformatory in positions in many parts of Ontario. Only two of the 100 have failed to make good, the report says, and some employers have written the association asking for more of these men. Some of them have worked and saved enough money to enter business for themselves.

NEW POTATOES 80 CENTS PECK

BUTTER FAIRLY SCARCE.

The broiling sun of a real July morning beat down on the open section of the farmers' market this morning. Lettuce leaves and fresh salmon trout and tall blue delphinium alike wilted under its rays. The only commodity that appeared to be able to stand its piercing rays without flinching was the load of hay in one corner of the big open space, priced at $15.

Edward Feeley of Monaghan had the first new potatoes on the market There were quoted at 80 cents a peck.

Huckleberries were 25 cents a quart this morning, shelled green peas were 35 cents a quart, white currants 10 cents and quart box and black and red currants 15 cents. Red Cherries sold at 2 boxes for 35 cents or $1.35 basket. Gooseberries were 35 cents for two quarts.

Eggs were 33 to 35 cents a dozen, butter was 40 cents a pound and was fairly scarce, and hens were 25 cents a pound. Milk-fed chickens were 30 and 35 cents a pound and ducks 40 cents a pound.

Much Damage Is Done Following Cloudburst

EL PASO, Texas, July 13. (C.P.) — El Paso to-day surveyed wreckage and ruin in the wake of one of the most disastrous cloudbursts in its history that hit an exclusive residential district yesterday. Damage was estimated at a quarte of a million dollars. Without warning a solid blanket of water was released from clouds over the Franklin Mountains on the edge of the town. A wall of water swept into the streets, carrying boulders as large as office desks.

BREWERS ORDERED TO QUIT

MILWAUKEE, July 13.—James M. Doran, U. S. Prohibition Commissioner, has ordered Milwaukee brewers to discontinue at once the manufacture of "12 per cent." malt tonics. Brewers spoke of the order to-day as the most severe blow to the industry since passage of the 18th amendment.

It was pointed out by some brewers that a nation-wide advertising campaign has just ended and that the breweries were just beginning to profit from it.

ROTARY HEARS GRAPHIC STORY OF BIG STORM

Rotarian Herb. Brown Describes Hurricane That Swept Porto Rico

SPLENDID COURAGE

How Hurt Men Bravely Faced Results Of the Disastrous Gale

A graphic picture of the terrible hurricane which devastated Porto Rico last September was painted for the benefit of Peterborough Rotarians to-day by Rotarian Herbert W. Brown of Porto Rico, who is summering in this district and is a weekly visitor at the local luncheons. Rotarian Brown's story of the disaster and of the courageous spirit shown by the fruit men and other Porto Ricans in facing the financial results of the storm made his talk one of the most interesting that Rotarians have heard.

Miss May Winspear, of the Canadian Chautauqua organization, made an eloquent plea for support for Chautauqua as a community enterprise. Miss Winspear explained that the organization was now entirely Canadian except in its programs, which were international in scope and urged Rotarians to assist in the movement, which offered education as well as entertainment at low prices.

Displaying a machete which he described as the implement with which the natives of Porto Rico do all their work, Rotarian Brown began his address by describing the boys' camp in the island, of which he said the Peterborough Rotary club was the father. Boys of all classes were taken care of and other organizations including the Y.W.C.A., the Masons and the Elks had all joined in the movement, with the result that six or seven buildings were now available at the camp.

The speaker told of the warnings received of the coming of the hurricane, the approach of the storm and the scenes he witnessed when the hurricane was at its worst, the wind being estimated at 150 miles an hour at that stage. Several hundred lives were lost and the property damage was estimated at one hundred million dollars.

Rotarian Brown described some of this property loss, telling how cocoanut trees, coffee shade trees and bushes and fruit trees everywhere had been destroyed, while most men lost their entire crops. He himself was in the fruit business and on his

Children Lost in Fire

Early Morning Blaze in Capital Claims Lives Of Two Children

SEVERAL INJURED

Father Returns From Work To Find His Home On Fire

OTTAWA, Ont., July 15.—(Canadian Press).— Two children lost their lives and four other persons suffered painful though not serious burns and injuries, when fire raged through four dwellings on the Merivale Road, just outside the city limits, early this morning. The dead are, Frank Cutler, aged 10, and his cousin, Melba Happerfield, 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cutler, parents of the ill-fated child, and two other members of their family, suffered burns and bruises. Mrs. Cutler and two sons escaped the flames by leaping from upstairs windows into blankets held by neighbors. They were bruised and slightly burned. Mr. Cutler sustained minor burns in attempting to enter the blazing structure. He discovered the fire at six o'clock as he was returning home from his duties as night watchman in a nearby lumber yard. His frantic attempts to gain entrance to the house fell before flames and smoke. He then shouted warnings to occupants of the houses adjoining his own before turning in a fire alarm.

After demolishing the Cutler home, the flames leaped to neighboring residences, destroying two and damaging a third. The occupants of these places had time to quit their homes.

The origin of the fire has not been determined.

REV. GREATRIX PASSES AWAY ON SATURDAY NIGHT

SERVED FOR 40 YEARS

Held Many Important Pastorates in Bay of Quinte Conference

Death on Saturday night claimed one of Peterborough's grand old ministers in the person of Rev. Benjamin Gardener Greatrix, former pastor of St. James' United Church. Rev. Mr. Greatrix was widely known throughout the Bay of Quinte Conference and the old Methodist Church in general which he served so loyally for forty years.

Retiring when his pastorate in St. James' ended in 1919, he has always taken a keen interest in the church life of the city. He was a leader in all spiritual undertakings in the city, and was always ready when called upon to help a person in need, and his life achievements may be summed up in his own words to The Examiner a little over a year ago: "I have had a fair amount of success and a goodly share of Godly presence and blessing—to His name be glory and praise."

Born in London, England on October 9, 1850, he came to Canada in September, 1861, with his parents who started farming on a small scale six miles east of Belleville, in the Township of Thurlow. For six years he remained on the farm, but his father not being a wealthy man and he one of a large family, he decided to start out for himself and was apprenticed to a blacksmith near his home. He continued at the blacksmith trade for nine years, when he felt the call of the Christian ministry, and in January, 1877, he started to prepare for his life's work. When a man of 27 years he entered the Cobourg Collegiate, where he spent one term studying hard that ground work of education which had not been his privilege when a boy. In 1878-79 he was appointed to Stouffville as junior minister, and the next year he went to Darlington. He returned to college in 1880, and for three years studied in Victoria College, Cobourg. In the summer of 1882 he was appointed as junior pastor of Newcastle and Orono, and in 1883 he was ordained as a minister of the Methodist Church in Canada at the conference being held that year in the George Street Church. For the next three years he served his only pastorate outside the Bay of Quinte Conference, being appointed superintendent of the Atherley and Dalrymple field. These were the days of heavy pastorates and long hours of travelling. He and his two assistants covered a territory of 40 miles one way and 20 the other.

Served Many Fields.

In 1885 he returned to the Bay of Quinte Conference and served the following fields: South Monaghan, 1885-88; Cavan, 1888-91; Little Britain, 1891-94; Cannington, 1894-97; Trenton (Wesley), 1897-1900; Campbellford, 1900-04; Port Perry, 1904-08; Belleville West, 1908-11; Oshawa (Simcoe Street), 1911-15; and Peterborough (St. James'), 1915-19.

While pastor of St. James' Church the fine building which that congregation now worships in was erected. On being superannuated in 1919 he took up residence in this city, and at first was connected with George Street Church and in later years Trinity.

Mr. Greatrix some two years ago suffered a stroke, and for some time was not in the best of health, but recently his health improved, and this year he attended the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada which was held in Napanee. He always took a great delight in his garden, and he had three things which might be considered a hobby or recreation—gardening, working at the bench, and gathering choice bits of literature.

While in the active ministry he served as president and secretary of the Conference, treasurer of the superannuation fund, chairman of the Peterborough district, financial secretary of the district, and treasurer of the district. Four times he was honored by his conference and sent to the General Conference of the Methodist Church.

There are left to mourn, a sorrowing wife, who before her marriage was Eliza Jane Donogh of Orangeville, and one son, Frank Gordon druggist, of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. Gordon Hudson, 489 Murray Street.

FLYER BURIED ON GRACISA

Schoolship Coming From Horta Will Pay Honors Over Lonely Grave

COMPANION RECOVERING

HORTA, Azores, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Major Casimir Kubala, who was injured in the crash of the Polish trans-Atlantic plane Marshal Pilsudski on the Island of Graciosa Saturday night was reported in a "satisfactory" condition to-day.

The Polish schoolship Iskra, which is en route to Graciosa from Horta, will pay last honors over the grave of Major Ludwik Idzikowski, killed in the crash. Natives buried Idzikowski's body at 3 p.m., yesterday.

There was some question as to the time of the crash, but it appeared to have happened between 7.30 p.m. and 9.30 p.m., 3.30 and 5.30 E.S.T. Thus they spent something less than 18 hours in the air.

It was after noon Sunday before first advices of the crash reached here, the first despatch saying the plane landed safely, subsequent information however, gave a clearer idea what had happened and made it evident the attempt to cross the Atlantic had ended in disaster.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 15. — (Canadian Press)—The Polish Committee in New York to-day received a message from Major Casimir Kabula, Island of Graciosa in the Azores, stating that his companion, Major Ludwik Idzikowski, was still alive, but so severely burned that no hope was held out for him.

The message, signed by Major Kubala and sent from Santa Cruz, chief city of the Island of Graciosa, was timed at 7:45 o'clock this morning, Greenwich time, or 2.45 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

In his message Major Kubala informed the committee that both he and his companion had been rescued from their airplane the Marshal Pilsudski in flames. Major Idzikowski who had both feet burned was in so severe a condition that it was not expected he could recover.

Previous advices received at Horta from Graciosa have stated that Major Idzikowski was dead and had already been buried. Communication with the island of Graciosa is extremely difficult and no confirmation of Major Idzikowski's death was available.

PROLONGED DROUGHT HAS HIT WEST HARD

Crop Reports From Western Canada Are Not Encouraging — Heavy Rains Are Needed.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 15 (Canadian Press). — A scorching sun and warm summer breezes swept across the grain belt of Western Canada during the week-end. There were showers in some districts of Southern Saskatchewan, but this was the only section of the West to receive any relief from the torrid wave.

The weather forecast for Monday was "mostly fair and quite warm, probably a few scattered thunder showers."

Showers will be of little benefit to the grain fields now. Good soaking rains were needed, and even these would be of little benefit in some districts where crops have been badly damages by the prolonged drought.

LONDON MAIL FOUND LOOTED

Eighty Registered Packages Are Missing From Montreal Bags

OTTAWA NOT NOTIFIED

LONDON, July 15 (C.P.).—On the arrival of the Canadian mails in London yesterday a portion of the Montreal air mail was found to have been rifled. It is reported that many registered packages of considerable value are missing.

Although the air mail bag seemed to be intact when the steamer Laurentic docked at Liverpool, about eighty registered packets could not be accounted for.

Story is Unconfirmed

OTTAWA, July 15 (C.P.).—Official confirmation of the rifling of Montreal air mail on its way to England aboard the Laurentic had not been received here last night. Officials of the Postoffice Department gave it as their belief, however, that the robbery must have occurred on shipboard.

All Right at Rimouski

The usual check made at Rimouski, Que., indicated that the mail was intact when it was transhipped from the airplane to the vessel. It was pointed out that there is no separate bag for air mail, but the registered packages are inspected and counted individually.

As soon as an official report is received from Liverpool an investigation at this end will be made, it was stated.

SOUTH AFRICA PROTESTS CUT OF TARIFF SYSTEM

Proposed Step Would Be Giving Hostile Competitors Their Chance

CAPE TOWN, July 15.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The intimation that the British Government would curtail the Imperial Preference System is strongly protested by the Cape area branch of the Empire Group of South Africa. Knowing from experience the benefit South Africa derives from the existing preferential tariffs on goods entering England, the branch declares they profoudly believe that sound policy would be the increasing of the system.

"Real friends of the Empire consider the extension of the present system absolutely necessary for consolidating the British Commonwealth of nations and meeting its competitors, some of whom are frankly hostile" the Branch declared. "After witnessing so many attempts in South Africa to break valuable Imperial links we realize the urgence of maintaining those that exist, and developing a sound commercial policy and sentiment in the interests of England. South Africa and the whole British Empire

SMALL ABSCESS AGAIN DRAINED

Operation Performed On King George Is Reported As Successful

SEVEN DOCTORS PRESENT

LONDON, July 15 (Canadian Press).—King George was operated on successfully before noon to-day for drainage of a small abscess remaining in his right chest.

Seven doctors came to Buckingham Palace for the operation, and the Prince of Wales drove over from York House, presumably to be at the bedside of his father in the event of emergency.

After the operation was performed the doctors issued the following bulletin:

"An operation has been performed on His Majesty the King. Portion of two ribs were removed in order to be circumscribed. The abscess is one and one-half inches across and should be directly drained and treated. The condition of His Majesty is satisfactory."

King Well Prepared.

The King apparently was well prepared for what had been indicated was a minor but important use of the surgeon's knife. Reports from the Palace where he passed last night restfully were that he was in his usual good spirits to-day.

No particular concern was felt when the official bulletin was put out just after noon relating the necessity of removing portions of the two ribs to aid direct draining of the abscess.

While public anxiety had not been excessive with regard to the operation which it was known the King would have to undergo to-day, there naturally was a feeling of great relief at the physicians' statement that His Majesty's condition was satisfactory after the operation.

Highly Satisfactory.

In court circles the result of the operation was regarded as highly satisfactory, and, it was strongly hoped, would pave the way to complete recovery.

The operation was perfomed by Sir Hugh Rigby and Prof. Trotter in the King's bedroom, Nurses Purdie and Black being in attendance.

Although the bulletin states that portions of two ribs were removed, it is understood that one portion was removed from the same ribs which was cut when the last operation was performed.

It is emphasized that the object of the operation was to obtain an opening which would be satisfactory medically for draining of the abscess and thus effect a cure of the local trouble in the right chest.

TORONTO, July 15. — The body of a woman found floating in Toronto Bay on Friday night, has been identified as Mrs. Bertha McLeod, aged 40, this city. Her husband told police she appeared well when he left for work on Friday, and he did not report her missing that night because she frequently visited relatives. The case was listed as suicide by the police.

W.C. Cain Left In North

Each Indian Received Eight Dollars For His Treaty Rights

1,500-MILE FLIGHT

Deputy-Minister Will Remain In Northern Hospital For Week

TORONTO, Ont., July 15 (Canadian Press). — Captain W. Roy Maxwell, director of the Provincial Air Service, arrived in the city this morning by train after completing a 1,500-mile flight to Trout Lake, and settling the Ontario Government's Treaty with the Trout Lake Indians. W. C. Cain, Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, who was taken ill on the outcoming part of the flight, is in hospital at Sioux Lookout, and Captain Maxwell report Mr. Cain will remain there a week, suffering from an intestinal ailment that will be later attended to in the hospital here. Under the treaty, each Indian at Trout Lake received $8.00. Captain Maxwell and Mr. Cain, having visited six posts, namely, Osnaburg House, Trout Lake, Lansdowne Landing, Englash River Post, Ogoki Post, and Fort Hope. Three other posts are to be visited by the Federal Government planes.

Delightful Flight.

"With the exception of Mr. Cain falling ill on our outward leg," said Captain Maxwell, "we had a most delightful flight. We were on our way out on the 11th, when we struck heavy cross winds and were forced to land when Mr. Cain was suddenly taken ill. We were then awaiting for a Western Airways plane to bring in gasoline. Throughout the night I applied hot applications in an effort to relieve Mr. Cain, but in the morning he was no better. The plane arrived, and our own Moth, not being large enough for him to lie down in, we got aboard the Western Airways plane and they brought us out to Sioux Lookout."

Captain Maxwell stated that Mr Cain had improved since arriving at the hospital. Captain Maxwell reports that the Trout Lake Indians are in excellent health, suffering no diseases, and some 577 were enrolled on the treaty. Trout Lake is 500 miles from the steel.

The trip occupied about 20 flying hours. Captain Maxwell's Moth plane was later brought out by Ontario Government fliers, and is now at Sioux Lookout.

LEGION HONORS THOSE WHO LIE IN LITTLE LAKE

Members Of Canadian Legion Decorate Graves Of Fallen Heroes

SERVICE AT CENOTAPH

Ranks Are Diminishing Every Year And Plots Are Becoming More Numerous

The memory of those who gave their lives in the cause of Liberty was recalled on Sunday by that splendid custom which has arisen since the close of the war in 1918, of decorating the graves of their comrades by the members of the Canadian Legion, a most fitting and touching ceremony, which is carried out annually in each cemetery.

A Sunday is set apart each year to renew the memory and recall the brave deed of the heroic soldiers who slep in the Veteran's plot in the beautiful Little Lake Cemetery. To pay tribute to those men who died that others might not be oppressed by the yoke of tyranny of militarism, is only a small means by which the men and their families can be compensated for the supreme sacrifice that was offered in the cause of justice.

Service at Cenotaph

Falling in, in double column in front of the cenotaph at the Legion Hall, the members of this great organization stood with bared heads while the Ranger's band under Lieutenant H. Peryer played that beautiful composition by Dawn, "Meditation". While the band played this piece the ladies of the Legion placed wreaths and flowers on the memorial while Comrade Dr. N. H. Sutton, Vice President of the Legion, also reverently placed a beautiful wreath.

On of the most impressive parts of this ceremony was the playing of the Last Post by Lieut. Peper during which the Canadian Legion Standard was lowered in tribute and the flag at the cenotaph was set at half mast. Then as the Reveille was played to show that "They are not dead but they still carry on"—the flags were raised to full height.

The Rev. Comrade Paul Costello spoke a few words to the assembled veterans saying: "To-day we are here for the same purpose that we were last Sunday—to recall the supreme sacrifice paid by our comrades who sleep in Little Lake Cemetery. I hope as we stand before this cross this beautiful cenotaph that you realize in a real manner the splendid sacrifice that those brave fellows made—a sacrifice that will never die out and I hope that this custom will never die."

The parade, marshalled by Comrade J. Abraham, moved off in

ESKIMO BOYS WILL LEAVE TUESDAY FOR HOMELAND

Hudson Bay Ice Breaker Will Carry Two Unwilling Passengers

TO ESTABLISH SCHOOL

On Tuesday the Hudson Bay ice breaker, Nascopie, sets sail for the north country and on board will be two unwilling passengers—Ben Aullanak and Sam Pudlutt, the two little Eskimo boys who were at Grove School in Lakefield for about a year trying to learn the white man's ways.

Sam who was in St. Joseph's hospital suffering from a second attack of mastoids, was well enough to leave a week ago and travel to Toronto under the care of Miss Perry, the matron at Grove School, and was to be her guest in that city until he left to meet Ben who was on a farm in the vicinity near Pickering, after which under care of Archdeacon Flemming of Toronto, they would board the icebreaker which would carry them back to their native land.

Condition Improved

The hospital authorities reported a great improvement in the condition of Sam who was getting better each day.

Mrs. A. W. McKnzie of the Grove School, when interviewed by The Examiner this morning told how she hated to see the little lads to whom they all grown so attached at the school, leave for their home, "They were so bright and interesting" she said, "but we could not stand the responsibility of their health any longer."

Packs Christmas Box

The she told how she made up two huge parcels to send to their home for Christmas presents. "It is the only boat going near their home" she said, "so we have to send the gifts with the boys on the same boat although they do not know it. "These presents contain everything that was dearest to the youngsters' heart in the white man's country—a New Testament, exercise books, a

Continued Dry Weather In West Adds Strength To Market

RAIN IS WANTED

WINNIPEG, Man., July 15 (Canadian Press).—Wheat prices soared to new high marks for the season on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange this morning on reports of continued dry weather throughout the Canadian West and no rain forecast. July wheat shot up 6¾ cents to 1.62, October 6 cents to 1.54 and December 6 1-8 to 1.51. Higher prices at Liverpool were also responsible for the sudden rise here.

Very little rain was reported on the prairies over the week-end. Forecasts hold no hope for the farmers, no rain being promised for the next 24 hours. Large sections of the West are in urgent need of moisture as the wheat will be ruined if the drought continues.

Around midday bulls took over control of the market and forced prices still higher, with July advancing 8 cents to $1.63¼. The widest gain was in the October future which climbed 8½ cents to $1.56½. December recorded a 8¼ cent gain at $1.53¼.

The market displayed signs of moving still higher before the final gong ended the hectic session. Trading was extremely heavy.

One hour before the close, heavy outside buying and weather reports indicating high temperature throughout the west forced wheat prices to still higher levels. July rose to 1.65½, with October to 1.58¼, each 10¼ cents cents up, while December was 9¾ cts. higher at 1.54¾. The pit was a bedlam, with tremendous trading in progress.

J. T. HARRIS TO MOVE TO CHARLOTTE STREET

Will Occupy the Old Machine Telephone Office About August 1st

A. G. Harris, George street druggist, will occupy the new J. T. Braund store on Charlotte street on August 1st. The premises, which he is vacating on George street, will be included in the enlarged store of the Richard Hall and Company, adjoining the new Kresge building at the Simcoe street corner.

William Braund has had the contract for the renovation of the Charlotte street property, which for years had been the office of the Machine Telephone Company. It will soon be completed and ready for occupancy and will be one of the smartest stores in the business section. Mr. Harris will equip it with new fixtures of the latest type. Its interior arrangement will present a counter on one side of the store, and on the opposite side will be one of the latest designed display fixtures. The Harris store is immediately east of the A. and P. store. As soon as he removes from the George street property it will undergo alterations for inclusion in the new Hall building.

NO COMMERCIAL TREATY FOR BRITAIN AND CHINA

LONDON, Eng., July 15—(Canadian Press Cable).—It is understood negotiations are proceeding between the British and Chinese governments looking to conclusion of a full commercial treaty on the basis of equal reciprocity.

The negotiations were opened at the request of the Chinese government and on learning of its desire, the various British departments interested in eastern affairs immediately produced the draft of a treaty which Sir Miles Lampson, British Minister to China, has handed over to Dr. Wang, Chinese Foreign Minister at Nanking. A similar draft embodying the Chinese views has been given to the British Government by Chinese authorities.

Two experts from each country have been selected to discuss the matter at Shanghai, where the two drafts will be used as the basis of discussions. It is hoped to evolve from the two a single draft for approval of the respective governments.

FOUR KILLED WHEN RADIAL CAR HITS AUTO

AVIATOR OF POLISH AIRPLANE IS KILLED IN FORCED LANDING ON AN ISLAND OF THE AZORES

Terrific Explosion Occurrs When Plane Strikes the Ground

FRENCHMEN RETURN

Slow Speed Against Heavy Winds Exhausts Coste's Fuel

HORTA, Azores, July 15 (C.P.).—The attempted trans-Atlantic flight of the Polish airplane Marshal Pilsudski ended abruptly in a crash on the Island of Graciosa. Major Ludwin Idzikowski, who had spent two years in preparation for the flight, was killed. Major Casimir Kubala, his companion escaped death by falling or jumping from the plane, but was so seriously injured that he was rushed to a hospital.

An eye-witness to the tragic ending of the flight said that the plane suddenly rolled as the pilot attempted to gain the largest field on the island where he hoped to find a haven after a long struggle with adverse winds under the handicap of a faulty motor.

This observer saw Major Kubala hurtle from the plane as it neared the ground. The plane crashed and almost instantly there was a strong explosion in which Major Idzikowski met his death. The major was buried last night on the island that marked the end of his hopes and plans.

Taking-off from Le Bourget airport near Paris, at daybreak on Saturday, the Polish plane had begun a race with friendly French rivals. Both expeditions encountered adverse winds that approached hurricane force.

Fliers Fought On

The two Polish fliers fought on. Their radio told of engine trouble and of constant struggle with the gales that threatened at any moment to wreck their ship. The Marshal Pilsudski was a land plane and their hope lay in reaching the football grounds at Horta, which had been made into an improvised landing field. The radio gave few details of their struggle and Major Kubala last night was shielded from questioners. It appeared that their plight was desperate when they reached Graciosa, one of the five islands of the central group, and about 35 miles northeast of here.

One of the natives of the island yesterday said: "Toward ten p.m. a grey plane appeared and began circling around the island in search of a landing place. We attempted by means of gesticulations to indicate the largest field, which is fairly level.

Explosion Follows Crash

"The alternative was suggested that the aviators might risk alighting on the sea. We prepared to rush to the rescue in that event. The airplane headed toward the field we had indicated but suddenly it barrel-rolled, hurling out the machanic.

"The airplane had barely touched the ground when there was a great explosion, instantly killing the pilot."

The Polish warship Iskra left here last evening to go to Graciosa to give what assistance it could to Major Kubala. The single cable connecting the island with this city was overwhelmed by the many messages filed. Sailing boats were pressed into service to maintain communications. It was expected that the officers of the Iskra would undertake an inquiry at Graciosa in an attempt to determine the exact cause of the disaster.

VILLACOUBLAY, France, July 15 (C.P.). — Dejected, but undaunted, Captain Dieudonne Coste, France's premier airman, returned to his home land yesterday, landing here at 9.27 a.m. (3.27 a.m. eastern standard time) after a brave but futile attempt to span the Atlantic to New York.

Although the morale of the conqueror of the south Atlantic visibly was shaken he showed not the slightest trace of physical fatigue from his nearly 28 hours' battle with the elements aloft, during which time he was not able to take his hands from his plane's controls for a single second.

A stonewall westerly wind which he met just west of the Azores, causing an excessive consumption of gasoline and slow progress were the determining factors in his decision to turn back, when it was almost as near to the American Atlantic seaboard as to France.

"We will try again," Captain Coste said as he stepped from his plane.

Father, Two Sons and Friend Killed By Radial Car

DANGEROUS CROSSING

Four Were Returning From Fishing Trip Near Brampton

TRONTO, Ont., July 15.—(Canadian Press).—One of the worst railway crossing accidents of the year happened yesterday near Cooksville, Ontario, when four persons motoring to their homes in this city following a fishing trip near Brampton, were killed when the motor car in which they were riding was struck by a Canadian National Railways radial car on the centre road near Cooksville.

The driver of the car, John F. Cox, 45, his two sons, John jr., 17, Kenneth 15, and their chum John Rigg, 16, were those killed. They were the only occupants of the car. Their machine was proceeding east with the father, presumably, driving. There are no living eye-witnesses excepting the radial motorman, Fred Oldfield, Guelph. The conductor was Albert Hosker, Guelph.

Questioned by police Oldfield, it is understood, said that he did not see the motor car until he was practically on top of it, his view of the crossing being obstructed by the angle of the road.

The radial, which was bound for Guelph from Toronto, carried the motor car 320 feet before the machine and its occupants were tumbled into the ditch on the track-side. The car was broken and twisted almost beyond recognition as an automobile.

Riggs was the only one to breathe after being picked up. He was taken to a nearby physician then rushed to a Toronto hospital but died on the operating table.

22 Victims

Ontario's waters, sought by thousands during the week-end heat, have claimed 10 lives since Friday night as their contribution to a fatality toll of 22 victims.

Three double drownings in Eastern Ontario claimed the lives of 14-year-old twin sisters and two brothers, aged 14 and 16, near Kingston; a Toronto man met death in Lake Simcoe; while two American visitors, a man and a woman, came to their deaths as two speed-boats crashed head-on in the St. Lawrence river.

Two launches driven by Americans from Alexandra Bay were rounding a point of Larou island, near Brockville, both cleaving the waters at a

GOOD PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR OLD HOME WEEK

Residents of Former Days Will Note Many Changes In Campbellford

WATER CARNIVAL

Midnight Frolic Arranged For Sunday Night—Many Entries In For Marathon Swim

CAMPBELLFORD, July 15 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—There is an old saying, that all things work together for good. This being so, Campbellford's Old Home Week from July 28 to August 3, is due to be the greatest success and best celebration which this town and community has ever known. Three weeks from today, it will be a thing of the past. But in the meantime, there is much work to be done and an ocean of fun to be enjoyed. It is just twenty-three years and one month since Campbellford became a town. There was a great celebration then. But that great event lasted but one day. All this considered, it was a great day in the history of the corporation. Nevertheless, it pales into meagre proportions when stacked up against the full week of fun and fancy which is being carefully arranged at the present time. Hundreds and thousands of former citizens of the town and township will return to look over the old "Burg" once more. They will see it in its best holiday attire, and will receive the glad hand of welcome everywhere. They will notice changes according to the length of their absence. To most of them, the paved streets will be a new improvement. To others, the power canal with its deep,smooth, navigable waters will be a marked contrast to the turbulent waters they remember as the Trent River. They will look at the brilliantly-lighted water carnivals each evening and wonder what has happened to the old tannery, the pier behind Keir's mill, the old wooden dam that used to control the river just below the only bridge which Campbellford used to have. The old red railroad bridge that used to cross the Trent at a point near Market street is a thing of almost forgotten history. The new high-level railroad bridge designed to carry the heaviest trains on the Canadian National System will be something new. The huge concrete power dams both above and below the corporation limits, with their adjoining power plants, will be places of interest to the mechanically inclined.

But the returning citizens are not expected to spend their time just wandering from place to place, looking at old scenes and recalling old friends. Campbellford is going to entertain them, and do it royally. The week is going to open with a bang and continue with unabated merriment till the last curtain is rung down, and the "tumult and the shouting dies." Sunday, July 28th, will be the first day of the big doings. The pulpits of the local churches will be occupied by ministers of former days. The choir lofts in the churches will be packed with men and women who sang there many years ago. Every church is planning to specially suit its services to the occasion. In the afternoon, there will be a memorial service at the cenotaph, to honor the memory of the Old Boys who will never return.

MONDAY'S PROGRAM

Once the religious side of the celebration has been attended to, the uproar is expected to begin in earnest. In order to assure the visitors of a flying start, the dancing committee has arranged a midnight frolic to begin soon after midnight Sunday. Last minute details have not been arranged as yet. But a real, snappy orchestra has been secured. It is guaranteed to make the most tired feet shake loose and swing into the rythm of the light fantastic. But dancing will not be the sole attraction. The committee, at the present time, is not in a position to state what other form of entertainment will be presented, but they have every reason to expect that the roof will be at least raised if not blown entirely from its moorings. First class entertainers of the kind that have never failed to please, are being booked, so that whether people dance or don't dance, they will find it well worth their while to be on deck and do their sleeping between four o'clock and breakfast time. How long the dancing continues depends entirely on the people themselves.

Later in the day, the week will be officially declared open and there will be speeches by prominent men, former citizens of Campbellford and the vicinity. The evening will be open for the midway and dancing.

TUESDAY.

Tuesday, being the third day, really begins with the monster parade at 1.30 in the afternoon. In the parade will be everything that can possibly be imagined to make an impressive showing. There will be special band

DIES FROM INJURIES.

CATHARINES, July 15. — Frank Stull, aged 40, a married man of this city, with a wife and five children, died in a hospital Saturday night from injuries received in a motor car crash some hours before. Stull, a taxi driver, was found lying in the wreckage of his motor car which presumably had crashed into a telephone pole.

WOMAN FACES ARSON CHARGE

Three Attempts Made On Crowded Play House, Police Claim

PANIC AVERTED

BEAMSVILLE, July 15.— Held in St. Catharines Jail on a charge of arson, Mrs. William Cosmos, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, Beamsville, is alleged to have tried three times to fire adjoining moving-picture show Saturday night while it was filled with boys and girls and men and women. The picture show is a frame structure, and firemen say that if the flames had taken hold it would have gone up like matchwood.

Ill feeling with the moving-picture house proprietor, Harry Robinson, because he ran a bun counter in competition with her restaurant, heightened by difficulties over the hotel property, of which Robinson is part owner, are said to have precipitated the woman's alleged wild action.

On the first occasion on which the woman is alleged to have attempted to fire the theatre she is said to have started a blaze at the back of the building. It did not take effect, and it is alleged that she tried a second time, this time using coal oil. Two young boys are stated to have witnessed this effort. That the blaze was extinguished before tragedy ensued was due to the prompt action of people in a nearby garage, who utilized a chemical extinguisher. They were aided by firemen who happened to be attending the show.

The smoke fumes penetrated the moving-picture house and aroused great concern among the audience, but the prompt actions of the attending firemen in assuring the audience that there was no danger prevented what might have been a panic, and the people all resumed their seats quietly.

After an alleged third effort to burn down the place her arrest was effected and she was removd to St. Catharines to be held for trial. She will appear before Magistrate Campbell to-day.

MINOR OPERATION WILL BE PERFORMED ON KING TO-DAY

Not Regarded As Serious In Character Physicians State

BULLETIN ISSUED

LONDON, July 15. — The operation on King George V which will take place this morning at Buckingham Palace, is not regarded as serious in character. It is hoped in court and medical circles that he will be well enough by the end of the week to leave London to spend the rest of the summer at Sandringham.

The monarch's general health is good, and the operation is intended merely to drain a secondary abscess which has formed in the right side of the chest where the acutely critical operation was performed at the crisis of his critical illness last December. At that time part of a rib was removed, and there is said to be a small portion of diseased bone at the spot. No further bulletin will be issued till after the operation to-day.

Of the six doctors who signed last night's bulletin only one Wilfred Trotter, is a newcomer to the group of royal physicians. He is honorary surgeon to the King and may perform the operation instead of Sir Hugh Rigby, although the palace will make no statement on this point. Trotter, in addition to his distinguished record as a surgeon, wrote a book entitled "The Instinct of the Herd in Peace and War," which ran through several editions here during and just after the world war.

The King during his renewed illness will be in the hands of Nurse Black, who was decorated for her assiduous attention during his long ordeal, and Nurse Purdy, who attended him from the beginning of his illness until he left Windsor Castle for London and who has now been re-called to London.

As was to be expected news of the operation to be performed to-day coming on the heels of the thanksgiving service for the King's recovery, gave rise to rumors that the sov-

MAXWELL WILL RETURN TO-DAY

Deputy Minister Will Remain In Northern Hospital For Week

ONE BAND MISSED

TORONTO, July 15.— (Canadian Press)—Capt. W. Roy Maxwell, who flew the Ontario government plane in the Indian treaty flight through the Patricia district, arrives in Toronto this morning, according to a despatch from Sioux Lookout.

His companion on the trip into the barrens, W. C. Cain, deputy minister of lands and forests, who was taken ill during the trip will remain for a week in Sioux Lookout hospital whence he was flown with Capt. Maxwell.

Exept for a band at Round lake, treaties were signed with representatives of all the Indians in the Patricia district before Mr. Cain took ill, according to the despatch. Thus the most important function of the flight, and the only one which required the presence of Ontario officials has been fulfilled. The Dominion officials will proceed over the rest of the original 2,200 mile itinerary and, it is understood, will have only the duty of paying out the $45,000 treaty money.

STERN ULTIMATUM IS SENT TO CHINA BY SOVIET POWER

Three Days Is Allowed To Arrange Conference on Manchuria Action

FORCE IS HINTED AT

MOSCOW, July 15. — The Soviet Government's ultimatum to the Mukden Manchurian and Nanking Chinese Governments giving them three days to arrange amicable settlement of the crisis arising out of the Manchurian seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway has been placed in the hands of the Chinese Charge d'Affaires.

Failing agreement of the Chinese to hold a conference the Russian Government said it would be compelled to resort "to other means of defence of the legal rights of the Soviet Union."

Official circles and Russians generally were in consternation last night over the bare report from the official Tass News Agency that Chinese authorities had expelled Russian officials of the Chinese Eastern Railway and that Manchurian troops including Russian White Guards, had advanced to the frontier of Eastern Siberia.

The ultimatum was written yesterday, following receipt of information as to the serious situation in Manchuria.

The note, which was couched in polite terms, was signed by L. M. Karakhan, Vice-Commissar for Foreign Affairs, and former Ambassador to China. Announcement yesterday said he sent it to the Chinese Charge last night.

The reported three-day ultimatum of the Moscow Government is believed to be more for the purpose of giving Chinese Nationalist leaders food for thought than an actual threat of war. However, it is reluctantly conceded that failure to comply with the ultimatum might easily lead to grave complications unless it were meanwhile modified by the Soviet Government.

On account of the extensive interests of Japan in Manchuria, any serious trouble between the Chinese Nationalist Government and the Moscow regime would be almost certain to drag in Japan. Tokio's excuse would be the necessity for protecting Japanese interests. Japan's active intervention ,however, would probably be thrown to China, Tokio's statesmen taking advantage of the opportunity to bring about better relations with China at Russia's expense.

PAPER MILL IS DETROYED

$1,750,000 Damage Done In Two Great Blazes On Saturday

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., July 15. — Two fires in New Westminster over the week-end caused damage estimated at upwards of $1,750,000. On Saturday afternoon the Westminster Paper Company, Limited., plant was destroyed with a loss of $1,000,000, and this same fire spread to a part of the plant of the Triangle Chemical Company, Limited, causing $250,000 damage there.

Sunday morning, about 6 o'clock, fire broke out in the agricultural building and wiped out almost all of the provincial exhibition buildings at Queen's Park with the loss estimated at upwards of $500,000.

Three firemen were overcome by chemical fumes in Saturday's fire, but recovered after treatment.

Much expensive machinery, recently installed, and large stocks of paper were destroyed in the paper plant. About 100 men will be temporarily out of work.

When the exhibition buildings' fire was discovered yesterday morning, flames were already shooting high into the air from the agricultural building. Within an hour this building and the women's, manufacturers', industrial and poultry buildings and the arena were a mass of ruins. Only the stadium and a number of stock buildings escaped. The buildings were insured under a blanket policy held by the City of New Westminster.

The management of Canada's Pacific Exhibition, held at Hastings Park, Vancouver, has offered the use of their buildings to the Provincial Exhibition management after the close of the Vancouver Fair on August 17.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

Dear Neighbors:

This is to introduce to you one whom I have come to regard, in several months' pleasant associations, as a good friend, and whom I know to have a splendid writing ability. Meet Anne Wilcox!

Miss Wilcox has a charming personality that adds grace to her writing accomplishments, and I am sure you will find a new radiance in these pages of yours. It is an attribute of youth to see, not the rain, but the pale-tinted veil of beauty. Miss Wilcox has an outlook on life that you will find refreshing, and with your splendid help she will reach worthwhile heights in her chosen field.

I will read your letters and her replies with great interest, and I hope you will be real good friends.

Yours sincerely,

Marion

HOW DO YOU DO, Neighbors! I am most pleased to meet all of you of whom Marion has spoken so proudly during her tenure as editor of the Women's Page

Everyone who commences work in a new field does so with a certain amount of fear and trembling, but I know that the people of the city of Peterborough and the surrounding district (especially the women) must be very neighborly from the high regard in which Marion speaks of you

When something comes along which rouses your interest, usually something with which you do not quite agree, you simply can't twist your fingers fast enough to get written what comes into your head, but when you sit down and know something has to be written—well, it isn't so easy!

Addison says that reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body. As by one, health is preserved, strengthened, and invigorated; by the other virtue (which is the health of the mind) is kept alive, cherished and confirmed

I hope you may enjoy this column as much as you have in the past and I hope you will continue to assist me with your letters so as to make the page even more friendly. I do not wish to "run" the page; only to bring you neighbors together in a friendly family.

Anne Wilcox

MARION'S MAIL

"Dear Marion: Do I read aright in to-day's Whatnot that you are going to leave us?

"In a way I feel I know you and have really taken you on my list of friends—and the term 'friend' to me is sacred. There are many acquaintances of whom I think much, but friends are much more. Friends stand, no matter what happens.

"Mr. Heron has gone, and if you go The Examiner will not seem like itself.

"Wherever you go, or whatever you do, you have my sincere best wishes.

"Sincerely yours,

"QUID EST."

I have written to you personally, "Quid Est." I am really sorry at the thought of leaving all you good neighbors, but I am leaving you in very capable hands. Anne Wilcox has had splendid experience, and wonderful ability. I expect to read your letters in The Examiner with pleasure every day, for in every one I shall recognize the voice of a friend.

* * * * * * *

"Dear Marion: I read with dismay your announcement in Saturday's Whatnot that you are going to leave us. It seemed to me as if a very dear friend had told of going away.

"What shall we do without you, Marion? And all your lovely Whatnots?

....Your writings have always been an inspiration to me.....

So many times, when depression was almost unbearable, I'd write to Marion, and always got some encouragement from your replies.....

May the Lord shed the light of His countenance upon you, and bless your going out and your coming in, is the wish of, your friend,

"QUO VADIS."

What more can I say, "Quo Vadis," than that I shall treasure your letter with that from "Quid Est"? With such inspiration as you have given me in the past year, how could I fail? I have written you, too, personally.

And now that this chapter in our friendship is closed, I hope that you will continue to build up the work I started by supporting Miss Wilcox. To see that one has laid the foundation for growing and prospering is the best return for labor, and I am looking forward to seeing the Women's Section of The Examiner the most friendly meeting place for women in all Ontario.

SMALL BOY DROWNED

TIMMINS, Ont., July 15.—Eddie Bodin, aged eight, was drowned in a pool behind Gillies Lake, near here, when he slipped off a log on which he and some companions had been playing. His body was quickly recovered and bruises on the head and shoulder indicated that the child had struck something, as he sank and was stunned.

NURSES RESOLVE FOR TEN-HOUR DAY

Toronto, Ont., July 15 (By The Canadian Press).—At the annual meeting of the central registry of graduate nurses a resolution to put into force the much-discussed 10-hour day was passed unanimously. That would mean finishing work at six. For each additional hour on duty 50 cents was to be paid by the patient. Further complications have taken place. Some nurses felt that it would be humiliating to ask for extra wages for extra work. Circulars have been sent to all registered nurses concerned asking which they prefer—a 10-hour day or an 11-hour day. Nurses are eagerly awaiting the result.

FASHION SERVICE

Beige is one of the smart colors in Paris this season, and this two-toned frock from Martial and Armand is extremely chic.

SMART STREET FROCK IN TWO TONES OF BEIGE.
By Madame Vallet of Martial and Armand.

Two tones of beige has been used for this smart frock in a light weight wool, the darker tone as incrustations on the blouse, and for the skirt. I would call your attention to the scarf which is fastened by two buttons under a slit in the blouse, to the belt which passes under the incrustation of the deeper tone of beige, and to the row of buttons down one side of the frock.

That Body of Yours

(By Jas. W. Barton, M D.)

FRUIT SOMETIMES CAUSES PAIN.

When we were youngsters it was not unusual for us to have attacks of colic from eating fruit that was not ripe or perhaps overripe. It was thought that as long as the fruit was just ripe that no trouble could arise even if large quantities were eaten.

This is a mistaken idea because even good fruit, eaten in large quantities especially if followed by the drinking of much water, can create great distension in the intestines, causing almost paralysis

And so when the fruit season comes along it is not unusual for you to read in the daily papers of cases where severe illness and even death has followed the overindulgence in raw fruits.

Experiments have shown that cherries and gooseberries, which swell most in water, are the most dangerous.

There is first an irritation of the lining of the stomach and small intestine, then fermentation, the stomach and also portions of the small intestine become distended.

Sometimes paralysis occurs and it is necessary to open the abdomen. In such cases the intestine often resembles the inner tube of a motor tire with weak spots in the rubber; that is some portions of the intestine will be distended to a tremendous size and the other parts are nearly flat.

However, with most of us who have indulged ourselves in raw fruits, emptying the stomach and intestine and thus getting rid of the gas distention is the first thought.

Putting the finger down the throat or taking a little mustard in water to induce vomiting should relieve the stomach.

The gas distention in the intestine can usually be relieved by an enema or injection.

Wherever there is pain in the abdomen due to distention, the enema is the simplest and most effective remedy.

What To-day Means To You.

"CANCER".

If July 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6.30 a.m. to 8 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., and from 9 a.m. to 10.15 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 a.m. to 10.30 a.m., and from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m.

It is most important to resist opportunities of self-indulgence on this date and to keep abreast of opportunities in matters of enterprise. The influences in force are demoralizing in their effect and temptations will have to be overcome.

Children born July 15 will be precociously clever, and will want to know the why and the therefore of everything they are told to do. They will love to argue, a habit which leads to "cheakiness," unless it is effectually squashed in the beginning. They will have a leaning toward the sciences.

You were born with a great deal of natural ability, but in the use of your talents, they are deplorably wasted. You are not ambitionless. You scale dizzy heights of achievement in your dreams, but you do not habe the will power to carry your desires out of the dream stage. It is a pity that one who can do things with the magic touch of a genius, should be willing to tread behind the slow and clumsy-minded, who have pulled themselves up bysheer determination and grit.

If Fortune is kind enough to supply the necessary stays and props, you cannot help making a brilliant display and you will carry off laurels in an effortless manner.

"It is a friendly heart that has plenty of friends," and in this respect you merit the countless number of sincere and loyal supporters who are always glad to make your way easier. You do not seek glorious independence. False pride does not prevent you riding to success in someone else's band wagon.

You are naturally sociable, agreeable and a ready talker. You make no bones about liking a good time, and you are able to contribute your share of merry-making . Your frivolity, however, is always clean and wholesome. In your home you are a cheerful and an unselfish companion.

GIRL HIKERS IN VANCOUVER

Two English Lassies Bemoan Lack of Sleep, Not Grub.

TREK ACROSS CONTINENT.

(By Alexandrine Gibb.)

Toronto, July 15 (Special to The Examiner, Copyright).—Happy, but financially broke and hungry, Barbara M. Thorning and Hilda Beaton, English girls, who left Toronto early in April for Vancouver, have reached their goal.

A letter they sent me states the girls arrived in Vancouver safely after an exciting journey en route. Now that the chickens' fate has been decided, they have hired themselves out fruit farming. Miss Beaton, the elder, who writes the letter about the walk, says, "Never again without sufficient money."

The hike from Toronto to Vancouver was made by hiking along highways when motor rides were not offered, in high laced boots, khaki shirts and stout windbreakers with packs on the girls' backs and nothing more for protection than a long dangerous-looking knife. Both girls are English and accustomed to jaunts in England but they admit now that they never imagined such a journey as the one just completed.

"The worst part of our journey was after we left Calgary," says Miss Beaton in her letter. "Even the exquisite scenery of British Columbia did not compensate to any great extent for the extreme impecuniosity and long treks through the mountains without water or sleeping anywhere we could. Our cash was completely absorbed on the ferry up the Kootenay River. We had a few stretches of twenty-four hours without food of any kind, but we became almost accustomed to it. However, we will never undertake such a long journey without sufficient money again, not so much on account of lack of food but lack of sleeping comforts."

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

THE CRYING BABY.

What makes the baby cry? About the same thing that make you scold and weep and fuss. Just about the same things, only not so many of them.

The baby cries when he is hungry. Stick to his feeding schedule and that cry will not trouble you much.

He cries when he is thirsty. Remember a baby needs some clear cool water and see that he gets it.

Anger will make a baby howl. He will get angry if you hold his hands, or his feet, in such a fashion as to make him feel helpless. Long dresses, blankets and the like twisted about his body will bring on a tempest of anger. If the baby gets red in the face and clenches his fists and howls and struggles, loosen his clothing and make sure he is not carrying too heavy a burden of blankets.

Thwarting a baby will bring on the anger cry. There are a few misguided folk who think that teasing a baby is funny. They dangle something bright or attractively colored before the baby and as he reaches for it, to pull it away. Remove the misguided one from the room—or remove the baby if that is easier.

If the baby has had no excercise he will cry. He needs something to handle, something to push against. He needs to kick and to wave his arms about. A rattle, a ball tied to his crib, something stout fastened inside his crib toward the feet so he can push against it, kick it, tug at it, is fine. A football well inflated and tightly fixed will help.

A lonely baby will cry. All babies need human association. Some people fearing over stimulation of the baby, place him in a room by himself and treat him like a hospital patient recovering from a major operation. There is a happy medium between manhandling a baby and isolating him. Talk to him now and then; play with him a few minutes; provide him with amusing occupation. He is a human being and needs association with others of his kind. And he needs something to occupy his mind. His mind develops through experience and he is to gather a rich fund of them during the first two or three years.

Sick babies cry. There is no mistaking that cry and when it comes the best thing to do is to send for the doctor.

If the baby is wet, if he is uncomfortable in any way, he will cry. All cries are to be attended to at once Examine the child and determine what he needs. Then see that he gets that promptly. If he needs letting alone, if he needs rest, that is easy. If he needs attention try to see that his need is met

Healthy babies, babies that are sensibly cared for, do not trouble the household with their crying. Study the cry and do what you can to help without instilling helplessness. Bear in mind that if the child could talk he would not cry so much. He is talking to you and you and are to answer with assistance as you would if he spoke for it. If you look at his crying that way, you won't get over-emotionalized about it and things will be better all around.

SUNDAY SUPPER SALAD

For Sunday supper salads, a handy way to serve it is to cut iceberg lettuce in circular cross-sections and place individual portions of asparagus, fine string beans, tomatoes or other salad ingredients on top of each slice.

CHURCHILL HAD SEVERAL NAMES

TRAGEDY THERE 1619.

Churchill, July 15 (By The Canadian Press).—Churchill, the terminus of the Hudson Bay railway at the mouth of Churchill river, first appears on a map in the collection of the Geographic Board of Canada as "Port de Munck." The map is that of the French mapmaker, Sanson, published 1650. The reference is to Jens Munck, the Danish naval officer who wintered there in 1619-20 with the loss of all the members of his crew except himself and three others. The tragedy so impressed the natives that they called the river Manoteousibi, or Stranger's river. Hence also the name Danish river used during the French regime on Hudson bay. Both names are mentioned by the Canadian, Jeremie, who resided twenty years on the bay and published an account of it in 1720. Seven years before Munck landed at Churchill, Sir Thomas Button had sailed down the coast and Captain Luke Foxe's map of 1635 applies one of Button's names, "Houbart's Hope," to Churchill bay. The oldest Indian name of the river is Missinipi or Big river, a name that is found in the York Factory journal for 1714. The river received another name in 1775, when Joseph Frobisher from Montreal reached its upper waters and intercepted Indians bound with furs for the "English" post (Churchill) on the bay and called it English river.

The application of the name Churchill is due to the Hudson's Bay Company, for whom Captain John Abraham established a post and river after John, Lord Churchill, afterwards Duke of Marlborough, who had been elected Governor of the company in the previous year. The post was destroyed by fire about 1689 and because of wars with France which lasted till 1713, Churchill was not visited again by the company until 1717, when Governor Knight proceeded to it from York Factory and chose a site for a new post.

"F'ith Can Cure It"

Winnipeg, Man., July 15 (By The Canadian Press).—An observant woman, writing of experiences travelling in a day-car from this city to the East, records this interesting bit of feminine conversation:

Three women, bound for Dryden, were discussing ailments and cures, and the eldest, hat perched high on grey hair, lace collar and triple row of beads topping the neat ankle-length cotton dress, was most comforting. In a country where one seldom meets a Cockney voice outside English magazines, it is a revelation to hear someone speak exactly as reproduced in print, "'E 'ad the most 'orrible hingrowing goitre," she said, "and Hi sez to 'im only f'ith can cure it."

AIDS WEDDING COUPLE; DRIVER LANDS IN JAIL

Toronto, Ont., July 15 (By The Canadian Press)—Speeding sixty miles an hour in a taxi through the streets of the city to escape the pursuit of their friends, a bridegroom and his bride had their flight temporarily halted and were forced to change cars, when a policeman, after a chase in his machine, arrested the driver. "Carry on, officer, it is my wedding day," said the bridegroom.

"That may be all right, but the driver is under arrest," the officer replied.

The bridegroom said he had left his own car on a quiet avenue and by arrangement had secured the taxi to escape the wedding party which, he said, was "after him"

The driver was allowed to go in police court as he had been in the cells over the week-end. "Never again for me," he said when he walked out of court. "When any bridegroom or bride wants me to speed, I'll tell them to take a street car." He rushed home to greet his wife and three children.

FIRE CHECKED IN TIME

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—(C.P.)—An attempt to burn the Gentilly car barn last Friday night in a fresh outbreak of street railway strike flare was checked by firemen before the blaze made great headway. The barn is used to store old cars in. The night watchman told police three men drove to the building in an automobile, splashed kerosene on a wall, applied a match and sped away.

Costly lotions not needed-now

It is so unnecessary to spend money on lotions to keep your hands smooth and lovely after dishwashing. There is a cheaper and better way. Use Lux in the dishwashing and banish that dishpan look—avoid the red rough appearance that spoils the natural beauty of your hands.

You will hardly notice the cost, for less than a cent's worth of Lux will do the whole day's dishwashing.

VETERANS' DECORATION DAY.

The members of the Peterborough branch of the Canadian Legion yesterday decorated the graves in Little Lake Cemetery of former comrades who have passed on.

It is to the credit of the ex-soldiers in Canada that when they began to band themselves into returned men's clubs one of the first obligations assumed by them was that of cherishing the memory of departed comrades, and this obligation was taken over by the G.W.V.A. and in turn by the Canadian Legion.

So long as veterans' associations last it is safe to assume that there will be an annual decoration day, and in placing floral tributes upon the graves of those buried here at home the ex-service men will at the same time do honor to the memory of other mates whose graves are far over the Atlantic.

The men who fought do well to show respect in this way each year to those comrades who made the supreme sacrifice, and it is to be hoped that the example they set will be emulated by citizens generally to a greater extent than was indicated by the attendance of the public at yesterday's impressive ceremony at Little Lake Cemetery.

THE PENSION SCHEME.

Newspapers which campaigned actively for Ontario to participate in the Federal plan of old age pensions are discovering now that the Province is about to come into the scheme that the provisions made for the relief of the needy age are restricted and some critics claim inadequate.

These things were surely evident when the Federal Act was passed, and it was then, and not now, that the agitation for a more liberal and less circumscribed pensions scheme should have been made.

Under the present conditions the Provinces of Canada have only two choices: they can accept the conditions as laid down in the Dominion Act and participate in the scheme or they can remain aloof as Quebec chooses to do, even although they have to contribute part of the cost of the Dominion's share in the expense of old age pensions in other Provinces.

The whole thing is an experiment which may or may not give satisfactory results, but for the present there is nothing to be gained by finding fault with the regulations as if they were provincial errors.

It may be that after the plan has been tried out a conference between provincial and federal representatives could produce a more satisfactory system of old age pensions—until then it is necessary to accept the scheme as it is and make the best possible use of it.

THE FISHING PROBLEM.

The influx of tourists into Ontario is said to be assuming record proportions; although up to the present the movement of visitors into the Kawartha district does not indicate a new high level.

The opening of the Ferguson highway into the northland and the improvement of roads into other districts are factors that enter prominently into the situation, but there is another phase that is of even greater importance and that will have to be faced.

The majority of summer visitors are to some extent at least fishermen; it is the hope of getting a good opportunity to indulge in their favorite sport that lures them into Ontario, and the districts that provide the best fishing will get the lion's share of tourist traffic.

That being so the attention of the people of the Kawartha district should be concentrated upon the problem of replenishing our rapidly dwindling supply of fish.

It may be that the solution will have to be found in the stocking of Kawartha waters with pickerel—which while not classified as a game fish is rapidly approaching that status.

Certainly it is the testimony of most guides and summer resort proprietors that the average tourist is satisfied to catch this fish, even although the hardshell anglers demand black bass and muskies.

THE RAILWAY CROSSING LAW.

"Why should I, a careful driver, be penalized by such a law?" was the question asked of The Examiner in reference to an article in these columns the other day approving of the Quebec regulation calling upon all motorists to bring their car to a full stop at railway crossings.

That strikes The Examiner as a somewhat peculiar question.

The Quebec law really asks nothing of a motorist save what a careful driver does on his own account without compulsion—that is to stop and make sure there is no train approaching before venturing over a railway crossing.

Careful drivers can by no stretch of the imagination be said to be penalized by a regulation that requires them to do what they always do in such cases.

As a matter of fact, the Quebec law is designed for the careless driver, the take-a-chance fellow who supupplies headlines for the newspapers by trying to beat a railway train over a level crossing.

The Quebec Government, believing that a law compelling all to stop at crossings would at least do something to impress him with the danger involved in not stopping and in that respect contribute something to safer driving conditions, passed the necessary legislation, and from all reports received it is working well.

Motorists who resent being compelled to stop at railway crossings are simply classifying themselves as careless drivers.

NEWSPAPERS AND THE PUBLIC.

When Right Hon. J. H. Thomas and Lord Passfield (Sydney Webb) met a party of Canadian newspapermen in London this week, Mr. Thomas took occasion to pass an indictment upon the British press. His complaint seemed to be that British newspapers, and particularly the London newspapers, were a gigantic combination for the control of public opinion; and he went on to declare that while the British people would take their sporting news and the news of general happenings from the newspapers, it was altogether another story when it came to accepting political creeds.

Mr. Thomas, it seems to us, labors under a delusion. He is a victim, we think, of an old tradition, a tradition—born of old-time editors—that the chief function of a newspaper is to hector and to lecture its readers.

It is, of course, a misconception. Time was, we know, when such newspapers existed. They conceived it to be their mission to save and to sanctify. Day in and day out the old-time editors catechized, rebuked, criticized, tried, condemned. Those who disagreed with them were traitors, knaves and fools, a degenerate and unregenerate lot recreant to their heritage and fit only to be anathematized with bell, book and candle. A lively sort of journalism, it was intolerant, bigoted, foolish.

Generally speaking, there are no such newspapers to-day. A few of the species may be still extant, but, if so, they cut no figure with the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

Newspapers to-day—and this, Mr. Thomas notwithstanding, is as true of England as it is of Canada—realize that they have two main functions. The first, and primary one, is to give the news. The second—a moral obligation—is to try to honestly interpret the news. Beyond that—with some possible few exceptions—they do not go.

Nothing so exasperates a real newspaperman as to be told, as he is so often told, that one of his missions is to save the world. He sits in either disgust or cynicism as some well-meaning but pompous orator, replying to some superfluous toast to the press, tells him of his tremendous responsibility for mankind, how, if he will only use his vast power in the right way, this old world will be less foolish and less wicked, and Utopia be brought nearer. It is, of course, the sheerest moonshine. We have had a pretty long experience with newspapers and newspapermen, and we confess that we never yet met a first-rate newspaperman seriously worried about saving the world, or who, if he was worried about it, had the faintest sort of notion as to how he should tackle his job. Newspapermen, in fact, mostly distrust reformers: they have known too many of them too well. In any event, saving the world, acting as evangelists or physicians to souls, is not their job. They leave that to the churches.

Only one thing has the public any right to expect of a newspaper. It is that it should give the news, all of the news, fairly, fearlessly, honestly. There are, of course, editorials. But editorials, rightly understood, are by no means tracts for the times. Their purpose, actually, is to interpret the news.

Between news and truth there is a difference. The function of news is to signalize an event, while the function of truth is to bring to light hidden facts, to set them into relation with each other, to make a picture of reality upon which men may act. That, briefly, is the task of the editorial. It may not always achieve that end, it may defeat that very end, but that, at all events, is what it should strive for.

An editorial, in short, should merely interpret, elucidate, amplify. It may endeavor to sift truth from propaganda, it may try to throw a sidelight upon some complex fact, it may try to amuse, instruct and, in some cases, advise. But that is all. When it attempts to lecture or to hector, to try people and to condemn; when, in short, it aspires to pontificate and ram its opinions down the throats of its readers, it is outside its province. It is trying to put over something for which people will not stand.

Canadian newspapers, we think, and most British and American newspapers, conform to this rule. They do not, we fully realize, always please the politicians. The professional politician, curiously slow to learn, cannot get it into his head that the day of the party "organ" has passed. His idea of a newspaper is that it must invariably condone or ignore the sins of one party, eternally praise its virtues and leaders, while at the same time heaping continuous execration upon the other party. This and that the editor must take his marching orders from some political chief.

Such newspapers are no more. They have passed into the Limbo of forgotten things; and it is an excellent thing. To-day the "kept" newspaper would have no more standing than the "kept" woman; and for just as good a reason. For they were dishonest, immoral, and positively injurious.

Not that newspapers of to-day pretend that they are perfect. They are not. But most of them, it may be said, are at least independent. They do not try to make Governments or to break them, they do not aspire to be journalistic Warwicks, and they have really no desire to control public opinion.

A lot of nonsense is talked about the syndicated press. Based upon the assumption that it aims at a regimentation of thought, that it seeks to control and mould public opinion to further the aims of a few newspaper barons, it is ninety per cent. wrong. Ninety per cent. of all newspaper mergers were brought about to reduce costs, to decrease publishing overhead, to make profits for the manipulators of the mergers. Their only result so far, apart from a decrease in newspaper publishing losses, has been to give better news facilities to the reading public.

It is high time that Mr. J. H. Thomas, and some other politicians nearer home, realized this truth. Time they understood that there has never been a day when newspapers gave more news and more accurate news, never a time when there was more scrupulous effort to sift propaganda from truth, never a time when newspapers were more fair to all parties, never a time when the press was less designed to place in the public mind false dimensions of political reality.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Ontario Liberals are preparing for a provincial election this autumn. The public will hope they are wrong in their predictions as to the date of the appeal to the country.

Aerial endurance stunts are about as useful in the general scheme of things as is marathon dancing.

Remember to drive slowly through Jackson Park. Care and caution are needed at all times within the park limits.

Politics in Quebec should be far from dull with the fiery Mayor of Montreal as Opposition leader against such a skilful tactician as Premier Taschereau.

Municipal authorities should waste no time in getting local old age pensions boards at work. Most of the municipalities are decidedly backward in making the necessary preparations.

FARM CROPS IN GOOD CONDITION

Recent Rains Much Benefit To Farmers In Cavan

SIXTY ATTEND ANNIVERSARY

Bowmanville Couple Celebrate Silver Wedding at Their Home.

USEFUL PRESENTS

BOWMANVILLE, July 15.— Mr. and Mrs. Seaward Dawson, who reside near Bowmanville, recently celebrated their silver wedding anniversary when friends numbering about sixty gathered together to spend the evening.

The weather being ideal, the guests were requested to go out on the lawn where the committee in charge had arranged for the comfort of the guests. Norman Allan and Fred Blackburn escorted the bride and groom to two cosy rockers.

A. M. Hary, superintendent of the Goodyear Rubber Works at Bowmanville, acted as chairman and after a short and spicy speech, called on Miss Marion Allan to read an appropriate address. At the right moment, Mrs. Fred Blackburn and Mrs. Norman Allan uncovered a table set with a silver and pyrex casserole, a silver and pyrex pie plate, a silver flower basket, silver salad set, silver salt and peppers and a dozen cut glass sherbet glasses. Miss Vera Allan, little daughter of Dr. Norman Allan, presented the bride with a shower bouquet of red carnations and fern.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson responded suitably, and welcomed the guests to their home. Mr. Hardy called on some of those present for short speeches. All spoke of the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held and some related anecdotes of bygone days. Letters were read from those, who, owing to illness, were unable to be present.

After the presentation, everyone adjourned to the dining room where a dainty supper was served, followed by a program of music and recitations, Mrs. Don Robb, musical directoress, presiding at the piano.

Mrs. Dawson, who was formerly Clara Lytle, is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lytle, and a sister of Mrs. James S. Black, of Peterborough.

The Tule Marsh Murder

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

Story of a Missing Actress and the Taxing of Wits to Explain Her Fate

THE STORY THUS FAR:

Don Ellsworth's wife, formerly the famous actress Sheila O'Shay, disappears, leaving no trace. Dr. Cavanaugh, the great criminal psychologist learns that their married life has been very unhappy.

Peter Piper reporter on the Herald tries to see Dr. Cavanaugh. Instead he meets Barbara Cavanaugh, the attractive daughter, and finds that she was engaged to Don Ellsworth before his marriage.

A body, found in the tule marsh outside the city, is identified by Dr. Cavanaugh as that of Sheila O'Shay Barbara faints when she hears him tell this to Peter. The latter, already half in love with her, is convinced that she knows something about the murder and his instinct is to protect her.

Mrs. Kane, Sheila O'Shay's waiting woman is arrested and admits that her mistress forced Don Ellsworth to marry her.

Peter and Dr. Cavanaugh find in the boudoir of the murdered woman a threatening letter signed "David Orme." Peter trails Orme and finds him. But he is an irresponsible artist who does not seem capable of the murder. Dr. Cavanaugh agrees to examine Orme.

Peter learns that Barbara's car was used in the murder. He determines to save her at any cost. They discover their great love for each other but Barbara will not let him help her, and he realizes she is protecting some one else.

The trial of Orme for the murder of Sheila O'Shay begins. Mrs. Kane on the witness stand, states that Orme is Sheila O'Shay's real husband. He disappeared and she had never divorced him. Dr. Cavanaugh tells Peter that he can clear David Orme. Orme on the stand tells of the tragedy of his life and his marriage to Sheila O'Shay.

CHAPTER 44.

When Orme resumed his place on the witness stand, a splotch of color on each cheek had replaced his deadly pallor. If he was aware of an approaching crisis this was his only tribute to it.

"On the fifteenth of March of this year I discovered that my wife had entered into a bigamous marriage with Mr. Ellsworth."

His tone was studiously detached, as if the statement referred to nothing more disturbing than a mortgage or a bill of sale. "I wrote her a letter—a hurt and angry letter. I will admit that I even had the strange idea that if I could talk with her, she would come back to me. On the evening of March 18 I did see her."

"We walked along the street, talking. It was soon made absolutely clear to me that whatever feeling for me Sheila had once had was as lost, as forgotten, as one of her last year's costumes.

"I don't know just why, but the idea of this bigamous marriage was more revolting to me than anything that had gone before—a queer kind of pride, of self-respect, perhaps. It seemed—utterly humiliating to throw our marriage into the garbage can, as if it were of no significance whatever I offered to allow her a divorce, but she did not want Mr. Ellsworth to know that legally she was still married to me I don't recall clearly what we said.

"It is all rather confused in my mind. I remember that we stood on a street corner. And then I left her and went out to the auto camp where I had been staying. That is all."

"You may examine your witness, Mr. Graham."

The expression on Graham's naturally sunny countenance was almost comically disconsolate. He looked as acutely uncomfortable as a dog who finds a tin can tied to his tail and sits tight with the realization that the slightest movement will let loose a hideous cancatenation of sound.

His reproachful gaze flickered for a moment across the inscrutable face of the judge Very evidently the defense attorney considered that a punishment was being inflicted upon him which he didn't deserve; but he wisely decided to let bad enough alone. He forced his voice to a tone of jaunty indifference.

"No questions," he said.

"You may cross-examine."

"There are a few points in your recital Mr. Orme, which the people would like to have further elucidated. I will ask you to look at this letter, entered in evidence as people's exhibit A."

"The defense stipulates that the letter in question was written by Mr. Orme," Graham said wearily.

"Well, then, I will ask you, Mr. Orme, is the wording of this letter that of a man actuated by affection for the recipient?"

"No talking in the courtroom, please!" barked the disciplinary bailiff.

"I told you I was angry when I wrote it. And 'affection' is hardly the term I should use for my feelings towards Sheila O'Shay. I loved her—terribly." Orme spoke with tremulous intensity.

"Quite so. And this lady whom you 'loved terribly,'" the district attorney sneered, "you first knocked down, then abandoned, and then disregarded so completely that you did not learn of her subsequent marriage until almost a year after it had taken place." Although he merely leaned forward across the table, the district attorney seemed fairly to spring upon the man before him. "And what, may I ask, were you doing in the meantime?"

"I don't know," Orme said dully. "I seem to have been just wandering around."

"Oh, yes, wandering around. And your wanderings, I take it, were conducted by automobile?"

"I have never had a car."

"Yet you made the public automobile camp your headquarters. Can you explain that discrepancy?"

"Some one must have given me a lift on the highway as far as the auto camp. Then, when I was there, I stayed. I had no money, you see."

"Quite so, no money. And having thus belatedly discovered your wife's marriage to a rich man, you doubtless saw an opportunity to recoup your finances by threatening to make the illegality of her marriage known."

"I would not have taken a cent from Sheila if I had been dying!" Orme's face which had paled to the gray-white of dead ashes at the opening of the cross-examination, suddenly flamed.

"Of course not! And yet your earnings as a sandpaper artist could scarcely have supported your menage during the period of your married life."

Graham half rose to object, thought better of it, and relapsed into his seat.

I did not think of money then one way or the other. I did not dream that she thought of it either. I loved her."

"So you have told us. And yet you made no effort to keep in touch with her affairs—affairs which were rather widely published—until three days before her death?"

"I have told you that I did not know of her marriage to Ellsworth."

"And having had your little chat with the lady, you left her on a street corner—having made no attempt to follow up the threats conveyed in your letter to her—and fled back to the auto camp, where you concealed yourself under the a sumed name of Daniel Osgood?"

"It was the name by which I was known there. I adopted it after I left Sheila."

"Oh! And just why did you find it necessary to adopt an alias at all?"

"I—don't know."

The district attorney dropped his air of elaborate sarcasm. He half rose from his chair, pointing his finger menacingly at the man in the witness chair. His voice boomed through the courtroom.

"David Orme," he roared, "I suggest that you deliberately waited until Sheila O'Shay was in a position which you could threaten. I suggest that you used threats of exposure in order to wring money from her, and that, when she refused to submit to blackmail, you struck her down in a rage—you had done just that before, I believe you said—and killed her.

"I suggest that you were in possession of an automobile in which you drove the body to the marsh and which you afterwards junked or ran into the bay; that you then very astutely thought to lose yourself in the floating population of the auto camp, hiding under an assumed name, in order not to arouse suspicion by attempting to flee from the scene without funds. I suggest, David Orme, that you did wilfully and feloniously murder Sheila O'Shay!"

Orme rose to his feet—his eyes fixed a fascinated stare on the face of the prosecutor. He was trembling violently from head to foot, but he steadied himself with both hands on the arms of the chair behind him.

"Before God, I don't know whether I killed her or not!" he screamed in the high shrill voice of hysteria. "But I don't think it can be possible—because I loved her more than my music, more than anything else on earth!"

LAUGHS FROM LIFE

GO-GETTER:
"Darling, I worship you,
Will you marry me?"

A Touch of Realism

(A Newspaper Reporter, Sent to Write the Sidelights of a Yankee-Athletic Game, Finds Out Who Was Actually There)

"Five thousand men who last October stated forcefully in public and private that they were off baseball for life stood in line yesterday for two hours waiting for the gates to open for the first game of this important series. They were jostled, pushed, and growled at by five thousand others who have said time and again that baseball is fixed and not worth the attention of honest people The latter were angry because they had not arrived at the park in time to get the early places in the lines.

"Before the teams appeared on the field for practice, eight thousand women were in the stands, accompanied by their husbands, who last summer vowed they would never take their wives to another ball game. In addition, there were two thousand members of the feminine sex who believe that woman's place is in the home.

"In the bleachers were five thousand truck drivers, plumbers' assistants, brickleys' private secretaries, motormen, and office boys who would never tell a lie, except of course, to get off for a ball game. The boxes were occupied by fifteen hundred men who know more about running the teams than the managers. Scattered here and there were forty-one persons who know something about the game and enjoy it. Six of these were believed to be men who had given no alibi for attending the game.

"The usual number of actors, prizefighters, and press agents occupied the newspaper men's section."

QUIET TRADE AT EXCHANGE

Little Moving, With Ford and Canadian Pacific Up

OILS DOWN

TORONTO, Ont., July 15.—(Canadian Press)—The stock exchange was inactive on the whole this morning and little change appeared in those stocks for which there was a demand with the exception of Ford "A" which added 4¼c to 50¼.

Brazilian, on sales of 1732, rose to 61½c but latter declined to 60c for a loss of ¾. Walkers and International Nickel were in good demand. The latter was firm at 50¼ while Walker's dropped slightly to 20½.

The Steel and Construction Stocks were steady. Standard Steel gained 2 to 93 and Steel of Canada was firm at 57 for a small sale. Dufferin Paving advanced 1 to 32 and Standard Paving ½ to 38. Massey Harris sold off 1 to 56 and Page Hersey gained fractionally to 136½. The oils reflected the general lack of change and Imperial which continued to lead the trading in this group showed fractional decline.

Two high priced stocks which showed changes for small sales were Canadian Pacific which gained eight dollars to 248 and Maple Leaf which dropped 5 to 200.

WHEAT MART SPURTS UPWARD

Crop Destruction Is Reported Complete In One Section

HEAVY BUYING

CHICAGO, Ills., July 15. (C.P.) — Foreign and domestic wheat markets spurted forward to-day, impelled by fresh news of droughts in the Northwest grain belt. July wheat had advanced 5 5-8c by 11 a.m. to $1.34 5-8, and other deliveries made gains almost as great.

The trade had become cognizant on Saturday of the serious drought conditions in the Domestic and Canadian Northwest and wheat had jumped 5 1-4c to 5 7-8c above Friday's close. The Liverpool market scored a strong advance to-day an das reports continued to tell of reparable damage to the spring wheat crop from the dry weather.

Reports that crops over large sections of Canada were the worst ever seen in that country led to sharp new upturns in wheat values to-day. One despatch received said that for 70 miles from the Alberta line into Central Saskatchewan, the crop destruction is practically complete.

Opening 1c to 3 1-8c higher wheat prices here fluctuated rapidly. Provisions were easier.

NORANDA DOWN MINING MARKET

Few Gains, With Most Leaders Holding Own Fairly Steady

GOLDS FIRM

TORONTO, Ont., July 15 (Canadian Press). — A decline in Noranda to 59.10 for a loss of 2.05 featured this morning's trading on the Standard Stock Exchange. Most of the leaders were active, but losses seemed to predominate over gains. Several stocks were steady under fair demand.

Dome lost 45 cents to 9.30, but there was no great change among the other golds. Lake Shore gained slightly to 26.00 ,but McIntyre, Teck Hughes, and Hollinger were firm. Base Metals dropped 8 to 4.20. Pend Oreille dropped 20 to 5.25.

In the oil group Alberta and Pacific gained 10 to 3.85, while Associated Gas and Oil, after an early decline, returned to 4.85. Home Oil after touching 23.00 dropped to 22.75 for a net loss of 5. South-west Petroleum gained 50 to 6.50.

Of the Lindsleys Ventures was the most successful with a 30 point gain to 8.50. Falconbridge lost 25 to 13.50, Sherritt-Gordon lost 15 to 7.70, and Sudbury Basin was firm at 8.75.

Financial News and Briefs

A Special Service to the Examiner

Arrowhead Consolidated Mines

MONTREAL —Development work on the Arrowhead Consolidated Mines' Brownell group in the northeast corner of the township of Joannes in northwestern Quebec is proceeding at a good rate. Latest work has been directed at the opening up and enlargement to standard two compartment shaft six of the No. 1 test pit on the high-grade vein. The pit has been deepened four feet and the vein has been shown to widen out, free gold showing in the quartz in good amount.

Camp accommodation has now been provided for a crew of twenty men and all necessary supplies for a summer's work have been freighted in from Amos by the company's own boats, portages and trails having been cleared out so that the journey from Amos to the property can now be accomplished in a little over five hours.

The work which has been carried out so far this season has shown that free gold is present in the vein system on the property for a distance of more than half a mile. All that remains to be done in the way of surface exploration is the interconnection of the various outcrops and the proving of the continuity of the surface of the showings thus far exposed. Following upon the completion of this program, underground work will be started.

Newmont Mining Over $20 a Share in Half Years

NEW YORK—Earnings of Newmont Mining in the first half of this year were in excess of $20 a share, probably, with one exception, the largest in any similar period in the company's history. First half profits exceeded earnings for the full year 1928 by something like $5 a share.

Assuming that earnings for the full year 1929 are $30 a share, and this is a pure guess, Newmont will have rolled up a total of more than $78 a share available for dividends within three years. Of that amount, only $12 a share will have been paid out in cash dividends, leaving a balance equal to $66 a share retained in assets.

It is probable Newmont still has unrealized profits equal to more than $50 a share.

There has been talk for a year or more of a four-for-one split-up of Newmont. If this is not done this year, shareholders will receive at least a minimum of $4 in cash and 5 per cent in stock, equal, based on $210 a share, to $14.50 a share.

Shareholders who buy stock now will receive a minimum of $2 a share in cash and the stock dividend of 5 per cent, worth $10.50 and $210 a share. In other words, the return for the last half of the year will be equivalent to $12.50 a share.

Newmont's big essets include close to $375,000 shares of Kennecott with a market value of more than $35,000,000. It is the largest holder of Continental Oil, and owns many thousands of shares of South African mining stocks. The corporations and prospects in which Newmont is interested number close to 40.

CALL MONEY UP THREE PERCENT

Calling Of Loans And Monthly Disbursements Are Blamed

RAILS HOLD OUT

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 15 (Canadian Press).—The stock market, which has been pointing upward for several weeks, turned reactionary today when call money was advanced from 9 to 12 per cent. and threatened to go higher. Selling pressure was directed chiefly against the motor, copper, steel and public utility shares, although soft spots also developed in most of the other leading groups. Rails, which indulged in sharp display of strength on Saturday, offered the best resistance to selling pressure, with at least a dozen issues pushed into new high ground.

Heavy calling of loans, necessitated by the semi-weekly readjustment of banks' positions at the Federal Reserve Bank, coupled with the heavy mid-month disbursements, accounted for the stringency in call money. Little hope of any marked relaxation in rates was held out before the end of the week. The time money market was quiet, with the undertone slightly firmer.

LOOKING AHEAD

CHICAGO, July 15.—According to a survey conducted by the American Air Transport, there are 1,531 airports operating in the United States, and less than 10 per cent of them are on the regular air mail and passenger routes. "Those communities," says the association, "which, though not now receiving air mail and air passenger service from the regularly operated lines, are showing a splendid foresightedness in that where airports are located and functioning, the transport operator will come."

ODD TIMEPIECES

LONDON, July 15.—Guildhall Museum here has some of the most beautiful and odd timepieces in existence. One sets a see-saw rocking every hour; another denotes time by musical tunes. A "clock-watch" of 1580 has pins set at each hour so that time can be ascertained by feeling. There is one large clock of the Empire period on whose face miniature negroes strike the hour on bells. A giant watch is six inches across the face. This, however, was worn on a girdle and not intended for a pocket.

Local Youth Loses Moustache As Result Of Wager—Trimmed By Father In Golf Match

Weird golf wagers have been won and lost before this, but complete obliteration of his moustache, as a result of a loss on the links, befell one local young man on Sunday. This chap during the past two months had diligently fostered the growth of said moustache, much to the annoyance and jokes of his parents. Both father and son are keen golfers, and Sunday as they teed-off the son boasted that he was going "to trim the old man." A bet was made. If the father lost he was to pay his son five dollars; if he won the lad was to shave of the unpopular moustache. To-day another young man is vainly feeling for the down that formerly sparsely spanned his upper lip.

EIGHT CANUCKS ON PRIZE TEAM

Canada Has Held Rajah's Cup 12 Times And Will Shoot Again

FOUR COMPETITORS

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 15—(Canadian Press Cable).—Eight men specially picked from the team of 18 Canadians firing in the National Rifle Association's meeting will tomorrow battle for the Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Challenge Cup. They will meet teams representing Mother Country, Jersey, Guernsey and India.

Canada held this valued team trophy for three consecutive years until they lost it last year by just nine points to the Mother Country's team. The teams tomorrow represent the same states as last year, but Australia, third to the Mother Country and Canada last year, is absent.

An important change marks the 1929 battle for the Kolapore Cup. Marksmen who have been on the Mother Country's Kolapore Team on three previous occasions are barred. This means the Mother Country's choice of marksmen is considerably restricted and obviously is an advantage to overseas competitors. This advantage, as a matter of fact, was protested by Canada some months ago when the ruling was announced, the Dominion authorities stressing they did not desire any special advantages.

The big match is in three ranges 300, 500 and 600 yards. Each man fires 10 shots at each distance, the team aggregate for the three distances determining the result.

Canada has held the cup altogether 12 times in the 58 years it has been a feature of the Bisley Meet.

When she was asked how she thought that they would stand the change she only said "We could not stand the responsibility of them here any longer and they are returning to their native land.

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 15. — Shooting straight skyward 3⅞ cents a bushel, the wheat market Saturday went whizzing beyond all previous high-price records this season. It was declared by leading crop authorities that drought damage to North American spring wheat had become irreparable, and that rains from now on would be of no practical benefit. Trading operations were on an immense scale, with the market at a feverish pitch especially on the day's final dealings.

Wheat closed excited at the topmost figures reached, 5¼ to 5⅞ cents above Friday's finish. Corn closed ⅝ to 1 cent up, oats ⅝ to ⅞ cent advanced and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

A outstanding feature from the outset in wheat was the general notice taken of statements that the world wheat supply situation is not unlike that of 1924-25, when wheat soared to above $2 a bushel in Chicago. As compared with wheat, the corn market was relatively weak, owing to hot, forcing weather promoting fast growth of corn. Oats paralled the action of corn, both grains advancing, but being inclined to lag far behind wheat.

Provisions averaged higher, sympathizing with the upward trend of cereals.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, July 15. — Touching $1.50 in initial trading on the local market Saturday morning, wheat prices in the July future continued to swing upward and closed at the peak price, $1.55¼, a new high mark for the year, and 7½c over the previous close. An array of bullish crop news from the Canadian West and the United States Southwest caused traders to make the highest purchasing bids for months.

Lower temperatures in Western Canada did not bring rain and no rain is forecast for the week-end, according to weather reports, while in the State of Kansas wheat ready for the combine is standing in deep water, and flood conditions in that section of the country are general, reports stated.

On the coarse grains market flax was bid up in sympathy with wheat to 5½c higher than Friday's close. Rye closed 2c higher and barley showed slight gains.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 15. The cheese market showed unusual week-end dullness with prices remaining unchanged on Saturday. Ontario No. 1 white and colored sold at 18 1-4c to 18 1-2c per lb, while No. 1 Quebec white and colored brought 17 3-8c to 17 1-2c per lb. Receipts were heavy, however. The butter market was also unchanged on Saturday. Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized sold at 37c to 37 1-4c per pound wholesale. Receipts were 8382 boxes. The egg market was firm on extras but easier on firsts and seconds in a wholesale carlot way. Brokers on Saturday asked the following: Ontario fresh eggs f.o.b. Ontario, 10 points, 30c per dozen for extras, 25c per dozen for first, and 21c for seconds. Ontario fresh eggs, small lots on spot here delivered, 32c per dozen for extras, 27c for firsts and 24c for seconds. Western fresh eggs f.o.b. Manitoba points, 38c for extras, 24c for firsts and 20 1-2c to 21c per dozen for seconds. British Columbia fresh eggs, 28 1-2c for extras and 24c for firsts f.o.b. Vancouver. To the retail trade, however, prices were unchanged at 38c for fresh extras and 31c to 32c per dozen for fresh firsts.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes and Montreal Island potatoes were unchanged yesterday. Dressed poultry ruled steady. Both spring wheat, flour and winter wheat flour advanced 10c per barrel on Saturday. Millfeed also advanced, going up $2 per ton. Rolled oats were marked up from 10c to 30c per bag. Oats were 1 1-2c per bushel.

LEGION HONORS HER WAR DEAD

column led by Comrade Webster Sage, Canadian Legion Standard Bearer, followed by the Ranger's band, members of the city council and then the ex-service men and members of the Canadian Legion, to the veteran's plot in the cemetery where 83 of their comrades sleep in glory.

Here the remaining contingent, the advance party of which has crossed the river into the land of the setting sun, formed up and stood with bared heads as the band played "Nearer My God To Thee."

Acting President Sutton then spoke a few words of introduction. "In view of the absence of Comrade Heron the task of these introductory words falls on me, the words of Sir Arthur Currie, Dominion President of the Canadian Legion, are recalled to me at this time. He said to the assembled veterans at a convention held recently in St. Thomas that they belonged to a diminishing army as shown by the annual increase in graves to those here, in France and on the sea—the advance party is growing each year while the main body is gradually decreasing.

"We must keep faith with those who have gone before us by living up to the ideals that they have set. Citizenship is still the ideal of service for our army that remains. ... what war really is ... all ... peace, and assist ... need it.

Mr. William Fitchett, ... should be at his home on John ... war, buckle ... Ward attended the ... eep faith with the advance guard over the river.

Rev. Father J. V. McCauley was the next speaker and stated that he was glad to be associated in the action of recalling the memory of those who sacrifice themselves in such a worthy cause that we might live. "I saw a few weeks ago" he said, "the last resting place of those soldiers in France and I am happy to say that they are well looked after. It reminded me of the couplet of a famous Canadian Poet:

Only the actions of the Just Smell sweetly, and blossom in the dust.

"The war graves commission are doing a wonderful work when it is to be remembered that there are over 2,000 cemeteries in France which contain the remains of our departed heroes. Some 30,000 graves are marked simply row upon row with the epitaph—"They died for king and country"—but what a history it tells!

"One is also thrilled when he visits that part which is purely Canadian—that which to me because of its Canadian atmosphere became very sacred. In the Somme section there is one of the most beautiful memorials that has ever been erected as a tribute to Canadian brabery.

"I visited a few of the battlefields, some of which were preserved in their original state. You people at this distance cannot possibly realize the horror of war—you have to see it to understand how it was that more than 60,000 men gave up their lives. I have come back with a more profound realization of the sacrifices that were made and I would like to see all Peterborough and the whole country give their entire support to any organization fostering permanent peace and to aid the returned men and families. We owe them a lasting debt—they died not only for their comrades but for all of you who benefited by it."

All Should Bear Tribute

"We have gathered here for many years for this same purpose," said E. A. Peck, M.P., "and I do not need to go into detail as to the reason why. I only want to dwell upon the thought of the diminishing army and to speak of our nation's responsibility to assist in these ceremonies. It is true that the Canadian Legion takes the lead in this service but the sacrifices that the men made were for the nation and we all should bear tribute and keep them in memory by at least assisting in the ceremony of decorating their graves. Where there are only a few present to-day there should be thousands."

Rev. Comrade Paul Costello, Dominion Chaplain, was the last speaker, who explained the reason of the identity of the Canadian Legion. "It is the only official body of returned men," he stated "that is recognized by the government.

"The most important work of the Legion is the task of looking after the pensions. I am told that last year 671 pensioned men died in Canada. Since the end of the war 10,000 men have died. The ranks of the 671 pensioners will be filled by others and it is the business of the Canadian Legion to see that these men receive their pensions and that their wives and children are cared for.

"In this section the pension work is carried out in a noble manner by one who works day and night, Captain J. Abraham, who deserves credit for all his trouble.

"I have served this splendid legion for over ten years and I will serve it for years to come—if God spares me."

After the speeches the Last Post was sounded followed by the Reveille after which the graves were decorated.

OBITUARY

MRS. W. J. E. GILLOTT

Margaret Grace Breckenridge, beloved wife of W. J. E. Gillott, passed away yesterday at Westwood.

Funeral service will be held on Tuesday July 16 at Grace Presbyterian church, Millbrook, at 2 p.m. Interment will take place in Presbyterian cemetery.

FATALITIES

a good clip. The land hid the boats from each other's view until a split second before the terrific impact. Splintered to matchwood the two craft fell away from each other and sank, leaving their occupants struggling in the water.

There was no chance of rescue, no fragments of the crafts left to cling to. The drivers of the two boats, Captain William Griffin and Captain Bernard Snow were strong swimmers. Between them they managed to get one passenger to shore. Two others, one a New York girl and the other a 20-year-old American youth, sank to their death. Their bodies were recovered to-day.

Twin Sisters Drown

Marion and Mary McGarvey, 14-year-old daughters of Edward McGarvey of Kingston, were bathing at Collins lake yesterday. It is believed that one of them went beyond her depth and that the other went to her rescue. No one knew of the tragedy until a search for the missing girls ended finally in dragging operations for the bodies.

Within two miles of the spot and less than 24 hours later, young Reginald Storms, aged 14, and his brother Milton, 16, were in a boat with companions when the craft capsized. Neither of the boys could swim and sank immediately.

Two other boys, one aged 13 and the other 8, met death in the waters of northern lakes.

The highways have taken a heavy toll during the week-end, 10 lives in all having been claimed by auto traffic.

He turned to the small group which, warned by radio reports he would land at Villacoublay, had gathered:

"Don't cheer, boys!"

"There is nothing to cheer about. We just missed out; that's all." His remonstrance did not deter the handful of newspapermen, mechanics and spectators at the airfield, which is four miles south of Versailles, from their applause, however.

GOOD PROGRAM

music for the day, furnished by the local band and out of town organizations as well. Prizes will be given for the best outfits in several classes. An hour later, the lacrosse tournament and field sports program begins at the agricultural grounds. It is officially stated that this committee has an exceptionally good program arranged.

In the evening, one of the features of the week, a three-day water carnival begins. It will be presented on the stretch of water immediately north of the Bridge Street bridge, and will be a leading attraction for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Tuesday's program also includes a beauty contest with excellent prizes to the winners.

Neighboring Towns.

Wednesday is the general half-holliday in the district, and this day has been devoted to the neighboring towns, and a special program of interest to them has been prepared. The afternoon attractions will be held at the Fair Grounds, with horse races, baseball tournament and band music as the major attractions. In the evening there will be the water carnival and the dancing program as attractions.

THURSDAY.

Thursday is Regatta Day, and an interesting list of events has been arranged by the special committee in charge of this part of the week. Events will be open to all comers and generous prizes have been arranged.

FRIDAY.

This will probably be the greatest day of the week. The events listed to take place that day are really "Big time stuff." At ten in the morning, the day begins quietly enough with school for the old timers. At half-past one the calithumpian parade with its array of weird and comic turnouts, will start. Here, too, liberal prizes have been arranged.

Marathon Swim.

Half past two sees the great event of the day started, the marathon swim for all comers. The course will be three miles and five hundred dollars is the prize for the winner with four other smaller amounts and a hundred dollar prize for the first woman to finish the course regardless of what position. Should she finish in any of the first five places, the hundred dollars will be added to the amount of the prize she wins. Swimmers of world wide fame have been signed and capable men in Toronto and other cities are actively interested in the event.

After supper, Meyer's Arena will be the mecca for hundreds. The attraction will be a boxing tournament with well-known men of the squared circle doing battle for the honors. Like the marathon swim, capable men in Toronto have taken an interest in it.

Saturday will be visiting day according to the present arrangements. It has been specially set aside for the visitors to look up any old friends missed during the uproar of the week, and to revisit former familiar scenes in order that they may recall fond memories of days that have gone.

All told, it is to be a great week, the greatest that Campbellford has ever seen. Every citizen is asked to co-operate in every way possible to make it so.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, July 15. — In the middle of the past week the thought occurred to a local horticulturist that it would be an interesting event if a flower show could be arranged for on Saturday afternoon at the public library. Apsley

(Examiner Correspondence.)

APSLEY, July 12. — The local Orange Lodge attended service at the United Church on Sunday afternoon, when the Rev. W. H. Taylor preached an appropriate sermon, taking for his text St. John 8:2: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

He pointed out that Christ had brought freedom from Jewish priestcraft and Roman bondage. Man had tried before, and failed; he had also tried by legislative enactments, but with the same result. England had procured freedom from slavery, and had secured spiritual freedom for the counutry. It is truth that liberates

Dr. Archer was awarded the gold Kaiser-i-hind medal for his services to the people of India. Dr. Archer is a Campbellford Old Boy. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto, and has served in India as a medical missionary for more than twenty years. At the present time he is the medical officer in charge of the Medicsal Mission at Dayabari, Ranaghat, Nadia, Bengal.

Yesterday, Campbellford streets began to assume thier gay colored decorations in preparation for the Orange walk to be held here to-morrow. Banners, pennants, flags and streamers all play their part in the colorful array. More than thirty lodges are expected to participate in the celebration. The parade will start from the market square and proceed east to Ranney street, thence south to Bridge street and to the west side of the town. The west side line of march is north on George street, thence along Garry and Canrobert to Grand Road, back to the Bridge street bridge and north on Front street to the Agricultural grounds where speaking and sports will take place.

Contracts for the rebuilding of the Avon Bank cheese factory at Morganston have been let and the work has been started. The work is to be completed by the first day of August. It is interesting to note that, in spite of the intense heat of the fire and the duration of the actual smouldering, most of the concrete block walls and foundations are suitable for use in the new building.

Nationals Win First Game Here Since 1926

PETES SWAMPED AS NATIONALS FINALLY SHAKE JINX AND WIN HERE FOR FIRST TIME IN YEARS

Belleville's 10-1 Victory Saturday First in Peterborough Sinc 1926

A TERRIBLE GAME

Petes Go All To Pieces And Gerowmen Romp Home In Hollow Fashion

(By F. D. C.)

It took Walter Gerow's men a long time to win a ball game at James Stevenson Park, but when they finally turned the trick on Saturday they made a real job of it, walloping the Petes 10 runs to 1 in the worst game from a local viewpoint in many a moon.

The victory was Belleville's first win here since the season of 1926 and incidentally the fixture was one of the Belleville-Peterborough clashes that have been one-sided.

Usually the rivals stage a hammer-and-tongs battle, but Saturday the Petes could do nothing right and were totally outclassed on the day's play by the league leaders.

A double bill was scheduled but rain started to fall before the second game got under way and after a scoreless first innings with Pointer and Hackman as the opposing pitchers, play was halted and finally the game was called on account of rain and wet grounds.

Thus the afternoon was a total loss for the Petes, who absorbed a real beating in the first game and were rained out of a chance of getting an even break.

Dr. Jack Shea, formerly of Deloro, pitched his first game of the season for Belleville and simply coasted to victory. With his team mates playing errorless ball behind him and hitting savagely, the newly-fledged medico had nothing to worry about and his initial effort was merely batting practice pitching for him.

Jeff Hardill found the day something else again. He couldn't seem to keep the ball out of the groove for the Belleville hitters and to make matters worse the defensive work of the Petes was at its lowest ebb for the season, and every error hurt. The Nationals hit hard with men on and made everything count.

Up to the sixth the affair bore some semblance to a ball game. The Nationals, through some timely hitting, accumulated three runs in the second frame and the Petes, helping Shea out by attempting a lot of impotent first ball hitting which resulted in the Belleville twirler getting rid of the side in two innings on a total of eight pitched balls, had been unable to get any back. They switched to a waiting game in the fifth and finally filled the bases. Then, with Swanston at bat, two out and the count three balls and no strikes on the batter, Beavis was caught flat-footed off second base.

That was the turning point of the game.

The unexpected climax to what looked like a big inning hurt worse than an ulcerated tooth, and the Petes' defence, pitching and everything else simply collapsed. It was just too bad from then on and bunched hits enabled the Nationals to cash in with seven runs in the next three frames to make a total ruin of the ball game.

IT'S HERE IF YOU WANT IT

Scott grounded to Ash to open the game and Sweetman tossed out V. Weir. Harry Mills singled to centre but was forced by W. Mills on a rap to Hollingsworth.

The Petes got a good start when Legan beat out a rap to Blakely and Rose bunted safely. Swanston sacrificed. Ash popped to W. Mills and after Hardill had drawn a pass to fill the bases Jimmy Hall forced him on a roller to short.

The Nationals broke loose in the second. Blakely singled to left and stole second. Alex. Weir fanned but M. Green beat out a tap to Hollingsworth, stole second and scored with Blakely when Sonny Green doubled hard to left centre. Shea walked. Scott singled past Rose to score Sonny Green. V. Weir was out on a bunt and Harry Mills flied to Legon.

Red Hollingsworth singled to right but was out trying to stretch it into a double. Beavis rolled to V. Weir and Sweetman popped to Scott, the side being out on three pitched balls.

In the third W. Mills flied to Legon. Swanston made a nice running catch of Blakely's foul fly and after Alex. Weir had singled past Sweetman, M. Green fanned.

Legan popped to Scott on the first ball pitched and Rose flied to Blakely on the next, giving Shea the record of getting rid of five men in a row on five balls. Swanston took a couple before he rolled to V. Weir.

S. Green flied to Hall to open the fourth and Shea fanned. Scott walked, Verne Weir flied to Hall.

In the Petes' half, Ash rolled to Scott, Hardill popped to H. Mills and Blakely grabbed Hall's drive.

The Nationals wasted two hits in the fifth. Harry Mills singled to centre and Peeney Mills to left. Blakely was out on a smash to Rose. A. Weir fanned. M. Green was passed to fill the bases. S. Green rolled to Rose.

The Petes had a chance but lost it by dopey work on the bases. Hollingsworth walked and Beavis singled to short. Sweetman bunted a fly to Scott. Legon walked, filling the bases. Rose struck out. With Swanston up and three balls and no strikes on the batter, Beavis was caught off second.

The homesters skidded rapidly after that break.

Shea opened the sixth with a strike out. Scott hit an easy roller to Hardill, who made a bad throw to first, the batter reaching second. He scored when V. Weir singled to left. Beavis made a nice catch of Harry Mills' short fly. Peeney Mills doubled to right. Verne Weir scored on Blakely's tap to Hollingsworth. Sweetman interfering on the roller. A. Weir rolled to Rose.

Swanston started the Petes' half with a single past Scott, but was forced by Ash and Hardill and Hall were easy on infield flies.

The seventh was another hot session. With the Greens out of the way on flies to Hall and Legon, Shea's roller got away from Rose and Scott scratched a hit over first which Beavis turned into a run by a wild heave over Sweetman's head. Verne Weir struck out.

For the Petes Red Hollingsworth flied to A. Weir and Len Hollingsworth, replacing Beavis, lifted one to M. Green. Sweetman got a hit when no one fielded his top in toward first, but Legon lifted one to Verne Weir.

The Nationals rubbed it in in the eighth. Harry Mills singled to right centre and W. Mills was safe when Sweetman fumbled his bunt. Blakely's single to right field filled the bases and they were emptied in a hurry on Alex Weir's triple to deep left. Weir scored while Hardill was tossing out M. Green. S. Green flied to Hall and after Shea walked, Scott rolled to Ash.

The Petes escaped a whitewash by bunching two hits and a sacrifice. Rose singled to right and ran to third when Swanston singled over second. Ash's sacrifice fly to M. Green scored Rose and Hardill walked. Hall flied to Blakely. Red Hollingsworth was hit, filling the bases but Len. Hollingsworth struck out.

The Belleville crew got three hits, but no runs in the ninth. Verne Weir singled to left and went to second on a passed ball. H. Mills flied to Legon who doubled Weir at third with a fine throw to Sweetman when the Belleville second sacker tried to advance after the catch. W. Mills singled to right centre, and Blakely past Rose, but Alex Weir flied to Hall.

Heckman, batting for Sweetman, drove a fly to M. Green and Legon popped to Scott. Rose doubled to right and Hatton, who had replaced Swanston in Belle's half of the frame, singled to right centre. Ash flied to M. Green for a the final out.

LEAFS BLANK BEARS 3 TO 0

Page, Toronto Southpaw Holds Newark Entry To Three Hits

SPEAKER WINS OPENER

TORONTO, Ont., July 15 (Canadian Press). — Phil Page, one of the Leafs' most ambitious young left-handers, shut the Bruins out with three hits at the Stadium on Saturday. That was in the second game of the second successive double-header in as many days, and the score was 3 to 0.

The storm halted the ball game for 15 minutes, and apparently it also dampened the wing of Frank Barnes, the Leafs' other ambitious young southpaw, also the aiming and pudgment of a couple of other Leafs.

Anyway, after the game was resumed, Barnes was not the same mystery to Tris Speaker's oldsters and youngsters that he was before the clouds opened up. Before he had finished his tail-spin, the Leafs' two-run lead was a thing of memory, and the game was over with the Bruins on the long end of a 5 to 3 check.

PACKERS GAIN LEAGUE POINTS FROM BRINTONS

C.P.C. 3, BRINTON 1.

Second Moiety Resulted In Defensive Methods Being Used To Prevent Scoring

The win on Saturday afternoon by the C.P.C. from the Brinton A.A., by the score of three goals to one, gave the former two valuable points in the soccer league to lead the table with three clear points. They have to meet the Canadian General in a league game yet before the final stages are completed.

In the first half all the scoring took place and the second moiety resulted in a blank sheet as far as scoring goes. It was unfortunate that the three players who promised to play never made any appearance; at any rate, the men who filled the openings gave a good account of themselves.

Foster Scored Twice

The Brinton eleven were minus a full quota and made up their team with the consent of their opponents. Three players had promised to participate in the game but did not show up. After five minutes play, Bromley checked an attack at the opportune time to carry the ball up field, he drew the defence close to him, then passed forward to Foster who sent an oblique shot into goal. Curtis. The custodian failed to grasp a firm grip on the ball, thereby allowing the first counter to be registered. Soon afterwards, the same player emulated the same forward movement but on his own initiative as he travelled into goal to give Curtis no chance to save a very deceiving attack.

Lucas' Lightning Drive

Play was of a ding-dong character for a long time, until James dribbled his way through the defence. Downer nullified his progress towards goal. The ball went out to Bayliss who sent a lightning drive into the net from the twelve yard line, Griffin being a fraction too late to prevent the count.

Beggs Increased Lead

Just before the interval, the Packers' right wing played havoc with the Brinton defence to gain a well deserved goal when Beggs accepted a close pass from N. Downer in the corner. Quick as a flash, the inside right picked the inside of the upright for the third counter. Curtis saved the shot but failed to hold the ball which had a great amount of weight in it. Canadian Packing 3, Brinton A.A. 1.

Half Time

The respite at half time enabled the players to recuperate from the strenuous pace of the first moiety. It was noticable that the Packers were out to make sure of the two valuable points. Flag kicks in abundance fell to the winners but they carried no anticipating method to penetrate the solid defence that Lucas and Honor displayed, in fact, they held the forwards outside the shooting distance every time that they attacked. On one occasion, Buchan slipped past the full backs nicely but to his own charm as he went straight for goal, he lifted the sphere skywards with only the custodian to beat.

Both Goal-keepers Good

Time and again, the custodians were called upon to save well placed efforts from the attacking forwards who tried all kinds of shots at them and from all appearance they seemed to enjoy the scrimmages very much while they lasted in their vicinity. Both goals were often raided and the goals jeopardized, the backs and the goal-keepers being kept constantly on the alert. The full backs held the forwards scoreless upon the respective citadels. Twice in succession Buchanan at centre-forward, failed to accept the splendid opening provided him by Beggs who manipulated the ball inside the defence, then left his partner to do the needful. He banged the ball, instead of giving it a gentle tap past the goal-keeper.

Last Minute Rally

Before the final whistle, the Packers raised a final spurt to increase their tally but the Brinton boys never allowed them any scope near the goal. No goals were scored in the second half and the final was the same as at the interval. Canadian Packing 3, Brinton A. A. 1.

Goal scorers—For C.P.C., Foster (2) and Beggs. For Brinton, Lucas.

Canadian Packing—Griffin, goal; Westwood and Downer, full backs; Carmichael, Craig, Bromley halves; N. Downer, Beggs, Buchanan, Foster and Williams forwards.

Referee—A. Aitkenhead.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

THE NEW ANIMAL

I see no reason in the least
For all this propaganda
In favor of the foolish beast,
The Himalayan panda
Far nobler creatures romp and rage
Beside the winding Niger
And in his own home vicinage
There roams the stately tiger.

The panda is a stunted bear,
Whose fur is short and frizzly,
In stature he cannot compare
With Kadiak or grizzly
No brute that prowls the wood or lea,
No 'possom, coon or wombat
Or gnu or kangaroo could be Defeat in single combat.

The panda has no grace or charm
Or interesting habits,
He is incapable of harm
To anything but rabbits.
No wonder in the jungle dim
Through all the years he's hovered
For it has brought small good to him
Now he has been discovered

But we are a peculiar race
Though bhed in house or hovel,
We join the ululating chase
Of anything that's novel
And so our tongues must wag and hum
In avid excitation,
Because this panda has become
The century's sensation!

MANN TROPHY FINAL SET FOR SEPTEMBER

Eastern Teams Must Travel 'West To Win Lacrosse Cup

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 15.—The Mann cup playdowns have been announced. The eastern final will be staged in Toronto on August 24, when the best that the far east can produce will clash with the O.A.L.A. series winner, and the victor here will proceed to Winnipeg for a game against the Manitoba winners three days later (two of which will be on the train), and the eastern representatives will scarcely be in the best of shape to do justice to themselves at the 'Peg.

The successful crew at Winnipeg has to hop off the train at either Edmonton or Calgary on August 30, with the final contests at New Westminster on September 2 and 4, and, if a third game be necessary, the 7th will also be utilized. All of which means a pretty stiff program for everyone but the B.C. champions, who stand a good chance of retaining the famous trophy which they wrested from Weston two years ago.

NO SOCCER MEETING TO-NIGHT

Owing to the members of the P and D. F. A. executive being away on holidays, there will be NO meeting this evening. Club executives please notify representatives.

CRICKET TEAMS IN TIE BATTLE

Peterborough Cricket Club Tangles With Toronto At Armour Heights

RAIN HALTS PLAY

The match between the Toronto C. C. and the Peterborough C. C., played at Armour Heights on Saturday ended in a draw. Rain halted the play an hour and a quarter ahead of time; otherwise the local team would most likely have suffered defeat.

The Toronto captain won the toss and elected to bat; opening the innings with Bell and Carlton. With the score at 11, the latter was neatly caught in the slips by Elliot. Beamer joined Bell, and runs came steadily, until the score reached 46, when Dunkerley bowled Beamer, the retiring batsman should have been caught in the outfield previously, but Smith dropped the ball. With Rutherford and Bell together runs came at a great rate the former, after playing himself in, flogged the bowling all over the ground. The wicket was hard, fast and true and gave the bowlers no assistance. Despite frequent bowling changes these two batsmen could not be separated. After Bell had reached 50, the two batsmen retired, Rutherford having made 70 runs by clean, hard hitting. Henderson and C. Seagram took their place at the wickets, and the scoring went merrily on. The local bowlers and fielders were tiring somewhat in the field, the left-handed batsmen causing a great deal of changing. In one over Seagram scored no less than 26 runs off Elliot, hitting 2 sixes, 3 fours, and a two. When the score had reached 212, the Toronto captain declared the innings closed. Two or three catches were lost in the outfield, which would probably have made a vast difference in the score had they been accepted.

The local team, however, fielded well and did not feel discouraged at the big score, for the Toronto team had several batsmen second to none in Ontario and who have represented Ontario in provincial matches.

Peterborough opened their innings with Imming and Dunkerley. With only 6 runs on the board, Dunkerley was bowled. Two more wickets fell for the addition of only two runs, and it looked as if the locals were to be out for a small score. Thorpe, however, played carefully, and receiving assistance from Wade brought the score to 40 before Wade was bowled. Mitchell scored half a dozen and was then stumped in running out to a slow ball but Thorpe and Stuart played on until rain fell and drove the players to shelter, Thorpe carrying out his bat for an invaluable 24. Fifteen minutes later, the game was called as the rain continued and the game left drawn.

GREAT FAMILY OF CANADIAN PACERS

Grattan Bars And Widow Grattan Bring Honor To Famous Sire

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 15.—The last decade has furnished the founlation of a great femily of race-horse pacers in Canada, that of Grattan Royal 2.06¼, himself meant for a great racehorse, but afflicted with the unfortunate habit of knee hitting, about the worst fault that a pacer can have. Nat Ray developed Gratton Royal, the horse showing sensational speed, but in a race at Grand Rapids in 1913 he banged one of his knees so badly as to put him out of commission.

Retired to the stud, his colts soon began to show, each season developing a star or more by him. Then, in 1928, came Grattan Bars 1.59½, the greatest money-earning pacer in turf history.

Grattan Bars was the king among stake pacers of 1928 and the one to give him the hardest argument was another of the family, the little mare Widow Grattan 2.02½, which raced against him in the $25,000 New England pacing derby at Windsor, Conn. Grattan Bars beat her after a great battle, but the mare headed him in one heat in 2.06¼ over the half-mile track, this being the only heat lost by the great Canadian stallion last season.

Later, in the $10,000 Chamber of Commerce stake, at Syracuse, Widow Grattan finished second to the world champion gelding, Winnipeg, chasing him out in 1.59¼. The showing of the little mare was such that many of the important stakes of the 1929 season were conditioned so that she was not eligible, the track managers figuring that it might be hard to get a big entry list if Widow Grattan was one of the eligibles. So far this season she is credited with two wins in the Bay States Circuit, where she has paced in 2.05¼ over a two-lay course.

'IEETS TOBI AS TO-NIGHT

TORONTO, Ont., July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Steve Rocco, former Canadian flyweight champion, steps out on the comeback trail to-night when he meets Phil Tobias, Brooklyn's ace in the midget ranks in a 10-round bout at Toronto coliseum.

Victory for the local youth means another chance at "Frenchy" Belanger and the Dominion title, but the fistic faithful are inclined to be skeptical as to his ability to solve the queer style of Tobias who has recorded several victories in local rings.

Hughie Lees, Winnipeg, and Jack Headley, Ottawa, mix in the six round opener, a welterweight affair. There are three other six rounders on the card.

LOUGHRAN DEFENDS TITLE THIS WEEK

Braddock Will Attempt To Win Championship at New York

NEW YORK, July 15.—Eyes of fistic fans turn toward New York this week, with Tommy Loughran defending his light heavyweight crown against James J. Braddock, Jersey City puncher, in a 15-round bout at the Yankee Stadium on Thursday night.

Braddock is the latest challenger to arise and threatent Loughran's rule over the 175-pound division, and in many respects he is the most formidable.

Loughran, cleverest of all the light-heavyweights, has waded through a host of contenders since he won the championship from Mike McTigue in October of 1927, beating, among others, Jimmy Slattery, Pete Latzo, Mickey Walker, Leo Lomski, Joe Sekyra and Armand Emanuel.

COGS AND HASTINGS TO CLASH TO-NIGHT

Bethany and Crescents Play Important Fixture Also

Followers of the fortunes of the four teams in the East Peterborough League should be on hand at Exhibition Park this evening to see Cognawagas and Hastings engage. Cogs are in third place in the league race and unless they defeat the crew from down east to-night their chances for the championships will become ephemeral. It is understood that Hastings have been practising steadily and expect to do big things in the second half of the schedule.

Another important struggle in the league will be enacted this evening in Bethany, where Crescents play the league leaders. If Bethany wins, it will be their seventh straight victory and will put them in an enviable position of mastery.

SOFTBALL.

There will be softball five nights this week for the fans To-night the Teco and Western Clock will hook up in what should be a great battle. Both teams are strong and will be at full strength.

To-morrow night the Teco will take the Bridgenorth Wildcats on, and another good game should result.

The games are scheduled to start at 6.30 sharp and are played at Central School Grounds.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"Interference" a 100 Per cent Talking Picture the Current Attraction at the Capitol. It is a famous Broadway Hit, and is Considered one of the best "Talkies" to date.

The opening performances of Paramount's All Talking picture "Interference" takes place at the Capitol today.

For pure, unadulterated drama, "Interference" stands head and shoulders above most widely heralded dramatic "sensations." The picture is a faithful representation of the stage play of the same name by Roland Pertwee and Harold Dearden and which enjoyed healthy runs in both London and New York.

Roy J. Pomeroy, a man who has worked untiringly for the past three years in developing sound motion pictures, directed this version of the Lothar Mendes production. Ernest Pascal prepared the dialogue for the picture.

The four principal players have equally important parts. William Powell portrays the role of a carefree gentleman; Evelyn Brent that of his cast-off love; Clive Brook as the famous English surgeon, and Doris Kenyon that of the surgeon's wife.

Is Your Wife Your Business Manager?

IF YOU can answer "yes" to that question, you are fortunate. But if you cannot answer "yes", you ought to spend three or four evenings thinking over your family's financial position in the event of your death. Then you should write instructions for your wife to follow regarding the conduct of the family's affairs should necessity compel her to assume the burden.

When you have discovered what a task it is to write out instructions, think how much greater a task it will be to follow them. One of the first questions will be, "Where is the money coming from to keep the family going"? The answer is "from Life Insurance".

We issue a Pension Bond which guarantees a definite income, to be paid to beneficiaries over a period of years instead of in a lump sum. We shall be pleased to send particulars of this plan to those who are interested. Write for booklet, "Your Key to Happiness", which tells something about it. Address:

This deal illustrates a Minor suit take-out of an original Minor bid and the response thereto by the initial bidder. At Auction it is a simple take-out; at Contract, a forcing bid demanding a response.

Salient Points of Bidding

Auction Bidding: Following South's one Club, many players with North's holding of nine Probable Tricks (seven in Diamonds and two in Spades) might be tempted to make a high pre-emptive bid in Diamonds. Such procedure, however, is unsound as it would operate more to shut out partner than opponents and thus risk failure to arrive at the best bid in the combined partnership hands. South, holding a suit type rather than a No Trump type of distribution, denies Diamonds with a bid of one Spade which becomes the final declaration.

Contract Bidding: North's forcing take-out of two Diamonds, a demand upon partner for a further bid, is responded to by South showing his second suit, Spades. North assists by bidding three Spades, unwilling for the partnership to embark upon a game declaration until South's strength is known, but expecting South to re-bid Spades if holding better than a weak forced response. South, holding such re-bid strength, bids four Spades which becomes the contract.

The Play

West leads his fourth best Heart which East wins with the King, then plays the Ace, and follows with the Heart 3. West winning the third trick with the Queen.

West considers his next move. It looks suicidal to lead either Diamonds or Clubs and his choice lies between a trump or the thirteenth Heart. He selects the former, although he sees that to give Declarer a ruff in one hand and a discard in the other will do no harm in this particular instance. His lead is more or less a choice of evils.

Declarer wins the fourth trick with the 10 of Spades in Dummy, and the fifth trick by a lead of a small Diamond, trumping in his own hand to provide against a possible 4-2 split of the adverse Diamonds. Thereafter it is practically a lay-down for South as, after exhausting adverse trumps, he has two more tricks than he can use.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your bridge problems. Write to him, care of this paper, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope.

RECORD-BREAKING AIR PILOT PAYS VISIT TO CITY SUNDAY

Captain J. D. Parkinson With His Now Famous "Champlain" Here On Tour

TO CROSS CANADA

When the yellow and orange monoplane, "Champlain" swooped down out of the sky on Sunday, Peterborough caught its first sight of the pilot and plane which last week established a new Canadian altitude record. The pilot, Captain J. D. Parkinson of the Curtiss-Reid Flying Service, brought the now-famous Curtiss Robin, CF-ACJ, gracefully to earth in the third landing of a journey which will take in every important city between here and Vancouver. Never before has such an extensive air journey been undertaken in this country. The purpose behind the tour, as revealed by Captain Parkinson, marks it as the opening of a new epoch in the aerial development of Canada. For this air traveller is selecting flying-school sites, answering enquiries and considering applications for airplane dealer franchises in cities and town from coast to coast.

Arrives From Belleville

The captain arrived here after an uneventful trip from Belleville. He left to-day for Toronto, after which his itinerary takes him by short stages through Ontario and the West to Vancouver. There he is scheduled to arrive on September 20th, returning shortly afterwards to Montreal. Not only will the journey be the first commercial trans-Canada air return tour but it will cover more ground and visit more places than any journey hitherto attempted. While there is no doubt that the trip will be a distinct stimulus to civil aviation, at the same time Captain Parkinson pointed out that even in the smaller places he will visit, such as Virden, Assiniboia and Rossland, B.C., he had definite business enquiries to follow up—a fact which showed, he said, that the country was already becoming "air-conscious."

To illustrate local enthusiasm for flying Captain Parkinson asserted that he had received applications for dealer franchises from every part of the country, including Peterborough. All these applications would receive consideration, he said.

But there is considerably more to selling airplanes than merely having a dealer force. Captain Parkinson pointed out that air "service stations" and flying schools had to be established at strategic points across the country, in order to back up dealers and ensure purchasers of the uninterrupted and efficient use of their machines. Such school-stations have already been established by Curtiss-Reid at Kingston, Montreal, Toronto and St. John, N.B. Captain Parkinson will study possible locations for other ground establishments on his present trip.

Served in War

The Captain, who made a fine record with the R.A.F. during the war, is a strong believer in the necessity of building up civil aviation, so that a force of pilots is immediately available in case of war. "Canadian airmen led the world during the war," he said, "and for this reason if for no other, Canada should be the leader—not just one of the leaders—in peace-time developments."

No one is better fitted to express such sentiments than Captain Parkinson. He has completed well over 5,000 hours in the air, equivalent to flying twenty times around the earth. Even before establishing a new Canadian altitude record of 20,000 feet he was one of the world's outstanding pilots, having carried more than 40,000 passengers without a single mishap. Prior to joining Curtiss-Reid he flew the mails between Montreal, Toronto and Windsor, and is thus well known in Ontario.

His plane—the identical machine with which the altitude record was made—is a Curtiss Robin three-place monoplane powered by a 170 h.p. Curtiss Challenger radial air-cooled motor. With its cruising speed of 96 miles per hour, coupled with gasoline economy, it sells in Canada for approximately $9,000.

TWO CANADIANS HEAVY SCORERS AT BISLEY MEET

Toronto Marksmen Score 48 Points Out Of Possible 50

900-YARD RANGE

Two Contests Are Shot Off With Heavy Entry List

Bisley Camp, England, July 15. — (Canadian Press Cable.) — Shooting a fine 49 out of a possible 50, Company Sergeant-Major G. M. Emslie, of Toronto, and Company Sergt.-Major A. C. Lucas also of Toronto, jointly led all the Canadian marksmen in the Duke of Cambridge Service Rifle Match at the long range of 900 yards to-day. Emslie also had one of the highest Canadian scores in the earlier feature, the Daily Telegraph at 600 yards. His mark of 35 out of a possible 35 in the Telegraph, was equalled by four other Canadians.

The Canadians as a team shot consistently well in both of to-day's big features, to start the last and much more important half of the National Rifle Association's great Empire meet. Shooting conditions were somewhat difficult, the light being tricky over the wide ranges, and the wind variable and difficult to gauge. The weather generally, however, continued excellent, brilliant sun shining from a cloudless sky.

The Daily Telegraph attracted a record entry of thousands of marksmen but the more difficult Duke of Cambridge shoot was not so crowded.

Lt. Desmond Burke, of Ottawa, the gold medallist and winner of the King's prize in 1924, continued consistent shooting to-day but was again slightly behind the leading Canadians. He scored 31 at the 600 yard range, the Telegraph, and followed up with 44 at the longer distance in the Duke of Cambridge.

The Canadian scores in the two features of the day, with totals were as follows, the first column representing the Daily Telegraph, at 600 yards, the second the Duke of Cambridge at 900 yards, and the third the total:

C.S.M., G. M. Emslie, Toronto	33	49	82
C. S. M., A. C. Lucas, Toronto	33	49	82

In Police Court

Art King and William Tracey appeared in police court this morning charged with stealing a valuable motor car, the property of W. H. Roberts of this city. The two waived preliminary hearing and elected to be kept in custody to await trial at the Fall Assizes before a judge of the Supreme Court in October.

According to the police the two were caught by police officers of Sturgeon Falls, a small town 250 miles distant, in Northern Ontario. Local police sent out fifty cards describing the car and King, who they believed responsible for the theft. Yesterday two local officers travelled to Sturgeon Falls, bringing back King and Tracey.

Police report that the two were caught when they attempted to sell some of the accessories from the car. The spare tire had been sold and the men were trying to exchange the bumperettes at a garage for cash.

The charge of assaulting a woman and doing bodily harm against a local man was withdrawn by the informant. The hearing of the second charge against the same man, that of supplying liquor to a minor, was adjourned for a week by request of the Crown.

Quiet Week.

The police reported one of the quietest week-ends for many months. There were only two accidents and both were of minor consequence. The opinion held by the police is that local motorists are beginning to realize the danger of the heavy traffic and are driving safely and sanely.

Evening Rates Begin at 7 p.m.

Many users of long distance overlook the fact that reduced Evening Rates now begin at 7 p.m.

After 8.30 p.m. the reduced rate is still lower—about 50 per cent off the day rate.

(The minimum reduced evening rate is 35c; and the minimum reduced night rate 25 cents).

And an additional convenience—charges on Station-to-Station calls may now be reversed, where the rate is 25 cents or more.

Remember — evening rates begin now at 7 p.m. by your local time.

Steps To Be Taken To See Tourist Camp Not Disturbed

The Peterborough Tourist Camp has the reputation of being one of the very best on the road, having all conveniences, is will supervised, and a most pleasant place for a tourist to camp, but this good reputation will suffer if the boys who sometimes frequent the grounds commit the offence again they were guilty of last week.

While tourists were up town boys got into some of the tents and took articles not so much of value but necessary on a touring trip and left the tourist greatly inconvenienced.

The matter is in the hands of the police and a repitition will see some lads in the police court with a serious charge against them.

ERECT MEMORIAL TO WOODCUTTER

Lone Woodsman's Memory Is Honored in Far North.

EDMONTON, Alberta, July 12. — (Canadian Press).Edward Martin, a woodman of the north, who died about a year ago, was more than a mere woodcutter—he was a pioneer whose memory is being honored in a monument to be erected shortly at Fort Smith. The memorial is the work of Major Frank H. Norbury, sculpter, this city. It will occupy a prominent position on the 60th parallel, about a mile south of the Fort Smith settlement on the 16-mile portage between Fort Smith and Fort Fitzgerald, on the dividing line between the Northwest Territories and the Province of Alberta.

The monument, which is of Indiana limestone, is in the form of a neatly piled cord of wood, surmounted by a stump with roots cut near the tree. On the upper part of the stump as if the bark had been scraped off, is the inscription, and on the face is the 60th parallel with "N.W.T." on one side and "Alberta" on the other. Following is the inscription:

"To the Memory of Edward Martin, died June 13, 1928. The best woodcutter of the North; he supplied fuel to the steamboats. A silent and lone man who took pride in his work and built an honest pile."

"Martin died as he had lived, alone. His body was found in his shack by a woodman who happened to be passing and locked into the shack. Nearby was a discharged gun which told the story of his taking off. Doubtless the grim silences of the north had affected this lonely soul till they at last became unbearable. "He built an honest pile" as the inscription on the memorial states, and in doing so left a name that will live long.

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR

A little girl expressed the truth, when she told her dog Rover, that when Adam died, he died "all over." Many people, through the influence of Satan, understand as much about the truth of many dying as Rover did, after being informed. This is not on account of lack of intelligence on their part, but on account of being misled and mistaught by Satan directly and indirectly by Satan's agents. Satan keeps men groping about in the darkness and coming to conclusions based upon merely wish or opinion. Briefly summed up the Scriptures say man is a mortal soul. God could not say to an immortal being "thou shalt surely die", for an immortal creature cannot die. Ezekiel 18:4, Psalms 115: 17. Theory and conjecture of all the "Reverends" or "Irrevends" does not prove man is immortal. A conclusion based upon a wish to have a thing and which conclusion is unsupported by any competent evidence is not belief but credulity.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

He was a friendly and enquiring youth. He was also a movie fan. He approached the gentleman who stood at the yacht's side and asked: "Are you Wallace Beery?"

"Yes," replied the visitor to Peterborough, "but I don't want anyone to know it. Don't repeat it, will you?"

But the story was too good. If the city had been honored by a visit from the gentleman who made Alpine guides famous in "Louis the Fourteenth" and who roused the chuckles of a continent in "Behind the Front" and "We're in the Navy Now," why shouldn't everyone hear about it. The rumor flew far and near.

Major Smith of Oshawa, who bears a strong resemblance to the genial Wallace Beery of movie fame, departed in ignorance of the interest he had aroused.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS

If motorists continue to disregard the stop sign on the Chemong road there are going to be fines, stated H. Hinchliffe, highway traffic officer, this morning. He stopped over fifty cars yesterday which had sped heedlessly past this sign without slackening. This Stop sign has been placed on the Chemong road at the end of the pavement, where the county road joins the provincial highway to Lindsay.

The motorists in this district appear to be taking greater care in driving, continued the officer, and there are proportionately few accidents. "There were none over the week-end," he declared.

CATCHES 22-POUND LUNGE

Another tourist has gone home highly delighted with the fishing in the Kawartha Lakes. H. D. Farrell, of Tottenville, a suburb of New York City, left here to-day carrying back with him a twenty-two pound lunge which he caught on Sunday in one of the northern lakes of the chain.

WOMAN HIT BY TRUCK

Mrs. George C. Franks, Dublin street, was bruised and badly shaken when struck by a truck while crossing Simcoe street on George about 8.40 Saturday evening. Her shoulder, right arm and head received painful bruises, which, however, will not be serious, according to Dr. McPherson who attended her.

Mrs. Franks was walking north on the west side of George street and was going across the interesection of Simcoe when the accident occurred. The truck, owned by Ed. Cooney and driven by Herb Payne, turned off Simcoe street south onto George. Mrs. Franks said that she thought she could get across the street, the truck having turned sooner than she had expected.

NEW LINES STARTED

CARE ADDS TO BEAUTY

Little Lake Cemetery yesterday presented a very beautiful appearance as the flowers from last week, still survived in many places and the fresh ones that were left by the Canadian Legion made it a beauty spot. The well kept grass, driveways and flower beds all helped to make it a very pretty scene.

TWO LONG RECORDS

E. A. Peck and Walter Stocker yesterday at the Canadian Legion Parade both remarked on the length of time that they had marched behind the band on Peterborough streets. Mr. Peck said that fifty years ago he made his first march behind the old 57th band while Mr. Stocker's record dates back some forty-one years.

ROAD GANGS OUT.

Duncan MacFarlane, county road superintendent reports that there are small gangs of men at work on nearly all the county roads which are being rapidly improved. The general conditions of these highways in the county are quite good although dusty.

The weeds along the roads have been cut and are being drawn away. There is a gang of men at work on the Norwood road near concession number one, Otonabee, cutting down the curve which is quite dangerous at Cameron's Hill. There will soon be a stone crusher gang at work on the Norwood road.

87 YEARS OLD.

James Sutherland, Water street grocer, is celebrating his 87th birthday to-day.

NEW REPLACES OLD.

The old wooden fence along the east end of Hunter Street Bridge is being replaced by a more modern iron railing.

AFRICAN APPAREL ON SHOW.

The tropical weather that Peterborough experienced last week evidently induced the appearance of some tropical garments among the tourist population of the city. A gentleman appeared on George Street Saturday morning garbed in the conventional tropical hunter's outfit, even to the sun helmet.

ONE-EYED CARS PLENTIFUL.

A plague of one-eyed motor cars seems to exist about this city. In the space of a short time on the Port Hope highway last evening, six such cars were observed and also three on the Lakefield road. Most of the defective headlights were on the side of the cars next the traffic. Such cars are a great menace to other motors, as proper judgment in meeting is difficult.

FIREMEN HAVE TWO RUNS.

At 9 o'clock Saturday evening the firemen received a call to the Canadian General Electric outildings, where an overheated coil had ignited some wax. T. Matthews, a night watchman, was burned about the arms and face and first aid was rendered by members of the department before a doctor arrived. No property damage was caused by the fire.

The department also had a run at 5.34 Saturday afternoon to 420 Chambers Street to look after some overheated pipes. No damage was done.

LIGHT WONDERS APPEAR.

Citizens last night were treated to a display of the northern lights. The night was cool and seemed to be just such a night on which the aurea borcalis would perform — which they did in a minor way.

CRUISER IS BACK.

Alice III. of Cincinnati, that 65 mahogany cruiser which attracted so much attention at Little Lake Wharf last week, returned to the city over the week-end.

ANOTHER POPULAR SPOT.

Bewdley was the mecca for many motorists yesterday. Cars were parked all along the highway, and the tourist camp was crowded, while the lake attracted many bathers and boat enthusiasts.

OBITUARY

THOMAS FOSTER.

After a brief illness of less than two weeks, Thomas Foster, foreman of the tin shop of the Canadian General Electric Company, died at his home, 287 Park street, on Saturday evening. He was born in Port Hope 72 years ago, a son of John and Ellen Foster, but for many years has been a citizen of Peterborough and for thirty-four years had been a faithful employee of the C.G.E. Company. As an evidence of his interest in his work it was recently recalled that he had been late only twice in his long association with the C. G. E. Co.

Thomas Foster is survived by seven daughters, Mrs. M. Williston, Mrs. C. Chapman, Mrs. G. Mein, and Mrs. T. Miller of Peterborough; Mrs. F. Durieu, Mrs. P. Burkhart and Mrs. A. T. Lumley of Toronto, and one son,Richard Foster of Chicago; also two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Young, and Mrs. J. Stevens of Toronto, and one nephew, John Foster of this city.

Mr. Foster's wife predeceased him 13 years ago.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, 287 Park street, on Tuesday at 2 p.m., to the Little Lake cemetery. Rev. G. J. Bousfield will conduct the services in the absence of Rev. J. D. Paterson, Rector of All Saints' church, of which Mr. Foster was a member.

Mr. Foster's illness became apparent about two weeks ago, requiring him to remain at his home, and about a week ago his condition became acute in spite of every medical attention that could be given. His death will be deeply regretted by a host of friends in Peterborough, especially by his associates of the C. G. E. Company, who had known him these many years in the daily companionship of the shop.

ALBERT NICHOLLS

Albert Nicholls died at his home 909 Water street yesteray afternoon after an illness of over a year. He was in his fifty-ninth year.

The late Mr. Nicholls was born in Manchester, England, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Nicholls. He came here eighteen years ago from Scotland where he and his family had resided for eight years previously. In this city he has been a clerk in the DeLaval Company for the past twelve years and identified with several musical organizations as well as being a member of the Masonic Order. He was organist at different times in Mark street, St. James' and Park Street Churches and was in several orchestras in the city.

His sorrowing wife and three sons and five daughters survive him.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence to Little Lake Cemetery conducted by Rev. J. L. Harton of Park street Baptist church.

Bisley Camp, England, July 15 — (Canadian Press Cable.) — The only one out of hundreds of competitors to achieve the highest possible score, Walter J. WANTED A MOTHER

"A baby, who wants him, the darling?
So dimpled and cunning and sweet
As pure as an angel in heaven
From his wee little head to his feet.

"What's that, Mrs. Brown, you're too busy?
Yes, bridge takes one's time, so I've heard.
But you, Mrs. Green—hear him laughing—
The sweetest thing ever you heard.

"You're afraid that he'd be a trouble
And might turn out badly some day?
Sure, babies will always need minding,
But who wouldn't have them that way?

"Of course he may wake you at midnight,
He'll be wanting his bottle, the dear?
But as for his turning out badly,
He'll never do that, don't you fear.

"For a child will be just what you make him
Just feel of his wee dimpled hand—
She's gone, baby dead — selfish creature—
And she with a house on the Strand.

"Ah well, perhaps it is better,
'Tis not riches you're needing, but love;
Sure, Jesus Himself has been homeless
And isn't He watching above?

"So I know there is somebody waiting
With a heartful of love, warm and true,
And a mother who's aching to cherish
A bonnie wee laddie like you."

ARGUE—HUSK.

At two o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, July 13th, a quiet but pretty wedding took place in the parsonage of the United Church at 119 Spadina Road, Toronto, the Rev. Dr. Travel officiating, when Hazel Gertrude, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Husk of Cavan, became the bride of Cecil Argue, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Argue of Bethany.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a pretty dress of blue georgette trimmed with Chantilly lace, beige picture hat and matching slippers and hose. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and maidenhair fern.

After the ceremony, Mr. Argue and his bride left for a visit to the home of the bridegroom's parents and the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Melville Handley of Ida, before taking a trip east. On their return, they will live in Toronto.

DEXTER—REYNOLDS

Mr. Dexter, or "Happy Jack", as he was generally known, added much to the gaiety of Old Home Week, by his genial personality and the manner in which he contributed to the joy of life for all and sundry during his brief stay here. The citizens will look forward with interest to his return, with his bride, for the Fall Fair week.

plantation alone some 100 trees were down. Financial ruin had come to many in a few hours, for the people lost not only their crops but their trees, requiring years to restore condition to normal. Yet the fruit men showed a wonderful spirit in facing the situation. Not a man pulled out, but all steadfastly set about restoring their houses to order with the result that this year there will be a fruit crop from Porto Rico again.

The speaker told of one man whose crop had been shipped before the disaster. The prices of fruit rapidly climbed after the storm, resulting in an extra profit to this planter on his shipment of $30,000, which he immediately placed at the disposal of other fruit men hard hit by the hurricane. Rotarian Brown also paid a tribute to the wonderful work done by the Red Cross following the disaster.

EARLY ADVANCE IN WHEAT MART FAILS TO HOLD IN HEAVY TRADING

Bull Forces Gain Control When Winnipeg Market Opens

GAINS WIPED OUT

Traders Eager To Realize On Their Large Profit Recently Made

WINNIPEG, Man., July 16 (Canadian Press).—The bull forces gained control of the Winnipeg wheat market again to-day, sending values soaring 2 1-8c to 7 1-8c above Monday's closing marks.

New season high marks were recorded in all months at the opening. The July future was 5 1-8c to 7 1-8c higher at $1.73 to $1.74; October, 4 3-8c to 2½c higher at $1.65 to $1.61½ and December, 2 1-8c to 4¼c higher at $1.58 to $1.60.

The prairie wheat fields are still in need of rain and in some cases farmers declare moisture would be too late now to save the wheat. The bulls used the continued dry weather over the West as their weapon to drive wheat prices higher this morning. Trading was extremely heavy.

The early advance was short lived, however, when a flood of offerings hit the pit. Profit-taking soon wiped out the gains and at eleven o'clock the market was 2 1-8 cents to 3 cents lower, with the July future selling at 1.64¾, October 1.56½, and December 1.52¾.

Traders were eager to realize on their large profits accumulated during the rise of the last few days, and the market soon reversed its position.

Cobourg M.O.H. On Stand To-day Charged With Wounding 18-Year-Old-Girl

CHIEF GIVES EVIDENCE

COBOURG, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—Dr. George H. Field, Cobourg Medical Health Officer, defended by Arthur Slaght, K.C., Col. F. G. Boggs and G. B. McColl, began a fight in county court here to-day against charges of assault, unlawful discharge of firearms, causing a public disturbance and unlawful wounding.

Dr. Field was arrested June 17, three days after Alice Earle, 18 had been shot in the hip while passing the Doctor's residence. Dr. Field is alleged to have fired the shot that wounded Miss Earle, in the midst of an altercation with his wife.

When Miss Earle, first witness, was describing how she was shot, Defence

Prisoner Is Punished Before Given Sentence

LONDON, Ont., July 16. — Last night for the second time within a few weeks, bed bugs, occupants of the Carling street police station cells, attacked a prisoner. The case reported this morning was even worse than the one previously reported. On this latest occasion the prisoner was too disabled to appear in city court, and was ordered taken to his home under the care of a physician.

Both his eyes were almost completely closed, and his arms and legs swollen to almost double their normal size, when police officers visited the cells this morning prior to bringing the prisoner, who was charged with driving while drunk, into the courtroom.

HEALTH BOARD TO TAKE ACTION

Investigation Reveals Only Fifty Percent of Owners Have Sanitary Conveniences

CITY HAS CLEAN BILL

Property owners on those streets in East City that have had sewers laid through them recently must install sanitary conveniences this summer was the decision reached at a brief meeting of the Board of Health held this morning. Mayor Denne said that the city had gone to the expense of laying the sewers in answer to a petition and it was only fair that these houseolders should now be obliged to take their share in raising the standard of sanitation.

The subject came up when C. S. Stapleton, sanitary inspector, reported, after investigation, that less than fifty percent of the residents of James, Moira, Mark and Rogers streets had made sewer connections. Notices will be sent out immediately informing these residents that they must install conveniences immediately.

Clean Bill Of Health

Dr. Young reported a fairly clean bill of health for the city. At the present time, he said, there were three cases of chickens pox and one of mumps. The report of the Isolation Hospital showed that although there have been twelve cases of contagious diseases admitted during the month, there have been no deaths, and eight have been sent home.

A complaint was received concerning sanitary conditions of the homes

Thousands of workers paraded the streets of Moscow until early to-day, displaying huge red banners and marching to brass bands blaring forth revolutionary airs. The banners and the streamers flaunted slogans demanding a determined stand against "Chinese Fascists."

Promise to Defend Country.

There was a heavy rain, but it did not deter the marchers, many of whom were soldiers. In the parks and plazas Communist speakers made inflammatory speeches calling for punishment of the "Manchurian militarists." Workers in the audience replied with testimonials of willingness to "take up arms in defence of the social fatherland."

PEKING, China, July 16 (Canadian Press).—Messages received here through foreign sources to-day said 2,000 Russian troops had crossed the Great Black River near Blagoveschensk, Siberia, last Monday, and a few days later attacked and destroyed a Chinese river steamer. Chinese soldiers were sent to repel the invaders. Another Harbin report said that 70 armored motor cars and a hundred armored motor cycles have been sent to the Western frontier.

The messages were said to have emanated from Chinese sources in Harbin and Changchun.

A censored telegram to-day from the Associated Press correspondent at Harbin, Manchuria, indicated Russian troop movements toward the

WITNESS TELLS GRAPHIC STORY OF PLANE CRASH

Kabula And Villagers Fight Flames Vainly To Save Dying Pilot

LEGS BROKEN AND CAUGHT

Body of Gallant Flyer Taken Home On Schoolship For Burial

HORTA, Azores, July 16 (Canadian Press).—The Polish school ship Iskra, carrying Major Casimir Kubala and the body of his transatlantic companion, Major Ludwik Idzikowski, arrived in Horta from the Island of Gracioss shortly after noon to-day.

Major Casimir Kubala painfully injured himself, tried in vain to rescue his comrade, Major Ludwik Idzikowski, from their burning plane, the Marshal Piksudski, when it crashed in Gracioss Island Saturday night in ending a transatlantic venture.

The first complete account of the disastrous termination of the two Polish flyers' brilliant attempt to fly from Le Bourget to New York was given to the Associated Press to-day by an eye-witness, one of those who sought to save the lives of both airmen.

Eye-witness' Story.

His narrative revealed that both Kubala and Idzikowski were found strapped inside their plane, which was upside down in a corn field, near the village of Santa Cruz. Idzikowski's legs appeared to be broken, and so pinioned beneath him he could not be extracted from the cabin before the gasoline tanks exploded and set the plane afire.

Those attempting the rescue believed he was already dead when finally the advancing flames made them desist. Kubala, who had become slightly dazed with fumes from the gasoline tank, which had been opened to permit dumping, attempted to rush into the cabin, a virtual cauldron of flame, for one last effort, but the crowd held him back.

Major Idzikowski's body was not removed from the plane until daybreak Sunday, a military guard standing by all night. A ceremonious funeral was given it Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., the entire island's civil and miliary population following the coffin to a special vault.

REV. GREATRIX IS LAID TO REST IN LITTLE LAKE

Rev. David Wren Conducts Service At House And Church

TRIBUTE IS PAID

Funeral Service Is Held In St. James' United Church

Mourned by a host of sorrowing friends who gathered to pay their last respects to one whom they had known as a true friend in all ways, Rev. Benjamin Gardener Greatrix, widely known and former pastor of St. James' United Church, was laid to rest in Little Lake Cemetery yesterday. St. James' Church, in which the service was held, was well filled with local friends of the deceased and representatives from his former circuits, and the funeral ceremonies were conducted amidst a wealth of floral offerings that spoke highly of the esteem in which he was held in this community and others in which he conducted his work.

Pall-bearers were R. J. Kidd, Dr. M. Morrison, Thomas Brown, Charles Kitney, E. Kitney and A. Prest.

Honorary pall-bearers were Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, Rev. Dr. A. I. Brown, Rev. A. Thornley, Rev. Dr. Moore and Rev. A. Going.

At 2.30 a private service was held in the residence of the deceased by Rev. David Wren, assisted by Rev. Henry Manning. The funeral cortege then proceeded to St. James' Church, where Rev. Mr. Wren presided, assisted by Rev. J. Dudgeon, Rev. William McDonald, Rev. Henry Manning, and Rev. Richard Bamforth.

In conducting the service, Rev. David Wren, pastor of Trinity United Church, gave a resume of the life of the late Mr. Greatrix. He spoke of the man and his work as a minister for more than fifty years of the church, commenting on the fact that it was very fitting that the funeral services should be conducted in St. James' Church, the building of which was the crowning achievement of his work as a minister. It was during his closing ministry that this splendid church had been erected.

Reference was made to the mission spirit of the deceased. He was a great advocate of missionary work, the speaker said, and on every circuit on which he served and in every year of his active ministerial work, missionary contributions showed a marked increase.

Rev. Mr. Wren spoke of the deceased as a wise counsellor and a splendid administrator. The church, he continued, soon recognizing these gifts, placed upon him responsibilities and he served in his day almost every office in the sphere of the church. His success was especially remarkable in view of the fact that he had few advantages in his early life, and took his first lesson in grammar in his twenty-seventh year. By study and hard work he became a splendid preacher. Honored by his fellow-men he left behind a record of faithfulness and fidelity that will make him long remembered.

Rev. Mr. Bamforth, a life-long friend, spoke very feelingly of his intimate relations with the Rev. Mr. Greatrix and his family. He referred to him in simple but effective words as a good man that had accomplished good work.

Eight Marksmen Picked From Canadian Bisley Team Recapture Trophy

LEAD THROUGHOUT

Had Margin Of Thirty-Three Points Over Mother Country

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 16 (By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).— Canada won the Imperial Kolapore Cup this afternoon. Eight marksmen picked from the Canadian Bisley team recaptured the famous trophy Canada had lost in 1928, by a margin of 33 points over the Mother Country, with India, Guernsey, and Jersey following in that order.

The standing of the five contesting countries at the 300 yard distance, first of three ranges, was: Canada, 360; Mother Country, 342; India, 336; Guernsey, 333; Jersey, 325.

The Canadian team increased its lead to 26 points over the Mother Country when the second of the three distances in the shoot. India, Guernsey, and Jersey followed the two leaders.

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 16.—(By Thos. T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—In brilliant sunshine, with the heat tempered by a breeze that was fortunately not strong enough to make shooting difficult, teams from Canada, the Mother Country, India, Guernsey and Jersey to-day shot for the Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Challenge Cup, one of the two greatest team events of the National Rifle Association's Empire meeting.

Lost Cup Last Year

The eight men selected from the Canadian Bisley Team to try to recapture the cup for Canada, whose team lost it last year to the Mother Country, were as follows:—Capt. J. T. Steele, Guelph; Sgt. J. W. Sharpe, Montreal; Pte. M. G. Collings, Esquimault, B.C.; Sgt. J. H. Retran, Victoria; Lieut. Desmond Burke, Ottawa; Company Sgt.-Majors G. M. Emslie and A. C. Lucas, Toronto, and Sgt. H. Rusk, of Ottawa.

The teams fired at 300, 500 and 600 yards, 10 shots for each man at each range. All teams shot better at 500 yards than at the first distance. Canada totalled 369 to make their two-third aggregate 729. The Mother Country increased their score to 361, for an aggregate of 703. India totalled 354 for an aggregate of 690. Guernsey totalled 310 for an aggregate of 683, and Jersey was last with a 100 yard total of 349 for an aggregate of 674.

Private Collings and Company Sergt.-Major Lucas turned in five scores of 48 out of a possible 50 at 500 yards. Captain Steele followed with 47. Sgt. Regan and Sgt. Sharpe scored 46. Lieut. Burke and Sgt. Rusk scored 45, and Company Sergt.-Major Emslie 44.

FRENCH-CANADIAN IS TYPICAL SETTLER IN NORTHERN ONTARIO

16,000,000 Acres Of Fertile Land Await Hard Workers

QUEBEC HAS SURPLUS

OSHAWA, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The French-Canadian of Quebec is the logical person to settle the large areas of northern Ontario, said W. E. N. Sinclair, Ontario Liberal leader, speaking before members of the local Rotary Club yesterday. Development of the northern part of the province was the keynote of Mr. Sinclair's address and the possibilities of agriculture there were particularly stressed.

There are 16,000,000 acres of fertile land waiting for development, he said. On much of this there were still forests to be cut, but the land is very fertile and, despite the short growing season, growth of vegetation was rapid, so that the north had fine prospects from an agricultural viewpoint.

The French-Canadian, said Mr. Sinclair, is used to hard work, to clearing forests, and to the loneliness which goes with pioneer effort. Quebec has a surplus of people and the logical movement for them would be the vacant spaces of northern Ontario. Of course, others could go in and carry on the work of development.

Mr. Sinclair then touched upon the mining industry of the north, on the timber resources and the possibilities of the iron ore industry.

Karl was arrested, and in prison changed his mind and promised to marry her on her recovery. Her recovery was amazing, and was largely due to quick work by Constable Byers. Charges against both were withdrawn after the wedding ceremony to-day.

SWEDISH PRINCESS ENDS ROYAL VISIT

Has Name Linked With Prince's As Future Bride, During Stay

LONDON, July 16 (Canadian Press) —Princess Ingrid of Sweden left London to-day for her Stockholm home quietly and unostentatiously after two months of the social whirl of this capital's Royal and diplomatic circle.

During the time she was here her name often was linked with that of the Prince of Wales as a possible future bride of the British heir.

The Princess Marchioness of Milford Haven, who travelled with her to-day and one or two members of her suite, took a first-class compartment, no salon reservation being made.

While waiting at the train the blonde Princess, who wore a navy blue suit with close fitting hat to match, strolled up and down the platform smoking.

WATER SHORTAGE IS WORRYING ENGLAND

Many Cities Forced To Carry Supply Long Distances

LONDON, July 16 (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—All over England the water supplies are again running low. Continued drought has brought many cities to the brink of serious shortage. Manchester has only 30 days' supply left, and at Hull the water in the wells is about 20 feet below normal. In the hill districts of Kent water is being taken by cart for considerable distances to fill both farm and domestic requirements.

Several deaths from the heat have been reported in the north of England. The express from London to Carlisle had to pull up in Westmoreland County yesterday the fireman being overcome by the heat.

Yesterday was St. Swithin's Day, and, according to the old rhyme:

"St. Swithin's Day, if it be fair,

"UNTIN" BOWLERS CREW DUE FOR VACATION ON HUDSON BAY

No Ships Calling In That Neighborhood For Some Time

SEALING SHIP ONLY HOPE

OTTAWA, Ont., July 16 (Canadian Press). — It is altogether likely that the crew of the "Untin" Bowler, the Chicago Tribune's Sikorsky amphibian sesquiplane which was smashed in the ice at Port Burwell, on the Hudson Straits, yesterday, will have a long wait before a ship calls to take them off.

Neither the Department of Marine and Fisheries nor the North-West Territories Branch of Department of the Interior have any ships in the neighborhood. The Beothic, sealing ship of the latter department, which leaves for the Arctic within a few days, will not go near Port Burwell. it was stated here yesterday, although it was intimated that it might be sent specially to pick up the three stranded Americans, Bob Gast, Parker D. Cramer and Robert Wood if representations were made to the Government.

Present Rise In Price of Wheat Is Not Expected To Affect Bread Prices In City

Peterborough citizens for a while need not be alarmed that the rising prices of wheat caused by the drought in the Prairie Provinces resulting in pessimistic crop forecasts, will cause the price of bread to rise in this city.

Two of the local bakeries assured The Examiner this morning that conditions would remain the same as they have been for some time in this city. When asked about the likely increase in the price of Toronto bread and the reason for that which a Toronto paper attributes to the rising wheat market, and if this was so why it had not affected Peterborought, it was explained that the situation in Toronto was purely a local one and that the bakers of that city were waging a war of cut throat competition among themselves, which resulted in prices being lowered to the minimum, and so when the rising wheat market caught them at the lower prices they had no margin to work on, which will likely force them to increase the price of bread in Toronto.

Endurance Flyers, Broke at the Start, Are Going On Stage at $3,000 a Week

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—Eleven days ago when Loren Mendell, an airplane pilot, stepped into the cockpit of a second-hand biplane to start an edurance flight which lasted into the eleventh day, his shoes were worn through.

There had been no money to half-sole them, for every half dollar, dime and quarter that the thirty-year-old pilot had in the world had gone into the reconditioning of the second-hand plane he owned in partnership with Roland ("Pete") Reinhart, who was just as broke as Mendell.

To-day the same two pilots awoke in the Presidential suite in the downtown Biltmore Hotel and found themselves awaited by droves of obsequious strangers.

Half a dozen contracts were pushed in the faces of the pair, who came down after setting a mark of ten days, six hours, forty-three minues and thirty-two seconds of sustained flight. They accepted an offer from the Fox West Coast Theatres to appear on the stage for the next several weeks. They signed up on a percentage basis, backed by a guarantee of $3,000 a week. For several weeks they will make between $5,000 and $7,500 a week from their stage work.

FINE WEATHER AIDS HAYING

Bumper Crop Is Reported In Most Parts Of Ontario

FALL WHEAT TURNING

TORONTO, Ont., July 16 (Canadian Press). — Fine weather of last week enabled farmers to make good progress with their haying, which will be a bumper crop in most parts of the province, says the weekly report of the Ontario Agricultural Department issued yesterday.

Heavy grains early last week, coupled with the hot weather of the latter part, proved exceptionally favorable for all spring crops and fall wheat. The latter, says the report, is commencing to turn, and in some sections will be ready to harvest in a few days. Barley and oats are heading out.

In Essex County a field of rye and a field of fall wheat have been cut, and cutting of both crops will be general by the end of this week. The tobacco crop is looking good, and sugar beets give promise of a bumper yield.

The fruit districts report that apples are setting well, but that years and plums will be light. Cherries are now ready to pick, and will be a good crop.

Gradually Sank With Plane

Gallant Scottish Immigrant Utters No Cry As He Is Pulled Below

COMPANION WORKS HARD

All Tools Are Broken In Effort To Free Man Caught In Wreckage

TORONTO, Ont., July 16 (C.P.).—A remarkable, thrilling story of the manner in which Alexander Morrison, Scottish immigrant employee of the Hudson's Bay Company, met slow death when the Dominion treaty airplane plunged into Lake St. Joseph on July 4, was told yesterday by J. George Rutherford, Provincial photographer, first eye-witness of the tragedy to come out of the north.

Morrison, Rutherford said, was caught by his feet when the plane crashed into the water, but seemingly was unhurt. He was fully conscious and met his death bravely while his companions worked vainly to free him.

Made No Outcry

Even as his chin touched the surface of the lake, while the plane sank steadily downward, notwithstanding almost superhuman efforts to free him, Morrison had no words for his companions. Now and then a wave slapped across his face and sent water down his throat. Still not outcry was forced from him as he felt the unrelenting downward tug of the sinking plane. First his lips were in the water, then his nose, and then, silent, stoic—he disappeared as the great passenger plane plunged beneath the surface to the bottom 55 feet below.

His companions worked relentlessly to free him and broke three axes in their efforts. As each of the tools which might mean his life was broken, Morrison's eyes mutely expressed to those who battled, his confidence that they were doing all that could be done.

Mr. Rutherford said his companions stood up in big Indian canoes and endeavored with all their strength to hold up the plane and release Morrison. His body was recovered in two days.

Morrison's body was buried in an Indian cemetery. His brother, employed by the Hudson's Bay Company at Savant Lake, intends to bring it out by dog sleigh to Winnipeg next winter if the family desires.

PLENTY OF REAPERS THIS YEAR FOR WEST

No Immigration Needed for Great Western Crops

WINNIPEG, Man., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—Canada will not press for imigration at present owing to the fact there is nearly sufficient help in the West this year to harvest the crops, according to Hon. Robert Forke. The Minister of Immigration, accompanied by his Deputy, R. J. Egan, arrived in Winnipeg Saturday night.

They have come West to confer with Government officials of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba in regard to employment conditions in the Western Provinces that have direct bearing upon the welfare of Canadian immigrants.

They left for Regina and Calgary on Sunday, and will return to Winnipeg in about two weeks to confer with Premier John Bracken and members of the Manitoba Government.

BOY IN FLAMES

Both Fell In Lake As Blazing Can Of Gas Was Thrown Overboard

CHATHAM, Ont., July 16 (Canadian Press). — Treading water while gasoline flames seethed around them scorching their hair and eyebrows, Jack Bresnehan, 17-year-old son of a Detroit lawyer, kept the head of his 16-year-old companion, Bud Smith, above the surface of Rondeau Bay for more than 15 minutes until rescue arrived.

Bresnahan to-day is the hero of the little summer community of Erieau, where he is visiting with the Smith family. Pittsburg residents who own a cottage on the shores of the bay.

On Sunday the two boys had gone for a short cruise in an outboard motor boat. Some distance from the shore the gasoline tank ran dry, and the younger boy set to work to replenish it from a five-gallon emergency can. INDIANS HOLD REAL POWWOW

Capt. Maxwell Says Money Doesn't Last Long With Indian

EVERYONE CELEBRATES

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.—(C.P.).—The money carried by Canadian Government Officials in their treaty making flight with Indians of the Patricia District in Northern Ontario did not stay in the hands of the Indians for long, said Captain Roy Maxwell, Ontario Air Service Director, who returned from Sioux Lookout to-day.

With native recklessness, the Indians spent their treaty money almost as quickly as they got it from the Government officials, Captain Maxwell said. At Trout Lake, a trading post had some 1,200 pounds of merchandise shipped in by plane before the treaty officials arrived.

On the day of the payment there was a big bargain sale at the store," he said. "In a few hours you could hardly hear yourself speak around the camp house for noise. They bought mouth organs and small phonographs and played them continuously. The squaws purchased colored shawls and beads, the braves sported new sweaters, and every child in the tribe was loaded with candy. The money did not last long."

Treaty money was paid to 577 Indians at Trout Lake. The total amout was $4,616.

$175,000 FIRE IN HAMILTON

Two Workmen Have Close Call When Seed Store Is Detroyed

FIREMEN OFF

HAMILTON, Ont., July 16 (C.P.).—Hoisted by a freight elevator into the midst of the fire, two men were forced to smash the gates and leap for safety from flames, which later, gutted the upper portion of a seed store on King and McNab streets yesterday. The loss is estimated at $175,000 to this structure and to a stationery store adjoining.

For a time an entire business section was threatened by the flames, which gave firemen an anxious 45 minutes before brought under control. Half the members of the department were attending a picnic by special permission.

Loss to the seed store building is estimated at $35,000 and to the stock, $100,000. The entire amount is covered by insurance. Stock loss to the stationery store amounted to $45,000. Slight damage was also done to offices of other concerns adjoining.

H. Vanswen, Ancaster, and George Blades, Hamilton, discovered the blaze. They were on their way to the top floor in a freight elevator when it suddenly stopped. Before they noticed the flames overhead they had been carried into the thick of the fire.

The fire originated in the elevator motor, it is said. There was much inflammable material stored on the top floor and the fire made short work of this and soon burned through the roof, which collapsed. The flames then leaped high in the air and carried by a strong wind threatened nearby buildings until brought under control.

POPE HOLDS CONSISTORY

One New Cardinal is Created at First Secret Gathering of Year.

MORE TO FOLLOW

VATICAN CITY, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—Pope Pius held his first secret consistory of the year yesterday in the consistorial hall of the Vatican palace. But one new cardinal was raised to the purple, Father Defonso Schuster, abbott of the famous Basilica of St. Paul's outside the walls.

His Holiness indicated in his brief remarks to the assemblage of cardinals that there would be more cardinals created at next December's consistory. Cardinal Schuster will receive his episcopal consecration next Sunday, at the hands of the Pope himself, and will later be inducted as archbishop of Milan.

No allocution was delivered, contrary to reports which have been current for some time that there would be one dealing with settlement of the Roman question. The Pope said: "Certain events transpired with which we shall deal later on in the year."

This was taken to mean the pontiff would treat of the new relations with Italy and the Holy See in an encyclical before long.

AUTOMOBILE RADIO PROVES A SUCCESS

Stronger Stations Come in Fine In Auto, Claims Mr. Imming

F. Imming, a radio enthusiast in the city, has developed a set for use in an automobile, and has installed it in his car where he operates it with great satisfaction. The set is a seven-tube outfit designed by Mr. Imming for the express purpose of using it in an automobile. All connections and mountings have been made flexible, cutting breakage possibilities to a minimum. It is the fourth set designed by Mr. Imming for such a purpose.

The aerial is strung along the ceiling of the car and the "A" battery power is obtained from the car's storage battery. The radio is able to bring in an extensive selection of the stronger stations of the continent.

The owner has discovered a novel use for the outfit. In using it to "shoot" trouble in cars. If an automobile motor is out of order, the ignition can be tested by operating the motor near the radio. Any irregularity in the ignition can be detected as the sounds of the individual spark plugs can be heard in the loud speaker.

LONDON, July 16.—(By the Canadian Press).—Miss Eleanor Rathbone, the last woman to be elected to the new Parliament, represents the combined English Universities. Her candidature was conducted on non-party lines, Miss Rathbone maintaining that representatives of Universities should hold an independent position. Miss Rathbone has worthily upheld the traditions of service for the common good which so many past members of her family have maintained in Liverpool and in Lancashire and Yorkshire generally. At Somerville College, Oxford, where she would have graduated in 1896 had graduation then been possible for any woman, she enjoyed the reputation of ing a profound thinker on metaphysical subjects. She turned to practical twentieth century matters on leaving college, though, working in close cooperation with her father in his many social activities in Liverpool. In 1907 she became a member of Liverpool City Council, and some years later a county magistrate. In 1922 she became an independent Parliamentary candidate in East Toxteth, and polled nearly 10,000 votes in this great Conservative stronghold of Liverpool.

To the long tale of her achievements, Miss Rathbone adds that indefinable personal quality which wins respect and admiration not only from friends, but from the opponents that every man or woman of strong individual views must inevitably encounter. She has always kept clear of party affiliations, so that the vote which has returned her as Independent Member for the combined Universities is entirely a personal tribute. There can be few women in this or any other country who deserve such a tribute more.

KILLED BY STREET CAR.

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.—Walking directly in front of a street car on Avenue Road here last night, Mrs. Louisa West, 65-year-old widow, was instantly killed. Mrs. West walked in front of a stationary northbound car and seemingly did not notice the approach of another car from the south. Six witnesses absolved the motorman of any blame. An inquest will be held.

CAR SMASHED IN COLLISION

AT CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD, July 16.—(Examiner Staff Correspondence) — Things happened at the corner of Rear and Bridge streets yesterday afternoon about five o'clock when a county gravel truck and a farmer's touring car came to grief. The touring car suffered the worst of the two. It was struck on the right side at the rear wheel, the fender was badly bent and the right rear wheel demolished in the skid before both cars stopped. William Miller, the owner of the touring car said he had just left the front of Stephens and Clark's feed store and had the rear of his car loaded with chop. He made a wide turn to go north on Rear street and the truck caught the rear of his car just when he was almost entirely off the intersection.

For some time there has been a feeling in certain circles that the truck drivers have been driving too fast and are inclined to disregard to a certain extent, the rules of safety. At one time there was a complaint laid before the town council. The trucks are engaged in hauling from the pit at the north end of the west side of the town to the country road work in the township.

TILBURY FARMER KILLED

WINDSOR, Ont., July 16.—Pierre Oriet, 52, North Tilbury farmer, bailiff and former township treasurer, received fatal injuries yesterday in an automobile accident on the highway near Coomber. He died at his home an hour later.

He had been in charge of a machine which collided with a car driven by J. Montgomery, Detroit. A young grandson who was riding with him escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

POLICE COMMENDED

TORONTO, Ont., July 16—A coroner's jury investigating the death of Joseph Banacyak, Toronto, struck by a motor car as he alighted from a trolley on July 1, yesterday found William Milligan, Hamilton, driver of the car, guilty of negligence.

Attached to the jury's verdict was a recommendation that faulty motor cars be prevented from operating in the province. The close inspection by Toronto police of machines with defective brakes was also commended.

WHEN A CHILD IS FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

STRAIGHT FROM PARIS

THE STYLE No. 2838 illustrates what smart folks are now doing with attractive cotton prints. A perfectly charming effect is obtained in the new tones of capucine in printed voile. The becoming scarf collar that ties in knot at back with loose ends, and girdle, use plain voile in deepest tone of print. The kerchief tunic creates lively softness and fluttering fullness, without detracting from its slenderness. Dimity, printed rajah silk, chiffon in floral print, georgette crepe in pastel shade and printed crepe de chine will make up interestingly.

THE PATTERN has a picture chart that helps you make it in the least time possible, if you are an experienced sewer. It's most amusing for the beginner who is amazed at the construction guide that explains everything so perfectly. It is designed in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust, and is offered at cost price, 15 cents, as a sverice to readers who sew.

NEW SUMMER FASHION BOOK is just filled with Paris and New York styles attractively presented and cleverly adapted for the use of home sewers. A book far superior to all previous issues. Price 15 cents, but may be obtained for 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

No matter what his rank or position may be, the lover of books is the richest and the happiest of the children of men.

—Langford.

* * * * * * *

How far behind in the world we would be without reading! Not all of us are able to travel to the ends of the earth to see things for ourselves, so reading is the next best thing.

* * * * * * *

And then when we read of something which is of particular interest to us, we may ponder over it, devour it and re-read it until the very picture is outstanding in our minds. But when we travel, so many sights are brought to our eyes, we are unable to catch a complete picture of them to carry away with us to ponder when we are far away.

* * * * * * *

So I believe reading is a very fortunate substitute for us to have!

* * * * * * *

I remember when I first visited Niagara Falls, I had read about it, had seen picture upon picture of it until it took the real pleasure out of my visit, for it looked just exactly as in the picture.

* * * * * * *

I guess it is something like reading a play and then going to see it, I have always been told to see the play before reading the book, otherwise I would be disappointed, because it is very rarely given in exact form as in the book. So in travelling, when you read of something which you have seen first and thoroughly enjoyed, you are brought back to the time when you visited that place and enjoy once again all the pleasant scenery and companionship of your friends who visited there with you.

* * * * * * *

Longfellow says if you once understand an author's character, the comprehensions of his writings becomes easy.

* * * * * * *

* * * * * * *

I noticed in reading the Women's Page before Old Home Week that all of the neighbors were real enthusiastic about it. There surely were many home for part of the week at least who had never visited Peterborough since their departure.

* * * * * * *

You noticed, too, didn't you how well they boosted Peterborough? Almost everyone had a good word for our fair city, even those who were unable to attend the celebrations, sent messages to Mayor Denne or Mr. Dobbin wishing the event much success. You see they were thinking of the good time those of us who were here were having!

* * * * * * *

One would travel many miles to find another place as pretty as Peterborough just now. Confederation Square has taken on new beauty, and many people find recreation on the fine green of Victoria Park.

* * * * * * *

Boost Peterborough—you probably noticed during the parade on the first of July, the number of cars here from Rochester. They boost their city by calling it the Flower City, but I am sure they haven't any more beautiful flowers than we have right here in Peterborough.

The Mayor of Vancouver issued a request not long ago that every citizen wear a flower in honor of the city. Why could we not do the same for Peterborough? I know quite a number of business men who very rarely leave their home in the morning without a boutonniere.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Gawley have returned to their home from holidaying at "Kare Free."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palmateer of Tampa, Florida, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gardiner and family of Norwood were Thursday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Ward.

Mrs. S. J. Dolman of Campbellford and daughter, Mrs. McCormack and little son of Toronto are holidaying at the former's cottage.

POLKA DOTS

The polka dotted print is the most popular single princess design there is. The twin-print, wherein the blouse is of fine polka dots and the skirt reverses the color scheme and increases the size of its dots, is new and smart. The linen and organdy combination in polka dots promises vogue this summer.

NERVES WRECKED— STOMACH A WORRY

Most people have an extra store of sympathy for anyone suffering with "nerves" because — until Tanlac brought health to thousands of sufferers—it was so very hard to do anything to relieve the trouble. Often, women in particular suffer for years with unstrung nerves.

Take the case of Mrs. Martha Singer, 261 Clarence St., London, Ont. "I could not hold a cup of tea in my hand, I trembled so; and had to have someone assist me to cross the street. Many nights, I heard the chimes of St. Paul Cathedral ring out every hour. My stomach bothered me all the time; and I would have splitting headaches for hours at a time. I tried many medicines and treatments, but it was just so much money wasted, until my sister insisted on me trying Tanlac. I felt the very first dose doing me good. After I had taken only four bottles, I felt 30 years younger.

Tanlac is doing this every day, and thousands of men and women proudly give all credit to this wonderful up-building tonic. Remember, Tanlac costs less than 2c a dose—and your money refunded if you are not perfectly satisfied. Get a bottle at your druggist's to-day.

"Dear Marion:

I do not want to add any more to your burden but I would so much like to have a recipe for canning raspberries putting them in jars raw, the quantity of sugar to use and how long to cook them

THE GOAT

(Contributed by "Diana")

I know a man, now please take note,
I know a man who owned a goat,
He loved that goat, indeed he did
He loved that goat just like a kid.

One day that goat grew frisk and fine,
Ate three red shirts right off the line,
The man he grabbed him by the back
And he tied him to the railroad track.

And when the train it hooved in sight
That goat grew green and pale with fright,
He heaved a sigh as if in pain,
Coughed up the shirts and flagged the train.

S-O-S

If you have a problem or want advice or a recipe the neighbors will be glad to help out. Write to Marion, who will present your request.

"Diana" requests a recipe for Raspberry Jam, while "Miss Julian" would like if some neighbor could send in a recipe for canning raspberries, the quantity of sugar, and length of time required for cooking, etc.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

SPEAK SOFTLY

"Sammy and Susan simply will not obey me until I shout."

The reason of course is very clear. Sammy and Susan were trained to the shout. Someone in the family had the queer notion that children hear better if they are shouted at. It is not true. They hear less.

A loud shout frightens a child. His intelligence wavers. He looks from side to side to find a way of escape. If he can get out of sight of the shouting adult, if he can get beyond the powerful voice, he will do so. will hide from the shout. If he cannot, he will bungle and blunder through his performance and then escape. If this shouting is habitual he will never move to obey until the shout comes.

It is always better to speak in a controlled, a gentle, musical voice. If you wanted a tiny little ship to sail to shore you would not beat up the waves and cause a tempest to blow against it? A shouted order from an ill-controlled adult has something of that effect upon a child. Fear sets up a turmoil in the mind of the little one and all intelligent direction is lost. And fear takes hold of that child's mind.

It is a mistake too, to think that a child failed to HEAR what you said the first time because he faced you blankly. The chances are that he heard you with his ears but his mental hearing failed either because what you said was foreign to his experiences or because it was far removed from what he was attending to when you spoke. In either case wait a pleasant instant. Catch the child's eye and gently repeat what you said in simple language. If you shout you are lost. Children's hearing is not sharpened by a shout. It is dulled.

Aside from the very important mental reactions that are concerned here the matter of good breeding must be considered. A well-bred person has first of all a pleasant manner of speaking. His voice is gentle and his speech is clear. His glance is direct and unafraid. He respects himself and other people. But a child who has been shouted at from the beginning will hout in his turn. He will contend the right to be heard above the voices of the others in the room. His manner will not be assured and graceful. Quite the contrary.

Teachers are great offenders in this matter of shouting. It is natural to think that the boy far back in the corner did not hear the direction and natural too, to shout it to him. But it is fatal to good classroom procedure. That far off lad will wait for that shout and the class will follow him to a man.

It is harder to convey a direction to the child in the back seat than to the in the seat next the desk. Distance counts in the flight of a personality. Place the child hardest to reach closest to the teacher. And speak gently at home and abroad. The quiet voice carries the greater power always.

That Body of Yours

(By Jas. W. Barton, M D.)

HOME TREATMENT OF APPENDICITIS DANGEROUS

I wrote once before about Tex Rickard, and how delay in operating for appendicitis means death in so many cases.

This doesn't mean that every case of appendicitis should undergo operation, but it does mean that the patient and his family should put themselves fully in the hands of the family doctor and the surgeon, and if operation is advised, that there is no delay, no questioning about it.

I have spoken before about the dangerous mistake that is made by giving castor oil or other purgatives to a patient with appendix symptoms. Another mistake is taking drugs, such as morphine or pain killers where there are appendix symptoms.

Your doctor will tell you that this relieves the pain and takes some of the stiffness or rigidity out of the abdominal wall over the appendix.

Now it is this pain and this rigidity that tell the exact condition of things to the doctor, and if they are interfered with by the drug then the condition can be growing worse all the time and the doctor will not be able to recognize it.

Another mistake that has been made at times is the use of the ice bag over the appendix during an attack.

After the ice bag has been used for a few hours it likewise takes the stiffness or rigidity out of the abdominal wall and the doctor can be mislead as to the severity of the condition.

As mentioned once before, when you have an attack of appendicitis nature attempts to "wall off" the appendix from injury, to make a sort of "splint" about it, by stiffening the abdominal wall. And the more rigid this wall is, as the doctor taps or presses against it with his fingers, the more severe is the inflammation underneath. Hence the big mistake of using drugs or an ice bag to "soften" the wall and mislead the doctor.

As you know in most cases abdominal pain is due to distention from gas, and simple home remedies are usually all that is necessary.

However, in a case of abdominal pain that persists, don't take any chances but see your physician. Let him take the responsibility; that is his work.

Y.W.C.A. CAMP

The past week has witnessed stirring times at the Y.W.C.A. Camp at Eagle Mount, Stoney Lake, when approximately forty 'teen age girls made up the guest list, the visitors coming from Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough, and Millbrook. This was known as C.G.I.T. Week, and as far as possible each day's program was planned to emphasize one phase of the four-fold ideal—Cherish health, seek truth, know God, and serve others ,the ultimate development aimed at being: "By His help to become the girl He would have me be."

Miss Leta Brownscombe, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., Peterborough, is in charge of the camp, and is very popular with her big family, though her duties made heavy demands upon patience and strength and calls are insistent from the rising bell in the morning until the last light is extinguished ,and quiet at length reigns for the night.

Assisting Miss Brownscombe are the leaders of the three groups into which the girls have been divided for study periods — Miss Gertrude Cox and Mrs. D. V. Canning, who are mentors of CGIIT groups in George Street United Church and Knox Church, Peterborough, respectively ,and Miss Pearl Burnham mentor of the Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. group of the United Church, Millbrook.

Appetites are of the healthiest description and Mrs. Thomas Arnott, the camp housekeeper, caters satisfactorily to the hungry crew, who are always ready to fill the tables three times daily when the meal bell rings . Mr. Arnott has charge of the wood supply, the grounds, and the garden, besides many other duties, having had some years' experience as cook for a party of hunters going north each fall; he can give his wife practical help with the catering for the big family at the Y.W.C.A. Camp.

The rising bell rings at 7.30 each morning, the ceremony of flag-raising taking place at 8 o'clock. Morning devotions follow immediately after breakfast, usually at the big rock overooking the lake just to the left of the boathouse, and the girls then disperse to tidy up their rooms. Carp inspection by the camp director, Miss Brownscombe, and her assistant, Miss Cox, then takes place, a pennant being awarded each day for the best-tidied room and for the honor of having it decorating the walls there in keen competition.

The three groups, with their respective leaders, meet at some favorite spot on the grounds from ten to eleven for necessary instruction and discussion under one of the four headings: Physical, intellectual missionary, and devotional. A half-hour then for swimming leaves time for preparation for dinner at twelve o'clock.

Following announcements of the activities planned for afternoon and evening, and dismissal from the tables, there is a daily rest period when for one hour quiet is demanded everywhere throughout the building, this time of relaxation being absolutely necessary ,and in the best interests of all concerned. Tuck shop is a very popular feature of camp life, and is open in the office for fifteen minutes after dinner before a warning tinkle of the bell tells the story that retirement for the rest hour must immediately take plac.

The afternoon program includes games, hikes, swimming, with a trip to Juniper Island for shopping and mail, the use of the boats being limited to those who can row well ,and are experienced with the use of the oar and the lake waters. The whole party was taken to Juniper on Monday when the lake was of a mill-pond calmness, an unusual feature so far as this season is concerned.

On Tuesday the proposed trip by motor boat to Fairy Lake had to be abandoned because of rain, so the picnic tea was eaten on the wide front verandah instead, and judging by the general hilarity, the enjoyment was as thorough and general as though the original plan had been carried out. After flag-lowering which takes place about dusk each evening, a marshmallow roast around the big fireplace in the dining-room completed happily the day's program.

Wednesday was visitors' day, and among those registering in the camp guest book were Mrs (Dr.) Wightman of Peterborough ,who exhausted the stock of sweets in the tuck shop by giving a treat to the girls all round; Mrs. Lytle, Mr. T. Barrie, Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Regina Sask., Mrs. A. E. Brundrette, Kitchener, Mrs. Thomas H. Mather, Yonkers, N.Y., Miss Adams, Miss Leona Kingdom, and three friends, Mr. and Mrs. D. Loomis, and thirty-four Rotary boys with their leaders.

Sports day occupied the afternoon fully, races both on land and water being characterized by a friendly but decidedly keen rivalry ,the winners receiving:

Straight race, 15 and over—1, Beatrice Jones; 2, Mary Brooks.

Water Sports.

Speed race—Verna Huffman.

Diving—Verna Huffman.

Boat race, 2 girls in skiff with paddles—Mrs. D. V. Canning and Mary Brooks.

Boat race, 2 girls in skiff with oars —1 ,Margaret Patonie and Mary Brooks; 2, Olive and Alice Shurety.

Amusement and entertainment were combined in the Health Circus which featured the evening hours until bedtime. A fine of one cent was imposed upon each guest entering the room who did not come up to requirements as to weight, strength of handclasp, and manner of walking the plank.

Each of the three groups put on a health stunt, emphasizing some educational feature that was thus pleasantly impressed upon the minds of both performer and audience, and could be worked out in future practice.

The visit of the boys and their leaders from Kamp Skookum interrupted the proceedings for a time, while the newcomers were shown about the camp and grounds, the interference being by no means an unwelcome one. The invitation that the girls be guests of the boys' camp round their camp fire on Friday evening was accepted with enthusiasm.

A treat of candy left by Mrs. Lytle was thoroughly appreciated as a last item before the retiring bell sent out its warning note.

Thursday afternoon a motor trip to Fairy Lake was enjoyed, and there is a full program for the remainder of C.G.I.T. week.

A RECORD-BREAKER.

Yesterday The Examiner commented in these columns upon the value of fishing as an attraction for tourists and upon the necessity of concentrating attention upon this aspect of the tourist question.

The record maskinonge captured the other day by Mrs. George Freeborn at Gannon's Narrows gives point to The Examiner's article, and incidentally is the best piece of advertising this section of Ontario has obtained in a long time.

The news of a musky weighing over 27 pounds taken in the Kawartha waters will attract the attention of every real fisherman as the sound of a fire alarm used to arouse every old fire horse.

It's the fishing that brings the majority of visitors, and a few catches like that of Mrs. Freeborn's will see a wonderful reaction in an inpouring of ardent musky fishers eager to try their skill on something of the same size themselves.

The luring power of good fishing cannot be overestimated, and to give this section its fair share of tourist traffic it is necessary to do everything possible to conserve our supply of fish by rigidly observing the law and in every other way that suggests itself.

A LOCAL PENSIONS BOARD.

In regard to old age pensions, the City Council has two alternatives in deciding how the local administration of the pensions shall be carried out.

The Council may choose to attend to this important matter through a committee selected from its members, or it can delegate the authority to an independent board of five members appointed by the Council.

The Examiner believes that the second plan would give more satisfactory results and meet a larger measure of popular approval.

It should be possible to secure the services of well-known citizens, familiar with local people and local conditions, to act as a local pensions board and administer the measure in Peterborough.

Such citizens as Frank Adams, city treasurer; James Abraham, Arthur Metheral, relief officer; Frank Fairen, Walter Stocker and others equally qualified have been mentioned in this connection, and doubtless these men would be willing to give their services if called upon to do so.

The appointment of a board is a matter that will shortly have to be considered by the Council in order that the decks may be cleared for eligible Peterborough people to participate in the pension scheme as soon as it becomes operative.

THE WEEK-END TOLL.

Over a score of people were killed or drowned in Ontario over the week-end, the accident record being one of the most appalling in the history of the Province.

Tragedy rode hard on the trail of week-end holiday-makers, and the highways and rivers and lakes claimed a staggering total of victims.

Most tragic feature of it all is that the majority of these deaths were not necessary—they were caused by carelessness or recklessness in most cases, as a review of the published reports indicate.

Failure to stop, look and listen at railway crossings, fast driving, non-swimmers bathing in places known as dangerous or trusting their lives to flimsy boats—these were some of the causes that filled yesterday's newspapers with tragic stories.

The Ontario Safety League, aided by the papers of the Province, has long been sounding the warning to be careful, and yet week after week the heavy death list shows that the spirit of taking a chance still drives out all thought of danger.

The loss of life from preventable accidents will be regarded by future generations as a sad commentary upon the general level of intelligence of this period in Ontario's history.

HEAVIER PENALTIES.

"The law should save the drunken driver from himself and the public from the drunken driver," says the Border Cities Star, and most people will agree that the Windsor journal is hitting the nail right on the head.

There is a general feeling that the punishment laid down for this offense does not meet the situation, and that in addition to the jail term now meted out that all drunken drivers should lose the right to drive for at least one year.

In the case of second offenses, as the Border Cities Star suggests, the driving permit might be cancelled for five years, and in the extreme case of a third offense the right to drive should be permanently taken away and the car or truck be confiscated.

These penalties are drastic—and they should be, for the individual who attempts to drive a motor car while he is under the influence of liquor does something that places him beyond the bounds of sympathetic consideration.

As a matter of fact, there are persons whose reputation as habitual drunkards should have made it impossible for them to have secured driving permits in the first place.

When human lives are at stake society cannot afford to show a lack of backbone in dealing with people who show no consideration for their own safety or that of others.

THOSE WHO BORROW RIDES.

All motorists are familiar with the modern hikers who stand by the roadside with thumbs up indicating that they would like a ride. Some are in real need of a lift and are deserving of consideration, but how is one to know. Many are boys of all ages who are putting in the time seeing a bit of country; others are stoo stingy to pay bus or train fare if they can get out of it—they are pikers, not hikers; some are just ordinary tramps.

An even more serious objection to giving rides promiscuously is the responsibility every motorist must assume in case of accident. Instances are on record where motorists have been made to pay dearly for their generosity. Even "friends" have sued for damages following a mishap in which they were injured.

Now the Legislature of the State of Indiana has set an example for other States and Provinces by passing legislation to protect the motorists as follows:

"That no person who is transported by the owner or operator of a motor vehicle, as his guest, without payment for such transportation, shall have a cause of action for damages against such owner or operator, for injury, death or loss, in case of accident, unintentional on the part of such owner or operator or caused by his reckless disregard of the rights of others."

Most people will approve of this enactment, for the reason, if for no other, that most people are now automobile drivers. Let those who borrow rides carry their own insurance.—Oshawa Times.

WELL SPOKEN.

The Ontario war veterans are meeting this week. They are enrolled in the British Empire Service League, and one of the first acts of the convention was to pass a peace resolution which reads as follows:

"It would appear desirable, at the close of the first decade following the Great War, that a rededication of members of the Legion to its great principles be emphasized. We therefore recommend that in the name of God and our fallen comrades we hereby request the Dominion Command of the British Empire Service League to re-assert the desire of the League by proclamation to all members that peace for all time between the nations and individual support of the gospel of good-will established through the efforts of the League of Nations, the Locarno Conference and the pact of Paris, to which her representatives have pledged the British Empire, be reaffirmed as our major aim and purpose.

"In advancing this we re-enlist the manhood of the nation represented by our veterans in the nobler program of constructive citizenship, and thus insure the permanence of the League."

Those who know war best abhor it. The resolution given above contains the highest ideals of humanity. When the march of the Canadian Legion is witnessed in this city or elsewhere it is not a march of glorification of victory or of war. It is a march toward "constructive citizenship." And in the latter respect, the St. Catharines branch of the Legion has done noble work since the war, in providing aid to stricken families, in helping financially when death has stalked all too frequently in the homes of veterans, and also in assisting veterans to secure suitable employment. The war is eleven years gone by, and yet its ravages are still felt in many homes. It is work which must of necessity continue, and meanwhile the Legion puts on its rusty armor, not for the perpetuation of war hatreds, but for peace throughout all the world and for a citizenship which means something. These veterans won a great victory in war; their resolution reveals a great moral victory in peace.—St. Catharines Standard.

THE OLD GUARD PASSES.

With the passing of Mr. Fielding, only one survivor remains of the Laurier "Cabinet of the talents" of 1896. Sir William Mulock—may he long be spared—is still in harness. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, who is still actively practising law in Quebec, was Sir Wilfrid's first Solicitor-General, but he was not of the Privy Council.

It is interesting now to recall Sir Wilfrid's Cabinet, if only as an illustration of how links have been snapped with the past. Formed just 33 years ago, it is thus given in the Parliamentary Guide of 1897:

Secretary of State—Hon. Sir William Scott, Q.C.

Minister of Justice—Hon. Sir Oliver Mowat, K.C.M.G.

Minister of Marine and Fisheries—The Hon. Louis Henry Davies, Q.C.

Postmaster-General—Hon. William Mulock, Q.C.

Minister of Agriculture—Hon. Sydney Arthur Fisher.

Minister of Finance—Hon. William Stevens Fielding.

Without portfolio—Hon. C. A. Geoffrion, K.C.

Without portfolio—Hon. R. R. Dobell.

Controller of Customs—Hon. William Paterson.

Solicitor-General—Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick.

Costroller of Inland Revenue—Hon. Sir Henry G. Joly de Lotbiniere, K.C.M.G.

Of all these names, as already noted, only two survive. Sir Clifford Sifton and Mr. Fielding, two of the most notable, have gone within the past six weeks.

Sir George Foster is now the sole survivor of Dominion politics in post-Confederation days. In the Cabinets of Macdonald, Bowell, Thompson, Tupper, Borden and Meighen, a veteran in public life when Laurier came into office, and with voice still potent in our national affairs, he is truly Canada's Grand Old Man.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The boy who is not at Camp Skookum these glorious July days is missing a lot.

Level-crossing accidents recorded on Sunday supply fresh and tragic evidence of the need of greater precautions on the part of motorists.

"Shall we recognize Russia?" asks a newspaper heading. We won't likely be able to if there are many more changes there.

An aviator here yesterday was looking for Peterborough's municipal air port. It may be somewhere in the neighborhood of the new city hall.

Harvey School Results.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir: After reading the report of the promotion examinations held in S. S. No. 8, Harvey, over the signature of B. V. Long, teacher, in your issue of July 4, I consider it my duty to inform your readers that Verna Allen, who is reported to Junior IV with Ralph Chase and Kenneth Hunt (Donald Wilson being absent, having been removed, with his sisters from the school by his parent several days before) did not take the same examination with the boys but with the other members of her class, for the past school term, which included Kenneth Irwin, Margaret Weiss and Gordon Freeborn, and therefore, in the opinion of many, is not entitled to the position assigned her by B. V. Long, but as possibly first in the class with those who took the same question papers, there being only ½, 9 and 22½ respectively between them.

The only reason for the action taken that I have received is that Verna Allen obtained honors. am unaware that any such rule or regulation has been added to our school statutes or regulations, and why did it not also apply to Clara Nisbitt, she having obtained 8½ over honors and 10 over her class mate, June Allen.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, yours, etc., "FAIR PLAY."

What To-day Means To You.

"CANCER".

If July 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 4 p.m to 5.30 p.m., and from 11 p.m. to 12 midnight the danger periods are from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m., and from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

A restful time is not predicted for this date as few pre-arranged plans will reach materialization. Events, on the whole, however, will prove beneficial, when you have recovered from the confusion and surprises of the moment.

The child born July 16 will have a very friendly personality, and will be ready to come up with nearly everyone. Its nature will be truly democratic, and there will be no affection about it.

Your habit of procrastination overshadows many of your more worthy characteristics. Your intentions, which are very worthy, are poor substitutes for deeds and actions. Your to-morrows are crammed full of to-day's unfinished business. You are never caught up with your obligations. It takes extreme measures to make you act at once. You expect circumstances and man to wait for your convenience. Your dilatory ways kill your dependability. Stop making resolutions which you break, and strengthen your will power!

You are not addicted to worry, and conditions which would harass and fret another, do not annoy you in the least. You are rather willing to "pass the buck," in this respect.

Your extreme tolerance is one of your fine traits. Your judgments are never quick or harsh, and you always try to place yourself in the other fellow's boots, before condemning. You are kind to others and advantage is often taken of your sympathy and generosity. In your impetuous way, however, you often promise to do things, the fulfilment of which is impossible. You often say things, for which you are immediately sorry. Your loyalty, your affection, and your chronic good-nature, are factors which should make your home a place of happiness for both you and the man or woman of your choice. You would make a very indulgent parent.

The Tule Marsh Murder

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

Story of a Missing Actress and the Taxing of Wits to Explain Her Fate

THE STORY THUS FAR:

Don Ellsworth's wife, formerly the famous actress Sheila O'Shay, disappears leaving no trace. Dr. Cavanaugh, the great criminal psychologist learns that their married life has been very unhappy.

Peter Piper reporter on the Herald, tries to see Dr. Cavanaugh. Instead he meets Barbara Cavanaugh, the attractive daughter, and finds that she was engaged to Don Ellsworth before his marriage.

A body, found in the tule marsh outside the city, is identified by Dr. Cavanaugh as that of Sheila O'Shay. Barbara faints when she hears him tell this to Peter. The latter, already half in love with her, is convinced that she knows something about the murder and his instinct is to protect her.

Mrs. Kane, Sheila O'Shay's waiting woman is arrested and admits that her mistress forced Don Ellsworth to marry her.

Peter and Dr. Cavanaugh find in the boudoir of the murdered woman a threatening letter signed "David Orme." Peter trails Orme and finds him. But he is an irresponsible artist who does not seem capable of the murder. Dr. Cavanaugh agrees to examine Orme.

Peter learns that Barbara's car was used in the murder. He determines to save her at any cost. They discover their great love for each other but Barbara will not let him help her, and he realizes she is protecting some one else.

The trial of Orme for the murder of Sheila O'Shay begins. Mrs. Kane on the witness stand, states that Orme is Sheila O'Shay's real husband. He disappeared and she had never discovered him. Dr. Cavanaugh tells Peter that he can clear David Orme. Orme on the stand tells of the tragedy of his life and his marriage to Sheila O'Shay. He admits to having seen her on the night of her death.

After the emotional stress of the morning session, the quiet urbanity of Dr. Cavanaugh, as he settled himself comfortably in the witness chair, restored an atmosphere of normality to the tense courtroom.

Dr. Cavanaugh was very much at ease and completely at home, and he showed it. He distinctly conveyed the impression that murder trials were no treat to him. He took the oath with the careless nonchalance of a caller presenting himself to a familiar hostess and awaited developments with a manner that subtly combined a willingness to be helpful with a patient acceptance of inconvenience to himself in thus being interrupted.

"Will you tell the jury, doctor, something of your professional career?"

"I was graduated from the Harvard medical school, and after my internship was for several years on the staff of Graham hospital for nervous and mental diseases. I then spent four years in study abroad. I was a member of the Viennese Psychoanalytic society which met with Dr. Sigmund Freud of Vienna in the first study of psychoanalysis. I also spent a year with Dr. Jurrg in Zurich.

"I may say that I am not an adherent of any one school of psychoanalysis—in fact, I think I may be said to have made my own original contributions in the field. On my return to this country, I established my own psychiatric hospital and clinic. For the last six or seven years, I have retired from active practice, although I am still sometimes called into consultation and have taken such cases as have interested me from the point of view of research."

"You are a specialist in nervous and mental diseases?"

"Psychopathology is my particular field—yes."

"And have you written anything for publication on the subject?"

"I have contributed articles too numerous to mention to the medical journals of America, France, England, Australia and Germany. I am the author of several books—'Abnormal Aspects of Genius,' 'Abnormal Behavior in Relation to Medical Jurisprudence,' 'The Criminal Mind' and 'Autistic Thinking in Normal Life' are probably those best known to the layman."

"And you have, I think, served as alienist in a number of criminal cases?"

"As alienist, or sometimes rather as a psychological investigator—yes. I was expert witness for the prosecution in the case of the people versus James Kelly, the case of the people versus Edwards and Edwards, the case of the people versus Mary Emerson, the case of the people versus Watson and Eaves. Kelly was condemned to death; Edwards was condemned to death and his sister to life imprisonment; Mary Emerson was convicted but died before the date set for execution; Eaves was too young to receive the death sentence, and Watson, after conviction, was killed in an attempted jail break. I was witness for the defense in the trials of Edna Raleigh, Hubert Smith, Everett and Laura Connelly and John Potts, Raleigh, Smith, the Connellys and Potts were acquitted.

"I may add that in numerous instances my services have been requested to conduct a preliminary investigation which in some cases prevented the accused from coming to trial and in others identified the criminal who was being sought. Many of these investigations were such as not to require my presence in court, but I believe they have been more or less a matter of public knowledge."

The jury was obviously impressed. The cases mentioned by Dr. Cavanaugh included a group of the most spectacular trials of the last decade. His name had gone forth in magazines and newspaper stories as a wizard who pulled amazing white rabbits of truth out of the black hat of mysterious circumstances, and his books were written in a strikingly vivid, though by no means sensational, style which had brought them readers far beyond the circle of his professional confreres.

It was quite true that so far as was known he had never been engaged to investigate a case which he had failed to solve, and that the side which secured his services in a trial had invariably received a favorable verdict.

"I believe, doctor, that you have been popularly referred to as 'The Man Who Makes No Mistakes?'"

"Oh, my dear Mr. Graham!" Dr Cavanaugh protested amiably. "We must concede a good deal to popular exaggeration. Perhaps"—he took the jury into his confidence with a deprecating smile—"it is only that my mistakes have never found me out!"

Advice to a Lover

Lover, is she unkind?
Would I could cure it!
No way you'll ever find
But to endure it.
Vain your reproaches are,
Vain all your pleading;
Distant as yonder star,
Cold and unheeding.
Proud as the moon is she—
Better to let her be.

Never was any art
Found yet by lover
To touch that haughty heart,
None yet did move her;
Many, ah! Many a time
Have I besought her
In broken-hearted rhyme;
None yet hath taught her
By kindness to be kind,
Or cast one look behind.

Yea! though her kiss you win,
Think not 'tis winning,
With her so to begin
Is no beginning,
More likely 'tis the end
Of your pursuing,
Best to betake you, friend,
To other wooing;
For she, as like as not,
Even while she kissed—forgot

Yea, then, once more I say:
Think not about her,
There is but one wise way—
To do without her.
Nor think that when you go,
Going shall move her,
Others, 'tis said, are so—
Not she, poor lover!
She's of herself too fain
For Love her heart to gain.

SENTINEL LODGE CAPTURED PRIZE

Zion League Members Enjoyed Missionary Program by the "Packards."

(Examiner Correspondence)

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, July 16. —Sentinel L. O. L. No. 2322 upheld the traditions of the lodge and won the prize in the parade at Campbellford, on the "Glorious Twelfth". A good turn-out of lodge members in their neat uniforms of white and red helped pave the way for this success which is no uncommon thing in the history of local Orangemen. The Ladies lodge also presented a striking appearance with dress to match the men's lodge.

Packard's Leading

Nearly sixty attended the Zion League service on Wednesday evening with the Packards having a small lead over their second place rivals, the Reo group. The program was of a missionary nature with Gladys Petherick convenor of this group in charge and Rev. F. G. MacTavish as leader.

The main feature of the program was a missionary devotional address by Amos Barnum. A duet by Misses Gladys and Alma Simpson and a reading by Mrs. MacTavish, completed the progam. This week's meeting is in charge of the citizenship department.

BIG FOOD GROUPINGS VISIONED BY WALL ST.

Control of Country's Products Expected to be Centred in a Few Huge Companies

NEW YORK, July 16.—That control of the food products business of the country is being concentrated in the hands of a small group of powerful companies through mergers and acquisition arranged and financed here is indicated by recent developments, according to opinions expressed in Wall street

The trend toward consolidation of food manufacturers and distributors is emphasized by the recent formation of Standard Brands, Inc., which linked the Fleischmann Company, the Royal Baking Powder Company and other important food interests; by the announcement that the Borden Company had become an international organization with the purchase of fifty-two additional companies scattered throughout the United States Canada and Europe, and by further expansion of the Postum Company, which is changing its name to the General Food Products Company.

It became evident last week that these three groups are embarked upon far-reaching enlargement programs. The Standard Brands Company has announced that it expects to acquire the Chase and Sanborn Company, coffee and tea concern, and it is known that the organizers of this merger have in mind the acquisition of several other companies. Standard Brands eventually will be one of the largest food enterprises in the country. There has been some talk of a consolidation ultimately of Standard Brands and Postum. So far as can be learned no merger has taken place, but important stock holding interests in the two companies have considered the advisibility of initiating negotiations. It is believed that eventually the two organizations will be amalgamated creating the largest food enterprise in the world.

Both Postum and Standard Brands it is predicted in Wall Street, will be engaged for some months in an intense contest. Ngotiations are now being carried on by both companies for additional properties. The two companies do not actually compete to any great extent, bu here is a race between them for expansion. Standard Brands and Postum have been mentioned recently as possible purchasers of the Gold Dust Corporation, which has become an important factor in the food products field. Gold Dust is also carrying out an expansion program, having recently acquired the food products business of the American Linseed Company.

The Borden Company has been enlarging its operations for some years, but its announcement last week that it had purchased control of fifty-two additional companies disclosed for the first time the full extent of its expansion. The company is now one of the dominant factors in the food products business, being engaged mainly in the dairy and ice cream business.

INDUSTRIALS SHOW SLIGHT IRREGULARITY

Ford "A" Suffers Reaction After Heavy Advance Of Yesterday

BRAZILIAN DROPS

International Nickel With Steels And Paving Stocks Hold Firm

TORONTO, July 16. (C. P.) —Little activity was produced by the morning's trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange. The leading industrials showed changes of an irregular nature.

Ford "A" which advanced yesterday so rapidly, suffered a reaction 2 1-2 to 52. Brazilian dropped a half to 60 under fair demand. Canada gypsum gained 5-8 to 103 3-4; Bell Telephone added a point to 166 1-2 on small sales. Page Hersey dropped 1 1-2 to 134 1-2 and Massey Harris rose 1-2 to 56 3-4. Deforest Crossley added 1 to 68.

International Nickel was strong throughout the morning session, gaining 5-8 to 50. The steels were firm and the paving stocks generally steady but none of the groups failed to reflect the inactivity of the rest of the board. Imperial again led the activity among the oils for a fractional gain. Home dropped 20 to 22.80.

LIST PRICES TURN HIGHER

New York Curb Is Irregular Under Stimulus Of Pool Operations

STEEL SHARES ADVANCE

NEW YORK, July 16. (C.P.) — High call money rates had a restraining effect on speculation in today's stock market but prices moved irregularly higher under the stimulus of pool operations. Call money renewed at 12 per cent., but there was relatively little selling of loans and the rate was not expected to work higher.

Revival of activity and strength in the steel shares, inspired the announcement that a special meeting of U.S. Steel common directors had been called after the close of the market, was one of the features of the day's trading. Wall street is looking for a special dividend distribution on Steel. U.S. Steel Common was run up 7 1-2 points to a new high record at 205. Republic, Ludlum and Crucible advanced 2 to 3 1-2 points, but Youngstown Sheet and Tube fell back more than 3 points.

NORANDA RALLIES TO SHOW ADVANCE

Oil And Metals Equally Active On Standard Mining Exchange

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—After sustaining a slight decline at the beginning of the morning's trading, Noranda recovered on the Standard Mining Exchange to 59.50, regaining 90 cents of the 2.25 it lost yesterday Among the other stocks the oils and metals were equally but not generally active.

Peterson Cobalt Mines strengthened 2 to 28½ under consistent demand. Of the others, Base Metals and Pend Oreille each added 5 to 4.25 respectively. Among the golds Teck Hughes and Lake Shore receded slightly as did McIntyre while Dome was firm at 10.00. All the Lindseys were steady except Sudbury Basin which dropped 5 to 8.75.

Lower Quotations Abroad Affect Chicago Prices

CHICAGO, Ills., July 16 (C.P.).—Influenced by failure of Liverpool quotations to reflect fully price advances on this side of the Atlantic, early wheat values here underwent material setbacks to-day. Despatches from Liverpool asserted belief that upturns had been too fast, and this promoted heavy selling here, largely to realize profits. Opening at ⅛c to 1⅛c off, Chicago wheat fluctuated rapidly, with an irregular downward trend. Corn, oats and provisions averaged lower also, corn starting unchanged to 1c up, and subsequently showing a decided drop.

No Merger Offer Says T. P. Loblaw

TORONTO, July 16.—Officials of Loblaw Groceterias, Ltd., are not considering a proposal for the merging of their enterprise with a number of American and Canadian chain grocery store companies, for the simple reason that they have not been approached on the subject in any way, T. P. Loblaw, president of the company, said emphatically last night. "We are doing exceptionally well at present and have no particular desire to sell out, although there are some kinds of proposition that you cannot ignore and be sensible," he added.

RAILWAY INCOME SET IN NEW RECORDS.

New York—Net operating income of 182 class one railroads broke all records in May and the first five months of this year, according to a report by the Bureau of Railway. The aggregate net of these roads in May was $103,616,000, or 17,45 per cent more than the $88,221,000 earned in May, 1928. Aggregate net for the five months was $457,362,000 an increase of 21.57 per cent from the $376,209,000 earned in the same period a year previously.

These figures sustain predictions made by the Bureau that the net income of the class one railroads this year would surpass the record of $1,231,790,000 set in 1926. They follow the issuance of figures by the American Railway Association showing that loadings of freight reached the record total of 25,595,000 cars in the first six months of the year. against 24,461,000 in the same period last year.

SUMMARY OF OVERNIGHT NEWS FULL YEAR'S OPERATIONS OF CANADA PACKERS NETS $5.20 ON COMMON.

Earnings of $5.20 per share on the common stock are shown in the annual report of the Canada Packers, Limited, the holding company formed to merge the principal meat packers of eastern Canada. This report covers the first full year's operation, the previous statement having been for a 7½ months period. Profits for the period under review, after provision for bond interest, depreciation and income tax, amounted to $1,503,297. Of that sum, the amount of $462,798 was required for the 7% preferred issue of 66.114 shares, and that left the above $5.20 available for the 200,000 shares of common.

The first dividend on preferred was paid in April of this year, being the arrears for the quarter ending September, 1927. That leaves deferred dividends still due on the preferred to the extent of $10.50 per share, and the statement of the president, J. C. McLean says it is confidently hoped that the preferred dividends will be paid without interruption in the future. It is also hoped that the arrears of $10.50 may be paid "at a not distant date, but for the present the directors feel it is wise to conserve the liquid assets of the company."

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK

While it was expected ore would have been encountered on the 250 foot level some time ago on Newbec extension to diabase dyke has widened was not fully realized. On 125 foot level dyke was only few feet wide, but 250 foot level shows have widened considerably. Some ore encountered north of dyke but main body lies to south. Crosscut still in diabase, but may break through south wall any time. Outlook considered quite encouraging.

Wire from the north advises us that Kirkland Lake Gold have 10 feet width $14.00 ore in south crosscut on 3,600 foot level 180 feet south of the winze. Waite-Montgomery have cut 37 foot 6 per cent new ore drill hole No. 8, very important.

Shipments in month of June Show Increase of 50 Per Cent. Over Previous Month.

Kelvinator shipments during the month just ended exceeded those made in June, 1928, by fifty per cent, according to officials of the Kelvinator Corporation. Orders received during June of the present year outdistance those of the same month in 1928 by one hundred per cent. June, 1929, shipments were practically the same as those of May, 1929. In the electric refrigeration industry the greatest volume of business is usually experienced during May.

The new Kelvinator M-4, a recently introduced model, priced at $240.00 installed, has met with a success far greater than that predicted by even the most optimistic factory officials. So great is the welcome accorded this model by the public that orders for it now on hand exceed by three times the quota set when the M-4 was first introduced.

"The introduction of the new Kelvinator silent models shortly after the first of the year aroused instant enthusiasm throughout the country and resulted in a tremendous increase in our orders." "The more recent introduction of the new low-priced M-4 literally changed electric refrigeration of foods from a luxury of the few to a necessity and an economy for thousands of home and apartment dwellers. The success of this model has given additional impetus to a steadily increasing volume of business which the Kelvinator corporation has enjoyed since the first of the year. This success is another step forward in what the Kelvinator administration proposes to make a new era in the electric refrigeration industry as well as in the Kelvinator business.

HOME 3.

(1) Imperial Oil's technical staff is playing safe with Home No. 3. Satisfied that the well will be equally as good as Nos. 1 and 2, which means that tremendous gas pressure will be encountered, it has been decided to recement this well before proceeding with further drilling. To that end a special cement man has been brought to the Valley to handle the task. Home 3 was cemented and the cement drilled out but some trouble developed just about the time the diamond drill was being set up to complete the hole to the producing horizon.

Pick Hargal Site.

(2) Southeast about 500 ft. from Home No. 1 is locationImperial Oil's technical staff in Turner Valley has chosen as site for Hargal's first well. This will bring the well fairly well in line on the structure. Home will participate in profits of this well.

Home No. 2 Back.

(3) Unofficial estimate that when Home 2 came back Friday it was flowing 30 barrels an hour which means earnings of $118,25 per hour. Undoubtedly, there is some pent up production from the well being held in check and it may lose small amount of this after being open for a time. Ultimately oil men believe, the well will do much better than 30 barrels an hour.

Southwest Petroleum.

(5) Traces of iimestone are being found in core drawn from Southwest Petroleum's No. 1 well, it is unofficially reported from Calgary. This would tend to support the belief that Southwest Pete is just above the limestone. All kinds of predictions are being made as to what price this issue will go to when lime is encountered. Certainly it will prove a great additional length of Turner Valley structure.

Associated.

(5) From reliable source our Calgary field man says he learns Associated Oil and Gas well has so much gas that it is having difficulty maintaining mud in hole—well being drilled by rotary rig which involves pumping steady stream of mud down drill stem and which muds up well as drill works down. Pressure of 2700 lbs. needed so that drilling can continue. Said that present gas flow would make good well.

DOCTOR FACES

Counsel intervened to say that defence acknowledged that the bullet which hit Miss Earle had been fired by the Doctor. Among further evidence submitted was that of Chief of Police Ruse who said that when he went to take the revolver from Dr. Field the doctor said in the presence of Mrs. Field, "I only wanted to scare her with this. You know I would not shoot her."

CHANGE ANNOUNCED IN RUBBER COMPANY

Dominion Organization is Placed on Entirely New System.

Montreal, July 16. — W. A. Eden, president of the Dominion Rubber Company, has announced important changes in his company's personnel by which an entirely new system of industrial operation is put into effect.

The change affects over 7,000 Dominion Rubber Company employees throughout the country and is made necessary by growth of business and indications of great future expansion.

Under the former system the Dominion Rubber Company operated under centralized control of production and sales. The new plan now divides the company into three separate departments of tires, footwear and mechanical goods. Each department has a general manager in complete control with departmental factory and sales managers serving under him.

In addition there will be a general manager in charge of all shipping and service to customers.

Supplementing this new operating system a profit-sharing plan is to be introduced in the near future by which employees will share the company's profits according to merit.

In making his announcement Mr. Eden explained that the centralized type of organization is no longer adequate to cope with the remarkable growth of the Dominion Rubber Company and subsidiaries whose business has grown from a total of about six million dollars in 1910 to nearly twenty-four million for last year.

"Our main departments of tires, footwear and mechanical goods," Mr. Eden said, "have become virtually three great industries within one company and they now require separate administration to give maximum service.

"By our new system of separate general managers for each class of commodity we are decentralizing our production and sales. At the same time we have rearranged the Canadian market in three divisions, Eastern, Central and Western.

"The general manager of tires is to be completely responsible for everything to do with tires and will not be directly responsible for anything else. He has under him a tire factory manager and a general tire sales manager. The latter, in turn, has his own divisional sales managers, Eastern, Central and Western. turn, has his own divisional sales man. The other departments are organized in the same way."

The new general managers of the Dominion Rubber Company are as follows: for tires, J. A. Martin; for footwear, G. W. Charles, for mechanical goods, W. M. Carment; for distributing branches, George Bergeron.

The new general sales managers are: for tires, M. L. Douglas; for footwear, J. H. Robertson; for mechanical goods, J. M. S. Carroll.

Mr. Eden stated in his announcement that the Dominion Rubber Company's adoption of the new type of organization is an expression of confidence and faith in the future growth of Canadian industry in which his company will continue to share.

MINING BRIEFS

A Special Service to The Examiner

A wire from Kirkland Lake states that Wright Hargreaves has increased their mill to 400 tons daily. The report also states that the vein on the 2 125-foot horizon is high grade with free gold showing. Width is given as 10 feet.

Lake Shore is reported to have cut their north vein on the 2 000-foot level showing high grade ore across a width of 15 feet. Teck Hughes Lake Shore's neighbour is also said to be in very high grade ore in the drift at the 20th level. This high grade is said to run over drift.

Sudbury was prominent among news despatches to-day. Reports are current around the town that ore had been encountered on the Sudbury Basin property in a drill hole about 2 000 feet east of hole 17 which located the most extension of the main ore zone. This new development if true would suggest big possibilities for the intervening section of ground. A diamond drill operating south of and below hole No. 16 is also said to have hit ore.

First bricks of the new smelter chimney at the Falconbridge Nickel property were laid this week. The stack will have a diameter of 20 feet at the base and will be 145 feet in height. Recent reports state that underground work is progressing beyond expectations.

Some high grade specimens from the McMillen Gold Mines West River are being shown in Sudbury. One sample which was taken from a winze from the floor of the 525-foot developments here lead to the belief that the winze is down on the apex of a new ore lens.

Albert Konselman, engineer at the Barbara-Marshay Mines, Arizona, wires that the formation has taken a complete change and puts a favorable light on conditions. He states further that the Copper Mountain property will probably be shipping ore within three weeks.

J. Tuttle, Amulet manager, is at present in Toronto and it is expected that on his return to the property he will have definite word when construction will commence on the mill. No work has as yet been done. In the meantime, both the "B" and "C" ore bodies are being prepared for production. Two diamond drills are in operation, one located near the north showing, close to the old camps and the other to the south of the shaft and just north of the "A" ore body. This latter drill is working in favorable territory, but only a couple of holes are said to have been put down to date.

It is reported that the firm of Yeatemen and Berry, consulting mining engineers of New York, have been retained to make a complete examination of the Malartic Mine. Representatives of the firm are now on their way to the property where they will make a complete study of the geology and metallurgical problems.

BOARD'S PLANS ALREADY MADE FOR EXHIBITION

Peterborough Fair Directors Issued Bigger and Better Prize List Than Ever.

NEW ATTRACTIONS

Twelve Thousand Dollars in Premiums Are Already Announced.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, beginning on Monday, September 9 and closing on Saturday, September 14 is the next big event for Peterborough city and county. The Board has laid extensive plans and preparations that are expected to make it the most successful exhibition in the history of the city.

The work of the board of directors and other officials that has been in progress since the closing day of the last exhibition is taking shape and now as the date draws nearer their efforts are being redoubled.

All phases of the exhibition are to be staged on a still bigger scale than in other years. Extension of both the agricultural and industrial sides of the fair is planned for this year. Twelve thousand dollars in premiums has been announced and also a number of special awards.

The officers and the personnel of the board of directors include many who have had experience in the work in previous years and under the guidance of Mayor Roland Denne are shaping the big event. For 1929 the officers are: President, Roland Denne; First vice-president, T. McIndoo; second vice president, W. F. Turner; secretary, F. J. A. Hall; honorary treasurer, C. S. Cummer; treasurer, Fred Holmes; superintendent, J. Gillespie; managing director, live stock department, William Knox. The lists of the board of directors and members of the many committees are made up mainly of men who in other years have proved their ability to stage the most successful fall fairs in the province.

Four Days Races

Great attractions have been provided for the grand stand. Vaudeville acts and animal acts of a very high order have been procured and acrobats, clowns and even elephants will be on hand to entertain. Among the acts will be the Morales Family of world fame and the noted Yong Kee troupe. Races will be held the last four days of the week. Prize money amounting to $2,400 has been granted and each day's purse will be $600.

The large number of special prizes that have been donated for this year's fair is of note. The T. Eaton Company offers a grand sweepstake prize of a beautiful cabinet of silver, consisting of 26 pieces in a mahogany-finished case to the exhibitor showing the largest number of exhibits and obtaining the largest number of prizes. Also for the judging and all manner of industrial and farm competitions many have come forward offering special awards.

The exhibition program includes all the regular judging competitions for live stock, household science and the special bacon-hog competition. For the former competitions $160 has been allotted and the Canadian Packing Company has offered $120 for the latter.

For the competitions of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and water fowl the great bulk of the premiums are being awarded and innumerable special cups and other prizes offered will assure the success of this branch of the exhibition. The competitions in dairy products, agricultural products and in the horticultural and fine arts branches are well supported.

All those interested in the competitions and prizes are urged to request a prize list and program from the secretary of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

REV. PATERSON OUTLINES WORK TO KIWANIANS

District Chairman Of Education Committee Addresses Kingston Club

WHO KIWANIS BENEFIT

Fundamental Principles Must Be Transmitted To Members, Speaker Says

KINGSTON, July 15.—At the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club of Kingston yesterday there was an outstanding address given by the district chairman of the educational committee, the Rev. J. Douglas Paterson, rector of All Saints', Peterborough. He explained just what Kiwanis stood for and what it meant to be a member of this service club. His human contact with men enabled him to deal with his subject in excellent style. All present enjoyed the address and it can be applied to all phases of life.

The speaker felt that this education was sadly needed first by the members and secondly by the public at large as there was a general misconception of the objectives of Kiwanis. He stated that the growth and development of Kiwanis is dependent upon the knowledge that each member has of its aims and ideals. Unless these fundamental principles are transmitted to the members and the public Kiwanis will not prosper or be understood. Therefore the educational committee of each club and district holds a most responsible position. Every opportunity to place these details before all parties should be taken and the aims and ideals made the basis upon which to build public opinion and club membership. It is not the loud noise of the great electric rivetter that is so effective. The great heavy drive of the slower and less noisy pile driver makes a greater impression every time it hits. You can depend upon it driving home with every stroke. What is needed is men of calibre in the Kiwanis Club who know why they are members and can be depended upon to put over what they undertake. It is dangerous to have men who make a lot of noise and have not the necessary knowledge to guide them on the right lines. This often leads to the misconception in the mind of the public of just why the Kiwanis Club is organized. If this is done we will know where we stand just what we are chasing. Kiwanis is a great 20th century movement reaching across Canada and the United States that is developing the spiritual, industrial and community life. It breaks down barriers and establishes friendships between men of all classes that unite great forces. The very fact of dropping the titles of the various members and calling them by their nicknames brings the members together. The Bowmanville boys' farm, work done by the various boys' committees to bring before the boys a proper prospective of life and direct their energies are some of the activities that has been carried on by the many clubs. In the public mind there is a general misconception and they look upon the Kiwanis Club as the public purse of the community. They think it is an organization that can be used for collection of monies. They think that it is a social club that puts on big functions, who give the surplus to charity. He showed how this idea of the Kiwanis was general. These are not the great purposes of Kiwanis. This work is done by them, it is true, but they have a bigger duty to perform.

Who Does Kiwanis Benefit

It should in the first place benefit its own member. By the bonds of friendship in all classes of life, men are drawing together and thus the united forces and different minds and angles of vision are co-related. Service of the highest type is given to the members of the clubs. Help to solve the daily problem, from your fellow member who has another view point is readily given. Men learn to know their fellow townsmen as true friends. As a result of this contact there is established a relationship that will bring out the best in a man and it will be employed in the service of the community.

In the second place Kiwanis is a direct benefit to those spoilt boys who need companionship and leadership. The boy who has to be advised in his course in life. The boy who has had life hard or too easy and needs a little direction in order that he might become one of the good citizens of his fair country. This is one of the greatest services that any body of men can render to a community. It is the great work that Kiwanis is doing today. Boys are being reclaimed and directed in their different spheres of life.

In the third place it does lend its hand to give assistance to those who can not be cared for by the various charity organizations. There are special cases that require immediate attention. Action is demanded and the club has many such cases where they have taken hold and accomplished great results. He went into many illustrations that justified the making of the three features above. He closed with the ple that more attention be directed to the general education of Kiwanis and its principals by carefully planning the weekly program for the club and the general publicity given outside. There will be no difficulty in keeping membership if the club will lay before the members what the club stands for.

GRAIN HOUSES ARE INSPECTED

Justice Brown Says Ontario Does 50 Per Cent. of Canada's Milling.

COMMISSION IN TORONTO

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The Saskatchewan Royal Grain Commission, headed by Chief Justice James T. Brown of Saskatchewan, inspected the grain transfer elevators yesterday morning and conferred with elevator men from Goderich and Owen Sound. In the afternoon the commissioners inspected the waterfront elevators.

"Fifty per cent. of the milling of Canada is done in Ontario," said Justice Brown. "Naturally these men are as interested in our investigation as the men in the West."

Justice Brown said he did not think the congestion of grain elevators at Port Colborne could be avoided without considerable expense, and at present it was doubtful if the expense would be warranted.

The commission leaves for Port Colborne and Buffalo tonight. From there they will proceed to Montreal, arriving at Montreal Friday morning. They will then go to New York City, whence a considerable supply of Canadian wheat is still shipped abroad.

Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, July 15 (Examiner Correspondence).—A very successful charity social was held on Thursday afternoon and evening on the grounds of the Lakefield Inn, under the auspices of St. Paul's Church and St. Mary's, Young's Point. The weather was ideal. There was almost an entire absence of mosquitoes, which of course made the social more enjoyable.

The grounds formerly used by the lawn bowling club were used and were ideal, being level and well mown. E. W. Bailey, manager of the Canada Cement plant, wired the grounds free of charge, which was much appreciated, not only by the committee, but also by the whole parish. The scene was truly a festive one from five in the afternoon till well after eleven o'clock.

A sumptuous fowl supper was served under the direction of a competent committee, which was headed by Mesdames F. M. Young and W. E. Brookes of Young's Point and Mesdames J. A. Johnston Maloney and S. J. Gibson of Lakefield.

The fancy booth, which contained a great number of useful and ornamental articles was served by Mrs. Elmsley, Mrs. M. P. Kennedy, Miss Mona Fortier, Miss Kennedy and Miss Kathleen Young and Thomas Turcotte and Thomas Ryan, the gentlemen from Peterborough.

"Housey, housey," a very popular attraction, was under the charge of Dr. M. P. Kennedy, and Fred Walsh and Darcy Hill, who spent a very busy evening.

"The Ponies" were in charge of Harry Armstrong and Wilfrid Pluard.

In the refreshment booth were Misses Lottie Kearney, Loretta Gibson, Theo. Elmsley, Martha Garvey, and Clara Young.

Misses Helen Coughlin and Josephine White capably handled the fish pond, which had, as usual, a great attraction for the juvenile members of the community.

G. J. Elmsley, Jack Elmsley, W. Young, D. Garvey and J. Maloney were the keepers of the gate, taking the duties in turn.

Misses Margaret Lawless, Marie Allen and Madeline Allen were custodians of the hidden treasure.

Books of tickets were sold by Misses Margaret Bissonette, Mary Johnston, Kathleen Lawless and Viola Hurl.

The tickets were for several useful and attractive articles, viz., a gold piece donated by Mrs. Lawless; a set of dishes donated by Mrs Lawless; a hundredweight of sugar donated by Mr. Roberts of the Melody Inn; a hundredweight of flour donated by Miss E. Kennedy; an electric iron donated by Mrs. George Charlton.

The drawing will take place in the Holy Name Society's Hall at a later date.

Among the clergy present were Rev. J. J. O'Brien, Rev. K. Corkery, Rev. C. Carroll, and Rev. Fr. Lynch, all of Peterborough; Rev. J. V. Macauley of Ennismore, Rev. John O'Leary of Copper Cliff, and Rev. Fr. Bunyan of Callendar.

The absence of Rev. Peter McGuire was regretted by many old friends, who missed his genial presence and cheery smile. Father McGuire is not able to be present this year owing to failing health.

An old time dance at the Melody Inn with two orchestras in attendance was the attraction for scores of young people during the evening, and the devotees of both round and square dances spent a happy time.

The social was an outstanding success in point of weather, attendance, and in financial returns, and Rev. J. J. Garvey and the two parishes have reason for gratification.

TWO MORE TRIES BY SWEDE FLIERS

Both Unsuccessful, But Pilots Still Are Determined To Go.

IVIGUT, Greenland, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The Swedish flyers, Captain Albin Ahrenberg and his two companions, have made two attempts in two days to get off for New York, but either time a leaky pontoon balked them.

The first attempt was Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., when the right pontoon was found to be leaking. It was repaired, but the start was postponed again yesterday when the left pontoon developed a small leak as the machine was pushed int the water, preparatory to a 5 a.m. take-off.

The airmen were a trifle depressed at their persistent ill-lu , but Captain Arenberg said: "Even if we don't get off before Christmas, get off we must."

ANGLICAN LADIES' ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Albert Cooper is Re-elected President of Guild.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, July 16.—Mrs. Albert Cooper was re-elected president of the Anglican Ladies' Guild at the annual meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. Cuffe on Wednesday afternoon.

The ladies decided to have a picnic on July 24, instead of the strawberry social, previously planned. The picnic will be held in Mrs. Tucker's grove, with races of all kinds and for all ages. Prizes will be given for the oldest married couple, the youngest baby and parents on the grounds with the largest family. A baseball game will be a feature of the program.

Other officers elected were: Vice President, Mrs. T. Cuffe; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. V. R. Jackson; auditors, Mrs. J. Payne and Mrs. W. Davis.

Teacher Honored

Miss Calder, who has been teacher at the fourth Line school for the past three years, was presented, at the end of the school term, with half a dozen silver knives and forks.

The scholars had planned a picnic for out-of-doors, but owing to inclement weather, a social afternoon was enjoyed in the school. The main feature on the program was the presentation to Miss Calder. An appropriate address was read by Mary Borland and the presentation made by Elva and Irene Payne. Miss Calder replied, thanking her pupils and friends for the beautiful gift which she would always treasure. Deep regret is felt at the departure of this popular teacher.

Cuticura Heals Terrible Itching Burning Eczema

"I was troubled with eczema for a number of years. It started with a terrible itching and burning on my face and then formed water blisters, which scaled over. Scratching seemed to irritate it, but it was the only relief I got. It seemed to bother me more at night and kept me from sleeping. Later it broke out on my arms and disfigured them.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got good results from it. I purchased more and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. A. Logan, Rock Springs, Ont.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address Canadian Depot: F. F. Watt Company Limited, Montreal. Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

FIRE DAMAGED SEED BUILDING

Downtown Section Threatened When Blaze Broke Out.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 16.—(Canadian Press).—Fire of undetermined origin late yesterday partly destroyed the seed store of John A. Bruce, King and McNab streets. A number of other business premises housed in the same building as the seed store suffered severe damage from smoke and water. No estimate of the damage was available, but it is believed the loss will run into thousands of dollars.

The fire started in the Bruce store and a short time had spread throughout the premises. After a few hours of strenuous work the blaze was brought under control and further danger of its spreading to the other buildings in the vicinity averted.

ORANGEMEN CELEBRATED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

APSLEY, July 16.—L. O. L. 1072 celebrated the "Glorious Twelfth" by holding a very successful picnic and walk in which the members were joined by the L. T. B. A. 74, both organizations having a good turnout of members. The parade was a picturesque affair with Wm. Johnston filling the role of King William on his white charger and two little girls in blue holding the strings of the True Blue banner, with lively music of drums and fifes. The picnic was held on the United church grounds and the afternoon devoted to sports under the superintendence of Rev. W. H. Taylor. The True Blues intend holding a picnic on their day, August 12.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 16.—The local cheese market was very quiet. Wholesale prices were unchanged. Receipts were 6,914 boxes compared with 5,483 boxes on the same day last week.

The butter market was also very quiet. Wholesale prices were unchanged and retail prices were as follows: 39c per lb. for solids and 40c per lb. for prints. The chief factor contributing to the dullness of the local market is said to be the lack of buying for storage purposes.

Eggs were steady. Retail prices were as follows: Fresh extras, 38c per dozen; fresh firsts, 32c to 33c per dozen, and fresh seconds, 27c to 28c per dozen. Receipts were 3,148 cases as compared with 3,207 cases on the same day last week.

Old potatoes are no longer being offered for sale the trade reported yesterday. Monteal Island new potatoes are bringing $2 to $2.25 per 80 pounds. Imported potatoes from the South are $6.50 for No. 1, $4.25 for No. 2's, and $3 for culls per barrel of 165 pounds.

Reductions were announced by wholesale jobbing houses in their prices for dressed poultry. Retail prices were: Squab broilers, 46c to 48c per lb.; selected broilers 40c to 44c per lb.; selected chickens, 38c to 45c per lb.; milk-fed chickens, 43c to 48c per lb.; selected goslins, 30c per lb.; selected ducks, 32c per lb.

Spring wheat flour prices advanced 65c per barrel on the local grain market here yesterday. All other prices on the cash grain market were marked up substantially. A very strong demand for millfeed was reported.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 16.—Cost of bread material kited upward so fast yesterday as to suggest possible need of a Government Relief Board of consumers. Buying of future deliveries of wheat here was on a gigantic scale that harked back to war-times, and prices closed feverish, nearly 9 cents a bushel higher than Saturday, with rye up 10½c. Hundreds of miles of Canadian wheatlands, parched by weeks of drought, were reported yesterday as singeing under temperatures of 100 degrees, crop losses meanwhile mounting far into millions of bushels.

Final quotations of wheat were at the day's and season's topmost level, 7⅜c to 8⅞c above Saturday's finish. Rye closed 10c to 10½c advance, corn 3⅜c to 4⅝c up; oats showing 1⅝c to 2¼c rise, and provisions unchanged to 20c down.

Partly because of huge profit-taking sales here, the Chicago wheat market yesterday, although showing from the outset a decided tendency to soar, was at first acting with relative caution compared to price developments at Liverpool and Buenos Aires. It was only after closing quotations at Liverpool had jumped 8⅛c a bushel for the day that the buying stampeded here.

Ripples of profit-taking sales had no effect upon the great wave of buying, as orders poured in from commission houses, from the East and from abroad. All grains shared the advance, but wheat, climbing from 7⅜c to 8⅞c a bushel over the previous close, finished at the top for the day and for the season: For July delivery, $1.37⅞; for September, $1.42⅛ to $1.42½, and for December, $1.47⅜ to $1.48⅛.

One private report from Alberta asserted that from 20 to 30 per cent. of the spring-wheat crop in the south-eastern part of the province was gone, and the remainder would make only half a crop. Weather reports continued to tell of drought, with only light rains in Western Canada and South Dakota, and little prospect of adequate moisture to rescue the crop. Observers figured the probable Canadian harvest at 300,000,000 bushels, contrasted with 510,000,000 bushels a year ago.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, July 16.—Advances of 11⅝ to 11⅞ cents were marked up on yesterday's heavy market in trading that was the heaviest witnessed here for some time. Continued drought on the Prairies and forecasts holding no promise of rain resulted in the climb to higher levels yesterday. Advances at Liverpool and Chicago were also responsible to some extent for the advance.

Cash wheat trading was disorganized by the hectic session in the futurer and the session was dull. Export business was reported excellent.

Trading in coarse grains was heavy with prices moving higher in sympathy with the rise in wheat. Oats advanced 2 cents, barley 3¾ cents and flax soared 11½ cents, with rye recording the widest gain of 12¾ cents for the day. Coarse grain trading was the most active witnessed this year.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, July 16.—Trading on the local wholesale produce market was of a very desultory character yesterday in all departments, although the demand for the No. 1 grade of creamery butter was fairly active. Number 2 grade was showing definite signs of slackening, and although the price held steady at from 36c to 36½c per lb. the demand was very noticeably absent, and only very small amounts were moved throughout the day's trading. The No. 1 grade held at a steady level of from 37½c to 37¾c per lb., and all arrivals in this class were moved quite readily.

The local wholesale cheese market was so quiet as to be almost motionless, and although the quoted price was steady at from 18½c to 19c per lb. there was hardly a sufficient call for the product to justify a price statement.

Trading on the local wholesale egg market yesterday was a repetition of the dragginess evidenced during the past week or so and dealers state that they can see no room for improvement until the weather becomes hot enough to curtail production to such an extent that there will be an absolute shortage of eggs on the market. Production continues to be large enough to cause a surplus of the product locally, despite the effect of the warm weather on laying and as a result there was no enthusiasm displayed in buying any grade. The extra grade was again the favorite among the few buyes, and it was stated that demand for this variety was fair to good; demand for firsts was poor all throughout the day and call for seconds was most conspicuous by its total absence. Quotations to country shippers for ungraded eggs, delivered and cases returned, are as follows: Fresh extras, 28c per dozen; fresh firsts, 25c per dozen; fresh seconds, 21c per dozn.

Wedding Bells

KEENE—McQUEGGE.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MADOC, July 16. — The home of Mr and Mrs. Stephen McQuegge of Madoc Township, was the scene of a pretty June wedding at 6 o'clock on June 28, when their second daughter, Audrey Ellen Best, became the bride of Harold Thomas Keene of Belleville, with Rev. T. G. Marshall, of Madoc, officiating.

The ceremony took place under an arch of evergreens and daisies against a background of tall ferns.

As Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Ena Sandford, cousin of the bride, the bridal procession came down the stairs. Miss Iris McQuegge, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and was lovely in a Spanish lace dress with rose slip and hat to match, and carried yellow roses.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, made a charming picture in her wedding gown of ivory silk lace and chiffon with bertha collar of lace and tierred skirt of chiffon trimmed with silver. She wore a tulle veil caught in cap effect with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Clarence Armstrong of Belleville attended the groom.

About one hundred and thirty guests were present to dinner. The dining room was beautifully decorated in gold and white, the bride's table being done in roses.

Shortly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Keene left amid showers of confetti and rice on a wedding trip to Toronto and other points west, the bride travelling in a beige ensemble, with hat and shoes to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Keene will reside in Belleville.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dixon and family of Sudbury; Mrs. Hubert Hill and son of Smiths Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Knox and family, of Fenelon Falls; Mrs. Joe Knox of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. John McQuegge and family of Havelock; Mr. and Mrs. Steve McQuegge of Havelock;; Mr. and Mrs. Howard McQuegge of Havelock; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gray and family of Thurlow; Mr. Thomas Keene and family of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. William McQuegge of Havelock; Miss Ireen Hick of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keene of Thurlow; Mr. and Mrs. Bunnett of Thurlow; Mr. and Mrs. Flyndal and daughter, Ida, also Grandma Flyndal of Belleville; Mr. Clarence Armstrong and sister, Miss Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. Burley, of Belleville; Mrs. Christie Fox of Belleville; Mrs. Robert McQuaig of Blairton; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shaw of Stirling; Mr. and Mrs. John Gawley, of Malone.

SCOUTS PRACTISING HARD.

OTTAWA, July 16. (C.P.) —Picked Boy Scouts from all parts of Canada, now encamped at the Normal School grounds here, are busily engaged in perfecting the various stunts which they will perform at the grand jamboree to be held at Birkenhead, Eng.

This morning, although the boys did not know it, Dominion Chief Scout Commissioner, Dr. J. W. Robertson, paid an informal visit to the camp. He watched a group of boys perform pyramid work and other forms of gymnastic exercise. Boys from the Prairie Provinces were practicing fancy rope spinning and lasso work.

"Fine brains back of fine bodies. They are a wonderful group of boys," the Chief Commissioner commented.

The Mexican jumping bean does so because of a little worm inside which coils itself and lets itself go like a catapult, carrying its house along with it. The worm lives in the bean all the time, and if a hole is made in the shell, it fills it up again.

GOODWILL TOUR STARTS JULY 20

Officers of General Motors Will Tour Eastern Canada.

UNIQUE TRIP

R. S. McLaughlin, president of General Motors of Canada, Ltd., H. A. Brown, vice president and general manager, J. H. Beaton, general sales manager and H. H. Henchel, general sales manager of General Motors Products (Truck and Coach Division) Ltd., will start out on a good will tour of eastern Canada on or about July 20th.

The trip will be unique for two reasons: First because it is primarily a good will tour in which the high ranking officials of General Motors of Canada, Ltd., will visit villages and cities to get first hand information on business conditions and buying habits, and secondly because the trip will be made in a luxurious bus, the Bonne Entente II. General Motors official car which presages what may be a popular mode of travel for business and pleasure tour.

A similar trip was made last year in a similar bus but this year a larger bus has been manufactured which is considered the last word in de luxe transportation. There are sleeping compartments for six persons in addition to complete cooking equipment, refrigeration, heating and radio. During the trip last year, a tremendous amount of public interest was shown in the bus during all of its stops.

Because so many requests are being made by various communities to have their towns included in the itinerary, the final schedule of visits has not as yet been made out. It is planned to include as many towns and cities as possible, particularly those who have made requests for such a visit.

"Such a trip enables us to get very close to the people of our various Canadian communities," explained Mr. Henchel, "and the trip serves an immensely useful purpose in guiding us in manufacturing and sales policies."

COGS SWAMP HASTINGS TO TAKE 15 TO 2 VICTORY

ERRORS AND WILD THROWS FEATURE GAME

L. Scriver Is Given Poor Support From His Village Teammates

COGS GOOD ON BASES

Winners Play Airtight Ball, Corbett Turning In Feature Play Of Evening

Errors, wild throws and general looseness on the part of Hastings gave Cognawagas a 15 to 2 decision over the boys from down east in an E.P.L. game played at Exhibition Park last evening. The Scriver crew seemed to be able to do nothing right.

The fans catching the spirit of the game were in a jovial mood, many torrid wisecracks being snapped out of the stands. In fact all in all it was one of the most humorous and weird games seen this season.

With better support L. Scriver, who relieved Stevenson on the mound for Hastings in the second might have been able to keep the score down. He had a burst of speed and good control, but practically every ball hit went for two or three bases on the carnival of errors that his teammates dished up for him.

Jack Billingsley worked on the mound for the winners. He was tendered great support and with the exception of the first three innings was never in the slightest danger.

The Cogs, although they played almost airtight ball and had two double plays were not playing the brand of which they are capable. Corbett turned in the feature play of the game when he jumped high in the air to rob C. Scriver of extra bases on a long hit into centre field.

The Cogs kept a steady stream of runners on the bags, getting runs in all but the third innings. The sixth was their big innings when they got five runs.

Harrinton, who started at first base and later played second, received the plaudits and jests of the fans for his play. He was the only Hastings player besides the pitcher who appeared to take the game seriously.

The teams:

Hastings—L. Scriver, 2b, p; Larmonth, mf; W. Laking, c; C. Scriver, ss; Sargent, rf; Harrington, 1b; Lemaine, 3b; Gillespie, lf; Stevenson, p, 2b.

Cognawagas—Crary, 2b; Corbett, mf; Ross, c; Rooke, 1b; Billingsley, p; Wilson, lf; Hillier, ss; Jones, 3b; Masterson, rf; Grant, rf.

WILD THROWS FEATURE GAME

Westclox Take 9-3 Decision From the Storemen In Listless Game

SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Westclox won the softball decision at the regular game on the Central school diamond by a score of 9 to 3 last night, when they defeated the Teco aggregation.

The Storemen started out strong in the first innings, scoring two runs to the 'Clocks one. Delahaye was on the mound for the Hillmen and in the first frame issued two complimentaries—one to Westbrooke and the other to Hall, who finally chalked up the first two runs for the game when they both travelled the circuit on overthrows and errors. Currie, on the other side, scored the first for the Western Clock.

The second innings was scoreless for the Teco while Barrie, after receiving a pass and assisted by Baptie's single, travelled the circuit. The third innings was scoreless for both sides, while in the fourth Board, for Teco, received a walk, and a single by Darling and one by Maher scored him to make the count three for the Storemen and two for the 'Clocks. In the last half the Hillmen failed to taily.

There was no score to the fifth for Teco, while Goodson, reached first on Westbrook's error; Foley on a complimentary, and Barrie on Frick's error, filled the bases, and all scored on wild tosses and assisted by Baptie's single.

Still Teco failed to score in the sixth, while Batten and Currie scored to add another brace of counters to the Westclox side making the score seven to three in their favor.

The eighth was scoreless for both sides, and in the ninth the Teco aggregation still remained silent, while Currie on a double, followed by Goodson who also connected for a two-bagger scored the two final runs of the game.

The game was rather listless and lacked the usual punch that the majority of the softball games have shown so far this year. Delahaye, for the 'Clocks, was forced out of the game in the fifth innings when he was taken ill. Currie then took over the hurling honors and held the Teco team scoreless.

Line-up:—

Teco—Westbrooks, ss; Hall, 3b; White, c; Frick, 1b; Board, 2b; Darling, p; Stanley, lf; Maher, cf; Hopkins, rf; Morrison, lf.

Score by innings:—

ROYALS TRIM CATS 8-3

Heavy Hitting Features Newark Bears 11-6 Victory Over Bisons

TORONTO, Ont., July 16 (Canadian Press). — The best part of the Toronto-Reading ball game at the waterfront yesterday was the first part. The Leafs won the game in the first inning when they punched Bobby Osborne for four hits, one a triple by Bucky Burke, and three runs. They added two runs to the three in the third, and the game was over right there. The score was 5 to 2.

Guy Cantrell pitched a good game. He held the Keys to seven hits, struck out three, and walked four. Not one of the charities figured in the two runs scored by the Keys. Two misjudged drives to the outfield gave them to the Keys.

GRANT BLOWS IN SIXTH.

MONTREAL, Que., July 16 (Canadian Press). — George Allison Grant, former Cleveland right-hander, blew up in the sixth inning of yesterday's game, and the Royals scored five times to trim the Jersey City Black Cats, 8 to 3, in the opening game of the series.

The Cats pushed off to an early lead of three runs on as many hits off Herb. Thormahlen in the first inning, but the Royal southpaw held them scoreless after that.

ORIOLES HUMBLE WINGS.

ROCHESTER, July 16 (Canadian Press). — Staging a spirited rally in the last two innings, which netted them five runs, Baltimore yesterday humbled the league-leading Red Wings by a score of 8 to 6.

Hollingsworth, for the Orioles, pitched a stellar game, except for the fourth inning when bunched hits and an orgy of errors enabled Rochester to score five times.

BEARS TAKE FIRST GAME.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 16 (Canadian Press). — The Newark Bears opened their stay here yesterday auspiciously when they battered the Bisons for an 11 to 6 triumph.

CELLAR POSITION LEFT BY HOARDS

Victory Over Menie Boys Makes Three-Cornered Tie Possible.

(Examiner Correspondence)

BURNBRAE, July 16.—Hoard's softball team surprised everyone, including themselves on Friday evening when they defeated the hard-hitting Menie squad 15 to 5, leaving no doubt as to their superiority on the night's play. On the occasion of the previous meeting of these two teams, Menie won by the equally one-sided score of 12 to 2.

This gives Hoards a boost from last place to third. As this team has only one more game, that being with Bethel, it is impossible for them to secure first place, but there is still a real chance for a three-cornered tie for second place. Bethel looks strong enough to romp home ahead of the lot, but Springbrook may cause some surprises before the season ends.

The standing now is:

	W	L	To Play
Bethel	4	1	3
Menie	3	3	2
Hoards	3	4	1
Pethericks	2	3	3
Springbrook	2	3	3

Ray Kolp pitched a good game for the Reds, but was ruined by the long distance hitting.

BOWLING TOURNEY TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Many Teams Already Entered For Match of the Season.

The bowlers will sing their swan song as far as any important tournaments are concerned at their old greens on Wednesday and Thursday of this week when the annual tourney will be held which always attracts teams from all over the districts.

The greens are in the best of shape and there has been no trouble spared in getting everything ready for the big event which is expected to attract approximately two hundred bowlers to Peterborough. The courts are fast and the grass is smooth which assures keen competition, providing the weather man is fair in his contribution to the attraction.

The prizes this year are more than a drawing card, but are something useful and something that will be valued for many years to come and which will be reminiscent of some good times that were spent in the city at the bowling club.

Club bags will go to the primary team in the Stratton trophy, while the second primary team will be the winners of sweaters. The winners of the Warne Cup will receive goblets and the runner-up will be given flashlights. The winners of the doubles will be awarded with sweaters while the seconds are slated to get Pyrex platters. A tea set will be the prize for the singles while the second man receives a berry bowl.

Already entries have been received from Tweed, Campbellford, Port Hope, Lindsay and Cobourg and many more will be received on the opening day. The draw will be made at 9:30 on Wednesday morning when they will start and continue until the wee small hours of the morning while the tourney is expected to be completed sometime after mid-night on Thursday.

STEVE ROCCO STARTS ROAD TOWARD CROWN

Small Torontonian Takes Tobias For A Ten-Round Beating

AYRTON WINS SEMI-FINAL

Preliminary Bouts Proved Six Rounds Of Real Sport

COLISEUM, Toronto, Ont., July 15.—(By the Canadian Press)—Steve Rocco of Toronto made an auspicious start in his campaign to regain the Canadian flyweight title last night when he administered a severe beating to Phil Tobias of New York in a ten round bout.

Rocco weighed 112¼ pounds, and Tobias 112½.

The Canadian-Italian began a savage attack on Tobias in the third round after the New Yorker had stung him with two rights to the jaw. He continued his assault in the fourth round, sending Tobias reeling backward with rights and lefts to the head against which he appeared helpless. The New Yorker finally collapsed to the canvas five seconds before the bell which saved him.

Rocco continued to pound Tobias on all parts of the anatomy in the fifth round, but the New Yorker weathered the storm, and towards the end of the round made a strong finish. Tobias strengthened further in the sixth and seventh, but his blows lack power and it was obvious Rocco's smashing blows in the three previous rounds had taken their toll.

Ayrton Defeats Grande

The semi-final, another international battle, also went to Canada when Billy Ayrton, Winnipeg, added to his laurels as a first class Bantamweight by scoring an easy six-round victory over Frisco Grande, of Buffalo. Ayrton met the Filipino's ferocious rushes with heavy right hand smashes to the jaw, and at long range landed several hard left that staggered Grande. Ayrton won every round but the first, which was even. Ayrton weighed 117½ and Grande 117¾.

George Fifield of Toronto had to work hard for the verdict over Jack Joseph, a recent arrival from Wales who re-entered the ring after an absence of 18 months. Fifield weighed 149¾ and Joseph 147½.

Earl Duquette, French-Canadian from Boston, had a shade on Red Edgerton of Toronto. Duquette, who reached the semi-finals of the 1928 Olympic boxing championships at Amsterdam has won nine out of eleven bouts since he turned professional. Duquette weighed 112 pounds and Edgerton 111.

In the curtain-raiser Bobby Headley of Ottawa gave Hughie Lees of Winnipeg a boxing lesson, the Winnipeger absorbing considerable punishment and leaving the ring with a damaged lip and his left eye nearly closed. Headley weighed 147 pounds and Lees 147.

All the preliminary bouts were six rounds.

Earnshaw Holds Indians To Seven Hits To Allow Athletic 4-0 Victory

BROWNS BEAT RED SOX

White Sox Even Series With Washington Senators By Winning 4-2 Decision

CLEVELAND, July 16.—(Canadian Press). — Fine pitching by George Earnshaw enabled the Athletics to get an even break in their double-header here yesterday and they took the nightcap 4 to 0, after the Indians had slugged out an 8 to 5 victory in the first game. Earnstraw allowed only seven hits in the second game.

BROWNS BEAT RED SOX

ST. LOUIS, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—Pounding five Boston pitchers for 16 hits, the St. Louis Browns defeated the Red Sox yesterday 10 to 3.

Manager Carrigan used 19 players in an attempt to stop the rout. The best the Red Sox could do was get seven scattered hits off Stewart. The Brown's big attack came in the fourth inning, when they scored six runs off three pitchers.

CHICAGO, July 16.—(Canadian Press). — Ed. Walsh Jr., outlasted Fred Marberry yesterday afternoon and the White Sox evened the series with Washington by winning 4 to 2.

Walsh held the Senators to eight scattered hits. A double play stopped Washington in a ninth inning rally.

The Canadian shot better in this event than they have done since the meeting opened ten days ago. Lieut.-Colonel R. M. Blair of Vancouver totalled 67, to tie for second place honors with two English marksmen—Petty Officer Fleetwood of H.M.S. Pembroke and the veteran Sgt. A. G. JUNIOR BATTLE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Lockworks and Kiwanis Tangle In Sixth League Game Of Season

A sparkling battle with plenty of pep and fight is promised the followers of junior baseball on Wednesday night at James Stevenson Park, when the Lockworks and Kiwanis clash in their sixth league game. These two teams have been battling on almost even terms all season, and as a result the league leading Kiwanis are only one game ahead of the Lockmakers, who are determined to even the score to-morrow night.

Twice the Lockworks team has been able to offset the clever battery work of the Kiwanis with airtight fielding and heavy hitting, and the chances are that they will be able to repeat the performance in this game.

GRAFTONS RALLY IN FINAL FRAMES

Defeat Kiwanis 15-2 In Bantam Group Fixture Of City Hardball League

Graftons scored many runs in the last few innings to defeat the Kiwanis 15 to 2 in a Bantam League game played at James Stevenson Park last evening. It was a close hard fight until the fifth frame when Graftons cut loose.

Kiwanis scored a run in the first innings and after that they could not get a man over the home plate. Graftons did not score until the fifth when they loosened their heavy artillery to score four runs. From then Graftons sent across a steady trickle of counters.

Clarke, Grafton's third baseman, clouted a home run to the score board with one man on in the ninth. The Kiwanis scored their other run in the ninth innings.

Routley pitched one of the finest games of the season, striking out 24 batters, allowing but seven scattered hits and walking four batters.

Sweetman pitched good ball until the fifth when he weakened and his support wobbled with him. He had nine strikeouts and allowed fifteen hits.

Jim Sweetmand and Leo Begley showed up the best for Kiwanis.

DENIES RIGHT OF PROMOTER TO USE SCOTT

Signed For Paulino And Says Fugazy Has No Right To Substitute British Fighter

$14,000 FOR BULOW

Reported Madison Square President Arranging To Stage Match at Boston

NEW YORK, July 16.—Aid came from an unexpected source yesterday to revive hope of a Max Schmeling-Jack Sharkey fight in New York. It came from Arthur Bullow, whose terrific activity with a fountain pen has placed Schmeling in a position where he cannot fight in this State without first meeting Phil Scott.

Now that the damage is done Bulow has repented. He is ready to take the witness stand and disavow the contract he signed with Humbert J. Fugazy.

Bulow claims that Fugazy's contract does not give the Brooklyn promoter any right to select the Englishman as Schmeling's opponent. He says the contract specifically mentioned Paulino Uzcudun as Schmeling's opponent, and that any substitution for Paulino must first meet with his approval. He denies that he has ever given his consent to the nomination of Scott, and intimates that it was very wicked of Promoter Fugazy to select the horizontal horror without consulting him.

$14,000 For Bulow.

The penitent manager received 20 per cent. of Schmeling's $70,000 purse for the Paulino fight, and this windfall has evidently given him a new viewpoint on his meal ticket. He is not required to perform any services for the money; in fact, it is specifically stipulated by Schmeling that he will be paid only on condition that he does not attempt to do anything whatever.

Bulow is beginning to realize that he should prolong this situation as far as possible. Impelled by this new-found protective instinct, he says:

"It is ridiculous to expect Schmeling to meet an inconsequential contender like Scott, now that he is one of the two leading challengers for the championship.

"Under my contract with Fugazy, there can be no change in Schmeling's opponent without my approval. I have not and do not approve of Scott."

Trouble For Bulow.

It is likely that Bulow will be pounced upon by those interested in a Sharkey-Schmeling fight, and that he will be haled before the Commission to expose this great injustice. It is also likely that he will be bounced right out on his ear, because there is a matter of $5,000 which he accepted as earnest money from Signor Fugazy.

Since Jack Dempsey made his escape with that $40,000, all the boys seem to have the notion that it is highly amusing to promote the promoters and take to their heels.

Another development that leaked out yesterday indicates that William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, is quietly arranging to stage the September match at Boston in the event that Bulow's sad story fails to break the hearts of the local Commission.

Tom O'Rourke, manager of Con O'Kelly, has agreed to waive O'Kelly's right to a Schmeling match in Boston. O'Rourke signed the paper at Carey's office on Saturday afternoon, just before Carey departed for Hoosick Falls.

BETHANY WINS FROM CRESCENTS

Villagers Take Firmer Grip On First Place By Reason Of 6-4 Victory

In a see-saw battle Bethany turned back Crescents 6 to 4 in the mountan back Crescent 6 to 4 in the mountain village last evening to take a firmer grip on first place in the East Peterborough League. Looseness and errors on the part of the Crescents cost them the victory, more than the play of Bethany.

Morrison, who started on the rubber for Crescents, pitched steady and winning ball until the third when he got into difficulties, loading the bases. He had thrown three balls to Reynolds, one of the heavy hitters of Bethany, when Frost replaced him. There were two down and Frost struck out Reynolds to make the third out without Bethany countering on their great opportunity.

Ralph pitched another sterling performance for the winners, allowing but four hits, but he was wild at stages. His team mates tendered him airtight support. Ralph helped to win his own game by poling out a long triple.

Ryley, the fence buster, went hitless, but he more than made up for his weakness on the attack by playing a bang-up defensive game, accepting six fielding chances without a slip.

Freddie Jones, with two sound hits, was the most successful sticker for Crescents. For the winners, McGill, Johnson and Reynolds, each aided their team materially with two clouts apiece.

The box score:—

Several changes occurred in the team standings of the E.P.L. as a result of the games last night in which all four teams participated. Bethany, by a well-earned 6 to 4 victory over Crescents, increased their position of leadership, stretching it into two full games. While Cogs by their lop-sided win over Hastings, passed Crescents, and are now in second place.

The opinion is gaining ground locally, it is freely admitted in Bethany, that Doc Hamilton's team will cop the championship. The only thing that can keep Bethany away from the flag is to suffer defeat here at the hands of both Cogs and Crescents. Even that will only allow one of the other teams to pull up on a tie with them.

Cogs and Crescents will likely play here on Friday evening, and the game is of the utmost importance to each team.

RAYS CARRY STRONG PITCHING STAFF.

Oshawa Arabs are not anxious to meet Rays this week. The Motorists are scheduled to meet the Brakeliners at the Exhibition Park, Friday evening. It might be just as well if they do not come, since it will give the Rays longer time to get Maudsley's arm back into shape. The Rays have two smart young pitchers in Kitchen and Armstrong,and it is likely that from now on they will have to help carry a bigger share of the pitching burden.

SOFTBALL GAME EVERY NIGHT THIS WEEK.

Central School grounds will be the scene of smacking softball struggles this week. There is a game booked for every evening. Westclox sent down the Teco Store men 9 to 3 in rather uninteresting fashion last night.

Harrison's still lead all and sundry with Bridgenorth Wildcats next in line, and the field stretched out behind.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT BEGINS TO-MORROW.

Activity is feverish around the Lawn Bolwling Club to-day in preparation for the big annual tournament which begins to-morrow and lasts for two days. Every preparation is being made to handle the forty or more rinks that will be here to compete. Representatives will be here from Port Hope, Cobourg, Havelock, Campbellford, Omemee, Lindsay, Toronto, Kingston, and other centres.

The local rinks are prepared to meet them all.

CHICAGO CRICKET TEAM HERE TO-MORROW.

Fans in this city are again offered a cricket tidbit through the energetic efforts of the Peterborough Cricket Club. The crack team of the Chicago Cricket Club, which has been touring Ontario for the past week, will be here to-morrow afternoon to play at the Oval at 1.30. Citizens should be out in force to watch this important and interesting game.

No sporting organization in this city has during the season brought in as many outside teams as has the local Cricket Club. In this way they have advertised the city in its best colors. Members of all the visiting teams have remarked at the beauty of the grounds at the Oval, and the general prosperity of the city.

The local club has made plans to entertain the Chicago visitors in a royal manner. They will be dined at the Oval and then taken on a tour of the city.

The Peterborough team for the game will be: Elliott, Thorpe, Hamilton, Combe, Monkman, Stuart, F. Dyer, Wade, Gose, Mitchell, Imming. Umpires: M. Hamilton and Reg. Dyer.

Any young chaps who have played cricket, or would like to learn the game would be welcomed by the club members.

NO RINK FOR LINDSAY THIS YEAR.

Local hockey players will be interested to know that the promised new rink in Lindsay is not likely to take shape this year at least. The Lindsay Post says: "Nothing has been heard as yet about the prospect for a new rink for next winter, and a revival of the old days of hockey. Some plans have been under discussion for a rink the past year or two, but nothing has been done so far. There seems to be no reason why a good-sized modern rink could not be made to pay here as is being done in other places, and certainly there is not much likelihood of hockey paying until there is better accommodation than there is at present."

WILLIAMS'S VICTORY AN ANSWER TO HIS CRITICS.

When Percy Williams, champion sprinter of the world, flashed in ahead of Eddie Tolan and Frank Wykoff, the United States stars, at Vancouver last Saturday, he hurled back into the faces of the New York critics the allegation that he needed a break from the starter to mow down these alleged wonders from Uncle Sam's domain, where the break records with remarkable consistency and leave their speed in the dressing rooms when they match strides with the fleet Canadian. The records show that Mr. Williams does not do his racing on the breakaway. In fact he has come from behind in nearly all his starts to overtake and defeat the greatest sprinters in the universe. A certain Abramson, who hails from New York, recently discovered something wrong with Williams when the titleholder declined to enable Denver promoters to capitalize on his ability. It is not on record that United States athletes who hold world titles, ever defend them on foreign fields, except under pressure. However last winter Williams invaded the United States, and, running on unfamiliar indoor board tracks, defeated the best men United States officials could induce to meet him. Charlie Paddock, once known as the fastest human, is not one of Williams' detractors. He has gone on record as saying that Williams, whose courage is unlimited, will be king in his own right for many years. Mr. Paddock deserves a vote of thanks; he is a sportsman, and he knows more about the cinder-track business than all the United States' critics combined. —Toronto Globe.

GOV'T QUESTIONED AS TO U.S. TARIFF

Trade Secretary Replies Nothing Done Yet But Will Considered

LONDON, July 16 (Canadian Press). — The Government was again closely questioned in the House of Commons yesterday as to whether it was making representations to the United States concerning its increase in tariffs, which several members insisted would work injury to British trade.

They failed to elicit anything from the ministers except that W. R. Smith, Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade assured them that the Government has the matter under consideration, although "no representations up to the present has been made to the United States by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom.

ARABS-RAYS WILL CLASH ON WEDNESDAY

Game Promises To Be One Of Hardest Struggles Of Lakeshore Loop Race

COMPETITION KEEN

Armstrong Or Kitchen Will Be On the Mound—Game Called For 6.30 Sharp

Competition is keen between the Oshawa Arabs and Raybestos for second place in the Lakeshore League and last Friday in the Motor City these two teams battled to a 4-4 tie in one of the most gruelling struggles of the season. Rays staged a last-inning comeback to wind up that game, in a thrilling finish.

That battle will be continued at Exhibition Park to-morrow evening when "Izzy" Kohen and his smart Arabs come here to do battle with the Brakeliners. This game promises to be one of the hardest struggles of the year for the Rays—a real test of their ability.

"Sailor" Maudsley's arm is still bothering him, and it is not likely that it will be in the best of shape. It is likely that either Armstrong or Kitchen will get the call to the mound and the "Sailor" will be held in case of necessity.

The Arabs have a strong string of pitchers to shove in against the local sluggers. It will be a battle royal and one which should crowd the big stand at Exhibition Park.

The game is called for 6.30, and the hat will be passed.

THEATRES

"INTERFERENCE."

This picture is decidedly a study in temperament and for that reason, as well as for the outstanding quality of its acting and the dramatic romance that gives it a heady flavor, is extraordinarily interesting.

William Powell dominates it. He is the type of man who ruins his own life and does his level best to ruin the lives of others with whom he comes in contact. Then, at the moment when he prepares to step out of existence, via the heart route, he makes one last grand, temperamental gesture, and leaves the memory of courage forever behind him. He is Philip Boaze, and Deborah Kane, the bad woman of the piece, who also enlists the reluctant sympathy of the watchers, is played by Evelyn Brent. The good woman is Doris Kenyon (Lady Faith Marlay) and the role of her husband, Sir John Marlay, is played very well by Clive Brook. He is the strong man who bends the weaker people to his will.

Philip Boaze is listed as dead in the war returns, but he lives on and comes back to find the woman he married as the wife of another man and the woman he had discarded placing a memorial wreath on the monument which bears his name. Letters from his former wife have been discovered by his former mistress and she threatens to give them to Sir John Marlay. The complications which ensue are better seen than described. They are intensely dramatic and interest-holding.

Powell has a wonderful part and enacts it marvellously. He never deviates from the role assigned him, that of the waster who has enough of good in his make-up to give him a hateful fascination right to the last moment. The only difficulty with this picture, so tense is the interest aroused by the story, is the fact that the screen has chosen to lower its voice and some telling sentences pass around the ears of the listeners, instead of into them. Conversational modulation may be all right in polite speech. The screen should be able to broadcast its stuff or else let the sub-titles start working again. To have a principal actor drop his voice at a dramatic moment is maddening.

The title justifies itself at the last moment. Philip has always resented interference and when Sir John attempts it, he strikes back at his own self-destructive way.

The comedy gives a close-up of the inimitable Eddie Cantor at his best and affords plenty of opportunity for many laughs.

BRADDOCK SHOWS SPEED SPARRING WITH BROTHER

Challenger For Light-Heavyweight Crown Loses Two Pounds After Strutting Stuff Against Five Ring Helpers

MEETS LOUGHRAN ON THURSDAY NIGHT FOR TITLE

WHITE SULHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., July 16. — Jimmy Braddock didn't annihilate his sparring partners yesterday as on Saturday, but he exhibited a skillful performance against his five sparing partners in five rounds of boxing. Rather than endeavour to use his right hand unnecessarily, Braddock endeavored to meet the various styles of his mates with conforming tactics.

The work-out was comparatively slow until brother Al stepped into the ring for the final session. Braddock stepped around the ring with lightning agility against his brother, displaying a world of speed and action.

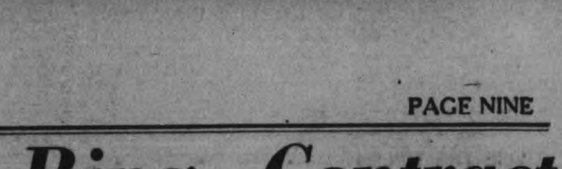
Over five hundred viewed the work out. It was the largest crowd seen here since Braddock began training two weeks ago for his meeting on Thursday for the light heavyweight title of the world at the Yankee Stadium.

Braddock weighed 173 before working and two pounds under that mark after. It was decided that Jimmy will box only lightly for a time. He will box only four rounds each day.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY



POOR WORM

The dog when he is feeling low
When life seems dull and tame and flat,
Must find it comforting to know
That he can always chase a cat.
It helps him bear with nonchalance
Misfortune's cruel wales and welts
To feel that soon he'll find a chance
To take them out on someone else.

The cat whose normal peace of mind
Is often marred by grief and care,
Alertly waits her chance to find
To catch the robin unaware,
And when she licks her whiskered chops,
Serene, unruffled and elate,
She murmurs to herself: "Perhaps
This dinner sets me square with fate."

The robin, knowing that her days
Must span a brief, uncertain term,
Arises with the dawn and preys
Upon the unresisting worm.
Afraid of hawk, and owl, and cat,
Whose neighborhood spells dire disaster,
She finds a joy in feeling that
There is one creature she can master.

Alas for the unhappy worm,
Continuously on the rack
In terror he must writhe and squirm
Without a chance of getting back!
He makes the rich and fertile soil
From which the trees and flowers spring,
But though his life is spent in toil
He cannot lick a living thing!

HIGH SCORES INDICATED IN TROPHY PLAY

Andy Kay, Lambton Holds Low Score Of First 20, Turning In Card Of 74

JIMMY JOHNSTON SECOND

Weather Conditions Almost Ideal On First Day Of Championship Play

Lakeview Golf Club, Toronto, Ont., July 16. (C.P.) — Early indications furnished by the first 20 to finish the first 18 holes of to-day's 36 hole play for the Ontario open golf championship, are that the scoring will be higher than expected. Andy Kay of Lambton, Toronto, three times winner of the title, and runner-up last year, had the low score of the first 20, turning in a 74, four over par.

Jimmy Johnston of Rosedale, Toronto, Canadian professional champion in 1927 and 1928, was second with 76, while the defending titleholder, Arthur Hulbert, of Thornhill, Toronto, took 80. He had a 44 going out and 36 coming home.

Willie Lamb, of Uplands, Toronto, took a 77, and D. A. Ferguson of Weston, Ont., had a 79.

Weather conditions were almost ideal for the competition, there being a bright sun, the heat being tempered by a south breeze, just strong enough to prevent the long hitters from getting home in two on the two long holes, the fifth and sixteenth and the eighteenth, which is a plateau green.

Race Tightens

The race for the leadership tightened up as Alex Robson came in with a card of 74 for the eighteen holes to tie with Andy Kay. Four players —two amateurs and two professionals—were one stroke behind. They were W. J. Thompson, Mississaugua, Toronto, George Boeckh, York Downs Toronto, Bob Cunningham, Mississaugua and Louise Cumming, Toronto ladies.

Another 76 was turned in by Dave Spittal, Royal York Toronto.

With well over a hundred still to complete the first eighteen holes, a hard battle for the championship is probable as the players tee off this afternoon.

Post entries brought the total number of starters up to 140.

ENGLAND WINS THIRD MATCH

Britishers Are Victors Over South Africa By Five Wickets

TENSE STRUGGLE

LEEDS, England, July 16.—(Canadian Press Cable).—After a tense struggle in which the fortunes of both teams fluctuated from bad to good, England won the third cricket test match from South Africa today by five wickets. Apparently in a hopeless position yesterday through H. G. Owen Smith's 129, to-day South Africa made a fine bid for victory or a draw. Things looked serious for England at lunch time to-day when they had lost two of their best batsmen and were still 163 behind. The middle section of their town played steadily and pulled the game round. The standing in the test match series now is:—

England won 1, drew 2 to play 2.

Scores in the third match were:

South Africa 236 and 275, aggregate 511.

England 328 and 186 for five wickets, aggregate 514.

KING PASSES

It may be some time before the opening made yesterday for draining of the abscess area in the right lung is healed. Meanwhile careful nursing will be necessary, but the patient's greatly increased strength and cheerful spirits have given confidence his recuperation will be normal.

It is understood that to-day's bulletin was regarded with considerable satisfaction in court circles. The doctors' statement that the general condition of His Majesty is satisfactory was taken to indicate that the King's health has not suffered to any extent from the effects of the operation.

The Prince of Wales gave reassuring word on the King's condition in a speech this afternoon at the inaugural luncheon of the International Air Exhibition.

"I know that you will be pleased when I tell you that I had some definite conversation with the King this morning," the Prince declared.

"He has stood the operation extremely well, and was very pleased when I told him I was coming to see this exhibition."

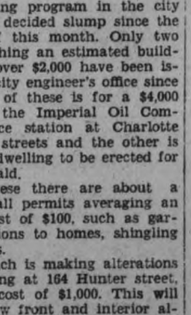
SOUND AUCTION BRIDGE

By WILBUR C. WHITEHEAD

The World's Greatest Authority

DISTINCTION BETWEEN TAKE-OUTS AT AUCTION AND CONTRACT



Auction Bidding

	1st Round
South	1 No Trump
West	Pass
North	Pass
East	Pass

Contract Bidding

	1st Rd.	2nd Rd.	3rd Rd.
S	1 N T	2 N T	Pass
W	Pass	Pass	Pass
N	2 ♣	3 N T
E	Pass	Pass

This deal well illustrates the distinction between the rule for take-outs of an original No Trump at Auction and at Contract. With but few exceptions, the rules for take-outs are the same in both games. The most important exception is that in Contract, the intervening opponent passing, a player should take out partner's one No Trump with any five card suit, Major or Minor, as good as a defensive bid, in order to keep the bidding open and at the same time advise partner of at least average high card support. By defensive bid is meant any biddable suit of five or more cards headed by 1¼ Quick Tricks; or if headed by but ¼ Quick Trick then with at least a side Quick Trick in the hand.

Salient Points of Bidding

Auction Bidding: At Auction, North has no reason, either distributional or otherwise, to disturb South's original one No Trump.

Contract Bidding: South bids one No Trump as in Auction. His distribution, 4-3-3-3, is a distinct No Trump type and while his high card strength of 3¼ Quick Tricks lies in but two suits (Spades and Diamonds), he has a third suit (Hearts) protected, and his unprotected suit (Clubs) is one of more than two cards.

North's distribution, 5-4-2-2, is of a suit type and one with which a trick more should as a rule be made at a suit trump than at No Trump. Furthermore, while North's high card values (1½ Quick Tricks) are insufficient to assist an original one No Trump, they are ample for a take-out. North therefore bids two Clubs, following West's pass, to inform South that he holds at least the average expectancy of high card support should South's values justify a No Trump re-bid.

In response to North's Club take-out, South bids but two No Trumps, unwilling to risk a game contract without hearing further from North as to the strength and nature of the Club take-out. This re-bid of No Trumps by South assures North of both Spade and Heart protection; consequently North bids three No Trumps.

The Play

West leads initially the 2 of Diamonds which South wins with the 8, and now starts the establishment of his Clubs, the suit of which the partnership holds the most cards. To the second trick, therefore, South leads the Club 8 intending to cover any card played by West, his whole endeavor being to keep West out of the lead, if possible, for fear of a shift to Hearts before the establishment of the Clubs. West covers the Club 8 with the 9, South finesses with the Jack in Dummy, East winning with the Queen. East now leads his fourth best Spade and South, refusing an immediate finesse, goes up with the King.

To the fourth trick South leads another Club. West, playing the Club 7, North must duck for the reason that if East holds the Ace-10, he must make two Club tricks in any event, whereas if East holds but the Ace alone he must play it on this trick. Nothing can be gained by going up with the Club King in Dummy except the possibility that West, holding the Ace-9-7 originally, has himself ducked two rounds of the suit. So played, East wins the fourth trick with the Club Ace, leads another Spade which South wins with the Ace and thereafter makes his contract, winning nine tricks in all, to wit: four Diamonds, two Spades and three Clubs.

BUILDING PROGRAM TAKES DECIDED SLUMP

Imperial Oil Company is Adding $4,000 Addition to its Station on Charlotte street

The building program in the city has taken a decided slump since the beginning of this month. Only two permits reaching an estimated building cost of over $2,000 have been issued at the city engineer's office since July 1. One of these is for a $4,000 addition to the Imperial Oil Company's service station at Charlotte and Aylmer streets and the other is for a $2,200 dwelling to be erected for J. R. McDonald.

Besides these there are about a score of small permits averaging an estimated cost of $100, such as garages, alterations to homes, shingling and verandas.

James Lynch is making alterations to his building at 164 Hunter street, West, at a cost of $1,000. This will include a new front and interior alterations.

It was expected, judging by the activity in the early months of the year, that the city was to enjoy a building boom, but such has as yet failed to materialize. Yet realtors here state that the demand for moderate sized homes exceeds the supply, and rents holds firm.

PETERBOROUGH POLICE WANT HENRY A. WILSON

Niagara Falls Department Is Asked To Be On Lookout for Man

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 16.—Acting Chief Constable James F. Reid of Peterborough, Ont., has asked the police of this city to be on the lookout for Henry A. Wilson, alias F. Hafley, alias Charles Collins, wanted for obtaining money under false pretenses. He is believed to be in the vicinity of Niagara Falls. Wilson is described as being 35 or 40 years old, about five feet eight inches tall and weighing 160 or 170 pounds. He has a ruddy complexion and is clean shaven. He is known to operate by making a cash deposit in a bank, returning a short time later and making a small withdrawal, coming back the second time with a large worthless check, usually of the Bank of Nova Scotia, depositing half the amount of the check and taking the remainder of the money and disappearing.

OUT BY BOAT BACK BY RAIL

The First Trip Of The Season To Lindsay By The "Stoney Lake" Is Held

A DELIGHTFUL OUTING

(By FRANK RUSSELL)

Yesterday, Monday, July 15, saw the inauguration of the delightful summer trips carried out by the owners of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company. These water trips are eagerly looked forward to each year by many citizens.

Well, yesterday's outing was one of the favourites viz., out by boat to Lindsay, returning by train—and a special train too!

This is a trip which is run about four times during the summer season and always draws a good gathering.

Accordingly yesterday morning at 7.30 a.m. standard time—these boats run in connection with trains and therefore, except for purely local trips, keep standard time. When I stepped on board "the Stoney Lake" steamer to be greeted by my old friends, Commodore Frank (Jerry) Young and his able Skipper, Captain Scollard, I found somewhere around one hundred and sixty passengers aboard, which number was increased to nearly two hundred, recruited at stopping places en route.

The day was everything that could be desired; the weather being perfect. A cloudless sky, a glorious sunshine, a pleasant gentle breeze to cool the ardour of the sun's rays, all tending to make the passengers—old and young—feel thoroughly happy and comfortable.

Within a few minutes of the appointed hour, the mooring ropes were cast off from the wharf and the sturdy vessel was under way. By the way there has been a lot of discussion as to whether this nautical term should be correctly spelled as "underway" or "underweigh." If we have any nautical people among our inhabitants let them fight that problem out. Anyway we had made a start.

We crossed Little Lake to wharf at a lock where we entered the Canal, where we took on a few of the supplementary passengers.

Then on to the Lift Lock, which even did not look so forbidding as it often does. There was not so much of the "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here", and in the course of a very few minutes we had ascended to the upper waters of the canal.

The journey through the canal was necessarily rather slow, yet quite pretty for there were many little beauty spots to be seen at almost every turn by anyone who has eyes to see and who uses them.

On we went until we came to Lock 22, where I had the pleasure of again seeing my old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin. Then at Lock 25 we found quite extensive works in progress. Then Lakefield with its extensive cement works was reached. Here Commodore Young, who had so far accompanied up, left the vessel and went ashore, his place being filled by the purser, Mr. Smith, who there joined the ship.

An on we went through Katchiwago Lake. We glided through Clear Lake, Stoney Lake when we came to Burleigh double locks.

Here the dinner bell sounded 12.30 by "Denne's" Time but 11.30 by good old Sol's time—and right glad were many of us to sit down to a repast supervised by Mrs. Godfrey and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bell.

Burleigh Falls Locks are situated among huge blocks of granite. Now as this is rather high ground and granite is not—anyway as a rule—a surface rock it sets one thinking as to what vast and mighty upheavals of nature must have at some time or other have been at work.

Well on through Lovesick Lake, Deer Bay, Buckhorn Lake, during which time a Mrs. Thackeray kindly treated us to music on the piano, and on to Bobcaygeon where the amphibious kids afforded a good deal of amusement.

As we went through Gannon's Narrows, where is a floating bridge, naturally a good many boats of sorts were out with anglers, for it was here no later than Friday last a big "lunge" of 27½ pounds was taken.

And then we came in due course to the entrance of the Scugog river when the supper bell rang and quite as eager for this meal were those who had welcomed the midday bell. We steamed up the uneventful river until we reached Scugogville otherwise the town of Lindsay. Here we debarked until we reached the Canadian National Railway Station where a special train—one hour in advance of the regular train awaited us. And precisely at 8 o'clock, railway time, we were getting out of the coaches onto Peterborough platform; bidding farewells either to old friends or to new ones we had made on board. Every one was expressing him or herself as being delighted with the happy, pleasant day we had spent and feeling thankful to Captain Scollard and his crew for the able manner in which his duties had been carried and the courtesty shown to all travellers by those concerned.

This trip will be repeated next Monday. Take the tip from me: Try it.

Laxative For Baby That "Stays Down"

Baby's tiny system rebels against castor oil and strong purgatives; but here's a medicine that just suits him. And it does the work quickly and so gently that Baby doesn't feel it. Fletcher's Castoria is soothing cross, fretful babies and children to sleep and making the feverish, constipated, upset ones well and happy, in millions of homes today. Castoria is purely vegetable, harmless and endorsed by the medical profession. Avoid imitations. The Chas. H. Fletcher signature marks genuine Castoria.

FINE EXHIBITION FOR PREMIER TO OFFICIALLY OPEN

ECLIPSE ALL YEARS

Many Changes Have Been Made in Grounds and Buildings at Ottawa.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premier of Ontario, officially opens the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa on Monday, August 19. He will speed on its way what the directors are confident will be the finest exhibition ever conducted in Ottawa and, reviewing the successes of previous years, this is saying a whole lot.

Many changes have been made in grounds and buildings. A large gang of men now are at work in the western end of the grandstand, where several thousand dollars will be spent in fixing up both floors for the child welfare, baby show and other displays and demonstrations. On the ground floor under the grandstand will be found a Bermuda display, the first time in Ottawa. When the alterations are completed, with new lighting, decorations, etc., the space under the grandstand will be as attractive as that in any of the buildings.

Considerable gratification has been expressed because Creatore and his band will be daily features at the exhibition. Creatore as a band conductor occupies a unique position in the music world, and his organization of artists enthralls music lovers. Two concerts will be given each day from the shell bandstand. No extra charge will be made for this superlative attraction. To music lovers, who will not want to miss a single program, the coupon tickets issued by the exhibition will be a real boon. The general admission to the grounds is 35 cents, but a limited number of coupon tickets will be on sale until the opening day of the exhibition. These coupon tickets are transferable, may be used at any time, and mean a saving of seventy-five cents, as five admissions are given for one dollar. The tickets are now available from various merchants, the branches of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and at the exhibition office in the city hall.

Real Indian Village

With the co-operation of the Department of Indian Affairs, a real Indian village, birch bark tepees and all, will be reproduced in the grounds. Indian braves, squaws, children and papoose will be seen in native attire, demonstrating the primitive methods of living, and giving exhibitions of various Indian customs and handicrafts. This is not a side show attraction, but an educational feature to show the young people of to-day the Indians that they have read about but never seen. There will be no charge made for this village, which will be located so that all may take full advantage of the opportunity.

Improvements made to the grounds permit the use of the canal for water sports. This year there will be motor boat races and stunts, which will include a speed motor boat jumping through a hoop and over a floating platform. Thrills aplenty also will be provided by Capt. L. E. Maynard, who will give aerobatics each afternoon during exhibition week. As a stunt performer he is in a class by himself, and each time he takes the air his aim seems to be to put airplane through some movement more difficult than his previous achievements.

The midway will be rearranged in a way to make it more pleasing to the public, and the exhibition management has been assured that the shows and rides will combine to make the greatest midway ever assembled for Ottawa. The automobile show, pure food show and other departments will have many attractive features, while the entertainment, including horse races, an elaborate music and dance revue, with a Broadway cast, mostly girls, high class vaudeville, spectacular fireworks, sports, etc., will bring delight to old and young. The show will be complete for the opening day, and will be kept intact until the Saturday night of exhibition week.

Captain Dancy to Speak Here on "Canadianization"

Noted Canadian to Give Inspiring Vital Lecture at Chautauqua Tent

Capt. Stanley Nelson Dancey, noted Canadian author, editor and outstanding lecturer, comes to the Canadian Chautauqua on the last afternoon with a vital, inspiring lecture, "Canadianization."

Captain Dancey at the age of twenty-one was editor of an important city daily. He was one of the first Canadians to go to France at the outbreak of the World War, where he won the rank of captain and gained distinction as a soldier.

CAPTAIN DANCEY

Following the armistice he achieved international fame as a speaker. His series of lectures was heard by over a million soldiers and commanded the praise and admiration of Marshal Joffre. As a consequence Captain Dancey was personally commended by the highest Allied officials.

Captain Dancey, although born in Ontario, has, since the War, contributed widely to the rapidly developing life of the West. The people of the East will enjoy this breezy speaker who returns to his province with a message which is of supreme national importance. Captain Dancey believes in his native land; is acquainted with the problems that confront her, and has a message which will appeal to all Canadians

Captain Dancey will lecture on the Chautauqua program in Peterborough next week.

CHURCH SERVICES.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH

Last Sunday the combined church and school services, in St. James' United Church, were an experiment. This Sunday they were a proven success.

The usual devotional service opened the meeting and the subject of study was the life of the Apostle Judas Iscariot.

In dealing with this lesson, the Pastor, the Rev. J. H. Dudgeon first clearly defined the two words, Disciple and Apostle. The first: a disciple meaning a follower, while an apostle is one appointed to a task, a messenger.

Judas had never been a true disciple although his sincerity had never been doubted by the others who were disciples. His evil design was the result of a gradual growth of sin. The life of Judas was depicted as a striking example of the fact that "The wages of sin is death."

The great humility of the true disciples was displayed by the question, "Is it I, is it I?" when Jesus declared that one of them should betray Him. And the tender, loving sympathy of Christ was shown at the feast of the Passover, when He refused to openly condemn Judas before the others. Beyond a doubt Judas was not present at the "Last Supper" as it was just at this time he carried out his act of betrayal.

In this message, the pastor made the life of Judas a very clear object lesson to both his adult and his younger classes.

An unusually large attendance for vacation-time was in evidence at the evening service, when the pastor chose for his text the eleventh verse of the tenth chapter of St. John's Gospel: "I am the Good Shepherd: The Good Shepherd giveth His life for His sheep."

In the scriptures Christ is given many names, but the name most familiar to us is that of the "Good Shepherd," which title seems best to show His loving care for us. It reminds us, too, that He gave His life for us.

The God of the Old Testament may be better understood through the Christ of the New Testament, for in the Twenty-Third Psalm we find Him spoken of as the Good Shepherd.

In a closing appeal the pastor asked his people to let "love" be the guiding influence of their life, so that they might say "The Lord is My Shepherd, making Him a personal, not a general, Saviour.

At the conclusion of this service the congregation withdrew to King Edward Park, where they were joined by representatives of many of the city churches, and a most successful service of song, led by the Coldsprings Orchestra, was heartily entered into by the large congregation. This service, under the direction of Rev. Mr. Dudgeon, opened with a very fine selection by the orchestra and was followed by a number of good old hymns, chosen from those familiar to practically all denominations, and through which the pastor wished to present his message. Instrumental features of the service were a duet by two of the younger members of the orchestra, John Kitney and David Wilson, and a selection by five young men of the orchestra.

The service closed with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Dudgeon, and all joined in singing the National Anthem.

Weather permitting, these open air song services will be continued next Sunday evening after the regular church service, in St. James United Church.

PLEASURE SEEKERS BASKING AT LAKES

Stoney Lake Proves Mecca For Wide Range of Summer Sports

Summer activity on Stoney Lake is approaching its height as the zenith of the season draws near. The high-toned hum of outboard motors is to be heard at all times of the day, as the vacationers scoot over the blue waters in their sea-fleas and craft of all kinds dot the lake. Sailboats riding the waves, fishermen trying their skill in the shady bays and swimmers splashing about in the sun, all go to enhance the holiday aspect of the district.

The steamboats that ply up and down the waters are daily bringing more recruits to the summer population of the lakes and more are arriving at the various centres by car. A number of visitors to the district that have arrived in boats through the Trent Canal are making "Stoney" their headquarters, anchoring their large cabined craft in the choice spots of the lake. One such cruiser was anchored over the week-end close to the hub of activities, Juniper Island. The cruiser was of a size that it afforded the party all the conveniences of a hotel, and at the same time they had the advantage of being able to locate on any section of the lake that suited their choosing.

Most of the cottages on the lake are tenanted now, and some parties have reported difficulty in finding a cottage for rental. The stores are doing a fairly good business, especially since the 12th of July, when many more cottagers arrived.

The hotels report a brisk business also, although they comment on the fact that the American tourists are not as plentiful yet as they were this time other years. Visitors to Stoney Lake as yet are mostly people from Ontario. The hotel men claim that the late opening of the fishing season is the reason for this delay. According to indications from the correspondence of the Peterborough Chamber of Correspondence, however, the American tourist trade will be heavier generally this year than in other years.

HUSKY HELPS ME JUST AS I WAS TOLD IT WOULD

"I Rest Well, Have a Better Appetite and Feel Stronger Than I Have in 10 Years," Says University Man.

JAMES BUCKLAND

"Husky has improved my entire system and I am certainly enjoying this new feeling of health it is giving me because I have been feeling bad for 10 long years," says James Buckland, of 147 Richmond St., Toronto, who is connected with the University of Toronto.

"During all these years," he says, "I have been suffering from kidney trouble, constipation and a general break-down in health. I felt like my back would give out on me and my kidneys compelled me to get up often at night. I could get little rest and felt all out of sorts when I got up every morning. I was badly constipated, didn't have any appetite for my meals and felt tired all day.

"I have improved 100 per cent. since I've been using Husky. I rest well every night now because Husky has helped my kidneys until they are acting well and the pains in my back are relieved. I feel stronger and get up in the morning with an appetite for breakfast. My entire system is in better condition and I have gained five pounds. I had used so many medicines with little effect that I feel like telling others about Husky now that I have gotten such wonderful results from its treatment."

Begin using Husky to-day and note how soon you get relief, how food tastes better, sleep is more sound and restful and you feel stronger and better in every way. It is marvelous what this medicine will do for you in a short time. Husky can always be obtained at Bond's Drug Store and at other good drug stores everywhere.

PREMIER SAYS "FRANCE PAYS"

Poincare Lauded On Conclusion Of His War Debt Speech "CAN'T DODGE ISSUE"

PARIS, July 16—(Canadian Press)—Premier Raymond Poincare was cheered long and heartily at noon to-day as he finished his four-day speech favoring ratification of the war debt accords with Great Britain and the United States in the Chamber of Deputies. All the deputies except the Communists jumped to their feet in an enthusiastic and striking ovation to the Minister.

The ovation was for Poincare the man, more than for Poincare, the Prime Minister, however, many of those cheering him were among his most bitter opponents on questions of state.

The Premier had just, for the hundredth time, told Parliament the debt accords must be ratified and any reservations expressed separately. His last words hammered home in arguments.

The premier recalled again the address of President Hoover at Toledo when he was Secretary of Commerce, in which he explained the money was loaned by American tax payers. Therefore M. Poincare said, there can be no hope of dodging the issue. "The debts must be paid."

He praised the Young Reparations Plan highly and the careful work of the experts, their foresight, and their good intentions.

Edouard Herriot, former Minister of Finance, rose to question the connection between reparations and the debts and the Premier replied that the Young Plan comprised two amounts, one for the debts, the other for the reparations.

Message Censored.

The censor deleted eight words, presumably at the beginning of the first sentence which as received said "X X X through troops Siberia delaying trains."

The rest of the message read: "The railway's (Chinese Eastern) traffic from Pogranichnaya to Vladivostok entirely stopped, since Saturday, possible owing to floods.

"The Chinese Monday took over the Chinese Eastern land department. The Chinese official newspaper Kungpao claims to know authoritatively that Serebriekoff is coming to apologize to the Chinese Government."

M. Serebriekoff is a member of the Soviet Railway Commissariat who was commissioned to confer with the Manchurian authorities at Harbin on the seizure of the Chinese Eastern. He is believed to have started to Manchuria in an airplane.

Condemn China's Attitude.

TOKYO, July 16. (C.P.) — Russians in the vicinity of Harbin and from the surrounding country, have begun an exodus in anticipation of grave developments growing out of the Manchuria seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

While no one doubts the seriousness of the situation here the general belief is neither China nor Russia will find it advantageous to resort to arms at present and that they therefore may attempt a compromise.

The Japanese newspapers are unanimous in condemning China's seizure of the Chinese Eastern, which they consider a violation of international law. Some papers have asserted that Moscow will seek Japanese intervention but the reports have had a foreign office denial.

Asahi claimed to have learned from Harbin that in the event of China's ignoring the Moscow ultimatum the Soviet proposed to isolate the Chinese Eastern by severing its connections at both ends.

Given President.

NANKING, China, July 16. (C.P.) The Soviet ultimatum to China allowing three days for the restoration of the status quo in Manchuria and submission of differences on the Chinese Eastern Railway question to negotiations, was handed to President Chiang Kai Shek, yesterday, July 15. He immediately instructed C. T. Wang, Foreign Minister, to return post haste from Tsingtao, to take up the Russian problem.

A semi-official message said 100,000 Chinese troops were concentrated at the frontier station, Manchuria, on the Siberian border, where it was alleged Soviet troops were digging themselves in on their side of the international line.

Five thousand Chinese soldiers have been sent to reinforce the eastern section of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

FLIERS UNDECIDED CONCERNING FLIGHT

Kingsford-Smith May Fly South Atlantic Or Come By Steamer

LONDON, July 16 (Canadian Press) — Captain Charles Kingsford Smith and his three companions do not know yet whether they will attempt a Westward crossing of the Atlantic in the Southern Cross, in which they have just flown from Australia to England.

Leaving to-day for Amsterdam, where the plane is being reconditioned, Captain Kingsford Smith said: "After we see how the plane is and the weather and other considerations we will decide, probably next week."

He said that if they did fly to New York they would take a southerly rather than a northerly route. The men will leave for America within three or four weeks, either by plane or by boat.

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

TO ACT ON COMMITTEES

There are several Peterborough men named in the recent report of the committee on nominations and resolutions as adopted by the annual general meeting of the Canadian Manufacturer's Association.

E. H. Howson of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company has been appointed to the standing committee on tariffs, L. A. Turner of the Card and Paper Works to the education committee and W .A. Richardson of the Peterborough Canoe Company to the commercial intelligence committee.

Mrs. John R. Marshall had the honor of being the only lady from Peterborough to attend the annual general meeting.

'OLE SWIMMING HOLE

The youngsters in the west end of the city have uncovered a 'ole swimming hole. Back of Walter Green's foundry the creek runs, shallow, and here the youngsters frolic around during the heat of day in the cool waters. Outside of being stoney this makes an ideal place for them to cool off, as there is not much danger of wading into deep water.

NEW IDEA ON DANCE FLOOR

A new idea in dancing was witnessed at one of the local dance pavilions last night. A number of girls of the younger generation dancing together instigated a race while dancing from one end of the floor to the other. They had a great time dodging the whirling couples and at times they had the odd collision, but no one seemed to mind as the youngsters were enjoying themselves while their mothers looked on.

RESORTS FILLING UP

There seems to be a general exodus of people from the city to their summer cottages. Chemong is well populated; Stoney Lake is becoming a busy spot, and Rice Lake resorts report a good business.

IROQUOIS TRAIL SIGN UP

The Iroquois Trail sign has made its appearance in Peterborough. The arrow-like indicator has been attached to the Chamber of Commerce sign and points to that office as the headquarters of the organization.

REDUCED POSTAGE RATE

There is now a reduced postage rate to France, according to post office authorities, the cost to send a letter two ounces in weight is two cents, while an additional two cents is required for every fractional ounce over that.

It is also learned from this source that the air mail service for long distance letters is becoming quite popular with the business man due to the saving of time that is effected by this modern method.

NEW DRINKING FOUNTAIN

Reg. Turner of the Sanitary Ice Supply, who recently placed benches in various parts of the city for weary people, has now turned his attention to the thirsty section of the city.

On a table outside of his ice plant is installed an ice water drinking fountain, which is supplied with a glass, affording a cooling beverage to the tired traveller in that section of the city. The nearest public drinking fountain, as stated by a reader of The Examiner, other than that of the Sanitary Ice Supply is at Confederation Square, which does not always work, and so Mr. Turner's forethought is appreciated by many.

HOME GARDEN COMPETITION

J. B. Nelson, agricultural representative for Peterborough district, has been busy for the past few days judging the home garden competitions.

HEAVY RAILROAD TRAFFIC

Traffic over the C.N.R. lines is reported to be very heavy. A great deal of the merchandise from the Montana sheep ranges comes through this city on the way to Massachusetts, as the rail haul is shortened considerably by the transfer of the commodities to the Great Lake boats at Chicago.

NO POLICE COURT.

Peace and quiet lay over the usually turbulent police court room this morning. "A clean slate and no accidents," the desk sergeant reported with a smile.

Charles Croskill, brother of Mrs. S. Woods, Belleville, Ont., one of the regular crew of the ill-fated submarine H-47, sunk off the coast of Wales, who is believed to be, unless on shore leave at the time, one of the victims.

All the Peterborough successes were achieved at the local examination. Local centre examinations were held at more than forty different places in Canada from Halifax to Vancouver. Dr. Perrin conducted the examinations assisted by a large staff of helpers for his arduous task. "With distinction" indicates that a mark of over eighty has been attained. "Pass" indicates standing of between sixty and eighty marks.

on Benson avenue between Smith and Antrim streets. This, it was stated, had received the Board's attention before, but nothing could be done since this street was private property. The owner would have to pay the full expense of laying the sewer. The matter was forwarded to the City Council to deal with.

"We can't trifle with these after notices have been sent out," said Chairman J. J. Turner, when it was said that a home on Brock street, the owner of which had been notified that sanitary conveniences must be installed, had been rented again without any attention to the Board's requirement. "If it is not done placard the house as unfit to live in," was the recommendation passed.

The pump at Inverlea Park has been disconnected because two tests showed that the water was bad, said Dr. Young.

C. S. Stapleton brought forward the question of the removal of dead animals in the city. It was stated that some citizens expected the city to remove their dead dogs and cats when they had died on their own property. It was declared by the Board that only those animals who were killed on the streets and whose owners were not known would be removed at the city's expense.

and the body was withdrawn from the vault and placed aboard it for transportation to Poland. It was taken en route to the island's little church for a final requiem; the coffin covered with Polish and Portuguese flags.

The Iskra will bring it and Major Kubala to Horta to-day. Major Kubala's condition has caused no anxiety and according to the Graciosa Island doctors, he should be all right in a few days. He received painful injuries on the face and the head when the plane landed. Both his eyes are still swollen badly. The death of his companion affected him deeply and he was most reluctant to leave the scene of the disaster.

It was just after 7 p.m. local time (3 p.m. E.S.T.), Saturday when the big gray plane appeared over Graciosa. It made three circles around the village of Santa Cruz, on the third turn coming very low. The residents thought from this and the sound of the plane's missing motors, it wished to descend.

CRASHED INTO STONE WALL

The plane suddenly descended in a field a few miles from Santa Cruz and the village's entire population rushed to the scene, finding it upside down. When it hit the ground it had crashed through a low stone wall where one wing was caught, swinging it around and capsizing it.

The two aviators were found inside, strapped to the machine. Major Kubala was removed easily, but the rescuers were unable to free Major Idzikowski whose legs, believed broken somewhere. While the rescuers worked there was a terrific explosion, the force of which threw the rescuers to the ground.

RESCUERS BURNED

The plane immediately caught fire and several of the rescuers were burned. They saw the flames licking at the body of the luckless Idzikowski, and never abandoned their labor until they felt he was dead and it would be futile and dangerous to try further.

Kubala, when he had somewhat recovered from his experience, said they had motor trouble, and the fumes from the open gasoline tank had made him almost unconscious.

WARSAW, Poland, July 16 (C.P.). —The polish schoolship Iskra, now in Horta, will bring the body of Major Ludwik Idzikowski back to Poland where all honors will be paid it.

Tomorrow religious mourning ceremonies will take place throughout Poland in memory of the aviator who gave his life in an effort to carry the Polish colors across the Atlantic.

The War Office probably will issue an official communique on the disaster some time shortly.

WEDDING BELLS

LONGWELL—BINGHAM.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, July 10, at the home of Mrs. F. McConnell, 7059 Navy Ave., Detroit, Mich., when Madeline, youngest daughter of Mrs. Bingham and the late Mr. Ben. Bingham, formerly of Peterborough, became the bride of Langdon H. Longwell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Longwell, of Oak Park, Ill.

The bride was attended by Miss Beatrice Gray, of Detroit, while John Bingham, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

NEW YORK, July 16—The Wright Aeronautical corporation was informed by cable to-day that Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and C. T. P. Ulm would take-off from London for New York in their plane Southern Cross within the next few days. Their plan to make an Atlantic flight was recently announced in Rome, but the time was indefinite.

If they succeeded in making the perilous westward crossing of the north Atlantic, which both a Polish and a French plane have just failed to do, they will proceed to Oakland Calif., thus completing their circle around the world, begun with their Pacific flight about a year ago.

CAMPBELLFORD YOUTH DIES AFTER EXPLOSION

TWENTY-SEVEN RINKS ENTERED IN LAWN BOWLING TOURNAMENT; COMPETITION IS KEEN THIS YEAR

J. H. Sedgwick, President Of Club, Officially Opens Competition

NEW GREENS NEXT YEAR

George Coleman And Three Sons Are Playing On Same Rink

Twenty-seven rinks were entered in the draw of Peterborough's annual lawn bowling tournament, which got off to a flying start under ideal weather and green conditions this morning. This is exactly the same number of rinks that played in the tourney of last year, and the same keen competition if not keener games are expected from the personnel of the teams that have been entered this year.

J. H. Sedgwick, president of the club, in officially opening the competition, said: "Some three or four years ago when I had the opportunity to open just this kind of a tournament, I used a quotation from the most wonderful Book in the world: 'Truly the light is sweet and it is a pleasant thing indeed for the eye to behold the sun,' which is true, for what would the game of bowls be without the sun or the light—it would not be very pleasing .

"The tournament this year is a unique one, as it is the last to be played on the old greens, where so many historic battles have been fought in the past . Next year we hope to welcome you to the finest greens in the Dominion, and every indication shows that this will be so.

"May the best rink win, and I add that it always pleases me when the majority of prizes are taken out of the city."

Immediately after the official opening, the playing of the preliminary round for the Stratton Trophy started on the greens, which were in the best of condition and smooth as a billiard table.

Presents Gay Appearance.

The grounds presented a very gay appearance, being decorated with pennants, flags and bunting for the great occasion ,and the men in their white flannels and white shirts lent a pleasing contrast to the bright colors and the sombre green of the courts.

The ladies of the club were busy preparing meals for the bowlers, which will be served in the huge tent that is on the grounds. The committee in charge of this is: Mrs. G A. Borland, convenor; Miss L. Allen,

Boy's Hand Blown Off

Douglas Glenn, Son Of R. B. Glenn, Campbellford, Fatally Injured

DYNAMITE EXPLODES

Younger Brothers Are In Serious Condition At Their Home

(Examiner Staff Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 17. — Douglas Glenn, aged 10, is dead, and his two younger brothers are seriously injured, as the result of tapping a small tin box containing dynamite caps, which exploded early last evening.

The three children had just returned from swimming when Douglas picked up this small tin and being curious he attempted to open it with a chisel. Ray Scott, a visitor at the home, saw the boys attempting to open the tin, and he told them to wait a minute and he would help them. While he was reaching for a knife, Douglas hit the lid one more crack with the steel chisel, and an explosion followed. The boy had his left hand, part of his right, and a piece of the scalp blown away.

The two younger brothers, Donald, 9, and Jack, 8, are also in a serious condition, but are expected to live.

Murray Stephens, 9, a little chap who lives across the road, had just come over to play for a few minutes before supper. He arrived in time to get a piece in the chin, and in the right foot. His condition is not considered serious.

As nearly as can be learned, the can which the children were attempting to open contained blasting caps. Where they came from is a mystery so far. But it is believed that they were found in the gravel pit a few yards away from their home where gravel is being removed for use on the county road and where blasting is not infrequently done.

Car Strikes Child.

Struck by a car while playing on the street a young lad, Kenneth Fairman, was found to have suffered concussion of the brain and bruises on the head and body. The serious injury to his head was caused by striking and the other injuries from impact with the car.

The little lad was crossing Sebastapool street, about three o'clock, and he had just emerged from between two parked cars when struck by a car driven by Lionel Nelson. The car was not seen by the little chap and he was knocked to the pavement by the blow from the right fender.

Wilbert Nelson, father of the driver ,was in the car and he sprang out immediately and pulled the lad from between the wheels. The wheels did not pass over the boy, according to the story of eye-witnesses, but the fender pushed him several feet before the vehicle was brought to a stop. He was removed to his home and medical aid summoned. It was found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain and bruises on the head and body, the former from where his head struck the pavement and the latter from where the car struck him. His left leg was also fractured above the knee. Kenneth Fairman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fairman, Palliser Street. In company with some other children, he was playing near his home when they spied a workman whom they knew. The man was engaged on the opposite side of the street, and it was while crossing that they met with the accident.

Chief Grassick arrived and questioned the driver. He also tested the brakes on the car., The driver was not held, but it is understood that the police will keep in touch with him till further developments.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION OF COAL OIL STOVE

Five Residences Destroyed In Early Morning Fire In Cornwall

SEVERAL INJURED

Entire Neighborhood Is Rocked Shortly After 3.00 a.m.

CORNWALL, Ont., July 17—(Canadian Press).—Explosion of a coal oil stove is believed to have caused a fire which swept five residences on Guy street, East Cornwall, shortly after 3 a.m. to-day, causing the deaths of four persons who were trapped in the burning buildings and injury to four others. Property loss is estimated at $25,000 to $30,000.

The dead are: —Isais Givoque, a aged man, on Guy street his wife, Mrs. Givoque, his granddaughter, Rita Givoque, aged nine months, and Cecilia Piche, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amidas Piche, 40 Guy street. Hospital authorities this morning stated that although the injuries of the four victims were of a serious nature, their recovery is probable.

Whole District Rocked

According to occupants of the burned houses and neighbors ,a terrific explosion which rocked the entire rear of the residence of Baptiste Givoque at 38 Guy street was a mass of flames, which spread rapidly in the tinder dry frame tenement house. So rapidly did the fires spread that occupants of the two sections of the tenement were forced to flee in night dress, leaping from second story windows and scrambling down veranda posts as exist by way of the stairways was cut off by the flames. Heroic scenes were enacted as elder members of the families in the houses fought their way through veritable infernos to snatch frightened younger children from their beds and carry them to safety.

Fire Spreads Rapidly

Fanned by a strong southeast winds, the fire extended to frame houses adjoining the Piche residence at Number 38 Guy street and destroyed three residences before combined efforts of the Cornwall fire department and volunteers were successful in checking its progress. The burned houses were all owned by Baptiste Givoque, who resided in one-half of the double ten-

CITY OF WELLAND IS IMMIGRATION DUMPING PLACE

U.S. Officers Leave Young Man At Border Sick And Broke

JUST OUT OF HOSPITAL

Aided By Police To Proceed To Grandparents' Home

WELLAND, Ont., July 17 (C.P.).—This city has of late been made a dumping off place by United States immigration officers for undesirables. Last night another was added to the lot, which for heartlessness, is being cited by local officials, as extraordinary.

The man is James Spooner, who has resided in the United States for twenty-four years, where he was taken from Windsor when he was six months old; his mother being an American, and his father Canadian-born. He received all his education in schools across the border and earned his livelihood there until seven months ago, when he met with an accident on the New York Central Railroad at Rochester on which road he was employed.

JUST FROM HOSPITAL

His injuries were terrible, his body being horribly multilated. His head was so badly used up that a silver plate had to be inserted. Yesterday he was discharged from a hospital in Rochester and escorted to the border without a cent in his pocket. Upon the arrival of the train at Welland he received the curt order, "Come on get off."

POLICE HELP

Last night he was given the shelter of the police station by Chief Crowe and his personal needs looked after by Sergt. Fuller and Constables Gee and Hatton. To-day they enlisted the aid of Mayor Brown who provided Spooner with a ticket to Windsor, where his grandparents reside.

Spooner, who is a clean cut young man left expressing his determination to institute a civil action against the railway on which he was employed. His injuries were sustained by coupling box cars at Rochester.

WEST SUFFERS FROM FIRES

REGINA, July 17.—(C.P.).—Alarming increases in fire, farm fires and incendiarism are reported by A. E. Fisher, Saskatchewan Fire Commissioner. More than 600 homes and 500 farm buildings were destroyed by fire in the past year. From Blaine Lake and Pelly districts reports indicate no let-up in school fires in Doukhobor communities. Already thirteen schools have been destroyed by incendiarism during the past two weeks.

LONDON ENGINEER DISAPPEARS SOMEWHERE IN NEVADA WILDS MISSING FOR NEARLY TWO WEEKS

Lieut.-Col. H. Betts Was Last Seen At Lake Tahoe Hotel

KNOWN IN NEW YORK

Note To Attorney Only Clue To Searchers Combing Country

RENO, Nevada, July 17. (C.P.) — Aeroplanes, private detectives and guides, are combing the rugged country about Lake Tahoe for Lieut.-Col. H. H. Betts, of London, Ont., an engineer, also well known in New York and other centres, who disappeared nearly a fortnight ago from his Lake Tahoe Hotel.

Betts dropped out of sight at the Hotel Brockway on July 5, it was learned yesterday, leaving only a note requesting that his attorney, George Springmeyer, former United States District Attorney, be notified.

MANAGED POWER COMPANY

LONDON, July 17.—Lieut.-Colonel H. H. Betts, who is reported to have disappeared in Nevada is a son of F. P. Betts, K.C., of this city. He was until recently general manager of the Barcelona (Spain) Light and Power Company, and had returned a few months ago to visit his parents. Some weeks ago he left to visit Nevada, and during a stay at Lake Tahoe, disappeared. His parents are of the opinion that being an enthusiastic mountain climber, he ascended one of the many mountains there, and is lost in mountains, or met with an accident while alone in the heights.

Born in London.

Colonel Betts was born in this city and attended school here. He is an engineer by profession and when the war broke out he joined the Engineers of the Imperial Army and served throughout the war. Soon after the end of hostilities he accepted the position with the Barcelona Company, which is controlled by Canadians.

Every effort is being made by Col. Betts' parents to ascertain full particulars. A brother in law, Leslie Lilly, of Calgary, has proceeded from that city to Lake Tahoe to aid in the search. The missing man is a brother of Alderman Betts.

ENGLAND NEEDS SHOWERS BADLY

Dry City Water Tanks Cause Island Extreme Worry

SEA SIDE POPULAR

LONDON, July 17 (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). — St. Swithin still runs true to form . Here and there isolated showers have occurred, but England still sizzles under intense heat, and water supplies are running still lower. The Ministry of Health has issued a warning that water supplies should be conserved.

One of Bradford's reservoirs with a normal capacity of 229,000,000 gallons, is reported empty, for all practical purposes. It is estimated that Bradford will be able to meet the reduced demand for only six weeks, if the drought continues.

The woodland paths of Kew Gardens, where the Londoner loves to wander among the flowers, touched 89 in the shade to-day. Thirteen or fourteen hours of sunshine are being registered in London daily. The worries of Downing Street and the episodes of Westminster arouse only a lukewarm interest, while the seaside boarding-houses reap a rich harvest.

ALL WHEAT TAKES BRISK CLIMB THROUGH RAISE AT LIVERPOOL

Hot Weather In West Helping Send December Wheat Skyward

FEAR FOR SPRING CROP

WINNIPEG, Man., July 17 (C.P.).—One hour before the close of the Winnipeg grain market to-day wheat bounded skyward, July mounting 9½ cents to 1.77, October 9⅜ to 1.68⅝, and December 9¾ to 1.64¼. There was a frantic rush to buy in the pit on the receipt of further unfavorable weather reports. Continued dryness in Western Canada and the Northwestern United States was reported, with no forecast of rain.

WINNIPEG. Man., July 17—(Canadian Press).—The July wheat future started trading on the local wheat market to-day in hectic fashion, opening at $1.70, bounding up to $1.75 and then dropping back suddenly to $1.71½ before a trade was made. The climb to $1.75—a 7½ cent gain over yesterday's close—was made a cent at a time. October wheat opened 4 to 5 cents higher, at $1.63 to $1.64 and held steady. December wheat scored an advance of 3⅛ to 4 at $1.58 to $1.59.

To-day's opening advances were due to the 4½ pence gains at Liverpool.

CHICAGO, Ills, July 17.—(Canadian Press)—December wheat reached $1.50 a bushel to-day as fresh news of hot weather in Canada aroused new alarm for the spring wheat crop. Buying set in heavily at the opening, and by 10 a.m. wheat was 2⅝ to 3⅜ cents higher than yesterday's close. with July contracts selling at $1.38⅝ and September at $1.44⅛.

The Liverpool market whose weakness had been a deterrent to trading here yesterday, was on the upgrade to-day and this gave an added impetus to buying in the Chicago

Greatest Honor A Soldier Can Attain Draws Army's Best Shots

21 CANADIANS SHOOT

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 17. —(By Thos T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent) — The King's Price was dominant over the wide Bisley Ranges to-day, as 955 marksmen from all parts of the Empire started in quest of the greatest individual honor that an Empire marksman can attain.

The program was swept clear of practically everything else to permit all eligible competitors to enter the King's first stage to-day. Because of the large entry, the usual procedure was reversed and the marksmen commenced firing at the longer ranges, e

The first stage was at 600, 500 and 200 yards, in that order, seven shots at each distance. The best 300 scorers go into the second stage on Friday, when the competitors will be reduced to 100—King's Hundred—who will shoot in the final stage on Saturday.

BURKE SHOOTS AGAIN

Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa, who won the classic in 1924, was again in the shoot to-day. Armorer-Sergeant Lawrence was again a competitor. He first figured in the King's Prize as long ago as 1882, and this is his 17th appearance. Sergt. A. G. Fulton, of the Queen's Westminsters, Gold Medallist in 1889 — the last year in which the meeting was held at Wimbledon— was not only in the King's Prize again but was accomplished by his son Arthur, also a former winner.

Fined $200 on Charge of Wounding Alice Earle.

TWO CHARGES DROPPED

Second Fine of $200 for Assault On Wife.

COBOURG, July 17.—Dr. George H. Field, local medical officer of health, was found guilty yesterday afternoon by Judge L. V. O'Connor on two criminal counts, and was fined $200 on each.

The first charge was that of unlawfully wounding Alice Earle, 18, on June 14th, and the other was a charge of having assaulted his wife thereby occasioning actual bodily harm. Two other minor charges of having caused a disturbance and of having pointed a gun were withdrawn.

Dr. Field paid the fines amounting to $400. He was represented by J. B. McColl, ex-M.P., and Col. Fred D. Boggs of Cobourg and Arthur Slaght, K. C., of Toronto. The Crown appointed a special prosecutor, Col. J. Kieler McKay of Toronto, to assist the Crown Attorney, W. F. Kerr, K. C. of Cobourg.

The evidence of the Crown was largely a repetition of that which was presented in the preliminary hearing before Magistrate Floyd.

Court Room Crowded

Because of the prominence of the accused, who is related to many of the best families in the town, the court room was crowded for the hearing. Many summer visitors, wearing gaily colored sports attire were among the spectators and added a festive note to the otherwise sober proceedings.

Dr. Field clad in a plain suit sat at the table beside his counsel. He has recently suffered an attack of appendicitis and looked pale. He followed the proceedings closely.

The charge of unlawful wounding was first dealt with. Miss Alice Earle was called as witness, describing the incident of June 14. While going to the park accompanied by Agnes McKenzie and Dorothy Earle, on June 14, she saw the accused on King street.

Counsel for defence intervened with the statement that defence acknowledged discharging the revolver and admitting that a bullet therefrom was the one which struck Alice Earle.

Continuing her evidence witness related that she noticed a crowd near Dr. Field's house. When she learned what was happening she said to her companions, "Let's get out of here." Dr. Field, she continued, came out of the house with a revolver in his hand. She heard a report and immediately felt a stinging sensation in her hip. Witness stated that she had cried out "I'm hit."

She was later taken in a car to Dr. Jamieson's office. After medical attention, she was taken to her home. Witness declared that she felt stiff after the incident. The doctor attended her for a few times. A red mark, claimed witness, still remained on her hip.

Another Girl Witness

Margaret Haynes, 17-year-old girl companion of Alice Earle on the evening she was shot, declared she was on King street on the night of the shooting.

"We passed nearer the house and Mrs. Field started to talk to us," continued witness. "We were standing opposite the side door of Dr. Field's house and Alice Earle joined us."

"As we stood there Dr. Field came out of the front door of the house, and around to the side. He had his hat on, and carried a revolver, held down toward the sidewalk. He fired it, and we ran. I heard Alice exclaim: 'I am shot.' A passing motorist offered to drive her to the doctor's office. That is all I know."

Another witness of the shooting, Agnes Mackenzie, 20, was with Alice Earle and her sister, Dorothy Earle, on the night of June 14.

"As we passed the doctor's home, we heard shooting, and saw broken glass on the sidewalk. Mrs. Field was outside the house and started to talk to us. As there was shooting going on, I did not want to stay there, and we started to go away."

"Then I saw Dr. Field coming out of the house. He made as though to cross the street, but changed his mind, and came toward us. Then I heard the report of a gun and saw a flash.

"Alice Earle started to cry, 'I am hit,' she said her hip was stinging. A car drove us to a doctor's office, where the wound was attended to, and then I accompanied her home."

Heard Shots In House

Edward W. Thompson was part of the crowd which surrounded Dr. Field's house on the night of June 14. He saw the doctor come out of his house and fire two shots at intervals. "Then I got behind a large truck which was parked on the roadway," declared witness. His statement amused the spectators.

Mr. Thompson did not see Miss Earle hit. The doctor seemed very excited and was swinging his arms around. "I think that this motion

MERGER IS DENIED.

TORONTO, Ont., July 17.—The reported $15,000,000 merger of Canada Paving and Supply Corporation, Windsor, the Dufferin Paving and Crushing Stone Company, Toronto, and the Standard Paving and Materials, Ottawa, was emphatically denied by directors of the three companies in session here yesterday.

The directors, however, were in session until late last night, a fact which would indicate that they are interested in a merger.

Two Railwaymen Are Injured In Collision

TORONTO, Ont., July 17 (Canadian Press). — Two Canadian National Railway employees were injured in a head-on collision between a freight train and a switching on the Leaside branch of the railway at Oriole, near here, last night.

Fireman H. E. Firman received cuts on the head and lost some teeth, while Brakeman G. Aitchison sprained an ankle.

One of the engines was thrown off the track and three box cars were badly smashed.

According to railwaymen, the collision was the result of the freight overrunning a switch at Oriole.

LOCAL CROPS REPORTED FAIR

All Parts Of District Report Abundance Of Hay—Grain Is Late

STRAW IS SHORT

The dry spell which has brought about an acute situation among the grain-growers in the West does not extend to this district, J. B. Nelson, the local representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture states. The locality is experiencing hot weather, but the rains of last week have prevented any crop damage. The combination of sun and rain during the last fortnight has advanced growth considerably and present indications promise an average crop this year, generally speaking.

Almost all parts of the district report a good crop of hay and it is expected to be better than the average for this section. About half the crop is harvested already. General indications in the province are for a bumper crop of hay for the year.

The cutting of wheat and rye will possibly be a little behind other sections of Ontario. Cutting will probably be under way within ten days in Peterborough County, whereas reports of the Department indicate that the work has already been begun in one county and will be general through the province in two or three days.

Barley and early oats are well advanced and are out in head. Cutting of these will not be far behind that of other sections of the province. It is thought that the county is going to be slightly short on straw.

LIBERAL IS LEADING.

SEX IS CALLED GREAT SACRAMENT OF HUMAN LIFE BY PASTOR AT N.Y.

NEW YORK, July 17.—"Sex is the great sacrament of human life," said Dr. John Haynes Holmes from the pulpit of Community Church on Park avenue Sunday. "The Christian church is guilty of a monstrous sin in having cultivated asceticism and repression with the base idea that there is something sinful about sex, and that there is therefore virtue in putting it altogether out of one's life.

"What we have to remember is that sex may be as beautiful as it is natural—at once the loveliest and the most normal expression of the deepest instincts of human nature."

Dr. Holmes proposed five standards for sex life:

"1. Sex relations shall be joined only on the basis of love.

"2. Sex relations shall be continued only on the basis of love.

"3. Sex relations shall be monogamous—one man with one woman, on a basis of utter and glad fidelity.

"4. Sex relations shall be open, and thus be known to all men.

"5. The sex relation shall not only be open, but shall also be joined and sustained by the social sanction. I believe in marriage under the authority of the State, not in free love at the whim of the individual."

TORRID HEAT WAVE SPREADS THROUGHOUT CANADIAN WEST

Crops Are Being Burned Up In The Past 48 Hours

105 AT MOOSEJAW

WINNIPEG, Man., July 17 (C.P.). —With the mercury hovering around 100, the Prairie Provinces the past 48 hours have experienced the most torrid weather of the year. The heat wave last night was broken in places by showers, but they were of little value. The excessively high temperature comes at the worst possible time for the growing crop as it is in the shot blade. With the exception of some early wheat in Saskatchewan and Northern Alberta, the experts watching conditions through the provinces agree conditions are growing worse daily. Even the rapid price advances, added to by the frantic crowds in the market, attracted less attention to-day than the heat wave over the Prairies.

At Moose Jaw the mercury reached 105 and at many other points in Saskatchewan it was almost as bad.

Excited crowds sweltered at the Grain Exchange in one of the most hectic trading sessions in many a month. Wheat prices rose and broke like a giant geyser and after it was all over the closing figures showed only fractional changes from Monday.

The trading range was extreme. From a high of 174, July went to a low of 163¼, a fluctuation of 10 cents. October and December options were close behind. Closing figures were: July 166⅞, October 159, and December 155¾.

Airplane Saves Day For Picture House

TORONTO, July 17. (C.P.) — For the first time in the history of Canadian aviation, it is believed, an air transport prevented a first night's performance in a moving picture house from "flopping."

The theatre and potential audience was in Kingston. Through an error in the expressing of the films from the distributing office in Toronto, half the feature presentation went to Kingston and the other half to St. Catharines.

When the error was discovered the half which went to St. Catharines was returned here by motor car and then despatched to Kingston by a plane, when the show went on.

ELEVATORS MIX WHEAT GRADES SPOIL MARKET

Grade Mixing Gives Canadian Wheat A Bad Name Millers Say

ONTARIO GRADE LOWER

Dominion Millers Present A List For Judgment By Commission

TORONTO, Ont., July 17 (Canadian Press).—Unqualified condemnation of the practice of mixing various grades of wheat together in elevators was voiced by representative Ontario millers who appeared yesterday before the Saskatchewan Royal Grain Inquiry Commission under Chief Justice Brown of the Saskatchewan Court of King's Bench. The millers argued elevator operators enhanced their profits by mixing together several grades of grain of inferior quality in order to make the mixture pass inspection as a higher grade.

The result of this they claimed was disadvantageous not only to the millers but also to the producers and to the grain trade generally as it gave Canadian wheat a bad reputation in the markets of the world.

Keep Grades Separate.

The millers' plea was, "Leave the grain as it is.

"Keep the grades as they come from the farmers separate, and we will buy them at what they are worth and know what we are getting."

While the view was expressed that little or no mixing of grades took place at Buffalo in grain shipped there from the West and transhipped to Canadian ports, C. B. Watts, central wheat buyer for the Dominion Millers' Association, said he thought no Canadian Government certificate should be granted to such grain as at Buffalo it is completely outside of Canadian control.

J. G. Wolverton, president of the Dominion Millers Association said the tendency seemed to be towards a general lowering of the quality of the wheat received by Ontario millers. The wheat being received at present was not as good as that received earlier in the year. He attributed this in some measure to the mixing of grades.

West Gets Best Grades

Eastern miller always get the minimum quality of wheat of any grade, said W. H. McCarthy, vice-president of the Standard Milling Company because the best wheat was picked off by western millers. For this reason they objected to mixing as it still further reduced the quality of the grades offered them. He also contended there was too much dirt coming through in the wheat. "The time is not far distant," he said, "when the farmer is going to have to take some of the dirt out of his wheat."

Chief Justice Brown pointed out cleaning facilities were only available at the elevators and that the farmer was docked for the dirt in his grain. Mr. McCarthy then said the millers had to pay for the dirt they received from the elevators and that it was pure waste paying freight on weed seeds and other foreign matter.

Marquis Superior

In discussing the merits of Garnet and Marquis wheat Mr. McCarthy said Marquis was much more to be preferred. Garnet wheat had too high a color and it took longer to temper it. He was opposed, he said, to the mixing of the two varieties at the elevators and thought Garnet might be handled to advantage if kept separate and sold for export as the high color of the flour was not so much a drawback in Europe.

If it were found, however, that Garnet could be grown more successfully in Canada, the witness said in the interests of the trade generally and of the country he would mill this wheat and attempt to build up a market for it. At present he would not buy Garnet wheat at all if he could get enough Marquis.

The Dominion Millers' Association asked the commission to find on the evidence before them as follows:

No Private Elevators.

"(1) That private elevators should be abolished (a) Because raising the wheat even one grade on the average means about seven cents a bushel in the mixer's coffers and this is unfair to both producers and millers. (b) the elevation of the lower grades into the higher reduces the quality below that sold by the grower, and results in lower prices to the grower; (c) increasing the quantity of higher grades in the market results in lower prices as the greater the quantity available the greater the competition to sell the same; (d) while the millers can protect themselves by lowering the prices paid for reduced quality, the reduction in quality lowers the prominence of Manitoba wheat in the markets of the world, resulting in increased competition from wheat from other countries and consequently lowering

OFFICER JAILED FOR ATTEMPTING TO BLACKMAIL

Motorist Tells Of Being Approached on Hamilton Mountain

ONE MAN ACQUITTED

Constable Agreed To Take $30 To Keep Case Quiet

HAMILTON, July 17.—John Hunt, a constable of Wentworth County, and former constable of Barton Township, was convicted by Judge Evans in County Criminal Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of attempted extortion and was sentenced to jail for three months determinate and three months indeterminate. Martin Martinson of Mount Hamilton, who was jointly charged with Hunt, was acquitted.

The charge arose after Hunt and Martinson were alleged to have approached a young man and a young woman in a parked car on a side road near the Mountain Sanitarium on the night of May 14 and arranged for the pair in the car to pay a "fine" the following night to avoid arrest and prosecution in County Police Court. The next night when the young man in question went to the top of the Jolley Cut to pay the "fine," he was accompanied by Detectives Buckett and Chamberlain, who subsequently arrested Hunt and Martinson.

Hunt and Martinson pleaded not guilty before Judge Evans. They were represented by William Morrison, K.C.; Georoge H. Ballard, K.C., Crown Attorney, prosecuted.

Motorist's Story

The young motorist in the case said that he and his young woman companion were sitting in his car on the side road about 11.30 o'clock on the night of May 14, when two men suddenly approached and played a flashlight upon them. The men were Constable Hunt and Martinson. Hunt, he said, dangled a pair of handcuffs and displayed his police badge, and told the couple they could be arrested. The witness said he and the young woman were doing nothing wrong, but, for his companion's sake, he wished to avoid arrest and the consequent publicity. He said he offered Hunt $10, which was spurned; then $25, which was also spurned. Finally, he said, he offered the two

Strands Of Elastic Bands Are Found Around Heads Of Several Deep Sea Fish

OTTAWA, July 17 (C.P.). — The henpecked husband who wears a rubber band around his wrist to help him remember the things he has been told to buy before he goes home has nothing on the lowly mackerel which wears rubber bands behind its gills, according to the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Just where the mackerel gets the rubber bands is a mystery, but the fact remains that several have been caught recently by Atlantic fishermen with the strands of elastic around their necks.

Neither the Canadian nor the American authorities have heard of any system of tagging fish with rubber bands, although aluminum discs are used for this purpose to trace migration.

One of these fish turned over to Government officials had worn the rubber so long that it had become embedded nearly half an inch in its flesh.

I WONDER how many families in Peterborough enjoy their meals out of doors during the summer months. During my short stay in this city I have not seen many doing this, and it seems to me they should.

• • •

To eat out of doors, where the air is fresh, is an opportunity which everyone should take advantage of. Those who have spacious lawns where they could eat their meals do not seem to like the idea, while those who have not such a place, wish they could eat out of doors.

• • •

Often housewives, whose families could eat outside, give the excuse that it is too much bother taking out table and chairs and bringing them back into the house. They, too, say it is too much bother to carry the dishes back and forth.

• • •

I believe they could overcome these difficulties, however, if they really wanted to. One could purchase a cheap table and chairs and paint them to make them attractive. Then these could be left out all summer.

• • •

As regards to carrying out the dishes, there must be some way to overcome this difficulty. Perhaps some of the neighbors who have found a way for doing this, might write in and tell us about it.

• • •

This is where the tea wagon would be a great help and might solve the mystery for many housewives. The used dishes could be set down on the ground and gathered up at the end of the meal.

• • •

Those who are fortunate enough to have a fountain on their lawns will enjoy the fine spray of water which the wind will carry for quite a distance. This is especially welcome on hot, sultry days.

• • •

Then too, the sweet perfume of many flowers, helps to make the meal a pleasant one. After all, the surroundings add a great deal to the picture and the more attractive they are, the more enjoyment one gets.

• • •

So much for eating outside. Let us turn for a while to garden furniture. Many people do not give much thought to this subject, but nevertheless it is an interesting one.

• • •

There was once a time when lawns were very rarely seen. Ones that were constantly mowed and kept clean were very uncommon. But the time has come when lawns are of value and they add much to the general appearance of the home.

• • •

People living in this up-to-date age, appreciate fine lawns and gardens and strive to keep them as clean and attractive as possible, even though it may mean considerable labor.

• • •

The local Horticultural Society is doing much in this regard by offering prizes for lawns and window boxes, etc., each year. This Society also offers prizes for gardens and this encourages especially the younger members.

• • •

If the lawns are spacious and enclosed, I think furniture placed here and there gives a restful and homelike appearance to the picture.

• • •

Those pieces of iron furniture which one sees, are attractive and will weather well. But should you not be able to get furniture of this material, you might purchase wooden material and enamel it over.

• • •

Little awning-covered swings are an asset and those comfortable chairs which one can fix to rest in a comfortable position are in demand. A hammock, placed in a shady place is inviting, too.

• • •

Arbor seats, while they may be ornamental, are not in the least comfortable. They may be all right, perhaps, to sit on while playing cards, but for rest, not many would choose such a seat.

• • •

For those who desire to make cushions for use out of doors, there is the oil-cloth material. This material may be purchased in many different designs that are attractive.

• • •

Urns filled with flowers also add beauty to the lawn and when planted with brightly colored flowers, together with vines and ferns, add much color to the lawn.

That Body of Yours

(By Jas. W. Barton, M.D.)

I have tried to liken the structure of the liver to the eggs themselves and to cardboard divisions that hold the eggs in a crate. The eggs represent the liver cells and the cardboard divisions represent the framework that holds the liver cells.

Now when you have an inflammation in certain tissues of the body the regular tissue gets replaced by fibrous tissue which is just like the hard white scar tissue resulting from a burn.

Thus the liver gets inflamed, the framework increases in size: which leaves less room for the liver cells themselves. The lining of cells themselves also get inflamed.

The result is less liver cell surface and more hard fibrous tissue. This is what is called sclerosis or hardening of the liver.

However, the liver is a very large organ, the largest in the body, and it keeps working away doing its best although often more than half of it is so hard that it is not much use.

Now the liver can get to the point where the jobs it has to do are too much for it and various things happen.

One of these is the swelling of the limbs and lower part of abdomen because the kidneys cannot do their own work and the work of the liver also.

An Italian physician reports a case of anaemia in which there was also this swelling of the feet and abdomen due to too much water being retained in the body.

He tried using a liver diet and the results were most surprising. Whereas before the use of liver diet the kidneys failed to get rid of more than 20 ounces of fluids, with the liver diet they got rid of four times that amount, that is 80 ounces.

After a few days of the liver diet, as the swelling had been greatly reduced, the liver diet was stopped, and on the fourth day the kidneys only removed about 30 ounces of instead of 80.

The liver diet was then resumed and the kidneys removed 80 ounces daily again.

At the end of 15 days more, the swelling in feet and abdomen had completely disappeared.

The thought then is that if you can keep the liver free from infection from bad teeth, tonsils, or other source, that it will enable the kidneys to do a perfect job in getting rid of fluid waste from the body. Also, the liver should be kept in good condition by not eating too much, especially rich or fatty foods.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

I DIDN'T KNOW.

"What have you been doing? Wading in the pond? And ruined your suit? Just ruined it."

"But mother, I didn't know."

"You didn't know? Why how can you say that when only the day before yesterday I TOLD you."

All day long you hear that story. Wherever children are you hear echoes of it. "You failed on number four? Why only last week I told you that answer." "What's that? You didn't know the address? Why don't you use your head? I told you that the other day."

The child was told. No doubt about it. But what of it? A merciful providence so created us that we could forget. If we had to remember all we heard and saw and felt, life would not be endurable. It takes a lot of living, a lot of experiencing, to know how to remember and how to forget and nature takes the safe side and lets the children forget.

If you want a child to remember something you must do more than tell him. You must first get him in a listening mood. If his mind is deaf it will not matter how wide open his ears may be.

You must tell him what you want him to know in as few words, in as clear words, as possible.

Then you must have him DO something about it. Write it down, or put the symbol of the fact he is to remember somewhere for future reference. Few children remember words spoken once, casually, as one speaks of the weather. Tell the child in the proper way and he is likely to remember.

Emotion impresses experience. A happy emotion, joy sets a memory joyously. A child wants to remember what made him happy. He wants to forget what made him sad. Work on that basis and the child will not trouble you so much by his forgetfulness, his "not knowing." You see most of his not knowing is due to the fact that something within him did not wish to "know", did not wish to remember.

Remember the child is not to blame for this. Most of the time. It happens because we have not caught his attention sufficiently, we have not made the idea clear; we have not set it in happy mood. His forgetting is quite unconscious and he is honest when he says, "I didn't know."

Telling a child something once, is rarely sufficient to register the idea, so completely as to make it easier for him to remember than to forget. The telling has to be repeated in various ways, and always, something has to be DONE about it on the child's part.

There is another side to this. We can make children remember the wrong things by the same method as we used to help them remember the right ones. So be careful that fear, anger, jealously, does not enter into the child's memory of his experiences. Set his experiences in happy emotion and they will not be forgotten, and they will strengthen his growth in good.

ALL CAMPS INSPECTED

AUGUSTA, Me., July 17.—(Canadian Press).—The annual inspection under the direction of the States Department of Health of about 200 boys and girls' summer recreation camps and something like 3,000 overnight camps, lodging places, roadside lunchrooms and booths in this state is now under way.

Camp inspection in Maine was begun in 1923 and the camp license law has been in effect since 1927. With the exception of Minnesota, Maine is believed to be the pioneer in this form of sanitary regulation.

CHILD'S TRAINING BEGINS AT BIRTH

Nurse Says Mother's Will Should Be Guiding Force.

Montreal, P. Q., July 17 (By The Canadian Press).—From the day a child is born he must begin to learn to live independently if he is to grow into a being who is sound mentally and physically, declared Winifred Rand, of the Morrill Palmer School, Detroit, Mich., in addressing the public health section of the sixth triennial congress of the International Council of Nurses, Thursday.

Taking as her subject, "the study of the normal child as a preparation for public health nursing," the speaker said the woman who has been trained in a hospital to care for the sick is not equipped to be a public health nurse. Her training should be reordered that the nurse "may know what the wise care of children really is and thereby be prepared to meet her great opportunity," she said.

"A mother, convinced that obedience is the criterion by which a child's goodness is judged and also probably convinced that her will (whether it be good or bad) should be the guiding force in the child's life, tests him out continuously by innumerable commands," she said; "she does not face the fact that the child is a reasonable being who must begin to learn to make some decisions for himself if he is to be a satisfactory adult. She does not face the fact that the child is an intelligent and independent being who is beginning to develop his own thinking powers and his own initiative. Because she does not face these facts she looks upon the child who does not come promptly to her bidding, who questions what is ofttimes an unreasonable demand, or who finally rebels at the countless orders he receives in the course of the day, as a child whose behavior is unsatisfactory. The child who always does as he is told, who never questions the direction no matter how unreasonable, who never expresses his will is the child who is called 'good.' And yet is that child really developing traits which will make him a satisfactory adult? Weak-willed, inadequate, easily led, the prey of anyone who tempts him, we find him and so condemn him.

Personality in Youth.

"'As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined.' In babyhood, in early childhood by the manner in which the child is treated is his personality largely evolved, a personality which will be made up of traits which are assets or liabilities, a personality which is sound or which has weak spots preventing the optimum of efficiency. Who can help parents in the bending of these tender twigs? Must not the public health nurse know the normally growing child and be prepared to teach the parents the basic principles of mental care as well as physical care? Is not hers the great opportunity? Without doubt. But she can only do it if she knows those basic principles. Those she must know and how to teach them or may all unwittingly and in the name of love become the partner of parents in warping and distorting a budding personality with whose care she has been charged. A grave responsibility is hers! Let us see that she is prepared to meet it for great is her opportunity! Let us face the fact that the woman who has been trained in a hospital to care for the sick is not thereby equipped to be a public health nurse. Let us face the fact that she needs to have such teaching as will outline to her in definite terms the goal of Health, in its physical and mental aspects and will convince her that it is a goal which can be achieved by caring wisely for the children in our midst. Let us face these facts and so reorder her training that she may know what the wise care of children really is and thereby be prepared to meet her great opportunity."

WASHING PETS

When you wash your pets, whether cats or dogs, have warm water and be sure to rinse and dry him thoroughly. Never allow him to lick his coat dry. If possible, keep in a warm room for a couple of hours, unless it is very warm outside.

LADY MINISTER TACKLING JOB

Margaret Bandfield Starts Her Office With A Spinning Strike To Settle

WAS ONCE SHOPWORKER

LONDON, July 17. — (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield, first woman member of the British Cabinet, is vigorously tackling her new duties as Minister of Labor. The employers in the spinning and manufacturing sections of the great cotton industry have posted notices demanding a reduction in wages as from July 29, of roughly 12½ per cent.—two shillings, sixpence and three-farthings in the pound. A half million operatives decline to accept the reduction, and consequently a deadlock has been reached.

The Department of Labor has now entered into the dispute, with the departmental officers, under Miss Bondfield, being in touch with both sides to the dispute. "Our Maggie," as the Minister is affectionately known in the trades union world, is a woman of quick sympathies and of great human understanding. Thirty years ago, Miss Bondfield, a shop assistant herself, was out fighting for the underpaid and overworked girls behind the counters.

In her present task she has the cordial good wishes of all sides of politics.

NEW SAUCES

Instead of serving cream over everything from bread pudding to gelatin, why not try out new sauces. Fruit juice drained off canned goods makes an excellent base. Heat lemon or orange sauces and even a hot apple sauce seasoned highly gives a welcome change.

THE RIGHT POLICY.

The Board of Health's decision that owners of property on streets through which sewers have recently been laid must install sanitary conveniences, is in the general interest and should be enforced.

Great strides have been made in recent years in the matter of sanitation throughout the city, and the authorities deserve credit for insisting upon sanitary conveniences wherever their installation is possible.

No sensible person will quarrel with that policy, the carrying out of which is not, under the arrangements now available for financing the improvements, a hardship upon any citizen.

Property-owners on East City streets where sewer accommodation has recently been provded will doubtless be found glad to comply with the regulations and improve their property and the general conditions in the neighborhood, and the few who are unwilling to keep pace with progress will have to be dealt with.

In this enlightened day the health interests of the community must have first consideration.

CANNOT SAVE THE GROWN-UPS.

Appalled by the week-end record of accidental deaths, the Globe is in despair of being able to arouse safety consciousness in the present generation.

"The fact of the matter," says the Globe, "seems to be that the teaching of caution to the grown-up people of to-day is a discouraging task."

The solution, according to our Toronto contemporary, "lies in working among the children and endeavoring to make care and thoughtfulness a habit of mind."

With that opinion most newspapers will agree, seeing that neither the tragic headlines on the front page every Monday nor the repeated editorial warnings seem to have any effect in arousing the public to a realization of the need of care and caution.

Every level crossing accident is unnecessary; most of the traffic mishaps come in the same category; there is no reason why non-swimmers should put themselves in positions of danger—and yet day after day there is a ghastly record of fatalities.

THE CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS.

The theory that the sale of liquor in Canada is responsible for the increase in traffic accidents, still persists in spite of the fact that the number of automobile fatalities under prohibition in the United States is far greater proportionately than in Canada.

In this connection it is interesting to learn that, according to official figures promulgated by the Roads Department of Quebec in regard to automobile accidents in that Province last year, drink was responsible for less than nine per cent. of all the mishaps.

For every accident involving a driver more or less under the influence of liquor there were approximately twelve in which sober persons were concerned.

The Quebec authorities report 4,388 accidents, in which 60 people were killed and some 1,300 seriously injured, and investigating the cause of these accidents, lays the blame for seventy-five per cent. of these on speeding and neglect on the part of motorists, and declares that carelessness by pedestrians was the next highest cause of accidents.

Drunkenness ranks third, according to these figures, and was responsible for 381 accidents out of the 4,388 total reported.

Admittedly the drunken driver should have no place on the highway and should be driven off by heavier penalties, yet, according to the Quebec figures, the responsibility for accident increases must be accepted by the sober motorist in even greater proportion than by the other kind.

THE EXAMINER AND ELECTIONS.

To the Editor:

I notice that The Examiner takes its usual stand against a general election or appeal to the people. Since the basis of democratic government is a government of the people as direct and continual as possible, why do you oppose these appeals and that without giving any reasons? INQUIRER.

In answer to this question The Examiner might say that it has, as a matter of fact, given a reason for opposing an election in Ontario this year, namely, that there is no issue of major importance justifying an appeal to the people by a Government that is not yet three years in office.

The Examiner does not oppose an election brought on at the proper time, but can see no excuse, other than that to be found in political expendiency, why the people of Ontario should have to undergo the upsetting influences of an unnecessary political campaign this year.

The Ferguson Government was elected in December of 1926 and given an unmistakable mandate to carry on the affairs of this Province, and to put into effect its policy of Government control of the sale of liquor.

Only three sessions of the present Legislature have been held; why then should there be an election this year, just thirty-six months or less from the date of the last one

Is there any demand in Ontario for an election?

Is there any public question of outstanding importance that calls for the opinion of the people?

In short, why in the name of commonsense should the Government bring on a campaign at this time?

The record in Nova Scotia shows that such attempts to win a snap verdict are not only poor business but poor political strategy.

THOSE HORN BLOWERS.

Traffic Commissioner Winter suggests that citizens complaining of unnecessary horn-blowing by certain motorists, should make their complaints directly to the police. Mr. Winter points out that he is strongly in sympathy with such complaints and that people who make a practice of using their motor horns for door bell purposes are infringing one of the provisions of the Ontario Motor Vehicles Act, causing great annoyance to the general public and particularly to those who are ill or resting.

The Star would suggest that police officers show more signs of life in enforcing this particular regulation. Stand at any busy corner and almost every day you will see motorists buzzing their horns for all they are worth, and to no purpose at all. A car or truck dashes up at the end of a line that is waiting for the traffic signal to turn. If the driver of the car behind has an ounce of brains he must know that the man in front is standing still because the light is against him. For some reason or other, however, he persists in blowing his horn and then some other idiot in the line follows suit. Oftimes a half a dozen horns will be in use at once, with the result that the air is full of screeches and persons nearby wish, for the time being, that the automobile had never been invented.

If the motoring public—and especially the young fellows who seem to think that a car is designed chiefly for speed, daredevilishness and noise—could be made to understand that excessive horn-blowing is an infraction of the law, and if officers of the law could be induced to enforce this section, much of the peace and quietness of former years could be restored.—Border Cities Star.

THAT ECONOMIC CONFERENCE.

Judging from the news of the past few days that proposed Economic Conference of the Empire is going to start off with a lot of people disagreeing. Mr. Snowden, calling the conference, says that Imperial preferences are "fallacious and unsound." In far off Victoria our Mr. James Robb promptly rises to say that Mr. Snowden is not talking for the British people. In farther off Australia Premier Stanley Bruce sends off a hot cable wanting to know what Mr. Snowden means. Before a British gathering Mr. Neville Chamberlain, son of the famous Joseph, argues for a preference that will not tax food. In the British House Mr. Amery pleads for a preference that will tax food. While Mr. Amery is pleading, Mr. Churchill, of Mr. Amery's party, ostentatiously walks out of the House. And so on and so forth.

Looking bad, it is not as bad as it looks. The best possible thing that can happen to any conference is to have the parties to it blow off steam just as early as possible. That over with, the delegates can then go to work. No sane person expects that any economic or other conference is going to demand something that will not take account of existing business conditions. That would be absurd. Great Britain could not be expected to allow the interests of her own people to be sacrificed in any way for the sake of promoting trade with Canada or Australia. By the same token, it would be small consolation for a Canadian manufacturer to know that he was put out of business by a British rival rather than by an American or a Jap.

But this does not argue that there cannot be a policy of give-and-take, that statesmen and business leaders cannot get together and discover a hundred ways in which the various parts of the Empire may trade among themselves to the advantage of all.

That is what practical observers mean when they speak of an Economic Conference. Some talk, of course, about free trade within the Empire; and it may come. For the present, however, the thing to do is not to propose something so far-reaching that people will recoil from it. The wise course is to begin by seeing whether Britain cannot be supplied by the Empire with many of the things that she now buys elsewhere, and whether Britain cannot supply the Empire with a great deal of the goods that it is buying elsewhere.—Ottawa Journal.

POLICE COURT METHODS.

Justice Jeffery, in Toronto, threw a bombshell into the police courts of Ontario when he said at Osgoode Hall on Thursday: "The more I hear and see of convictions made by police court magistrates, the more I am convinced that Crown counsel, in particular, should make every effort to see that everyone gets a fair trial."

Prominent Toronto lawyers interviewed on the matter declared, in effect, that all practising lawyers would agree with the remark.

His lordship has said something that was needed to be said by one on the bench.

Anyone accustomed to attend police courts in Ontario knows full well that there are methods of conducting prosecutions that are unfair and a disgrace. The blame does not rest so much on the magistrates as on some of the Crown-attorneys.

The chief fault of these officers is that they have a mistaken sense of their functions.

They adopt the attitude, either through ignorance or designedly, that the duty to the Crown is to obtain the conviction of the accused persons bought before them. They feel that they must "fatten their batting averages" by getting as many convictions as they can.

That is not the primary duty of a Crown-Attorney at all. His primary duty is "to present the facts of the case to the court," whether before magistrate, judge or jury. That implies that he shall not only present the evidence that tends to convict the prisoner—but anything he knows that tells in favor of the prisoner, even if it minimizes the strength of the case for the prosecution.

Unless he does that, he does not present "the facts of the case to the court." He fails in his duty to the public.

A Crown-attorney acts not merely in the role of prosecutor. He has an obligation toward the accused as well as against him.

But there are many Crown-attorneys who take a one-sided view of their duties. They bully witnesses who do not say what they would like them to say, and they carry on with a case long after it is apparent to an unbiased spectator that the prosecution is too weak to justify a conviction.

There are Crown-attorneys and magistrates who work hand in glove, forming a sort of partnership. They should be absolutely separate.—St. Thomas Times-

Camp Skookum, offering camping-at-cost to Peterborough boys, should be filled to capacity for the balance of the summer.

And now they are talking about $2.00. It's funny what a difference just a few hours make.

Even without an election Ontario is not suffering from a dearth of political speeches.

A new cure for mosquito bites has been announced. What is really needed is something to get rid of the mosquitoes themselves.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

To Editor of Examiner.

Dear sir:

The Town Hall School Section, North Monaghan, is to be congratulated, together with Miss Sybil Robertson, the teacher, in winning the county scholarship with Miss Ruth Hunter, who is only eleven years of age.

Miss Robertson sent up six candidates and four were successful in passing. Three were from the junior fourth and three from the senior fourth. They all passed from the senior and Master James Hunter, who is ten years old and a brother of Miss Ruth, succeeded in passing, which is a most creditable showing for any school. Evidently the Hunter children are off to a good start for an education. This is a strong argument to let the public school system remain as it is now.

Miss Robertson has just completed two years' teaching and has all the classes from primer up to the senior fourth whereas there are five graded public schools in the county manned by very skillful teachers having only one or two classes to teach, yet here is a young teacher having all the classes of a school to teach and succeeds in passing sixty-six percent and winning the scholarship with a pupil eleven years old. Those who would make radical changes in the educational system of the province would do well to pause and think before doing so, as this school furnishes a proven case of what a hard-working and skillful young teacher can do when they have the material to work with. Miss Robertson and her pupils have earned the admiration of all in winning the scholarship and passing an examination that requires an active brain and hard work to accomplish. Yours,

"CANCER"

If July 17 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8'30 a.m. to 9.30 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., and from8 p.m. to 9 p.m.;to the danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The astrological effects for this date will be rather nil, and you should carry on in the Seven tenor of your way. A neutral attitude will prevail to most things.

Children born on July 17 will be bound to lead happy lives as they will will be blessed with a cheerful, merry and happy outlook' Bhey will be joy givers and joy receivers. They will be only moderately ambitious.

It is presaged from the signs that your life will not run along in a smooth, monotonous level, but it will be full of extremes of good and bad fortune. Many of your misfortunes, however, are a direct result of your tendency to gamble with your life, when it would be better to let well enough alone. You do not have continuity of purpose, as you often turn back or step aside, when the correct thing to do is to go ahead' Your speculative tendency should be conquered, as it will radically effect your material welfare if you allow yourself to succumb to this weakness. Your successes are indicated only along legitimate lines of endeavor' You can reach the higher peaks of achievement and remain there if you are willing to tread the paths of painstaking, common-sense industry.

Your nature is a sensitive one, and you are easily bruised by criticisms, which you silently resent. Your temper is rather volcanic in action—you seethe with anger for some time before you reach the boiling point and let off steam. Your system becomes saturated with the poisons of hate and resentment, and your final outbursts are unreasonable in their fury. Your greatest happiness and greatest success will lie outside of the home. This is greatly due to your own temperament.

VOTE ON DEBT ACCORDS WILL NOT BE DELAYED

Unofficial Count Gives 31 Majority to Poincare on Question.

PARIS, July 17.—(Canadian Press).—Unofficial count on a question of confidence regarding postponement of ratification of the debt accords debate gave the Poincare Government a majority of 31 votes to-day, but an official recount was ordered.

The recount was ordered because more ballots were deposited in the box than there were Deputies present in the Chamber. The vote was on a motion to postpone debate, but Premier Poincare insisted that a vote be taken immediately.

The Tule Marsh Murder

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

Story of a Missing Actress and the Taxing of Wits to Explain Her Fate

THE STORY THUS FAR:

Don Ellsworth's wife, formerly the famous actress Sheila O'Shay, disappears, leaving no trace. Dr. Cavanaugh, the great criminal psychologist learns that their married life has been very unhappy.

Peter Piper reporter on the Herald, tries to see Dr. Cavanaugh. Instead he meets Barbara Cavanaugh, the attractive daughter, and finds that she was engaged to Don Ellsworth before his marriage.

A body, found in the tule marsh outside the city, is identified by Dr. Cavanaugh as that of Sheila O'Shay. Barbara faints when she hears him tell this to Peter. The latter, already half in love with her, is convinced that she knows something about the murder and his instinct is to protect her.

Mrs. Kane, Sheila O'Shay's waiting woman is arrested and admits that her mistress forced Don Ellsworth to marry her.

Peter and Dr. Cavanaugh find in the boudoir of the murdered woman a threatening letter signed "David Orme." Peter trails Orme and finds him. But he is an irresponsible artist who does not seem capable of the murder. Dr. Cavanaugh agrees to examine Orme.

Peter learns that Barbara's car was used in the murder. He determines to save her at any cost. They discover their great love for each other but Barbara will not let him help her, and he realizes she is protecting some one else.

The trial of Orme for the murder of Sheila O'Shay begins. Mrs. Kane on the witness stand, states that Orme is Sheila O'Shay's real husband. He disappeared and she had never divorced him. Dr. Cavanaugh tells Peter that he can clear David Orme. Orme on the stand tells of the tragedy of his life and his marriage to Sheila O'Shay. He admits to having seen her on the night of her death. Dr. Cavanaugh takes the stand and states that he knew Orme before the murder.

CHAPTER 46

"Proceed." In that one word, Graham gave it up, and abandoned himself and David Orme to Dr. Cavanaugh. He was no longer directing the examination—he was merely a part of the audience. He glanced briefly at the district attorney, honing that the prosecutor was too absorbed in his own astonishment to notice that his surprise was shared by his opponent.

"Mr. Orme was at that time in a state of extreme agitation. He told me that in passing the house he had recognized my name on the door plate. The maid told him I was out, and saw patients only by appointment. Nevertheless, he had settled himself on the doorsten to wait.

"He told me at once that he was without funds, but begged me to help him in what he described as a 'terrible extremity.' I admitted him to my office, gave him a mild sedative, and, when he was somewhat quieter, asked him the nature of his trouble.

I will summarize his statement as succinctly as possible, in order not to weary you." Dr. Cavanaugh paused and glanced at the jury with his smile of courteous apology. Every face was turned towards him with tense interest. Even the judge leaned forwtrd.

"Mr. Orme told me at that time that he had been, for almost a year, suffering from a complete loss of memory for preceding events. His memory, that is, was clear for the period between last April and the present. For events preceding that time, his mind was a total blank. As perhaps you know, this state of amnesia is technically called a fugue."

The jury didn't know, but they appreciated the implied flattery, and tried to look as if they did.

"I went back rather carefully over the patient's personal history for the last 11 months. If I may be allowed to use an imperfect analogy, it was as if the strip of continuity, of the stream of memories which makes us conscious of ourselves as unbroken personalities, had been cut off at a particular point, with no way of uniting the severed edges.

"He had found himself walking along a country road, hatless and without luggage. If he had had a wallet containing money and a means of identification, he had lost it or it had been stolen from him. The only clue to his identity which he could discover was a fountain pen in his pocket, with the initials 'D.O.' engraved on a gold band around the barrel.

"From that time on, for a period of 11 months, he had worked as a casual ranch hand, using the name Daniel Osgood, which was suggested to him by the initials on the pen.

"He had kept moving, in hope that eventually some scene or circumstance would recall his past life to him. On the day when I saw him he had received his first hint—the first stimulus which seemed to have aroused a response connected with his past life I hope I am not being too detailed—taking up too much of your time with all this?"

"Gee," he whispered to the "Q" twin. "Spell me on this, will you? It's all answer and no questions. Do you think you're getting paid just to sit and loaf in a ringside seat at this trial?"

"All right, hand it over say, do you notice what a sense of the dramatic the old bird has? He always asks if he's boring them at the most crucial moments."

"I haven't had time to notice anything but keeping up with pot-hooks."

For once, even the bailiff was too absorbed to chastise the offenders against courtroom etiquette.

"Go on, please, doctor. The court will be glad to listen to all you have to say."

"The circumstance to which I refer was a moving picture. Orme, or Osgood as I called him then, had dropped into a moving picture house, more for a place to sit down and rest than for anything else. But an incident in the picture had aroused in him an intense, though indefinite, emotional disturbance.

"It was a scene in which an angry man knocked a woman down. He was unable to stay for the conclusion of the story, and rushed out into the street, in a state of acute excitement. His first clear recognition out of the past was the sight of my name on the door plate when he passed my house—he recognized it, that is, as belonging to a more or less well-known psychiatrist."

"'More or less'—get that?" nudged Harry.

"It would be unnecessary to take you step by step through the analysis by which, in the course of the next two weeks, I finally knitted together the severed portions of Orme's consciousness.

"Working backward, I discovered that in his childhood he had received a powerful shock when his father, in a drunken rage had struck his mother and knocked her down. The woman had hit her head in falling and was stunned; and the child, left alone with her when his father had stormed out of the house, had believed her to be dead.

"The incident was buried in his subconscious and apparently forgotten—it was only a short time afterwards that a musician became interested in Orme's remarkable talent and undertook his education, separating him from his family associations. But the horror of scene, intensified by his helplessness, nevertheless made an ineffaceable and powerful impression.

"When, as he has told you, he in a moment of anger struck his wife, Sheila O'Shay, and saw her fall as his mother had fallen, he found himself reproducing the scene which had given him so profound a shock in his childhood. He in his own person was re-enacting the role of his hated father. The reproduction of a similar scene on the screen naturally caused a resurgence of the emotional storm, and gave us a starting point for reconstruction.

"The amnesia from which he was suffering explains the fact that Orme was unaware of his wife's subsequent marriage until so long after it had taken place.

"There are other items, of course, which require explanation. Not every one would have responded to the same set of circumstances as David Orme responded to them. We must remember that he was and always has been an unstable personality—an instability recognized by the laiety in reference to the high-strung sensitiveness, the 'temperament' of certain geniuses,

"In such a personality, a rift in the stream of memory technically called a fugue is invariably a means of escape from an unvearable reality. When Ormefound himself performing the same act which had so horrified him in his father, he reacted by a complete denial of the intolerable fact—by ,in short, forgetting the painful situation and becoming, in effect, someone else.

I have no doubt whatever that the emotional strain of seeing his wife again on the night of March 18, caused a slight recurrence of retroactive amnesia, which explains his confusion as to the details of the interview and his inability to remember his parting from Sheila O'Shay and his return to the automobile camp grounds where he was staying."

"Just a moment, your honor," the district attorney boomed. "I ask that last statement be stricken from the record as incompetent and calling for the conclusion of the witness."

"But, your honor," Graham interposed, "Dr. Cavanaugh has been called to the stand as an expert witness. The statement was a part of his diagnosis of the defendant's mental condition."

"The statement may stand. Proceed, doctor."

"That is all, I think."

Graham looked enquiringly toward Dr. Cavanaugh, but except for an almost imperceptible curve of amusement at the corners of his mouth, the doctor's face was inscrutible.

"No questions. You may cross-examine."

"Now, doctor," the district attorney began with heavy reasonableness, "if the defendant's actions are fully explained by all this fugue and retroactive amnesia business, how do you account for his failure to make any mention of these occurrences on the witness stand?"

STREET CARS OPERATING.

NEW ORLEANS, July 17.—(Canadian Press).—Daylight operation of street cars in the strike of union workers went ahead to-day under Federal armed guards without indications of any settlement of differences between the Street Car Company and the employees, who walked out of their jobs July 2 and two days later rioted through the city.

1929 dates for the Canadian National Exhibition are Friday, August 23rd to Saturday, September 7th.

LAUGHS FROM LIFE

LOVE SICK YOUTH: Dern her! I'd jump off that dock and drown myself, but I don't think I can make it!

Ballade of Saint Andrew
(Patron of all Golfers)

Within the calendar 'tis known
That many, many saints there be
To whom we mortals make our moan
When in some sad extremity;
In suppliant wise we lift our plea
For succor if we fail or faint;
When I am "off my game," perdie,
Saint Andrew is my patron saint!

Let each be true unto his own
With offerings of his own degree,
Be it of gold or precious stone,
Or silver (out of poverty);
It matters not, that I can see,
If so the gift be without taint;
I always pay my yearly fee;
Saint Andrew is my patron saint!

Adown the wind the bruit is blown
Of ages gone like dreams that flee,
When this or that one was struck prone
For sacrificial bravery;
But for what canonized was he—
Alas, that scene I cannot paint.
Yet standing on some heavenly tee,
Saint Andrew is my patron saint!

Envoy

Good Golfers, though he scorneth me
Ofttimes when I uplift my plaint,
Yet gladly I with you agree—
Saint Andrew is my patron saint!
CLINTON SCOLLARD.

Senatorial Indignity

"Is it my understanding," he asked in tones which reverberated throughout the Senate, "that this noble and august body has been affronted by a common brewer of Milwaukee?

"Is it true that a nit-wit exponent of the liquor traffic has dared assume that permission would be granted him to send a case of beer to each member of the United States Senate, to prove his vicious doctrine that it is not intoxicating?

"What sublime effrontery! What consummate idiocy—to assume that the flower of America's political intellect would connive in any such affair as the receipt of a case of pre-Prohibition beer! Fellow Senators, I need not plead with you to rebuke this scoundrel. Are these classic halls, which have echoed to the hallowed utterances of America's dry apostles, to be witness to the infamy of flow-beer? Are the bottle-opener and the stein to find their way through these sacred portals?

"Gentlemen of the Senate, I know you will forgive me for not making a prolonged speech upon this gross affair. I feel this insult with too deep emotion, but I move that the clerk of the Senate be instructed to provide brewery officials with the home address of each Senator, so that if the invitation is repeated, each of us may deal with it as he sees fit."

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 17.—(Canadian Press).—An unidentified man went to his death over the American Falls at 9.05 a.m. to-day. He climbed the iron railing at Prospect Point, about 12 feet above the cataract's brink, plunged into the water and was carried over the falls.

IMPERIAL OIL SHOWS ADVANCE

Industrial Issues Fail To Give Stronger Tendency To The Market

PAVING STOCKS UNCERTAIN

TORONTO, Ont., July 17 (C.P.).—Trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning was light in volume but covered a fairly wide range of stocks without showing any decisive change in either direction.

The industrials failed to give a strong tendency to the market. Bell Telephone added 1 to 167 on sales of 11 shares and Brazilian dropped 1¼ to 59.59 on sales of 3. Standard Steel was in fair demand and added 1 to 95, but the others in this groups were quiet. International Nickel displayed activity and strengthened almost a full point to 50¼. Ford "A" went as low as 49 continuing yesterday's reaction but recovered to 50 for a loss of 1⅛ on the morning. age Hersey lost ½ to 136½.

Imperial continued to lead among the oils and strengthened a further fraction to 30. In the bank stocks Commerce dropped 2 to 295, and Dominion added 2 to 245. The paving stocks affected by merger conversations being continued here to-day were not strong. Dufferin Paving lost 1 to 31 on its common and Canada Paving also dropped a point on both its common and preferred. Pressed Metals Rights added 25 cents to 1.50.

STANDARD LIST IS IRREGULAR

Few Leaders Produced While Metals And Oils Present Softer Appearance

TORONTO, Ont., July 17.—(C.P.)—An irregular appearance was presented by the stocks on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning. Few leaders were produced and those of the metals and oils that did not mark time presented a soft appearance. Noranda after reaching a low firmed again at 59.00. Base Metals added 5 to 4.26 and Big Missouri gained 4 to 1.43 under good demand. Pend Oreille dropped 10 to 5.40. Peterson Cobalt Mines sold actively and dropped 1 to 35. The Lindsleys showed a better front than the market as a whole. Ventures and Sudbury Basin gained 10 apiece to 8.35 and 8.85 while Falconbridge was firm and Sherrit Gordon remained at 7.60 after reaching 7.65 in the early trading. Newbec was in demand at 43, a rise of 1½.

The oils were also irregular. Associated Gas and Oil which rose yesterday under favorable reports added another 10 to 5.20 while Southeast Petroleum which continued to attract attention dropped 25 cents to 6.00. Alberta Pacific dropped 5 to 3.85 and Dalhousie advanced to 3.90 by the same margin.

The precious metals were in accord with the varied tone of the market generally. Teck Hughes lost 15 to 8.25 and Hollinger 5 to 5.55. Lake Shore was firm at 25.00 as was McIntyre at 15.15.

TORONTO, July 16.—A plan is being considered to resume work almost immediately on Osisko Lake property adjoining Horne Mine of Noranda to east. Noranda is shareholder and Lindsley and McIntyre interests are heavily involved.

Deepening of shaft from 500 to 750 at Siscoe will be under way within the next ten days. Mill is operating steadily with average output about $1,000 daily. "D" shaft has been dewatered and made ready for sampling and diamond drilling campaign under consideration this section. McIntyre Porcupine increases its quarterly earnings by $6,700 as compared with 1928.

All advices received locally point to much higher prices for wheat. Winnipeg wheat seems to be the favorite. Warm winds and terrific heat in the west are having disastrous effect on wheat, which is pretty much in the shot blade.

General Increase In Raspberry Crop

OTTAWA, Ont., July 17. (C. P.) — An increase of three per cent. over last year is shown in the crop forecast on raspberries released to-day by the Department of Agriculture. It is estimated that the crop this year will amount to 4,577,020 quarts as compared with 4,457,360 quarts last year.

The forecast by provinces follows:

British Columbia: the lower mainland, the main raspberry section in British Columbia, has experienced considerable cool weather, and indications are now for a crop about 1 per cent less than 1928, which means that a crop of 2,391,500 quarts will be harvested. Canes are healthy and no more than ordinary seasonal damage has been caused by pests.

Ontario: While early June weather was unfavorable to raspberry development, the last two weeks of the month found conditions much improved, resulting in an expected yield of 2,027,520 quarts, an increase of 10 per cent. Canes are generally healthy, and pests are under control.

Quebec: Weather conditions in Quebec have been mostly favorable for raspberries, and present indications are for a crop equal to that of last year when 158,000 quarts were grown.

ement. They were occupied by Philippe Gour, Number 48; John Quesnel, Number 50, and Alphonse Landry, Number 52. Occupants of the latter houses were able to make their escape without difficulty, but Gour and Quesnel lost the greater part of their household effects.

When the explosion occurred, members of the Piche and Givoque households were sleeping soundly but were aroused by the report and immediately sought to escape. In the Givoque residence were Mr. and Mrs. B. Givoque, their three children, Georgette, aged 3, Cecil, aged 5, and Rita, 9 months, and a maid, Miss Aldina Davidson. Miss Davidson, with pluck and presence of mind, thought immediately of her young charges when the last came and led Georgette and Cecile, sleepy and unwilling through the flames to safety. Mr. and Mrs. Givoque found egress almost cut off by flames on the stairs but managed to reach the outside, although horribly burned. Mrs. Givoque fainted on the stairs, through shock and suffocation by the smoke and was carried to safety by her husband.

Upon recovering consciousness in the open air, Mrs. Givoque's first thought was for the infant and she sought to plunge again into the flames to reach the child. She was restrained by neighbors.

Torrid Heat Reports Strengthens Market

CHICAGO, Ills., July 17.—(C.P.)—Torrid heat and intensified drought in Canada, together with steep rising quotations at Liverpool, hoisted the wheat market here to above $1.50 a bushel to-day. Tumultuous buying accompanied the new jump in values, with advices at hand that crops in Canada are fast approaching total failure. Opening at 1¼ to 3¾ cents higher, Chicago wheat prices later

GROWTH OF CANADIAN SILK MANUFACTURING.

In connection with the new establishments, states a current C.P.R. review, it is interesting to note the rapid growth of the silk manufacturing industry of Canada. This belongs essentially to the period since the end of the war, evidencing an unbroken rise in importance. Comparing the statistics of 1927 with those of 1917, there has been an increase of over 900 per cent. in capitalization and of over 300 per cent. in the value of production, the latter figure being lower because in 1927 two new plants were merely getting into shape for production. Last year Canada exported silk and manufacturers of to a value of $123,966 and artificial silk and manufacturers of to the extent of $255,174, these figures both being lower than those of the previous year, due to increasing domestic demand and consumption. In rayon manufacturparticularly, Canada has a very signifie cant future.

Quebec province has recently assumed greater importance as a textile manufacturing centre as the result of new industries locating within its borders. Two establishments of recent date have been those of the Textile Company of Canada, which decided upon Louiseville a point on the Canadian Pacific Railway between Montreal and Quebec for the location of its plant and the Canadian T.S.R. of Lyons (Compagnie Canadienne des Tissaeges de Soieries Reunis de Lyons Lte.) which is to erect and operate a plant at Cap de la Madeleine not far distant from the other and also on the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway. These new establisments draw attention to the special facilities Canada possesses for the development of the textile industries. The expansion in this line of activity in Quebec has been one of the most striking features of the province's progress in the post-war period. It is not long since the Canadian Celanese Ltd.' located at Drummondville, Quebec and expresses complete satisfaction with its experience the development of markets for its products having necessitated the more than doubling of the fabric plant during 1928.

TRADE INDUSTRY WELL MAINTAINED IN TORONTO DISTRICT.

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say that there is a good seasonal demand here for wholesale dry goods boots and shoes and other staple lines. Sports goods and campers' and tourists' supplies are all moving well and the outlook is for this year's trade in these lines to exceed that of 1928 considerably. The influx of tourists is heavy and they are spending considerable money in this country all of which tends to increase the volume of business. Sentiment generally is better since wheat prices have shown an upward trend. The feeling now is that a crop of moderate proportions may be harvested which if sold at a good price will mean a greater monetary return to the farmer than would have been the case had the crop been a record one which with an average crop elsewhere would almost certainly have put the price down lower. Retail demand is well maintained although naturally at this time of year the demand for food supplies comes more from the hotels and restaurants and less from the householders many of whom are away on vacation. Industry is well maintained although there is some slackening as is usual in the automobile plants and those concerns making accessories. Building continues active. Collections are fair to good. Crops are now looking well and a good yield of hay and grains is anticipated.

BORDEN COMPANY INTERESTED IN CANADA DAIRIES, LIMITED.

The Financial News Bureau is informed that the Borden Company has been making a study of the organizations that form Canada Dairies Ltd. and that there is a likelihood that at least some of the businesses will be acquired by Borden Co.

Canada Dairies Ltd. was organized last year to take over the following dairies; Ravenswood Beechwood Oakland Briar Hill Pure Gold Lakeside and Grimsby dairies. At a later date the company acquired the assets of National Milk Products Limited of Gananoque Ontario.

TWENTY-SEVEN RINKS ENTERED IN LAWN BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Mrs. H. Graham, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. G. Coleman, Mrs. D. Eldrid, Mrs. R. J .Martin, Mrs. R. J. Dovey, and Mrs. W. A. Greenslade.

The refreshment booth is under the care of the ladies also, and is in charge of the committee consisting of Mrs. N. Henry (convenor), Mrs. S. Coleman, Mrs. R. J. Martin and Mrs. H. Graham.

The committee in charge of the tournament is comprised of J. Mayneord (chairman), J. T. Braund and F. H. Brown. These men had all the arrangements completed in excellent detail and the preliminary draw was carried off without a hitch. T. J. Watson of Oshawa and Herb. Martin of Peterborough drew the rinks for the preliminary round of the Stratton Trophy, and started the nine greens to play shortly after 10.30. The umpires for the tourney are George Cairns of Peterborough, J. H. Sedgwick of Peterborough, H. B. Rosevear of Port Hope, E. Goodman of Oshawa and J. Brennan of Lindsay.

In the play George Coleman of Peterborough has a rink that rivals W. Widdess' rink of last winter's curling fame, inasmuch as it consists entirely of members of the Coleman family: George, Senior, is skip, Bob is vice-skip, while Harold and George, Junior, complete the players.

Oldest Bowler on the Greens.

David H. Moore has the honor of being the oldest member and the oldest bowler on the green. He started the game on what was known as Stevenson Corners, where the Y. W. C. A. now stands, and for approximately the last twenty years has been playing on the present green since it was opened. To-day he is playing with a pair of bowls which was presented to him in 1906 after he had been president of the bowling club of Peterborough for five consecutive years. Mr. Moore has had the honor of a life membership in the club conferred upon him some time ago.

The skips of the rinks that have been entered are: W. C. Livingston, Cannington; J. B. Leworthy, Tweed; Dr. Carlon, Norwood; Mr. Lamouth, Hastings; T. E. Curvin, Sen., Cobourg; J. Skitch, Cobourg; H. Rosevear, Port Hope; C. Steinhouse, Oshawa; C. Goodman, Oshawa; W. Oke, Port Hope; and W. E. Kelcher of Lindsay.

STRATTON TROPHY

In the game between Greenwood of Port Hope and Carleton of Norwood, Greenwood was four up coming home when Carleton stepped in with five nicely-placed bowls to take the game 16—11. It was one of the most spectacular finishes of the preliminary.

This brought all the more honor to the Norwood quartet, as it is the first time they have made an appearance in Peterborough, and moreover it is the first year that Norwood has had a bowling team.

Leaworthy of Tweed lost to Bacon of Peterborough also on the home stretch, when the boys from the east were two up on the last end and the local rink knocked them out by placing three nice shots to make a plus of one for the fixture.

A number of the games were closely ended as the following scores indicate. A win by one bowl marked many of the finishes.

Results of Preliminary Round

Rosevear	10	Freeman	9
Kelcher	11	Coleman	9
Stenhouse	12	Gimblett	13
Leaworthy	11	Bacon	12
Goodman	12	Bennet	9

The losers of the preliminary round enter into the consolation trophy, which gives them a chance to get into the prize money.

WORK PROGRESSING ON THE NEW TUNNEL

Expected Detroit-Canada Tunnel Will Be Open For Traffic Early In 1930

Advices from Detroit show that work on the new $18,000,000 Detroit-Windsor, Ontario, vehicular tunnel is progressing faster than engineers' estimates and that there is every indication the project will be finished early in 1930 instead of in late summer or fall as originally announced.

Using first excavation and then underground shield digging methods, the approach on the Detroit side has been 50 per cent completed and the tunnel lined with steel and concrete. Excavation has been momentarily stopped, pending the installation of a steel bulkhead closing off the finished portion so that the necessary air locks can be installed to enable compressed air to be applied to the rest of the work. The engineers also report that 37 per cent of the Windsor approach is done and that as soon as possible, the shield apparatus will be transferred across the river and underground excavation started here.

On June 6, the first of the 250-foot underwater segments built on special ways at Ojibway until the second one can be removed from the dolphins. The fourth and fifth segments are nearly ready for launching and work will be started shortly on the remaining five. Sinking of the remaining nine is expected to run off smoothly as the engineers have the advantage of their experience in lowering the first section.

The contract has been let for construction of the ventilation building on the Detroit side and bids are now being received for the similar structure on the Windsor side. The ventilation building will embody the latest in fresh-air machinery, with 3,000 gill-like apertures sucking the air into the tunnel at the rate of 1,000,000 cubic feet a minute. Used air will be blown out of stacks at two corners of each building.

Construction of this tunnel is different from that of the Holland tunnel, the only other vehicular project of the kind on the American continent, connecting New York and Jersey City. Instead of boring through rock or silt formations, the engineers have been able to dig a trench in the Detroit river, due to its clay bed. This will be lined with cement as the tubes are sunk into it as was done with the Michigan Central Railroad tunnel under the same river. The Holland tunnel was bored underground, part of the way through solid rock, a situation which added immeasurably to its cost. It is, of course, a much larger structure than the Detroit-Windsor project, capable of handling many more vehicles and passengers annually, but its total cost was in the neighborhood of $48,000,000, more than two and one-half times that of the Detroit tunnel.

Increase Is Shown In Canada's Nickel Output

OTTAWA, Ont., July 16—(Canadian ress).—Finally revised statistics on Nickel production in Canada during 1928, as reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, show an output of 96,755,578 pounds valued at $23,318,907 as compared with 66,798,717 pounds worth $15,262,171 in 1927.

The Dominion's lead, tin and zinc products industry reached a new high output record during 1928 when production was valued at $5,493,360. The previous record was $5,184,096 attained in 1926 production in 1927 was valued at $5,149,092.

CANADIAN SENATOR TO FRONT AT MEETING OF LEAGUE

Committee of Three Considerably Changed Hon. Raoul Dandurand's Proposals.

SUBJECT OF CARTOONS

TORONTO, July 17. — Senator Raoul Dandurand's visit to Spain for the 55th council of the League may not have been a complete success so far as it concerned securing the adoption of his program for the relief of suppressed and oppressed minorities. In fact the Canadian delegate's original proposals to the league on that difficult question were considerably emasculated by the time the committee of three had done with them.

But it was as an "Apostle of His People" that the envoy from Ottawa played a stellar role and if Spain today—the Spaniards who read the Madrid, Valencia, Seville and Barcelona newspapers—does not know more about Canada than ever before it is neither the fault of Senator Dandurand nor the newspapermen of Spain.

The reason for the fact may be obscure but it is nevertheless a fact that Senator Dandurand was perhaps the most caricatured member of the council during the visit to Madrid. Also he was subjected to innumerable interviews and his activities in the council's debates were consistently chronicled. With Gustav Stresemann, the Canadian delegate naturally was played up as the champion of minorities. As a representative of a country which Spain still regards as an unexplored wilderness somewhere north of Estados Unidos, he was far more interesting than the statesmen of Europe with whom Spanish newspaper readers come in contact every day.

The "unity" of the French and English elements of Canada, which was explained in detail by Senator Dandurand to a representative of El Sol; the phenomenon of the survival of the "Old French" language in certain parts of Quebec, the total absence of minorities in the Dominion, despite the two distinct racial elements, the geographical, ethnological, economic and cultural characteristics of Canada—all these subjects were featured in articles upon Dandurand and Canada that appeared during and after the council week.

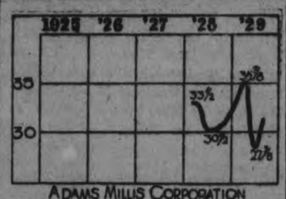
While the cartoonist of El Sol pictured Senator Dandurand as a "well-dressed man," M Ulgade of ABC preferred to emphasize his role as a "dove of peace." Another artist envisaged Dandurand as the Crusader—Dandurand assuming a belligerent pose with flowing beard and waving locks. It took the staff artist of El Informaciones to catch the dry humor of the French-Canadian minister—his conception being slightly Mephistophelian—and his characterization as the "spirit of Canada Dry Ginger Ale" somewhat amusing to those who know the Senator well.

JOHN WILLYS RESIGNS.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 17.—The resignation of John North Willys, for more than 21 years president of the Willys-Overland Company and a prominent figure in the automobile world, was announced here yesterday after a meeting of the board of directors.

Linwood A. Miller, for the past four years first vice-president, was elevated to the presidency, Mr. Willys remaining as chairman of the board.

STOCK A DAY



ADAMS MILLIS CORPORATION

The Adams Millis Corporation was formed in 1928 in North Carolina to effect a consolidation of five hosiery manufacturers, the Adams Millis Corporation, the Kernersville Knitting Company, the High Point Hosiery Mills, Inc., the Piedmont Mills Company and the Pointer Hosiery Company. The concern owns the capital stock of two sales subsidiaries. The corporation confines itself to the production of the cheaper grades of cotton and rayon hosiery designed to retail at 20 to 50 cents a pair. The larger part of its 4,000,000 dozen output of men's, women's and children's hose is sold to the big chain stores.

The company has plants at High Point and Kernersville, N.C. Earnings for the 8 months the consolidated companies operated in 1928 were announced as $534,098. This compared with earnings of the predecessor companies for the full year of 1927 of $706,583.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding includes $1,750,000 in 7 per cent cumulative first preferred of $100 par; $500,000 in 7 per cent cumulative second preferred of $100 par and 156,000 shares of no par common. The first preferred has voting power only when 8 quarterly dividends are in arrears when it elects a majority of the directors. Each share of first preferred carries a detachable warrant entitling the holder to buy, prior to July 1, 1931, one share of common at $32.50 a share. Dividends were started at the regular rate on the two preferred issues August 1, 1928, and continued since' Common dividends were initiated at 50 cents a quarter, November 1, 1928.

As of January 1, 1929, total current assets were $2,333,939. Current liabilities amounted to $273,541 and net working capital was $2,060,398. Book value applicable to the common stock amounted to $5.23 a share.

MINING BRIEFS

A Special Service to The Examiner

Advices from the West say that Sentinel Oils have acquired approximately 1000 acres in the Calling Valley, three miles north east of Turner Valley, where the Anglo Indian Corporation are preparing to drill a test hole. Surface seepages of oil can be found throughout the area.

An interesting commentary on the value of our mining industry can be found in the Press despatches from Sudbury quoting the $500,000 the International Nickel will lend to their employees for the erection of homes. Since the first of the year Sudbury's building permits have totalled $875,000 for several apartment houses and 200 homes. The demand, however, is so far from filled that the Chief of Police has had to open the jail cells for newcomers, more than once. Sudbury has now 15,000 of a population, and 600 more men are coming to erect the copper refinery at Copper Cliff.

The south drive on Newbec is said to be still in the diabase, which indicates a much greater width of this formation as compared with the 125 foot level. Some success may be met with, it is pointed out when the south diabase contact is cut.

The last drill, probably No. 8 of the Waite Montgomery has cut what is reported to be a good width of splendid ore 100 feet southwest of No. 4 hole, which cut 51 feet of 6.3% copper as well as two other low grade intersections. This discovery should double the size of the probable ore in this new body. Net profits are running around $45,000 per month.

60 barrels were yielded before the pump on Wainwell No. 4 broke down after five hours in a twenty four hours test.

Duncan MacVichie, General manager of Big Missouri when asked to place a valuation on the property based on estimates of ore developed to date, replied that he considered the property worth fifty million dollars and justified his estimate in the following manner. 'The main tunnel has been driven a distance of 2800 feet, 2000 feet of drifting on the high grade zones have been completed and approximately 20,000 feet of diamond drilling has been done to date. A sheer zone of more than 500 feet in width has been proven and high grade zones of 25, 15, 20 and 30 feet in width respectively have been opened. These zones have been drifted upon for a distance of 1,200 feet in one instance and several hundred in others. A drill hole from station No. 25 in the tunnel encountered two inches of free gold at a depth of 273 feet, which added to the depth of the tunnel at this point proved the existence of the high grade at a depth of 826 feet. Disregarding entirely the balance of the proven sheer zone and figuring only the 90 feet of total width of the high grade zones on a basis of 1,200 feet in length and 826 feet in depth we have 7,343,000 tons of high grade ore. If we estimate this ore to net but seven dollars per ton it will be seen that Mr. MacVichie's valuation has been exceeded.

Five hundred years before the birth of Christ, Hippocrates, a Greek, wrote a book on medical science which is still studied by students in America and Europe.

Movies Held on Lawn as Crowd Overflows the Church.

APSLEY, July 17 (Examiner Correspondence). — For the fourth year in succession the Canadian Forestry Association gave a moving picture demonstration and lecture at Apsley on the work that is being done in conserving the timber recources of Canada. As the date, July 12, coincided with the Orange Lodge picnic the event was held on the picnic ground in the open-air, commencing at nine o'clock, and was thoroughly enjoyed by a very large crowd, which could not have been accommodated in the Parish Hall.

Rev. C. A. G. Spence officiated as chairman, and in a brief speech commending the work of the association, introduced the speaker of the evening, N. L. Murray, one of the fourteen lecturers composing the staff which covers the whole of Canada, three of whom have their itinerary in the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Murray delivered an interesting and instructive address stressing the importance of co-operation from the individual with the Canadian Forestry Association in the work that is being done, and incidentally gave good advice with regard to the restoration to their former abundance of the fish and game resources. With reference to the forests, the speaker said there had been no great fire hazard during the last five years, but the association was prepared, waiting and watching for the next hazard, which some essayed to prophesy would come this year. Whenever it did come readiness to cope with it depended in a great measure on the co-operation of the people. There were 94 fires last year in this district (Trent East and West), and it was significant that not one "permit" fire got away, while 42 per cent. of the fires last year were not permit fires, showing the necessity of obtaining a permit before setting out a brush fire.

Mr. Murray then gave the younger people advice with regard to camp fires, which were responsible for 82 per cent. of the area burned in Ontario last year, and concluded with urging individual co-operation with the Forestry Branch. After the pictures, Rev. Mr. Spence made a complimentary reference to the local fire rangers stationed at Apsley, and called for a vote of thanks to the lecturer, which was heartily accorded. It is of interest to note that there are nine points in the Trent West and East district with 29 permanent men on the staff including a chief, two deputy chiefs, and two despatchers.

PLAN COMPETITIONS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WOOLER, July 17—"The Institute as a National Builder" was the subject of an interesting address given by Mrs. Charles McCoun at the meeting of the Wooler branch of East Northumberland Women's Institute held on Wednesday afternoon at the beautiful residence of M. E. Mabee, M. P., and Mrs. Mabee, known as Highland View Farm.

The host and hostess, together with the president, Mrs. M. Sharpe and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. J. Way, received the guests as they entered the large living room. The guests of honor, Mrs. Charles McCoun, of Campbellford, secretary-treasurer of the Federated Board of Institutes of Ontario, and the District President, Mrs. L. Isaacs, of Warkworth, were seated together at the library table.

Correspondence was read from Mrs. Bedell, of Bloomfield, and preparations made for the judging competition in household science for girls and women in the Town Hall on July 17 and 18, morning and afternoon. An announcement was made that Miss Cleland, of Toronto, will be the speaker at the August meeting.

Mrs. L. Isaacs, in her address, stated that the members should be loyal to their local Institute, especially the annual conventions. Mr. Putnam requests that helps and suggestions should be sent in to make this convention worthwhile to every member. During the afternoon, Mrs. Lloyd Bell gave a pleasing piano solo.

Mrs. McCoun stated, "King George once said that no country rises higher than the homes from which the people come. No nation ever reached its highest position, unless women were on an equality with men, to help build it. Egypt was at its greatest height, when it was the granary of the world. The women helped in the fields and homes to accumulate their country's wealth. When vast wealth had been accumulated, the Egyptian women ceased to work and surrounded themselves with luxury, and kept slaves to do the work. The slaves in time became their masters.

The same is true of Rome and Greece. We require work for physical, mental and moral growth. The moral standard of a nation is set by its women. We are molders of opinion, and builders of national life through the home.

Our motto is 'For Home and Country' but when the homes are what they should be, the country will be all right. Canada excels in many things, especially in the women's institute, which cannot die because its work is for home and country."

Mrs. S. L. Terrill moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. McConn, Mrs. Isaac and Mrs. Bell, seconded by Mrs. George Anderson. A social half hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Two Faint At Wedding Yet Ceremony Continues

LONDON, July 16.—(Canadian Press Cable).—A marriage service at Guilford was interrupted yesterday when the bridegeoum, overcome by the intense heat, collapsed in the arms of the best man. He recovered and the ceremony proceeded, until a few minutes later, when the bridesmaid fainted.

INSTITUTE HEARS SPLENDID REPORT

Appeal is Made to Each Branch of Women's Institute in Northumberland.

(Examiner Correspondence)

FENELLA, July 17—The July meeting of the Fenella Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. Nill on Thursday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. Harrison George, in the chair.

After the opening exercises, a splendid report of the District Annual meeting held at Wicklow on June 21, was given by Mrs. W. Rogers, District Director. Echoes from this report were as follows: The Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario through donations received from many branches throughout Ontario, were able to station a doctor at Tobermory, a settlement in Northern Ontario, previous to this time, was sixty miles away from any medical assistance. The amazing feature of this adventure, or perhaps not so amazing after all, was the fact that two male doctors, after going into this settlement, looking over the situation, and visioning the hardships ahead, had deserted, and it was left for a woman doctor to take up this work and she is still carrying on.

The next important echo from this report told of an appeal from the Tobermony W. I. asking each branch in Ontario for contributions for an autograph quilt, the funds raised, to be used to help pay the salary of the doctor placed there by the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario.

An appeal was also made to each branch in West Northumberland, for a contribution of one dollar in silver to be presented to G. A. Putnam in the fall on his completion of service for twenty five years as superintendent of Women's Institutes of Ontario.

Each branch was asked to name a committee to report to the Rotarians any crippled children in its community, as this organization is most anxious to assist in the work of treating crippled children.

At the conclusion of this report, on motion, it was decided that Fenella branch contribute to both appeals mentioned.

Mrs. Harrison George and Mrs. A. Nill were appointed a committee to report any crippled children in their community.

Mrs. Hershey, president of Roseneath Branch, when called on, responded very graciously, with a few brief appropriate remarks.

Mrs. Walter Bates, of Harwood, W. I. delighted her hearers with a witty short address.

The program consisted of the following numbers: Instrumental piano duet, Mrs. James Waldie and Miss Teressa Brenton; a humorous reading, "Ask a Man", Miss Louisa Clarke; and an instrumental piano duet "All in the Starlight", Mrs. Clark Jewell and Miss Irene Brown, Roseneath. All numbers were greatly enjoyed.

A unique roll call, "What Do You Know About" was answered by each member, completing the sentence to her liking and passing it on to her neighbor to answer. The questions and answers provided much merriment.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Rogers for her excellent report, and Mrs. Nill for her hospitality.

At the close of the meeting the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Clark Jewell, served afternoon tea. Other tea assistants were Miss Irene Brown of Roseneath and Mesdames I. C. Montgomery, and S. Leach, who poured tea.

Among visitors present were Mrs. Walter Bates and Mrs. Thomas Bates of the Harwood W. I. and Mrs. Hershey, Mrs. A. Brown, Mrs. Ella Brown, Mrs. M. R. Brown, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. L. Brisbin and Miss Irene Brown of Roseneath W. I.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 17.—The receipts at the cattle marekt yesterday morning were: 648 cattle, 640 calves, 718 hogs, 1,000 sheep and lambs.

Added to light fresh receipts there were 2,500 stale cattle in the supply for sale at the yards early yesterday when the market opened.

Trade continued draggy on killers with bids unchanged from Monday's level, buyers picking out the best of the butchers' steers at 11 to 11½ cents while a few plain steers fetched 8½ to 9½ cents.

Store cattle are somewhat slow in moving at 8 to 9½ cents for stockers and 9 to 10 cents for feeders.

Field calves prices yesterday were steady at 14c to 15c a pound for choice, with grassers slow at 7c to 9c.

Lambs recovered part of Monday's decline, selling in yesterday's opening trade at 16c a pound for choice, with culls unchanged at 13c a pound. Sheep sold steady at 6½c a pound for best light ewes, and downward for 3c a pound for culls.

Price of hogs was unsettled up to 11 o'clock, with bids at 13c f.o.b., and 14¼c w.o.c. for select. Prospects are that a quarter higher will be paid in view of the light offering. Some sales Monday showed 14½c w.o.c for select.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, July 17—Wheat prices fluctuated within a range of over 10c yesterday, finally closing 5c higher for the day. An advance of 7c was marked up at the opening, but a flood of offerings by traders wishing to realize on their profits of the past few days sent prices scurrying 10½c below the high marks. The market came back 4c from the bottom levels to close with its ⅝c gain.

Dry weather continued over the West to-day with extremely high temperatures reported. Practically no rainfall was reported, and no moisture forecast.

Cash wheat trading was slow, due chiefly to the erratic market in the futures, and prices were generally ½c to 2c lower than Monday's close. Coarse grain trading was also inactive, trading consisting mostly of profit-taking. Oats and barley advanced about 1c, flax 3c, and rye dropped 2c to 3c below the previous close.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, July 17. — Trading on the local wholesale butter market yesterday continued approximately the same course of the past few sessions, with supplies just about equalling demand, and very little enthusiasm being displayed by buyers. The No. 1 creamery was quoted at from 37½ to 37¾ cents per pound, with the No. 2 grate at fro m36 to 36½ cents per pound.

The cheese market again displayed the utter lack of buying interest so well demonstrated during the past, and dealers stated that practically no supplies were being moved. Prices held unchanged at from 18½ to 19 cents per pound for the No. 1 large colored, paraffined and Government-graded cheese.

The local wholesale egg market was very dull yesterday, and prominent dealers stated that more receipts were arriving locally than could be moved comfortably. The demand for extras continued to be much larger than that for firsts, while the seconds were at a complete standstill. It was stated yesterday by local brokers that by next week some time the heat should cut down production to the point where there would be noticed a shortage of receipts sufficient to instil a little activity into the market and probably a change in the price ratio. Prices were unchanged, with dealers quoting country shippers for ungraded eggs, delivered and the cases returned as follows: Fresh extras, 28 cents per dozen; fresh firsts, 25 cents per dozen; fresh seconds, 21 cents per dozen.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL July 17.— A firmer tone prevailed on the butter market here yesterday. Eastern Townships No. 1 sold at 37½c per lb. Other prices were unchanged. Receipts were 59 boxes, compared with 23 boxes on the same day last week.

The cheese market continued quiet and prices unchanged. Receipts were 8,436 boxes, compared with 8,445 boxes on the same day last week.

Eggs prices were as follows: Fresh extras, 38c per dozen; fresh firsts, 32c to 33c per dozen, and 27c to 28c per dozen for fresh seconds. Receipts of eggs were 2,114 cases, compared with 3,062 cases for the same day last week.

Ontario new potatoes were being offered to the Montreal market at $2 per 90 lbs. f.o.b. Ontario points. Montral Island potatoes were offered at $2.25 per 80 lbs. Imported potatoes from the Southern States were unchanged.

Increasing receipts on the live poultry market gave an easier tone to today's activities.

Millfeed, which has been in heavy demand for the past few days on the local grain market, advanced $2 per ton here to-day on all three lines—bran, shorts and middling. No other price changes were reported.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 17—Enormous profit-taking sales pulled wheat values down time and again yesterday, and in the end smothered the buying side for at least the moment. Extraordinary power to rally was shown by the market, however, and at one stage new top-price records for the season were attained. Estimates of wheat crop losses in Canada were increasingly severe, the 1929 probable yield of the Prairie Provinces being unofficially put as low yesterday at 371,000,000 bushels, against 510,000,000 bushels last year.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at 1 cent to 1⅛ cents under Monday's finish. Corn closed ⅜ cent to ⅞ cent down; oats, ⅞c to 1⅛ off, and provisions varying from 2c to 5c decline to a rise of 10c.

Special attention was given by many traders to Canadian despatches from leading Chicago crop experts, one of whom telegraphed from Winnipeg after a 2,000-mile auto trip through Alberta and Saskatcheawn, that rain now can only maintain the present status of the Canadian crop, that recovery is out of the question, and that in the last three days the widening of the area of complete loss has been staggering. It was largely on the strength of this news and on word from other crop authorities reducing crop estimates, that price rallies to-day were chiefly based, and caused many traders to consider that in view of the heavy selling met with, yesterday's net declines were extremely small.

School Payments.

Expenses to teachers presiding at entrance examinations were $680.55. The Campbellford High School Board received $4,459.30 for Peterborough County pupils attending that school; Lakefield High School was paid $3,380.95 for the same service; Norwood High School, $3,763.19; Peterborough Collegiate Institute, $7,685.50; Lindsay Collegiate, $84.44, and Bobcaygeon School Board, $67.90.

Jail salaries, repairs and maintenance amounted to $5,231.22; printing, posting and advertising, $983.45; interest on the current account, $1,154.99.

In the county property account appears this item, "W. J. Green, garbage tax, 1928, $100.29."

Fuel, light, heat, etc., cost $2,249.15.

A Supply of Tobacco.

Tobacco for the House of Refuge cost $20.75 and was supplied by W. J. Byers & Son, and the light and power account with the Lakefield Hydro Commission was $450.48. House of Refuge salaries were $1,299; house and farm staff wages, $1,313.41; Board of Management remuneration, $147.

In the county road payments appears an item, $2,790.50 for a Sawyer-Massey tractor-grader.

Rebates to villages, 75 per cent. of county road rate; Lakefield, $899.98; Norwood, $551.89; Havelock, $469.90.

The personal services of the members of the Suburban Area Commission, Thomas Brown, William Brown and Harry Gainey, were recompensed to the amount of $841.45, and Ed. M. Elliott as clerk of this commission received an allowance of $300. The commission's taxi bill totalled $233, as follows: H. Dunsford, $154.50; H. Seabrook, $58.50; H. Stinson, $12; G. Halpin, $8.

The County Road Commission's taxi account was for $79, H. Stinson receiving $35 and H. Dunsford $44.

Court House additions cost $2,809.10, and provincial highways $50,923.53, of which the payment of $49,711.53 to the Department of Highways was the major item, which only in recent years has arisen to plague taxpayers.

Crown witnesses last year are represented by an expenditure of $207.70.

Taxi-Cabs Cost $680.

The county's total taxi-cab bill last year was in round numbers $680, for judges, various commissions and similar accomodation.

In the House of Refuge accounts are two entries, one showing that A. E. Higgins was paid $10 "for opening the grave for late John Moore," and Webster Bros. $37 for "burial of John Moore."

The burial of another John Moore has been immortalized in a poem every school boy learns and whose first verse or more he never forgets, "Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note, etc."; but the trite comment on these far and long separated interments shall be withheld.

DR. GEO. H. FIELD FOUND GUILTY

caused the revolver to be discharged," concluded Mr. Thompson.

George H. Coole saw Mrs. Field trying to get into her house before the shooting, he declared.

"Dr. Field, however, was holding the door on her. She struggled with him and then she, went away. She returned later and got in, but ran out again. Dr. Field came to the door to look for her. And then came out with a gun."

Mr. Thompson did not see Miss Earle hit.

"You say Mrs. Field struggled with the doctor?" Mr. Slaight said. "Could you tell me if he struck her or not?"

"Yes; I saw him hit her with the palm of his hand."

On the request of the crown Mr. Slaght agreed to admit the former testimony of Chief of Police Ruse, who is ill and unable to be in court today.

Chief Ruse had declared at the preliminary hearing that when he went to take Dr. Field's gun away the doctor had said in the presence of Mrs. Field, "I only want to scare her with this; you know I would not shoot her."

A Superficial Wound

Dr. Jamieson, to whose office Miss Earle was taken, said he exar ined her hip. He found that the bullet had not penetrated all the layers of the skin.

"How many times did you see this young lady?" asked Mr. McKay. "Four times, the last time today. I found that the wound had healed well. It will probably disappear in a short time, replied witness.

"From the nature of the wound could you say from which direction the bullet was fired?" "It was not a direct shot. I can say definitely that the bullet which hit Miss Earle was deflected, having hit some other object first."

Mr. Slaght then questioned Dr. Jamieson as to the nature of the injury sustained by Miss Earle and asked if he had observed her clothing the night he examined her. "I did," replied witness.

"Was her coat torn?" "There was a small hole where the bullet entered."

"Is that all?" "The dress was torn; of course she was wounded."

"There does not seem to have been much damage done, not enough to base a $1,600 damage suit on anyway," Mr. Slaght remarked.

At the conclusion of this testimony the crown rested the case and Mr. Slaght called Dr. M. D. Kinsella, Toronto, for the defence.

Dr. Kinsella testified that on June 13 he had operated on Dr. Field in Cobourg for a slight ailment of the hand. "I examined him again in Toronto on June 20," said Dr. Kinsella. "I found that his hands were badly bruised, his ankle also had sustained a recent injury, and his right thigh was hurt."

Character evidence for the accused was called by Mr. Slaght, Ex-Mayor W. W. Hooey said he knew Dr. Field all his life. "He has always enjoyed a good reputation," the ex-mayor declared. George T. Thompson, reeve, supported this evidence and was seconded by W. J. Maher.

Summing up the case for the defence, Mr. Slaght said he had not put his client in the witness box because of the fair way in which the crown had presented the case.

He asked the court to remember that a civil action would be brought by Miss Earle against the doctor.

OFFICER JAILED

men $30 each, but told them he could not pay over the money until the next night.

He agreed to meet them at the top of the Jolley Cut the following night and pay them. Meanwhile, he said, he notified the Hamilton police. The next night he drove with Detectives Chamberlain and Buckett to the top of the Jolley Cut, and there saw Hunt and Martinson waiting for him. He drove a little past the spot and the two officers got out. He then drove back to where Hunt and Martinson were and told them he was unable to get the $60, and then the two detectives approached and placed Hunt and Martinson under arrest.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Morrison, the witness admitted that he was the one who proposed the payment of money, and not Hunt or Martinson. The young woman and Detective Chamberlain and Detective Buckett gave evidence in support of the first witness.

Give Government Surplus.

"(2) That all surpluses both in weight and grades in public elevators should go to the Government of Canada to be used in connection with the enforcement of the Canadian Grain Act. (a) The surpluses were created partly by not cleaning out all the dockage called for by the inspection certificate and partly by trickling in screenings; (b) both these operations reduce the quality of the grain marketed and consequently in the end reduce the price to the producer.

"(3) Selection of different qualities of the same grade in the elevators is prohibited by Section 94 of the Act of 1912 and should be prohibited everywhere as its evil effects are the same wherever the cream of the grade is skimmed off. The present practice of allowing grain dealers to examine inspectors 'samples and select the cream of the wheat for their special clients is highly objectionable as giving great gain to the few and working a grave injustice to the many."

ENGLISH BOYS LEAVING FARMS

Have Same Farm Problems in Old Country as in Ontario.

NO EMIGRATION CHANGE

TORONTO, Ont., July 17.—(Canadian Press).—The problem of "keeping them down on the farm" affects British farms quite as much as it does the counties of Ontario, according to W. B. Roadhouse, Deputy-Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, who has just returned from a visit to Great Britain.

"Boys and men are drifting into the cities in large numbers. The problem is serious," stated Mr. Roadhouse. Asked if there was an increasing market for Ontario foodstuffs in Britain, Mr. Roadhouse said: "It can be safely said that Ontario's products are looked upon with high regard in the Old Land. The fluctuation of market conditions tends to prevent the even and uniform flow in quantities we would like to see and which is needed to maintain a steady market. Take Ontario, for example. It has a splendid reputation in the Motherland, and yet the prices go down and up, and it is made unprofitable for us to send bacon to that market. Very little bacon has been shipped this year."

A reversal of the Government attitude towards emigration to Canada is not expected, said Mr. Roadhouse, with the accession of the Labor party to power. Much would depend, he thought, on the report made by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas after his visit to Canada. In the meantime Ontario has agreements with the Overseas Settlement Board and the Empire Marketing Board, and there is no indication of change of the present policy in that regard, said Mr. Roadhouse.

Heavy Battery Work Goes For Nought As Leafs Lose International Loop Fixture

ORIOLES WIN AGAIN

Mamaux Wins His Thirteenth Victory When Bears Drop Buffalo Bisons 6-0

TORONTO, Ont., July 17.—(Canadian Press).—The Leafs did a lot of hitting down at the ball park, yesterday, but they did not follow Willie Keeler's advice, "hit 'em where they ain't." The Leafs' hitting was mostly straight-away hitting, straight at the Reading Fielders and they lost the ball game 3 to 1.

Ed. Holley, who pitched for the Keys, was both good and lucky. The Leafs cuffed him hard enough but line drives and swift travelling grounders off their bats went right at somebody. Those kind of hits do not count when the other fellows are playing a tight game in the field.

WINGS DROP 3RD STRAIGHT

ROCHESTER, N.Y., July 17. —(Canadian Press).—Rochester's losing streak mounted to three straight here yesterday as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Red Wings 4 to 0. Vic Keen hurled four-hit baseball and scattered his hits and six bases on balls so well that Rochester never appeared dangerous. The Birds scored two in the fourth on four straight hits and Lamotte's sacrifice fly, which started a triple play to close the inning.

BEARS BEAT BISONS

BUFFALO, July 17. — (Canadian Press). — The Newark Bears won their second straight over the Bisons by dipping them in the whitewash bucket here yesterday afternoon 6 to 0. Al Mamaux pitched masterful baseball to ring up his thirteenth victory of the year, allowing only eight hits. One was a gift when Conlan lost a fly ball in the sun.

HEAVY HITTING FEATURES WIN

League Leading Bethel Team Suffers Setback At Hands of Petherick's Corners

FINAL COUNT 14-7

PETHERICKS CORNERS, July 17. —(Examiner Correspondence).— The league-leading Bethel team encountered a snag here on Monday evening when they met the local softball aggregation in fighting trim, and dropped the game by a 14 to 7 score. Good pitching was the prime factor in Pethericks win. Kerr's curve ball was working perfectly and such sure batters as Gibson brothers, Dodwell and E. Broadworth fell via the strike out route repeatedly. M. Gibson failed to reach first base. W. Warren and G. Broadworth with four hits and two runs each in four trips were the only Bethel batters to do much against Kerr's offerings. Carlisle got three hits but failed to score. Playing on strange grounds. Bethel fielders were more erratic than usual but most of the Petherick's hits were well placed out of reach of fielders. G. Broadworth's pitching was no mystery to local batters, except Roy Fry who failed to hit safely, striking out twice, and H. Petherick, who secured only one hit. Grant Meiklejohn got two hits, one a smashing two bagger, but he counted at the plate on both of them.

G. Petherick, P. Kerr, Ted Owens and Don Watson each collected three safeties out of four with the two first named scoring twice, Owens once and while Watson failed to score he drove in a trio of counters. G. Kerr and Anderson were the only 1.000% batters, the former scoring twice and the latter four times.

A unique feature of the scoring list was that every one of the eighteen players batted four times with no one being up on the fifth occasion. G. Petherick pulled off a circus catch of a long fly to centre for the feature play of the night, while Grant Meiklejohn fielded his position well. First baseman H. Petherick was below form, having been out of practice lately but pulled off one splendid over-the-head catch of a fly in which he was ably assisted by R. Fry who supported him from the rear when he was in danger of over-balancing. Owens, behind the bat, was a tower of strength and gamely continued after taking a fast foul tip in the eye at the beginning of the game. This win puts Pethericks in a tie with Menie for second place and the winner of Friday night's encounter between these two teams stands a real chance of getting into the cup finals. On the home grounds, the local squad with a makeshift line-up almost beat Menie in the first game. What they will do in a foreign field is a different question. The fast young outfield is functioning smoothly and should Roy Barnum return to the feld he will be pressed into service in an infield position. Barnum's heavy batting has broken up many a game and his presence is sorely needed.

Friday Night Tilt

A record crowd is expected for the Friday evening game at Menie and with Kerr in his usual good form the locals have at least an even chance of taking down the decision. The standing of the league now is:

	Won	Lost	To play
Bethel	4	2	2
Pethericks	3	3	2
Menie	3	3	2
Hoards	3	4	1
Springbrook	2	3	3

Pethericks and Menie have each a game with Springbrook, while Bethel plays Springbrook and Hoards so that if fortune favours the tail enders there may be a glorious tie-up at the end of the regular schedule.

JERSEY CITY EVENS SERIES

Jack Hopkins Holds Royals To Four Hits For 3-2 Victory

ISSUES SEVEN PASSES

MONTREAL, Que., July 17 (Canadian Press). — Jack Hopkins pitched well in the pinches and Jersey City evened the series at one victory apiece by winning yesterday afternoon's game from the Montreal Royals, 3 to 2. Hopkins allowed but four hits, but he issued seven passes, and his benevolence got him into trouble several times. On three occasions the Royals had the tying run on the bags; but failed to deliver. Hopkins fanned five, three of them in the pinches. Five triples were hit during the afternoon, Ed. Kunesh, Black Cat centre fielder, getting two of them.

Roy Buckalew who took the mound with strained back muscles, had to hand over the job to Pomorski after pitching five innings, and the young Polish right hander in turn gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh. Hartman finished, allowing no hits and no runs. A double and a triple, coupled with Fowler's error on a throw in from left field gave the Cats their two runs in the first, which proved their ultimate margin of victory.

ANOTHER STRETCHY ONE.

BOSTON, July 17. — It requires no imagination to stretch this story. It is both fishy and rubbery.

The Boston fish trade was confronted with a mystery when a mackerel was brought in at the Fish Pier with a rubber band encircling its body, just below the head.

There were many theories concerning how the band got around the fish. One solution, as reasonable as any other advanced, had it that the band was thrown or dropped overboard from some vessel, floated along on the surface until the mackerel, swimming along, pushed its head through the elastic until it was firmly fastened around the broadest part of the fish.

COGS TO MEET CRESCENTS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Bethany and Hastings Will Also Clash on Same Evening.

SCHEDULE DRAWN UP

Bethany is Here on Monday Evening to Meet Old Rivals.

Crescents and Cognawagas, who put over a pair of pretty contests in the first half of the East Peterborough League schedule will be back again at Exhibition Park next Friday evening in a life-and-death struggle for a place in the league playoffs. The teams broke even in their first brace of games, Crescents taking the first contest 2 to 0, and Cogs the second tilt by 3 to 1. Friday's important battle starts at 6.15 o'clock, and will be witnessed by a vast throng of fans.

Right on top of this contest will come equally important games which will bring the league-leading Bethany team here next Monday evening to meet the Cogs, and again on Friday evening to face the Crescents. Bethany's sensational spurt has been due to the effective pitching of Harold Ralph and the heavy hitting of his team mates—a combination that will give Cogs and Crescents a torrid session before the championship is decided.

Games to complete the second half of the schedule have been arranged as follows:—

Friday, July 19—Cogs at Crescents.
Friday, July 19—Bethany at Hastings.
Monday, July 22—Bethany at Cogs.
Thursday, July 24—Hastings at Cogs.
Friday, July 26—Bethany at Crescents.
Mon., July 29—Hastings at Bethany.
Wed., July 31—Crescents at Hastings.
Friday, Aug. 2—Crescents at Cogs.
Monday, Aug. 5—Cogs at Hastings.
Thurs, Aug. 8—Hastings at Crescents.

The league standing is:

Bethany	6	2	.750
Cognawagas	4	3	.571
Crescents	4	3	.571
Hastings	0	6	.000

MILITARY CAMP DAY OF SPORTS

Review of Troops, With Military Tattoo and Fireworks, Friday at Barriefield.

Everything is going along smoothly at the Barriefield Camp, where there are 2,200 men and officers of Military District No. 3 encamped. The Prince of Wales Dragoons of Peterborough, which moved in last Tuesday, were located in a section of the camp between the Princess Louise Dragoons of Ottawa and the Fourth Hussars of Prescott.

During the last few days the heat has been intense and has been felt greatly by the men under canvas there, but up to date there have been no casualties.

Friday will probably be the most interesting day in the whole camp. A big ceremonial parade of all the troops in the camp will take place on the main parade grounds at 9.30 a.m. (E.D.S.T.), when the parade will be reviewed by the Camp Commandant, and the whole body of troops will march past a saluting post for inspection.

During the afternoon a big sports program of track and field events, as well as mounted events by the mounted troops, will be staged, with many handsome trophies and valuable prizes to be competed for.

In the evening a big military tattoo is to be held on the parade grounds, with contests for regimental bands and Scottish pipers. Fireworks and other interesting events will help to round out one of the most spectacular days ever held at Barriefield.

In the softball tournament the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment is grouped with the Frontenac Regiment, Durham Regiment, and Northumberland Regiment.

Lt.-Col. H. W. Powell, O.C.; Lt.-Col. T. D. Johnson, Quartermaster; Major E. H. Wood, Medical Officer; Major Rogers, Veterinary Officer; Major C. Stuart, Squadron Commander, C Squadron; Major M. Sloane. Commander B Squadron; Captain J. D. Paterson, Chaplain; Captain G. H. Cutmore, Paymaster; Captain H. G. Mason, Adjutant; Captain E. G. Johnson, Commander A Squadron; Captain F. Stinson, Lt. E. Sheehy, Lt. A. McNabb, Lt. J. D. Fanning, Lt. Payne, Lt. Dawson. Captain E. Plunkett, Captain Wilson

ANOTHER GERMAN MARATHONER

Although the famous Wrigley Marathon is not to take place for another two months, swimmers from all over the world are coming to Toronto and beginning their training grind.

One of the most interesting of the new arrivals is Adolf Dorr, formerly of Coblenz, Germany, and more recently of Hollywood, Los Angeles, Eureka and Vancouver. He is a mild mannered aesthetic appearing man and reminds one more of a piano virtuoso than a marathon swimmer. He wears golf breeches and his shirt is open at the front, and as the saying goes, he grows his own Stetson. He says that he has navigated some 25 miles of the river Rhine, and expects to be in the fight for the 50,000 berries.

FAMOUS CAPTAIN LAUNCHES SLOOP

Narrow Escapes and Crossing Ocean in Tiny Craft All Figure in Life.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 17. — The launching of Captain Howard Blackburn's new sloop Cruising Club was an event of much interest here. The craft was built by Marion Cooney, and is 30 feet long, 9 feet beam, and is 7 feet deep.

Captain Blackburn commands a prominent place in Gloucester's sea history. He once had a marvellous escape from death after being astray in a dory on the Grand Banks in mid-winter. He lost both his hands and feet as a result of exposure.

As the Cruising Club slipped from the blocks, Miss A. Kathleen Forbes, Captain Blackburn's niece, broke a bottle across her bow, reciting the ritual, "I wed thee to the sea." The launching went off without a mishap.

Captain Blackburn intends to cruise about the coast and perhaps farther this summer. He has made several voyages across the Atlantic alone in small boats.

VISITORS IN BARGAIN BILL.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., July 17 (Canadian Press).—Timely hitting twice proved the ruination of the Robins yesterday as the Cincinnati Reds walked off with both ends of a double header by 5 to 3 and 7 to 2. The double victory placed the Reds in a virtual tie with Boston for seventh place.

Vance lost the first game by permitting Cincinnati to reach him for two runs in the ninth after Brooklyn had tied with one in the eighth. Johnny Morrison ran into a stormy fifth inning to lose the nightcap.

HOLDS LOOP LEADERS.

BOSTON, Mass., July 17 (Canadian Press).—Bob Smith held the League-leading Pirates to four hits and the Braves defeated Pittsburgh 4 to 1 here yesterday. All the Braves' runs came with none out in the first on two walks and three hits.

SUN CURES CHILDREN.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., July 17. — (Canadian Press).—Nearly 100 children, from two to ten years of age, are being restored to health by sun treatment at the Children's Sanitarium, located on Lowell Island, at the entrance to Marblehead Harbor. The children are afflicted with various ailments and were sent to the island from the social service departments connected with Boston hospitals and the school for crippled children.

Miss Elsie Wulkop, formerly in charge of the House Social Service at the Massachusetts General Hospital, is superintendent of the island. Gladys Beardwood, R.N., is one of the nurses. In addition to the regular staff stationed on the island, there is a group of volunteer workers. These volunteers come from junior league branches throughout the country, exclusive private schools and prominent women's colleges.

C. W. Burr Is Speaker

At Trinity United church on Sunday the speaker at the morning service was C. W. Burr, representing the Ontario Prohibition Union, the pastor, Rev. G. W. Rivers, taking charge of the service. The usual anthem was replaced by a duet by Mrs. W. Hulin and Mrs. L. Ashley "I Need my Father's Care."

Mr. Burr spoke from the text "Even so, it is not the will of your Father that one of these little ones should perish. Mr. Burr spoke earnestly and will of the workk of the Ontario Prohibition Union and the urgent necessity of that work and of a general educational work along temperance lines among the young people of Ontario and of Canada.

At the evening service, Rev. F. Dickenson of West China, "Our Missionary" was a most interesting speaker. The question of Canadian churches today he says, seems to be "Is It Worth While?" He emphatically answers this, "It is well worth while". Incident after incident was given of how well worth while, and how rich the results of the missionary's work. Speaking of the hindrances and the set backs of the Boxer rising and the recent chaos, he says "These things turned out rather to the furtherance of the gospel." In speaking of the missionary evacuation of 1926-7-8, he abundantly vindicated this, giving incident and example from the persecution and boycotting of the foreign missionaries who, being, two thousand miles from the coast are as helpless and alone as any Robinson Crusoe on a desert Island. Incidentally his own modesty prevented the mention that he was one of the five missionaries who stayed (as Mr. Rivers mentioned afterwards) while his wife, Mrs. Dickenson heroically started home with five children, one of whom sickened and died in Japan, and another in Vancouver. Still another was ill in Winnipeg but she still cabled "Carry on". Mr. Dickenson's honest tribute is "She's a brick."

In closing he presented a strong personal appeal for more workers, and for a personal consecration to the work in China, from among the young people in Madoc.

Miss L. M. Ramsay, organist gave a beautiful vocal solo, "Keep Me Safe Within Thy Fold". The closing hymn "The Morning Light is Breaking," helped to bring home to his hearers the great fact that Christian missions are indeed worth while.

Winners Of Ontario Golf Title Following Difficult Test At Lakeview Club

CLOSE SCORES

TORONTO, Ont., July 17 (Canadian Press)—Dave Spittal, professional at the Royal York Golf Club when it opens in September, succeeded Arthur Hulbert, Thornhill professional, as Ontario open golf champion after a contest yesterday on the difficult test of the Lakeview Golf and Country Club, which terminated with the last pairings hurrying along the eighteenth fairway to a moonlit green.

After the first round Spittal was in a tie for third place with a score of 76. Kay, Lambton; Lou Cumming, Toronto Women's Club; Gordon Brydson, Toronto Golf; Lex Robson, Weston; Jack Littler, Scarboro; Willie Spittal, Oakdale; Don Carrick, Scarboro, and George Boeckh, York Downs, all had returned cards of 76 or lower and were regarded as contenders along with several others who were 4 strokes behind Kay, the leader, with scores of 78. Returning from his afternoon round during which he putted with deadly results, Spittal equalled the course record with a 72 to give him an aggregate of 148 and the championship, probably the most important event of the season in Eastern Canada, with the exception of the Canadian open, to be held next week on the Kanawaki course, Montreal.

CATS WINNERS BY THREE RUNS

DING DONG AFFAIR

After getting away to a bad start the Bridgenorth Wildcats finally tightened up to win last night's softball fixture to the tune of 11-8 from the Teco Store, at the Central School grounds.

Eaton's Men presented a changed line up in the game which was much more effective than the order they had in Monday night's game. For the first five innings they led the Cats 7-5 when the break came and the Northerners in the sixth scored three runs to put them one counter in the lead.

The game was a ding dong affair and kept the spectators on their toes until the last man in the ninth frame was out as it was anyone's game until the final decision.

The Teco aggregation blew up in the sixth when Carruthers walked Weese who went to second on an overthrow and scored when Gillespie chalked up a clean triple, to score on White's error in centre field on Galbraith's fly who was brought in by Bradshaw's single to break the tie and put the Bridgenorth team one in front, with the score standing 8-7.

After this it was the Cats game as the Teco men failed to recover after the break and scored only one run in the remaining frames when White's drive went for a triple after Jopling fumbled it and scored on Dormer's error of Carruther's fly. The team from the Floating Bridge Metropolis added three more counters to their credit before the final decision to make the score eleven to eight for them.

Gillespie in centre field for the Wildcats was credited with his usual good playing and H. Dormer at first covered up most of the bunts like a tent, even if the fans did try to razz him for playing in too close to the plate but Weese covered up the initial sack and the combination worked nicely.

Haskell played his first game of the season appearing on the diamond as the Teco catcher and made a world of difference to the team, but he had a great deal of help as Carruthers' offerings were difficult to trap at times being fast and often wide and high.

Line ups:

Teco—Jones, lf; Crary, 2b; Westbrooke, ss; Frick, 1b; Board, 3b; Haskell,c; White, cf; Stanley, rf; Carruthers, p.

Bridgenorth—G. Dormer, ss; H. Dormer, 1b; Galbraith, lf; Weese, 2b; Gillespie, cf; Bradshaw, 3b; Connors, c; Jopling, rf; Forsythe, p.

AT THE CAPITOL

"Old Home Week" and Memorial Unveiling pictures at the Capitol tomorrow. William Haines in "The Duke Steps Out" a wonderful full length comedy "The Lion's Roar" and another all talkie short subject.

The program that will be presented at the Capitol for the last three days of this week commencing tomorrow, will be a wow! so be on hand early. Moving pictures of the Old Home Week parade, and the unveiling of the memorial will be shown. Many well known citizens appear in this picture, perhaps you are in it yourself. The comedy, is a full length one, and the writer had the pleasure of seeing it in Toronto, and can assure you that it is by far the best All Talkie comedy seen here yet. It is called "The Lion's Roar". It is novel, original and entertaining.

"The Duke Steps Out"

Outstanding figures in several outstanding film plays appear with William Haines in his newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature "The Duke Steps Out,' a dialogue picture.

James Cruze, famous director of "The Covered Wagon," and who also directed Haines in "Excess Baggage" and "A Man's Man," handled the megaphone on the new production. Joan Crawford, who last appeared with Haines in "West Point," and who recently scored a sensational success in "Our Dancing Daughters," plays the heroine.

Karl Dane, of "Big Parade" and "Rookies," plays the giant figure trainer in the picture, and Tenen Holtz, famous for his work in "The Trail of '98," "Frisco Sally Levy,' and others, the manager of the pugilist hero. Eddie Nugent, also of "Dancing Daughters" fame, Jack Roper, famous heavyweight championship contender, and Luke Cosgrave, celebrated character comedian, are others in the cast, which also includes Delmer Daves and Herbert Prior.

The new picture is a filmization of Lucian Cary's Saturday Evening Post story. Haines plays the prize fighter who goes to college to please his sweetheart and thereby plunges into all kinds of trouble, for she doesn't know of his professional identity and he has to keep it a secret, even while he prepares for a championship bout. Miss Crawford is the sweetheart in question and their love story is laid in a background of thrills, laughs and a sensational prize fight in which Haines and Jack Roper stage a really professional battle in the ring.

JAMBOREE RETAINS ARDIEL CUP.

The Open Sailing Event for the Lorne Ardiel Trophy was held on a three mile triangular course at South Beach, Clear Lake, on Saturday. Seven entries contested for the Challenge Cup.

The breeze was spotty and just sufficient to call for the utmost ability and talent of each skipper.

"Jamboree," sailed by Doug. Hall and Bruce Fraser, successfully defended the trophy, although in the last heat they were out-manoeuvred by Reg. Bloomfield, a veteran of the Kawartha Lakes and, in fact, probably the outstanding canoeist of the continent. He brought his sloop, "The Ace," home first, but owing to finishing sixth in the first heat, he lost by a narrow margin of points to "Jamboree."

Others in the race were: "Sunbeam," sailed by R. and F. H. Brewin, of Toronto; "Skidley," by G. and J. H. Matthews of Peterborough; "June Bug," by Robert Ardiel, of Oshawa; "Calypso," by D. B. and S. Morris of Clear Lake, and "Chi Spa," by Terry Hall.

This trophy will again be defended on the afternoon of August 10, when it is expected that the field will consist of probably double the entries.

Sea Flea Races will again feature the program at South Beach this Saturday. The Class "C" power boats and the open class race in three heats, will be held for the "Brule" trophy and the "Kawartha" trophy respectively.

TIDY BATTLE HERE TO-NIGHT.

If the Rays win this evening from Oshawa Arabs, they will be tied with Port Hope for the first place in the Lakeshore Loop, and if defeated, they will drop back into a tie for second place with Oshawa. Manager Primeau will have his complete staff on hand to pull out a victory this evening, and the game should be a smacking affair.

RETURN GAMES IN SOCCER FINALS.

Local soccer fans will be interested to know that one game in the Connaught play-offs will be staged at Oshawa. The Motor City Nationals raised Cain when it was reported that they would have to play both games of the Dominion series against the Quebec champions in Montreal, if they could not raise a big guarantee. The citizens of Oshawa arose in arms, and the Mayor was one of the strongest objectors to the D.F.A.'s arrangement. After considerable hot words over the long distance phone, and burning of telegraph wires, it was announced that the Nationals will play in Montreal this Saturday, and at Oshawa on Monday, July 22.

BLUE LARKSBUR GOING STRONG.

Blue Larkspur is not going to rest on the 3-year-old championship honors which he took down when he won the American classic out of the $80,000 race without a bruise or a cut, the Bradley stable chiefs began to talk of a campaign that will carry the swift and plucky son of Black Servant-Blossom Time to the all-age turf crown of the year, the titled which Reigh Count galloped away with last season.

This horse already ranks among the first four largest purse winners in the history of the American turf, and promises to overhaul Man-o'-War as a money winner.

WHAT OF N. Y. AMERICANS WITH GORMAN GONE?

Strange as it may seem, Thomas P. Gorman, stormy petrel of many a hockey battle, has no regrets as he passes out of the National League. Mr. Gorman had unusual success, and the six-man defensive system, with which he was always allied, was something he never ignored, side-tracked or condemned. In fact last season New York and Boston critics had many cutting remarks to make at the expense of the Americans and their leader, but Gorman paid not the slightest bit of attention. The Americans, much to the confusion of Hub City fans, whipped the Bruins in three out of four starts, and held them even once. With Gorman confining his attention to the sport of kings, the Americans have to proceed under other leadership,and it may be that it will be decreed that the team abandon the safety-first defensive system. Thus criticism of one kind would be silenced, but the reverses that might follow would cause no wild acclaim of joy in Manhattan. Most people love a winner, and Mr. Gorman knew it. The fact of the matter is that the Americans have few players capable of opening up the game. In Roy Worters they have the greatest goal-keeper in the world; the defense, with Lionel Conacher as the star, is powerful, and Billy Burch and Norman Himes are clever front-line performers. The rest fit in well in the six-man defensive system, but mightn't do so well under other conditions.—Toronto Globe.

PICTORIAL GOLF

HANDS MUST BE THE HUB OF THE SWING TO GET DISTANCE

Short drivers will continue to be short as long as they permit the hands to move along with the clubhead. No power can be put into the shot this way and there is additional danger of slicing or pushing the ball right off to the right.

We must hit from a certain centre and care must be taken to keep the body back. If this is done the hands will not be inclined to force their way through, thereby spoiling the extra punch derived from the wrists. The hands appear to stop with the right hand pushing forward and the left hand pushing backward thereby hitting from this center or what we know as the hub of the swing. This is more satisfactory than if we attempted to use the left shoulder as the hub. Some do this but it only where they have an exceptionally long arc to their swing and understand hitting.

BELLEVILLE TEAM HERE ON SATURDAY

Moose Juveniles Will Hook Up With Bay Of Quinte Town Juniors

The Moose Juveniles under the careful managing of D. Hunt have become a smooth-working baseball machine and are all set for their battle with the Belleville Moose Juniors at the Exhibition grounds next Saturday afternoon.

This team has had a rather easy time winning local juvenile honors due to their superiority over the Canucks who dropped out of the league after absorbing three defeats.

There has been no let-up on their training, however, and strenuous practises twice a week with a few exhibition games has kept them in first-class condition, so that their manager feels that they can give the older and more experienced juniors a stiff battle..

HEADLINERS IN INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

At left, Joe Rabbitt, champion "base stealer" of the International league, indulging in his favorite specialty, and at right, Warren Cote, shortstopper de luxe and pinch hitter extraordinary, nursing an armful of bats. He can't use 'em all at once, but the Baltimore and Newark boxmen must have thought something like that judging from his success against them, especially when hits meant runs.

HEALTH CONDITIONS REPORTED GOOD AT BARRIEFIELD CAMP

135 Peterborough Men Are In Training at Big Camp.

BANDSMEN KEPT BUSY

Exceedingly satisfactory health conditions prevail at the military camp at Barriefield where two Peterborough contingents, the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons and No. 3 Company, 4th Machine Gun Corps, with a total of one hundred and thirty-five men, including officers, are under canvas. With approximately 2,200 men in camp, an exceedingly small number are requiring medical attention of any kind, while the number of patients detained for treatment in the camp hospital is only twenty-three, or almost one per cent. This fact is evidence of the care taken in examining the personnel of units before training commences and arranging the sanitary details of the camp. The sick list as published on Monday included none of the Peterborough men.

The camp is well stocked with medical officers and it is interesting to note that while the camp medical officer, Major G. G. Greer, M.C., R.C.A.M.C., has a wide experience in the administration of medical units, there is in camp an eminent surgeon in the person of Lt.-Colonel Austin; an eminent specialist in eye, ear, nose and throat, in the person of Major Courtney, of Ottawa; in addition to several well-known general practitioners who are of high standing in their profession.

In addition to administering the hospital, taking sick parade, performing minor operations and performing his duties as commanding officer of No. 1 Field Ambulance, Colonel Austin, under the supervision of the camp medical officer, is conducting courses for all the personnel of the C.A.M.C. in camp, including the members of No. 23 and No. 1 Field Ambulances.

Sanitary Arrangements Excellent.

The health of the troops depends to a very great extent on the maintenance of a high standard of sanitary arrangements, and Captain Bruce H. Hopkins, C.A.M.C., the camp sanitary officer, has complete charge of such matters.

Captain Hopkins makes a very thorough inspection of the whole camp area daily, in addition to which the purity of the water supply comes under supervision. The water is tested daily, and Captain Hopkins states that the supply is "excellent; absolutely A-1," adding that the quality of the water pumped from the wells in the camp is far superior to that supplied for use in the city of Kingston.

Machine Gunners Training.

The 4th Battalion, C.M.G.C., commenced its syllabus of training in camp on Monday morning. This unit has a total strength under canvas of over a hundred, all ranks, the battalion being commanded by Lt.-Colonel James Harris.

Engineers At Practical Work.

The Central Engineer Camp School in the R.M.C. grounds, of which Major H. L. Sherwood, R.C.E., is commandant, has commenced practical work.

On Thursday the officers and non-commissioned officers in attendance at this school, together with the personnel of No. 3 Field Company, Canadian Engineers, who are under canvas in the main camp, carried out trestle-bridge building under the instruction of Major Shergold, R.C.E., while on Friday pontoon bridge building was carried out in Navy Bay.

Bandsmen Kept Busy.

There are already six bands in camp. The bands already under canvas are the Pipe Bands of the Lanark and Renfrew Scottish Regiment, and the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, with the brass and wood-wind bands of the Northumberland Regiment, the Grenville Regiment, the Frontenac Regiment and the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

In addition to practising daily during parade hours, the members of all the bands are instructed in stretcher-bearing and first aid, while each band must take its turn as "Duty Band," playing a program during the day's tour of duty at camp headquarters in the evening.

Many of the bands have attained a high state of proficiency and the competitions to be held in connection with the military tattoo this week are bound to be keenly contested.

TENNIS

TORONTO CRICKET CLUB, Toronto, July 17.—(Canadian Press).—To-day's play in the Ontario Tennis Championships will bring the men's singles down to the eights and the women's singles down to semi-finals. Excellent weather conditions such as have prevailed since the tournament opened Monday prevailed when the first fixture match, between Mrs. E. F. Cole of Toronto and Mrs. F. V. The two Halifaxonians also are in the fight for the women's doubles. Miss Currie and Mrs. Woodbury, holders of the Southern Ontario title, have drawn against the Misses Burnett of Toronto to decide the eighth place in the eights.

Retain Lead In Central Ontario Loop Despite 7-2 Defeat

MISERABLE BALL

BELLEVILLE, July 17.—Playing miserable ball in every department of the game the Belleville Nationals lost yesterday's game in the Central league to Oshawa by a score of 7-2. The locals, however, retain a substantial lead, having won nine games and lost three. Errors in the field and poor base running cost the Nationals the game with the Motors, although after spotting the visitors an early lead they proceeded to treat the fans to a better brand of ball.

Manager Walter Gerow started Tommy Painter, a comparative youngster on the mound but he was blasted off the hillock and Ab Young a product of the junior ranks completed the pastime. Painter sought the showers with the score 6-1 against the Nationals. Young limited the Motors to one run during the balance of the pastime and it the result of an error.

BAD INNINGS DURING NEWARK-LEAF TILT

Paul Zahniser, the new [illegible] pitcher, had one bad inning during the game which the Leafs won 6 to 1 from Newark. It was the fourth when West led off with a hit and Lutzke and Malone followed with a similar kind. The first-named player scored on the latter's drive to left, but Lutzke was thrown out at third trying to advance and was nipped by Stone's good throw to Richardson. The above snap shows Richardson tagging the runner in a cloud of dust with the umpire in the background and Manager Tris Speaker coaching at third base. As Skiff singled later in the session, it can be seen that the play had an important bearing on the contest.

FINGER PRINTS TO TEST WORKS OF OLD MASTERS

Instrument Is Invented That Will Reveal Identity of Pictures in Dispute.

RESEMBLES MICROSCOPE.

Sign of Decay Can Also Be Easily Detected By Recent Invention.

ROME. — (By the Canadian Press) —The disputes which frequently arise about the authenticity of old masters are likely to be eliminated if the new method of identification invented by Dr. Perez, the Argentine Ambassador to the Quirinal proves successful.

Dr. Perez, who is a collector of fourteenth and fifteenth century Italian paintings, recently identified a Bastiani picture that had disappeared from the Church of San Salvador in Venice some two centuries ago. It was up for sale in an antiquary's shop in Vienna and has now been bought by the City of Venice and restored to its original place. By means of a "pinaprints on the pictur fh,eunottetdyah prints on the picture, found that they corresponded with those on other of Bastiani's works, and was able to identify the old master beyond dispute. It is of course known, that oil paint is often spread over the cloth by pressure from the artist's thumb or palm. Titian frequently used this method, and his finger prints are some times recognizable with the naked eye. Dr. Perez's instrument resembles a microscope and is specially adapted for the discovery of finger prints on colored surfaces. He has also constructed a powerful radiating light, which when brought to bear on the surface under the pinascope, reveals the smallest mark or defect in the painting.

The object of this "scientific pinacology," as it is called here, is to make a trustworthy collection of the finger-prints of great painters for reference in cases where authenticity is questionable. By this means it should be possible to produce a useful guide to collectors and reduce the number of fraudulent imitations which are sold from time to time in the various picture markets of the world.

Instruments invented by Dr. Perez have also been useful in detecting signs of decay in old paintings which if remedied in time can be prevented from spreading and causing the almost total disfiguration found in some of the finest of the old masters. According to his method it is possible to detect small pimples in the cloth which are familiar to the naked eye a long while after they have burst, and cover the surface with hundreds of small cracks. By detecting such defects in time a special varnish can be applied for the preservation of the picture in its original state. It will be interesting to see how far these methods will meet with success and be useful for the identification and preservation of oil paintings.

TOPSY-TURVY TOWN

LONDON, July 17.—Porlock is topsy turvy land no longer, for the Ministry of Health has made the two halves of the city a whole. It used to be, however, that: The water cart was allowed to water only one side of the street; police needed a tape to measure which side of the village the prisoner was in; taxes varied; and one half of the village was wet and the other dry.

A total of 576 films was shown in Finland in 1928. Of this number the United States supplied 364.

SCOTCH CLANS CELEBRATE.

BOSTON, July 17 (Canadian Press.—The annual memorial service of the Grand Clan of Massachusetts, Order of Scottish Clans, included a street parade and impressive services at the First Presbyterian Church.

The parade of Scottish clans, ladies' auxiliaries, women's Scotch societies, allied junior organization and representatives of the Daughters of Scotch Lodges, formed at Copley Square and marched to the church.

Clan MacPherson bagpipe band of Lawrence and Grand Piper George B. Smith's pipe band of Boston led the line of march. The societies filled the church. The memorial address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Robert Watson. Dr. George A. Johnson read the roll of departed members of the Order, Mrs. Ina M. Bell, grand president of the ladies' auxiliaries, read the roll of the departed auxiliary members, and Mrs. Matilda Drysdale, grand financial secretary of the Daughters of Scotia, read the memorial list for that organization.

The service marked the close of the 31st annual convention of the Ladies' Auxiliaries of Scottish Clans.

While this deal is not played at No Trumps, the play of the hand follows the general plan of No Trump play rather than suit trump play, a feature to be noted in connection with many four card suit bids of this type.

Salient Points of Bidding

Auction Bidding: South's distribution, his high card strength in two suits, and his protection in a third suit suffice for an original one No Trump but as his unprotected suit is of but two cards, his preferable procedure is to start with a suit bid, one Diamond.

West holds an ideal negative double— a 4-4-3-2 distribution, high card values in three suits of which the two Majors are of four cards each, and but two small cards of the suit adversely bid.

North passing, East responds to partner's double with his four card Major suit, Hearts, which concludes the bidding at Auction.

Contract Bidding: A second round of bidding is necessary at Contract in order for East and West to feel out what probabilities they hold for a game bid. West's double was, of course, an attempt to fit the two hands at the best Major suit for game, if possible, and while East's response of one Heart is wholly satisfactory West should not go to a game contract not knowing what strength, if any East may hold beyond four or more cards of the Heart suit. West, therefore, bids three Hearts to show strong Heart support for a possibly weak four-card response by East and to ask East whether, under such condftions, his holding includes sufficient side strength to warrant a further bid.

East, now assured of strong support in the Heart suit, and realizing that had West held the Spade Ace and Club King he would undoubtedly have bid four Hearts himself, makes the game bid.

The Play

South leads initially the King of Diamonds and continues with the Diamond 10 which North overtakes with the Ace. North returns the Club 2 which South ducks, Dummy's Queen winning the trick.

Declarer now plays a small Spade from Dummy up to his Ace, returns a Diamond for a ruff in Dummy with the Heart 5, and plays three rounds of Spades, discarding the Club 7 from his own hand on the third round and trumping the fourth. He next leads a Diamond which he trumps with Dummy's Heart Queen and follows with two rounds of trumps, giving up the twelfth trick to South's Club Ace, and winning the thirteenth trick with the high trump in his own hand. So played, East loses but one Club and two Diamond tricks.

Famous Chinese Statesman Coming Here at Chautauqua

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh Will Be Heard in His Notable Lecture "Awakening China"

The blood of China's ancient aristocracy and the spirit of modern democracy mingle in the person of Dr. Teyhi Hsieh, noted Chinese diplomat and statesman, who will deliver his stimulating lecture "Awakening China" at the coming Canadian Chautauqua here.

That Canadians may gain a truer view of China and her problems is Doctor Hsieh's mission in coming to the Dominion—and China could not have found an emissary better suited for the task. Doctor Hsieh is a brilliant orator, a master of the English language and a keen student of international affairs. It has been said of him that he is the national interpreter of Chinese aspirations, philosophy and hopes.

DR. TEHYI HSIEH

An editorial in the Toronto Globe speaks of Doctor Hsieh as follows:

"One of the most cultured as well as wittiest visitors Toronto has had in many a day is Dr. Tehyi Hsieh of China, guest of Board of Trade. Doctor Hsieh, in addition to much Oriental lore, knows the Occident better than most of us. He is a graduate of Cambridge and has had wide diplomatic experience on both sides of the Atlantic. He is typical of Young China, which now is rapidly taking over all that rightly belongs to China from the enfeebled hands of the Old Regime. We all might learn a good deal from this brilliant representative of China."

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, whose lecture "Awakening China," is making him famous, will give this lecture on the Chautauqua program in Peterborough.

BUS BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

New Sight-Seeing Vehicle Proves Popular In City

TAKE KIDDIES TO PARK

Things seem to be progressing at the headquarters of the Border Cities Transport terminal in the city of Peterborough from the reports given by the manager, L. Mitchell.

The new sight-seeing bus that arrived last Friday apparently is an innovation in the bus line that will prove popular in the city. Each morning it tours the city streets and picks up the kiddies for Jackson Park, while it is also chartered for special trips and excursions.

This new vehicle has the carrying capacity for thirty-six passengers and is the open type. In times of chilly or rainy weather it can be made quite comfortable by means of snugly fitting side curtains and a heater.

As far as business is concerned in the city it is as good as any previous summer, while during Old Home Week it was exceptionally good, and the management is now looking forward to Exhibition week to increase the number of passengers carried.

New Route.

Paving operations on Park street in the past week has necessitated the re-routing of the bus, and it is expected that this will be in force as long as the street is torn up. The route now followed is down Rubidge to Albert to Chamberlain, and then over Romaine to Monaghan road, returning over the same route.

As all the Peterborough busses are on Godfredson chassis, they can now be serviced to a greater advantage since the Peterborough branch of the Border Cities Transit lines have taken over the agency and service for this line of trucks and busses, and so far have been successful in making several sales.

YOUNG PEOPLE PLAN EXCURSION

Trip Will Be Made From Cobourg to Port Dalhousie and Niagara Falls.

JOLLY OUTING

On Friday, July 19, 1929, the Young People's Department of the Bay of Quinte Conference, United Church of Canada, will run their second annual excursion from Cobourg to Port Dalousie and Niagara Falls.

They have again secured one of the largest passenger steamers on the Great Lakes, S. S. "Dalhousie City" will leave Cobourg docks at 9 a.m. for a 5½ hour sail to Port Dalhousie. All excursionists have the option of remaining at Lakeside Park Canada's favorite playground, or taking the electric train for Niagara Falls. Excursionists will have at least 3 hours at the Falls and may return to Dalhousie by the same train to board boat and leave for Cobourg at 6 p.m.

This is an unsurpassed way of having a real jolly time, as there is plenty of fun, games and sports both aboard boat and at the Park and Falls.

Owing to the large attendance last year officials have been able to reduce the fares which are as follows:

Cobourg to Port Dalhousie, adults $2.30.

Cobourg to Port Dalhousie, children $1.15.

Cobourg to Niagara Falls, adults $3.00.

Cobourg to Niagara Falls, children, (under 12) $1.50.

Transportation from Peterborough to Cobourg is being looked after and anyone needing such transportation is asked to communicate with E. A. Forbes, 485 Mark street, telephone 1382M. If Mr. Forbes is not available when calling kindly leave your phone number or street address and he will be glad to call and give you all necessary information and tickets.

Don't let this opportunity pass by. Never yet has such a grand and glorious trip been run for so cheap fares. Imagine—all the way from Peterborough to Niagara Falls and return for little more than four dollars.

Driving EASE and Riding Comfort

THE Ford car has established new principles in motoring comfort, proving that a light car of convenient wheel base can be made to ride with the same effortless, smooth ease as any of its weightier and more expensive road companions. The unique combination of transverse springs with an Houdaille shock absorber to each wheel, is one of the secrets of this remarkable performance—added to perfect balance and a body and chassis joined like one piece. This accounts for the tendency of the Ford car to hug the road at all speeds.

Model "T" Owners

So that you may continue to enjoy the advantages of Ford ownership coupled with new standards of quality and performance unequalled in the light car field, Ford Dealers are prepared to take in your Model "T" Ford Car at a fair market value. Drive in your Model "T" to be appraised and ask for a demonstration drive in the Ford Model "A".

4 Houdaille Shock Absorbers

Houdaille Hydraulic Shock Absorbers four to every Ford car, absorb both the upward and downward thrust of the shock through slowing the spring action by means of a heavy glycerine solution, which is forced through a small valve from one compartment to another. They offer resistance to the blow when and as required.

Peculiarly restful driving is a direct result of this riding comfort. The feather-light steering wheel, that is rock-firm in the hand under any road conditions, gives the driver perfect control. Gears shift with silent precision and the change down from high to second, so often of use in traffic emergency, may be effected in one smooth motion.

Another unusual advantage offered by the Ford car is its turning ability. It is a narrow street indeed in which the Ford car will not turn completely without backing. Think what this means in city parking. A space little longer than the car itself may be used without tiresome manoeuvering.

Demonstration—Ask your Ford dealer to let you drive a Ford car. He will be glad to take you out. Select the steepest hills, the heaviest going—you will be amazed at the power at your command.

A demonstration will convince you of the outstanding merit of the Ford car. Also request your Ford dealer to show you the hidden inbuilt quality features of the car.

Time Payment—If you prefer to buy out of income, you will find the authorized time payment plan offered by all Ford dealers most attractive.

DR. ARTHUR ELECTED AFTER TWO APPEALS

Independent Conservative Has Hard Time Showing His Majority

REGINA, Sask., July 17.—(Canadian Press).—Dr. A. W. Arthur, Independent Conservative, is member-elect for the provincial constituency of Cunnington.

He was awarded the seat Monday night by Mr. Justice Q. E. Knowles of the Court of King's Bench, following an appeal made by Dr. Arthur against the verdict of District Court Judge Rimmer in a recount.

On the official count made subsequent to the general election of June 6, the returning officer reported the vote as giving Dr. Arthur a majority of 25 votes over his Liberal opponent, A. C. Steele.

Mr. Steele appealed against this count, and on July 5 at Arcola a decision was handed down by Judge Rimmer, after a recount, awarding the seat to Mr. Steele, who was given a majority of one. In the appeal to-day Dr. Arthur's majority was increased to 26.

YOUNG GIRL MISSING.

GUELPH, Ont., July 17 (Canadian Press). — Provincial Police have been asked to aid in the search for Mary Maude, 14-year-old Burlington girl, who left the home of her aunt, Mrs. H. Maude, in Eramosa Township, a week ago for her home and has not been heard from since. She is described as being five feet five inches in height, of fair complexion, dark hair, and was wearing a grey coat and hat and blue dress.

City's Dog Population Celebrates "Dog Days"

That a large percentage of the city's dog population are "vagrants" and wander about at night destroying prided flower beds and yapping at the moon, was evidenced in Police Court this morning. Dog cases held the floor.

One hound, which has given Mark Pengilley, dog catcher, many hours of distracted toil, was completely disowned by two citizens, who had been hailed into Court for allowing their possession to wander and pillage The Court was up a stump until one of the men volunteered that he would lassoo the wily hound and deliver him into the hands of the law—namely, Mr. Pengilley. A week was allowed to successfully perform the dog's capture, and the man left the Court Room full of promises to begin the hunt immediately.

Several dogs in the south-end have also been disturbing the peace, and the continued visits of the dog catcher having failed to curb their activities the dogs' owners pleaded guilty "to allowing their dog to wander at large" and were fined a small amount, along with the expense of the Court.

WEDDING BELLS

MILBURN DARLING.
The marriage was solemnized quietly at Trinity parsonage on Tuesday by the Rev. D. Wren, of William Clement Milburn and Grace Gertrude Darling, both of Smith Township.
Attendants were Miss Evelyn Darling and Mr. Harry Fowler, also of Smith.
Mr. and Mrs. Milburn will live in Smith Township.

BURLEY—WAGAR.
A pretty house wedding took place to-day at high noon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wagar, 273 Park street north, when their eldest daughter, Mary Emma, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Archie Burley of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Burley of Deseronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. M. Wesley of Lakefield.
The house was decorated for the occasion with a profusion of lovely flowers, white bells and white streamers.
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dainty gown of white georgette, with white kid slippers and white silk hose. Her white tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace.
The bridesmaids were sisters of the bride, the Misses Vera and Elsa Wagar, gowned respectively in shell-pink and yellow georgette with large matching picture hats and bouquets of roses.
Mr. Russell Card of Cavan, acted as best man.
After the ceremony, a dainty buffet luncheon was served to the wedding guests.
Mr. Burley and his bride left later by motor for a trip to Niagara Falls, New Hampshire and Boston, the bride travelling in a blue frock and yellow hat. On their return they will live in Belleville.

Swarm Of Bees Alights Near Bank Of Nova Scotia

A new airway was developed in the city this morning. A swarm of bees, growing weary of their surroundings, launched into flight. They eddied high above the Otonabee, a living black cloud, making a non-stop flight from East City to the rear of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Here on a post they alighted and swarmed with a humming roar. Later they again took to flight over the tall buildings and were lost to sight.

These bees belonged to George C. Weidenmayer, 236 Burnham street, and they must have become disgusted with the fare offered by this noted bee-keeper, for three times he hived them this morning, when they angrily swarmed. Their owner, when informed that his bees had made their way across the river, said that any further attempts to stop their wanderings was useless.

These bees, an apiarist stated, would likely go to the woods and an there find a hollow log and begin to make their honey in the wild state.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

QUAKER MAN ON HIGH
A Quaker Man now adorns the water tower which is located at the top of the Quaker Oats factory. This huge sign is symbolic of the brand of the product that this cereal company produces.

WORK PROGRESSING
Workmen are busy on the site of the new Assembly Hall at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets, levelling off the ground preparatory to erecting the new building.

NEW SHOWER BATH
It is a problem these hot days how to keep the kiddies cool, and to prevent them from wandering to a swimming hole where there may be some danger. One Peterborough mother solved the problem by setting the hose going yesterday afternoon and putting the spray on so it made a nice shower of cooling water. Here she let her kiddies and all the kiddies in the neighborhood play under the water. They all seemed to be having a whale of a time as they played follow the leader through the sprinkler.

EVERY DOG HAS HIS DAY
Who says that dogs have not brains? One wise canine these warm days has sought and claimed a spot where he defies the heat to penetrate his shaggy fur. Daily when Old Sol is doing his utmost to make things uncomfortable for the inhabitants of dogdom, this wise animal crawls next to the Frigidaire and is lulled to sleep by the hum of the motor, staying there until the straight, severe rays of the sun have turned into slanting and harmless ones.

RIVER VIEW
Many local citizens have remarked on the view to the south of the Hunter street bridge from that lofty structure. The islands that dot the water in that vicinitiy, covered with trees whose limbs touch the water's edge, the green foliage contrasting with the color of the water, forms a picture that attracts favorable comment. One person said, it was too bad that the land could not be turned into a park—it would make a little Venice.

JUST ANOTHER TYPE
A very obnoxious type of motorist was observed on Water street yesterday. Pulling away from the curb between Hunter and Simcoe street he carelessly ran over the back wheel of a little boy's bicycle that happened to be leaning against the curb. Considerable damage was done to the bicycle but the driver failed to stop to rectify matters. He sped away from the scene so rapidly that it was impossible to get his license number.

A RARE EVENT
It is rare that Peterborough's main street is disturbed with runaway horses, due to the fact that few horses are to be found of late year, but one such event occurred yesterday. Frightened by a large piece of wrapping paper that was being blown around the street, a delivery horse bolted near the Simcoe street corner and for a time the safety of the pedestrians on George street was menaced before the horse was subdued.

GAY REMINDERS
Nothing remains to remind one of the big doings of Old Home Week but the occasional flag or streamer that has not yet been put away. Several of these are still to be seen on George and Charlotte streets, and some of the residences in the city still sport the gay decorations for the big week.

WOODEN POSTS REMOVED
The old wooden poles that have held their place on Hunter street between Aylmer and George for so many years are now giving way to more modern iron standards.

ONE FIRE CALL
At 1.37 p.m. yesterday afternoon the firemen had a run to 154 Edinburgh street, where there was a very small fire. No damage was done.

FRENCH PREMIER TAKEN ILL AFTER STRENUOUS EFFORTS

With Poincare In Bed Chamber Deputies Endorse His Policy

CONFIDENCE VOTE WINS

PARIS, July 17. (C.P.) — While Premier Poincare was confined to his bed to-day with exhaustion and extreme fatigue from his strenuous efforts on behalf of the debts accords with Great Britain and the United States, the French Chamber of Deputies gave him a second vote of confidence, 350 to 238.

The vote came on the resolution of the Socialist Deputy Blum seeking subordination of the Young plan's adoption to immediate evacuation of the Rhineland. The resolution was posed for a confidence vote by Vice-Premier Louis Barthou, who thus took another opportunity to emphasize the government's victories of yesterday.

While the vote was being taken it was noised around that the Premier's physician had found a slight feverish condition but said that he was not in the least gravely ill. He prescribed 24 hours complete rest and M. Barthou said that he expected M. Poincare back in the Chamber on Friday.

accomplished by three more Canadians, shot in the first stage of the King's prize to-day for the right to enter the second stage on Friday.

Shooting started at 600 yards. Here Lieut Desmond Burke, Ottawa, winner in 1924, again failed to pick up his best shooting form and scored 29 out of a possible 35. With almost a thousand marksmen competing for 300 places in the next stage, every point was valuable.

Three Shoot Well
The Canadian leaders at 600 yards were Private M. G. Collings of Esquimault, B.C., A. C. Wilkinson of the Royal Air Force of Camp Borden, Ont., and Sergt. Alexander Hilson of Hamilton, not a regular member of the Bisley team. Each scored 33.

Following with 32 were Lt.Col. R.M. Blair of Vancouver, Sgt. J. W. Sharpe of Montreal and Captain Alex. Martin, formerly of Vancouver.

With 31, Lieut. A. C. Carter, Toronto, Corp. J. H. Davison, Ottawa, Lieut. J. W. Holden, Sherbrooke, Private T. M. Norton, Hamilton, and Lieut. A. . Skinner, formerly of Fort William, were next.

Corp. S. M. Beckingham of Toronto, and Lieut. Burke and Sgt. H. Rusk of Ottawa trailed the Canadians with 29.

Winikinson was again a high Canadian scorer at the 500 yard distance repeating his former total of 33. This total was also scored by Sharp. Collins and Foam recorded 32; Davison, Fyfie and Rusk, 31; and Carter, 29.

Socrates started to learn music after he was 60 years old; Cato started in on Greek at 81; Plutarch, at 79, started in on Latin; Chaucer began his "Canterbury Tales" at 54, and Ben Johnson began the study of Dutch at 62. Maybe there's some hope for us middle-aged guys after all.

You can save a few cents by scouring the country for low-priced twine, but if the balls run a couple of hundred feet short you will never know what a poor bargain you made.

Waitress: "How do you wish your eggs cooked, sir?"
Patron: "Make any difference in the cost?"
Waitress: "No."
Patron: "Then cook 'em on top of a slice of ham."

The No. 8 Little Genius Tractor Plow is built in 2, 3, and 4-furrow sizes. The 2 and 3-furrow plows can be supplied with 10 or 12-inch bottoms.

The strength that is built into that McCormick - Deering Tractor Cultivator can be seen by looking at it and experienced by using it.

CHILD TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Albert Bethune Suffering From Fractured Skull As Result Of Accident

Albert Bethune, age 7, of 33 Cricket Place, has been taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, suffering from a fractured skull as the result of an accident that occurred some time ago.

The little lad was playing on the verandah of the house, jumping from the railing to the ground, when he slipped, fell and hit his head on the cement sidewalk. There was nothing serious thought to have resulted from the tumble, but two weeks later, after complaining during that time from a sore neck, headaches and being unable to sleep at night, it was discovered that his skull was injured and he was taken to the hospital.

He is resting comfortably at present, and the doctor claims that the case is not serious as long as an complication does not set in.

WHEAT SCORES EARLY GAINS ON GRAIN EXCHANGE

Markets Close Five Points Below New High For Day

LIVERPOOL WEAK

Crop In Western Canada Is Set At 300,000,000 Bushels

After a hectic day in the Chicago and Winnipeg markets wheat prices closed nearly 5 points below the high for the day and almost on a par with the low. Some little trading strength toward the end aided materially in firming the markets after the slump that occured earlier The markets closed on a slight upward trend.

At Winnipeg, December wheat closed at $1.60; July at $1.73 3-8, October at $1.64. On the Chicago market December wheat closed at $1.51 1-4; July at $1.41 1-2 and September at $1.45 3-4.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 18 (C.P.). —Another erratic price trend occurred on to-day's wheat market, values moving within a range of seven cents, opening 3⅜ cents to 4½ cents lower than yesterday's close, wheat shot up suddenly to score gains of 2⅜ in all months. Weak Liverpool cables caused the opening weakness but good buying which entered the pit after the first hour quickly turned the price trend upward.

The thirsty wheat crops in Western Canada were still without relief today and although temperatures were somewhat lower the very necessary rains had not arrived. The situation was considered serious.

A crop observer from the United States, now in Western Canada, estimated a maximum production of 300,000,000 bushels of wheat in the Prairie Provinces this year.

CHICAGO, Ills., July 18 (C.P.).—The grain markets took an unlooked for tumble at the opening to-day, wheat prices dropping from 1⅞ to 3⅞ cents a bushel, largely because of weakness at Liverpool. The decline was quickly made up, however, upon receipt of the day's increment of bad weather news from the northwest. Quotations fluctuated irregularly during the first hour.

By the end of the first hour wheat had come back six cents from the early low and was around two cents

BRITISH M.P.'S MAY STOP TIPS

Say Waiters In Restaurant Of Parliament Get $8 Per Week

FAR FROM ENOUGH

LONDON, July 18.— (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—A band of British M.P.'s has declared war on tips. Jack Mills, Labor member for Dartford, Kent, who originally hailed from Australia, is busily circulating a petition asking that waiters in the House of Commons restaurant be paid enough to make them independent of tips.

Questioning in Parliament reveals that all the Parliamentary restaurant waiters get is approximately $8 a week, with free meals. He has to provide his own uniform, but he "may accept gratuities."

"Is that a defensible wage to pay a man with a wife and family" questioned Ernest Thurtle, Labor Member for Shoreditch, in Parliament.

But the catering committee regrets it is unable to do anything. They have already reported a deficit of $2.000 on the operation of the restaurant. Either the members must pay more for their meals, or they must grant a definite subsidy from the public funds.

The Parliamentary restaurant has its own peculiar difficulties. If the house rises unexpectedly early, even the lure of Westminister is not enough to keep the members from hurrying home. And then there is a dead loss on many unbeaten dinners.

So Jack Mills still hurries around with his petition. He has secured many signatures, from members of all parties, and his progress is being followed with interests. Endeavors in other places to secure a tipless elysium have not been entirely blessed with success.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAVEL TRUCK

Vehicle Engaged In Hauling Gravel For Road Work At Campbellford

LOSS INSURED

CAMPBELLFORD, July 18.—(Examiner Staff Correspondence). — There is one truck minus on the county road gang this morning as the result of a fire yesterday afternoon. In the gravel pit where the county men are working, there stands a charred steel skeleton of a Ford gravel truck, practically a complete loss. The fire alarm was sounded about 1.15 and the brigade made its prompt response.

It appears that Arthur Braithwaite, Roseneath, driver of the truck had just filled the tank with gas and replenished his supply of oil before starting on his afternoon hauling. He left the truck for a few minutes after he had given it this attention, and upon his return, climbed into the cab and stepped on the starter. The rest happened in a hurry. The truck was a mass of flames, and before they could extinguish it, was practically a total loss. The truck was insured.

DOMINION DAY IS CELEBRATED IN THE ORIENT

Raise Canadian Flag Officially Over New Legation In Japan

FIRST PUBLIC AFFAIR

Sixty-Five Members Of Canadian Association Of Japan Attend

TOKIO, Japan, July 18 (By Percy Whiteing, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). — The celebration of Dominion Day in Tokio to-day was unique in several ways. Besides being the first observation in the Far East of Canada's national day, it was the first public function to be held at Canada's new legation here, the first public gathering of the newly organized Canadian Association of Japan, and, most inspiring of all, the Canadian flag was officially raised for the first time in the Orient.

The celebration, which was a purely Canadian affair, was conducted by the Canadian Association in the spacious grounds of the legation in the Shibuya suburb in co-operation with the Canadian Charge d'Affaires, Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside .

It was attended by some 65 members of the Association, men and women, and the Canadian Press correspondent and representatives of Tokia newspapers ,as well as a member of the staff of the British Embassy, who was present unofficially.

Favored by Weather.

The weather was splendid, despite the fact that it is just at the tail-end of the "Nyubai," or calendar rainy season, with the thunder - storms which traditionally marks its end. due to come at any time.

"It is with these hopes and in this spirit that our flag is raised to-day."

After introductory remarks by the President of the Association, Mr. A. E. Bryan, Dr. Keenleyside delivered a short but stirring address, in which he stressed the hope of the people of Canada that the flag flying over the Legation in Japan shall serve two great purposes: That it shall be the symbol of the friendship with the people of Japan that has no cause to regret the past and shall remain forever constant, and that the flag shall be to Canadians in the Orient a reminder of home.

As the Charge D'Affairs finished speaking, the flag, which had been donated by a Vancouver resident, was raised by Mrs. Richard Hubert.

As the flag reached the top of the flag-staff, on the upper balcony of the legation "O Canada" was sung followed immediately by the National Anthem. All present were deeply moved by the significance of the occasion.

Oldest Canadian Spoke

An address was then delivered by Dr. D. G. Mackenzie, the oldest Canadian resident in Japan; he has resided in this country for 40 years, in which he briefly traced the romantic and valorous history of Canada from the earliest times down to the present day, in which she is "daughter in her mother's house and mistress in her own."

An interesting feature was the playing on an electric victrola of of a record reproducing the chimes of the carillon in the Victory Tower in Ottawa, and another of the message of Premier Mackenzie King on the carillon.

Had Tea Party

When the ceremony of raising the flag was over, the function took on the aspect of a garden party reception and refreshments suitable to a summer day were served on the lawn, and Tokyo and Yokohama Canadians enjoyed their first association gathering. Arrangements were in charge of the honorary secretary-treasurer, Mr. Charles Julian.

Fine Address.

Dr. Keenleyside's address was as follows:

"We have met to-day, under the auspices of the Canadian Association of Japan, to celebrate the 62nd an-

WAGES DISPUTE BEING SETTLED

Lady Minister Of Labor Making Progress With Cotton Trade Tie Up

SETTLEMENT IS VITAL

LONDON, Eng., July 18. — (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). —Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor, has accomplished the first step in settlement of the wages dispute in the cotton trade. Officers of her department have succeeded in establishing contact between the employers and workers, and at Manchester later to-day there was a conference between employers and operatives.

Sir Horace Wilson, permanent secretary to the Ministry of Labor, yesterday met representatives of both sides separately. It was evident in the discussions that neither side was making any effort to resume joint discussions and Sir Horace informed each that the present situation was undesirable. He suggested resumption of the joint discussions, to which both agreed.

Balloting has taken place both among the employers and the workers, on the demand for a 12½ percent reduction in wages. The employers decided to force the decision on the workers, and the workers decided to resist reduction even if it meant a stoppage of work in this great industry.

"Everyone will sympathize with the Minister of Labor, Miss Bondfield, in the task which awaits her of securing agreement between employers and workers in the cotton trade" the Daily Mail comments today. "No mistake could be graver than to assume that stoppage of work is inevitable. Nothing could injure the cotton industry more — and the progress and prosperity of that industry are of most vital importance to the nation."

BOARD DECIDES TO BUILD SEWER IN WEST WARD

Connecting Link on New Trunk Sewer Will be Recommended to Council.

TO COST $18,000

Machinery Arrives to Complete Oiling City Streets.

At a meeting of the Board of Works of the City Council last night it was decided that it would be recommended to the Council at its next meeting that a new 24-inch sewer be laid between the corner of Wolfe and Park Streets and Charlotte Street at a total estimated cost of $18,000. City Engineer Parsons reported that $14,000 had already been spent in putting a larger sewer in the west end of the city and that this connecting link was absolutely necessary to make that which has already been laid of any use, as at present there is only a nine-inch sewer with a twenty-four inch at each end. For several years the residents of the west end of the city have been demanding this sewer and the Board thought that now was the opportune time to complete the work.

The decision was not arrived at until after Aldermen McIntyre and McNabb had taken strenuous objection to spending so much money this year. The debate at times grew warm, with Alderman McIntyre being the leader of the opposition. He stated that he had always been opposed to laying sewers the same year as the streets were paved, and although these streets were not being paved this year he maintained that this year's Council had already spent enough money and that the people did not at present want to add any more to the debenture debt of the city.

Other aldermen claimed that the money already spent would be useless if this connecting link was not made and that the conditions in the western part of the city would not be improved unless something was done.

Petition Received.

A petition was received from residents of Otonabee and those living on Manice Street, asking that that street be graveled. On looking over the petition the aldermen could only see where the graveling of the street would benefit one ratepayer, so the chairman was instructed to have it gravelled as far as his gate this year, with the hope that it would be finished next year.

The Utilities Commission wrote asking the Council to outline its paving program for next year so that the proper drains might be put in this fall. The matter was left over until another meeting of the board. It was announced that the street oiling machine had arrived in the city and that an additional two carloads of street oil would be applied.

PACIFIC FLYER PLUNGES INTO RAGING CREEK

Twelve Are Reported Dead And List May Be Increased To 20

NINE CARS PILED UP

One Coach Is Submerged In Water Of Creek. Passengers Feared Drowned

DENVER, Colo., July 18 (C.P.).—Eight persons were reported to have been killed when Rock Island passenger train, Number 5, westbound from Chicago, plunged into Landsman Creek, near Stratton, Colo., 150 miles east of Denver, shortly after 3 o'clock this morning.

According to a report received by The Denver Post from its Stratton correspondent, the train plunged through a weakened bridge and two of the pullmans on the all-Pullman train were submerged in the creek bed. First reports stated that eight persons were known to have drowned and there were reports that this number would probably be increased to 20.

Ordinarily a Dry Wash

The creek ordinarily a dry wash, had become a raging torrent during the last 24 hours as a result of extremely heavy rains during that period.

All physicians at Stratton and Burlington, as well as Limon, Colo., have been rushed to the scene and wrecking crews have been dispatched from Colorado Springs, the Western terminus of the road.

Morris Gest, theatrical producer, of New York City, en route to Denver, was said to have been a passenger on the train.

The engine and tank derailed and spread the rails, causing nine cars to pile up and break through a bridge, the report said. The three last cars remained on the track.

Coach is Submerged

One coach, in which passengers were trapped, was submerged. A highway bridge parallelling the railroad bridge was washed out. Ambulances and doctors from East and West of the wreck were being delayed in reaching the scene by high water.

Only the train crew were awake when the train plunged into the raging torrent. Approximately 500 passengers were asleep in their berths.

The train, which is a through passenger from the East, carried 20 coaches. Four of these, including the baggage car and the locomotive, went into the creek. The heavy load on the train was attributed to Summer tourist travel.

JAPAN IS EXPECTED TO AID IN MAINTAINING PEACE IN EAST

Attitude Of Watchful Waiting Being Maintained By The Japanese Government

WAR NOT EXPECTED

TOKIO, Japan, July 18 (Canadian Press). — Although the Japanese Government is maintaining an attitude of watchful waiting on the Manchurian situation since Russia broke with China, it was indicated this afternoon that there was a possibility of Japan's making representations to both China and Russia with a view to the maintenance of peace.

Premier Hamaguchi and Foreign Minister Shidehara, although not officially informed as to the break between Russia and China, conferred on the subject to-day following press reports of the situation.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the time was not yet ripe for positive Japanese action, although holding grave possibilities demanding the most serious consideration from the Tokio Government.

Harbin despatches to the Japanese News Agency Rengo state that Consul-General Melnikov has received orders from Moscow ordering his immediate withdrawal from Manchuria.

20 Foreigners Stranded

About 20 foreign trans-Siberian travellers, including British, French, American and Japanese Nationals were reported stranded on the Russian side of the border because of the suspension of the connection at Manchuli and because the Russians are taking over international trains for military purposes.

The Japanese general staff which is probably the best informed body in the world on the politico-strategic situation in Manchuria, expressed the belief this morning that the rupture of relations between China and Russia would probably not lead to serious hostilities.

The general staff admitted however, that concentration of Russian

Jail Birth Criticism Echoes In Ears, So Refuses To Try Pair

HAMILTON, July 18.—Annie Minnigan of 51 McAnulty boulevard, who gave birth to twins in Hamilton jail several weeks ago, and whose case created provincial interest when one of the babies died, was before Magistrate Jelfs, with her husband, Nick Minnigan, to-day on a L.C.A. charge. The pair have made numerous visits for liquor offences.

"I refuse to try the case" announced Magistrate Jelfs when the charge was read. Criticism levelled at him after the last trial was fresh in his mind, and the magistrate held that regardless of his decision a certain element would again criticize.

Counsel was satisfied to have the magistrate hear the evidence, stating that the defendants were satisfied that they would be given fair and honest treatmcnt.

Adjournment of one week was agreed to and it was suggested that Magistrate Vance of Wentworth county might pass judgement.

The robber was about 31 years of age and well dressed. He could not be identified.

RUSSIA BREAKS OFF RELATIONS WITH CHINA

When Wolves Menaced Northumberland Farmers

OLD IRISHMAN TELLS HISTORY OF EARLY DAYS IN SEYMOUR THEN ONLY A VIRGIN FOREST

Thomas Hoey Came to Township Along Only Trail on Foot.

WOLVES AND BEARS THICK

Officers From the Battle of Waterloo Were First Settlers.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 18 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — Time passes and times change, and it is seldom that younger people are inclined to look back on the hardships and privations which their ancestors suffered before the country was brought to its present state of prosperity and comfortable living. Recently The Examiner called on the oldest resident of Seymour Township, Thomas Hoey, a fine old Irishman, now nearing his eighty-ninth birthday. He proved a genial host and ideal conversationalist, although his memory, he said, was not as clear on some points as it had been and his hearing is not quite as acute as it used to be. Nevertheless, he recalled many interesting facts about the former days of Seymour Township and the men who cleared the virgin hardwood forest from their farms.

Thomas Hoey was born in Seymour Township, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hoey. He is the last member of his family. Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hoey came from County Sligo, Ireland, in 1831 and settled in Cobourg. Three years later they came to Seymour Township, settling on the farm which is now known as Lot 16 in the 3rd Concession. At that time they had to make the journey on foot, driving their cattle as they went. There was nothing in this district then but woods, with an occasional clearing where earlier settlers had built their cabins and other meagre buildings. There were no roads then with the exception of the trail from Shea's Bay to Crow Bay, a government road built for the accommodation of the incoming settlers. At Government Landing there was a house, barn and store house where the settlers might obtain supplies as they came in. They usually made it an overnight stopping place before going on to where their land was located.

Few Settlers.

There were only two families settled in the township when he came. They were the Locke family and the Dunk family, who came in the previous year. Eventually the land on either side of the Government Road was well taken up. On the east side there lived ten families. Naming them in order from Government Landing to Crow Bay, they were: Neeson's, Louis Dunk, Owen Hoey, Kellorahen, White, Kelleher, Little, Hughes, Hall, and Atkinson. On the west side there lived eight families: Sam Dunk, Locke, Hughes, Matheson, Scott, Varcoe, White, and Hall.

People had wondered, Mr. Hoey said, why the early settlers made their homes on the high ground.

"Bless my soul," he commented, "you'd want a boat to get through the low land in those days. But when the country began to be opened up, the creek beds cleared of brush and other obstructions of the virgin forest, the land dried out, and the low lands were good farm lands." Game was plentiful, with bears and wolves in abundance. The latter did considerable damage to the sheep and cattle, but the discharge of firearms was usually enough to scare the marauders.

No Campbellford Then.

The town of Campbellford was not thought of then, he said. The following year, Major Campbell and his brother, Colonel Campbell, came to take up their government land grant. The site of the present town was then a first-class sugar bush, and Lige Kellorhan, an uncle of Mr. Hoey, had made sugar there. At about that time, the Government decided to not only grant land but also money to the Army and Navy men who came out to settle here. The idea seemed to be that the ex-offi-

SECOND BASEMAN KNOCKED OUT POLICE AND SPECTATORS IN RIOT

Bisons And Bears Each Take A Game Between Scraps

TWO PLAYERS ARRESTED

BUFFALO, July 18 (Canadian Press).—The Buffalo Bisons and Newark Bears split a double-header here yesterday afternoon, the first, marred by one of the worst riots in years, going to the Bears, 10 to 8, after ten innings of wild and wooly play. Seventeen Buffalo players appeared in the game. "Curley" Ogden pitched a three-hit game to win the second 3 to 1 in seven innings.

Rioting, in which rival players, spectators and police mixed freely, broke out in the eighth inning of the first game after Catcher Stahlman knocked Second Baseman Thomas of the locals unconscious in breaking up a double play. Thomas went to the hospital and remained overnight, but he is not thought to be seriously injured. Captain Jim Cooney and Stahlman mixed in a fistic encounter after the crash and the melee became general, with players of both clubs rushing out and swinging wildly. Spectators plunged into the fray, and one unidentified fan struck Al Mamaux of the Bears in the face, causing injuries that required three stitches to close. Players Stahlman and Cooney were ejected from the game and placed under arrest on technical charges of disorderly conduct. They were immediately bailed in custody of club officials.

TORONTO TO WAIT FIVE YEARS FOR LAND AND SEA AERDROME

City Can Go Ahead With Part For Amphibians Only As Yet

$200,000 FOR AIRPORT

TORONTO, Ont., July 18 (Canadian Press). — After much planning and appropriating of expenditures for it, Toronto learned to-day that the combined aerodrome for land and sea planes to be established on the water front will have to be confined to seaplane base only. Air regulations require that aerodromes be at least 1,800 feet square, with no obstructions, and it will be five years at least before a combination airport could be built to meet these requirements on the water front.

The City Council recently made a grant of $200,000 for the airport, but it will now be constructed for seaplanes and amphibians only.

IVANCHUK TO HANG ON FRIDAY MORNING

Prisoner Is Resigned To His Fate After Government Refuses To Grant New Trial.

HAILEYBURY, Ont., July 18 (Canadian Press).—John Ivanchuk, convicted slayer of License Inspector Harry Constable at Cochrane on October 15, 1926, and whose plea for a new trial has been rejected by the Canadian Government, had no strong hopes that efforts made on his behalf would be successful, it was said here yesterday. Ivanchuk appears to be resigned to his fate. He will be hanged early on the morning of July 19 in the district jail here.

J. Ellis, official hangman, arrived here yesterday. After carrying out the sentence against Ivanchuk, he will leave direct for Vancouver to officiate at another hanging.

Countries Prepare For War

Soviet Makes Public Its Reply To Chinese Note

OFFICIALS RECALLED

All Means Of Reaching Agreeable Settlement Exhausted Note Says

MOSCOW, July 18 (C.P.).—Russia last night broke off diplomatic relations with China.

The Soviet government made public its reply to the Chinese note, the latter having come in response to an ultimatum from Russia. In this note the Soviet Union said that all means of reaching an amicable settlement had been exhausted.

The note placed the entire responsibility for all consequences upon the Chinese government. It announced also that all Soviet diplomatic and consular officials and all government commercial representatives would be recalled at once from China.

It further declared that all Soviet officials would be recalled from the Chinese Eastern Railway, that all railway communications between Soviet territory and China would be suspended and consular representatives of the Nanking government would be ordered immediately to leave the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Time Limit Expires

The Russian action in breaking off diplomatic relations with China came at the expiration of the time set in an ultimatum which the Soviet Union dispatched to the Central Republican headquarters on July 13. That ultimatum gave the Nationalist Government at Nanking three days in which to rescind its action in seizing the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manuchuria.

It also demanded restoration to office of the Russian officials who had been deposed from their places in railway, and the liberation of all Russian Nationals who had been imprisoned. By the terms of the ultimatum the closing of Russian institutions in Manchuria, such as banks, railway unions and business syndicates, was also to be rescinded.

REVALUATION IS FORCED IN HALTON COUNTY

Equalization of Assessment is Disturbing Western Ontario Counties.

APPEAL EXPECTED

Trouble Also Occurs in United Counties of Northumberland and Durham.

Equalization of assessment is disturbing the municipal tranquillity of Peel County with much the same symptoms and probably causes of discontent as in its neighboring county of Halton, and also in the united counties of Northumberland and Durham.

Trafalgar Township forced a revaluation by the judge of Halton County; the towns of Cobourg, Port Hope and Bowmanville have intimated that they will appeal to the judge of the united counties against the recent action of the Counties Council in adjusting the equalized assessment of the urban, that is the town and village municipalities at 70 per cent. of their local assessments for the purposes of the county tax levy next year. And now the town of Brampton in Peel County has decided to appeal against the County Council's decision to increase the town's equalized assessment by $552,000.

Brampton contends that the treatment is unjust and inequitable. Port Credit's assessment is increased $58,000 and Toronto Gore's remains the same as in 1928, and the other municipalities receive an appreciable reduction.

Tax Increase of $7,000.

A report says: "Brampton is not only saddled with the general increase for the year of $192,000, but practically has to meet the reductions in every rural municipality. Brampton's assessment was increased in the preceding year, and the Council resents this second hoist. It means an extra $7,000 to be raised in taxes that has not been provided for by this year's rate. If this equalized assessment holds, Brampton will have to pay an extra mill and a half. Its chief protest, aft er its committee had concluded the task of getting valuations in different parts of the county, will likely be against Toronto Township, where and farm and home values are increasing along the southern highways, and yet Toronto Township was given a reduction of $96,000."

Cavan's Complaint.

In Northumberland and Durham the rural municipalities, led by Reeve George Hooton, of Cavan, have protested against the comparatively low equalized assessments of the towns and villages, but the Counties Council has taken the reasonable course of retaining the present assessments for this year's counties rate, and suspending the increase on the towns until 1930. Hence, there is not much likelihood of any immediate appeal to the counties judge, even if the towns are dissatisfied, and at the special meeting of the Council they indicated by their opposing vote that they resent the increases that have been tacked onto their equalized assessments.

In Halton County, the township of Trafalgar demanded revaluation by the county judge, but has since expressed dissatisfaction with the new assessment as it affects their township.

James Wannan Struck Down In Horse's Stall, Unconscious All Day

LEGS, RIBS, ANKLE BROKEN

OSHAWA, Ont., July 18 (C.P.).—It required 100 stitches to close wounds received by James Wannan, 69, Columbus, after he had been badly mauled by a horse when he fell in the animal's stall while harnessing it for the day's work on the farm.

Lying in bed last night with his right leg, two ribs and an ankle broke, and bad gashes and bruises covering his head and body, the veteran farmer outlined plans for his son for to-day's work. The accident happened yesterday morning and Mr. Wannan did not regain consciousness until last night.

CAMPBELLFORD YOUTH REMAINS UNCONSCIOUS AFTER ACCIDENT

Coroner Decides To Hold Inquest Into Death Of Glenn Boy

HYDRO MAN INJURED

CAMPBELLFORD, July 18 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — Two days ago, two separate and distinct accidents involved four children ranging in age from four to ten years. Since that time, one child, Douglas Ray Glenn, 10, has died; Kenneth Fairman, 4, was still unconscious at one o'clock this morning; Donald Glenn, a brother of the dead boy, will lose his eyesight, it is feared, and Jack Glenn, the youngest of the three brothers, will carry scars for the rest of his life. Roy Scott, a Hydro employee, who was standing nearby when the explosion occurred, will not be able to work for several days. He was badly shot up in the lower part of the legs, and there were holes in other parts of his body as well.

Douglas Ray Glenn was the eldest of three brothers who were playing with a small round can Monday afternoon. The can is believed to have contained blasting detonators. According to Roy Scott, they were trying to open the can by striking it with a steel wedge or chisel. He asked them what they were doing and hesitated a moment to get out his pocket knife to help them. One more tap of the chisel and there was an explosion. It cost Douglas his life. His death occurred yesterday morning at about

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 18.—General advances were made on the cash grain market here yesterday, wheat being marked up 5c per bushel, oats 2c and corn 2c.

The local butter market was firmer. Eastern townships, No. 1, sold at 37¼c per lb. Retail prices were 39c for solids and 40c for reprints. No receipts were posted yesterday.

Few sales of cheese were reported, with no changes in prices. Receipts were 3,357 boxes, compared with 3,314 boxes for the same day last week.

The potato market was unchanged.

Poultry was steady, with prices unchanged.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, July 18.—Net gains of 8 7-8c to 1-8c were scored on yesterday's erratic wheat market in which prices opened with wide advances, dropped to low levels, and then rebounded to record the large gains. July opened at $1.75, sank to about $1.71, and then rebounded to close at $1.76 3-8. October and December also finished the day higher, the former selling at $1.67½ to $1.67 3-8, and the latter at $1.63¼ to $1.63.

Terrific heat which continued to prevail over the Prairies of Canada and in the United States wheat-growing country was responsible for the bullish trade.

Cash wheat was well bought for export yesterday at higher prices. Rye swung upward about 5c and oats scored a ½c gain. Flax and barley held firm.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, July 18.—Trading on the local wholesale produce market yesterday was merely a repetition of trading during the past few days, with very little activity in evidence all throughout the session. Receipts of butter continued to arrive in about the same proportion to the demand and there was no difficulty encountered in answering all calls. The No. 1 grade remains the favorite and most of the movements were in this variety, although a certain amount of the No. 2 grade was absorbed under quiet trading. Prices were unchanged with the No. 1 creamery at from 37½c to 37¾c per lb. and the No. 2 grade at from 36c to 36½c per lb.

Interest in local wholesale cheese trading was again practically absent and the price of No. 1 large colored paraffined and Government graded cheese was quoted at from 18¼c to 18½c per lb.

Conditions on the local wholesale egg market continued unchanged from previous sessions and receipts were arriving in larger quantity than could be easily moved into consumptive channels. Dealers reported great difficulty in disposing of the undergrade eggs, although demand for extras is standing up well and will improve to some extent under smaller offerings. Egg consumption is much lower during the hot months of the year and extras are the only eggs that move at all freely unless much storing is going on, and under present conditions very little enthusiasm is seen in local trading. Prices were unchanged and dealers were quoting country shippers for ungraded eggs delivered and cases returned as follows: Fresh extras, 28c per dozen; fresh firsts, 25c per dozen; fresh seconds, 21c per dozen.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, July 18.—Practically 12c advance in 12 hours is the new star record established by wheat values yesterday. Forced rapidly on by an irresistible immense sweep of buying orders from far and wide, and as a result of reported fast-increasing crop destruction throughout the Canadian Prairie Provinces and adjoining American States, the wheat market yesterday quickly overran $1.50 a bushel and started for new high goal, exactly 11⅞c up from Tuesday's bottom level.

Fluctuating with feverish speed, wheat closed extremely nervous near the day's maximum, and 7¾c to 8¾c above Tuesday's finish. Corn closed 3c to 3¾c up; oats 2c to 2¾c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7c.

An approach to total failure for the Canadian wheat crop was indicated by some of the despatches current here yesterday, and the trading began in a stampede to the buying side of the market.

Demand for North American wheat yesterday for shipment to Europe appeared to be on a liberal scale. Tremendous profit-taking sales of futures failed to check the wild rise of the market, except for brief intervals, and to a very limited degree.

Much expanded buying of corn future deliveries developed in sympathy with the extraordinary advance of wheat. Houses with European connections were active in purchasing corn future deliveries, and December climbed to with ½c of a $1 a bushel. Oats followed corn.

Provisions kept about steady.

Campbellford

Now that the Orange walk is over, Old Home Week is the big thing of the near future. Everybody seems to be doing all they can to make it a success. So far, the Marathon swim seems to be the big thing.

Dr. Sutton of Peterborough was in town the other day on matters relative to the board of health. Incidentally he took enough time to enquire about the local Post of the Canadian Legion. He wants to have a picnic somewhere near Peterborough on Civic Holiday. It is to include returned men, their wives, families and sweethearts, from all over the district, and is being planned as a giant get-together for the boys to discuss the affairs of the organization and its probable future activities.

There seems to have a been a slip somewhere in the proposed action to try for an alteration in the C. N. R. schedule over this line. Campbellford was waiting to hear from the village of Hastings. Now, it appears, Hastings council passed a resolution favorng the requested change, and forwarded it to the C.N.R. officials. The next thing is to all get together and see what actually can be done. It was suggested recently that a delegation visit the proper authorities.

If the plans of the dancing committee for Old Home Week materialize as they are expected to do, this will be a feature attraction of the celebration.

In preparation for Old Home Week "Cap" Plummer has taken the flag pole off the firehall tower, repainted it, and replaced it.

BIG BUSINESS

LONDON, July 18.—Richard Levy, 14, had an eye for business. He is a modeler of boats when he finds time off from playing with other children. He valued his models so much that he had one, a little craft fitted with a boiler, insured for about $40. The craft in cruising a pond was wrecked and the boy received a cheque from the insurance company.

cers would have enough money to pay for the work that the settlers did and thus make prosperity for all concerned. About twenty officers of the Imperial Army came into the township. Almost all of them had fought at the Battle of Waterloo and had been discharged after the campaign. Mr. Hoey was unable to recall the names of all the officers, but he remembered many of them. Those he named were Major Campbell, his brother Colonel Campbell, Captain Tice, Captain Levisconte, Captain MacIntosh, Colonel Rains, Captain Cleuh, Captain Landon, Captain Geary, Major Ponton, Captain Cook, Captain Boucher, Captain Cassan, and Captain Hill. There was another soldier named Payne who ran the store and supply house at the Government Landing. He was the government agent, but Mr. Hoey was quite certain that he was not a commissioned officer.

Officer's Name Used.

Returning to the history of Campbellford, Mr. Hoey recalled that the town received its name from the fact that the usual method of crossing the Trent River at low water was to ford it at Campbell's estate. Gradually the locality became known as Campbell's Ford, and through time the name has changed to the one word Campbellford. The Anglican Church, he thought, was the first place of public worship in the settlement, but the Roman Catholic came within the next year or two. A man named Robert Wite and a brother of his father's had drawn the timber for the first house in what is now Campbellford. The timber had been taken from the road allowance when it was being cut.

Campbellford's first bridge was a wooden structure built in 1844. It was threatened with destruction by the flood waters one spring during the sixties, and was saved by piling rocks on it to weight it down. Later it was replaced by a steel bridge, and that, too, has passed to make way for the modern structure of the present time. The first mill in the district was known as Ranney's Mill, and was situated south of the town near Ranney's Falls. It was a grist mill, and there was also a saw mill erected there. The second mill was built by a man named Turner from Scotland. It was about four miles east of the Hoey homestead, and was also a grist and saw mill. Previous to that time, the settlers took their grain to Belleville and sometimes as far as Kingston to be ground. They made their own sugar, maple sugar, and it was used for every household requirement. They also made their own light, tallow candles. Fat pine was commonly used for lanterns. Hearth fires were made by striking flint and steel with punk as tinder. To bake bread and other food, the open hearth fire was used. The bread was put in covered pans which were buried in the hoat coals. It made excellent bread, Mr. Hoey said.

Plenty of Whiskey

In those days, liquor was sold for a York Shilling a quart. It was also sold at one time for fifty cents a gallon. The main source of supply was at the grocery store near Turner's Mill and blacksmith shop.

There was plenty of game in the country then, but few Indians. They were mostly on the reserve at Rice Lake. What few there were in the district made good neighbours, he said. They came to this section to hunt and fish in the different seasons. Just north of his house was an Indian camping ground and even yet, their plows sometimes turn up Indian relics. Among them is a skinning knife of stone and also a tapping gouge used by the Redmen to tap the maple trees. It is also of stone.

Travelled By Oxen

Settlers coming into the country usually came overland from Colborne and took the ferry across from Percy Boom to Government landing. Percy Boom was so named because of the booms strung along the river there to keep the logs of the lumbermen from drifting into the drowned land. Provisions were brought in fom Belleville or Cobourg. Hauling was done by oxen and wooden-runnered sleighs. The first yoke of oxen in the district was owned by Mr. Hoey's father. There were no horses then, and he did not believe they would have been as useful as oxen in the rough country. Returning to the question of sugar for the home, Mr. Hoey recalled that one Easter Sunday there had been eight hundredweight of sugar made on Madison's Hill.

His personal experiences of bygone days were of unusual interest. He still had several pieces of timber used in the first barn his father had built almost a century ago. There is still a log in one of the fields where one of the neighbors shot a bear almost seventy years ago. There were no schools in the locality till he was fourteen years old. Then the first institution of learning was in what is known as the Devil's Valley. The school teacher was an Irishman named Yelland. A few years later another school appeared about a mile south of the original one. When the concessions were surveyed and the townships marked out, a school was built on the English Line. This concession is the third concession of Seymour and drew its name from the fact that a group of English settlers were the first to take land there. In those days young men went to school during the winter months. There was no other employment and they were desirous of improving their education. One of the early teachers in the English Line School had said that he had never taught a better behaved group of men.

Thirty Miles to Cemetery

An example of the hardships which had sometimes to be endured, may be had from the account of the funeral of Mr. Hoey's father. Owen Hoey died in January 1852 and the nearest cemetery was in Belleville, thirty miles away. The remains were taken over the winter trails.

Asked if he were still able to do any work around the farm, Mr. Hoey said it was a long time since he had been able to follow a team, but he still did several chores about the place. He still enjoys a friendly chat with an acquaintance, and is as interested to learn of the most modern things as the younger visitor is of the days of old. At the present time, his son Joseph is running the farm. The other two sons, Owen and James have farms adjoining. Two daughters, Mary and Katherine reside in Toronto. Mrs. Thomas Hoey died March 9, 1903. During his lifetime, Mr. Hoey has never tasted a drop of liquor. He has used tobacco in moderation. Until quite recently, his evening pipe was to him an ideal way of ending the day. A staunch member of the Roman Catholic church, Mr. Hoey attends service regularly. He is also a supporter of the Liberal party and could only recall having missed casting his vote in one election. Among his souvenirs are two old muzzle-loading rifles of the fusee type. One of them he claims is at least one-hundred and fifty years old and the other is well over the century mark. The younger piece is still in first class condition. He also has still in his possession, the ox yoke and chain which his father used when he first came to Canada in 1831.

four o'clock. Last night, Dr. W. F. Loucks, the local coroner, said that there would be no inquest held. The funeral will be held from his parents' residence, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Glenn, at two o'clock Friday afternoon.

Donald and Jack, the two younger brothers, were reported last night as doing as well as could be expected. There is fear for Donald's eyesight, but Jack is expected to recover with little more than a few scars and the horrible memory.

Kenneth Fairman Unconscious

Just about the same, was the description given The Examiner late last night when inquiries were made regarding the condition of Kenneth Fairman, 4, who was struck by a motor car Monday afternoon while crossing the street about a block from his home. Yesterday afternoon, three medical men were called in consultation, and the case was thoroughly investigated from a medical point of view. Among the major injuries from which the little chap is suffering are concussion of the brain and a fractured leg above the knee along with several body bruises where it is believed the car struck him. Every attention which the medical world has at its command, is being given the little fellow. He is under the constant care of a graduate nurse, and the doctor as often as possible. Whether or not his condition is considered fatal could not be learned. Certain it is that it is serious.

A FAST WORKER.

As a sample of the type of driver The Examiner contends should not be given the privilege of handling an automobile, the story of the London machinist sentenced to 14 days in jail for being drunk while is charge of a car is timely.

This man's career as a driver was short, but crowded with excitement.

At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon he bought a second-hand automobile, an hour later he passed the test and was given an operator's license, and at 5 o'clock he was arrested for drunkenness after he had crashed into another car.

The next chapter in the story, if the public is to be protected against this kind of irresponsible driver, should be the cancellation of this man's driving permit.

An individual who within two hours of securing official authority to drive a car gets drunks and runs amuck in traffic has no right to the privilege of driving.

His permit should be lifted and remain lifted; the public is not safe with such drivers at the wheel.

ELECTION TALK.

The Liberal political organization in Ontario is preparing for a provincial election this autumn, while Hon. Hugh Guthrie's prediction of a campaign before Christmas has not been officially denied at Government headquarters.

Unless there is strong pressure of public opinion against an election this year, it begins to look as if the political seers who have been predicting a provincial campaign may not have been far off the mark.

The newspapers are beginning to speak out, however, and to condemn an appeal to the people this year when the Government has not yet completed three years in office, and if the protests continue to increase in volume, the final verdict may be to defer the election for another year.

From no quarter is there any clamor for a campaign, and with no important issue before the people at the present time, it is difficult to understand why the Government should think about plunging the Province into political turmoil.

Neither in the federal nor in the provincial arena would an election campaign this year be enthusiastically welcomed, judging from comments in provincial newspapers and the opinion of the man on the street.

THE ROTARY CAMP.

The boys' camp at Clear Lake is one of the major activities of the Peterborough Rotary Club, fostered because of the belief of Rotarians that a proper holiday under desirable conditions should be the heritage of the boys of this community.

That belief has been implemented by the construction of one of the finest camps in Ontario, ideally located, splendidly equipped and carefully supervised, a camp that offers the boys of this district everything needed for an enjoyable and safe outing.

And the principle of camping-at-cost places a holiday at this splendid camp within the reach of practically every boy, especially as the Rotarians are willing to provide jobs for youngsters who wish to earn their camp money.

There is accommodation for between 50 and 60 boys at one time at Camp Skookum, and as the camp will remain open for the balance of the summer, it should be possible to give practically every Peterborough boy who wants one a holiday at Clear Lake.

Parents who are interested should get into touch with members of the Rotary Club.

THE CHAUTAUQUA.

The visit of Chautauqua to Peterborough, which begins on Saturday night, is of particular interest this year in that for the first time the programs are being given under the management of an all-Canadian organization.

That is a development that should occasion general satisfaction, inasmuch as the bringing of Chautauqua under the supervision of Canadians assures Canadian audiences of programs that will be pleasing and appropriate.

The change in management does not, of course, mean that the programs will necessarily be given entirely by Canadians; on the contrary, it is the ambition of those at the head of the movement to bring to the Canadian circuits the best talent available anywhere.

The Chautauqua organization provides an unique opportunity to hear eminent musicians, lecturers and other artists at nominal prices, and for its educational as well as its entertainment value it deserves community support.

Peterborough in this regard owes a debt of gratitude to George A. Gillespie, who at a financial loss has made it possible for local people to hear these fine programs year after year.

On this occasion they should see to it that Chautauqua in this city is made a financial as well as an artistic success.

AN UNWANTED ELECTION.

If the Government of the Hon. Howard Ferguson has in mind a premature appeal to the people, with no outstanding issue awaiting solution, he may find that an attempt to take a snap verdict will be as unpopular in this Province as it proved to be in Nova Scotia, where the Government of the Hon. E. N. Rhodes was almost defeated in an election sprung unexpectedly upon the people. The Hon. Hugh Guthrie, one of the principal lieutenants of the Conservative party at Ottawa, has been nevertheless predicting that there will be an early election in Ontario, and has been warning the party cohorts to be in readiness, and the fact that Mr. Ferguson himself lately has been particularly assiduous in his devotion to his duties and has been making a number of important announcements, all calculated to advance his Government in the public estimation, lends color to the belief that before long this Province shall be witness to a general election.

What justification the Premier will have to offer for this form of procedure it is difficult to predict. There is no outstanding question before the people demanding their ratification. Those issues about which the greatest contention exists are Government control of the liquor traffic and the new educational policy of the Premier. But in neither case is there sufficient feeling to warrant the Government appealing for a renewal of the mandate which it was so liberally granted in 1926. The strength of the Conservative majority in the Legislature has not been impaired and there is no question of the ability of the administration to remain in office until the conclusion of its legal term.

The hope of securing political advantage through obtaining a snap verdict is the sole justification which may be advanced in behalf of a premature election campaign which nobody wants. And if the Government persists in what appears to be its idea of foisting such a campaign upon the people, it may discover that its action is resented by a large body of the population which is of no mind to have its peace disturbed by political demonstrations, nearly always attended by argument and bitterness, merely for the sake of serving the political ends of the party which happens to be in power.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

There is always something doing at Camp Skookum, the camping-at-cost camp of the Peterborough Rotary Club.

Campbellford is looking forward to a record re-union during Old Home Week. The program announced indicates there will be plenty of entertainment for visitors to Campbellford during the week.

They can't come back perhaps, but "Big Bill" Tilden is a member of the United States Davis Cup team against the German tennis team.

Just as a reminder of how rapidly the summer is passing it may be mentioned that the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition is only two months away.

The Tule Marsh Murder

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

Story of a Missing Actress and the Taxing of Wits to Explain Her Fate

THE STORY THUS FAR:

Don Ellsworth's wife, formerly the famous actress Sheila O'Shay, disappears, leaving no trace. Dr. Cavanaugh the great criminal psychologist learns that their married life has been very unhappy.

Peter Piper reporter on the Herald, tries to see Dr. Cavanaugh. Instead he meets Barbara Cavanaugh, the attractive daughter, and finds that she was engaged to Don Ellsworth before his marriage.

A body, found in the tule marsh out side the city, is identified by Dr. Cavanaugh as that of Sheila O'Shay. Barbara faints when she hears him tell this to Peter. The latter, already half in love with her, is convinced that she knows something about the murder and his instinct is to protect her.

Mrs. Kane, Sheila O'Shay's waiting woman is arrested and admits that her mistress forced Don Ellsworth to marry her.

Peter and Dr. Cavanaugh find in the boudoir of the murdered woman, a threatening letter signed "David Orme." Peter teails Orme and finds him. But he is an irresponsible artist who does not seem capable of the murder. Dr. Cavanaugh agrees to examine Orme.

Peter learns that Barbara's car was used in the murder. He determines to save her at any cost. They discover their great love for each other, but Barbara will not let him help her, and he realizes she is protecting some one else.

The trial of Orme for the murder of Sheila O'Shay begins. Mrs. Kane on the witness stand, states that Orme is Sheila O'Shay's real husband. He disappeared and she had never divorced him. Dr. Cavanaugh tells Peter that he can clear David Orme. Orme on the stand tells of the tragedy of his life and his marriage to Sheila O Shay. He admits to having seen her on the night of her death. Dr. Cavanaugh takes the stand and states that he knew Orme before the murder. Orme was suffering from amnesia when he left his wife, and it returned after he had seen her again. This practically clears Orme of suspicion.

CHAPTER 47.

"I OBJECT! Graham exploded. "A moment ago my learned friend across the table was very meticulous about calling statements for the conclusion of the witness.

"If your honor, please, I should like to answer the question.

"I withdraw the objection. Graham subsided meekly.

"The most significant factor in Orme's life of recent years, Dr. Cavanaugh turned from the district attorney and addressed the jury conversationally, "has been the loss of two of his fingers. From a squalid childhood he had been lifted by his talent into a world of music—a world where he met some of the greatest names of Europe on a plane of congeniality and equality.

"At one stroke he was hurled out of that environment, hurled back into a poverty and a limitation far worse than that in which he started because it was now complicated by thwarted ambition. The result, in a man of his temperament, was a sense of inferiority—an inferiority actual and yet undeserved—which conditioned his entire life.

"It was for that reason that Mrs. Orme s skepticism regarding his musical ability moved him even more powerfully than the cooling of her love and her attentions to other men.

"He transferred to the loss of his memory the same intense feeling of inferiority which had goaded him ever since the loss of his finger. It was a further 'lopping off, you see—another blow of fate stamping him as incomplete, as unable to hold his own with normal men.

"You must remember that we are here dealing all along with exaggerated reactions. In the short time at my disposal for treatment, I, was unable to eradicate from David Orme s mind the idea that his 'flight from reality' in the form of a fugue was an act of personal and moral cowardice.

"It was not that, of course—it was absolutely beyond his control. But remember the tortured pride with which he endured the humiliation of rubbing sandpaper in a jazz orchestra when he had expected to take his place among the world's great violinists. He had dragged himself back from the temptation of suicide because he thought it cowardly to run away from life.

"And yet, after enduring that depth of bitterness, he found that after all he had run away. Rather than admit that flight, with the moral stigma which he placed upon it, he was willing to let things take their course, even if his silence resulted in his conviction. Life, you see, was already a prison to him, and a sentence of death would offer him homorable escape, his final release.

For a moment, silence hung over the court room. Every mind was contemplating the vision of a tormented soul called up by the doctor's quiet and yet compellingly earnest utterance. The district attorney was the first to shake himself free of the spell.

He shuffled his notes, coughed, changed his position.

"May I ask, doctor, he said, concealing his uneasiness under an air of ponderous assurance, "whether it is your custom to take your patients off the streets and give them a course of treatment at their mere request, with no assurance of their ability to pay for your services?"

"Your honor!" Graham sprang to his feet, finding relief in action. "Do I understand that the district attorney is attempting to impeach this witness?"

"What Mr. Graham understands is beyond my power to fathom, as I make no pretense of being a mind reader—or a psychiatrist." The district attorney turned with vicious joy to an antagonist whose weapons he could parry with his own. "I think the question is proper—cross-examination, your honor."

"The question is allowed."

Dr. Cavanaugh looked down at the district attorney with an invulnerable placidity, from which his intruded thrust glanced harmlessly aside.

"Of late years it has been my custom to take only such patients as interested me—and to take them wherever I found them, Fortunately I am no longer dependent on an income from my practice, as I believe I stated on direct examination, and am able to devote my time for the most part to special research. For some years I have been working on the problem of the relation of fugue states to genuine dissociation of personality. From that point of view I found Mr. Orme interesting."

"Oh, so you were very much interested in Mr. Orme's case!"

"Very much, yes."

"Well, doctor," the district Attorney's bludgeoning voice went on, isn't it a fact the scientific mind, like the musical mind, is subject to 'temperament?' In the enthusiasm of research, is it not frequently found that facts are interpreted to meet the hypothesis wwich the investigator is trying to prove?"

"That is sometimes true of some investigators, yes."

"Well, then," the district attoreyn panted a little in his approach to his goal, "what was to prevent David Orme, knowing the intense interest you took in his case, from making up the whole story which you have told us, and using it as a cloak of defense?"

"The main thing that prevented him was that he couldn't do it." So far as the doctor was concerned, the district attorney had evidently reached his goal, only to find that nothing was there.

"You have heard of malingering, doctor?"

For the first time, Dr. Cavanaugh permitted his smile to broaden.

"Yes, I have heard of malingering."

"How can you be sure that Orme was not malingering—deliberately concocting a story and imitating the symptoms of this fugue you speak of?"

"Again, if I may, I will resort to an analogy. Suppose you were to ask me to imitate the playing of Fritz Kreisler. If I made the attempt, the imitation, I venture to say, would deceive no one. Even if I deliberately prepared for the test and had a certain degree of skill, the result, while it might pass before hearers without musical training, would certainly be detected without difficulty by musicians.

"The imitation of a mental disorder contrary to popular belief, is infinitely more difficult than the imitation of a master's playing. In fact, not even a student of the subject could possibly maintain the fiction for any length of time without giving himself away. The amateur who thinks that by grimacing and tearing his hair he is giving a convincing clinical picture of insanity is doomed to instant dissappointment.

"Functional and organic derangements of the mind are as numerous and as complex in their differences as physical disorders, and their symptoms are as definite. You might as well ask the physician whether a patient down with typhoid fever or tuberculosis was not making a vague general pretense of being ill. I may add that my own experience has been fairly extensive, and that it has not been devoid of the malingerers of whom you speak. Their efforts were quite readily detected."

The district attorney glanced covertly at the jury. They were obviously impressed. He wished he had left that particular line of questioning unopened.

Graham was leaning back, taking things as they came. He could set Dr. Cavanaugh up there and turn him loose! The district attorney inquired of the universe, not without silent profanity, why the devil they hadn't been able to hook Dr. Cavanaugh for the prosecution—then he would be sitting back, and Graham would be doing the worrying. He passed his handkerchief across the back of his neck, where the roll of fat stood out in a thick ridge. Then he leaned forward, moving to a new line of attack.

"Granting that all you say is true, doctor—and I am without the advantage of the technical learning necessary to argue the point with you——" (the district attorney hoped that would have its effect on the jury, that they would see themselves and him together as allies, as plain men pitting their robust common sense against the hair-splittings of the academic expert) "there still remains no reason why Orme should not have had another impulse to knock Sheila O'Shay down. And why, having killed her with the blow, he should not have concealed and destroyed her body, as he thought—and then have conveniently suffered another loss of memory. Or let us say that the emotional crisis put him into that state of fugue again."

"I take it you mean to put that suggestion in the form of a question," Dr. Cavanaugh spoke before Graham could do more than grunt the beginning of a protest. "At any rate, I will answer it."

"It might have been physically possible for Orme to have left the Ellsworth grounds with his wife at half past eight, in accordance with Mrs. Kane's testimony, have quarrelled with her and killed her, then have left her body lying casually about somewhere while he wandered about, and finally have returned for it and taken it to the marsh in a very clever and almost successful attempt to conceal his crime. That would be physically possible, but it would not be psychologically possible.

"No one in a state of mind capable of elaborating the plan for concealing the body in the marsh and setting fire to the grass in order to destroy it, would have failed to carry through the plan at once."

"But there is no evidence that he didn't carry it through at once. No one knows what time he arrived at the auto camp. Why assume an interval of aimless wandering?" The district attorney was startled out of all caution.

"Because," said Dr. Cavanaugh, "he hadn't had time to go to the marsh and back again when I saw him."

"When you saw him——?" The district attorney clutched at the torn shreds of formality. "I withdraw that. When did you see him, doctor?"

"At half past nine o'clock on the night of March 18, I chanced to look out of my office window and saw David Orme sitting on the curb. I did not know at the time, of course, that he had reverted to his abnormal state—that he was then suffering from a recurrence of amnesia, although on this occasion a slight and temporary recurrence.

"I was busy with a caller at the time, and I intended, as soon as the caller left, to go out and speak to him and ask him what he wanted. He was very shy of interrupting me, and I took it for granted that he had seen the caller enter, and was waiting outside unti I should be at liberty. At a quarter past ten I opened the door to let my visitor out!—just in time to see Orme rise from the curb and walk away down the street.

"As it was late, I did not bother to call after him, thinking that he had tired of waiting and would come again. Sheila O'Shay's murderer did not leave her body unguarded while he spent three-quarters of an hour sitting on a curb-stone before he went back and drove that body to the marsh for concealment.

His presence outside my house is an alibi for David Orme. Incidentally, I think we may safely say that he is the only man on redorc who, in defending himself against the accusation of a crime, was all the while in possession of an alibi which he had completely forgotten."

What To-day Means To You.

WHAT TO-DAY MEANS TO YOU. "CANCER".

If July 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m., from 12 noon to 1 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.; the danger periods are from 5 a.m. to 7 a.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Your mentality is liable to be affected by the conditions that will prevail on this date. This will cause unrest and disquietude, and only that which is absolutely essential should receive your attention, so that a temperate and non-distorted view should be taken of what is happening.

It will be more than unwise to treat a child born July 18 with any degree of harshness, as it will be gifted with a strong sense of justice. Any unmerited discipline may warp its whole nature. It will be ambitious, but easily discouraged. By practical help and sincere advice, it can be made to "go very far."

Your eager interest in life, friends and affairs keeps your spirit eternally young, and prevents you becoming bored. Your heart is kept fresh and made happy by your range of human feelings. Your nature is rendered smooth and supple by the cosmetics of sympathy and love. You are genial in your friendships, and tender in your kindly interest in life's failures and the down and outs. You have your detractors as well as your admirers, but even your enemies admit that you are a sincere champion of the under-dog and that you find practical outlets for your charitable inclinations.

There is nothing mealy-mouthed about you, and you are not afraid to speak the truth at all times and places. You have the reputation of getting things done—your words and actions are both downright. You know what you want to do, and how you want to do it. It is not easy to put you off the track. You are very capable, but you know your own limitations, and are never misled by flattery. You have considerable self-esteem but not a grain of conceit. The greatest happiness in your life will be found centered around your own fireside.

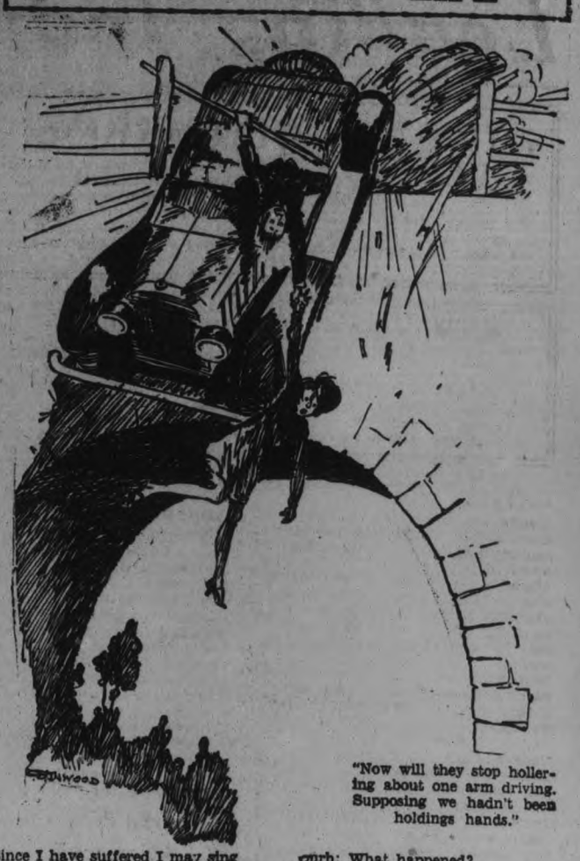
LAUGHS FROM LIFE



"Now will they stop hollering about one arm driving. Supposing we hadn't been holdings hands."

Since I have suffered I may sing
The songs that were too brave for me
Before pain's ruthless bludgeoning
Had heartened my frail minstrelsy.

Since I have suffered I may pray
The prayers I dared not in the past:
That strife be keen, defeat be gay,
That there be love too fine to last.

COMMENT ON THE MARKET

A Special Service to The Examiner.

F. N. Burt Company's Position Favorable As An Investment

F. N. Burt Company has shown a satisfactory increase in sales this year to date. The growth in business is described as normal.

The proposed agreement between F. N. Burt Company and Moore Corporation, whereby the latter company will acquire, for a stock consideration, the salesbook department of the former company, has not become effective yet. The sales book department of F. N. Burt Co. represents about 10 per cent of its total business. Approximately 90 per cent of the company's business is done in small paper boxes. F. N. Burt has contracts to supply large tobacco and drug concerns, etc. with paper box requirements and some of the contracts are of enormous volume.

The company which is paying dividends at the rate of $3.00 per annum, last year earned these by a margin of almost $2.00. Profits available for the 106,804 common shares outstanding were $529,600 in 1928, equal to $4.96 per share. This was before writing off $25,608 from patents. Profits in 1927 on the present stock were $4.61, against $3.72 in 1926 and $3.38 in 1925. As a result of the substantial surplus over dividends year by year, the company carried forward a surplus into the current year of over a million dollars.

Because of the thoroughly established business of F. N. Burt, the shares are regarded more as an investment than as a speculation. For years the growth in business and profits has shown consistent trend, varying slightly from time to time with the ups and downs of general business in the United States and Canada. Concentration of its operations in Buffalo under one roof was a favorable development, from the standpoint of a saving in overhead, and results of this should be reflected more fully in this year's earnings. At the current price of 68, the common stock yields 4.41 per cent. There is every reason to expect that within the next two years earnings will have grown to double current dividends. Perhaps before that time directors will see their way to increase dividends.

British Capital Interested in Arno Mines

An interesting phase of the recent change in the market position of Arno Mines is reported to have resulted from the fact that British capital is said to have been responsible for a good deal of the buying which carried the price forward so quickly within the past week or so. The demand from this quarter had its incentive in the latest developments at the Coxheath property, which indicated the discovery of new ore that would net $10 per ton.

Further details, it is understood, will be disclosed in a complete report that is expected within a short time. In the meantime, word has been received from the mine that the property is opening up nicely on the 200 foot level.

Noranda And Associated Gas And Oil Suffer Slight Setbacks

SHERRITT GORDON UP

TORONTO, Ont., July 18 (C.P.).—No definite tendencies were apparent in this morning's trading on the Standard Mining Exchange. Noranda slipped 25 to 59.50 and Associated Gas and Oil under considerable pressure lost 45 points to 4.60. Sherritt Gordon reached a high of 7.85 and at 7.80 recorded an advance of 20.

Dalhousie led the oils with a 10-point gain to 4.05, and the others were uneven. Home dropped 20 to 22.80 while Southwest Petroleum after strengthening to 6.25 remained at 6.00, Mayland gained 10 to 10.00, and Calgary and Edmonton rose the same amount to 8.00. Ajax dropped 7 to 2.20.

Lake Shore and McIntyre gained and lost by the same 25 point margin. Dome rose 15 to -0.00. Teck Hughes lost 5 to 8.20. Falconbridge Nickel lost 25 cents to 13.00. Sudbury Basin and Base Metals were firm.

NICKEL SHOWS SLIGHT GAIN

Paving And Cement Group Produces No Great Movement In Morning Session

BEVERAGES IDLE

TORONTO, Ont., July 18.—(Canadian Press).—This morning's trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange did little to disturb the quiet state left yesterday. Steels nickel and a few leading industrials bore brunt of activity.

Standard Steel which added 2 yesterday gained sharply to 100, an advance of 4. Lake Superior Corporation strengthened 1⅝ to 21. Massey Harris showed an advance of 1½ to 55¾.

Brazilian under fair demand lost fractionally to 59½ and International Nickel was firm at 49¾. Ford "A" dropped a quarter point to 49. Canada Dredging added ⅝ to 71.

The paving and cement group produced no great movement nor was any forthcoming from the beverages. Walker's lost ½ to 20¼. Trading in the oils was led again by Imperial which strengthened fractionally to 30 and International Petroleum which was steady at 26. Royal Bank advanced five dollars to 370 on sales of 27 shares and Commerce lost 1 to 295, on sales of 76.

NEW YORK MARKET AGAIN IRREGULAR

Speculators Uneasy Over Weekly Federal Reserve Statement To Be Issued Today

—Uneasiness over the weekly Federal Reserve statement to be issued after the close of to-day's market accounted price movement in to-day's session.

Pool operations were resumed in about a score of specialities which were marked up 2 to 9 points but many of the recent favorites, particularly in the railroad group, yielded 1 to 5 points on selling by professional traders who desired to lighten their long committments.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent., and appeared to be in fairly plentiful supply at that figure. Time money rates held firm around 7 3-4 per cent. No change was made in the Bank of England discount rate, and no change is expected at the New York Federal Reserve meeting after the close.

Kelvinator June Orders Show Large Increase

Last month, Kelvinator shipments exceeded those made in June 1928, by 50 per cent., according to officials of the Kelvinator Corporation. Orders received during June of the present year outdistance those of the same month in 1928 by 100 per cent. June, 1929, shipments were practically the same as those of May, 1929. In the electric refrigeration industry the greatest volume of business is usually experienced during May. Orders for the recently introduced model now on hand exceed by three times the quota set.

Chicago Price Rally After Early Downturns

CHICAGO, Ills., July 18 (C.P.).—Unexpected sharp downturns in Liverpool quotations, together with reports of drought relief in Argentina led to a lively tumble in wheat values here to-day. Continued drought conditions in Canada and the American Northwest, however, brought about brisk rallies, with trading on a big scale. Opening 1¾c to 3¾c lower, Chicago wheat prices later recovered most of the loss, and then fluctuated rapidly. Corn and oats were also easier, with corn starting ⅝c to 2⅝c off, but subsequently reacting. Provisions tended upward.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

Solloway, Mills & Company Through

Dome

Strength in Dome shares during closing session of last week occasioned little surprise. Dome's earnings are much better than a year ago while mine's position has improved very substantially. Street gossip quite some time ago had Dome slated for $15 at first favorable opportunity.

Newbec

South drive on Newbec said to be still in diabase which indicates a much greater width of this formation as compared with 125 ft. level. Some success may be met with, it is pointed out, when south diabase contact is cut.

Waite Montgomery

The last drill probably No. 8 has cut what is reported to be a good width of splendid ore 100 feet southwest of No. 4 hole, which cut 51 feet of 6.3 per cent copper as well as two other low grade intersections. This discovery should double the size of the probable ore in this new body. Net profits are running around $45,000 per month.

Noranda

Noranda are reported to have acquired more Waite-Ackerman-Montgomery stock recently so that their interest now stands at 90 per cent.

Wright-Hargreaves

Understand the complexion of this property is changing very much for the better with recent developments.

Mill City and Home

It is rumored that negotiations toward an amalgamation of Home and Mill City have reached definite point on a basis of 5 1-2 to 7. No announcement has been made yet by officials of either company, but information from reliable source leads us to believe that such an announcement will be forthcoming soon.

and Chinese troops along the border caused apprehension. It was feared that their proximity in the present inflammable state of mind might bring on a clash.

LOOK TO LEAGUE

LONDON, July 18.—(C.P.).—The Kellogg Anti-War Pact and the League of Nations were looked to by observers to-day to stave off the threat of war between China and Russia.

China is a member of the League of Nations. Russia, not a member of the League, signed the Kellogg Pact renouncing war as an instrument of national policy.

There was wide doubt that either country was in a position to wage war, despite reports of considerable troop movements by both to the troubled area.

PEKING, China, July 18.—(C.P.).—Japanese News Agency Despatches from Harbin state that Russian forces are being massed at Pogranichinaya and Manchuli along the Siberian-Manchurian frontier.

The transportation of Chinese troops to the frontiers also was reported being rushed.

The Russian consulate-general in Harbin has been closed and the staff is preparing to leave.

OIL GOSSIP.

Associated

Believe Associated has big well right now, said a late wire. Our Turner Valley field man was at well and was told unofficially the flow was as large as Home 2 with the depth 187 feet in lime. Well was under 3100 pounds of pressure of mud in hole. This well has six inch casing while Home 2 had only four inch, which might make Associated biggest well in field. Cannot confirm measurements till Imperial makes official statement, but believe our report practically correct.

Southwest Petroleum

Late Calgary wire said it was believed Southwest Petroleum was then in the limestone.

Oils May Boil

Many predictions have been made as to what would happen if Associated brought in a big well on west flank of Turner Valley structure, and which is now regarded as an accomplished fact. It means a great deal to several companies, notably Balttac, A. P. Consolidated, Lowery Petroleums, Advance and part of Mayland's acreage.

Another Big Success

When Associated hit limestone, the achievement was ranked among the important events of Turner Valley. Equal importance is to be attached to a similar South West Petroleum development. As there is such a small amount of Southwest Pete stock out, a strong market is looked for in these shares.

Dome Oils

Dome Oils 500 feet north of United No. 4 reported at 3750 feet with ten inch hole in Dakotas. Splendid time being made at this well. Spudded in May 17th.

Calmont

With the Home wells striking huge production north of Calmont, a big well at Associated immediately south of Calmont property would point to Calmont's three wells on Dallas lease as almost certain big producers. As one big operator expressed it, only thing that can stop big wells for Calmont would be a lost hole and chances are very slim against this sort of accident. Its type of rotary drills is the very latest and most efficient.

Sunlight

Sunlight officials report good progress being made with depth now over 1050 feet.

Miracle

Miracle, spudded in a few days ago, now standing cemented at 350 feet, where surface water was cased off.

Home No. 2

Now suggested that Home 2 choking off of chunk of limestone which became temporarily lodged near bottom of hole. If this heory is correct, it would indicate that further enlargement of Home 2 was still taking place and that a large production could be expected.

Planning $200,000 Pipe Line

Regal refinery planning $200,000 pipe line from Turner Valley to Calgary plant to connect with McLeod, McDougall-Segur, United, Spooner, and Vulcan wells. Expect completion by early fall. At present time, Regal refinery bringing oil by truck to Okotoks and by rail from Okotoks to Calgary. New line more than double present carrying capacity from Turner Valley and demonstrates faith of the refinery in early and large increase in production.

Base Metals

Expectations that Base Metals Mining Corp. in B. C. will have its mill operating in fall said to be responsible for accumulation of shares which recently moved up to $4.40. Mining Corporation of Canada owns a 35 per cent interest.

Hylo No. 1

Hylo No. 1 spudded in south of Mercury.

Spooner

Spooner officials say will drill No. 2 another 1,000 feet in the lime if necessary. Now 490 feet in the lime.

RAIN DOES NOT DAMPEN ARDOR

Lakeviews Of Toronto Defeat Cobourg Rink In Doubles Match

BY 12-11 COUNT

The rain of to-day did not dampen the encouragement of the bowlers that was aroused by two local rinks carrying off the honors of yesterday's rink competition when Dr. Allen captured the Stratton Trophy and J. Bacon the Warne.

Twenty entries were received in the doubles, which got away to a good start this morning after the greens had dried up to a certain extent, in order to allow the players to get on the courts.

Entries from Cobourg and Toronto were recorded this morning, and in the draw these two were pitted against each other, when DeLaney and Perry of Cobourg were nosed out by Gillam and Parkinson of the Toronto Lakeviews in a game that was the best of the morning, when the final score was chalked up 12-11 in favor of the Queen City.

Preliminary Round.

Gimblett and Fitzpatrick, Peterborough, 15; Curvin and Chesler, Peterborough, 9.

DeLaney and Perry, Cobourg, 11; Gilliam and Parkinson, Toronto Lakeviews, 12.

Wall and Allen, Peterborough, 15; Moore and Hutchinson, Peterborough, 9.

Coleman and Johnson, Peterborough, 16; Wise and Sorensen, Peterborough, 12.

FEW HARVESTERS TO BE REQUIRED

It is Estimated That Only 10,000 Men Will Be Needed In West

50,000 LAST YEAR

WINNIPEG, July 18.— (Canadian Press).—Not more than 25 per cent. of the help that hustled westward to the prairie provinces last summer to assist in harvesting a bumper crop will be required this year to clear a comparatively small showing of grain, a promising crop indeed last spring, but one that has suffered from the ravages of a boiling sun, continuous waves of intense heat and lack of moisture.

Where a force of 50,000 husky young men from eastern Canada augmented by several thousand young Englishmen brought overseas for the purpose, was put to work last year, harvesting thousands of acres of wheat, probably 10,000, and certainly not more than 15,000 will be sought to work in the western fields next month.

This was an estimate given yesterday by J. A. Bowman, general superintendent of unemployment for Manitoba, when interviewed by the Canadian Press. The exact number of men required from the east will be announced after a meeting next week between government unemployment officials from all the three prairiep rovinces and railway officials here.

Canada Tunnel Company Shares Offered

An international syndicate composed of Berites, Rawles and Donaldson, Inc., New York; Gilbert and company, Syracuse, and Gilbert Pooler and Co., Toronto, are making a public offering of the no par value common shares of the Detroit-Canada Tunnel Company simultaneously in Canada and the United States, at a price of $6.50 per share. This offering does not constitute additional financing by the company.

There are 2,250 shares of common stock outstanding, of which amount 850,000 shares are reserved for conversion of the debentures. The balance of the financial structure is composed of $8,500,000 first mortgage 6 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, and $8,500,000 20-year 6 1-2 per cent convertible sinking fund gold debentures due 1948.

In addition to the tunnel proper, which will be in operation early in 1930, the company owns valuable parcels of downtown real estate in Detroit and Windsor, of such size as to meet terminal requirements and to permit of future development of revenue-producing facilities, such as office, hotel and other commercial building.

Messrs. Parsons, Klapp, Brickerhoff and Douglass, engineers, estimate earnings in excess of $1 per share on this common stock from the operation of one tube.

With the increase of population in Detroit of 50 per cent since 1920, and an increase of 140 per cent in Windsor over the same period, some idea may be gained of the rapidly-growing communities this tunnel will serve.

Improperly prepared and addressed mail causes a loss to the Post Office Department and users of the mails of $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 annually.

BELL WORKERS GO TO COBOURG

Over Hundred From the Local District Attend Picnic At Lake

REPRESENT 9 CENTRES

The staff and operators of the Bell Telephone Company in Peterborough District motored to Victoria Park at Cobourg yesterday for their annual picnic. Seventy members from Peterborough attended the gathering, while there were representatives from Lindsay, Brighton, Cobourg, Port Hope, Campbellford, Norwood, Hastings and Havelock, swelling the total to well over a hundred.

The weather was ideal and everyone was in a happy mood, the combination of which, with the addition of the splendid refreshments provided by the ladies, culminated in perhaps the most successful event of this kind that has been held for years.

Softball Games.

In the attractions that were offered there were two headliners. The premier was a softball game between Bob Lundy's undefeated champions and Herb Wilson's Doormats, the latter taking the fixture by an uncertain score. The line-up shifted to such a great extent that one of the scorebooks which was used in keeping track of the players, was lost in the excitement, and a list of the players cannot be given.

Tug-of-War.

The second feature was a tug-of-war between the teams captained by by Tom Sproat and Ray Morrow—the first named winning the honors of the hempen cord. The personnel of the team was Messrs. Sproat, Johnson, Berry, L. Adlam, W. Adlam, Merrit, Rose, Gridland, Thomas, Lundy, Pearse and Board.

In the standard events the winners were:

Married men's race: G Jackson.

Married ladies' race: Mrs. Meritt.

Single men's race: Mr. Metcalfe.

Single ladies' race: Miss Armstrong.

Supper was served about seven o'clock after which some of the party returned home while others stayed to dance and later in the evening to take a swim in Lake Ontario.

The committee in charge of the program was E. Watson, (convenor); Misses M.Messey and V.MacInnis and Mr. M. Smythe.

WHEAT PRICES

higher than yesterday's close. The rally established new peak prices for the year. December wheat reached $1.57, Sept. $1.51¼, and July $1.46¼.

Opening wheat prices were $1.46 to $1.47 for September delivery, and $1.52 to $1.52½ for December.

The swift advance of prices in the last few days had invited profit-taking, and when Liverpool turned downhill, selling orders were promptly unloaded into the market here. Good weather in the Argentine wheat belt was also a bearish influence.

THOS. RUTH TAKES NEW PAIGE AGENCY

Becomes Well Known During 15 Years as Implement Agent.

Farmers throughout the County and the surrounding district will regret to learn of the withdrawal this week of Thomas H. Ruth from the farm implement business in which he has been engaged for many years. Fifteen years ago he commenced business in a shop on Hunter street east, and after locating for a year on Water street, set up shop in his present situation on Simcoe street opposite the Montgomery Hotel. In the course of his work Mr. Ruth became acquainted with most of the farmers in this district and gained their respect in his business dealings.

Mr. Ruth has been handling the Cockshutt and the Frost and Wood agencies, and these will now be taken over by P. R. Patterson on Water street. The agency for the Graham-Paige automobile for Peterborough has been taken by Mr. Ruth in company with his son, and in his new enterprise he hopes to serve his district as before, looking forward to the patronage of his old customers. Mr. Ruth believes that the Graham-Paige will meet with the approval of discerning car buyers.

Mr. Ruth says that in the course of his farm trade of the last fifteen years he has noted a gradual agricultural progress in the district. The farmers of the district have been adopting the more modern implements of farming but in this respect have been somewhat slower than the farmers farther south in the province.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC AT MOIRA

Orange Order Hears Fine Talk on China By Returned Missionary

CHINESE VERY POOR

CROOKSTON, July 18 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Sunday School Executive of Bethesda Church has gratefully accepted the invitation of Mr. Frank Dafoe of Madoc to hold their annual picnic at his cottage on Moira Lake on Wednesday, July 24. The young people are looking forward to this happy event, and a general invitation is extended to all in this locality who can make it convenient to join them on that day.

The local branch of the L.O.B.A. also the members and friends of the Orange Order met in Bethesda United Church at 3 o'clock on Sunday for divine worship. The church was filled and a very interesting service was held, it being also the occasion of a visit to this church of Mrs. Dickinson, wife of the Rev. Frank Dickinson of Chengtu University, China, who with his family are in Canada on furlough, and who expect to sail from Halifax on August 3, returning to China via England, in September.

Mrs. Dickinson's address was intensely interesting. She began by describing the wonderful beauty and fertility of the Province of Szechwan, of which Chengtu is the capital, where many of our highly prized house plants grow wild in profusion, where 85 per cent. of the people are engaged in agriculture, the climate being such that they have two crops in a year, but in spite of all this, because of their lack of science in agriculture, there is extreme poverty. In this situation they had discovered a contact with the people, and in recent years Mr. Dickinson and others have been engaged more particularly in helping those people to learn better methods of farming, and through this contact, being able to minister to their spiritual needs as well.

Following this address, the pastor, Rev. J. N. Lovelace, spoke briefly, more particularly to the lodges assembled, and concluded the service as is customary on such occasions.

—now read what this delighted housewife says:

"I used to use bar soaps on washday and even with hard scrubbing my clothes never turned out so white as they do now that I let Rinso soak the dirt out for me!

"You don't even have to boil clothes now, they always come out of the safe, creamy Rinso suds so snowy and sweet!

"Rinso really is a bargain, because a little does so much. That's why I use it for dishes and all my cleaning."

Mrs. E. DOYLE.

The new, rich, heavy suds you get from Rinso in washer or tub loosen the dirt while the clothes are soaking. In scores of letters, delighted users of Rinso say they never scrub or boil clothes now, yet they get a whiter wash and clothes last longer. Remember, Rinso is all you need for the family wash. HEAVY HAY CROP IS HARVESTED

Haying Is Almost Completed In Township Of South Monaghan

WHEAT IS GOOD

BALLIEBORO, July 18 (Examiner Correspondence).—The major portion of the hay crop in this district is now under cover, and a few fine days will almost complete the haying season.

An exceptionally heavy hay crop is being harvested. In many fields the crop is yielding as high as five loads per acre.

The alsike and fall wheat are ripening very fast. The farmers will be busily engaged cutting these crops by next week. Up to date, both alsike and wheat are promising to be a good crop in the township, and as yet there has been no report of any pests having interfered with the crops in this district.

Highway Completed.

The stretch of highway No. 28, between Bewdley and Fraserville, which has been under construction, is completed. The construction gang are now paving from the highway to Millbrook. The new road will add much to the enjoyment of motorists.

On Monday night Ballieboro baseball team defeated Garden Hill 5-4 in an East Durham Tuxis League fixture.

ONLY TWO KIDDIES IN CHILDREN'S AID

Prosperity in Neighborhood Means Slack Time for Shelter.

The Children's Shelter has only two children in its care at the present time, John Edgar, the superintendent of the Children's Aid Society states. This is the lowest number that has been under the care of the institution for many years, there being as low as five and six, but never as low as two. This reflects on the fact that there is a period of prosperity at the present time in this locality. When there is plenty of employment the number of children requiring shelter is always smaller, Mr. Edgar said. In summer time there are fewer than in winter, generally, for there is more work to be had by the parents.

In July last year there were nine at the Shelter. The average for the past year was about fifteen children. These were mostly boys for whom it is more difficult to find homes than for girls as women when adopting children more often prefer girls. The average age of the children is about seven years.

The two remaining at the Shelter at present are both boys. The superindeavoring to find a home for these deavoring to finnd a home for these boys where they can get a month's holidays, or permanent homes. He would be very glad to hear of any one willing to undertake this.

TWENTY-THREE WOMEN AT INSTITUTE MEETING

Final Arrangements Are Made For Decoration Day On July 28

OMEMEE, July 17.— (Examiner Correspondence).—The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. S. Faulkner on Thursday afternoon with an attendance of tweny-three. The Orange brethren will have charge of the service and a parade will march from the Orange Hall at 2 o'clock led by the Salvation Army Band of Lindsay and the Women's Institute members.

A representative from the "Wear Ever" Aluminum gave a demonstration, after which all sampled the food provided and cooked by him.

Mrs. D. Rea, Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. T. E. MacPherson were appointed a committee to make inquiry regarding the Women's Institute exhibit at the Lindsay Fall Fair. Two new members were added to the roll.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Sloan, Mrs. C. Davis and Mrs. J. Palmer.

FIREMEN GET FRESH IDEAS

Local Chief Tells of Annual Firemen's Session at Cobourg.

OVER 350 THERE

The outstanding address of the 21st Annual Convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs held in Cobourg last week was that of R. P. McKenzie, the fire chief of the General Motors plant at Oshawa. Fire Chief Gimblett of Peterborough who has returned from the convention in Cobourg states. "It contained information by which all those present could benefit, bringing to light problems and methods of fire control of vital interest to the delegates."

Close to two hundred members of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs attended the conference, representing every section of Canada from coast to coast. Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the association also attended some of the sessions making the total about three hundred and fifty.

The convention opened on July 9 and daily sessions were held up to the close on Friday, the 12th. On Tuesday a boat trip was taken to Rochester where an extensive tour about the city had been arranged by the Rochester fire department. A session was held on the boat during the trip. A banquet was tendered to the delegates Tuesday evening and a dance on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Gimblett President

In re-election of officers for the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. J. Gimblett of this city was honored by being chosen president for the year. Some of the regular sessions were attended by the women but they also held their own sessions.

Officers of the Association chosen for the next year were: President, Chief Phillips of Sault Ste. Marie; first vice-president, Chief Thompson of New Liskeard; second vice-president, Chief R. Gauthier of Montreal; secretary, Chief J. Armstrong of Kingston; treasurer, Chief R. McLeod of Port Arthur and chairman of exhibits, Chief Kapple of Stratford.

The interchange of ideas that was effected between the many fire chiefs at the convention marked it as a success, Chief Gimblett said. Such conferences with fellow-workers are a great aid to all officials, the Chief believes. New ideas are obtained and the old ones are freshened up so that the official returns to his work with a new outlook on his work preventing getting into a rut.

Oshawa System Explained

R. P. McKenzie in his address outlined the work of fire control practised in the General Motors plant at Oshawa. He described the plant and the operations conducted and told of the methods of controlling and preventing fire in all parts of the plant. Many hazards were described that were peculiar to the automobile industry and, on account of their extraordinary nature, proved of interest to the delegates.

In conclusion, Chief McKenzie said: "As a result of considerable experience, in my opinion the greatest protection against fire is a systematic survey that will ensure cleanliness and orderliness throughout the plant at all times. Coupled with this is the necessity to give every facility in the provision of equipment to the Brigade, so that with steady drilling they are able to cope with an emergency that may arise in spite of the best of care."

Firemen's Problems

"Problems for Fire Departments in Municipalities of 50,000 or under" was the subject of an address by Arthur Gaboury, secretary general of the Province of Quebec Safety League. He urged the chiefs at the convention to use their influences in their communities in three different directions. The first was to strive to obtain and hold the good-will of their city or town governments in order that all regulations pertaining to fire fighting and fire protection may be strictly enforced at all times and also that they may be able on occasion to suggest forcefully and successfully such new regulations as may in time be judged necessary or useful.

Secondly, the speaker urged the chiefs to forward the process of educating the citizens to prevent accidents and particularly fires and panics. Mr. Gaboury stressed the importance of education in the matter of risks, claiming that in 90 per cent of the cases of fire there was somewhere a lack of vigilance, a lack of attention, a lack of prudence or even a lack of elementary knowledge. The only way to overcome this element of risk is by a process of education, the speaker reminded his audience.

"In the third place, I ask you, gentlemen, to lift and broaden your outlook so as to take in the future development of our own fire department as the years go by and as your community increases. Your fire fighting equipment must be always up-to-date." The speaker then outlined on the importance of town planning and read matter pertinent to the subject.

Los Angeles Chief Speaks

Valuable information was provided by R. J. Scott, chief engineer, Los Angeles fire department, in his paper, "Salvage Work at Fires and the Equipment Needed". He commented on the difference of salvage methods employed in a small city to those employed in a large city such as Los Angeles. Stressing the importance of salvage, he described the use of salvage covers from experience in his work in Los Angeles.

"It is a simple matter for any fireman or officer to adapt himself to the duties attendant upon a detail to a salvage company, if conditions make such a transfer desirable. Men are made to realize that the business of salvage is just as legitimately a part of the duties of the fire department as is the actual extinguishment of fires. Both activities have the same end in view—that of the preservation of life and property."

MISSIONARY GIVES SPLENDID ADDRESS

Rev. Mr. Haddow Speaker At Sunday Services At Warsaw United Church

(Examiner Correspondence)

WARSAW, July 18.—Rev. Mr. Haddow, a missionary who has spent fourteen years in Bolivia, and who is now in Peterborough on furlough, preached a very inspirational sermon at the United Church on Sunday evening.

Rev. Mr. Haddow spoke on Bolivia and took his scriptural message from Matthew 12. As an introduction, Rev. Mr. Haddow sketched the difference between the early settlers in North and South America.

Bolivia is the last of the ten republics of South America to gain its independence. It has no coast line and much of the country is 12,000 feet above the sea level and to reach his station, Rev. Mr. Haddow must go over heights of 14,000 feet. Although within the tropics, just below the equator, it is cold. The atmosphere at this elevation is hard on the heart, consequently the people are short and heavily built, with large chest expansion.

The people in Bolivia are pagans and since the coming of the Spaniards four hundred years ago, they have become partly Roman. These people know the names of the saints but they are not Christian. There have been many revolutions since 1825 when the people gained their independence.

The population or Bolivia is about thirty-eight million, the people being of a mixed race, although there is large percentage of pure-blood Indians. The Gospel is being received more by the mixed race but it is very slow. No evangelical work, whatever, was done in Bolivia until 1890, when a young woman went out.

The first baptism took place after seven years of missionary work and the following year eight men and six women were baptized. People at home are away behind in vision, else they would see the great need of the gospel going to these people.

W. I. Meets

At the meeting of the Warsaw Women's Institute held in the Institute room on Thursday afternoon, plans were completed for the picnic to be held on August 8, to which all the Institute branches in the district are to be invited.

Each member will bring her own basket, cup, knife, fork and spoon and the Warsaw branch will provide tea, hot and cold water and paper plates. The only money making feature of the picnic will be the booth. A number of sports have been planned and a successful entertainment is assured.

The report of the treasurer, given at this meeting, showed a balance of $67 on hand and the questionnaire regarding maternity work was read with the answers. It was also decided to have the hot dog booth at the school fair.

Garden Notes

Garden vegetables are coming on rapidly and some fine potatoes are being grown in this district. Haymaking is progressing and in some cases the hay is not in a very good condition.

ORANGEMEN CELEBRATE IN HASTINGS

Eighteen Lodges Take Part In Parade On Glorious Twelfth

MANY ADDRESSES

Lakefield Band Heads Grand Procession Through Village

HASTINGS, July 18. — The "glorious Twelfth" was celebrated with 18 lodges on parade. Lakefield, with her three lodges and brass band played an important part in the day's event.

The procession was led by County Master W. H. McMillan, Acting District Master W. J. McMillan, County Marshall Walter Rogers, assisted by other directors of the county, preceded the procession from the Orange Hall, Front street, on the main streets of the village, a march of two miles, to John Stewart's grove.

The marshalls were out early in the morning meeting the lodges who came to join in the celebration.

Days of King William III and the Battle of the Boyne, were brought vividly to mind amid tthe throng of Orangemen and Orange ladies who congregated to help celebrate the day.

County Master W. H. McMillan requested the brethren to remove their hats and cease all music passing the memorial on Memorial ave.

About 800 were in the parade. Lakefield brass band led the procession, followed by L.O.B.A. Northern Light, No. 831, Lakefield Juveniles, L.L.B., Lakefield L.O.L., No. 122; Norwood L.O.L., No. 34; L.O.L. Belmont, No. 277; L.O.L. North Dummer, No. 281; L.O.B.A. Warsaw, No. 865; L.O.L. Warsaw No. 284, L.O.B.A. Havelock, No. 471; L.O.L. Havelock, No. 326; L.O.L., Cordova Mines, No. 520; L.O.L., South Dummer No. 522; L.O.L., Blairton No. 1255; L.O.L. Stanwood, No. 1338; L.O.L. Westwood, No. 2062; L.O.B.A. Hastings, Mons, No. 458, Hastings Juvenile L.O.B.B.A., L.O.L. Hastings, No. 558.

Following the march to the grove, speeches were delivered by the following: County Master W. H. McMillan acting as chairman, and welcomed the visiting brethren most heartily.

Bro. McMillan said he considered it an honor to be elected county master for this term and was very proud indeed to lead such a grand procession through the streets of Hastings. He concluded by saying that he had more fluent speakers on the platform who could explain Orangeism more fully than he.

Mrs. Alice Sherwin, W.M., of Hastings, Mons, L.O.B.A., welcomed the visiting ladies in a very able manner.

Reeve Dr. W. E. Wilson said he considered it an honor to be called upon to welcome such a large gathering and deemed it a great privilege.

Major Belford commended the L.O.B.A. on the efficient manner which they carry on their work and also spoke at great length Orangeism.

Rev. J. F. Battersby gave a fine address on the work of the L.O.B.A. in connection with L. T. Blue and Orange Home at Richmond Hill, Ont.

Rev. H. J. Bell, M. A., B.D., Hastings, spoke very highly of the Orange Order and dwelt upon the training of the children in the homes, day schools and Sunday schools.

J. I. Adams, Grand Lodge Officer, R. B.P., gave the following address:

It has always been a pleasure to me to attend a 12th of July celebration, for two reasons:

First, One meets his fellowworkers in the cause and enjoys not only the pleasure of social reunion, but derives thought and encouragement from the many keen workers assembled.

Secondly, I like to attend the celebration for what it stands for. It marks one of the great strides in the progress of human liberty. It reminds us that the power of a despotic king was forced to give way to the will of an aroused people.

It assures us that the Spirit of 1690, the spirit that armed our forefathers at the Boyne still lies in the hearts of our people to-day.

Our Order has been marked by incidents which show that it is increasing in esteem and winning in a still larger degree the confidence of Protestants who in the past have been misled, with regards to our aims and objects.

Most of the old prejudices were espoused by enemies for the purpose of weakening our influence in public affairs and have been worn down by the steady persistence of our Order in well doing. This was particularly noticeable in our province.

But it is not only these large outstanding affairs that we have been able to prove the high quality of our institution. Our primary and all other subordinate branches of the Order have shown a higher appreciation of the great principles for which we stand. This has won to our side a larger number of Protestants, who heretofore were indifferent to our association and many actually hostile.

I desire to congratulate the membership of the higher standard that has been brought about in our Order.

I believe that much is yet to be accomplished in the way of attracting to our cause men who do not yet understand the reasons for our existence.

I am equally confident that if we pursue our policy in the same firm manner of the last few years, we will be able in every emergency to have rally behind us practically all the forces of Protestantism within the boundaries of this great Dominion. This cannot be done unless every man in authority; yes, and every L.O.B.A. and every member of our Order realize their personal responsibility, to present our cause in the best and most attractive light by their own conduct and example.

We hope the day of trial may never come, but if it does we believe the men and women of our time will be just as brave and just as earnest, and just as self-sacrificing as those of centuries ago. During the last year our Order has lost some of our highly esteemed members of which I would like to mention the names of two or three: R.W.F.M. Clarke, who for a number of years filled the position of the Grand Secretary of Ontario East most efficiently, has passed on to his reward. But the man who will be most greatly missed is the Most Worshipful Sovereign the late Hon. Dr. Edwards. He was a man of great courage, wholly devoted to the well-being of the Order and the principles for which it stands. His work in the mixed marriage question; in the fight for the western provinces for their natural resources, and for a just and equitable school law produced results that will never be forgotten.

It was my privilege to attend his funeral and the tremendous crowd witnessed to the high esteem in which he was held by the people, and their desire to do honor to his memory.

In closing, I wish to say that I would like to see the day with One Flag, One School, and One Language.

I wish to thank you for the honor you have done me in inviting me to be present with you on this occasion; and I wish the County of East Peterborough in advancing the Orange Order every success.

Miss Ruby Nicoll, W.M., Lakefield nobly addressed the L.O.B.A. Mrs. J. Kinniard, Havelock spoke on the works of L.O.B.A.. Rev. O'Connor-Fenton, Norwood, said he was an Orangeman and was very proud of it, although he didn't belong in this county and spoke highly on the noble work of the order.

Mrs. E. Wrightly, W.M., Havelock, gave a wonderful address on the L.O.B.A. Mrs. Sargeant, W.M., Warsaw gave a talk on the work performed in the Orphanage at Richmond Hill, formerly at Picton. Mrs. Sargeant, expressed her desire to visit the new Orphanage in the near future.

Rv. Howard, Havelock, said he felt it an honor to be privileged to speak in Hastings to such a number of his brethren as were represented. He said the L.O.L. stood for British ideals and connections standing for liberty and freedom that they were all citizens of the British Empire and were taught to worship God. Honor the King and endorse the open Bible.

Robt. John Webster, D.M., Peterborough west, nobly addressed the order, speaking especially on the interests of the children.

Rev. D. A. Thompson D.D., of Hastings, who was away on his vacation sent the County Master, W. H. McMillan a letter, regretting very much that he was unable to be present to address the Brotherhood, also Sir. K.T. Geo. Reid sent a letter stating that through the serious illness of his brother he was unable to be present.

R. Sanderson, D.C.M., Havelock, Mr. J. Kinniard, Mrs. McGill, P.M., Havelock, H. A. Thistlewaite, Past County Master, W. H. Montgomery, P.C.M. Albert Webster, P.C.M., I. Barlow, G.L.O., and Wm. Mathison, P.C.M., owing to the lateness of the hour were unable to speak.

The gathering was dismissed by the band playing and the singing of God Save the King. The lodges marched back to the Orange Hall, County Master W. H. McMillan asked the band to play a few selections for Brother A. N. Scriver who was unable to join the parade, owing to his ill health. The lodges were dismissed in the usual manner.

MISS ELIZABETH BROCK

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, July 18.—On Sunday morning, one who was for many years a respected resident of the village, passed away at the residence of her brother, Joseph in Belmont township, in the person of Miss Elizabeth Brock.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, service at the home being followed by burial in Maple Grove cemetery, Havelock.

MRS. W. J. E. GILLOTT

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, July 18.—The death of Mrs. W. J. E. Gillott (Margaret Grace Brackenridge) occurred at the family homestead, "Welbeck", now the home of her brother, William Brackenridge, Westwood, on Sunday July 14, following an illness extending over a period of several months.

Deceased was a member of a pioneer family of Westwood, her parents the late Mr. and Mrs. John Brackenridge, having both come to Canada from Scotland through "Squire" Brackenridge, the name by which Mrs. Elliott's father became widely known, was in the country and beginning the establishment of a homestead in the vicinity of the community mentioned a few years before the young lady, who afterwards became his bride, arrived in this new land; their acquaintance, however, began in Scotland. For more than eighty years the history of the Brackenridge family has been closely interwoven with that of the village of Westwood and the surrounding district.

No break caused by death occurred in the large family of fifteen children born to Squire and Mrs. Brackenridge until all had grown to young manhood and womanhood. Of the eight sons, two, Matthew and John, predeceased their sister, the six who survive being: Thomas, David, and William, of Westwood; Norman, of Bailieboro; James, of Edmonton; and Hugh, of Vancouver; three sisters, Misses Marian, and Agnes, and Mrs. James Thompson, reside at Westwood, the three whose death occurred before that of Mrs. Gillott being: Mrs. John Kindred, of Zion; Mrs. James Robb, of Belcarras, Sask.; and Miss Janet Brackenridge, who was a teacher in charge of the school in her home town. Mrs. Elliott is survived by her husband.

Thirty-seven years ago the marriage of Margaret Grace Brackenridge and William J. E. Gillott took place at the family homestead, "Welbeck", the late Dr. S. W. Clarke acting as groomsman, and Miss Clara Cairns being the bride's attendant for the ceremony; previous to her marriage, Mrs. Gillott had resided in Millbrook for about three years.

A lifelong member of the Presbyterian church, and faithful in attendance, Mrs. Gillott was always actively interested in the welfare of her place of worship, frequently opening her home for meetings of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary in which for a time she held the office of president, and of the Women's League, to both of which organizations she gave practical and undivided allegiance; she was also a member of the adult Bible class in the Sunday school. The solid oak communion table within the altar of Grace church was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Gillott.

It was owing to increasing ill health, and the desire more readily to give the care and service required, that Mrs. Elliott's sisters had her removed to their home at Westwood, more than two months ago, where her death occurred. The funeral took place on Tuesday, a brief service being conducted at "Wellbeck" at 11 a. m. by Rev. Walter McClary, pastor of Westwood Presbyterian church, in the presence of a large gathering of friends; the remains were then brought to Millbrook where Grace Presbyterian church was completely filled at 2 o'clock, the minister, Rev. John Riddell, giving the address, and Rev. Mr. McClary reading the scripture lesson and offering prayer; the hymns chosen, by request, were; "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go", and "Abide With Me".

The pall-bearers were six nephews: William, and James Thompson; Clayton, Charles, and John Brackenridge, and Charles Kindred; interment was in the Presbyterian cemetery, Millbrook. There were many beautiful floral tributes, and besides those from her husband and the immediate members of her family, and from intimate friends, were wreaths from Grace Presbyterian church; the Westwood Presbyterian church; the Women's Institute, Millbrook; Stoddart and sons, Woodville; the Guelph Casket Company; Comstocks, Peterborough; the Dominion Manufacturers Limited, Toronto; and Jordans, Peterborough.

Among those from outside who attended the funeral were: Messrs. Robert Fair, Jas. Fair, Miss Fair, John Reid, Mr. and Mrs. William Cathcart, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stewart, H. G. Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Trotter, of Peterborough; representing the Peterborough Fire Department were; Messrs. E. Jones, A. Rose, J. Hassell, and J. Finney; J. McMillan, Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. J. Stoddart, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McLeod, and Mr. M. Dixon, on Woodville; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brackenridge, Miss Agnes Brackenridge, and Miss Edna Johnston, of Bailieboro; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gillson, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gillson, of Little Britain; Mr. and Mrs. Bert McCullough, and Mr. B. George, Port Hope; Mr. John Kindred, Miss Bella Rutherford, Mr. Charles and Miss Jean Kindred, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Brackenridge, Mr. and Mrs. David Brackenridge, Miss Jane Thompson, Misses Agnes and Marian Brackenridge, Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brackenridge, Mr. and Mrs. William Brackenridge, James Thompson, Mr. Clayton and Miss Mary Brackenridge, Charles Evans, James Sargeant, and James Leaitch, of Westwood.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

A TELEPHONE call came into the office last week regarding mildew, and how it could be removed. Precaution is the best preventive against clothes getting mildewed, because the spots caused by mildew are not easy to remove.

• • •

Mildew spots are caused by dampness combined with heat, this is why it appears more often in summer than in winter. Fortunately by knowing the causes for the trouble it can be guarded against.

• • •

Clothes that have been sprinkled and rolled to iron, and there has been no opportunity to finish laundering them, should not be left dampened. Unroll the pieces and leave them where they will dry out quickly and when they are thoroughly dry they can be put away for an indefinite time without harm or they may be dampened again shortly, when there will be time to iron them.

• • •

Another thing it is well for a housewife to remember is never to put damp towels in soiled clothes hampers or bags. Leave them spread out until they are dry and then toss them into the basket. If the towels are damp when cast into the hamper, not only is there danger of them getting mildewed but the things which they touch are also likely to get spotted.

• • •

Mildew is not a stain but a species of mold that grows from the wee spots of grey-blue, or black until it spreads over damp textiles. If left long enough this mold gets into the very fibre of textiles and eventually destroys them—it is necessary to remove the small spots soon after they appear or they may never come out.

• • •

There are several ways of removing mildew. Fresh spots can be removed frequently by thoroughly washing the articles in soap and water, and then laundering them in the usual way. Dry in the sun and its penetrating rays will aid in removing the spots.

• • •

Oftentimes sour milk and lemon juice are two acids that can be used with success, provided the spots are light. Soak the spotted parts in sour milk for ten or twelve hours, then dry in the sun without rinsing. When using lemon juice moisten the spotted places with the juice and dry in hot sunlight. In each instance repeat the process several times if spots do not disappear with the first treatment.

• • •

Javelle water can be used on white textiles. Stretch the marked portion of the textile over a bowl and using a medicine dropper, drop the liquid onto the spots. After one minute apply a solution of oxalic acid to neutralize the javelle water, and then rinse in clear water. Repeat the rinsing in several waters until all trace of the two solutions have disappeared. Unless this is done the fabric will rot.

• • •

Do not use this method or removing mildew spots from silk or wool, but only on white linen or cotton goods.

• • •

Another method to use in the advance stages, however, is to steep the goods in a weak solution of chloride of lime for half an hour, then transfer to a solution of one ounce hyposulphite of soda to a gallon of water to check the action of the lime, and rinse in clear water. To prepare the lime solution stir two teaspoons of chloride of lime into a pint of water in a glass dish or earthen bowl; allow to settle, then pour off the clear portion. Add a few drops of vinegar.

• • •

Especially at the cottage where ironing is a more difficult problem than where electricity can be obtained, special care should be taken when clothes are dampened. There are a number of things which may be used unironed such as sheets, pillow cases, etc.,—of course, maybe your mother alwayd did teach you to iron them, but when you are miles from your electric iron and are able to put them back on the bed for use that night, what's the use of spending the time in ironing them?

• • •

When one goes to a cottage it is to get away from the work and worry of the year, so why do more than is necessary?

CITIZENSHIP DENIED ALREADY ONE TWICE

Woman Married Two Americans And Then Applied for Naturalization.

BROCKLYN, Mass., July 18.—Mrs. Leota Almena Colby, of this city, a native of Nova Scotia, petitioned Judge Edward T. Broadhurst in a naturalization court here for citizenship and was rejected. Contrary to the general run of such cases it was not because Mrs. Colby was not a desirable but—because she already was a citizen of the United States.

In fact, Mrs. Colby was what might be called a "double-barrelled" citizen for she has twice been married to American citizens. Judge Broadhurst informed Mrs. Colby that dismissal of her petition was simply a reminder that she already possessed naturalization and apparently did not know it.

The judge informed her that her first marriage back in 1919 to a United States citizen automatically made her a citizen and if there was any doubt of that, her second marriage since to another American surely sealed the bargain.

Another applicant rejected by Judge Broadhurst was Trevor Stanley King, a Canadian, who came to this country on a visit but liked the place so well that he forgot to return home. Naturally he overstayed his leave for visitation and now his case becomes a matter of interest to immigration authorities. Judge Broadhurst declined to make him a citizen until he had eliminated the little differences with the Federal Immigration Commission.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

DUE HONOR.

The family was about to start for a ride into the country. The blueberries were ripening on the ledges and father dearly loved a blueberry pie. Mother like to sit on the rocks on the top of the mountain and drink in the wonderful air while she stretched the wings of her spirit and took flight over the horizon. "Just the day for a berrying trip," said he.

"Let's go," said father. "You get the lunch up and I'll get the car ready."

"I'll get it ,dad," said Dan, all acquiver. "You wait and I'll bring her round."

"Never you mind, young man. Just 'tend to your own business. I thought you were hiking to-day?"

"So I am, but I don't start until later. I'll help you and Mom get started."

But Dad would have none of the boy's assistance. Lately Dan had been pushing in where he had no business to be. Had too much to say. Too ready with his opinion. Boys get out of hand mighty quick if you give them the least bit of leeway. Then where were you? Sitting in the back seat.

"Which way you going Dad? You'd better take the main road all the way to the village. Then drive through Frog Hollow to the Long Trail and walk up. You can't."

"Now just a minute. I guess I know my way about these hills. You go'long and take care of yourself. That ought to keep you mighty busy."

"But Dad, listen. Old Charlie told me——"

But Dad was on his way. He took the main road to the turn at the brook and then followed the dirt road in toward the foot of the hill where he thought the berries would be. Half way to the stopping place a brook crossed the road. There was a bridge across the brook and this time there was no crossing that bridge. Nothing was there to indicate there ever had been a bridge except the sign that said, "No crossing. Take road to Tinkertown." Now Tinkertown was twenty miles ahead, after you had gone back seven miles of this bumpy, humpy, dirty road. And after that you climbed the long slope of the hill for the berries.

Dad said nothing eloquently. He backed the car, no easy feat in narrow passageway edged with brush and floored with black forest mud, and headed for Tinkertown. He did not get there. He walked many miles instead and was ingloriously lugged home by Old Charley's flivver.

All the way home Dad was very thoughtful. Mother was very silent. Dad spoke first. "Well, Sarah, I'm going to tell the kid he was right. He wanted to tell me and I wouldn't let him. After this, honor where honor is due. Kid gets his chance to say his word and we'll respect it as if he were a hindered. Eh?"

Mother only smiled,—but it was the happiest smile Dad had seen in a cat's lifetime.

That Body of Yours

(By Jas. W. Barton, M.D.)

RESTLESS CHILDREN.

When you see a youngster misbehaving in public to the embarrassment of the parents, you wonder whether it is the child or the parents that need guiding.

Investigation would often show that the youngster's antics are not due to the fact that the parents have "spared the rod and spoiled the child."

The youngster is often of a high strung nervous disposition and this exhibition of temper or obstinacy is due to some underlying cause.

On the other hand of course, this very nervousness, this tendency to emotion so upsets the natural processes of the body, such as digestion and absorption of food, that in time restlessness is produced.

Now it has been found that in these youngsters after one of these spells that the sugar in the blood is at a low level, just as in all cases of fatigue.

You will remember that in the Boston Marathon race two years ago, that the very tired runners showed a low level of sugar in the blood. And the ones that showed the most fatigue were really starved for sugar.

Some of the runners the following year ate more sugar and candy previous to the race, and even carried some candy with them to eat during the race.

It has been found that these fretful youngsters have a real acidosis, that is that the alkaline reserve of the blood gets down too low.

With this in mind research men have been cutting down the milk, cream cod liver oil, butter and eggs.

The cereal foods, whole wheat bread, biscuits, sugar, jam, sugar candy, maple sugar, or boiled sweets may be given daily and at meal times.

In addition to this a little baking soda, about one teaspoonful, in all, during the day, is given to offset the tendency to acidosis.

Sometimes there may be some poisoning of the system from bad teeth or tonsils, or some nose condition, by which creating a poison in the blood, gives the same condition of fatigue or tiredness, and restlessness.

The thought then is that the old idea of giving a sugar stick to a restless child was not really a bribe, but good "medical" treatment.

MARRIES MARQUIS.

Miss Polly Poli, daughter of Sylvester Z. Poli, who has become the Marquire Gerini, marrying the Marquis Lippi Gerini of Florence, Italy. Her father is said to have settled a dowry of $1,000,000 on her. It will be remembered that the American customs officials held her engagement ring in lieu of $7,000 duty.

FASHION SERVICE

The lines of this Lelong coat are remarkably smart, emphasizing the slenderness of its wearer. Brown cloth, trimmed with beige fox is used.

SIMPLICITY IS KEYNOTE OF AFTERNOON COAT.

The French demands simplicity and chic in the coat which she chooses for summer afternoon wear, and in this model I have relied almost wholly upon line for the effect which I wish to achieve. The body of the coat is cut to emphasize the slenderness of its wearer, and the cuffs are cleverly designed. The coat is in brown cloth, with a collar in beige fox.

Holiday toys for the children! The stores have counters filled with them. The seasons bring their changing playthings just as surely as they change the mode of dress and manners.

There are 'Wasp' aeroplanes; little brightly painted air-bird that wind up obligingly with a hidden key. And there are energetic little sand-men who pile up sand in a small bucket and dump it in a big waggon. Red, the color that appeals to children as well as to grown-ups, is noticeable on these toy counters. The little tin pails with sand shovels, are painted red. There is vermilion in the bright, hard surfaces of rubber balls. Crimson and carmine and rose have their way in the inflated balloons that never lose their charm for the child. But some of these balloons have a futuristic tint in their colorings, following the modern trend.

Archery is the new game and promises to be very popular with the kiddies. A small bow accompanies a trio of rubber-tipped arrows on a large pasteboard. "Good for the chest and for the eyes," is the slogan of this old-time bit of warfare that recalls the "Yew, bow, the true bow" of Merrie England, in the times when Robin Hood and Maid Marian made love in Sherwood Forest.

Large balls that have differently-colored sections on their surfaces and a balloon on their insides that makes them float easily on top of the water, are a popular toy. There are little dressed-up nigger babies and coal-black cats with ferocious smiles and wiggly tails. And there are fascinating little star-shaped things made of pink and white celluloid that whirl amiably in the breeze. A new rattle for Junior looks like his mother's long-handled powder-puff. It also resembles a celluloid horn and the opening end has a screen that holds the tiny clattering rattles.

The eternal feminine rules supreme. Even though women want to dress like men, most of them are not averse to adding a little touch that proclaims the sex that has the peacock tendencies.

A smart young lady appeared on George street on a recent morning, wearing a costume that turned many heads in her direction as she passed by.

She had donned a "Huckleberry Finn" suit; one of those overall and blouse effects that are just like the dress of the famous character of fiction. The overalls were ankle-length and were of green denim or some similar, hard-surfaced material. The blouse behind the jumper top was white and short-sleeved. This was quite all right for an outing dress, but she wore with it a very small pair of high-heeled green kid slippers and a tiny green velvet beret tam! The effect was distinctly ornamental but decidedly not useful, at least as far as the slippers and headgear were concerned.

He was a very tiny boy of about three years of age. His adult companion, with the amiable desire to create some sort of conversation, had asked him if he would come and live at his house, where there were no children. The child shook his head.

"Well, then, do you know where I can get a little boy like you?" persisted his questioner.

"Ask Dod," replied the youngster, with the triumphant faith of serene childhood.

MARTYR'S WIFE GETS PENSION

Dr. Williams Died Through His Work For X-Ray Advancement

RECEIVED CARNEGIE MEDAL

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, July 18. — A pension of $250 to Mrs. E. W. Williams recorded in the civil list to-day recalls the tragic fate of another martyr of science. The late Dr. G. C. W. Williams, her husband, was one of the pioneers in x-Ray work. Graduating shortly after Prof. Roetgen discovered the Roentgen rays, Dr. Williams gave his life in applying the X-Ray to alleviation of suffering.

Soon after the world war broke out Dr. Williams threw up his practice to join the Royal Army Medical Corps. His association with septic war cases accentuated the effect of the rays on his own system. Working to alleviate suffering he himself suffered acutely, going through operation after operation. Even after the whole of his right hand and most of his left hand, had been removed, he continued his work, interviewing ex-service men and studying their cases.

Dr. Williams was himself given a civil list pension of $250 and at the same time the trustees of the Carengie Fund gave him $750 a year, and the fund's highest award, the bronze medal.

Mrs. E. F. Sims, widow of George R. Sims, who was in his time one of the best known journalists in Lon- also receives a civil list pension 50.

"With Sun... on ... possible to have a more attractive home, a more extensive, up-to-date wardrobe, at small expense. Bright, colourful Sunset helped me transform a rather colourless home. Gay curtains, harmonious draperies and pillows, and rejuvenated rugs put the sparkle of newness into old rooms. I have dyed unbleached muslin and other inexpensive fabrics, and the results have been surprising. Unbleached muslin especially looked like expensive material. I toned down a highly coloured rug, rehabilitated several bedrooms with colourful bed draperies, curtains and cushions, and coloured linens for the dining room.

"Besides being economical, Sunset is a great time saver. From my old dresses, I frequently make garments for the children. Sunset-dye them and they cease to be despised 'hand me downs.' I brighten their faded sweaters, hose, and 'off colour' bathing suits. In kindergarten work, Sunset is ideal for colouring wooden heads, pegs, raffia and baskets, for colouring sand for project work, and for picture tinting. Using Sunset is the simplest, quickest, and most economical way I know of to beautify and brighten home and wardrobe. It has saved me many a dollar, and created an atmosphere of cheer in our home." — Mrs. M. Burns.

For fast dyeing use Sunset, 15 cents a cake. For beautiful tinting use Dytint, wonderful new tint, big box, 10 cents. Made in Canada.

MARRIAGE VALID IN FRANCE HOLDS SAME ALSO IN QUEBEC

Montreal Woman Gets Alimony After Three-Year Fight To Null Marriage

TWO COURTS INVOLVED

LONDON, July 18. — (Canadian Press Cable).—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council yesterday decided that a marriage in France between persons domiciled in Quebec Province, if void under French law, is also void in Quebec.

Consequently they allowed the appeal of Eugene Berthiaume, formerly connected with a Montreal newspaper, from the decision of a Quebec court that his marriage to Marie Yvonne Barteuse, of Montreal, was valid. The Quebec court had directed payment of $1,500 monthly alimony.

Their Lordships of the Privy Council were agreed there was perfect good faith on the part of the woman in prosecuting her claims in France and Canada, and directed the order for alimony made in Quebec should stand.

The parties went through a form of marriage before the Vicat of Auteuil, France, in 1913, without having previously been married before a civil officer. The marriage was thus admittedly null in French law.

The case has become celebrated since Miss Barteuse took action in the French courts nearly three years ago for $200,000 damages and a declaration she was entitled to the civil rights of a married woman. The French courts, however, ruled it was a matter for the Canadian courts to deal with, and consequently the case went to Quebec, with an adverse decision for Berthiaume.

Lord Dunedin delivered the Privy Council's judgment yesterday. He said the girl, who graduated from a convent in Montreal in 1913, at the age of 17, then went on a trip to Europe where she met Berthiaume. The couple were married and lived as man and wife, the judgment continued, until 1926, when the wife applied for divorce at Paris on the ground of alleged infidelity of her husband. The court declined to proceed with the case as a religious ceremony had been performed without the issuance of a marriage certificate.

Failing to get her claim recognized in France, the girl took action in the Supreme Court of the Montreal district, Lord Dunedin continued, and this court held the marriage was valid, pronounced a decree of separation and granted the woman $1,500 monthly alimony. The judgment, on appeal, was upheld by a majority.

Lord Dunedin declared if the so-called marriage were no marriage in the place where it was celebrated, then there was no marriage anywhere. Their Lordships agreed there was perfect good faith on the part of the woman. She was entitled to alimony and the judgment for alimony would stand.

LABOR DEFEATS HELD OVER BILL

Had Conservative Majority But Held In House Of Lords

DEBATE SHORT

LONDON, July 18.— (Canadian Press.—The House of Commons last night reversed some more legislation of the late Conservative Party Government. Two bills which had been left over because they had failed to pass the House of Lords before dissolution of parliament were defeated, 295 to 172.

The bills provided for co-ordination of London passenger traffic by giving control of the London County Council Tramway System to the General Omnibus and Tube Companies. Both had been put through the old House by the Conservative majority in the face of opposition from Labor and Liberal parties. Only a brief debate preceded the reversal vote last night.

HURRICANE SWEEPS NORTHLAND WRECKING GOVERNMENT PLANES

Maxwell's Moth Starts Mystery When It Disappears On Weagamow Lake

PLANES TO FIGHT FIRES

TORONTO, Ont., July 18 (Canadian Press).—A storm of near hurricane proportions rushing down from the north-west, swept the Sioux Lookout-Longlac area yesterday and was still blowing with little abatement, according to word reaching here last night.

First intimation of the storm came in a message received by Captain W. Roy Maxwell, Ontario Director of Air Service, from Pilot Dawson at Longlac, who is flying on a map survey in that district.

Pilot Dawson said that two planes had been blown completely out of their moorings and so badly damaged that one machine is beyond repair.

SIOUX LOOKOUT, July 18 (Canadian Press).—W. C. Cain, Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, is gradually gaining strength after his severe abdominal attack. He expects to be walking by the end of this week, preparatory to the journey home to Toronto.

Lieutenant Kingsley Rose, pilot of the plane which crashed on Lake St. Joe with one casualty, is also on the road to recovery.

It is reported that Major R. E. Nicolls, head of the north-western branch of the Provincial Air Service, has been unable to discover on Weagamon Lake, the Moth plane which captain Roy Maxwell, accompanied by Mr. Cain, flew last week from Big Trout Lake in the direction of Landsdowne House, north of Fort Hope. Something must be done to recover the plane, as every available ship is at present occupied in the business of fighting fires now beginning to rage in certain parts of the Patricia district.

Snuff Comes Back; Where Does It Go?

Is the use of snuff one of the habits of bygone generations that has disappeared? Read the figures as presented in the monthly organ of the Department of National Revenue:

Snuff is going up again, at least the consumption of it is. It displayed signs of falling off in popularity, but the latest statistics of the Excise division of the Department of National Revenue, show that 82,946 pounds of this commodity were entered for consumption in Canada during May last. That is 6,000 pounds more than in May, 1928. Where it all goes to is more or less of a mystery, but the fact remains that the consumption of this powdered form of tobacco goes on apace. Who goes snuff in this year of grace 1929? There is the pinch.

CORONER'S JUR FREES DRIV

Verdict Of Accidental Deat Returned At Newmarket

HAS CLEAN RECORD

TORONTO, Ont., July 18 (Canadian Press). — A verdict of unavoidable accidental death was returned last night by a coroner's jury inquiring into the death on July 9 of Mrs. Sydney H. Logan, wife of the general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who was killed in a motor accident on Yonge Street a few miles north of Bradford.

John Illingsworth, Toronto, who was driving Mrs. Logan's car when it was struck by another and thrown into the ditch, was exonerated by this verdict.

"I cannot understand this verdict at all," said Coroner Dr. J. H. Wesley, Newmarket. "It is strange to me how you came to such a verdict."

The foreman of the jury said that evidence showed Illingsworth possessed a clean traffic record and was indisputably a careful driver. The roads were bad during the storm and visibility was poor, said the foreman, "and this was clearly one of those accidents which can happen once to anyone."

LAST WET GOODS ARE RECEIVED

Sir Esme Howard Well Aware of Trend of Times

DEAD SOLDIERS ON GUARD

OTTAWA, Ont., July 17. — Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador at Washington, and dean of the Diplomatic Corps there, recently caused considerable comment when he announced that no future importations of liquor by the British Embassy would be made during his term of office. This was later modified slightly to permit the receipt of a number of shipments that had started on their journey before the ban was placed on spirits, but these are the last wet goods that will be placed in the Embassy cellars.

Sir Esme Howard has been well aware of the trend of the times as regards liquor for many years. His exalted position has prevented him from voicing opinions which would surely conflict with those held either by the "drys" or the "wets," but this has not kept him from making an occasional ironical observation at informal gatherings.

When he visited the Pacific Coast a couple of years ago Sir Esme addressed the Canadian Club in Vancouver. His speech dwelt at some length on international amity and the cordial relations between Canada and the United States. The inevitable reference to the three-thousand mile boundary line without a fort or a cannon had to be delivered with the usual hearty applause. And then with a dry smile Sir Esme proceeded:

"How could there be any serious trouble between these two great nations? There are no standing armies to challenge each other; there are no sentries patrolling to and fro; there are no spies on evil bent. In all the world's history, gentlemen, there is no other place exactly like the forty-ninth parallel. . . . It is the only international boundary line that is guarded constantly by 'dead soldiers.'"

The roar of laughter that followed this sally showed clearly enough that all the members of the audience recognized "dead soldiers" as a familiar term for an empty liquor bottle, left behind by United States tourists returning home to the land of the free.

Rays Gain Lakeshore League Lead

IBEY'S FINE PITCHING RESULTS IN 4-0 SHUTOUT FOR THE PETES WHO ARE HELD TO 5 SAFE HITS

Ex - Hastings Righthander Hooks Swanston Crew Into Submission.

NICE FIELDING

Both Teams Play Smart Ball in One of Best Games of Year.

(By F. D. C.)

A Mister Ibey, sometime of Hastings, helped materially in shooting the Petes further down in the Central Ontario race by hooking them into subjection in a league fixture at Deloro yesterday. President Bob Elliott's athletes winning by 4 to 0 and obtaining revenge for the dose of whitewash they absorbed in their last appearance here.

Ibey, when right, is a tough hombre and he was right yesterday with a fast-breaking hook that the Petes could do little with. Five widely-scattered hits representing the sum total of their club swinging. They were in a position to score several times but Ibey had too much stuff for the losers in the pinches when a safe blow would have meant a score.

Angie Macdonald did the gunning for the Petes and made a smart job of it, too—the box score failing to give a real picture of the good work of the southpaw. He was the victim of several tough breaks. Deloro's first run being the result of the failure of Rose to tag a base stealer who was beaten to the bag by Swanston's throw, and then three counters in the eighth being shot over on several decidedly lucky hits and an error.

It was a real battle.

There was nothing that looked like a score until Deloro crashed through for a run in the sixth after two men were out. Smart base running by Bob Elliott was directly responsible for this count. Elliott singled with two out and started to steal on the first ball. Swanston made a perfect throw that beat the Kingston boy to the bag but he cleverly ducked under Rose and made second untouched. The next minute he was winging home on Jimmy Hughes' long double. Elliott's base running counted again in the eighth, when he scored from second behind Regan on an infield hit.

That was a tough inning for Macdonald for a scratch hit, a hit batsman and an error filled the bases with one out and Quinn's lucky rap back to the box that bad-hopped into a hit scoring two runs might just as easily have ended in a double play to retire the side.

There was some smart fielding on both sides. George Scott and Elliott for Deloro handled hard-hit ground balls cleverly, while Jake Hall and Red Hollingsworth contributed outstanding catches for the Petes and collaborated in a lightning fast relay that cut down a base runner.

The Petes were short-handed yesterday, with Jimmy Hall away on his holidays; Hap Harrison out of the game with a bad knee, and both Heckman and Hardill absentees.

HOW IT HAPPENED

In the first innings Jake Hall rolled to Ibey. Rose struck out. Swanston walked but was forced by Ash.

For Deloro, Regan singled to left, went to second on Buck's sacrifice and to third after Jake Hall had made a nice catch of Elliott's long fly. Hughes was thrown out by Macdonald.

In the second, Red Hollingsworth singled off Ibey's glove and went to second on Legon's sacrifice. Len Hollingsworth was thrown out by G. Scott and Macdonald by Regan.

Quinn beat out a bunt to start Deloro's half, but W. Scott popped to Red Hollingsworth and Quinn was doubled out when G. Scott also lined into Hollingsworth's hands.

Johnston singled to centre in the third, but Jake Hall flied to Buck on a tap to G. Scott and Swanston rolled to Elliott.

For Deloro, Ralph was thrown out by Rose, a nice play by the second baseman who slipped as he fielded the ball. Red Hollingsworth tossed out Ibey and Regan fanned.

Ash flied to W. Scott to start the fourth, and Red Hollingsworth fanned. Legon doubled to left. W. Scott misjudging the long drive. Len Hollingsworth's hot shot was right at G. Scott.

Ibey struck out Macdonald, Johnston and Jack Hall in a row in the fifth and Deloro also went out in order, Macdonald tossing out George Scott, Ralph flying to Len Hollingsworth, and Ibey fanning.

The Petes had a nice chance in the sixth. Rose was tossed out by Regan. Swanston drew a pass, and after Ash had flied to Buck, Red Hollingsworth doubled to left centre, sending Swanston to third. Legon's best was a roller to G. Scott, retiring the side.

The Smelters broke the deadlock in their half. Regan was thrown out by Johnston and Buck flied to Ash. Elliott singled to centre and stole second. Swanston's throw beat him there, but he cleverly ducked under Rose and was safe. Hughes doubled to deep centre to send Elliott home with the first run of the game. Quinn grounded to Ash.

In the seventh Len Hollingsworth fanned. Macdonald flied to W. Scott. Johnston walked, but Hall rolled to Elliott.

In the Deloro half W. Scott flied to Hall. George Scott singled to left but was nipped at second, Hall to Hollingsworth to Rose in a fast relay when he tried to stretch it into a double. Ralph got a life when Macdonald, covering first on a rap toward right field, dropped. Rose's throw. Ibey flied to Red Hollingsworth.

Rose, first up in the eighth, fanned. Swanston rolled to Ibey and Ash struck out.

Deloro put the game on ice. Regan singled past Hollingsworth. Buck popped to Ash. Elliott was hit and Hughes was safe on Red Hollingsworth's error filling the bases. Quinn singled on a bad hopper past the box which Macdonald knocked down and recovered too late to get the decision at first. Regan scored on the play and Elliott, by daring base running, also registered. W. Scott popped to Red Hollingsworth. G. Scott dropped a soft two-bagger on the right field foul line to score Hughes. Ralph grounded to Ash.

Red Hollingsworth, first up in the ninth, was hit. Legon was called out on strikes. Len Hollingsworth singled over second. Macdonald's roller to Hughes advanced the runners but Beavis, batting for Johnston, rolled to Ibey for the final out.

JOE SAMUELS WINS HIS SIXTH GAME

Leafs Winners In Second Game Of Reading Doubleheader By 4-3 Count

TORONTO, Ont., July 18.—(Canadian Press)—Joe Samuels pitched the Leafs to a 4-3 victory over the Reading Keys in the second game of yesterday's double-header, and it was the sixth consecutive win for the young righthander who performed for Scranton in the New York-Penna loop last season.

The Leafs lost the first part of the matinee program 7 to 2 after going into the ninth and last inning leading 2 to 1. It was the fourth straight doubleheader that the home folks have shared evenly with their visitors.

PACKERS TWO, DELORO NONE; PHELAN TROPHY

Cup Style Play Was Unproductive Of Any Interest. Poor Shooting

GREEN BRILLIANT

N. Downer And Craig Tallied For Local Eleven In Second Period

The Canadian Packing team went into the final of the Phelan Charity Cup, last evening, when they defeated Deloro to the tune of two goals to nothing in a dilatory game that was unproductive of any interest, because the players indulged in the kick-and-rush style of play. It was only during the last fifteen minutes that any soccer of real interest was played. N. Downer and Craig were the marksmen.

Deloro Won Toss

The spin of the coin went in favor of the visitors and they took advantage of the sun at their backs. Buchan set the ball a-rolling to put past repeatedly when in proximity of the goal. Two corner kicks then caused scrimmages in the Deloro territory until W. Brown transferred the play to the other end, where Griffin cleared smartly from Brooks' right footer. Without any success being gained near goal, the players endeavored to walk the ball through, instead of passing to their partner, thereby giving the custodians ample time to clear every attack.

Centre Forwards Energetic

Time and again, the forwards would initiate movements to get inside the defence; in fact, Brown, Deloro, harassed the full back with close dribbling; while Buchan indulged in long swinging passes from wing to wing, where the outside men sent lightning drives into goal, Green handling the efforts with ease.

Erratic Shooting

For the remainder of the first half, Deloro predominated in tactics and openings aplenty that were worthy of a goal but the finishing was very poor. The only marksmen being Wallace of the visitors, who frequently tested the local custodian with long shots, thereby allowing the Deloro men every opportunity to get near the goal, but the score stood the same at the interval—No scoring.

Half Time

The general rest period was welcome because the men were showing signs of pep before the interval. The pace was fast at the resumption, then dwindled away into the kick-and-rush style of play for the remainder of the tussle. Every player reverting to individual tactics which increased the half-backs' efforts through kicking to the touch line; in fact, the ball was oftener out of touch than in play.

A Snappy Goal

After missing a great chance to score from an accurate pass, Downer redeemed his previous error when he connected from a pass by Craig across the goal mouth. Wasting no time he rapped a right footer into the far corner of the net, away out of the reach of Green.

Craig Made No Mistake

Continuous attacking by the Canadian Packing forwards terminated in Preston making a great effort to increase the tally, but Green, Deloro, custodian, made a spectacular save at the corner of the upright. The referee awarded a goal, but the linesmen did not agree with his decision. He reversed the award to a throw-up. From the ensuing play, Craig was placed in possession by Beggs, who sa wthe opening on the other wing and from a rising shot the former made no mistake with his kick when the ball bulged the rigging.

A Very Hard Finish

Nearing the final stage, Deloro made a brilliant attempt to get a counter. The forwards working the combination game to perfection until near goal when they would bang the ball hard, instead of going right ahead to tap it past the goal-keeper. The same thing prevailed at the Deloro goal, except for one occasion when Preston tried to get through the defence that threw him heavily to the ground. Then A. Brown was injured along with the C.P.C. man who required more attention than the latter. They both continued to the end. Near the close, Green saved his team from a heavy defeat, when he held his citadel intact from the fierce onslaught that continued until the end.

Canadian Packing, 2; Deloro, 0.

Goal scorers—Craig and N. Downer.

Canadian Packing—Griffin, goal; Westwood and Downer, full backs; Foster, Craig and Bromley, halfbacks; N. Downer, Beggs, Buchan, Preston and Williams, forwards.

LOCAL RINK WINS HONORS IN CUP PLAY

Dr. Allen Of Peterborough Defeats H. Rosevear Of Port Hope In Competition

SPECTACULAR PLAY

J. Bacon Beats C. Steinhouse of Oshawa In Play For the Warne Trophy

Peterborough carried off the two major honors at the rink competitions of the two day annual bowling tournament that started yesterday on the local green. H. Rosevear of Port Hope was eliminated in a fixture that demonstated the sterling qualities of the game, by Dr. Allen of Peterborough in the Primary competition for the Stratton Trophy, and J. Bacon took a nip and tuck affair from C. Steinhouse of Oshawa for the Warne Cup and the Consolation.

H. Rosevear entered the finals by virtue of his win in the Stratton Trophy competition from M. Chenhall, whom he held to a few singles which were sparsely scattered through out the rounds, while the Port Hope quartette played steady to win by a 12-4 score.

In the game between Dr. Allen and Mark Bredin, both of Peterborough, the doctor led the baker through the entire game and only allowed him to score at three ends.

Colorful Game.

It was a real colorful game when Peterborough and Port Hope met in the finals, and while the score resulted in a plus of 7 for Dr. Allen on a final result of 19-12, it by no means indicated that it was an easy victory for the local man.

"Hank" Rosear, the skip, was the outstanding player for the visitors, and played such shots as in the third last end when Dr. Allen was counting six around the Kitty when he set a nice bowl in the shot, which later was taken out by Dr. Allen's phenomenal bowling.

Play Spectacular Game.

"Billy" Graslade played the most spectacular game of the two teams, getting one inside in nearly all the ends of the counter. He played second for the locals, while the second for the visitors was playing a heady game only to be nosed out by Greenslade most of the time. It was a fight between shoemakers, as both seconds had this trade, but the Peterboro cobbler was head and shoulders above the Port Hope man.

The game drew a large gallery of spectators and many shots received hearty applause, and it was not until about last two ends it became certain that the Stratton Trophy would stay in the city for the coming year.

R. Downey, practically a novice at the game, and playing his first competition as vice-skip for Dr. Allen, showed veteran form and judgment in giving the green to his men.

Immediately after the game John Mayne presented the cup to the winners and sweaters to his rink, while Mr. Martin had the honor to give the prizes to the runners-up in the tournament.

CONSOLATION TROPHY.

The final score for the consolation trophy of the Warne Cup, was 17-15 in favor of J. Bacon, Peterborough, as against C. Steinhouse of Oshawa. The last game was quite spectacular and played a lot of good bowling, in no doubt until the last bowl was thrown on the green. Although it was in the wee small hours of the morning, the crowd of spectators remained to watch was fairly large and were enthusiastic as nicely placed shots clustered around the jack.

The rinks were comprised of:

Oshawa.	Peterborough.
J. Luke	M .McFadden
C. Johns	M. Dodd
Arleigh	W. Oke
Steinhouse	J. Bacon
Skip 15	Skip 17

In the second round Fox counted on the first five ends before Mayneord tied when the latter skip piloted his rink for six counters to make the score in the along with the sixth end 7-6 for Fox. However Fox stepped out in the seventh and failed to come back with four more and Mayneord added four in the eighth to only lag one behind and after that the spectators witnessed a see-saw slaught affair with Fox, finally coming out one ahead on the final score 14-13.

The Rosevear-Kelcher fixture ended in a blaze of glory for the Port Hope team (Rosevear). After he was lagging on the short end of a 9-6 score at the second last end when six of the eight bowls belonging to his rink clustered around the kitty to put him three counters in the lead and finally to win the game by a 12-10 score.

The rest of the games were not keenly contested as the winners carried off the honors by a large margin.

As a result of the second round Peterborough had three out of four rinks entered in the semi-finals of the Stratton Cup. Rosevear of Port Hope by virtue of his 13-6 win over Bacon of Peterborough was the only out of town quartette to make the grade.

Chenhall had a difficult time keeping ahead of Stanley in the second round. Although he managed to keep in the lead most of the time. Stanley kept hot on his trail, finally tieing the score in the ninth end, but here Chenhall's men showed the mettle and blanked the Port Hopers for the final four rounds pulling out a win by a 12-8 score.

Bredin and Fox, two Peterborough rinks played a nip and tuck affair, with small scoring at each end. Although Fox counted the highest honors by chalking up four counters in the ninth enl, putting him one in the ninth end, putting him one frames when Bredin counted three to Fox's one, taking the fixture by a 9-8 score.

SOFTBALL.

To-night's softball game between Harrisons and Westclox should be a humdinger. Harrisons have not lost a game this season while Westclox have only dropped two games and are right up with the leaders.

Both teams are playing snappy ball at the present time and the fans are assured of a great game. Westclox took Teco into fold Monday night and are right out after Harrison's scalp. Montgomery will likely twirl for Harrisons while Delahaye will most likely dish them up for Westclox.

The game will be played at Central School grounds and will get away at 6.30 sharp.

ROCHESTER, July 18.—(Canadian Press).—Baltimore yesterday again forced the league leaders into the short end of an 8-7 score by timely hitting and base-running. It was the Red Wing's fourth straight loss. After the Orioles had scored three runs in their half of the ninth inning, the Reds Wings staged a rally on their own accord, but fell one run short of tying up the game. Loeff, with three hits in four trips to the plate, was the "big noise", with the stick, but Nuen and Smith with two singles apiece, materially aided their teammates in sealing the victory. Fans Given Thrilling Exhibition During Seven Innings Of Smart Baseball

CLEVER FIELDING

Goodall's Error Allows Raybestos To Score Single Counter of the Game

(By E. A. Outram)

Fielding like big leaguers behind the smooth pitching of Rus. Kitchen the Raybestos club earned a 1 to 0 victory over Oshawa Arabs in a Lakeshore league fixture played at Exhibition Park last evening. As a result of their hard-fought win, Raybestos climbed past Port Hope into the leadership of the league, shoving the Motor City crew back into third place.

Without a doubt it was the classiest exhibition of the summer pastime seen here this season. Both teams extended themselves to the limit in fielding and clouts that ordinarily would have gone as hits were gathered in smartly. The seven innings were crowded with sensational defensive work.

The three errors that were chalked against Oshawa were none of the fielding variety. Maurice Kohen, energetic manager and catcher of the outfit, was responsible for two on throws to catch runners, one was over first and the other was a low peg to second.

An error on Goodall, first baseman allowed Rays to score their single counter. Corrin was on third with two down, when "Shocky" Mein sent down a hot roller to second. It was cleanly handled by McDongall, who played a bang-up game, but Goodall let the throw get away from him after it looked as though Mein was surely out. Corrin tore in on the play.

This does not deteriorate from the Rays win at all, since a decision on the part of A. Schaeffer, umpire-in-chief, had robbed them of a counter in the fourth. With one out, Corrin was on third and Mein sitting on second and Moore at first, when Hickey hit a low fly toward second base. McDougall trapped the ball just as it left the ground, he threw to first getting the Corrin crossed the when discu whether Hick or caught, he returned to pire Schaeffer called both Hi and Corrin out.

Huris Sterling Ball

Young Kitchen was never in difficulties on the mound. Strengthened by the supreme play of his team mates he allowed but two hits of the scratchiest variety. One was a slow roller down first base line which Hickey picked up but the runner eluded him; and the other came when McDougall tossed up H. Nicholls, who was playing in close for a bunt, by smacking a hot one through the corner. Not a runner got to third and the only other two to get on the paths drew walks. He had six strikeouts.

Opposing Kitchen was Gower, a shifty port-sider with a smart change of pace. Gower was touched for seven hits, but he kept them well scattered in all but the fourth innings. He had perfect control issuing never a walk and striking out five.

The tight play along with the fielding features that were tossed in aplenty kept the fans on their toes and at times there were rounds of applause for both sides. "Ike" Batten rose out of the dirt to leap into the air and pick off Crossett's screaming liner; Corrin galloped acres to glove Elliott's foul fly behind first; Crossett speeded behind second to stab Rogers' smacking grounder. These were some of the outstanding plays.

The only real opportunity Oshawa ever had to score came in the third when Frink, first up, walked and went to second on McDougall's hit, after Kokeh had flied out. Little struck out and Crossett was dispatched on a foul fly to H. Nicholls.

The Rays had chances in every innings but the third and fifth. In the first Batten hit and went to second, when Kohen threw over first in an attempt to catch him. Nicholls and Rogers struck out, but Collins hit, while Corrin rolled to second.

Again in the second, after Mein was down on a fly, Moore hit and stole second, but Hickey was retired on strikes and Kitchen grounded to first.

In the fourth the Rays had the bases loaded on three consecutive hits when the call came that spoiled their chances of a score.

Three of the Rays—Collins, Corrin and Moore—had two hits; Moore getting his in two appearances at the plate. Batten got the other safety.

CONSISTENT FIELDING ENABLES KIWANIS TO DEFEAT LOCKWORKS

Clubmen Strengthen Junior League Lead By Reason Of 8-3 Victory

TAKE EARLY LEAD

Consistent fielding gave the Kiwanis Juniors an 8-3 victory over the Lockworks last night at James Stevenson Park, and enabled the winners to strengthen their position at the head of the league, having won four and lost two of the six games played.

The Kiwanis got away to a good start when an error, a walk and single sent two runs in, and they doubled the score in the third to make it four nothing. Another counter in the fifth and two more in the seventh made it look as though the Lockies were due for a whitewash, but a batting rally in the ninth gave them three runs, and the game ended 8-3.

Murray Hartley on shortstop for the winners played his best game of the season, handling every chance with ease and exhibiting a speedy and accurate throw to first that never failed to catch the runner. Together with him, Weir, Gordon and Saunders worked splendidly, and with the exception of a low throw by Saunders, and a grounder which Weir failed to spear, played errorless ball. Jack Hope, playing in centre field for the first time, turned in a great game. A hard hit fly by Hall into centre was gathered in by him and his speedy return throw straight to the catcher caught Burke at the plate, when he was attempting to score. Archie Weir chalked up a nice double play also, by taking Hillier's grounder to tag Burke going to second and catch the runner at first.

Crary pitched the first six innings for the winners allowing six hits and one walk, which the Door-knob Makers failed to capitalize on, and when he retired at the end of the sixth frame after fanning six the score was 4-0. Madill replaced him and had only six batters face him in the seventh and eighth. A double, a single, a walk, an error and a past ball gave the Lockmakers their only tallies in the ninth, but Madill nipped the rally by fanning Hall to retire the side with a man on third.

Dick Murray did the heaving for the losers, allowing seven hits and fanning 7. He walked seven men and this together with the tendency of his teammates to throw the ball all over the lot proved his undoing. Leo Burke was the Babe Ruth for the Lockworks, poling out a three base clout that was the longest hit of the season, together with a double which sent in two runs. Marocco, with one walk, two singles and a stolen base was the next in line, this together with his effective work behind the plate made him a valuable asset to the team.

OSHAWA SERIES OFFERS LOCALS A REAL CHANCE

Petes Can Climb to Second Place by Taking Both Games.

HERE ON SATURDAY

With Oshawa, second placers in the Central loop, as their opposition at James Stevenson Park Saturday the Petes find themselves in a position where they have got to get back to winning ways to have a chance to figure in the play offs.

They have the opportunity before them in the next two games to climb up on even terms with the Motorists for second place as the two clubs meet here Saturday and in Oshawa on Wednesday with the Oshawa team two games in front.

The League standing right now is:

	Won	Lost
Belleville	9	4
Oshawa	7	7
Deloro	7	8
Peterborough	5	9

Saturday's battle here and the fixture in Oshawa next week are therefore of the greatest importance.

If the Petes can take Oshawa twice they will be tied for second place with eight games to go and an excellent chance to finish within the money.

The squad, outside of their terrible game against Belleville here last Saturday, has been playing good ball against some decidedly bad breaks and they are hopeful of hitting their stride and getting back into the hunt again by beating Oshawa here Saturday.

The two teams have so far broken even this season, each winning two games and Saturday's fixture promises to be full of interest. At this distance it looks like Heckman versus Matthews or Ogden as the pitching choice.

RAYBESTOS PREDICTED TO TRAVEL LONG WAY.

If the Raybestos continue to play ball the way they did last evening, fielding their positions 100 per cent., and coming through with sound hits, they will go far in the O.B.A.A. race. The win should give the necessary confidence to Rus. Kitchen, who provided a sterling performance on the mound. His twirling bordered on the no-hit variety, supported by the flying pick-ups of his team mates. The team has showed improvement every time, and with the policy of the management being three practises a week they should cop the honors of the league.

The Raybestos are now sitting on the top of the heap in the Lakeshore loop. Saturday they meet Port Hope, the team that held the leadership until last night, and the game should be an attraction.

FAST E.P.L. GAME TO-MORROW NIGHT.

A game of major importance to both teams is billed for Exhibition Park to-morrow evening, when Cognawagas play Crescents. Things have come to such a pass in the E. P. L., with the fast-travelling Bethany crew away out in front that both the local teams are fighting for a place in the play-offs. This game will do much to decide the issue. Excitement is at fever pitch in both camps and it should be a torrid session.

FINAL DAY FOR BIRTH CERTIFICATES.

The final message has come from headquarters of the City League. All players in the bantam, juvenile and junior series, must have their birth certificates in the hands of the secretary, M. O'Brien, before Saturday, or they will not be allowed to continue playing. The observance of this rule is of grave importance to all teams, since all will need to be at full strength to enter the finals.

MOOSE JUVENILES DECLARED CHAMPIONS.

The Loyal Order of Moose Juvenile team are champions of the city in their group, and are now preparing themselves to enter the O.B.A.A. play-offs. Several regular practises are held weekly and it is reported that the team is now in first class shape to meet the best in the province. Since the beginning of the season they have appeared to be one of the best juvenile outfits ever assembled here.

A series of games have been arranged with the Moose juniors of Belleville as a further test of their ability. The first game will be played here a week from Saturday.

KEEN COMPETITION IN BOWLING TOURNEY.

The tournament now in progress at the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club's greens is one of the most successful ever held here. The competition has been keen and the sportsmanship of the highest order. Every game has been followed with close interest by a large non-partizan gallery.

Peterborough has carried off both the Stratton and Warne trophies—officials of the club would have wished it otherwise—in fact the president in his address expressed the hope that visiting clubs would carry off the awards. Dr. Allen's rink defeated H. Rosevear, of Port Hope, for the Warne Cup, and in one of the best games of the day J. Bacon nosed out C. Steinhouse, of Oshawa, 17-15.

LOCAL CRICKET CLUB DEFEATS CHICAGO.

The local cricket club played smartly yesterday to defeat the visiting Chicago cricketeers 94-92. The Chicago team is made up entirely of Britishers who have made their home in the Windy City. In Chicago a league of ten clubs has been formed which carries on competition and tradition of the great old English game.

The Chicago team on returning from a tour of the city expressed their opinion that Peterborough was a thriving place and they were impressed with its beauty and cleanliness.

YOUNG ENTERS IN CAMPBELLFORD SWIM.

The Marathon swim in connection with Campbellford's Old Home Week celebration, is gaining greater and greater importance with every passing day. The list of entries is impressive and contains the names of all the "famous fish" now training for the Wrigley "wriggle" at the C.N.E.

Some time ago it was vouched that George Young, the hero of the Catalina Channel swim, would be one of the contestants. Entry forms were sent and a few of those who waited eagerly for their return, were beginning to fear that George had made other arrangements. But yesterday his official entry was received.

Thus with these noted swimmers striving for the big purse the success of the swim from a spectacular point of view is practically assured. The people of this district are not strangers to aquatic sports and it is only natuarl to expect a multitude of fans from all over the country to see the big event.

VISITING TEAM DROPS DECISION BY TWO TALLIES

Score Mounts Quickly For Local Club After Disastrous Start

CLEAN BOWLING

American Visitors Much Impressed With the City—Visit Lift Locks

The Peterborough Cricket Club defeated the Chicago C. C. at the Oval yesterday in a most exciting and interesting game by 2 runs; the game first going in one team's favor and then the other's. The Peterborough captain won the toss and elected to bat; the innings opened with Imming and Stuart. After two byes had been scored the first-named was clean bowled; Stuart was also bowled with a beautiful ball at 4, and Mitchell was out at the same total, being given run out on a very close decision.

Dyer, the next man in, started hitting immediately, and with Thorpe keeping his end up, the score rose to 23. In attempting an almost impossible short run, Thrope slipped on the matting and was easily run out. Dyer left immediately after, being bowled by Knights. Five wickets were down for 23 runs—a very small score.

Hamilton joined Wade and some of the finest batting of the afternoon was witnessed. Hamilton playing carefully, while Wade made some brilliant hits. Runs came steadily and the score reached 56 before Hamilton was easily stumped in running out to Smith. Elliott, the next man in, helped the score along to 73 when Wade was given out l.b.w. on a most doubtful decision, as the ball appeared to strike the bastman just below the thigh. The retiring bastman had made 33 in a most refreshing style and was heartily applauded. Elliot kept the score moving steadily along and with some assistance from Combe and Sutcliffe the total finally reached 94. Knights took 4 wickets for 32 runs and Smith 2 for 19.

Chicago opened their innings with Harburg and Smith; with the total at 4 Smith was caught by Dyer in the slips. Butcher and Harburg brought the total to 20, when the latter was clean bowled by Dyer. Middleton soon reached the double figures before returning a ball to the bowler for an easy catch. Harburg continued to bat well, making some beautiful strokes and it was a relief to the local players when he unluckily played on to his wicket, off a good ball of Wade's. The next five wickets fell quickly and with the score at 62 for nine, it looked like a comfortable win for the homsters.

But cricket is a funny game; Cohen and Anty played a most dogged game for the last wicket and the score mounted very slowly despite bowling changes, and when three runs were needed to win Dyer made a catch close to the ground which the umpires could not agree on, and the batsmen was rightly given "not out." Anty, however, touched the next ball into Elliott's safe hands in the slips and the game was over.

Dyer claimed 6 wickets for 35 runs, and Wade 3 for 17.

Lunch at the supper hour was served at the Oval by ladies of the Peterborough club. Before the game, the visitors were shown around the city and were taken to see the Lift Locks. Their is no doubt that the visit of these players will do cricket a lot of good locally and also do much to keep Peterborough to the front in this line of sport.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

Old Home Week pictures at the Capitol tonight. William Haines and Joan Crawford in "The Duke Steps Out"—The season's best all talkie comedy "The Lion's Roar" and another all talkie short. .. ..

As many as possible should be in their seats at seven o'clock at the Capitol tonight, because the week-end show is great, and large audiences will be on hand. Local moving pictures of the unveiling of the Memorial and the Old Home Week parade will be shown, so you might see your self in the movies if you witnessed one of these two events. The comedy which takes twenty two minutes time, is by far the best all talkie comedy to be seen here yet, "The Lion's Roar." This comedy is worth the price of admission alone. There will also be another all talkie short, Van and Schneck in "Broadway Not So Bad."

"The Duke Steps Out," Lucian Cary's Saturday Evening Post tale, filmed with dialogue and talking sequences and with William Haines as "The Duke," is the feature attraction.

This new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature is a hilarious comedy of ring and campus. Haines plays a prize fighter who, to please his sweetheart, goes to college. His efforts to hide his profession in the classroom, and still defend his title on the outside, give rise to a score of hilariously funny situations.

Joan Crawford, who played opposite Haines in "West Point," and who recently scored a sensational hit in "Our Dancing Daughters," plays opposite him in the new picture, and the tender love story that runs through the thrills and comedy is an attractive variant in the plot. James Cruze, who directed Haines in "Excess Baggage" and "A Man's Man," directed the new picture, from a scenario by Raymond Schrock.

The cast includes Karl Dane, Tenen Holtz, Eddie Nugent, Delmer Daves, Luke Cosgrove and others of note.

YOU can make the two essential tire tests

in the shop of any

Goodyear Selected Dealer

There are only two things you need to know about an automobile tire.

1 Does the tread grip the road?

2 Will the carcass stand up under the blows of driving?

It's easy to prove these things. Go to any Goodyear Selected Dealer's and make these tests.

1 The Tread Test

Press your hand down on the Goodyear All-Weather Tread. Feel the grip of the deep-cut sharp-edged blocks, placed in the centre of the tread where they belong.

2 The Carcass Test

Ask the Goodyear dealer to show you on his cord-testing machine the greater stretch in Goodyear Supertwist cords over ordinary cords. This extra stretch gives the Goodyear carcass its greater vitality, enabling it to withstand road shocks.

Make these two tests on any other tire you like. The answer will be inevitably "Goodyears".

This deal is an excellent example of a pre-emptive or jump assist. Before taking up the actual bidding, it may be of interest to note that one of the important requirements for such a jump assist is more than three cards of the suit bid by partner. With never with but two cards of suit unless three to a high honor, a jump assist should rarely be made and never with but two cards of suits even if one of the two be a high honor. With but three small cards of partner's suit, or but two to a high honor, the usual practice is to deny when able rather than accord an immediate assist.

Salient Points of Bidding

Auction and Contract Bidding: (Same in both games). South bids originally one Spade, preferring to open his higher ranking rather than the longer of his two Major suits.

West overcalls with two Hearts, his hand fulfilling the requirements for a defensive bid. It will be noted that he selects the weaker Major suit in preference to the stronger Minor.

North, with five Spades, two singletons and an Ace, jumps his assist to four odd, thus showing that his support is either principally or wholly distributional, i. e., trump length and ability to ruff short or missing suits. This pre-emptive assist not only reveals to partner the character of North's hand but also operates to shut out further suit indication by East and West which, if allowed, might have enabled them to put up a bidding defense against loss of game.

The Play

West leads initially the King of Diamonds which holds the first trick. He now considers the possibilities of shifting to another suit. The lead of his singleton Queen of Spades should kill one cross ruff but on the other hand is a wholly gratuitous offering of a high trump honor to the Declarer. The lead of a small Club seems inadvisable for the reason that if partner holds the Queen and Declarer the King, the Clubs in Dummy will be set up solid. West, therefore, shifts to a Heart hoping his partner may hold the Ace.

So played, Dummy's Heart King wins the second trick. South can now figure on four odd as being practically certain if he exhausts trumps and thereafter establishes Dummy's Clubs. On the other hand, if he leads but one round of trumps and then cross ruffs, he may make five odd and possibly even six. Accordingly, he leads a small Spade from Dummy to the third trick and goes up with his Ace, the Queen dropping. South next plays a Diamond, ruffs in Dummy, lays down the Ace of Clubs and follows with the Club Jack. East covers with the Queen of Clubs, South trumping. Again a Diamond, ruffed in Dummy, and the lead of the Club 10. East ducks and South considers whether he shall trump or chance that East held both the King and Queen of Clubs originally. He decides to pass the Club for if the King lies in West's hand, he can make five odd, while if he trumps and finds the King in East's hand, he still can make but five odd, his Ace of Hearts being a useless trick. So played, South discards a Heart on the 10 of Clubs which holds the trick. South can now claim the balance of the tricks on a complete cross-ruff, his trumps in own hand and Dummy all higher than the outstanding two held by East. Thus six odd is made by virtue of the cross-ruff after dropping the Queen of Spades. While a Small Slam is made on the hand, it is not soundly biddable by either North or South.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

TO MOSQUITOES IN GENERAL.

We have carefully screened all our houses
To keep you from calling at night
Without bid or request to deprive us of rest
With your song quite as much as your bite.
But you could not be balked of your purpose,
Through the doors and the chimneys you came
And, envenomed of fang, you attacked us and sang
Just the same.

We have sprinkled the marshes with coal oil
In the hope that your wee wriggling breed
Might painfully die, lacking any supply
Of the air which they vitally need.
But they managed to work their way through it
And hastened abroad to make war,
In which game they're adept, on the world as it slept

For a time we are almost despairing;
I myself have been free to predict
That in spite of our brains we were making no gains.
And you probably had us all licked.
Notwithstanding the efforts of science
Your pestilent hordes to destroy.
Quite as many of you, swarmed about as I knew
When a boy.

But now I believe we have got you;
You are close to the verge of despair
You cannot be drowned, but a way we have found
To poison you now from the air.
Too long on your weak, helpless victims
You have hungrily, savagely fed,
And I'm filled with delight, for I know you won't bite
When you're dead.

CLERKS HOLD FIRST PLACE

Counter Hoppers Defeat Church Team 32-22 In Loose Softball Exhibition

HEAVY SLUGGING FRAY

CAMPBELLFORD, July 18.—(Examiner Staff Correspondence). — There were no bargains Tuesday evening when the Clerks and St. Andrews met to decide who would be the leader in the local soft ball scramble. They started out with a bang and kept up a red hot pace right through eight turns at bat and when the dust cleared, they had twenty-five runs with the Presbyterians following away back with only nine. The Churchmen simply could not get into their stride and their game was the poorest exhibition they have put on this season. It was the general supposition that the game would be "Touch and go" for whoever won. But the best guesses were far afield when the game ended. The Presbyterians made twenty-two hits, six of them in the first three frames. But it was not till the fourth innings that they broke loose. Harry Tinney, the first man up, drove a homer to centre field. The next frame, they got four more runs, making their total five as against ten for the counter hoppers. In the entire game there was only one man fanned and two men walked to first. There were four home runs.

Line-up:

St. Andrews—Storie p., M. Reynolds r.f., c., Ingram 1b., P. Saunders 2b., Massie 3b., Tinney s.s., Dunk c.f., Blue c., r.f., Irwin l.f.

Clerks—Maybee p., H. McArthur c., Denike 1b., Runions 2b., J. Gray

SOFTBALL.

C.G.E. swamped the K. of C. team 21 to 5 in a softball game at Central School grounds last night.

Powell pitched for the Electrics and showed nice stuff. He sailed along in good style and outside the first inning was never in trouble.

Simmons twirled for K. of C., and although he pitched good ball was given wretched support by his teammates. Sylvester pitched the last frame for the Knights and retired the side in order.

The teams:

C.G.E.—Calladine, 2b; Munro, 1b; Frost, 3b; Playford, ss; Newson, lf; Miller, cf; Palmer, c; Robinson, rf; Powell, p.

K. of C.—W. Bennett, 3b; T. Lebarr, ss; McGrath, c; L. Lebarr, 1b; T. Simmons, cf; R. Bennett, lf; Sylvester, rf; Griffin, 2b; W. Simmons, p.

KEEN COMPETITION IN TENNIS FINALS

United States Players Still In Running For Singles And Doubles Title

TORONTO CRICKET CLUB, Ont., July 18 (C.P.).—Matches scheduled for to-day in the Ontario tennis championships have an international flavor with United States players still in the running for the men's singles title in addition to the doubles. The tournament so far has been conducted in ideal weather but to-day the sky is overcast and thunderstorms are probable.

Eight players are left in the singles and spectacular contests are anticipated. Leroy Rennie of Toronto, will play A. D. Noble, the brilliant young Boston junior, while Dr. Art Ham, Canadian Davis Cup player meets D. H. Scott of Brown University, Providence. Gilbert Nunns, of Toronto, is drawn against Eastern Canada's sole remaining competitor, C. W. Leslie, Montreal, and in the other match Walter Martin, Regina, and J. Proctor, Toronto, oppose each other.

Four Toronto players are left in the women's singles, but in the doubles even Mrs. F. V. Woodbury and Miss Mildred Currie still uphold the honor of the Maritime provinces and this afternoon play against Mrs. F. E. Coke and Miss Brock in what promises to be a hard struggle.

Finals of the women's doubles, boys' junior and girls' junior events are scheduled for to-morrow afternoon, while the other championships will be decided Saturday.

Tigers Tally In 10th To Defeat Yankees 9-8

DETROIT, Mich., July 18 (C.P.).—Slipshod play by the Yankees enabled the Tigers to overcome a four-run lead in the ninth and win in the tenth by 9 to 8. The victory gave Detroit an even break in four games against the champions.

The Yankees filled the bases in the tenth on three passes, but failed to score, and the Tigers pulled out the decision in the home half. "Babe" wasted his twenty-second home run, which sent him into a tie with Gehrig for the league lead. Ruth left the game in the seventh with a muscle stricture which lamed his left leg.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 18. (C. P.)—Walter Miller, Cleveland southpaw, held the Athletics to six hits and the Indians won the final game of the series yesterday, 5 to 2. The league leaders won three games and lost two in the set.

Lacoste May Be Out Of Davis Cup Finals

PARIS, July 18.—Rene Lecoste, one of the strongest bulwarks of the French Davis Cup team, may be lost to France for the challenge round which begins July 26. Rene is suffering from a severe cold, and there is some fear that he may not recover in time to oppose the United States or Germany.

"It is a very heavy cold," his father, Jean Lacoste, said last night, "and Rene will not play unless the doctors permit it."

OBITUARY

THOMAS FOSTER
The funeral of the late Thomas Foster, who died suddenly last week took place on Tuesday. The late Mr. Foster, who was a foreman of the Canadian General Electric Company for thirty-seven years, had developed a host of friends both in the plant where he worked and with the citizens he came in contact with in his daily life throughout the city. This was shown by the great number who attended the funeral and sent floral tributes to the service.
The pall bearers were six grandsons of the deceased: Donald Mein; Keith Mein, Tom Miller, Dick Miller, Lionel Chapman and Gordon Burkheat. The services were conducted by the Rev. G. J. Bousefield and interment took place in Little Lake Cemetery.

DIED
TANNEY—After a very brief illness Harold A. Tanney, son of the late C. E. and Mrs. Tanney, London, Ontario, passed away in Regina, Sask. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and one son, Douglas, of Peterborough.

The bank clearings for the week amounted to $873,978.

CASE OF ROWDYISM.
A case of rowdyism in the four-footed world is reported by a resident of Brock Street. As the story runs, a small kitten has been abandoned by its owners, who moved away from the district, and the little animal has adopted for its home the space under the porch of one of the nearby houses. During the last couple of nights, a party of about six cats has been endeavoring to rout the defenceless little kitten from the district. Their brave attempts have not been successful, although the kitten presents a badly torn appearance. The nearby citizens whose homes the sounds of conflict nightly penetrate, wish the authorities to put a stop to the rowdyism.

EMPLOYEES HOLD PICNIC.
The employees of the Heintzman Company's branch here enjoyed a picnic yesterday afternoon at the H. C. Childerhouse camp on Chemong Lake, near Selwyn. About twenty were on the party, and the afternoon was spent playing softball, other games and swimming. A shore supper was enjoyed, with healthy appetites, and about ten o'clock the party motored back to the city.

"SWING THAT GAL."
The New is being shoved aside by the Old in at least one department of social activities around this city. Old dances seem to be gaining popularity over the modern fox trot—or whatever the newest dance is named. At all three of the dance pavilions in the district on Tuesday night square dances held sway to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw" and other classics. That this form of entertainment is popular could be adjudged by the large number of "folks" that wheeled and stamped.

DOMINION DAY IS CELEBRATED IN THE ORIENT

niversary of the founding of the Dominion of Canada, and also to witness the raising of our flag over the temporary quarters of the first Canadian Legation to be established in the Far East.
"I trust that you will join with me on this occasion in expressing to the Government and people of Japan our hearty thanks for the cordial welcome that they have extended to the first diplomatic representatives of Canada to be received in this beautiful country.

Flag Is Reminder.
"It is my earnest desire, and I know that it is the hope of the Government and people of Canada, that the flag flying over the Canadian Legation in Japan shall serve two great and worthy purposes. It is, first, our desire and our hope that it will be accepted by the people of Japan as a token of Canadian respect and admiration, as the symbol of a friendship that has no cause to regret the past and that shall remain forever constant. And, secondly, it is our wish that this flag shall bring to Canadians, living or travelling in the Orient, a reminder of home, thoughts of the land and people we love. May it speak to us of the wooded hills and friendly valleys of the Maritime Provinces, of the picturesque villages and historic cities of Quebec, of Ontario homesteads and the many colored panorama of the Prairie Provinces, of the imperishable beauties of British Columbia. Of all these things may this flag remind us, but with our love of our homeland may we also unite a high resolve that, in the intercourse of nations, the strength of Canada shall always be devoted to the cause of truth and justice, to the growth of mutual understanding among nations, and to the preservation of world peace.

In Police Court

Intricate details concerning a fight on the football field here when Deloro played the C.G.E. on July 6 were unfolded at great length in police court this morning. A C.G.E. player was charged with assault and doing bodily damage to a linesman and, after hearing the evidence of four witnesses on either side, Magistrate Langley found him guilty of the offence, fining him $10 and costs.
The accused and the linesman's counsel, J. O'Brien, had a warm session of words, in which the former said that he fought because he was a white man and for the glory of the game. He admitted that he aimed the first blow, altthough one of his witnesses later said that he knew better and that it was the linesman who aimed the first punch.

CAPT. NORMAN RAWSON HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Will Lecture On The Making Of A Soldier—All Receipts For Canadian Legion

It is with great pleasure that the Canadian Chautauqua management announces that Captain Norman Rawson, noted Ontario lecturer, will deliver his stimulating, intensely interesting lecture, "The Making of a Soldier," on Sunday evening in the Chautauqua tent. This lecture is not one of the series of programs to be given in Peterborough, but the committee is bringing Captain Rawson here specially for this occasion. Season tickets will not be honored but there will be a silver collection and all the receipts will be turned over to the Canadian Legion here.
Captain Rawson, who is now pastor of St. Paul's Church at Brampton, is a worth-while speaker whose appearance here is one of the decidedly interesting events of Chautauqua week. His great lecture "The Making of a Soldier" not only gives an illuminating insight into what qualities go into the making of a real soldier, but serves as an inspiring guide to the building in of the qualities of a real man or woman. Everyone in the community will enjoy and profit by this fine lecture
For over two years, from 1918 to 1920, Captain Rawson was in Russia adting as welfare officer to the general Allied forces under General Maynard, and his vivid story of Russia during those terrible days is one of the outstanding features of his lecture.
Captain Rawson is a brilliant speaker. Thumbnail sketches taken here and there from his portfolio of recollections are living portrayals of character and human nature, whether the persons depicted are Russian, British or Canadian. The genial good-humor and keen wit of this noted Canadian have won for him tremendous popularity throughout the Dominion.

CHINESE FORCES FIRE ON SOVIET TROOPS

Jury Finds Deaths Were Accidental

NEWS IN BRIEF
(By Canadian Press)

ANGORA IN FLAMES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19. (C.P.) —A large part of the city of Angora was ravaged by fire to-day. Flames broke out at 2.00 a.m., and, fanned by a strong wind, spread rapidly. Reports to Constantinople early this afternoon said that the fire was not under control.

ON WAY TO NOME.

NEW YORK, July 19. (C.P.) — The Curtiss Flying Service was advised by telegraph to-day that Capt. Ross G. Hoyt, flying from Mitchell Field, N. Y., to Nome, had taken off from Edmonton, Alta., for Whitehorse, Yukon, one hour after he landed there this morning. He is expected to reach Whitehorse about mid-afternoon.

INQUEST IS HELD INTO DROWNING OF ENGLISH LAD

Inquiry Is Also Made By Coroner Into Death Of Harry Kiernan

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS

Fellow Workman Tells Of Youth Falling Or Slipping Into Water

Inquests were held into the death of Erik Kershaw, young English immigrant lad drowned below the lower locks on July 3, and the death of Harry Kiernan, young Havelock train man of the C.P.R. killed at the Park street crossing, on the night of July 2, before Dr. T. W. H. Young, coroner, at the police station last evening. A verdict of accidental death, and no blame attached to anyone, was returned in both cases.

Three witnesses, William Patton, conductor, Edward McMillan, trainman, and George Pacey, engineer, all men employed on the same train surrounding his death.

The train was a freight and had backed into the Park street siding to leave a car of hogs. Kiernan had uncoupled the cars, then swung his lantern as a signal to Engineer Pacey to move the train out of the siding. Pacey did so, going east a distance sufficient to allow traffic to pass the Park street thoroughfare. He stopped the train and awaited further signals from Kiernan. None came. After waiting a few minutes, he suspected that something was the matter, and he along with Edward McMillan, walked back to where the uncoupling had been made. They found Kiernan on the track. He had been run over.

The engineer stated that he did not know whether Kiernan had given the signal as he was falling or whether he slipped immediately after having given the signal.

"From the evidence submitted this jury finds that Harry Kiernan came to his death on July 2 by being crushed while uncoupling cars near Park street in the City of Peterborough while engaged in the performance of his duties as trainman of the C.P.R. and we find his death was purely accidental, and no blame attached to anyone," was the jury's verdict.

Standing on Raft.

Albert Wolfe, who was working with Erik Kershaw at the time of his death, was the main witness at the inquest into the drowning fatality. He said that he and Kershaw were standing on a raft, about two and a half feet wide and over twenty feet long, boring holes in the cement. They had completed one hole and

CHARTER DAY IS OBSERVED

Robert Breyfogle Tells Of Life In The Oxford University

INITIAL MEMBERS HONORED

Charter members day was celebrated at the Peterborough Kiwanis Club to-day and these honored Kiwanians were seated at a special table. Seventy-five percent of the initial members were present, making a very remarkable showing, considering the absence, of some on vacations and the length of life that the club has enjoyed.

The speaker of the day was Robert Breyfogle, a graduate of Dartmouth and Oxford Universities who gave a pictorial view of the life in the Old Country University which is wealthy in history and story.

This historic pile of grey buildings is laid out in numerous quadrangles where the Dons live, four and five to each square enjoying their gardens, and walks, some even having a deer park.

The life lived in the university walls is one of happy terms when one is able to get about everything that is desired within the campus—liquor and beer from the college store, servants to attend individual wants and splendid dining facilities, all of which is quite different from the robust, individual mode of living in the Universities on this continent.

Means of Character Building

The institution is not purely a literary one, it is a means of character building, but the custom changes with new blood that is entering each year, which is quite different from the time when the sons of the land owners attended as contrasted to the present time, now that industrial magnets' boys are entering but the institution of character building still seems to remain

Mr. Breyfogle then reviewed how a day is spent in the great university, from the morning until the lights are out in the evening. One of the great differences is that lectures are not compulsory in the Old Country as they are in most Canadian and American Universities, the use of tutors being employed to a great extent, which is finding favor on this continent now that many of the great educational authorities have studied the methods used there.

Another of the outstanding features was the fact that nearly everyone in attendance spends the afternoon in some type of sport and there is plenty of variety to suit everyone. The games are played for the love of recreation and clean sportsmanship, which is a great feature of the institution

An understanding arises between different nationalities after intercollegiate games are played on the continent and the players gather in the evening for long discussions which reveal that nearly all University men have the same understanding of the different countries and all that is required is a common denominator to bring them together.

The speaker was introduced by Kiwanian Karl Brown and Kiwanian Jack Craig tendered the thanks of the club for the most interesting address given

Eric Roberts and Walter Townsend, of Lakefield pavilion offered some excellent music which was greatly appreciated by those present. Mr Roberts played Wiedoft's latest composition Waltz Maryland as a saxaphone solo and encored by playing that ever popular "Somebody Stole My Gal" when Mr. Townsend played a couple of choruses as a piano solo.

Kiwanian J. McNabb was booster for the day and the prize winners were Kiwanians Harry Huffman; Walter Kidd; Graham McMcDonald and Jack Nelson.

UNITED STATES TAKES SINGLES TENNIS FINALS

Hunter And Tilden Emerge Victors In Inter-Zone Davis Cup Matches

HOLD COMMANDING LEAD

Need Doubles Victory For Right To Meet French In Challenge Round

BERLIN, July 19 (C.P.)—The United States swept both of the opening singles matches in the inter-zone Davis Cup tennis final with Germany to-day. Frank Hunter defeated Daniel Prenn, German ace, 3—6, 6—3, 6—4, 6—3, after Bill Tilden had trounced Hans Moldenhauer in stright sets, 6—3, 6—4, 6—4.

The result of the first day's play more than fulfilled the United States hopes and gave them a commanding lead in the series, which is decided by three matches out of five.

If the young United States doubles team of Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, heavy favorites, comes through tomorrow against Prenn and Moldenhauer the invaders will have clinched outright the honor of meeting the French holders of the cup in the challenge round.

FLY SIX DAYS AFTER RECORD

"St. Louis Robin" Making Strong Attempt For Endurance Mark

SISTER SHIP UP

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 19. (C.P.) — Still going strong after six days in the air, the "St. Louis Robin," endurance plane piloted by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, took on a new supply of fuel at 7 o'clock this morning and drove on into the seventh day aloft. The plane had been up 144 hours at 7.17 a.m.

A sister endurance plane of the Curtiss - Robertson Manufacturing Company, the "Missouri Robin," approached the end of its second day of flight this morning. It is piloted by Joseph Hammer and W. Vessels of the United States Shipping Board traveled more than 11,202,800 miles during 1928.

Child Held In Hospital For Non-Payment Of Fee

WINDSOR, Ont., July 19. — (Canadian Press)—Wm. J. Burns chairman of the hospital committee of the Essex Border Utilities commission to-day ordered an investigation in yesterday's charges that nine year old Irene Poulford of Windsor had been held at the Metropolitan Hospital, Walkerville after recovery from injuries for non-payment of the bill. The claim was made in city police court by Louis St. Pierre, counsel for child's father. The girl was released yesterday noon.

IVANCHUK PAYS CRIME PENALTY

Stepped Off Scaffoold At 12.04 This Morning In Haileybury

THREE-YEAR WAIT

HAILEYBURY, Ont., July 19 (C.P.) —A few minutes after midnight John Ivanchuk, convicted murderer of License Inspector Harry Constable of Cochrane, was taken from his cell in the district jail and paid with his life for the crime committed nearly three years ago. The trap was sprung at 12.04 a.m. and three minutes later Ivanchuck, was pronounced dead.

The crime for which Ivanchuk paid the penalty was committed October 15, 1926, when Inspector Harry Constable, of the Ontario Provincial Police, who had been active in prohibition enforcement, was shot to death near his home at Cochrane Ont. Ivanchuk, said to have been engaged in the illicit liquor trade, was not arrested and charged with the murder until November, 1928.

Ivanchuk was convicted at Cochrane on April 11 last, and sentenced by Mr. Justice Wright to be hanged June 20. He was granted a reprieve of one month to enable his counsel to submit to the Appeal Court new evidence on which a new trial was requested.

He sought unsuccessfully to establish an alibi by testifying he spent the evening of the murder in the Queen's Hotel, the Empire Cafe, and the theatre at Cochrane. In the appeal for a new trial before the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court at Toronto on June 10, E De Repentigny, a Montreal commercial traveller, voluntarily made an affidavit that he was with Ivanchuk for an hour on the night of the murder.

Both Appeals Dismissed

But the appeal for a new trial on the strength of this evidenee was dismissed, and a later appeal for executive clemency by the Governor-in-Council at Ottawa also was unsuccessful a month later.

Four Crown witnesses gave the evidence that resulted in Ivanchuk's conviction, testifying the prisoner had told them he had killed Constable. One of the witnesses, Sophia Dincorn, who was 16 years old at the time of the murder, told the Court Ivanchuk told her several times he would "get even" with Constable, and quoted Ivanchuk as saying he was glad he had shot the inspector. She said Ivanchuk gave her the Mauser pistol with which the murder was committed, but at Ivanchuk's request she gave it back to him a week later.

Two bullets recovered from Constable's body and clothing were declared by Dr. Wilfred Derome, medico-legal expert from Montreal, to have been fired from a Mauser pistol, and the girl identified a Mauser pistol produced in court as one similar to the one she had in her possession.

Didn't Know Sweetheart

The girl said she did not tell her story to any one until called on by police last November, explaining that Ivanchuk, her former lover, had threatened her if she did not keep

FAITHFUL DOG FINDS MASTER BENEATH LOGS

Tiny Bulldog Whines Over Place Where Young Lad Is Caught

BURROWS THROUGH BOOM

Distracted Father Rowed River Six Days For 12 Year Son

OTTAWA, Ont., July 19 (C.P.).— The loyalty and affection of a small bulldog were responsible for the finding of the body of Sylvio Chevrier, drowning victim, under a boom of logs in the Gatineau river near here.

Young Chevrier, twelve years of age, was drowned more than a week ago and the search for his body had been carried out by his father, Sylvio Chevrier, Sr., for 6 days without avail.

While the father rowed up and down the river over the spot where the son was reported to have gone down, the dog ran about on a log boom, whining. The distracted father paid little attention to it until sharp yelps attracted his notice and he discovered that his son's pet had burrowed down into the logs and had become caught.

Released Dog

Running over the logs he released the dog which appeared greatly excited, although almost exhausted. As he pulled the little animal clear he was able to see the body of his son through the hole which the dog had forced in the tightly packed logs.

Mr. Chevrier recovered the body and later discovered that the faithful and pertinacious little creature which had brought success to the search had been badly cut about the neck as it sought to reach the body of its young master.

VICTIMS FLOAT OUT OF ARROYO

Train Wreck Tragedy Is Closed By Finding Of Thirteen Bodies

WATER STILL HIGH

DENVER, Colo., July 19 (Canadian Press). — Thirteen bodies had been given up last night by the flood-swelled Arroyo that courses through the tableland three miles west of Stratton, Colo., as the known toll of lives occasioned by the collapse of a trestle bridge at four o'clock yesterday morning on the main line of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad. The Arroyo bed, normally dry, had been suddenly turned into a swirling, raging torrent by a wall of water from a cloudburst on Wednes-

OPERATOR AIDS INJURED LADY

Telephone Girl Hears Moans Sends Neighbors To Investigate

HAD BROKEN HIP

LONDON, Ont., July 19 (Canadian Press). — An alert telephone operator brought medical aid yesterday to Mrs. B. L. Parkinson, 65 Ridout Street South, after she had fallen at her home breaking her hip. Mrs Parkinson was able to reach the telephone, but when she attempted to call her husband's office, collapsed before giving the number. Miss Shaw, of 579 Rosedale Avenue, the telephone operator, heard moaning, and summoned neighbors who came to Mrs. Parkinson's assistance and called a physician.

The Weather

Meteorological Office, Toronto, July 19. — An area of high pressure covers the central portion of the continent while the barometer is relatively low over the western provinces, Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Atlantic Coast states. Thunderstorms have occurred in Ontario, Quebec, and in some sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan, while in other parts of the Dominion the weather has been fair. Extremely high temperatures were recorded yesterday in Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta, and it has become considerably cooler in Ontario and Quebec.

Russians Assume Offensive and Take Two Border Cities

TWO KEY POSITIONS ARE CAPTURED BY RUSSIAN FORCES CHINESE WAITING FOR SOVIET TO MAKE NEXT MOVE

London Reports Tense Situation Rapidly Developing Which Easily Could Involve Struggle Over Manchuria—Foreign Ambassadors Present Their Cases To Aristide Briand

SHANGHAI, July 19 (Canadian Press). — Private advices received here to-day state that Russian troops tried to cross the Amur River into Manchuria at Blagoveshchensk ,and were fired upon by Chinese troops, who forced them to retire.

Russian sources to-day said the Soviet mercantile fleet on the Amur River, Manchuria's northern boundary, was concentrating at Blagoveshchensk, whence large bodies of troops could be moved into Manchuria down the Sungari River.

The same sources stated that Soviet airplanes were flying over Chinese territory in Northern Manchuria ,and dropping pamphlets urging the Chinese masses to support the Soviet.

The Harbin correspondent of the Osaka Asahi telegraphed his paper to-day that the Russians had assumed the offensive and had captured the border cities of Pogranichmaya and Manchuli.

Pogranichmaya and Manchuli are border points, the former about 150 miles north of Vladivostok and the latter a thousand miles away across Manchuria. Both are key positions to the Chinese Eastern Railway, but the significance of their occupation is believed to be of political rather than of military importance.

Both are small towns and neither place is of industrial or commercial importance.

Russian concentrations were reported at Blagoveschensk while Soviet airplanes were said to have dropped pamphlets on Chinese territory urging the Chinese masses to support the Soviet

Four Yachts Used Are Of Class "E" Double Bilgeboard Inland Lake Types

SEASIDE PARK, N.J., July 19 (By the Canadian Press).—The opening race of the International sail boats between the two Canadian crews from the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club of Montreal and the Barnegat Bay Yacht Racing Association got under way here this morning at 10.30 a.m.

The Canadian crews were captained by Commodore G. Victor Whitehead and Captain G. S. Hanna, while the American yachts were under the command of Captain F. Slade Dale and Tom Horrocks.

The four yachts being used in the series are of the class "E" double bilgeboad inland lake types. The crews will exchange boats after every race. All four boats are the property of the local organization.

At noon the Canadian boat, captained by Commodore Whitehead, was leading, with the American boat in charge of Captain Dale in second place. The other Canadian yacht was third and the second United States craft was fourth.

RAINSTORMS THROUGHOUT WEST BRIGHTEN WHEAT CROP OUTLOOK

Result Of Western Rain Tumbles Prices At Chicago And Liverpool

QUOTATION 1 5-8 LOWER

WINNIPEG, July 19 (C.P.). — Thunderstorms in many sections of the Prairies somewhat alleviated the long spell of drought that has practically ruined thousands of acres of wheat during the past few weeks. Too late to be of benefit in some cases, the rain will, however, generally brighten the crop outlook. Meteorological office official here predicted to-day that nearly every district in the West will have rainfall by to-morrow.

The intense heat in Alberta and Saskatchewan continued to-day despite the showers. Medicine Hat, Alta., reported the highest temperature of the day—102 degrees, and several points in the same province were within a few points of the maximum. A temperature of between 85 and 95 degrees was general.

In Manitoba, the weather was considerably cooler, thermometers reaching not higher than 80 degrees. Showers were not as general in this province.

RAIN CUTS MARKET

CHICAGO, Ills., July 19 (C.P.).—A light rain falling in the Canadian Northwest and in South Dakota weakened the grain markets to-day, and with a lull in buying, prices declined. Wheat had opened unchanged from yesterday's finish to 1¼c higher, but the current turned within the opening hour and at 10.30 o'clock wheat was ⅞ to 1⅛ lower than Thursday's close. December delivery sold at $1.50⅝, September at $1.44⅞ and July $1.30¾.

Nine Injured as Part of Aluminum Works Blew Up

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., July 19 (C.P.).—Seven dead and nine injured was the toll to-day of the explosion which last night wrecked part of the Logan's Ferry works of the United States Aluminum Company.

J. I. Paustenbach, Tarentum, Pa., night foreman, staggered from the plant a few minutes after the explosion and dropped dead. The body of another workman was found in the ruins. Five others died in hospital.

C.P.R. FREIGHT TRAIN PILES UP NINE MILES EAST, IN OTONABEE

Broken Axle Ties Up Traffic All Night On Havelock Line

NO INJURIES

A broken axle on one of the freight cars making up the Canadian Pacific freight train, which was on its regular run from Toronto to Havelock, caused a derailment shortly before midnight last night that tied up traffic until shortly after ten o'clock this morning.

The wreck happened about nine miles east of Peterborough in Otonabee, where the Norwood highway crosses the C.P.R. tracks. Several of the cars piled up and slid in the ditch, damaging some of them considerably. The midnight trains on this line were held in Peterborough and some of the passengers were taken by automobile to Port Hope, where the Montreal train over the Lakeshore line was held for them.

Auxiliaries were called out from Havelock and Toronto which worked all night to clear the main line and shortly after ten o'clock this morning an engine crew that had been held here all night received orders to return home to Havelock, the workers having built a track around the derailed cars to allow the traffic to flow unhampered until the roadbed is repaired permanently.

FLORENCE SUFFERS QUAKE CITIZENS SPEND NIGHT OUT

Villages Deserted as Houses Shake and Roofs Fall

FLORENCE, Italy, July 19 (C.P.). —Florence was shaken by an earthquake at 10.02 p.m., yesterday. The shock lasted about eight seconds and did considerable damage to walls and roofs in neighboring villages.

Roofs fell and crevices appeared in walls in Borgo, San Lorenzo, Vicchio, Barberino, and Firenzuola, but no personal injuries have been reported.

The quake, which was of undulatory character, caused many to desert their houses and spend the night outdoors. Its centre was believed to be about 25 miles distant.

The first central station for the commercial distribution of electricity was set going on September 4, 1882, by Thomas Edison in New York City.

Youth Found Shot In Barn Worried Over Health

BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 19. (Canadian Press).—The body of Angus Beach, aged about 17, son of George Beach, a farmer, living near Lyn, was found this morning in an outhouse on the farm of Stanley Gardiner, Seely's Corners, a discharged .22 rifle by his side. Dr. E. I. F Williams, Coroner, after conducting an investigation, decided that an inquest was unnecessary, finding that Beech had shot himself through the head as a result of worrying concerning the state of his health.

Martial Law Proclaimed in Harbin

STREETS BEING PATROLLED BY CHINESE TROOPS

Janan Considers Time Not Ripe For Interven-- tion

FLEEING FROM BORDER

All Business Is At Standstill And News Is Censored

TOKIO, July 19 (Canadian Press). —Japanese news agency despatches last night reported that martial law had been proclaimed in Harbin after announcement of the diplomatic break between Russia and China. All newspapers, including Japanese, were censored, business was at a standstill and streets were heavily patrolled by Chinese soldiers.

General Chang Ching-Hui made proclamation that the death penalty would be enforced on persons spreading alarmist reports. Concentration of Russian troops opposite Manchuli was said to be growing rapidly heavier.

Time Not Ripe For Intervention.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the time was not yet ripe for positive Japanese action, although holding grave possibilities demanding the most serious consideration from the Government.

Harbin despatches to the Japanese news agency Rengo state that Consul-General Melnikov has received orders from Moscow ordering his immediate withdrawal from Manchuria.

Fleeing From Border Towns.

Despatches said that hundreds of Chinese civilians were fleeing from the border towns of Manchuli and Progranichnaya. The latter community was panicky because of Soviet air patrols flying along the border.

The Japanese Consulate-General in Harbin was crowded day and night by Russians seeking visas to permit them to go to Dairen, which is a Japanese leasehold. It was understood that they were not permitted to go to Japan proper. Consul-General Yagi presided at a meeting yesterday of representatives of the Japanese community to discuss emergency measures for the protection of Japanese lives and property should disorders occur.

Hemaruka is 16 miles south of the town of Veteran.

The victims of the drowning were Nick Zaporasan; his wife, and a niece, Annie Zaporasan, aged 18.

Eight persons were standing on the bank when it gave way riverward, but five succeeded in escaping from the turbulent water. The river at this point is 20 feet deep.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

STRATFORD, July 19.—Isaac Bauman, aged 39, living one mile south of Milverton, was killed late yesterday when struck by a Canadian National Railways train at a crossing on his foster-father's farm. Afflicted with deafness, the young man was unable to hear and apparently did not see the approaching train. An inquest will be held.

FAILS TO TAKE OWN LIFE.

DETROIT, Mich., July 19.—After arranging a blanket on the floor, and turning on the gas, in an attempt to end her life, Mrs. Libby Spencer, 37, was hurled frm the room when she turned out an electric light.

A spark from the switch caused an explosion which tore the door from its hinges in the kitchen of her apartment, and smashed a partition, endangering the lives of numerous families in adjoining apartments. The woman was taken to the receiving hospital, where her burns were treated and doctors stated she probably would recover.

BALFOUR URGES BUSINESS MEN'S TRADE MEETING

All Nations Are Fast Realizing That Cooperation Is A Boon

WANT CANADA'S TRADE

Horne Is Glad Both Canada And Australia Show Interest In Proposal

LONDON, July 19—(C.P.)—The desirability of calling together a Business Men's Conference to discuss questions of Imperial Trade is stressed in an interview by Sir Arthur Balfour, Bt.

Sir Arthur was chairman of the Committee on Trade and Industry which devoted years to the study of industrial problems.

"It is being realized more and more that mutual co-operation in industry and commerce must take the place of the one-time bitter rivalries, owing to the new economic conditions which have been created by the war," said Sir Arthur. "Fortunately, there are evidences on every hand that the Locarno spirit is permeating the minds of the leading industrialists all over the world. Friendly rivalry there is bound to be, but nations and individuals alike are fast realising how co-operation and the interchange of ideas generally lead to mutual advantages where a policy of distrust and antagonism would only prove to the detriment of all parties concerned.

"My work in connection with the International Chamber of Commerce and Geneva Economic Conferences convinced me that when economists and practical business men from all quarters of the globe came together and joined in friendly discussion on points which concerned them as men of business and not as politicians, they generally found themselves fundamentally in agreement. Already there have been far-reaching results from the periodical gathering together of great leaders of commerce, banking, finance and shipping, who have thus been enabled to get to know each other personally.

Canada Prosperous

"I recently toured a number of the large industrial centres in Canada and was delighted to see the wave of prosperity which was spreading over the country. The iron and steel industry and railway equipment establishments had been fully occupied during the whole of 1928. The railways had a record year in 1928 and the mining and motor industries showed continued development. What was the optimism and enthusiasm which pervaded all classes and one could almost believe that at last, the great and far reaching expansion which we had been expecting for the past twenty five years had set in. I hope this may prove to be the case. One cannot help a feeling of regret, however to think that while Canada's best customer was the British Empire, she imported more goods from the United States than from anywhere else.

Resources Unexploited

"The mutual interdependence of the Mother Country and each of the colonies and Dominions is being realized more and more. The vast resources of Canada, Australia and our other Dominions have scarcely begun to be adequately exploited. Ultimately they are bound to be our greatest source not only of foodstuffs, but raw materials. At the same time, Canada, Australia, South Africa and India have their growing manufacturing industries. It is here that manufacturers in Great Britain, with their accumulated knowledge and experience might be of great assistance in an advisory capacity.

Empire Show Beneficial

"The British Empire Exhibition gave a splendid impetus to the Empire trading movement, whilst the Empire Marketing Board is bringing to the notice of the public in this country the variety of foodstuffs and raw materials which can be produced in the various countries of the Empire. There are also numerous organizations for promoting empire trade in a general way. This is all splendid propaganda work and I am confident that it is having definite beneficial results. It is, of course, a much more difficult matter for British manufacturers to introduce their goods into every remote part of the Empire, but much can be done by careful stury of Empire markets and the exact kind of goods which are required. I cannot praise too highly the work which is being done by the Department of Overseas Trade, and its Representatives in different parts of the world, but at the same time, I cannot but feel that some additional medium—something in the nature of an economic council or clearing house—would be well worth while.

Business Men Confer

"We all know the tremendous enthusiasm which the work of the Imperial Economic Conferences arous-

Preacher Wears Shorts Plays On Saxaphone Too

TORONTO, Ont., July 19 (Canadian Press). — A "preacher saxophone player and evangelist of health and joy," Edward Kahrs, of Tillsonburg, Ont., caused a mild sensation when he appeared on downtown Toronto streets yesterday, wearing shorts, a straw hat, sandals, and a shirt open at the throat.

The evangelist, who belongs to no creed, believes his abbreviated costume will in time make him as "tough as the girls," whose modern clothing he admires.

AGENT ADMITS RUM BATTLES

Plenty Of Firing Between U.S. Patrol And Bootleggers

GUNS STILL IN CANADA

WINDSOR, July 18. — A statement from Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of national revenue, that stories of armed conflict at the Detroit-Windsor frontier between American preventive officers and rum running craft, had been disproven, was interpreted to-day by Walter S. Petty, acting customs collector at Detroit, to mean "not within Canadian waters."

Tells of Battles.

Petty said: "Our officers have had battles with rum running boats during the present offensive. They have taken place, we say in American waters. We have not done any firing in Canadian waters."

The collector was reminded that the American customs patrol boat, No. 4101, had been damaged by revolver fire during a skirmish with rum runners, who it was claimed, had continued firing in Detroit river after passing Belle Isle into Canadian waters.

Petty said further, "I have always thought however that the firing in Canadian waters at rum craft had been the work of hi-jackers operating out of east Detroit."

American customs craft make regular patrols in Canadian channels of the river, Petty admitted.

"When our boats enter Canadian waters to size up the situation at the export docks, our officers take off their guns and leave them in the bottom of the boat. And we only allow certain officers to go on those trips, men who are absolutely reliable and trustworthy. Our boats go up channels such as the one between Bob-Lo Island and Amherstburg, which is Canadian water, but accessible to American boats."

"I believe, however, that the Canadian minister had reference only to Canadian waters when he reports on warfare at the Detroit-Windsor border," he concluded.

Official Report.

There has been considerable evidence this summer of firing here in Canadian waters, between rum runners and either hi-jackers or American police. An official report was made by liquor exporters to H. B. Jackson, assistant customs inspector for Canada, regarding a rum boat which had been shot up in Canadian waters off Peche Island. The craft had been peppered with 16 bullets. Inspector Jackson investigated this report and admitted its authenticity.

INVESTIGATION PREMIER SAYS WILL BE MADE

Detroit Auto Club Manager May Warn Tourists From Ontario

POLICE UNFAIR

Claim Officers Take Fines From Offenders On The Road

DETROIT, July 19.—Protest has been filed with the various touring agencies in Canada against the practice of holding American cars involved in minor accidents in the Province of Ontario, it was announced yesterday. Richard Harfst, manager of the Detroit Automobile Club, charged that the Ontario police were unfair and discriminating against motorists from the United States.

Police were holding cars and demanding high personal bail to assure the appearance of these autoists, who sometimes only slightly damage another motorists car, Harfst said.

Harfst said that his organization would give every aid to the Canadian authorities in moving against law violators in Canada, but objected strenuously to unfair discrimination against American motorists.

Premier Promises Probe.

Allegations of discrimination by highway police against parties of U.S. tourists will be investigated immediately, Premier Ferguson announced, when he was informed of the threat of the Detroit Automobile Club that it might have to warn United States motorists to avoid Ontario.

"I will see that these complaints are looked into and adjusted at once," said the Premier when he was quoted a Hamilton despatch stating a complaint made to the Hamilton Automobile Club that a party of United States tourists had been given the option near London of returning to Lucan or paying a $19 fine for speeding.

"Instructions have gone out to all officers," he said, "that courtesy is to be their first consideration and if they find someone whose only offence is exceeding the speed limit, they have been told to warn him and do the courteous thing with him."

The Prime Minister agreed that collecting a fine at the roadside was "improper." He added: "If any officer has improperly imposed a fine and collected money, why, of course, the money will be returned and the officer dealt with. We are determined that every visitor who comes here shall be treated with courtesy."

Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, under whose department the highway police come, was in Ottawa Wednesday night on a road inspection tour.

Toll Levied on Tourists.

W. G. Robertson, secretary of the Ontario Motor League, claimed that tourists were unfairly treated in the province. Nearly every municipality, he said, yielded to the temptation to swell its revenues by levelling toll on inexperienced tourists and increasing the local revenues. Only by putting the magistrates and constables on a straight salary basis, he said, could any danger of an abuse of this kind be removed.

The more arrests the more money many Ontario officials get, Mr. Robertson said. There is no doubt that visitors do violate Ontario regulations, but the violation, he claimed, did not warrant a heavy fine.

A warning in many cases would be better than a fine, he claimed.

FIRE PATROLS WORK OVERTIME

Captain Maxwell Denies Report Of His Plane Being Lost

BEING USED IN SERVICE

TORONTO, Ont., July 19 (C.P.).—A published report yesterday that the light airplane which Captain Roy Maxwell, Ontario Air Service Director, left behind when accompanying Walter C. Cain, Ontario Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, to Sioux Lookout, when the latter was stricken with abdominal illness, was lost, was denied yesterday by Captain Maxwell.

"That story is untrue," he said. "The machine is at work in the service right now."

The fire hazard is reported very high just now, not only in the northwestern section, but in many other parts of the province. The Air Service is being taxed to such an extent that day and night shifts are working at the main Sault Ste. Marie base. Fire detection patrols, it is understood, are turning in from 10 to 12 hours flying each day.

BARN IS BURNED DURING STORM

Roseneath And District Suffered Heavy Property Damage Yesterday

HEAVY RAINS

ROSENEATH, July 19.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Heavy damage resulted in this district yesterday afternoon when the severe electric storm, which reached its greatest proportions in this neighborhood, passed over. The barn of Mrs. Thomas Douglas was struck by lightning and burned. James Timlin's house was struck and great damage was done to the interior of the building.

The storm was accompanied by strong winds which whipped the trees and many were struck by the lightning. The total extent of the damage can not yet be determined.

Nearly every portion of the county experienced the severe electrical storm to a somewhat less degree than in the Roseneath district. In most cases its fury did little damage, however.

To the south of the city in North Monaghan and Otonabee it is reported that the rain came down in sheets and was the heaviest downpour experienced in years.

The same conditions are reported from the lake district where the storm broke with almost tropical violence, but the lightning did no damage.

Lakefield

Following a march through the village on Friday morning last, the local Orange Lodge (Beresford Lodge 122), Royal Black Knights Preceptory, L. O. B. A. (Northern Light lodge) and the Juvenile lodge accompanied by the Citizens band, motored to Hastings where they took part in the celebration in connection with the "Walk" held there. It had been planned that the Lakefield contingent should go to Port Hope, but for unavoidable circumstances changed the arrangements.

TOURISTS GIVEN BREWERY ADS L.C. BOARD MAKES DIRE THREATS

Peace Bridge Used As Point For Brewers To Boost Their Wares

POLICE ON JOB

TORONTO, July 19.—"We'll put those people right out of business if they're not careful" declared Stewart McClenaghan, acting chairman of the liquor control board, referring yesterday to alleged distribution among United States tourists of advertisements of its frothy wares by an Ontario brewery. He said the matter was in the hands of the provincial police.

"If the law can't stop it, then this board will" continued Mr. McClenaghan. "Everybody knows how we feel about that sort of thing, and if there is going to be any camouflage, there'll be trouble."

Reports indicate that motorists upon approaching the Peace bridge at Buffalo to enter Canada were being handed pamphlets extolling the merits and superiorities of the various brews which the firm in question produces. The board received a specimen folder yesterday morning which was in the possession of the provincial police 15 minutes later.

The latest Ontario road map is combined with the advertising in a circular, it is said, which also sets forth a synopsis of motor vehicle laws and extracts from United States tariff and Canadian customs regulations.

Another brewery firm has found the "Guest in Canada" sticker a more subtle means of advertising their brew to thirsty tourists.

These stickers for the windshield of the car look innocent when affixed to the glass. They bear the usual design combining the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, and passersby can read nothing but the words, "Guest in Canada."

But looking at the sticker from the seats of the car, the American sees silhouetted the name of a prominent brewery. The name is printed as a water mark, and shows as does the name of bond paper when placed between the eye and the light.

PROMPT ACTION SAVES LIVES.

SHOAL LAKE, Man., July 19. — Prompt action of Pilot McCory when his plane hit a fence and crashed in a take-off yesterday, saved two women passengers from being burned. When the plane hit the ground McCory sprang from his seat and freed his two passengers, Mrs. Thomas Rogers and Miss Pearl Hurst, both of Shoal Lake.

In a few minutes the plane was completely destroyed by fire. None of the occupants was injured in the crash.

Prohibitionists Win In Prince Edward Island

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 10. (C. P.) — With two of Prince Edward Island's three counties reporting a majority of votes favoring the retention of the Prohibition Act, the plebiscite held yesterday to determine whether or not the act would give way to a sytsem of government control, was conceded last night to have resulted in a victory for the prohibitionists. Returns gave Prince County a majority for prohibition of 1100. Kings County also reported a dry majority. All municipalities voted against government control. The vote in Charlottetown was: Government Control, 1417; Prohibition 1199.

TOURIST FINES HELP REVENUE

Secretary Of Motor League Says Magistrates Be Paid Salary

LEGAL GRAFT

TORONTO, July 19. (C.) — Commenting yesterday on the speech of Arthur L. Thompson, city manager, at Chatham, on Wednesday, regarding the treatment accorded motoring tourists by various municipalities throughout Western Ontario, W. G. Robertson, secretary of the Ontario Motor League, expressed similar views.

Tourists visiting Ontario in automobiles are unfairly fined for traffic violations because the fines both help to increase the revenue and enrich the magistrate and constables of the municipality, said Mr. Robertson.

In nearly all municipalities in the province, "the temptation to swell municipal revenues by taking advantage of the inexperienced tourist," has succeeded for many years despite the efforts made to fight this form of "legal graft" by several organizations. Only by placing the magistrates on a salary basis, which would prevent a division of costs between the magistrate and constable after the tourist has been fined, can the abuse be remedied and the tourist be given fair play," he said.

The passengers were brought to Tsingtao by the United States torpedo boat destroyer Paul Jones and part of the crew by the United States gunboat Blackauk.

TINY SPARK SAVES WOMAN'S LIFE WHEN SHE ATTEMPTED TO SUICIDE

Was Hurled Through Partition By Explosion As Light Is Turned Out

GAS-FILLED ROOM

DETROIT, July 19. — A spark from an electric light switch released in a gas-filled room early to-day caused an explosion which hurled a would-be suicide through a door to safety and rocked a two-storey apartment building at 1718 Twenty-third street, smashing a partition and endangering many families.

Mrs. Libby Spencer, 37 years old, who, she admitted, sealed the doors and windows in her kitchen and turned the gas stove full on in hope of ending her life, was taken to receiving hospital to be treated for serious burns. Physicians said she probably would recover.

The woman was snapping off the light, after turning on the gas, preparatory to lying on a blanket on the floor to await death, when the blast flung her from the room, tearing the door from its hinges.

An inner wall separating Mrs. Spencer's apartment from one occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Greenham and their daughter Ethel, 18, was ripped loose from its fastenings and leaned into the bedroom in which Greenham and his wife were sleeping. Plaster showered down on them but they were uninjured.

A card party in an apartment directly above the one in which explosion occurred, was interrupted when the bridge table was overturned and one of the players thrown to the floor.

Firemen extinguished a small blaze which started when blazing gas swept the curtains and hangings of Mrs. Spencer's apartment.

A note written by Mrs. Spencer before she turned on the gas explained that she had quarreled with a woman with whom she shared the apartment, and was despondent for that reason. She directed that $31 cash in her possession, together with a $200 note on an insurance policy, be given to Clifton Verdenberg, from whom she had been divorced.

Weed Inspector Has Crop Of Wheat Cut Down

SARNIA, July 19. (C.P.)—Taking drastic measures for the first time in Lambton County, Weed Inspector Milton yesterday entered the farm of Victor Bleck with a force of men, and cut down the entire crop of grain in one field, while two provincial police officers stood guard.

The farm was overrun with sow thistle, according to the authorities, and Bleck refused to obey the instructions to cut the field. It is alleged he assumed a hostile attitude to the inspector.

Dr. Casserley stated he had conducted an autopsy and found that death was due to failure of the respiration, but was unable to give the cause.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, July 19.—Cattle receipts at the Union Stock Yards yesterday were: No cattle, 2 calves, 79 hogs. The cattle offering consisted of a few held-overs, mostly store cattle, which moved out slowly at unchanged prices. Most stores coming from the west this week have been on through billing to Ontario points.

Beef cattle prices closed steady with a week's decline of 50 to 75 cents per cwt.

A couple of calves off the railroad and a few that arrived by truck brought steady prices, quality considered, the market closing steady with this day last week. Choice veals were quoted at 14½ to 15 cents a pound, with grassers at 7 to 9 cents.

There were no lambs offered at the opening, and a few that arrived late by truck sold unchanged from Wednesday. Prices recovered to 16 cents a pound for choice on Tuesday and a fairly active trade took all choice lambs Wednesday at the 16-cent level. Lambs off truck sold at ½ cent a pound lower than lambs off car.

Trading was over by 11 o'clock with the pen practically cleared.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 19.—Eleventh-hour speculative buyers of wheat yesterday met with a Waterloo; especially was this the experience of those who either had scanty financial resources or who lacked nerves of steel. Huge selling, largely to realize profits for purchases that began operations days or weeks ago when the drop disaster in the Northwest was much less apparent, cut the ground yesterday from under late comers, and the market tumbled wildly after scoring new price bulges to above any point heretofore reached this season.

Wheat closed unsteady around the day's bottom figures, 2¾ to 3½c a bushel under Wednesday's finish. Corn closed 1½c to 2¼c down; oats ¾c to 1⅞c off, and provisions unchanged to 10c to 12c advance.

Consequent breaks in prices here amounted to about 4c a bushel, but renewal of damage complaints from Canada and the American Northwest hoisted the market speedily to 6c above where downturns were checked.

Corn and oats weakened with wheat, and on account of favorable weather for corn growth, however, a temporary advance when wheat was strong carried the corn market up the first time this season to $1 a bushel for December delivery, representing the new 1929 crop.

Commission-house buying put firmness into the provision market.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, July 19.—Wheat prices yesterday moved within a range of 7c, dropping 3⅜c to 4⅛c at the opening, rebounding to record gains of over 2c in all months, and dropping lower again until the close revealed values 3c to 3¼c lower than Wednesday's final quotations. Trading was heavy, and prices so erratic that the market was hard to follow. Wheat changed hands in large quantities, although export demand was small.

Despite the fact that wheat was still in urgent need of rain in the West bullish feeling was scarce yesterday.

Cash wheat trading was extremely dull, and prices slightly lower than the previous close. Oats was in good demand, and a fair trade was accomplished in barley. Oats held firm, and barley advanced about ½c. Flex and rye were inactive.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 19.— Prices on the local grain market here yesterday were unchanged.

Butter prices were firmer to-day, with Eastern Townships No. 1 selling at 37½c per lb. Retail prices were 39c per lb. for solids, and 40c per lb. for prints. Receipts were 1,062 boxes, compared with 1,005 boxes for the same day last week.

There was an easier feling on the cheese market, with prices for Ontario cheese ¼c lower, being reduced to 18c for white, and 18¼c for colored. Receipts were 6,755 boxes, compared with 5,514 boxes on the same day a week ago.

The egg market was steady, with prices unchanged. Receipts were 2,755 cases, as compared with 1,400 cases for the same day a week ago.

Increased imports of new potatoes resulted in lower prics to-day, new potatoes selling at $1.75 to $2 per bag of 80 lbs. for No. 1 quality, whil No. 2s quality sold at $1.25 to $1.50. Ontario potatoes were offered at $2.50 per 90 lbs., f.o.b. Ontario points. No further receipts of potatoes from the Southern States were reported.

Poultry was selling steadily, with prices unchanged.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, July 19.—Trading on the local wholesale produce market was again of a very desultory nature yesterday, and very little indication of a definite trend was evidenced in either direction, although in the opinion of some dealers, the egg market was showing more signs of life than it has in the past week or so. Supplies of fresh butter continued to arrive on the market in quantities fully sufficient to answer all demands, and, as before, the No. 1 grade was the predominant favorite. Quality is maintaining the excellence of the past and shipments were moved into consumptive channels comparatively steadily. As long as demand and supply continue to be approximately equal, no change in price is expected, unless of course the quality of the product has a decided change one way or the other. No. 1 creamery was quoted at from 37½c to 37¾c per lb., and No. 2 creamery at from 36c to 36½c per lb., and although these quotations were even with Wednesday's, a slightly better undertone was felt throughout the market.

The egg market yesterday was once more draggy, with prices unchanged from previous levels and general conditions remaining the same. Local dealers are of the opinion that the feeling in the market is showing considerable improvement and expect that by the first of next week a definite change will be seen in both supplies and prices. Quotations to country shippers for ungraded eggs delivered and cases returned are as follows: Fresh extras, 28c per dozen; fresh firsts, 25c per doz.; fresh seconds, 21c per dozen.

The local wholesale cheese market was dead yesterday, with prices of No. 1 large, colored, paraffined and Government graded cheese quoted at from 18c to 18⅛c per pound.

BALFOUR URGES

ed; the numerous and vital questions which were dealt with and the far-reaching results which have already been attained. I do not wish in any way to minimise the importance of such conferences, but I do venture to think that a conference of practical and representative business men, drawn from all parts of the Dominions and Mother country and concentrating upon a carefully drawn up agenda, would do good and might even eventually be the means of suggesting items for the agenda and implementing some of the recommendations of the Imperial Economic Conference.

"We all know how similar considerations led a number of important business men in 1919 to conceive the idea of concentrating the economic opinion of both the new and old World and bringing leading industrialists and economists of every nation together in conference. The outcome of this was the formation of the International Chamber of Commerce.

"Is it not at least possible that an Imperial Conference, representative of industrial, manufacturing and exporting interests throughout the Empire might have lasting and beneficial results for all the Empire countries? The idea is worth consideration, if it only leads to better feeling of mutual confidence, amongst the different industrial and manufacturing interests of the Empire."

Horne Gives Views

"I agree with those who think that much benefit would be derived from a conference of business men of the Empire," said Sir Robert Horne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer. "An intimate exchange of views between men who conduct the trade and commerce of our various Dominions and Colonies would open up avenues of thought and action which, in the nature of things, are obscured in communications of Departments of Government. In saying this I do not forget the valuable achievements of the economic section of the Imperial Conference. That body elicited important facts and cast light upon many of the intersections of Empire Trade.

"But I believe, with Lord Malchett, that much remains to be done which business men of the Empire could at least helpfully attempt. If the idea of holding such a conference be accepted there will be many views as to the way in which its membership should be composed.

"I leave that question aside for the moment in order to draw attention to another more important consideration. It would be worse than useless to hold the proposed conference if it were simply to be a meeting place of amiable speeches about each others acquaintance. It must do a great deal more than that. It must discuss definite ideas for increasing trade and arrive at definite conclusions. Schemes for the rationalisation of industry need not stop short at our shores. There is no reason why they should not extend to amalgamative or co-operative systems between home and overseas. It ought to be the object of such a conference to have such possibilities thoroughly probed and many other things as well.

"If what I have said be true, then it is apparent that a very careful agenda must be prepared. It will require a great deal of thought and attetion and much consultation with people here and in the Dominions.

"I do not believe it to be possible to make the preparations in time to hold a Business Conference prior to the Empire Conference. This may possibly be a misfortune but I regard it as inevitable and perhaps good may come of it because politicians may be able to suggest ideas which can be developed by business men.

"In any case I am glad to think that both Canada and Australia have taken up the matter with enthusiasm. Where there is so much good will there must be a means of achieving what we all unitedly desire."

HOME TOWNERS

CAMPBELLFORD

Tidbits, Interesting and Humorous

The next thing to find out is where the Glenn children got the explosive material which caused the fatal accident. Provincial officers were in town yesterday afternoon, sizing up the situation.

* * *

On Friday afternoon, two weeks from to-day, there is going to be a big splash in the Trent River near here and a whole bunch of people are going to find themselves in the swim. Every mail that is sorted, brings more entries. Yesterday there were eight added to the list. Five of these were eligible for the hundred dollars special prize. Nor are they from this little district. The addresses given are from such far away places as San Francisco, Calif., and Seattle, Wash. George Young and Ernest Vierkoetter will be among those present.

* * *

Arranging for Old Home Week isn't as much fun for those involved as it will be for those who come as guests. The dancing committee have found this out. The chairman originally appointed was taken ill and removed to hospital. The rest of the committee are doing all they can to keep their end of the celebration up to par and above, if possible. They have planned a different program for every night in the week, beginning with a real, genuine midnight frolic on Sunday night in the High School auditorium. They expect to serve early breakfast to those who wish it.

* * *

Percy Denyes and his "artists" are decorating the town. Colored lights made their appearance yesterday afternoon. They are not new to Campbellford, but they are being installed more artistically and in far larger quantities than ever before. Evergreen arches are being erected at all the main roads entering the corporation.

* * *

All the ball fans in Campbellford do not agree with the account of the ball game recently, when Ibey won fame as a twirler. He is given credit for being a Hastings boy, but Campbellford claims him as its own. He did, however, play for Hastings last year, but he played hockey for Campbellford the preceding winter, and his home is here.

* * *

That the boxing tournament to be held in Meyer's Arena on Friday night of Old Home Week is going to be a success is practically assured when the members of that committee, yesterday afternoon, confirmed the rumor afloat that Playfair Brown of Toronto was handling most of the arrangements. For those who are interested, there will be a good program of bouts, and plenty of excitement for everyone who is lucky enough to get a ticket.

A STEADY CALLER

Paris, June 19.—The head of a Luxemburg brewery might as well sell half interest in his dog to his gardener friend who lives outside of town. The dog became attached to the gardener and three or four times a week hops a train and rides to visit him.

Slow Down-

Drive with greatest care when Children or Pedestrians are on the Highway

To prevent accidents, motorists must slow down and drive carefully when approaching children or pedestrians on the highway. This applies to places where children are liable to be, as in the neighborhood of a school.

The horn should be sounded in plenty of time to warn them of the car's approach.

You must respect the rights of pedestrians.

THREE KIDDIES ARE IMPROVING

Change Is Slight But Hopes Are Still Very Bright

BEGINNING TO SEE

CAMPBELLFORD, July 19 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—Yesterday saw little change in the three children, victims of Tuesday afternoon's accidents here. In all three, however, there was believed to have been some change, and that slight difference was considered as an improvement in their conditions. Although their conditions are still considered serious, it is thought that all three will recover.

Kenneth Fairman, who was knocked down by an automobile while crossing Sebastapol street, about a block from his home, is still partially unconscious. Dr. Moir of Peterborough examined the lad yesterday afternoon and believed his chances of recovery to be "fair." The boy was suffering from muscular twitches, hardly spasms, in his left arm and leg. Although his left leg is fractured above the knee, he is able to wriggle his toes. He is being given some nourishment. Asked about the boy's condition, Dr. Johnston said last night that he had been told the child opened his eyes during the afternoon and looked around. This did not happen when he was in attendance, he explained.

There was not much to be said about Donald and Jack Glenn. Donald, whose eyesight was feared injured, was reported as being in a fair condition, and his eyesight improving. He could see a little, Dr. Johnston said. Jack Glenn, the younger brother, is doing well.

OBITUARY

STANLEY BLANCHARD

There passed away after a very brief illness, on Wednesday, July 3 at Tanners, Stanley Blanchard, beloved husband of Hazel Allen, a former resident of this city, in his 36th year.

There is left to mourn his loss a sorrowing wife and six small children. The funeral was held on Friday, July 5, with interment in Waubaushene cemetery.

SELDOM HEARD OF

PARIS, July 19.—You seldom hear of a revue girl kicking because she has to wear scanty clothing in the show, yet Mlle. Simone Gabard, former mannequin and last year's "Queen of Paris," refused to appear in the show because of the scanty costume it called for. The theatre took her to court and claimed an indemnity of $325.

FINING TOURISTS.

It is to be hoped that Arthur L. Thompson, city manager of Chatham, was wrong when he said in a public address that municipalities in Ontario were levying a toll of fines upon American tourists, relying upon the money so obtained as a source of civic revenue.

There may be some authorities short-sighted enough to carry out such a policy, oblivious to the effect it would have upon the tourist industry as a whole, but The Examiner hesitates to believe that the practice is general in application.

Certainly there are no signs of it in this city or district where tourists are given every consideration.

Mr. Thompson should, of course, remember that there are tourists and tourists.

There is a small percentage of visitors who drive as if there were no such a thing as a speed limit or if nobody had any right to be on the road but themselves.

Their methods are a menace to public safety and a challenge to the authorities that cannot be disregarded, and neither Mr. Thompson nor anybody else should feel aggrieved because reckless drivers of this type are fined and made to understand that there are regulations in force that must be obeyed.

DANGEROUS CONDITIONS.

The level crossing accident at Cooksville last Sunday when four lives were lost when a fast radial car crashed into an automobile reveals a condition that is duplicated in many other parts of Ontario.

According to the motorman's story, his view of the automobile was blocked by the angle of the road and a thick bush which prevents approaching vehicles from being seen.

Surely there was neglect in allowing the conditions at this crossing to continue.

It should have been somebody's business to have seen that the bush which blocks the view at this dangerous crossing was removed.

How many more crossings in Ontario are made doubly dangerous by the presence of similar obstruction to the view?

There are some within a short distance of Peterborough that could be materially improved—if somebody would take the responsibility.

The trouble is, that, although motorists complain about these things, they do not press the matter with sufficient earnestness to wake up the authorities to the need of action—and thus the dangerous conditions continue until there is a tragedy.

THE FISHING QUESTION.

In regard to the importance of having an ample supply of fish in district waters here are a couple of cases heard of by The Examiner this week that suggest a way out.

A number of American visitors has been occupying a cottage on Chemong Lake.

The ladies in the party have enjoyed their holiday, and were impressed with the scenery and other features.

But the men are keen anglers, have had very little luck and are disappointed.

The result is, this particular party will go elsewhere.

Another party of tourists here for a few days fishing visited Rice Lake, caught one musky and fifteen pickerel, and came back to town delighted.

The point is obvious.

The majority of visitors do not insist upon muskies or bass, but are quite satisfied to catch pickerel—and those lakes in which the latter fish are to be found are becoming increasingly popular.

If the Kawarthas cannot be kept supplied with the so-called game fish the problem may be solved by stocking them with pickerel, a toothsome pan fish that multiplies rapidly and provides steady sport for the fisherman.

The thing to be kept in mind is that most visitors are delighted so long as they can catch fish—and pickerel fishing gives them that chance.

DRIVERS' PERMITS.

"On Sunday, for example, an Ottawa citizen was held up by an inspector at Braeside and asked to produce his license. Up to that time the inspector informed him he had recorded in his book 34 license numbers, the drivers of which cars were without permits. This in a single day!"—Ottawa Journal.

This paragraph serves to call attention to a condition that is general, it is to be feared.

Despite the fact that the driving permit system has been in force for some years, there must be a lot of people everywhere in the Province who are driving without a license.

They take a chance because they feel that they are fairly safe in doing so, and that there is little likelihood of their being stopped and asked to produce a license.

In short, the permit system, intended to give provincial authorities control of the situation and an opportunity to weed out incompetent drivers, is close to a complete failure, because the public has decided there are no teeth in the Act and that it can be disregarded with impunity.

Meanwhile the slaughter continues.

In 1925 Canadians were being killed off at the rate of less than six per week by motor cars; last year the toll was nine deaths a week, giving a yearly total of 5,397 deaths.

In the face of that record why not make the permit system stand for something?

BEN AND SAM GO HOME.

Canada has done much for the Eskimos, the wards of the nation who live near the edge of the Arctic, but apparently it cannot transform them into the whites of the southern Provinces. Ben and Sam, two Eskimo boys who have been attending a boys' school at Lakefield, have been sent home because they could not stand our climate, and will probably not return.

Torn from their snowhouses, warm furs, and the routine of their daily life in the North, they caught colds, pneumonia, measles and other diseases, and failed to stand up to our conditions of life. Sam and Ben learned to speak English, to read and write a little, and to play our games, but now they must return to the wilds of Baffin Land and Chesterfield Inlet.

The motive of the Ven. Archdeacon Fleming in sending them out was of the best, but it is evident the Eskimos cannot be tamed. We have warm brick and stone houses, with storm windows, but their bodies crave the snowhouse. We have electric lights, but they have seal-oil lamps with a wick of moss. We have luxurious bathrooms, but the Eskimos go through life without washing, and become darker as the years pass. We have short, snappy words; the Eskimos have long, hyphenated combinations which are not often written.

The peaceful, good-natured native of the Far North has his own way of living, which his ancestors might have brought from Asia, but they are not our ways. North is north, and south is south, and never the twain shall meet.—The Globe.

THE WEIGHT OF CLOTHING.

Men who grumble and complain about the heat, and demand that something be done about it, should have their attention called to a report of Dr. Eugene L. Fisk in the Life Extension Institute on comparisons made by him of the weight of clothing worn by representative groups of men and women.

"The average man," concludes Dr. Fisk, "is grossly overclad," and he produces proof.

For the sake of the statistics the clothing of a dozen men and an equal number of women was weighed, a letter scales being used in the latter experiment. The women varied in type from a modern girl of eighteen, whose attire tipped the scales at one pound and six ounces, to an "old-fashioned" woman of 61 years whose clothing weighed all of three and one-half pounds.

The most lightly attired male carried six and three-quarter pounds of clothing, and the most warmly clad ten and one-quarter pounds, the shoes in the latter case weighing three and three-quarter pounds, which exceeded by a quarter-pound the weight of the entire raiment of the most conservatively dressed woman in the group. One woman who weighed 174 pounds wore two and one-quarter pounds of clothing; a man of the same weight nine and one-quarter pounds.

Getting down to details, two specific cases are cited. A girl wore these items: dress, eight ounces; lingerie, four ounces; hose, two ounces; shoes, eight ounces—total, one pound and six ounces. This is what one man wore: suit, six pounds; underwear, fourteen ounces; hose, six ounces; shoes, two and three-quarter pounds—total 10 pounds.

Beyond question the case is proved. To apply the lesson to the over-dressed male is another matter.—Ottawa Journal.

FINE ADDRESS.

Premier King delivered a very fine address to nearly 200 Boy Scouts who are off to a great gathering of Scouts in Britain, when 44 countries will be represented. It will be one of the most unique gatherings on record, a world parliament of youth, and there isn't a question of doubt but that these smart young lads of Canada will come back greatly broadened and enriched in mind. Their selection for the trip is a high privilege, and the inspiring words of Canada's Premier should stimulate the boys to make the very best of their trip.

The Prime Minister went on to speak of citizenship. Hitherto they might have considered themselves citizens merely of the town or village in which they resided. When they got to England they would realize they were citizens, not only of Canada, but of the British Empire, which embraced several continents and hundreds of millions of people. "You will become conscious of a great possession such as you never conceived you had ownership of. What you will see in the British Isles, historically and otherwise, belongs just as much to us Canadians as to those who live in the Motherland. But there is a still wider citizenship. As you meet others from other lands, they will think of you, not as citizens merely of Canada, but as citizens of the British Empire. Some of those you meet will be from France and Germany and Japan. You will meet people from forty-four countries. When have young men from so many countries ever been assembled together? I don't believe such a gathering has taken place before in the history of the world. So you will become conscious that you are citizens of the world. As you make friendships with those boys, you will realize there is something loftier than you ever dreamed of, namely, a human brotherhood that will embrace the whole universe."

In his concluding remarks, the Premier gave some excellent travel advice to the boys, advice as good for grown-ups who want to make the best of an Old World itinerary as well as for the youthful mind. The Premier laid down the following sensible injunctions:

"Do as much as you can in the way of observation. See all you can possibly see. Look at things straight. Look at a building from every side. Get the habit of observing things from all angles.

"Try in some way to give definiteness in your own minds to the things you observe. Whatever you are doing at a particular time, put all your concentration on it.

"Reduce to writing what you see. Write to your homes and to some friend who will preserve what you write, giving expression to your thoughts. If you don't send a letter home every day, write something down every day and mail it at the end of the week. If you keep a diary it will be interesting in 20, 30 or 40-years' time.

"Co-operation. You will find that everything worth doing in life can be done only as a result of co-operating with some one else. Several of you boys eventually will sit in Parliament, and unless you can cooperate with others who have ideas and ideals different from yours, you will never accomplish anything in politics or any other line of activity.

"Have some great ideal which will be your motive power. As you are observing and concentrating and co-operating, you will be seeking to reform conditions under which you are living so that they may be for the very best."—St. Catharines Standard.

The Tule Marsh Murder

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

Story of a Missing Actress and the Taxing of Wits to Explain Her Fate

THE STORY THUS FAR:

Don Ellsworth's wife, formerly the famous actress Sheila O'Shay, disappears, leaving no trace. Dr. Cavanaugh, the great criminal psychologist learns that their married life has been very unhappy.

Peter Piper reporter on the Herald tries to see Dr. Cavanaugh. Instead he meets Barbara Cavanaugh, the attractive daughter, and finds that she was engaged to Don Ellsworth before his marriage.

A body, found in the tule marsh outside the city, is identified by Dr. Cavanaugh as that of Sheila O'Shay. Barbara faints when she hears him tell this to Peter. The latter, already half in love with her, is convinced that she knows something about the murder and his instinct is to protect her.

Mrs. Kane, Sheila O'Shay's waiting woman is arrested and admits that her mistress forced Don Ellsworth to marry her.

Peter and Dr. Cavanaugh find in the boudoir of the murdered woman a threatening letter signed "David Orme." Peter trails Orme and finds him. But he is an irresponsible artist who does not seem capable of the murder. Dr. Cavanaugh agrees to examine Orme.

Peter learns that Barbara's car was used in the murder. He determines to save her at any cost. They discover their great love for each other but Barbara will not let him help her, and he realizes she is protecting some one else.

The trial of Orme for the murder of Sheila O'Shay begins. Mrs. Kane on the witness stand, states that Orme is Sheila O'Shay's real husband. He disappeared and she had never divorced him. Dr. Cavanaugh tells Peter that he can clear David Orme. Orme on the stand tells of the tragedy of his life and his marriage to Sheila O'Shay. He admits to having seen her on the night of her death. Dr. Cavanaugh takes the stand and states that he knew Orme before the murder. Orme was suffering from amnesia when he left his wife, and it returned after he had seen her again. This practically clears Orme of suspicion.

CHAPTER 48.

"Cavanaugh clears Orme! Doctor gives Orme alibi!" Already the cries of the newsboys were wafted faintly upward to the courtroom of department 24.

"Jury out at—make it 11.40 Jimmy," Peter slammed the telephone receiver on the hook and threaded his way through the chattering group of reporters in the little witness room. They swung their legs from the table or leaned against the wall, smoking with the furious zest of men who had been deprived of cigarettes during the long hours in the courtroom.

"Two to one they'll be out less than an hour!"

"They might hang—that old bird with the goat's beard in the second row wasn't taking in much of the doctor's fireworks."

"Not a chance. I'll bet a dollar they'll acquit on the first ballot."

"Done!" They'll stay out long enough to get one more dinner on the taxpayers, anyway."

"All the same, Orme might have done it."

Purely "circumstantial evidence. Juries don't like that. They can remember too many circumstances of their own that might take a deal of explaining."

"It was the doctor that did it. He handed it out like Jehovah on Sinai. If he told them to render a verdict that the moon was made of green cheese, they'd do it. Clever of Graham, bringing that in about 'The Man Who Makes No Mistakes'—They got it firmly fixed in their minds that the great Cavanaugh just couldn't be wrong."

"He certainly made the D.A. wish he was some place else."

"Hello, Peter! You look as if you needed a drink."

"I do," Peter agreed morosely, and slid through the door.

The rows of chairs in the courtroom were deserted. With stray sheets of copy paper and stubs of pencils strewing the floor, it had the disheveled look of a room after a party—that indefinable atmosphere of a place where things have recently happened and are no longer happening.

Half a dozen correspondents sat on the rail of the jury box, like a line of birds teetering on a fence, chatting with each other, the photographers, and the humanized bailiff. The chairs behind the lawyers' table were pushed back, empty. Above the back of a chair next to the railing which divided the room in half, Peter caught sight of the top of a small black hat.

He swung open the gate and dropped into the chair beside Barbara.

"Well," he said with weary relief, "that's over."

Barbara turned to him a brooding face.

"Oh!" she breathed, "do you really think it is?"

Peter turned sidewise, resting his elbows on the arm of the chair. By leaning forward just three inches, he could kiss the tip of her ear. He glanced over his shoulder at the group on the rail of the jury box, Better no risk it. He relinquished the opportunity with a regretful sigh.

"There's not a doubt in the world!" he said confidently. "I wish you'd take off your glove, Barbara. I think I could grab your hand without anybody noticing."

Obediently, almost absent mindedly, Barbara took off her glove; but she smiled up at him with tremulous gratitude as her cold fingers relaxed under the reassuring pressure of Peter's clasp.

"But that speech of the district attorney's—it sounded horribly convincing with all that talk of motive and opportunity, and the way he kept emphasizing the threatening letter and the attempt to escape."

"Yes, it was a better argument than Graham's—for people like you and me, but not for the jury. The jury will think the D.A. is a bit of a bully, and Graham a nice honest kid, desperately in earnest and at a disadvantage. Which is just about right, both ways. But Graham has brains as well as a pink and white complexion. He knew he didn't have to argue the case. What he had to do was to cut everything else away and hammer that jury with Dr. Cavanaugh's testimony and nothing else. They've got to remember that testimony as the one important issue—and that Dr. Cavanaugh is a man who can't be mistaken.

"Orme is acquitted beyond a shadow of a doubt—and it was your father that did it with his little hatchet."

"Yes," Barbara was staring straight before her at the state seal on the wall behind the judge's bench. "He was—very clever—wasn't he?"

"He was the whole works!" Peter began enthusiastically.

Then he saw that her lips were trembling, trembling so that she could hardly control them for speech. He glanced again over his shoulder at the chatting reporters.

"To hell with them!" he grunted with low-voiced violence, and raising his hand to Barbara's chin, turned her head gently towards him. Her eyes shone unnaturally large in her small thin face—pitifully smaller and thinner than when he had first seen it.

"You poor—little girl," Peter's crooning voice had a tone which no one had ever heard in it before. "I know what you want to do. You want to put your head on my shoulder, and cry and cry and cry. And God knows how much I want you to do just that! Barbara, whenever you want a shoulder to cry on, promise me that you'll cry on mine. That's what I'm for. It's the one best thing on earth I'm good for, Barbara!"

"Yes," Barbara said faintly, "I'd like that." The tears welled slowly in her eyes, slipped down her cheeks. The corner of a pink tongue emerged, like a kitten's, to lick them from the corners of her mouth. Something in that childlike, wholly unconscious movement wrenched at Peter almost unbearably.

"Damn these people," he murmured fervently. "Damn everything!" He squared his shoulders, blocking the view of the men by the jury box. Then he pulled out a crumpled handkerchief and awkwardly but efficiently mopped Barbara's wet face. A shred of tobacco clung to her chin.

"At least I'm sure you—you don't do this very often," Barbara smiled through her tears. "You haven't what I'd call a fatal facility!"

"Listen to me," Peter said urgently. "This can't go on. You can't wear yourself out like this—you'll go all to pieces."

"Oh, no, I won't," Barbara's voice was steady now. "I can't afford to."

"But now that Orme has got off—and your father did get him off, sure as shooting—don't you think you'd feel better, if you sometime told me all about it? Wouldn't it be a help to share it with some one—some one who would love you, no matter what happened?"

"No, Peter, I couldn't." Barbara spoke with a desolate, wistfull finality. "I can't tell anyone—ever. But I'll say this much, though it's more than I thought I would, more than I ought. Only somehow, I want you to know. You say it wouldn't make any difference, but I do want you to know Peter—even though maybe you won't believe it."

"I'll believe anything on God's earth that you say to me, Barbara."

"It's only this; that 'I—I didn't kil Sheila O'Shay!"

The shuffling sound of feet from behind the door through which the jury had filed out, the trampling sound of feet as the courtroom doors were thrown open; a voice, the composite of many voices, saying, "Here they come!"—all came to Peter as a rushing confusion in which he was somehow propelled to seat 53 as the judge tooks his seat on the bench and the bailiff banged for order.

"Ladies and gentleman of the jury have you considered your verdict?"

"We have."

Down the murmurous lines of an interminable rigmarole droned a voice.

"The case of the people against David Orme.....Do you find the defendant guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty."

"So say you all?"

"So say we all."

Somebody was trying to scramble over Peter's outstretched legs. Somebody leaped over a chair to reach the aisle.

"My God, Peter, have you gone to sleep?"

Peter stared blankly at Harry, the "O" twin, who was shaking him by the elbow.

"I believe you and I are working on a rag called the 'Herald'. It's suppoesd to be a daily newspaper. Its city editor is one Jimmy Sears, who at this moment is shouting himself hoarse and tearing out handfuls of red hair. Suppose you postpone your little dream and come along!"

The dazed look receded from Peter's eyes.

"Call a taxi, Harry, while I phone in. With luck, we'll make the 1 o'clock deadline!"

Love and sorrow and joy must wait. "Peter Piper of the 'Herald' was again on the job."

What To-day Means To You.

WHAT TO-DAY MEANS TO YOU.
"CANCER."

If July 19 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 4.30 a.m. to 8 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 4.30 p.m., and from 8 p.m. to 9.15 p.m.; the danger periods are from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.; and from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Everything augurs well for this date. The influences will be invigorating and beneficient. Association with those who can help you in your task, whatever, it may be, is promised, and success in your ventures is assured. It behooves one and all to take full advantage of the prevailing conditions.

Children born July 19 will possess the unhappy "penchant" for getting even, and this trait will pursue them until long after they have passed the stage of youth. On the other hand, they will, although bitter enemies, be loyal friends. A revengeful attitude promises to cramp their style and to case a stagnation of productive effort.

You, as yet, have not found yourself, nor your particular niche in life. It is hard for you to stay put. You have a good mind, but you become engrossed in a number of trivial things instead of concentrating upon one thing of great interest and value. There is no motivating desire drawing you on to-ward a definite goal.

It is not difficult for you to make friends, and you create good first impressions. When your enthusiasm is fresh you are very confident yourself, of others. Your good beginnings could lead into good endings, if you could only conquer your restlessness, and anchor your interests to a place or thing.

The first part of your life will be one of ever-changing experiences, and a great deal of superficial enjoyment. You will become more practical with the passing of the years, and your material harvest will be reaped rather late in life. You are destined to have your share of heartaches, but they will sweeten and strengthen your character. You will never be felled by your hard knocks. Grousing and self pity are not in your category of faults. If you do not marry too early in life, there is a great deal of happiness in store for you, and you will make a real understanding, sympathetic pal for someone.

Receives Appointment

Rev. Mr. Quarterman, who spent fifteen years in the Peace River district, Northern Alberta, has been appointed rector of the Flinton, Cloyne and Harlowe congregations. He will reside in Flinton.

Fire Destroys Hall

The Orange Hall at Harlowe, the home of L. O. L. No. 2370 was completely destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning. It was a fine large frame building in a state of good repair having been built during the days of the great war, when it served as a public meeting place and recruiting station. The members of the lodge lost all their equipment as the fire was well under way before discovered. The origin of the fire is not known. The loss will be between one and two thousand dollars, but it is understood that there was some insurance.

The orangemen of Flinton District celebrated the twelfth in Marmora while those of Harlowe went to Tichbourne.

LAUGHS FROM LIFE

Defeat

Before them stretched a white world — and how bitter, bitter cold it was! Cold whiteness above them as unfriendly chill as the expanse beneath, pressed down and enclosed them in a relentless circumference. Cold, cold, so numbing cold! Side by side they advanced, just the faintest perceptible progress at every effort, clinging close to each other for such modicum of warmth as each could give the other. Perhaps they might have withdrawn; yet pride, or conscience, or whatever the impelling power might be, goaded them forward into the very teeth of the cold that drove them back. The very whiteness of it seemed to add to the chill. Yet darkness was all about them! They know that it was white above and white beneath in spite of the pitchy night.

At last they stopped. Will power could force them no farther. Clinging close, futilely intertwining, for each seemed now to add to the chill, rather than to the warmth of the other, they reached the point of utter surrender. It was horrible, horrible! The freezing whiteness pressed upward from below, and the two were naked, utterly naked! They were my feet, and I simply could not force myself to push them farther down into the bed.

Rondeauville

"May we go for a stroll near by,
Your daughter Mignonette and I?"
Asked I one dreamy night in June
Of Madame Poisson de la Prune,
That haughty grande dame from Versailles.

"The crickets chirp; the moon's on high;
The stars shine in the well-known sky,
I promise you we'll come back soon!....
May we?"

Sweet Mignon gave a little cry
For fear our plans might go awry.
Then, trembling like a big bufloon,
Once more I craved our little boon,
And Madame gave this swift reply:
Mais, oui!"

Up to Expectations

"How does your daughter like that horseback camp she's attending?"

"Oh, I can tell that she's got a big kick out of it."

TRYING AGAIN

Mount Pleasant, Ark., July 19.—The victim of several destructive floods in late years and more recently wiped out by a tornado in April, the town of Guion is rebuilding. The present site is 200 yards from the old location and the new position is on higher ground to avoid floods. Volunteers are building about 10 houses a day.

WELL-TRAVELED HAT

GLASGOW, July 19.—Bearing the following message and 65 labels, a hat travelling around the world arrived in Aberdeen recently. "I am on my way, I don't know where, and I don't care where I roam, so give me a lift and send me along, and some day I'll roll home." The hat was being sent around the world by a man in Dallas, Texas. It has been all over the United States and Canada.

Some Of Leading Industrial And Oil Issues Suffer Fractionally Setbacks

STEEL OF CANADA UP

TORONTO, July 19.—(Canadian Press).— Dullness continued on the Toronto exchange this morning when trading failed to show any considerable advance over the range and volume of yesterday.

Brazilian which was fairly active among the industrials declined a point to 58¼ and Massey Harris also dropped back 1 to 54, Ford A lost fractionary on small demand that was also characteristic of many other leaders. Loblaw 'A' and 'B' were up ¼ and ½ from 21 under fairly strong buying.

International Nickel failed to hold variety, losing ⅜ to 47⅞. Standard Steel on sales of 5 shares added 5 to the all-time high of 100 reached yesterday but most of the others were marking time if they did not recede. Steel of Canada however strengthened 2¾ to 57¾.

STOCK A DAY

The Allis Chalmers Company manufacturers a widely diversified line of heavy machinery and electrical equipment including gas, oil and steam engines, steam and hydraulic turbines, pumps, generators, motors, flour mill and saw mill machinery, mining equipment, cement machinery and tractors. A new type of tractor is being put on the market now and promises to be a distinct source of revenue.

The plants of the company are located at West Allis, Wis., Norwood, Ohio, Pittsburgh, Penn., and Springfield, Ill. Altogether they cover about 312 acres. The company maintains district offices in the principal cities of the United States, England, France, Canada, Bolivia, Chile and Peru. Earnings have been stable and sales have increased steadily since 1922. The company set up a new capital structure in 1927. On this new set-up net income in 1928 totaled $2,933,910 or $11.28 a share. This compared with $10.02 a share in 1927 and $9.39 a share in 1926.

Funded debt totals $15,000,000 coming due in 1937. Capital stock outstanding consists of $28,600,000 in common shares of $100 par value. The entire issue of preferred stock was retired in 1927 at 110 and accrued dividends. The present annual rate of dividends on the common stock amounts to $7 a share payable quarterly: As of January 1, 1929, total current assets were $27,480,615. Current liabilities amounted to $5,632,585 and net working capital was $21,848,030. Book value applicable to the outstanding common stock amounted to $165.05 a share.

ASSOCIATED

Associated still making some headway in lime despite heavy pressure, according to latest reports. It is now more than 225 feet in lime. Gas flow struck so far sufficiently large to make it very doubtful whether tools could be removed and column of mud released so that a production test could be made without eliminating possibility of their getting mud back in hole if further drilling were desired. Probably more pressure is being exerted against the flow on this well than at any previous well in Turner Valley, and it is probable that drilling will be continued further if the column of mud can be retained in the hole.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

Solloway, Mills & Company Through

SMELTERS

Consolidated Smelters is a great benefit to small operators in B.C., in providing a market for their product. During first six months of this year 46 mines shipped ore to Trail custom smelter.

HOWEY GOLD

Program on Howey is ahead of schedule, says Pres. Hammell, back from property. Will soon be crosscutting to vein on four new levels below 500-ft. horizon.

HARKER

Developments on 1,000-ft. level of Harker Mines loom important. On upper levels considerable tonnage of low grade ore is opened up and some better grade ore is needed to bring the average of this ore up. Drive on 1,000 ft. level now said to show $9 to $12 ore over 7½-ft. width.

FOLEY O'BRIEN

Diamond drilling program being considered for re-opening of Foley O'Brien, once considered one of the outstanding prospects of Porcupine.

TO OVERCOME TAX

Several B. C. mining companies are raising par value of shares and cutting down on number of shares issued because of heavy burden Robb's share tax places on low priced shares.

GOLD OUTPUT UP

Ontario gold production for first half of year $16,504,000, was $527,000 ahead of same period of 1928.

LAKE GENEVA

Accumulation of Lake Geneva shares continues and in week shares have moved up from under 50c to over 90c. Venture is subsidiary of Towagmac and some important news is expected from the drift on second level now nearing a large dyke. Diamond drills show that beyond this dyke wider and better grade ore is to be expected. Present grade said to be around $25.

GRANADA

Learned from official source that Granada's 625 ft. level drift on No. 2 vein now 420 ft. long of which 70 ft. shows medium grade and 350 of high grade. The better grade continues in the face and the drift will be pushed on as surface work indicates still possibilities of upwards 1400-ft. additional length. Later it is the intention to tap No. 1 vein which is 420 ft. north.

COBALT CONTACT

Ore possibilities at Cobalt Contact, North Cobalt, continue to improve, shareholders were told at annual meeting. Geological evidence leads to belief that much larger production zone lies beneath the 300-ft. level than was previously supposed, said Pres. J. M. Aitken.

BIDGOOD

After having advanced some 350 feet to the southwest on the 850' level drift, Bidgood now in good formation with vein opening up well and has the appearance of good ore, says our field man. This drift is now being pushed toward Mud Lake.

KIRKLAND LAKE GOLD

It is rumored that the drift on the 3,600 has advanced somewhat over 30 feet in ore that grades slightly under $15.

NORANDA

Though it has been denied that Noranda and Smelters were talking merger, the idea seems to have taken well, for the gossip still goes on.

AMITY COPPER

Siking to much greater depth is proposed at Amity Copper, Boston Creek, according to press reports. This will likely be done before any move is made to install a concentrator.

Financial News and Briefs

A Special Service to the Examiner

Chas. Gurd Company's Year Promises to be Profitable

With Chas. Gurd Company's active season in full swing, indications are that the current year is likely to be a record one from the standpoint of sales and earnings. Current output is reported to be substantially ahead of this time last year, and is expected to be further augmented when the new extension to the Montreal Plant swings into full production.

It is stated that the new plant has been already put into operation, but it will be a matter of two or three weeks before the full complement of equipment is ready to turn out the different Gurd beverages at maximum capacity. When the complete installation is in operation, it is the intention to issue a general invitation to the public to visit the plant and inspect the workings of the various modern and labor-saving devices that will then be in operation.

Indications that the company's investment in the St. John, N. B. branch has been fully justified are contained in reports reaching the head office of the company. It is stated that for the months of May and June output at the subsidiary plant was well in excess of three times that of the same month last year. In this connection it is of special interest that the equipment at the St. John plant is modelled along exactly the same lines as then in use at the new Montreal works. A complete overhauling of the machines previously in use has been effected, with the result that a greatly increased production is being obtained at substantial savings in operating costs, as compared with the methods formerly utilized in the old plant.

Canada's Timber Resources Enormous

OTTAWA—"The latest available estimate places Canada's forest resources at 224,304 million cubic feet of standing timber which is capable of yielding 424,637 million feet board measure of sawn lumber and 1,121,993 thousand cords of pulpwood ties, poles and other smaller materials. With the population of the Dominion estimated at 9,519,000 in 1927 this represents a per capita supply of 23,564 cubic feet of standing timber to provide an annual per capita consumption for use alone of over 269 cubic feet," says a new letter of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

"A total depletion of 4,400,000 cubic feet per annum does not necessarily imply that our total resources of 224,304,000,000 cubic feet are reduced by that amount every year and that the supply will therefore be exhausted in fifty years. Estimating the probable duration of our supply of forest products is not a matter of simple arithmetic. The rate of utilization is far from constant. It tends to increase with the discovery of new uses for wood, the increase in our population and the increase in the demand for forest products from other countries whose supplies have been reduced to a greater extent than our own. The other agencies is also very uncertain but tends to increase with the increase of population and the extension of settlement unless measures are taken to prevent this tendency.

"On the other hand there is a steady increase in volume taking place in all healthy stands of timber due to annual growth. By the application of scientific forest management this annual growth can be stimulated and could be made to take place over our entire area of potential forest land."

Dominion Rubber Divided Into Four Separate Departments

MONTREAL—To meet steadily expanding business, a completely new operating system, was announced by W. A. Eden, president of Dominion Rubber Company.

Dominion Rubber Co. is now divided into separate departments of tires, footwear and mechanical goods, each with a general manager who is responsible for both production and sales of his commodity, by the new system. A fourth general manager is responsible for all warehousing and shipping.

Mr. Eden, is making his announcement explained that the growth of the Dominion Rubber Co. and continuance of expansion as Canada progresses have made the old centralized type of organization inadequate.

NEW YORK CURB LIST ADVANCES

Buying Operation Conducted With Vigor In Varied Assortment Of Issues

MARKET IS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 19. (C.P.)—Disregarding the establishment of a new high record in Federal Reserve brokers' loans, the stock market continued to move upward to-day, although the advance was by no means uniform. Buying operations were conducted with considerable vigor in a varied assortment of steel, public utility, can, electrical and railroad shares, a dozen of which moved into new high ground. Several of the motor and oil shares were conspicuously heavy.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent. but the volume of funds became so plentiful that the rate was dropped to 7 in the early afternoon. Other monetary accommodations held steady. While some nervousness was apparent as a result of the increase of $58,000,000 in brokers' loans, Wall street seemed more interested in the reduction of member bank borrowings at the Federal Reserve.

JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA WILL HOLD PARADE

Kiddies In Costume Are Staging Procession At 7 O'Clock This Evening

During Old Home Week the boys and girls of Peterborough developed many ideas on the subject of parades. Now they are to have an opportunity of putting their ideas in practice. To-night the Junior Chautauqua and the City Playgrounds are co-operating in a parade which will assemble at the Chautauqua tent on McDonnel Street at seven o'clock. National costumes will feature here, as well as foreign and domestic animals. The children are showing much originality in planning their costumes. Prizes will be offered for the most original, most artistic, and most comic outfits.

The children are also enthusiastic over their junior program, which will be presented in the tent on Monday morning. The main feature will be a scene "An Hour in Fairyland." Here again individual originality will be encouraged in the songs and dances. Pretty fairy songs and recitations and rhythmical dance movements will help to produce the fairy-like effects.

Solo parts will be taken by Lenore Lewis, the fairy queen, Isabel Skitch, Ruthie McNeely, and Lenore Skitch. Choruses of small fairies, sunset fairies, and manly huntsmen have been chosen from the children of Peterborough.

The conclusion of the junior program will be an oratorical contest, open to all boys and girls, on the subject "Canadian Chautauqua." A prize will be given for the best speech, not exceeding seven minutes in length.

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS IN BRAZIL JANUARY TO MAY

A. S. Bleakney, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, reports on conditions in Brazil as follows:

The credit stringency which has recently developed in Brazil has become serious, and this is reflected in the rapid increase in the number of failures which has culminated this month (May) and included many important firms.

Failures recorded in the first five months of the present year in Rio de Janeiro numbered 228, and creditors' agreements 155, against 444 failures and 186 creditors' agreements for the whole of 1928. Liabilities in failures in May, according to the Monitor Mercantil, a responsible commercial agency here, are estimated at $4,100,000, and in creditors' agreereports that, although there has been no considerable increase in the number of failures, the amounts involved have increased alarmingly since the beginning of the ear.

Business failures and applications for creditors' agreements are not limited to special trades but cover the whole range of business. Brabilian manufacturers (apart from the textile branch, which has suffered most) have been affected less than others but the latest indications are that they are beginning to be involved as well. Recently two banks closed their doors—one, the Banco da Cidade de Rio De Janeiro, was small; but the other, the Banco Hespanha-Brasil, was of considerable importance.

The stringency is generally attributed here to a change in policy of the Bank of Brazil, which in recent months is reported to have been calling loans and restricting credit on a major scale. In the past direct credits have been granted liberally. Laast year the bank appeared as creditor in 133 bankruptcies and 112 creditors' agreements.

The present restriction of credit is not without its compensations, as it tends to weed out many unsound firms; unfortunately many sound firms also suffer. But the fact must be borne in mind that while Brazil is subject to difficulties of this kind, the rapid recuperative powers of the country from depressions have been demonstrated on many occasions.

The report presented by the President of the Republic on the financial year 1928 was encouraging. The salient features of the report are as follows:

Budget estimates as originally voted showed a deficit of 151,990 centos, but following the presidential veto certain expenditures were reduced, with the result that that final estimates show a surplus of 116 centos. Actual revenue was 127,579 contos greater than the estimate, while expenses voted in 1928 to be met; these amounted to 151,000 contos. A feature of the message was the reduction, following an increase in rates of the Government railway deficit from 72,866 contos in 1927 to 8,519 contos in 1928.

On the receipts side, the revenue was greatly aided by an important increase in customs returns following the heavy imports of 1928. In regard to extra budgetary expenditure and revenue, the amounts involved under both heads are greater than those of the budget.

RUSSIANS ASSUME OFFENSIVE IN CHINA

rapidly developing which easily could involve Russia and China in a battle for supremacy in Manchuria.

European correspondents in the affected area reported large concentrations of troops, both Chinese and Russian, at frontier points on the Chinese Eastern Railway, seized last week by Manchurian authorities.

There was admitted danger of border clashes in the propinquity of these armies. Such incidents conceivably could precipitate both home governments into a deadly and disastrous conflict.

Little, if anything, indicated the actual peace of the two countries had been broken, the current crop of rumors of border incursions and repulses lacking confirmation from any source. Except for frontier clashes there was some disinclination to believe the serious situation which has developed inevitably meant war.

The National Government of China, Nanking despatches said, viewed the position as grave but not hopeless. President Chiang Kai Shed presided yesterday at a meeting of National leaders to discuss the situation. What took place was not revealed.

PARIS, July 19 (C.P.).—The Chinese-Russian difficulties in Manchuria were brought formally to the attention of the French government to-day with calls by the Russian Ambassador and the Chinese Minister upon Aristide Briand, Foreign Minister. They acquainted him with the views of their government and the situation as they saw it.

It was stressed officially, however, their calls were merely to inform the French government of the situation and that there was no question yet of asking the Council of the League of Nations to intervene to preserve peace between the two nations.

COMMENT ON THE MARKET

A Special Service to The Examiner.

Sales of General Steel Wares Limited Up 15 per cent in 1st Half Year

The management of General Steel Wares Limited that sales for the first six months of 1929 will show an increase of 15 per cent over the corresponding period in 1928.

For the year ended December 31st, 1928 earnings available for interest, depreciation, taxes and dividends amounted to $1,483,008 This was equivalent to 2.75 times interest requirements on the $9,000,000 6 per cent bonds outstanding and after providing for these and $372,218 for depreciation and taxes, $928,008 was left for the $4,500,000, 7 per cent preferred stock. When payment of preferred dividends was made, the residue left for the 200,000 common shares was $240,791, equal to $1.21 per share. In view of the increase in sales this year to d te, a substantial increase in profits left for the common in 1929 appears assured.

If it is granted that an increase of 15 per cent in sales this year is carried through to profits these would be $1,705,000. After allowing $400,000 for depreciation and taxes and paying interest and preferred dividends, the residue left would be $435,000, equal to $2.20 per share on the common.

General Steel Wares owns and operates the McClary Manufacturing Company, London, the Sheet Metal Products Company of Canada, Toronto, McDonald Manufacturing Company Ltd. Toronto and the Happy Thought Foundry Company Ltd., Brantford. All these old established units do a wide range of business in a great diversity of metal products, including plumbing equipment, stoves, ranges, refrigerators, etc. At the close of last year the ratio of current assets to current liabilities was more than 7 to 1, being $8,583,221 against $1,171,090, making net working capital $7,412,131.

Position and Standing of Canadian Marconi Company

Speaking of the Imperial Wireless and Cable Conference in 1928 which resulted in the formation of a merger company in Great Britain which has taken over all wireless and cable interests there," the president and chairman of the Canadian Marconi Co. at the annual meeting yesterday pointed out that while Canadian Marconi was not included in the merger it only applying to companies in Great Britain, the merger company had a substantial financial interest in Canadian Marconi and arrangements were being made to work in close co-operation with it. He referred to the trip of Mr. Short, managing director, who has spent some months in England negotiating an agreement for this purpose. "While the main principles of the agreement have been settled," he said, "certain details are still under consideration."

The president made reference to the contract btween Canadian Marconi and the Canadian National Railways Company under which the telegraph administration of the latter company will act as collecting and distributing agents in Canada for Canadian Marconi's trans-oceanic wireless messages. This went into effect on November 1, 1928.

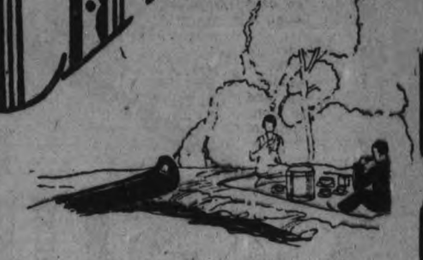
CHESTERFIELD LAMP

YOUR CHOICE FREE

OR ELECTRIC COOKER



GIVEN WITH EVERY BEATTY WASHER

Free, with every new Beatty Electric Washer, while this sale lasts, will be given the beautiful Chesterfield Lamp here shown. The stand is walnut, neatly turned, with large wooden base heavily weighted. The bridge arm is adjustable at the socket, with fancy fretwork design, and is wired with push-through socket. The shade is the latest deep dome style, being lined and interlined in silk and covered in georgette with fancy trimmings and motif effects. All are trimmed with two four-inch fringes, one of silk and one of metal. Such attractive color combinations as blue and cerise, black and orange, tiffin and orange, taupe and rose may be had. The electric cooker may be chosen instead of the lamp, if desired. And one of our wash-day extras accompanies each purchase. Absolutely no increase in price or terms.

You really need a Beatty Electric Washer for the summer washings. The multitude of colored things, especially for the young people and the children, the numberless garments suitable for summer wear, make washing tedious unless you have a Beatty Washer to help you. Just when everyone else is getting a holiday, then, it seems, mother has to work harder than ever. Bending over a steaming tub or pushing a lever back and forth when it is 90 in the shade inside and about 105 in the kitchen is dangerous. $1.00 will put an electric washer in your home, payments as low as $5.00 a month.

FOR HOME, CAMP OR PICNIC USE

The Everhot is an electric cooker, fireless cooker and thermal jug, all in one. It will cook anything that can be cooked on a large electric stove. It can be taken in the car and keeps a picnic dinner hot. Or it can be used as a regular jug to keep things cold—lemonade, ice cream or salads.

The Everhot is made of nickeled steel, highly polished. It is heavily insulated all round, and lined inside with seamless extra heavy aluminum. Furnished with two aluminum utensils and a pair of lifting tongs. Equipped with six feet of cord. Stands 13⅝ inches high, is 10 inches in diameter. Runs off ordinary light socket.

Endeavor To Secure Honorable G. S. Henry, Minister Of Highways As Speaker

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, July 19.—A representative number of ratepayers were in attendance at the public meeting called by the Reeve to discuss holding an official opening of the paved roadway in the village, and including the four miles east from Allen's hill to the Peterborough-Port Hope highway, thus making Millbrook a connecting link in the provincial system of highways, interest in this public event being evidently well sustained though the two miles of paving program for the community were completed late last fall.

Reeve W. T. Wood took the chair and explained the purpose of the gathering, and the reason why any steps toward an official opening had been delayed so long. Information was given regarding the work on the road east from the village, which is now well under way, and it is expected the approximately four miles of paving will be completed early in August.

The chairman expressed the mind of the municipal council when he stated that body felt the ratepayers should have an opportunity of saying whether or not they were in favor of marking, in some public manner, the completion of an improvement which has proved of such value to the community, as the paved streets certainly have, particularly in the spring of this year when continued wet weather, under former conditions, would have made the streets practically impassable for cars over a period of several weeks. There was no question that business had profited, and community life generally had been built up because of the satisfactory condition of the roads.

It was felt, however, that unless the citizens as a whole were loyally behind any important movement, involving considerable labor and expense, such as an official opening would prove to be, further advancement in the matter would be unwise and no definite plans were likely to be proceeded with.

Set for August 22

Organization being necessary, after considerable discussion had shown that the general feeling of the meeting was in favor of proceeding with the project as outlined by Reeve Wood, Councillor P. Stinson was elected chairman, and G. E. Burnham secretary. Cavan township is uniting with Millbrook in planning the public celebration as the benefit derived is mutual, and on motion of L. W. Smith, seconded by T. J. Lang, it was decided that Thursday, August 22, be the date for the official opening providing the Minister of Highways, Honorable G. S. Henry, can be secured as speaker for the occasion.

Dr. L. J. Stuart was appointed chairman of the sports' committee for the afternoon program, the other members being A. V. Thorne, P. I. Bently, D. Sheppard, W. E. Ball, M. McDowell, A. Jeffreys, R. I. Fallis, E. H. Barnes, B. B. Dawson, and C. C. Garside.

Reeve G. H. Hootan was appointed chairman of the committee for the evening's program, his assistants being W. O'Brien, Harold Tate, J. H. Might, J. L. McCamus, L. Morton, H. R. Scott, J. R. Eakins, R. J. McKnight, and T. J. Lang.

The decoration committee has as chairman J. J. Clarke, with D. Sheppard, G. F. Harrington, and H. R. Scott as the other members.

Suggestions Made

Tentative proposals include securing the services of the Oshawa Regimental Band, who will put on a concert and street carnival in the earlier part of the evening something similar to the one staged here during the Old Boy's Reunion when this band proved such a drawing-card; two dances, one in the armouries and the other in the town hall; speeches, with the stand probably erected in front of the armouries, the Honorable George S. Henry, and other public officials from the United counties, to be present and take part in this feature of the evening's program.

A banquet, in honor of the election of Reeve W. T. Wood to the Wardenship of the Counties of Durham and Northumberland, will be combined with the celebration in connection with the paved roadways, and will be held in the armouries at 7 p. m. The Women's Institute will be asked to cater for the banquet this organization having successfully fulfilled this undertaking for large gatherings on more than one somewhat similar occasion.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, July 24, in the town hall, when all committees will report progress.

CHATHAM, July 19.—Thomas Sisman, local manager of the Tip Top Tailors Limited, a chain store organization of men's clothing units, was found dead in the bath tub in his residence, 129 Inches avenue at the noon hour today.

WILL DISCUSS DISARMAMENT

No Date Set for Statement on Naval Question by MacDonald.

CONSIDER DOMINIONS

LONDON, July 19. — (Canadian Press Cable).—Premier Ramsay MacDonald is to make a full statement on the naval disarmament question, Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, said when he was questioned in the House of Commons yesterday. The First Lord added he could not say when the statement would be made.

Mr. Alexander also said he was unable to announce any date on which decision would have been formulated on the future of the great Singapore naval base. A number of important and very difficult matters had to be taken into account.

"It is hardly fair to press us for a statement of the day, especially when it is considered the Dominions must be consulted," the First Lord concluded.

BLUE SUNOCO MOTOR FUEL

Leadership Proven by Thousands Verified by Scientist

Now!

...it's verified! Prof. E. A. Allcut of the University of Toronto has finished a thoroughly scientific study of the performance of the best known gasolines sold in Canada and has conclusively proved that BLUE SUNOCO gives the most miles per dollar

(A copy of Professor Allcut's paper, reprinted from the November, 1928, ENGINEERING JOURNAL, will be gladly forwarded upon request) and also proved that there is no other motor fuel like BLUE SUNOCO.

Thousands of Canadian Motorists Have Accepted Our Challenge...

They know that a tankful of BLUE SUNOCO is far more eloquent than a pageful of words... know BLUE SUNOCO actually gives more power without additional cost... know that knocking in high compression motors is silenced by BLUE SUNOCO... know there is nothing that makes it easier to crawl through traffic with fewer gear shifts than BLUE SUNOCO.

Tens of thousands of motorists know these things ... and we deliberately challenge you to make the same test ... and the same discovery!

BLUE SUNOCO is a pure petroleum product, non-poisonous and harmless. Its high knockless qualities are obtained by exclusive methods of manufacture and not by the addition of foreign substances

To get the most out of your car combine the use of BLUE SUNOCO gasoline with SUNOCO, the wholly distilled motor oil

CYCLES 400 MILES TO VISIT SON IN DETROIT, OLD MAN IS BARRED

United States' Customs Officers Refuse Admission After Long Trip.

RETURNING ON BICYCLE.

Windsor, Ont., July 19 (Special to The Examiner, Copyright).—Four hundred miles ridden on a bicycle from Sherbrooke, Que., to Toronto by a man who is two years short of the reputed life span of three score and 10 years. Thence to Windsor by train—although friends protested—to come and see a son who lives in Detroit. Then a laconic refusal to be allowed to enter the United States. That is the story told by C. T. Pressland, of Sherbrooke.

"My son lives in Detroit, and I just decided that I would like to come and pay him a visit," Mr. Pressland explained. "I felt that the rail fare is a good deal of expense so I just trundled out my bicycle and set off for the border. When I went across in the ferry the United States immigration officers asked me a lot of questions and then said, 'You can't come in.' I don't remember any of the questions now. It is a little disheartening to make such a long journey, only to meet with disappointment at the border. I don't know what I shall do."

"Anyway, I have succeeded in seeing a lot of the country," Mr. Pressland said optimistically. "One cannot see that from the train. I made good time, too," he declared. "On the first day I did 47 miles."

Mr. Pressland mentioned the interesting fact that he had spent his sixty-eighth birthday on the road. "I am going back on my bicycle in the same way to see more of the country and to save the pennies," Mr. Pressland declared.

Asked if he was of Scotch birth he replied, "No, sir; I'm English to the backbone. I can trace back my family for a thousand years," he declared.

He said that he did not like the traffic on the roads and had had several narrow escapes. "In fact, I was knocked off my bicycle by a car near Toronto once and sustained a black eye," he said.

NO CHANGE MADE IN T.T.C. LAUNCH

Returned To Service The Same As When 11 Persons Were Overcome

Toronto, July 19.—No alterations or repairs whatsoever were made to the T.T.C. sightseeing launch Miss Simcoe before she was replaced in regular service yesterday, after searching tests, said D. W. Harvey, general manager, last evening.

Whether that fact might be construed as indicating conviction among the commission management that no structural defect was responsible for the illness of 11 sightseers who left the launch in a fainting condition recently Mr. Harvey would not say. He reported the return to service of the Miss Simcoe without further comment.

Eustace Smith, Jr., T.T.C. officer, says that the commission has not yet received complete reports of the investigation into the affair. There would be nothing to say until these were in the hands of the commission. He mentioned that the Miss Simcoe had been used occasionally ,following completion of tests for escaping exhaust gas, even befor yesterday.

OPPOSE RE-OPENING OF CASE HEARING

House Of David Attorney Asks Investigation Go No Further

LANSING, Mich. July 19.—A brief opposing the reopening of the House of David litigation by the Supreme Court was filed yesterday by Attorney William J. Barnard, representing the faction of the Benton Harbor colony, headed by "Queen" Mary Purnell.

The brief sets forth that the perjury counts lodged against the entire cult at different phases of upper and lower court trials are questions of fact and that there is no need for modification of the Supreme Court's decree. The brief was in reply to one filed by George S. Foster and H. T. Dewhirst, colony attorney, which asked a rehearing of the case by the Supreme Court and a modified decree. It was claimed that an immorality injunction should be directed against those whom the charges were proven and not against the entire colony.

Barnard cited passages from the perjury book, which, it was assured, taught members of the cult that perjury is no crime when in defense of the cult.

"Perjury is a crime and therefore comes under the allegation," he said.

A Column of Particular Interest to Women Readers, Conducted by ANNE WILCOX

Success! Would you win it
Somewhere on life's way?
You have to begin it
Right here and to-day;
For success that yields honor
And rare satisfaction
Is putting yourself and
Your dreams into action!

• • • • • • •

I do not know by whom this little poem was written, but it expresses the right thought in just the right way.

• • • • • • •

I have often met those people who are constantly dreaming of success, but who never attain it, and the reason is just that they do not try to put their thoughts into action.

• • • • • • •

Many of us sit and picture ourselves in high positions, but this is as far as we go. The picture soon fades and we find ourselves just as we were before—at the bottom of the ladder, instead of a few more rungs up.

• • • • • • •

It is a hackneyed expression, "There is no royal road to success," but it is true. To realize one's life's ambition means hard work and continual toil.

• • • • • • •

But then in the end you have something to show for it. There is the satisfaction of knowing that you have done your best and that is all, or at least the most, that can be expected from anyone.

• • • • • • •

I suppose many of those who read the Women's Page have attained their highest ambition, and so this will not appeal to them, but then they might have children whom they could help to attain theirs.

• • • • • • •

Every child, when he or she becomes a certain age, knows what position he would like to hold in life, and as a result is constantly building castles concerning it.

• • • • • • •

But often it happens that the child strives for some position which it would not be wise for him to hold. Many of us are unfitted for certain things and would be unwise to put much thought on them.

• • • • • • •

Should your boy or girl have the future planned out for such a position, and you who has had much experience know the pitfalls, reason it out with your child and point out the disadvantages.

• • • • • • •

To be planning on something for a long time and then to have it suddenly dashed to the ground is very hard for the child, and it should not have to suffer because of lack of discretion on the part of parents.

• • • • • • •

Your child will thank you when he gets older, if you help and plan together, showing him in what position he could best use his particular talents. Then when the career is chosen, explain that success is not attained in a short time, and without much hard work.

• • • • • • •

Point out that one must start at the bottom of the ladder and climb up slowly, and although the work ahead is invariably hard, to give up would be utter failure.

• • • • • • •

Should one have to "let go" as it were, when only half-way up, it will be much harder to begin again, for you will have to start, not where you left off, but at the bottom.

• • • • • • •

And then there is something more. When one succeeds in getting to the top of the ladder, in realizing his life's ambition, he must not stop here, but must keep on working just as hard or even harder.

• • • • • • •

If you are not willing to work when you get to the top, you might just as well move out and let someone else who IS willing step up. You might just as well do this at once if you take a lazy attitude because there are always those who are ready to grab your position when you backslide.

• • • • • • •

Should you not feel competent to advise your children of a suitable career, then try to find someone who can. Kiwanis Club, I am told, has a Vocational Guidance Committee, consisting of men who are willing to give their time and experience in advising young people about their future positions.

More durable than brass or stone;
Whose cloudy summit is more hid
Than regal height of pyramid.

That Body of Yours

(By Jas. W. Barton, M.D.)

AS OLD AS YOUR LEGS.

I have spoken before about the examination of boxers before a bout and how we are always anxious to know how much road work they have been doing.

If they are able to prove to our satisfaction that they have been jogging along the road for three to six miles daily, then we know they should be in good physical condition.

We are thinking mostly of the heart and lungs which must be in good condition to pump and purify the tremendous amount of blood that goes down to the legs.

Jack Dempsey could be sure of another couple of million dollars if his legs were as good as they were some years ago. While I have not seen him since before his Tunney fights, I am told that he has lost his old time panther like spring.

Babe Ruth's chances of getting One Hundred Thousand per year after this year's contract expires depends upon his legs. If they hold his massive weight perfectly, and allow him to "set" himself to meet the ball squarely, then he can collect without a murmur from the club owners.

The legs sustain the whole weight of the body and the knees have almost the whole weight bearing against the inner ligament. It often gives. Then the ankles get strained and sprained so often that a little twist finally puts the athlete out of the game.

Also the muscles get little tears in the fibres and the natural elastic muscle tissue gets replaced with a hard non elastic tissue.

Still further, if the athlete gets heavy and stands around all winter, the veins begin to swell, the walls thicken, and varicose weins result.

It is the movement of the muscles of the legs in walking or other exercise, that keeps the blood moving onward. The moving muscles actually help to pump blood upwards.

The whole idea then is not to let the body get too heavy for the legs to carry, but most important is to walk or take light exercise all the time and the legs will remain strong and supple.

Fashion's Forecast

NEW FEMININITY.

To be in the "know" of fashion this season, you must include a dainty printed handkerchief linen. You'll adore the one illustrated. Its simplicity is what makes it so desirable. The molded bodice is absolutely plain save for bow at end of Vionnet neckline. The skirt shows the smart snug hips emphasized by shirring. The shirring creates a charming soft fulness and flare to hem that ripples so beautifully in motion. The hem, neckline, armholes and bows are picoted at edge for soft pretty finish. Style No. 3479 is designed in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. In the medium size, it takes but 3 yards of 40-inch material. Printed dimity in tiny gingham check pattern in orchid and white, chatreuse green georgette crepe, flowered chiffon, printed voile in dot motifs in red and white tones, and plain pastel shade or printed crepe de chine are marvelous ideas for its development. Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Our patterns are made by the leading Fashion Designers of New York City and are guaranteed to fit perfectly. Paris and New York styles attractively presented and cleverly adapted for the use of home sewers fill our new Summer Fashion Magazine, just off the press. A book far superior to all previous issues. PRINCESS RECEIVES ATTRACTIVE GIFT

Disabled Soldiers Present Princess Elizabeth With Tiny Armchair

LONDON, July 19.—(C.P.)— The first formal presentation to little Princess Elizabeth took place unexpectedly the other day. The Duchess of York was making the rounds at a Private View of Embroidery made for sale by the Disabled Soldiers' Embroidery Industry. She was here given a tiny armchair with a gray wool embroidered seat, which had been worked by the men as a present for Princess Elizabeth.

Her Royal Highness was so charmed with this gift that she decided to allow the little Princess to receive it in person from the disabled soldiers, sixty of whom were enjoying a visit to Lady Melchett's garden.

Her delight was obvious, and child-like, the first thing she did was to sit down in the little armchair—just to see what it felt like. And it evidently felt all that could be desired, for she looked the picture of contentment, and left it somewhat reluctantly to accompany the Duchess round the garden.

But it was all a delightful new experience for the tiny Princess, and she shook hands with the men as if it was the thing above all others that she liked doing best. She gave the prettiest little bow of her head with each handshake and was most particular to see that no one was left out.

Our Children

GROWING OUT OF IT.

When a little child shows a tendency to cultivate a bad habit such as having a tantrum when things do not go his way, or of crying for whatever he wants, or demanding more than his fair share of life's pleasures in whatever form they appear to him, tired mothers are inclined to give up and say, "Well, his father was just like that when he was a boy—." "His grandmother had such tricks when she was little." "He will grow out of it."

The truth is that he is far more likely to grow into it. Habit especially these conduct habits, have an inconvenient way of weaving themselves into the fabric of a child's personality, like a colored thread caught up by the loom and carried along through the weaving. Better remove the thread as quickly and as permanently as possible.

It is true that we inherit certain characteristics or qualities from our ancestors but it would be a wise man and a prophet who could tell which ones and from whom. Each of us has had many ancestors and it seems to me that some of us go back a long way for the source of our inheritance—especially when it is an awkward one like a bad temper or a selfish streak.

Bad tempers can be controlled and kept controlled until they die of disuse even if great grandfather died of apoplectic rage. Instead of offering ourselves a good excuse for resting from our labors we ought to give ourselves warning and get to work.

When a child inclines to tantrums incline yourself to silence. The louder he grows the quieter you grow. At the first lull in the storm escort him to the bathroom and have him wash his face and arms thoroughly with cool water. Teach him that all his tantrum brings is just that and nothing more—silence and cool water splashed in his face and over his arms, and a space of meditation.

Sometimes the home associations that accompanied the formation of a bad habit are so strong that they call out the expression in spite of all you can do. If there is a grandparent who smooths things over by the usual method—"I was just so. He will grow out of it." If there is a grown-up about who brings out the temper; if home is set toward the habit and you cannot change the home in that respect, try sending the child out of the home for a time.

That is a great service that children's hospitals render. It is the great service that boarding schools and camps can offer. The new environment blots out the power of the old associations and it is easier to form a new habit. Sometimes a long trip, a visit to the distant relatives, will do the same work.

But find some way to check the first symptom of a bad habit and don't depend upon a child's growing out of it. He is more likely to grow into it, remember.

Huge Wedding Cake Weighs 500 Pounds

LONDON, July 19.—(C.P.)—At the reception following the wedding of Miss Eileen Payling, daughter of Mme. Lily Payling, the famous Australian singer, and Mr. Arthur Noel Ballard, the centre of attraction, after the pretty bride, was the wonderful wedding cake which her mother had spent weeks in making.

Standing six feet high on a base 4 ft. 6 in. square, the cake had no fewer than 27 separate cakes, square and round, of different sizes, and weighed nearly 500 lbs.

The six tiers and eight corner towers were decorated in great detail with sugar flowers, chariots and horses, and little Cupids and baby musicians.

NATIONAL COMMISSIONER SPEAKS ON CIVILIZATION

Dr. J. L. Biggar Addresses Nurses From 42 Countries at International Council.

CLOSE RELATIONSHIP

Montreal, P. Q., July 19 (By The Canadian Press).—The essential feature of modern civilization is humanitarianism, according to Dr. J. L. Biggar, National Commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society, who defined the close relationship between civilization and health in an address before the nurses of 42 countries attending the congress of the International Council of Nurses.

"Our civilization is moved, as no earlier civilization was moved," Dr. Biggar said, "by the miseries which are revealed to it. As never before mankind is showing itself impelled by interest in and kindliness towards the unfortunate. In olden days the enormously predominant majority were of the Pharisees who saw the wounded traveller and cared not but passed by on the other side. To-day the Good Samaritan is beginning to dominate the situation.

"Just as fertility was the essential feature of the Egyptian culture; beauty the ideal of the Greek; and order that of the Roman, so the welfare of the mass of mankind is becoming the goal to which we are moving to-day."

Tracing the growth of public health movements, and the work of the Red Cross, Dr. Biggar pointed out that the emphasis changed soon from trying to cure the ills of humanity to eliminating the causes of those ills. "Slowly, very slowly, but still surely, public health workers are instilling into the general mind of the people the knowledge that many of their sufferings spring from neglect of the simple laws of health," he said. "And very slowly civilized people are beginning to realize that it is not enough to guard themselves against infections and to be free from definite diagnosable diseases. They are beginning to realise that health is a positive, priceless possession. They are developing, along with their broadening humanitarianism, and ideal of robust and vigorous health for every member of their clan or race or nation."

Adopt Universal Health.

"I think that without any undue stretch of our imaginations we can foresee a time when an organized society which prides itself on being civilized, will, by reason of its humanitarianism, frankly adopt universal health as its ideal. It will come to understand that a government free from tyranny is not enough, that education is not enough, that a high standard of living is not enough, that nothing in fact is enough unless there is assured to every one of the citizens who compose it every opportunity and every encouragement to maintain himself and herself in a truly healthy condition, and that those who fail to do so are infringers of the code and to be classed with other malefactors.

"It has been well said that the public health nurse is the backbone of preventive medicine. The problem of preventive medicine is to translate the message of science to the whole mass of the people and to compel an understanding of the gifts it offers. No one is better equipped and no one has more opportunity than the trained nurse, trained to understand, trained to make use of every weapon, trained to serve with sympathy and knowledge, trained, in short, to act as the expert hand-maid of science in its war against disease."

"The nurse of to-day is a real helper of the sick on whom the doctor and patient alike can rely," asserted Professor Julius Tandler, Health Commissioner of Vienna, who followed Dr. Biggar, with a definition of health methods in his address on "Scientific Method in Social and Health Work."

"Nurses used to bring to the task a mere readiness to help and nothing more," Dr. Tandler said. "Now to that readiness has been added capacity to help. To the qualities of the heart have been added those of the brain. The former occupation of nursing has become an art."

PUBLIC HEALTH ADDRESS GIVEN

Citizen, Doctor and Nurse Are All Partners in Health Game.

Montreal, P. Q., July 19 (By The Canadian Press).—"One of the deepest problems of the statesmen is to guide the communal co-operative evolution so that it does not involve jettisoning the rewards of competitive individualism," said Helen R. Y. Reid, the sixth triennial congress of the International Council of Nurses, July 11. "Seeing health needs sanely and seeing them whole is, perhaps, the chief contribution, as it is the most difficult, which the citizen can make in relation to the public health programme," she said.

"We recognize that historical and environmental factors account in large measure for the diverse developments in health work in different parts of the world and in different parts of one and the same country," she said. "In the light of history we can see the gradual emergence from primitive conditions of all forms of public authority and government, the individual citizen or citizens repeatedly taking the initiative with a courage sometimes born of despair and with truly heroic persistence in instituting reforms for safeguarding the life and well-being of the people. We acknowledge the present-day need for increased division of labor, for specialization in science, for detailed and accurate research in medicine and public health, but are we not also acquiring more and more the sense of collective responsibility? Do we not feel that team play is needed, and that citizen, doctor, nurse and public health official are all partners in the great adventure of healthy living? We see both forms of health service — public and private, independent and collective—working side by side, at times with friction and without co-operation, at times displaying amazing success or inexplicable failure. We know that both ways have their rewards and both have their dangers. For certain purposes, at certain times, and given certain conditions, the enlightened citizen will recognize that the particular end in view requires independent specialization of work; and at other times he will see the need for synthesis, for generalization, for application of the facts to a collective purpose.

"Seeing health needs sanely and seeing them whole is then, perhaps, the chief contribution, as it is the most difficult, which the citizen can make in relation to the public health programme."

CARE GIVEN GROWING CHICKS DETERMINES EGG PRODUCTION

Chickens Ought To Be Taught To Roost—Feed Good Mash.

SELL SURPLUS COCKERELS

Poultry raisers too often become negligent in the care of the chicks after the first three to four weeks. By doing so they cut their own profits. Growth must be uniform, unchecked, and moderately rapid throughout the growing period if the pullets are to develop into profitable layers.

The chicks should be furnished heat until they are well feathered and the season is such that they are able to keep warm by themselves. The time may vary from six to twelve weeks. As the heat is taken away the chicks should be taught to roost, otherwise considerable trouble may be encountered with their crowding on the floor.

One of the best ways to get growing stock to roost is to build a sloping roost at the rear of the house or on one side and cover the underneath side with a fine mesh wire so that the chicks cannot get in between. They will take to this temporary roost in no time.

Sell Surplus Cockerels.

Most of the cockerels should be sold as broilers as the room on the developing range and in the brooder houses is needed for the pullets. Besides the cockerels begin to bother the pullets when they are three to four months old.

A good range will be of material help in developing profitable birds. It is surprising how pullets will respond to fresh soil and a succulent grass range. An alfalfa or clover field with natural shade, or strips of corn and sunflowers put in in the spring, works out especially well as a developing range. Shade during the hot summer months is essential. If a free range is not available, give the birds some green feed every day.

Do not let parasites gain a foothold. There is nothing that will undermine the health or vitality of young growing flock faster. Keep your brooder house clean and spray it thoroughly with some good coal tar disinfectant at least once a month; preferably every week. Dust the pullets occasionally with Sodium Fluoride or paint the roosts with Black Leaf 40 to be sure to keep them free of lice.

Feed a Mash.

The quality, size, and productivity of a flock of pullets in the fall depend in a large way upon the ration and water supply.

Growing stock need something besides grain. They need a good developing mash as part of their ration. The mash should be kept before the birds all the time. Be sure to provide plenty of hopper space. In addition to your regular hoppers in the house scatter some hoppers over the range so the young stock will be sure to eat all the mash they need.

In the morning and again in the late afternoon give them some coarse chick feed. It adds variety to their ration, tends to tide them over night, and helps to develop their digestive tract so that it will be able to handle lots of feed efficiently.

The amount of mash and coarse chick feed they will eat varies with the age and size of the stock, and the season. Late hatched chicks should be brought along steadily and rapidly, thus need more mash and less grain as compared to early hatched chicks. Never restrict the feed, because it it will result in stunted, unproductive, undersized pullets.

The problem as to what ingredients to use for a developing mash may be eliminated by selecting one of the better commercial mashes. They are a scientific combination of just the things growing pullets need to build large strong frames, firm flesh, and good plumage. More than that, they are especially prepared to use right at the time when the pullets are developing their egg-producing organs.

ONCE SCRUBBED; NOW CHAIRLADY

London Charwoman Elected to Head of Borough, Board of Education.

SCHOOL POOR KIDDIES

LONDON, July 19.—Mrs. A. C. Tabraham, a charwoman, has just been elected chairman of the Edmonton Education Committee and for the next twelve months will guide the educational destinies of one of London's largest boroughs.

Although she does not do a great deal of "charring" now, Mrs. Tabraham scrubbed floors, took in washing and did odd household jobs in order to support herself and her four children after her husband's death 10 years ago.

A comely, plainspoken woman in her fifties, Mrs. Tabraham says that education is her chief interest because she had so little herself.

"Many people in Edmonton," she said in an interview, "for whom I used to do washing are now my fellow members on the Council, and they are very nice to me.

"Poor children should have equal opportunities with the rich for ascending the educational ladder and I am keen on them having facilities for visiting colonial and foreign countries to broaden their experience and help fit them to be good citizens."

Mrs. Tabraham still cleans the offices of the Socialist organization in which she has been an active member for more than 30 years.

ELECTION DATE IS YET UNFIXED

Viceroy Irwin Will Hold Dissolution of Indian Legislature.

DECISION HEARD FIRST.

Bombay, India, July 19.—(By the Canadian Press)—With reference to the recent announcement of the Viceroy, Lord Irwin, that the Legislative Assembly would not be dissolved at the end of September and that the election would be postponed to a date not yet fixed, The Times of India, in a leading editorial, says:

"There are two reasons in favor of the postponement of the Assembly elections. One of these, a minor reason, was urged upon the Governor General by the members of the Central Legislative Committee co-operating with the Simon Commission before their departure for England. They pointed out that if the elections were held this Autumn they would have very little chance of doing any electioneering work, and would therefore find themselves penalised for having undertaken the work of assisting the Commission. The other reason, and the one which had led Lord Irwin to take his decision, has reference to the position created by the Simon Commission's report.

SHOULD BE IN NOVEMBER.

"The elections would normally take place in November; the report of the Royal Commission will certainly be made public by the end of January of next year. Were the elections to be held before January the electors would be asked for their verdict on a blind issue. In the words of the Viceroy, at the time when the elections would be normally held, there would inevitably be speculation as to the possible recommendations of the Commission and its Indian Committees, and forecasts, most of which must necessarily be without foundation, would be widely published. The resulting uncertainty would not fail to be embarrassing both to the candidates and to the electors. In other words, the extremist parties would fill the air with denunciations of The Simon Commission, while the Moderate candidates would have nothing to put before the electors.

"A legislative body brought into existence under these circumstances could not possibly represent the will of the people on the subject of future constitutional advance in India. That being so, it would be futile to submit to it any scheme which the Simon Commission and its Indian Committees might propose.

"The extent to which the Assembly's life should be prolonged is another matter. If it is lengthened by six months or a year, the reports of the Simon Commission and the Indian Committees would then be before the electors. We do think it would be desirable, since two to three years may well elapse before the new Act receives the Royal assent. The holding of the elections after the Simon Commission's report has been given wide publicity, would enable the Government of India to test the state of feeling in the country. They would then be able to shape their course accordingly, since there is little use in granting to India a constitution which the people refuse to work under."

Banghart Will Continue Flying Career After the Amputation.

PILOT TO TELL OF CRASH

TORONTO, Ont., July 19.—(Canadian Press).—Floyd Banghart, pilot of the plan which crashed here last Wednesday, resulting in the death of Jack Armstrong, will undergo an operation to-morrow in which his left foot will be amputated just above the ankle.

The announcement came through Capt. Abbott, inspector of civil aviation, to whom Banghart stated that he would continue his flying after the amputation.

Capt. Abbott stated that the controls of the machine were hopelessly jammed when the machine was examined after the crash, but that no official report could be made on the accident until Banghart's story had been told. Banghart's feet were severely injured when they were caught in the controls.

FAMOUS CANADIAN PLACES TO BE MARKED BY MONUMENTS

Historic Sites Board Gives Recognition To Fresh List

FROM COAST TO COAST

(Special to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, July 19.—The Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada met here recently and marked down for perpetuation another group of historic sites.

One hundred and twenty-nine such sites have been marked with a permanent monument since the Board commenced its labors in 1919. These marks stretch from the International Border to the Arctic, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There is a wooden pillar to mark the site where Sir Benjamin Franklin last camped; there are monuments large and small, from monoliths to cairns, from pillars to tablets.

Only last year a monument was unveiled to mark the landing of Jacques Cartier at Ile aux Coudres on Sept. 6 1535. At this place was held the first Christian service in the land of Canada.

125 Sites Reviewed

At the recent meeting of the Board 125 other sites were reviewed and several recommendations were made for immediate markings. Among these the outstanding ones are:

Wolfe's Landing, Gabarus Bay, Cape Breton, where Wolfe's brigade landed on June 8, 1758.

First Coal Mine in Cape Brenton—The site of the first regular coal mining operations in America, begun by the French in 1720.

Fort Ste. Anne, Cape Breton—Site of an early settlement and Jesuit-Mission established by the French in 1629.

Fort St. Peters, N. S.: Site of a fortified post and trading-station built by the French in 1650.

Minto Coal Mine, N. B.: To commemorate the discovery of coal by the French near the present town of Minto, soon after their occupation of Acadia.

Chambly Road, P. O.: The first road built in New France in 1664.

King Mountain, P. O.: Site of the first triangulation station of the Geodetic Survey of Canada, established in 1905 about 9 miles north of the city of Ottawa.

Quebec Seminary, Quebec: Site of the first educational house in Canada established by Laval in 1663.

The Normandale Furnace, Normandale founded in 1818 and operated until 187[illegible].

Kingston, Ont.: Commemorating the enterprise and courage of the men of the Royal Navy and the Royal Marines in capturing the United States ships of war, Ohio and Somers in the Niagara River, Aug. 12, 1814.

Bay of Quinte Carrying Place: Commemorating the treaty concluded with the chiefs of the Mississauga Indans in 1787, by which a large tract of land in western Ontario was ceded to the Crown.

Quesnel B. C.: To commemorate the beginning in 1865 of the work on the Collins overland telegraph line, intended to link America and Europe by way of British Columbia, Alaska, Behring Straits and Siberia.

Fort Prince of Wales, Churchill, Man.: The most northerly fortess on the American continent, built by the Hudson Bay Company in the years from 1733 to 1747 to safeguard the harbor.

YOUTHS HAVE LONG RECORD

Boy Desperadoes Cut Notches In Belts To Record Over 100 Crimes

ALL CARRIED PISTOLS

New York July 19.—There were sixty-eight notches in the leather belt of James Marchese when he and two other 17-year-old boys were arrested, and recently the youth confessed that each notch represented a robbery or hold-up committed by the band. In all, the lad admitted, more than 100 crimes were staged, but he had forgotten to enter them all in his record.

The robberies and eleven hold-ups had been committed since last October when Marchese and one of his companions, Albert Strouse, had been released from a protectory. About $15,000 had been stolen and the money went to entertain three young girls, whom the trio had met through the third member, Israel Russo.

After coolly telling of their offenses the three boys declared that they had staged some of their robberies in the Bronx and were taken to that borough. There they confessed the hold-up and shooting of Joseph Goldberg, filling station manager, who was critically wounded on July 5. Goldberg, still in precarious shape in Lincoln Hospital, identified the boys.

Loaded Pistols on Prisoners.

Fully loaded pistols of varying calibre were found on the young prisoners when they were caught in Brooklyn late on Saturday night. An automatic pistol and a large supply of ammunition for all of the weapons were found when detectives swooped down on the gang's rendezvous at 861 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, and arrested Carl Moeller, 35 years old.

Moeller, despite his additional years, was not the leader, said the police. He was merely an accessory of the group his furnished room being the place where crimes were planned, the loot divided or stored, and the arsenal maintained. The boys were charged with robbery, while Moeller was held for violation of the Sullivan law.

In addition to the Goldberg shooting, the boys were questioned about murders in connection with two other hold-ups. The first was the death of William Fortner, clerk at the Hotel Allaire, Prospect Avenue and 164th Street, the Bronx, who was slain on Dec. 24 as he tried to frustrate hold-up men, and the second was the fatal wounding of Frank Stadore, a private detective, who died when he interrupted a robbery of a drug store at Marcy Avenue and Quincy Street, Brooklyn, on July 1. The boys denied participating in either crimes.

Bullets which killed Fortner and ammunition taken from Moeller's room are to be compared. The tests will be made by Lieutenant Harry Buttes, fire arms expert of the Police Department, who will report to Inspector John J. Sullivan, who has charge of the prisoners in Brooklyn.

One pachyderm, becoming enraged, attacked the keeper, knocking him to the ground. Another came to his rescue and beat off the offender with his trunk. The keeper crawled to safety.

TRIBUTE PAID AGED PIPER

Chieftain of Canadian Pipers is Buried With Rites of Ancient Service.

GREAT PROCESSION

WINNIPEG, Man., July 19.—(By The Canadian Press)—One black day in the war young Alan Collie was killed; the news was brought to the men in the Drill Hall, and some one told the pipe-major. Soon to the ears of the assembled men came the Highland Lament—"The Flowers of the Forest"; the stout old soldier marched round and round the building, playing out his heart, wailing out in agony that his son was dead.

And on June 29 of this year the Lament was played over the venerable Major Collie; young and old flocked to do honor to this chieftan of Canadian pipers.

Gathered in the church were all his old comrades of the war, the Camerons, whom he had led during the last great fight for freedom; fellow pipers, those with whom he had been associated from their own youth—young and old sat deep in sad thought through the old Scottish ceremony. The sermon held comfort for them, the veteran chaplain Rev. C. W. Gordon having himself seen service with the soldier; an intimate friend, Davidson Thompson, sang the old Scotch song, "Ma Ain Countree", with great feeling.

Placed on Coffin.

The Cameron plaid which the Pipe-Major had worn was placed at the head of the coffin, surmounted by his Glengarry and dirk; for indeed a chieftan of song had fallen.

When the impressive service had ended the military retired, followed by the bearers and their charge. Twelve of the Camerons, all comrades of the dead, men with whom he had fought with whom he had labored side by side, with slow martial step and rifles reversed led the way to the grave-side.

Following the firing-party came the band playing that most poignant of Scottish Laments— "The Flowers of the Forest", to the muffled beat of draped drums. Behind this Scottish band consisting of 65 members whom he had led in life, came the mourners—his widow, son, and daughters. Alongside the hearse marched the bearers, friends in the regiment, fellow-pipers. The ranks of the Cameron Highlanders and Highland Cadets brought up the rear of the great procession, answering the last call of their piper, their loved and honored friend. Of the hundreds at the Kirk, many walked the entire distance to the last resting-place of the father of Canadian pipers; four times was the procession halted on its way to resume the plaintive air and stride of the lament.

Doubtless to many of the older Scots came the memory of similar occasions in the old land, when to the same tune, the procession of the dead wound its slow way up the braes and through the glens of the Highlands; such a scene would be visioned by any Scot, when, with soul-stirring notes of the Lament sounding, the march slowly led through the winding pathway of Elmwood Cemetery; the coffin was borne through the long aisle formed by the pipers. There, in a little glade amid the trees the respected old Pipe-Major took his last stand, while about him and over him the music of the tune he loved so well echoed and died. The volley of the rifles—the Last Post—and the sorrowing men left their friend and master of the pipes. With his passing something went from Canada never to be replaced; one of the old school, one of her finest pipers, one most skilled in knowledge of that art which has magic in it to those whom it may call, in war-cry or lament.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gordon Forbes caught by the photographer just as they were starting on their honeymoon following their marriage in Stratford, Ont. Mrs. Forbes was formerly Miss Mary Monteith, daughter of the Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith and Mrs. Monteith. The little flower girl is Miss Mary Winterburn of Norwich. Hon. Dr. Monteith is provincial treasurer of Ontario.

This photograph here shows, left, Mrs. W. Finlayson, wife of the Hon. Mr. Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests in Ontario, and her daughter, Miss Mary Finlayson, as they appeared when recently presented at the Court of St. James, London.

ZEPPELIN MAY PASS OVER B.C.

German Ship Planning World Tour From West To East

COME FROM JAPAN

Victoria, B.C., July 19—(CP)—Germany's huge dirigible, the Graf Zeppelin may be here next month. Rushing eastward from Japan to join the Graf for its round-the-world flight, Karl H. von Wiegand, journalist, and Lady Grace Drummond Hay, were here to-day and intimated that the big ship might pass over this city during the flight.

The Graf Zeppelin will leave Friedrichshafen, Germany, on July 27. Von Wiegand stated tentative arrangements provide that it would first fly the Atlantic, east to west, and would start the world trip from the Statue of Liberty at New York. Cable messages received by von Wiegand to-day stated that Dr. Hugo Eckener, the commander of the Graf Zeppelin was now considering starting the flight from Germany on July 27 eliminating the pre-conceived ourney to the United States.

Providing the start is made from Friedrichshafen the first non-stop hop would be made to Tokio, a distance of nearly 7,000 miles. This lap will take the Zeppelin, her passengers and crew over the wilds of Siberia to the Pacific ocean.

The Graf Zeppelin's big test will be on the second hop from Tokio to Los Angeles, approximately 5,000 miles. It will be the first time an attempt has been made to cross the Pacific from Asia to North America in any type of aircraft.

From Los Angeles the Graf Zeppelin will cross the United States in one hop to Lakehurst, N.J., and thence will complete the globe-circling flight by a non-stop flight across the Atlantic and back to Friedrichshafen. Questioned as to whether the Zeppelin would take the northerly route on its pacific hop, von Wiegand stated that as far as he was aware, it would come down by this coast, providing weather conditions were suitable....

Von Wiegand expected the trip across the Pacific would take the Zeppelin about 80 hours providing no big storms were encountered.

AGE-OLD BATTLE.

Winnipeg, July 19.—Neighbor's chickens and tin cans in other people's back yard s have started many a grudge fight. And that's what ruined a perfectly good friendship between Jeter Jankowski and his neighbor Snicack—at least the cans did. Jankowski saw Snicack throwing cans in his yard and went out to stop him. "I'll kill you, even if it costs me $50," Snicack wound up the argument. He then flit Jankowski with a rake. In court Snicack was fined $50.

ELEVATOR MEN GIVE EVIDENCE TO COMMISSION

Visitors Are Shown Moisture Testing Device by Professor.

BRIGGS AND WATTS SPEAK

No Regard to Milling Quality in Mixing Grain, Watts Says.

TORONTO, Ont., July 17.—(Canadian Press). — Demonstration of an electrical device for testing the quantity of moisture in grain interested the Saskatchewan Royal Commissic' investigating the handling and ma keting of grain at its first publ meeting in Toronto to-day. The device was explained by Prof. E. F. Burton of the University of Toronto, who explained experiments in connection with it had been carried on for two years. At present work was being financed by a grant from the National Research Council.

To-day the commission heard evidence offered by George F. Briggs, assistant general manager of the Toronto Elevator, Limited, concerning the operation of his company's elevators at Toronto and Sarnia, and also heard reepresentations and evidence offered by a number of representative Ontario millers.

Prohibit Mixing.

C. B. Watts, central wheat buyer for the Dominion Millers' Association, urged that the mixing of different grades of grain in elevators should be entirely prohibited. The association, he declared, was opposed to elevators adding to their revenues through the "manipulation of grain to the detriment of the farmers and the millers." Mr. Watts contended grain was mixed in elevators without the slightest regard to its milling quality, but solely to enable it to pass inspection.

Small Miller Helpless.

He explained the larger milling companies were not seriously affected by this condition as they were able to maintain their own milling organization. The small millers, however, who comprised the Dominion Millers' Association were at the mercy of the system, and in this respect, he said, they were in the same situation as the British millers.

Mr. Watts contended the reputation of Manitoba wheat in the markets of the world had been seriously damaged by this practise of mixing inferior grades of wheat in such a way as to enable the mixture to pass inspection number 3 wheat.

Another suggestion advanced by Mr. Watts was that there should be at least two and preferably three representatives of the millers on the Western Standards Board. At present the representation was fixed at one and he said that was insufficient.

No U. S. Wheat.

George F. Briggs explained the Toronto elevator handled chiefly grain from Western Canada and some Ontario grain. The object of the elevator, he said, was to act as a distributing agency for Western wheat to millers in the central area of Ontario. No United States wheat had so far been handled in the Toronto house, but a considerable amount was handled in the Sarnia elevator operated by the same company.

He said similar grades of wheat were always stored together, and no mixing of different grades was done in either elevator. He also declared United States and Canadian grain were never mixed together by his company. Question as to whether these grains might not occasionally become mixed through accident, he said this might happen through the choking up of the tube conveying grain into the bins and a consequent overflow. The mixing, however, could not amount to more than 10 or 15 bushels at a time.

No Comparison.

The witness said he was unable to make any comparison between the quality of United States and Canadian wheat. As far as he knew there was no complaint to be made about the cleanliness of American wheat, although all wheat this year was inclined to be dusty.

SIR HENRY THORNTON TO REMAIN WITH CANADIAN RAILWAY FIRM

Magnate Plans Development of Railroad Aviation—Work in Mexico Finished.

COMBINE SERVICES

Expects That Railroad Aviation in Canada Will First Appear on Prairies.

MONTREAL, July 19 (Special to The Examiner, Copyright). — Sir Henry Thornton will continue as president of the Canadian National Railroad for some years to come despite the recent rumors that he had been requested by the Mexican Government to go to that country to put into operation the plan for the reorganization of the railroad systems of that country, which he drew up last year. Sir Henry is especially interested at the present time in considering the problem of aviation as it affects the railroad.

In an interview granted this week he said that there was every possibility of the National road following the example of some of the United States roads in combining the two services in a day and night service. This will not be done, however, until the conditions of passenger traffic warrant the outlay which this new step would involve.

"My work in Mexico is done," the genius of transportation said in his genial, friendly manner. "It was consulted in the capacity as one firm would consult the engineers or experts of another. When my report was finshed and submitted my job was done. There was no question of a permanent Mexican connection in my mind."

On the matter of airplane and train service Sir Henry expanded. He revealed his interest in aviation as a practically assured method of transportation by paying high tribute to the recent opening of Moncton, N. B., municipal airport which he attended as a speaker.

"The remarkable attendance indicated the rapid development of public interest in this swiftest and newest form of travel," he said. "I was agreeably surprised at the enthusiasm betrayed by all the Maritime Provinces."

"Yes" he replied as the Star reminded him that airplane's train service was opening in the United States. "Ultimately we will have to follow suit. The New York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroads are both starting service which permits of travel by airplane by day and train by night. We will do the same thing when the demand is great enough."

Sir Henry paused. "But remember," he resumed, "there is a vast difference between the amount of transcontinental travel in the United States and that in Canada. There are more than 120,000,000 people in the United States and they do considerable travelling."

"There is no doubt a small percentage of Canadian travellers would welome faster coast to coast service at this time. But the number is not sufficient to warrant establishment of a regular air and train service today."

"You must not assume that the Canadian National Railways is looking just an inch before its nose. We are looking years ahead and cannot help realize that the demand will come ultimately. We may, perhaps, anticipate that demand somewhat and even help create it. We are studying the matter in full detail so as to be ready for the time that will surely come."

Asked what he thought personally of airplane travel, Sir Henry declared that empirical methods were ended and the safety of passengers riding over the airlines of a properly equipped and managed company was absolutely assured.

"It is as safe as railroad travel, probably safer than automobile travel, and of course far more speedy than either. The one drawback at the present time is the great cost. I do not believe it will be long, however, before this is adjusted, but travel by air will never be as cheap as travel by train."

In answer to a query concerning the possible division of railroad and air travel Sir Henry smiled and answered with all the diplomacy and disdom from which it is noted.

"What the public demands the C. N. R. will supply," he said.

"I think it is safe to predict that the public will never want to hurry over the glorious scenery of the Rocky Mountain range through which the railroad passes."

"From that we can assume at least part of the journey from Calgary to Vancouve, will always be made by train?" the Star prompted.

"I feel sure of that," Sir Henry replied. "The scenery is too good to miss. One never tires of it, and mountain travel by airplane will never be without risk, and where there's risk the paying public seldom travels. No, if anything, all airplane travel in connection with Canadian railroads will be made over the Prairie divisions."

Word has been received from the government party, which flew into the northern wilds to negotiate the ceding of last Indian lands in the British Empire, that signatures have already been affixed to the treaty and the $45,000, carried by the party, has already begun to change hands. Awrey, commissioner of Indian affairs at Ottawa, and leader of the party, showing an Indian reading the government "manifesto," and (3) Chief William Forie of English River, with his wife and papoose.

USE SHAVINGS FOR LINOLEUM

Britain Attempting to use Home Grown Timber In Place Of Importations

FUEL GAS FROM CHARCOAL

LONDON, July 19. — (Canadian Press Cable). — That shavings and other planing mill waste are being used experimentally in the manufacture of linoleum in place of "wood-flour," which is at present imported from the Continent, was revealed in the annual report of the Department of Scientific Industrial Research issued yesterday. The report dealt in particular with the development of the Empire's timber resources.

One London firm sought a suitable wood to make boot lasts. The department experimented and finally recommended that Canadian or home-grown birch would serve the purpose.

A Glasgow firm could get chestnut wood for fences only from France, until the Forestry Commission turned its attention to development of large chestnut wood areas in Gloucestershire. These are not only producing for the home market now but expect to be exporting wood shortly.

Information was supplied to large timber exporters with the object of substituting Empire-grown timber for the American pitch-pine used for steamer decking. Even more important are the steps being taken to substitute Empire timber for American and Scandinavian doors, at present imported in large quantities.

Meanwhile the Fuel Research Board is investigating the manufacture of charcoal in portable kilns with the idea of producing a fuel gas for automobiles and stationary engines and thereby utilising forest and mill waste.

"HUSKY" RELIEVES LOCAL WOMAN WHO SUFFERED 5 YEARS

"Now I Can Eat Again Without My Stomach Hurting and the Chronic Constipation Has Disappeared," She Says.

MRS. H. LEHNER

"The best investment I have ever made in my life was getting three bottles of Husky at Bond's Drug Store—this medicine has relieved me of trouble that has defied all other treatments for five long years," says Mrs. H. Lehner, of 271 McGill St., this city.

"For many years I had suffered from indigestion," says Mrs. Lehner, "and although I had a good appetite, I was afraid to eat because my food soured in my stomach. This soured, fermenting food filled me with gas that hurt my stomach and made it feel like it was going to burst. I always had a bad taste in my mouth and my tongue was coated so bad every morning.

"My bowels were always irregular. My kidneys were so weak that pains would shoot through my back and I couldn't hardly raise up if I stooped over.

"I got relief almost from the first bottle of Husky, and now that I have been using it regularly, I can eat a good meal without my stomach hurting me one bit. Husky has checked that gas and now all my food is digesting well. Husky has also overcome that constipation that bothered me for years. My kidneys are much stronger and I do not have any pains in my back at all. Husky has reached the roots of my trouble and has given me back my health. Where the other medicines failed, Husky has given me wonderful results. It is an altogether different preparation than anything I ever used before, and the fine way I feel to-day is all due to this medicine."

Begin using Husky to-day and note how soon you get relief, how food tastes better, sleep is more sound and restful and you feel stronger and better in every way. It is marvelous what this medicine will do for you in a short time. Husky can always be obtained at Bond's Drug Store and at other good drug stores everywhere.

TWO COUNTRIES MADE FRIENDS

President Hoover Gives Peru and Chile Each a Province.

BETTER FEELING IN S. A.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 19.—(C.P.)—With the recent award of the province of Tacna to Peru and of Arica to Chile, following lengthy arbitration proceedings by President Herbert Hoover, of the United States, a long standing dispute has been settled. Almost half a century of continuous wrangling between the two governments has been ended; animosity between the two nations has given way to a feeling of friendship and the one-time possibility of war is now removed. A feeling of good-will reigns supreme among the people of Chile and Peru.

Treaty Violated

The entire controversy was the result of a war started by Bolivia's refusal to adhere to a treaty of 1874, signed by her and Chile regarding the taxation of nitrate being exploited by Chilean capital and Chilean labor in a region remotely under Bolivian jurisdiction, and then only so by condescension on the part of her neighbors. Chile several times proposed arbitration as a solution to the difficulties, but this was persistently turned down by Bolivia. The Secret Treaty of 1873 made Peru an ally of Bolivia in the war, but Peru did practically all of the fighting. Bolivia early being out of the conflict.

This war ended after bloody conflict in 1883 with Chile in possession of the provinces. Peru's navy had been destroyed while Chile had also suffered severely, though being finally victorious on land as well as sea. On Oct. 20, 1883, the treaty of Ancon was signed. Under this treaty Chile was to retain possession of the provinces of Tacna and Arica, previously belonging to the Peruvian province of Moquegua, for a period of 10 years, and then submit to "popular vote whether those territories are to belong to Chile or Peru."

At the expiration of the period in October, 1893, Chile evaded compliance with the agreement, and under various pretexts retained possession of the territory. This arbitrary retention of Tacna and Arica called the province under Chilean administration, removed the frontier still farther nor to the river Sama, separating that province from the remaining part of the Peruvian province of Moquegua.

Hoover Settles Dispute

The actual terms of the recent settlement were decided through direct negotiations between Chile and Peru, which were conducted, for the most part at Lima. Acting at the request of both countries, President Hoover began negotiations last Septembber and the decision was announced only recently. The settlement proposed by President Hoover was immediately accepted by the two governments concerned, who sincerely thanked the president, agreeing he acted "not as arbitrator, but in the exercise of good offices at the request of both parties."

Under the settlement which "is not a partial triumph enjoyed by either government but which is the result of a profound conviction that peace between the two countries is the best policy," Chile delivers to Peru an area of more than 20,000 square kilometers with 30,000 habitants. The roads of Tacna represent about 250 kilometers of modern highway built over desert wastes at a cost of about 5,000,000 pesos (approximately 5,000,000). The urban property in Tacna is evaluated at 30,000,000 pesos and the rural property at almost 19,000,000 pesos. Chile, in addition, will provide Peru with a port and $6,000,000 in currency.

Future Bright

With this 46-year-old problem solved, and diplomatic relations resumed between the two nations, new commercial treaties are to be entered into and both countries seem destined to enjoy a period of peace and prosperity of incalcuable benefits. The future is brighter not only for Chile and Peru, but also for the whole of of South America.

To commemorate the great occasion a proposal is now under consideration to build, by popular subscription, a powerful broadcasting station on the famous cliff of Morro, Arica, the scene of a terrific struggle between Chileans and Peruvians. "The Monument of Friendship," which is the name planned for the station, will be used for the mutual benefit of the two countries to broadcast information about both nations to the rest of the world.

PROHIBITION WAR BY 13 NATIONS

Will Attempt To Show World Wine Is Alcohol's Greatest Foe

Paris, July 19.—A world-wide war against prohibition has been declared by thirteen wine-growing countries of Europe whose activities are centralized in the Office International du Vin, whose headquarters are at Paris. Dr. Leon Douarche, director of the organization, has been named commander-in-chief of the anti-prohibition offensive, whose slogan is "Liberty and Temperance."

It is not hoped by these crusaders that they will be able to obtain the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or even of the Volstead act, but they aim to have the latter modified in the real interests of temperance. They are taking the field to drive out bad liquor with good. Their ammunition, Dr. Douarche states, will be facts, films, statistics, medical data, social surveys, scientific treatises and common sense, which all go to prove, he says, that wine is the greatest foe of alcohol and the only logical solution of the drink problem.

"Prohibition certainly is no solution," Dr. Douarche declares. "One has only to compare temperate France with the United States. We attempt no defense of hard liquor. But wine containing 10 per cent alcohol and moderately and intelligently consumed, particularly at meal-time, can have no noxious effects and from Pasteur down to our days some of the greatest scientists have declared it to be the most wholesome and most hygienic of beverages.

"Our campaign will be educational and we shall strive to make it courteous, dignified and comprehensive. We are going to fight prejudice and repression as well as alcohol, being firmly convinced that prohibition is an evil almost as great as that which it pretends to have defeated. Our appeal will be to the sincere dry who detests alcoholism, but loves temperance and personal liberty."

Dr. Douarche intends to conduct a personal campaign in the United States next spring and extensive propaganda work will meanwhile be carried on, not only there but in all countries, from Finland to New Zealand, where the drys are at work.

MAY BE NUISANCE

LONDON, July 19.—Permission for Leon Trotzky, Bolshevik leader exiled in Constantinople, to enter England was refused because of the difficulty of the British government might have in securing his departure if his presence ever became embarrassing, Home Secretary John R. Clynes said in the House of Commons this afternoon.

AFFILIATED SOCIETIES REPORT AGGREGATE SALES INCREASE

Co-operative Union of Canada Shows Trade Surplus of $342,750.

SPREAD OVER WIDE AREA

WINNIPEG, Man., July 19— (By The Canadian Press).—Substantial increases in aggregate sales of the affiliated societies was reported to the convention of the Co-Operative Union of Canada in annual session here July 11 by the United board. It was also stated that 30 consumers' societies had reported in 1928, compared with 14 four years ago, and the prosperous condition of the industrial and commercial life of the country was fairly well maintained over the year under review.

The affiliated consumers' societies, while few in number, are spread over the year under review.

The affiliated consumers' societies, while few in number, are spread over a wide area throughout the country and their membership is fairly representative of people engaged in the most important industries, said the report. For the year 1928 some recession was manifested in certain districts, though the same may not reflect conditions as a whole. Declines in volume of trade in the Prairie Provinces were experienced in the closing months of last year.

The aggregate sales of the reporting societies for 1928 were $5,396,967, an increase over 1927 of $915,392. Adding thereto the distributive turnover of United Grain Growers Limited of $2,751,000 the total reported sales of merchandise in the organized movement was $8,147,967.

"The share capital of the reporting consumers' societies amounted to $589,570, an increase of $101,273," the report said. "Loan capital increased by $35,017, the total being $219,547, and the combined investment in consumers' societies of share and loan capital reached $809,018.

Surplus of $342,750

"The net trade surplus or savings, commonly called profit, realized by the reporting societies was $342,750, compared with $283,777 in the preceding year. Were it the practice of co-operative societies to divide their net profits in the same manner as capitalist undertakings it would have shown a return of 58.14 percent on the share capital investment. No society showed a loss in trading, one society however failing to give information on this point ano another failing to send in any report.

"The aggregate membership of the 30 consumers' societies was 10,336, an increase of 1,422, but including that of the marketing society, 35,000, the total membership of societies engaged in commercial pursuits is 45,336. It ought however to be mentioned that since the close of the financial year under review, the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section the educational organization of the Saskatchewan farmers, has been admitted to the union. It has a membership of 29,500. The aggregate membership of all organizations affiliated with the Co-Operative Union of Canada is therefore 74,836.

"The trading results reviewed in this report and those of recent years indicate the societies in the organized movement have, on the whole, become stabilized on a firm footing. In view of the unsatisfactory experience of former years, and the heavy mortality of societies outside the union your Board feels that this result must be largely attributed to the facilities provided by the affiliated societies, through their union, for mutual protection.

"Compared in terms of ratio of net returns on share capital investment, the statistics quoted in recent years of co-operative societies, which are members of the union are so remarkable that they have attracted the attention of the private trade. Viewed in terms of average dividends on purchases, the same are not so satisfactory as could be desired. A general improvement in the purchase dividends paid by the societies would immediately be reflected in the greatly increased sales and lower operating costs. Two factors will largely govern such an achievement; the expansion of operations of our societies to more remunerative lines of merchandise and services, and the development of wholesale distribution. In the latter respect considerable progress was made in the year under review.

Finance the Union

"In the closing paragraphs of its report last year your board directed the attention of congress to the need of taking steps adequately to finance the union. The need is now much more imperative, in view of small societies requiring continuous supervision and guidance for a considerable period.

"Your board formally reports the acceptance of a generous grant of $2,500 made by the International Co-Operative Alliance. Such munificence indicates appreciation by the alliance of the sustained efforts which for many years have been made to plant the co-operative flag in Canada. It is an indication too of the understanding by the Alliance of the imperative need of greater financial support which confronts the movement in Canada.

"Your board has every confidence in the future of the movement in Canada. During the last 20 years a great store of knowlege and practical experience has been gained as to the conditions necessary to insure success. A renewed interest in the movement is being shown by the public. The fact that success, even though on a comparatively small scale, is general in the organized movefent should do much to stimulate the confidence of the people in the practicability, as well as in the value, of co-operation. In some provinces considerable co-operative enthusiasm is being manifested, and it is the opinion of your board that satisfactory, sound and progressively successful developments may confidently be expected if the societies in the organized movement will show adequate enterprise and determination."

All Other International League Games Postponed Account Of Rain

TORONTO, Ont., July 19. (C.P.) — The Leafs waxed violent against Nelson Greene and the Reading Keys down at the Stadium yesterday. The Keys scored one in the ninth, thus saving a shut-out.

The Fleet streeters did not begin to satisfy their lust for hits, runs and revenge until after there was one out in the fifth. For four innings they swung silent bats and went hitless during that stretch.

Bill Sweeney was the first and only Leaf to get on base until they broke out in the fifth. Sweeney drew four straight balls in the second and reached the half way on an infield out. He travelled no farther.

All other International League games were postponed on account of rain.

CHICAGO GAINS LOOP LEADERS

Cubs Advance To Within One Game Of First Place By Defeating Robins 11-7

RACE NARROWING

BROOKLYN, N.Y. July 19.—(Canadian Press).—The Cubs advanced to within one game of first place by defeating the Robins, 11 to 7, here yesterday as the Giants stopped the Pirates by 4 to 1 at the Polo Grounds. The Bucaneers now lead McCarthy's men only through having won two games more, another advance of one full game would place the Bruins in the lead on a percentage margin.

PHILLIES WIN OPENER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 19.—"Ace" Elliott, one of Shotton's rookie hurlers, went the full distance against Cincinnati yesterday and Philadelphia won the opening game of the series, 6-4.

Opposed to Elliott was Jakie May, but the Reds' southpaw was a trifle wild and issued six passes. The Phillies combined these with eight hits to win the ball game.

WEAKER IN EIGHTH

BOSTON, Mass., July 19. — The Braves threw away a four-run lead here yesterday and permitted the St. Louis Cardinals to win the first game of their series, 6 to 4. The visitors scored five runs in the eighth inning and one in the ninth.

Cantwell allowed the Cardinals but two hits up to the eighth and was given superb support. He then blew up and Jones relieved him.

GIANTS BEAT PIRATES

NEW YORK, N.Y. July 19.—(Canadian Press).—The strength of Carl Hubbell in the box and two early assaults against Ervine Brame, enabled the Giants to turn back the pirates by 4 to 1 at the Polo Grounds yesterday in the opening game of a series of four. The reverse reduced the lead of the Buccaneers over Chicago to just one game, as the Cubs defeated Brooklyn. It was the third defeat for the leaders in their last four games.

Loughran Retains Championship Title

YANKEE STADIUM, New York N.Y., July 19 (Canadian Press). — Tommy Loughran dispelled all doubt about his ability to dominate the light-heavyweight division last night by administering a sound thrashing to his youthful New Jersey challenger, Jimmy Braddock, in 15 rounds that for the most part were dull and one-sided.

Few masters of ringcraft have ever manifested so clear and undisputed superiority as did Loughran in the skilful manner he cuffed, punched and punished the 23-year-old youth from the other side of the Hudson.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

THE FLYING COP

A new satellite in the firmament of sports is Art Keay, the "galloping" cop of Toronto, who recently won the national United States Y. M. C. A. track title of America at Brooklyn, N. Y., defeating R. F. Brown, last year's winner.

He is now 22, and started running when he was fifteen, when he joined up with the Monarch A. C. This year he joined the Toronto police force and the Police Athletic Association.

His first successes came in 1926, when he scored in a number of local races. He also annexed the Ontario indoor junior 1-mile championship at Hamilton, a record which still stands. In 1927 he was chosen to run against Ritola (the Finnish star) in a special 2-mile race at the indoor meet at Hamilton—Ritola won, making a new Canadian record of 9.14. Keay was 9.38—which is perhaps the best time ever made by a Canadian indoors. Being a member of the local Y.M.C.A. he has won practically all the distance championships of that organization for the past three years. He has attended the Milrose games on behalf of the Monarch Club twice. He won the 3,000 metre steeplechase championship of Canada last year, and was chosen for the 1928 Olympic team.

His recent victories are:

1 mile, National Y.M.C.A Championship, 1st.

1 mile, Central Y.M.C.A meet at Varsity Stadium, 1st (from scratch).

1 mile, Gaelic Games, at Varsity Stadium, 1st.

1-2-mile, Verdun, Quebec, 1st.

HOLLINGSWORTH BIGGEST GAINER IN WEEK'S TILTS

Pete's Shortstop Climbs To Third Place By Getting Three Safe Blows

SWANSTON LEADS

Local Pilot Still Over The .400 Mark With Rose In Second Position

The Petes have done little during the past week to fatten their batting averages. The chief gainer since the list was last published being Red Hollingsworth, young short stop of the squad who collected three hits in five times up against Belleville and Deloro and is now in third place, headed only by the two veterans, Max Swanston and Ray Rose.

The two leaders held their own during the week, Swanston dropping one point to .408 while Rose boosted his mark by two points. They, with Hollingsworth are the only players to figure in every game this season.

Swanston has made the most hits, 20. Rose the most runs, 7, and Harrison's 10 hits have driven in 9 runs so that he still leads in that department, although out of the game during the week.

BATTEN'S PLAY PROVES COSTLY FOR WESTCLOX

Snappiest Softball Fixture Of The Year Is Witnessed By Huge Crowd

FINAL SCORE 5-4.

Harrisons Experience Closest Call Of Season Winning On Errors

Yes, an error, we're sorry to say, really a tough break on a fast spinning ball, by Batten at short for Westclox in the second last spasm of the Harrison-Westclox softball game at the Central School last evening threw up the sweetest chance in the season's play to trim the redoubtable Harrison crew, and let them win by a 5 to 4 score.

Yes, two errors figured in the score. The first that gave Harrisons their break was pulled by Delahaye in left field when he dropped a fly from Montgomery, letting Ward and Dobson in for two tallies in a five-inning whitewash. This much we can say for Delahaye he caught Montgomery at second, but not before the two runners had galloped home to break the losing streak.

By far the largest crowd of fans to witness a softball game this season turned out to see, by far the smartest game of ball that has been staged. The effects of that one game will be enough to draw crowds to the park for some weeks to come in the hopes of seeing another match of the same brand.

Westclox started the old pill rolling in the bacon for them with the very first man up. Batten, who got on through an error by Smith, advanced to second on Goodson's hit, stole third and tore home on Kitchen's hit. Goodson was advanced to third but was nipped coming home.

Five men faced Montgomery in the first session, but after that he cut the number down to three and four. From then on it was touch and go right up to the sixth. Both pitchers shot them over the platter with everything they had, and the backing they received did the rest, which was the larger three quarters. Curry became a bit erratic in the second and walked three, but luck favored him and nobody got farther than third. Three times Harrisons had men on third, once the bags were loaded, but that little bit of punch with the hickory was lacking to make the tally. And all the time Curry was soaking them over so that they didn't get a hit either.

Fielding on the part of both aggregations played the greatest part in making it the best match of the season, the batters popping out in succession. Once in the fourth Curry pitched only three balls to close the session, Ross rolling to Curry who threw him out at first, Vinette and Montgomery both popped out.

In the sixth Delahaye came home with the Westclox second tally, and the excitement knew no bounds as things looked bright for a beating for the Harrison boys. However the north enders grabbed Lady Luck and roped in two tallies. Two singles, and a double in the next frame by the Big Bens netted them two more and the fans were sure that the game was cinched, as Harrisons went down in succession as they walked to the plate.

Just then the fun started, for in the eighth Westclox failed to register, while Harrisons led off with a hit by Dorrington, followed by a walk for Dobson and a two-bagger by Vinette, which drove in the tying tallies. By stealing round to third Vinette was able to score when Montgomery got on as Batten dropped a fast spinning fly. That cinched the game, for Clarke got out on a pop to first, before Montgomery was around. Three pops to left, short and first drew the curtains on the Westclox chances to down, the as yet, unbeaten Harrison team, leaving them still top outfit in the City Softball League.

TENNIS

NEWPORT, R.I., July 19 (Canadian Press). — The invading Oxford-Cambridge tennis teams, here for the 7th biennial Prentice Cup matches with the combined Harvard-Yale team, swamped the United States collegians five matches to one here yesterday in the opening play at the Casino Turf Courts. The only United States victory came when Arthur Ingraham, Jr., of Providence, one of the Harvard players, disposed of E. O. Mather, United States-born Oxford student, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3, in a singles match filled with thrills.

In the other singles matches N. G. Farquharson of Cambridge, a South African Davis Cup player, defeated R. W. Ryan of Yale 9-7 6-0, and Guy Coover of Oxford vanquished G. A. Holloway, also of Yale, 6-2, 7-5. Farquharson and Coover teamed in the doubles and set back I. N. Garham and B. H. Whitbeck, another Harvard player. England made a clean sweep of the other doubles, when Mather and De Riccu defeated Wright and Holloway 6-2, 6-1, and Avery and Young, Cambridge team, nosed out Wood and Ryan, 7-5, 5-7, 8-6, after a prolonged and vigorous struggle.

BOWLING TOURNEY BROUGHT TO A SPECTACULAR FINISH

Visitors And Locals Share Prize Money In Yesterday's Session

SOME CLOSE BATTLES

Delaney Of Cobourg Noses Out Freeman For Singles Honors

Visitors and locals shared the prize money in yesterday's session of the Peterborough annual bowling tournament. DeLaney of Cobourg bowling fame, nosed out Freeman of Peterborough by one shot, making the Lakeshore town jeweller winner of the singles. In the doubles, two local rings were fighting for the laurels about midnight yesterday. Gimblett and Fitzpatrick were hammer and tongs against Oke and Bacon in a game that was spectacular and gave the spectators plenty of thrills with well-placed shots. Both rinks were tied on the home stretch when Oke and Bacon extended themselves to cross the finish two points up. It was one of those games in which the game of bowls is best seen and which is good to watch, as the final outcome is in doubt until the last sphere nestles among the others around the kitty.

The Cobourg-Peterborough tussle was about the same brand of bowling as the doubles offered, and the two final games that brought the two-day tournament to a spectacular close, were a couple of the most-keenly contested in the entire tourney.

Old Man Weather was against the players yesterday for most of the time, but the rinks were undaunted and played even through the showers. This weather helped to chase some of the out-of-towners back home, and kept others from coming, as it was believed that the tourney would not go on by some. However, entries were received from Cobourg and a team from the Toronto Lakeviews came down to the contest.

Late last night, or early this morning, made history on the Peterborough bowling green and there was a note of sadness about it all as the last bowl was thrown (the last bowl to be used on the old green in an annual tourney). Next year the new greens on McDonald street will be open and new faces will appear on the rinks, but the visiting players as they oppose the local rinks will think of the historic battles that were fought on the old Brock street courts—while the change will be remarkable and the greens will be perhaps the best in the country, some of the players yesterday afternoon felt a twang of sorrow as it was suddenly realized that this tournament was the beginning of the end.

Between the play yesterday and on Wednesday, many of the players while they were waiting for their turn to play, were driven to the new site and the future home of the Peterborough bowling club, in the west end of the city, where many expressed their amazement at the project that was undertaken by the members of the club, and even more so when they had explained to them that it was being built by Peterborough members and a building committee was looking after the work and the contract had not been let to a regular contractor.

FOREMEN WILL HOLD OUTING

C.G.E. Association To Hold Picnic On Saturday Afternoon To South Beach

VARIED PROGRAM

The C.G.E. Foremen's Association will hold their first annual outing on Saturday afternoon at South Beach and the diversified program which has been arranged should furnish a very pleasant afternoon for all who attend.

This association which was formed about four months ago has supplied a long felt need in the lives of the supervisors of the electric plant, and has enjoyed consistent growth and success since its birth.

The outing will take the form of a stag picnic and the members will make the trip by motor, leaving the main office at 1.40. The committees in charge of the various arrangements have their work well in hand and the program for the afternoon will consist of a baseball game, sea-flea races and several other sports events.

Several representatives are expected from each of the Toronto works and suitable weather is all that is required to make this picnic one to be remembered.

Two giant airships to be built for the U. S. Government will be 785 feet long and will carry a crew of 40 men each, as well as five scouting airplanes.

More Entries For Campbellford Swim

CAMPBELLFORD, July 19.—(Examiner Staff Correspondence).—Yesterday saw eight new entries for the three-mile marathon swim in the hands of the committee. As time goes on, the fame of the event appears to be spreading to wide areas. The course has already been laid out and will be in the form of a triangle. In order to cover the three mile distance, it will be necessary for the swimmers to go the round nine times. Accommodation for ten-thousand spectators is being arranged. There will also be plenty of parking space for the motorists.

The entries received yesterday were from Thomas Adams, Toronto; Tommy Walker, San Francisco, California; and Jerry Widmer of Seattle Washington. Five more swimmers of the fair sex have set their hearts on the 'extra hundred" and sent in their official entry forms They are, Miss Doris Beresford, Hanlan's Point; Miss Anne Benoit, Toronto; Miss Catherine Harrop, Seattle, Wash.; Miss Jewel Cheatwood, Toronto; and Miss Doris Widmer, Seattle, Wash.

CANADIAN HENLEY RACES TO BE GREATER THAN EVER

Exceptional Program Outlined —Expect Many Contestants From East and United States

GUEST TO RACE

(By Murray Sinclair, Special to The Examiner—Copyright)

Sculling and rowing records will likely be made at the loyal Canadian Henley next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

With Jack Guest and Joe Wright probable entries in the senior single sculls and Argonaut eight pitted against Detroit and the championship Wyandotte crew of Michigan, after being out of their shell for two weeks, more interest is being taken in the Canadian championship races than for several years.

Entries have been received from several American cities as well as Winnipeg, and by the time the first heat is run off at St. Catharines next Thursday, it may be found that the 1929 Henley will make a record for size in any event.

Of the twenty sculling and rowing classes, heats will be necessary in approximately seventeen, it is expected.

SENIOR SINGLES FEATURE

Jack Guest has wired his entry in the senior singles and Joe Wright is also expected to compete.

G. Bole, a member of the Winnipeg rowing club who won the Northwest International senior championship recently, will race against the Argonaut pair along with a Detroit sculler and possibly two Philadelphia men who are entered in the senior double. Rutherford and Neiboat who represent the University Barge Boat Club.

Considerable interest is being taken in the Winnipeg sculler. It has been some time since the West, especially Winnipeg, sent a man east to race for the Canadian championship and much is expected of him. He has been very successful in the mid-Western regattas.

Frank Adams of Vancouver was the last Westerner to come East after winning the Pacific Coast championship for several years he met Joe Wright Jr. in 1927 and was beaten by ten lengths or more.

If all these scullers take part and the winner of the senior association singles rows in the big race, heats will be necessary. They will be rowed on Friday afternoon.

It is expected that the race will be between Wright and Guest, unusual interest is being taken in the event, following their spectacular finish in a Diamond Sculls heat in England two weeks ago.

The Argonaut senior eight will meet two American crews and the winner of the junior eight race for the Hanlan Memorial trophy. University of Toronto and Lachine, who usually have senior eights, are not entered this year and the Winnipeg crew which won the event last year is not making the trip East.

Wyandottes sprung a big surpice when they won the eight race two years ago; last summer they captured the American National title but were beaten at the Canadian Henley.

Detroit sure have a good crew.

The three Toronto clubs—Argonauts, Dons and the University of Toronto—will be well represented, particularly the former two.

The double blue has good 140 pound, 150 pound and junior heavyweight eights and fours as well as an exceptionally speedy batch of scullers. They should pile up a large total of points for Canada.

Dons are better this year than they have been in several seasons. Their lightweight fours and eights are very strong and will make any club realize that they have been in a race. The junior crews are also very fast.

The University of Toronto have two very fast eights; one is entered in the junior 150 pound race and the other in the junior heavyweight race. They are also racing McGill for the intercollegiate championship before the Henley at St. Catherines this week.

Ottawa, Lachine of Montreal, Brockville, St. Catherines, Hamilton and other Canadian cities are also sending strong contingents to St. Kitts early next week.

The Detroit Boat Club will lead the American invasion. They are sending a particularly large crowd of oarsmen and scullers coached by Jimmy Rice.

Detroit are always strong. Their lightweight and 150 pounds crew invariably collect a number of points. In recent years the heavyweight crews have also been very fast and they have captured this event frequently. Their scullers and doubles are said to be about the average.

From Wyandotte, a small city just outside of Detroit, will come two eights, one for the senior race, the other a junior crew.

West Sides of Buffalo, who specialize in fours, will make competition keen.

The University Barge double from Philadelphia will meet strong competition from two Argonaut doubles and a Don crew.

Altogether indications are that the Canadian Henley will be about the biggest regatta held on the continent this year, although most Canadians do not realize this.

OSHAWA BATTLE WILL MEAN MUCH IN LEAGUE RACE

Peterborough Victory To-morrow Will Put Locals Back In The Hunt

FIGHT FOR SECOND

Oshawa, Deloro and Petes All Have Chance To Figure

Although Belleville has opened out a nice lead for first place in the Central Ontario League, the race for second position, and the right to enter the League play-offs, is still an open one, and any one of the other three teams, Oshawa Deloro and the Petes, has a chance to get into the finals.

To-morrow's game with Oshawa here will have a very marked effect upon the final result

A Peterborough victory will put the Petes right back in the hunt, and the local squad, nettled at the poor display they gave last week against Belleville, are determined to take Oshawa into camp.

Matt Sutton, Oshawa pilot, has a clever bunch of ball tossers under his command, with a nice assortment of first string pitchers, including Matthews, Osborne and Ogden right handers, and Wells, a capable fork-hand performer. The assignment against the Petes is likely to be entrusted to Matthews or Ogden, while the Peterborough reply will be Al. Heckman.

With so much at stake the battle with Oshawa should be one of the best of the season.

It will get under way at three o'clock sharp.

VIERKOTTER ENTERS CAMPBELLFORD "WRIGGLE."

The Campbellford swim on August 2 is going to be a classic, international race, and it is gaining something of the same prominence now as the Wrigley marathon. The names of noted swimmers are each day reaching the secretary through the mails, and they are all eager contestants for the rich purse.

Wednesday, George Young entered, and yesterday the powerful German speed merchant Ernst Vierkotter, sent in his entry and it was duly filed away among the ever-swelling list. These two would form an attraction by themselves, but along with them are a score of other crack swimmers.

WESTCLOX NEARLY DID IT.

Westclox gave Percy Harrison and his supporters a fright last evening in the softball game, and the anxiety lasted right up until the end of the nine innings. The Time-Tickers led all the way until the eighth to be beaten out 5 to 4. On their play the Westclox should have won; they should have had at least two more counters, and the North Enders were riding with Lady Luck to nab their quintette.

The race is a tight one, and henceforth the fixtures should all be interesting. A big thriller is billed for next week, when the Bridgenorth Wildcats, second placers, meet the champion Harrison aggregation.

* * * * * *

COGNAWAGAS OR CRESCENTS?

On their season's play there is no choice between Crescents and Cognawagas, and it is this fact among others that is causing so much excitement about their game in the E.P.L. at Exhibition Park this evening. The one which can defeat the other twice in their single series of home-and-home games will win the right to play Bethany for the championship; the other will be through.

Bethany cannot be displaced from the first position and the best either of the other teams can do is to tie Doc Hamiltons lad's.

TIGHT RACE IN NATIONAL.

While the Athletics are being picked by the experts to win the American pennant, and are maintaining their eight and a half game lead, a three-cornered fight has developed in the National. The Pittsburg Pirates have struck an obstacle in their series with New York, and yesterday McGraw's men defeated the Buccaneers, and greatly assisted the Cubs, who ganed a full game on the leaders by beating the Braves. Only one game separates the National League leaders now, and it is prophesied that when the Pirates leave New York they will be in second place.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"THE DUKE STEPS OUT"

This is a James Cruze production and has all the elements of interest and deft handling that go with the name of that producer. Although it is not a "talkie" in the real sense of the word, it has its moments of vocalization and the action is so tense and swift that the conversational background is not missed to any great extent. It has throughout the musical accompaniment of the Capitol Theatre orchestra at New York City, directed by David Mendoza himself and the vivid action of the piece, along with the brilliant music, supply the atmosphere lacking through spoken words.

Joan Crawford is Sue Corbin, belle of Sierra University, and William Haines is her ardent suitor, Duke Wellington, a millionaire's son and noted prize-fighter, who enters Sierra as a student in effort to attract the notice of the elusive Sue. Two minor parts are upheld nobly by the long and sad-faced Barney (Karl Dane) and the little, irascible Jake, trainer of the "Duke."

The vivid action progresses through a series of humorous and interesting episodes, in which the lightning courtship of Sue and the Duke also progresses rather abruptly. The lady proves intractable at first and the Duke has a hard time of it. Later she relents, but then a plot cooked up by Jake and Barney, to manufacture a supposed sweetheart of the fighter and cause him to lose the interest in Sue which is preventing his proper training for a championship fight, throws another wrench into the machinery.

When the fight comes off the radio tells the story in a vocalized sequence, but the radio goes dead at a dramatic moment. The ending, however, is perfectly satisfactory to all concerned. It is a swift, modern picture with plenty of fun and excitement in its screening.

The comedy is extremely vocal. It is a Mack Sennett piece and opens with the yap of a bulldog, while the hoarse cough of the lion resounds through the production. The beast is being stalked by a pair of amateur hunters who go rabbit shooting and find a stray circus lion in their path. The vocal efforts of the elder hunter add to the interest of the piece, which is noisy from beginning to end. The clang of Manhattan steel-riveters, the practising of an ambitious soprano and the cooing of the turtle-doves in the wildwood, are heard from the very gabby screen that exudes this bit of noisy merriment.

An added entertainment in the program is the screening of pictures of Peterborough's recent celebration of Old Home Week. This opens with the skirl of the pipes and the pictures of the Toronto Scottish Regiment advancing gallantly up George street, which looks like a very noble and spacious thoroughfare in the perspective of these pictures. Then comes the unveiling of the memorial and the ceremonies which attended it. The music of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," resounds through this portion of the showing, and the final bit is the screening of Mrs. Joseph Mills in the act of placing a wreath at the feet of the memorial figures.

BILL TILDEN BEATS GERMAN

American Ace Smashes Way To Victory Over Moldenhauer In Three Sets

DAVIS CUP PLAY

BERLIN, July 19. — (Canadian P[illegible]) — Bill Tilden smashed his way to victory over Hans Moldenhauer of Germany in three straight sets to-day to give the United States the opening match in the interzone Davis Cup tennis final against the Germans. The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Big Bill carried too many guns for Moldenhauer, the German, eight years his junior, carried more speed of foot than Tilden but the wizardry of the American's racquet, dealing out a disconcerting mixture of cannonballs, stinging drives, volleys and drop shots, had him guessing all the way.

With United States competitors eliminated yesterday, Dr. Arthur Ham ((one of the Dominion's Davis Cup players) meets Walter Martin of Regina, in what is expected to be one of the closest struggles of the tournament, while LeRoy [illegible] against Gilbert Nunn, another of Canada's leading players.

Following their sterling performance yesterday in defeating such a powerful combination as Mrs. Coke and Miss Brock, the two Halifax players, Mrs. F. V. Woodbury and Miss Mildred Currie, will oppose Mrs. Gray and Miss Wade, Toronto, in the final encounter for the women's doubles. The Haligonians remain in the mixed doubles competition, Mrs. Woodbury partnering Donald Gunn, Toronto, while Miss Currie is playing with Leo Hiltz, also of Toronto. The The semi-finals in this event will be played to-day.

The Junior Men's Singles will go to the United States.

In the final to-day A. D. Noble of Boston, will fight it out with D. H. Scott, Brown University, Providence. Two local players, Miss Olive Wade, and Miss Grace Richardson play in the final for the Women's Junior Singles.

Eight pairs remain in the Men's Doubles and two runs will be played int his event to-day.

Ideal weather prevails for to-day's matches.

NO SOCCER GAME ON SATURDAY

Briton Players Are Away On Holiday And Could Not Raise A Team

The Examiner was informed this afternoon that there will be no soccer game on Saturday afternoon on King Edward Park.

The Brinton executive could not get the team together owing to the greater portion of the eleven being away on their holidays and they informed the local secretary, who notified the Canadian General secretary of the situation.

There will be a meeting of the local association on Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce at eight o'clock, when this matter will be discussed.

A Peterborough victory will put the Petes right back in the hunt, and the local squad, nettled at the poor display they gave last week against Belleville, are determined to take Oshawa into camp.

Matt Sutton, Oshawa pilot, has a clever bunch of ball tossers under his command, with a nice assortment of first string pitchers, including Mathews, Osborne and Ogden right handers, and Wells, a capable fork-hand performer. The assignment against the Petes is likely to be entrusted to Matthews or Ogden, while the Peterborough reply will be Al. Heckman.

With so much at stake the battle with Oshawa should be one of the best of the season.

It will get under way at three o'clock sharp.

DOG FOOLS COPS

NEW YORK, July 19.—The burglar siren at the Elizabeth Sash Store plant rang frantically. People for blocks around were aroused in the night and hurried to the sound of the alarm. Cops came. The siren continued to ring. The cops entered the plant and found the watchman's dog fast asleep. He was sleeping on top of the buzzer that operates the siren

VIERKOTTER ENTERS CAMPBELLFORD "WRIGGLE."

The Campbellford swim on August 2 is going to be a classic, international race, and it is gaining something of the same prominence now as the Wrigley marathon. The names of noted swimmers are each day reaching the secretary through the mails, and they are all eager contestants for the rich purse.

Wednesday, George Young entered, and yesterday the powerful German speed merchant Ernst Vierkotter, sent in his entry and it was duly filed away among the ever-swelling list. These two would form an attraction by themselves, but along with them are a score of other crack swimmers.

WESTCLOX NEARLY DID IT.

Westclox gave Percy Harrison and his supporters a fright last evening in the softball game, and the anxiety lasted right up until the end of the nine innings. The Time-Tickers led all the way until the eighth to be beaten out 5 to 4. On their play the Westclox should have won; they should have had at least two more counters, and the North Enders were riding with Lady Luck to nab their quintette.

The race is a tight one, and henceforth the fixtures should all be interesting. A big thriller is billed for next week, when the Bridgenorth Wildcats, second placers, meet the champion Harrison aggregation.

COGNAWAGAS OR CRESCENTS?

On their season's play there is no choice between Crescents and Cognawagas, and it is this fact among others that is causing so much excitement about their game in the E.P.L. at Exhibition Park this evening. The one which can defeat the other twice in their single series of home-and-home games will win the right to play Bethany for the championship; the other will be through.

Bethany cannot be displaced from the first position and the best either of the other teams can do is to tie Doc Hamiltons lad's.

TIGHT RACE IN NATIONAL.

While the Athletics are being picked by the experts to win the American pennant, and are maintaining their eight and a half game lead, a three-cornered fight has developed in the National. The Pittsburg Pirates have struck an obstacle in their series with New York, and yesterday McGraw's men defeated the Buccaneers, and greatly assisted the Cubs, who ganed a full game on the leaders by beating the Braves. Only one game separates the National League leaders now, and it is prophesied that when the Pirates leave New York they will be in second place.

BILL TILDEN BEATS GERMAN

American Ace Smashes Way To Victory Over Moldenhauer In Three Sets

DAVIS CUP PLAY

BERLIN, July 19. — (Canadian Press).—Bill Tilden smashed his way to victory over Hans Moldenhauer of Germany in three straight sets to-day to give the United States the opening match in the interzone Davis Cup tennis final against the Germans. The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Big Bill carried too many guns for Moldenhauer, the German, eight years his junior, carried more speed of foot than Tilden but the wizardy of the American's racquet, dealing out a disconcerting mixture of cannonballs, stinging drives, volleys and drop shots, had him guessing all the way.

With United States competitors eliminated yesterday, Dr. Arthur Ham ((one of the Dominion's Davis Cup players) meets Walter Martin of Regina, in what is expected to be one of the closest struggles of the tournament, while LeRoy [illegible] against Gilbert Nunn, another of Canada's leading players.

Following their sterling performance yesterday in defeating such a powerful combination as Mrs. Coke and Miss Brock, the two Halifax players, Mrs. F. V. Woodbury and Miss Mildred Currie, will oppose Mrs. Gray and Miss Wade, Toronto, in the final encounter for the women's doubles. The Haligonians remain in the mixed doubles competition, Mrs. Woodbury partnering Donald Gunn, Toronto, while Miss Currie is playing with Leo Hiltz, also of Toronto. The The semi-finals in this event will be played to-day.

The Junior Men's Singles will go to the United States.

In the final to-day A. D. Noble of Boston, will fight it out with D. H. Scott, Brown University, Providence. Two local players, Miss Olive Wade, and Miss Grace Richardson play in the final for the Women's Junior Singles.

Eight pairs remain in the Men's Doubles and two runs will be played int his event to-day.

Ideal weather prevails for to-day's matches.

NO SOCCER GAME ON SATURDAY

Briton Players Are Away On Holiday And Could Not Raise A Team

The Examiner was informed this afternoon that there will be no soccer game on Saturday afternoon on King Edward Park.

The Brinton executive could not get the team together owing to the greater portion of the eleven being away on their holidays and they informed the local secretary, who notified the Canadian General secretary of the situation.

There will be a meeting of the local association on Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce at eight o'clock, when this matter will be discussed.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"THE DUKE STEPS OUT"

This is a James Cruze production and has all the elements of interest and deft handling that go with the name of that producer. Although it is not a "talkie" in the real sense of the word, it has its moments of vocalization and the action is so tense and swift that the conversational background is not missed to any great extent. It has throughout the musical accompaniment of the Capitol Theatre orchestra at New York City, directed by David Mendoza himself and the vivid action of the piece, along with the brilliant music, supply the atmosphere lacking through spoken words.

Joan Crawford is Sue Corbin, belle of Sierra University, and William Haines is her ardent suitor, Duke Wellington, a millionaire's son and noted prize-fighter, who enters Sierra as a student in effort to attract the notice of the elusive Sue. Two minor parts are upheld nobly by the long and sad-faced Barney (Karl Dane) and the little, irascible Jake, trainer of the "Duke."

The vivid action progresses through a series of humorous and interesting episodes, in which the lightning courtship of Sue and the Duke also progresses rather abruptly. The lady proves intractable at first and the Duke has a hard time of it. Later she relents, but then a plot cooked up by Jake and Barney, to manufacture a supposed sweetheart of the fighter and cause him to lose the interest in Sue which is preventing his proper training for a championship fight, throws another wrench into the machinery.

When the fight comes off the radio tells the story in a vocalised sequence, but the radio goes dead at a dramatic moment. The ending, however, is perfectly satisfactory to all concerned. It is a swift, modern picture with plenty of fun and excitement in its screening.

The comedy is extremely vocal. It is a Mack Sennett piece and opens with the yap of a bulldog, while the hoarse cough of the lion resounds through the production. The beast is being stalked by a pair of amateur hunters who go rabbit shooting and find a stray circus lion in their path. The vocal efforts of the elder hunter add to the interest of the piece, which is noisy from beginning to end. The clang of Manhattan steel-riveters, the practising of an ambitious soprano and the cooing of the turtle-doves in the wildwood, are heard from the very gabby screen that exudes this bit of noisy merriment.

An added entertainment in the program is the screening of pictures of Peterborough's recent celebration of Old Home Week. This opens with the skirl of the pipes and the pictures of the Toronto Scottish Regiment advancing gallantly up George street, which looks like a very noble and spacious thoroughfare in the perspective of these pictures. Then comes the unveiling of the memorial and the ceremonies which attended it. The music of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," resounds through this portion of the showing, and the final bit is the screening of Mrs. Joseph Mills in the act of placing a wreath at the feet of the memorial figures.

—Jeanette.

TENNIS

TORONTO CRICKET CLUB, Toronto, Ont., July 19.—(By the Canadian Press).—Miss Olive Wade and John Proctor of Toronto, defeated Mrs. F. V. Woodbury of Halifax, and Donald Gunn of Toronto, in the quarter-finals of the mixed doubles of the Ontario Tennis Championships this morning. The scores were 6-1, 6-4

In another quarter final match, Miss Mildred Currie, of Halifax, and Leo Hiltz, of Toronto, were eliminated by Mrs H. Bickle and Doherty of Toronto, after winning the first set. The scores 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Wade and Proctor will meet Mrs. E. F. Coke of Toronto and Leslie of Montreal in the semi-finals late to-day. The other semi-final will be between Mrs. Bickle and Doherty and Mrs. O. E. Gray, Toronto, C. C. Petersen of London, Ont.

BERLIN, July 19.—Max Valier, German inventor, plans the construction of rocket-propelled ships to cross the English Channel from France. Don't Pity Poor Young Men Pity Poor Old Men

GIVEN health and strength young people who are poor should not be an object of pity. Rather should one strive to arouse ambition in them. It is the poor old folks that require help.

You know of poor old mothers who are shifted around amongst sons and daughters for three or four months at a time, because they have no financial means.

Well, then, do you yourself want to be in this position some day? Do you want your wife to suffer? Not if you can help it! Then, provide now for an income for either or both of you while your earning powers permit it.

A reasonable premium will enable you to buy substantial protection in a Confederation Life Policy. Write now for pamphlet entitled "No Matter What Happens" which tells how this may be done. Address:

There are few situations in Bridge more aggravating than to find oneself the victim of a "squeeze." As will be seen in the play of this deal, the East player is thus victimized and forced to discard helplessly while Declarer goes game.

Salient Points of Bidding

Auction Bidding: South bids originally one No Trump which West, holding the high card strength and distribution well fitted to support a Major suit response by partner, doubles negatively.

North, holding six Diamonds headed by 1½ Quick Tricks (the average expectancy of high card support) shows such support by bidding two Diamonds over West's double, thus providing South with the information that may enable him to go on with No Trumps or offer an alternative bid.

East must pass, too weak to respond to his partner's double that has been overcalled. South, now assured of a strong Diamond holding in hand of partner, bids two No Trumps which concludes the bidding as West's strength is not sufficient to warrant a second negative double.

Contract Bidding: The only variation from the foregoing at Contract is that, following North's two Diamond call, South bids three No Trumps, his distribution, his Quick Trick strength, and his high intermediates justifying the game declaration. Holding double stoppers in Spades and Hearts and four Clubs to the King-10 he should not ask North, by bidding but two No Trumps, to do that which he should clearly do himself.

The Play

West opens the 2 of Clubs, East plays the Queen and South wins with the King. South now leads the Jack of Diamonds which East refuses to win as South may hold but two cards of the Diamond suit. To the third trick, South leads the Diamond 8, West discards the Spade 2 and East wins with the King unable to hold off any longer and useless to do so if he could.

East now leads a small Club, West winning this trick and the next two with the Ace, Jack and 9 of Clubs, thereafter lays down the King of Hearts to establish a fifth trick to stop the No Trump game, if possible. South wins the King of Heart lead with the Ace and goes over to his four good Diamonds in Dummy. West is now forced to make four discards, South to make three. On the last Diamond (Trick 11) West must either discard his Queen of Hearts, thus making Dummy's Heart good or he must unguard his King of Spades, thus giving Declarer the last two tricks with the Ace and Queen of Spades in own hand. Accordingly, South makes his three odd by virtue of a squeeze on the West hand.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your bridge problems. Write to him, care of this paper, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope.

"USE YOUR HEAD"

"A woodpecker pecks
Out a great many specks
Of sawdust
When building a hut;
He works like a nigger
To make the hole bigger
He's sore if
His cutter won't cut.
He don't bother with plans
Of cheap artisans,
But there's one thing
Can rightly be said;
The whole excavation
Has this explanation—
He builds it

DR. SPILSBURY HAS PARALYSIS

Was Stricken While At Kingston For His Summer Vacation

WELL KNOWN LOCALLY

KINGSTON, Ont., July 19.—(Special to Examiner). — Dr. Spilsbury, Miami, Florida, summering here with his sister and well known in Peterborough, is in General Hospital, having been stricken with paralysis. He is to-day regaining consciousness. His brother, Dr. Spilsbury, Detroit, is at his bedside. The Spilsburys are famed Canadians, with their grandfather being one of Sir James Yeo's officers at this post in the war of 1912. Spilsbury Island in naval group, near Gananoque, was named after the grandfather, Capt. F. B. Spilsbury, R.N., whose sword and watch were given to the Royal Military College by Dr. Spilsbury.

Police Arrest Man With Gun Outside President's Gate

GET CONFESSION

VIENNA, July 19. — (Canadian Press).—An attempt against the life of President Miklas of Austria was frustrated yesterday with the arrest of a man giving his name as Anton Leitner, tailor's assistant.

Leitner was stated by the police to have admitted he was seeking to ambush the President near the gate of the Foreign Office.

The man loitered near the gate with a loaded revolver in his pocket for some time. Finally his suspicious actions caused a police investigation and he was arrested.

It was first thought that he was planning to assassinate Chancellor Steeruwitz.

Aged Farmer Killed In Electrical Storm

LINDSAY, July 19 — (Special to The Examiner)—Shortly before noon yesterday, George Thompson, aged 75 years, a farmer residing about a mile and a half from the village of Sunderland, was killed by lightning. The unfortunate man was ploughing on his farm and during the progress of the electrical storm tied his horses to a fence, and then sought shelter under a tree. A bolt of lightning killed him instantly. Thompson, who was quite prominent in the district, is survived by a wife and grown-up family.

quiet. Ivanchuk, testifying in his defence, denied he knew the girl.

James Rogers, a butcher at Taschereau, testified Ivanchuk came to his shack three days after the murder, and after drinking some liquor, said he had shot Constable.

Dominique Suzzabella and Joseph Sciana, told the court that whey hesitated about a proposition in regard to opening a gambling and liquor establishment, Ivanchuk said they did not need to worry about the police as he would "handle them the same as he had the Inspector."

No statement regarding the murder was made by Ivanchuk before he died, but in his last moments he told Arthur Ellis, the hangman, that "My heart is clear," when the executioner asked him if he had anything to say. Ivanchuk was quite calm when he was called to his doom, the violent mood of the previous day having subsided. Monsigneur Dupuis, Holy Cross parish priest, accompanied him to the scaffold.

The gallows had been erected within a few feet of the death cell, and Ivanchuk, who refused morphine, walked quietly, and at his own request with uniformed officers of the Mounted and Provincial Police as his guards. In the procession also was Deputy Sheriff J. B. Moore of Cochrane, and Sergeant Delves, of the Provincial force, and Constable Delaney, of the R.C.M.P., were the escort.

The usual inquest was conducted immediately after the execution, a formal verdict of death by hanging being returned by the jury under Dr. J. W. McCullough. Ivanchuk's body was bupried in the jail yard.

Have Been Quietly Taking Up Important Positions for Weeks.

HARBIN, Manchuria, July 19. — (Canadian Press).—Troop movements in Siberia have been on a semi-war-like scale for some weeks, according to reports assembled yesterday at Harbin by neutral observers.

The Russians cancelled all leaves of absence in the military district of Siberia weeks ago and began to move soldiers toward various important strategic points along the Manchurian frontier.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

STORM HARMLESS

The electric storms that passed over the city yesterday did not do a great deal of harm. The Bell Telephone Company reported that a few wires were blown down but that the service was carried on without interruption and the trouble was purely local. The Peterborough Utilities Commission had a couple of transformers struck by lightning but nothing serious while the Peterborough Fire Department reports that everything was O.K. and that there were no fires from lightning and the alarm system was not touched.

MORE FARM HELP

The employment situation in the city is about normal, according to the report as issued by the Peterborough Labor bureau. The outstanding feature of the past week has been the increased demand for farm hands and the old trouble of finding men to fill this vacany has shown up. The rest of the list is composed of tradesmen which are wanted in the various sections of the county.

FURNACES IN JULY

The recent cool spell has caused some of the office buildings down town to set their furnaces going. Artificial heat in July—it seems queer but it is true, and some of our American tourists will begin to believe that this is truly a land of icebergs and Indians as is often rumored in that great republic to the south.

RADIO FESTIVAL

There was a competition of radios the other night on Bolivar street. A house on each corner had the front doors and windows open and their receivers were going full blast, with the result that those living across the street enjoyed a type of radio hash that was not in the least musical.

RAIN WELCOMED

While the bowlers suffered some inconvenience with yesterday's rain, the storm on the whole was greatly appreciated by farmers and gardners whose crops were drying up due to the recent hot dry spell. Right after the flower gardens and lawns in the city seemed to take on a new life and appeared to be quite revived from the ill effects that were suffered during the past week.

TO EXTEND BUS SERVICE

J. E. Anglin, proprietor of the bus line from Peterborough to Lindsay was recently in Toronto where he arranged for an extension of his bus line from this city through Lindsay to Orillia. This makes the line now eighty three miles in length over improved highway through a populus and prosperous country. The trip will take about three hours and the purchase of an additional modern bus is contemplated to make service over this route the very best. Mr. Anglin also operates busses between Belleville and Kingston.

The length of the Leviathan exceeds the height of the Woolworth building. The tarantula bite while poisonous is not fatal to humans, as commonly supposed.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

THE UNDERSLUNG PIPE

It scented the plains of Nebraska
With a perfume more pungent and rare
Than the redolent smoke of the glowing jack oak
That perfumed the thin western air.
Long before, through the streets of Chicago,
Roved the men of the violent type
Who shut out the sun with the reek of the gun,
Rose a mist from that underslung pipe

The poilus have sniffed its aroma
As it lazily drifted away
And have paused to remark, as the skyline grew dark
With a crisp spicy haze: "Quelle fumer!"
The gentleman sitting behind it
Was direct and brief-worded and blunt
While he thickened the gloom of a dim little room,
But the guns were rushed up to the front.

Time was when a sharp pungent fragrance
Pervaded the ambient air
Where a man lean and tall sat a trifle a-sprawl
In the polished vice-president's chair.
And visitors sniffing the odor
And eagerly asking the cause,
Would be told by a guide with a slight touch of pride
"That's the pipe, folks, of General Dawes."

And now in its briar bound hollow
A living coal quivers and flames
While the General fares through the damp London airs
On his way to the Court of St. James.
Here's hoping that long may its flavor
Grow daily more rich and more ripe
While the whole world hurrahs for Ambassador Dawes—
The man with the underslung pipe!

CHIEF GIMBLETT ISSUES WARNING

Parents Should Be Careful Children Are Not Playing With Matches

FIRE IN GARAGE

Children playing with matches caused a fire late Wednesday afternoon in a frame garage at 541 Bethune street. The firemen were quickly on the scene and removed the danger.

With reference to this fire, the Chief warns parents in the city to check up on the matter and make sure that their children are not using matches in play-houses, especially when these are inside buildings. The danger of lightly built structures igniting and burning to death the children is very great. A number of such instances have been recorded by the newspapers in the past year.

Chief Gimblett also warns that owners of buildings with defective chimneys must have them repaired as required by the fire prevention bylaw or action will be taken.

PARK INSIDE HOUR OR PAY YOUR FINES

Inspector Says Motorists Not Obeying City Parking Rules

Henceforth a close check up will be made by the police on parkers in the downtown areas of the city, Inspector Reid informed The Examiner this morning. "The parking rules will have to be obeyed or summons will be issued" said the inspector.

He pointed out that parking was not permitted on the west side of Water, George and Aylmer streets or on the north side of Sherbrooke, King, Charlott, Simcoe, Hunter and Brock streets. A motorist is permitted to pull up and discharge passengers and remain for a minute or two, but nothing above that limit will be tolerated.

On the other side of the streets cars may be parked for a period not exceeding one hour. "Some have been even exceeding this allowance" he said. "If they do so in future they will get a ticket.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS TOMORROW NIGHT

Canadian Company Has A Wonderful Program For This Season—Season Tickets Lower

The summer of 1929, which marks the launching of the first Canadian Chautauquas, Limited, circuit in the province of Ontario, brings to realization another great link in the Dominion-wide progress of Canadian Chautauquas.

Twelve years ago this great Canadian organization held its first Chautauqua assembly in the thriving Western city of Lethbridge. From the day the movement was inaugurated it began to develop into an effective educational force in Canadian life. To-day it is serving approximately five hundred communities and utilizing the services of over 35,000 men and women who are co-operating through this medium in order to serve the people of five Canadian provinces.

Canadians have realized the opportunity to bring to their communities the noted singers, the lectures by men of world-wide distinction, the high-grade musical companies, clean, up-to-the-minute plays and other great entertainment attractions which are presented on Chautauqua programs. It is the support of these progressive and far-sighted citizens which has made possible the tremendous expansion of the Canadian Chautauquas.

The first program to be presented is the popular Broadway comedy, "The Family Upstairs," and it should prove to be one of the best features of any Chautauqua program to have been given here.

On Sunday evening there will be a lecture by Captain Norman Rawson on "The Making of a Soldier." This will be outside of the regular series, and all the receipts are to be given to the Peterborough Branch Canadian Legion. Capt. Rawson is an orator of rare ability, and his address should be largely attended. Silver collection only for this feature.

TWO GREAT SHIPS WILL BE STARTED

President Of U.S. Line Says Two Liners Be Completed In Three Years

S. S. LEVIATHAN, July 19.—(Canadian Press).—Construction of two new giant ocean liners, each to cost $25,000,000, for the United States Lines will be started early in 1930, Joseph E. Sheedy, president of the operating corporation of the lines, announced yesterday.

The keels will be laid in Philadelphia, Newport News or Camden, N. J. The contract under which Paul W. Chapman, banker, recently took over the United States Lines from the Government, calls for their completion within three years.

INQUEST IS HELD

the boy had unfastened the rope which fastened one end of the raft. The momentum of the water swung out the raft, and the boy becoming frightened or fainting slipped into the water. Wolfe saw him go into the water head first. Kershaw made no outcry and his struggling seemed to be weak. Wolfe called to John Allen, who was working a few yards distant on the cement pier. Allen got a rope and threw it to the boy in the water. The rope landed within inches of Kershaw's hand, and he yelled for him to "grab it," but the boy paid no heed and sank.

Dr. D. W. Clark, who attended the boy, said that since he had been in the water so soon after dinner, the food in his stomach would have the effect of hindering the heart action, and recovery.

Other witnesses were: James McGraw, Herman Blewett and Edward Marchand.

"From the evidence submitted we find that Erik Kershaw came to his death on July 3 by drowning through accidentally falling off a raft on the Otonabee River, below Lock 19, while engaged in the performance of his duties and no blame can be attached to anyone," was the verdict returned.

LIEUT.-COL. R. M. BLAIR WINS KING'S PRIZE

RUSSIAN TROOPS REPORTED OVER MANCHURIA BORDER AT RAIL END WORD FROM FRENCH CONSUL SAYS

Russian Troops Were Repulsed In Crossing Amur River

NO DEFINITE WORD

Chinese Minister Claims China Not Forgotten Kellog Pact

SHANGHAI, July 20 (Canadian Press). — French consular authorities here to-day stated they had received an official report from the French Consul at Harbin, Manchuria, that Russian troops had crossed the Manchurian border at the eastern end of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

Previous reports that the Russians had occupied Manchuli, at the western end of the railroad and Pogranichnaya at the eastern end had been denied.

The British-owned North China Daily News printed a bulletin which stated: "A private despatch from Harbin stated Chinese troops repulsed a party of Russian forces at Blagoveshchenski attempting to cross the Amur River and enter Manchuria. The Russians withdrew as a result of heavy Chinese rifle fire.

Various accounts of this engagement have been extant here for a day and a half.

NOT FORGOTTEN PACT.

SHANGHAI, July 20 (Canadian Press). — China has not forgotten the Kellogg anti-war pact, to which it is signatory, C. T. Wang, Foreign Minister of the Chinese Republics, said to-day. He added, however: "Any move on the part of the Soviet to place troops within Manchuria will be viewed by the Chinese people and government as an act of war."

The Foreign Minister, who left at 1 p.m. for Nanking to confer with President Chiang Kai Shek, declared:

"The situation is serious. However, it is not to be interpreted that we have abandoned hope for a peaceful settlement."

"China does not desire to invade Russian territory. However, she has been forced to take precautionary measures as the attitude and intentions of the Soviet have not yet been clearly indicated, despite the fact the Soviet is a signatory to the Kellogg pact as well as China."

BRITAIN JOINS U.S.

LONDON, July 20 (Canadian Press). — The British Foreign Office announced to-day it had informed the United States and France that Great Britain associated itself with the efforts these Governments are making to bring about relaxation in the Chinese-Russian tension.

The official Government announcement was as follows:

"His Majesty's Government has informed the United States and French Governments that they entirely associate themselves with the effort which those Governments are making by friendly advice to both sides to bring about relaxation of the tension that has arisen between the Governments of China and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

No Truth in Report

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., July 20 (C.P.) —Official circles early to-day said there was no truth in Harbin despatches to the newspaper Osaka Asahi, Tokyo, regarding opening of a defensive against Pogranichnaya, apparently (in Russian territory) and Manchuli, Manchuria.

Tass, the official news agency, said defense funds were being raised by factory workers and others. Proposals from workers of several Moscow factories that the Government issue a third industrialization loan for

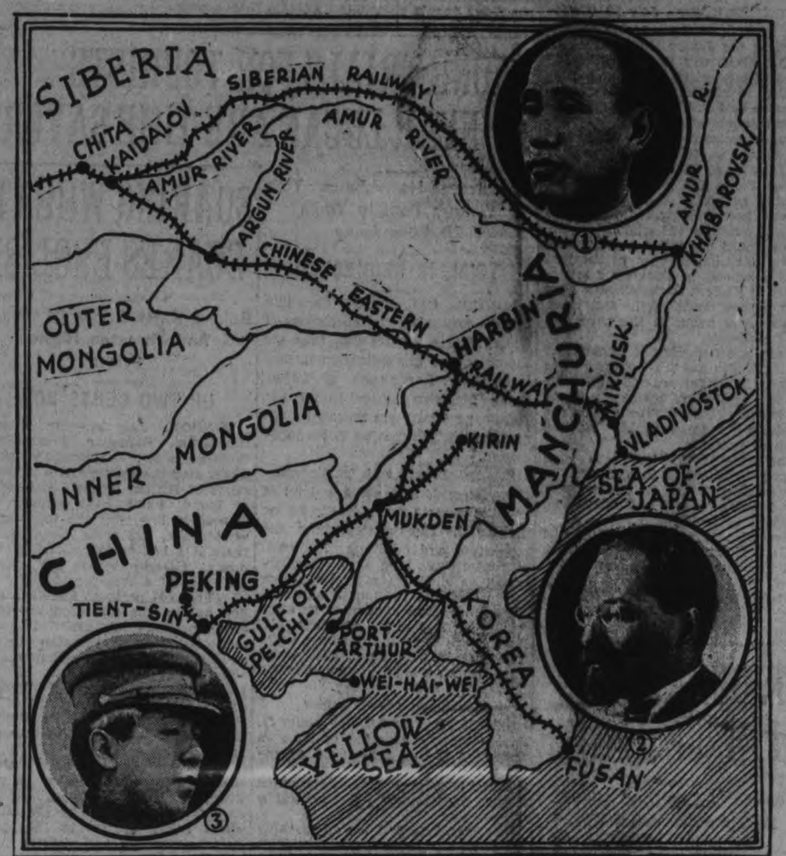
DRY WEATHER IS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR FIRES

Fire-Fighters Brought To North By Airplane.

KENORA, Ont., July 20 (Canadian Press).—Ten forest fires at scattered points in this district are being fought at present, following another spell of dry weather. Some of the small streams have dried up, and fire-fighters are having some difficulty in battling the blazes. The fires are being fought by gangs of men who have been taken into the area by airplane.

CRISIS BECOMES ACUTE IN CHINA



The Crisis in the Orient, arising from China's seizure of the Great Eastern Railway, is intensified following Russia's severance of diplomatic relations with the Nanking Government, a step which, it is feared, may lead to war between the two nations. The map above shows Manchuria area which may be the scene of the first hostilities. Russian troops are reported to have attempted to cross the Amur River, the northern boundary of Manchuria, on July 18, and to have been repulsed. Photograph No. 1 shows Chiang Kai Shek, Nationalist President of China. No. 2 is Leo Karakhan, assistant Russian commissar for foreign affairs, and former Ambassador to China, who is in charge of eastern relations. No. 3 is Chang Hsuh Liang, governor of Manchuria, who has been ordered by Chiang Kai Shek to return to Mukden to organize the defence of the province's frontiers.

POPE DECLARES HE WILL WALK IN PROCESSION

Advisers Attempt To Dissuade The Pontiff From New Procedure

72 YEARS OF AGE

Fear Held For His Health As Heat At That Hour Is Excessive

ROME, July 20. (C.P.) — The Vatican City correspondent of Il Tevere has learned the Pope desires to participate in the Eucharistic procession on July 25, afoot, instead of as hitherto planned on the Podium, a platform of state carried by dignitaries.

It is intimated attempts are being made to dissuade the Pontiff because even between 6.30 and 8.30 o'clock in the evening when the procession will be held, the heat is considerable. The Pope will be clothed in heavy vestments incrusted with gold and will bear the Host in a heavy Monstrance, the transparent receptacle in which the consecrated Host is shown to the multitude.

The Pontiff, however, insists that he will not be fatigued. His advisers still hope he will change his mind, and not risk needless over-exertion at 72.

CHAUTAUQAU TO OPEN TONIGHT

Popular Broadway Comedy "The Family Upstairs" Will Be Presented

To-night the Canadian Chautauquas will make their appearance in Peterborough with only the best of programs for Canadian people. This production which is operated entirely by Canadian interests is one of outstanding merit and its appearance in Peterborough is made possible only through the co-operative support of G. A. Gillespie, who has always had the interest of Peterborough citizens at heart.

To-night is the initial opening of the big tent and the popular Broadway comedy, "The Family Upstairs" will be presented, starring such players as Leslie Kerkow and Mildred Mahan. It is a rip-roaring comedy from beginning to end—touched off with moments of pathos which bring the tear drops brimming to the eyes.

On Monday afternoon a concert by the Moscow Artsts, which will carry one into Russia with its picturesque costumes and fascinating music, will be offered, and also Mrs. D. Pirie Beyea, who was one of the first women to go overseas in 1914, will lecture on the topic, "Education or Catastrophe."

In the evening Anatol Frikin and his Russians will give that notable production, "Scenes from Russian Life." Such a performance has never before been presented on a Chautauqua platform.

Ernest Toy, celebrated Australian violinist, and the inimitable Lowel Patton, pianist and composer, will render on the Tuesday afternoon one of their brilliant programs which have won such universal fame. They will appear in the evening in conjuction with a lecture, "Awakening China," by Dr. Tehi Hsieh, who is one of the outstanding figures of New China.

The afternoon of Wednesday will be given to that lecture, "The Making of a Soldier," by the Captain Rev. N. Rawson, whose realistic description of life and conditions in Northern Russia helps to explain in some measure that great mystery, "the Russian Revolution. A big gala performance by the children will also be presented.

"Smilin' Through," one of the greatest romantic dramas of the modern stage will be the evening feature and such renowned actors as Tom Ryder and Winnifred Parker will round out a cast of outstanding players. The play throbs with the vital themes of youth-love, misunderstanding and a sadly misplaced desire for revenge.

The deep, rich beauty of the negro spiritual, the plaintive pathos of lullabies crooned by soft, darkey voices, the mellow, care-free laughter that rings through the plantation melodies will be marvellously presented by the Jackson Jubilee Singers in the afternoon and evening of the closing day. Little Van Osborne, famous nine-year-old negro boy entertainer, will be featured on the spectacular Jackson programs.

The lecture on "Canadianization," by Captain Stanley Nelson Dancey will bring the glorious five-day program to a close with a ring of true patriotism.

On Sunday night Capt. the Rev. N. Rawson will give a lecture, "The Making of a Soldier. Program for Sunday night: Chairman, Col. Ackerman; at the piano, Miss Musa Cox. Solos by Mrs. Ford Turner, Miss H. Lytle, Joe Minicolo. Lecture, "The Making of a Soldier" by Captain Rawson. Silver collection for Legion Benefit Fund.

Vancouver Officer Defeats Lt. Burke In Leadership Tie

Two Canadians Tie For First Place In Final Shoot For King's Prize At Great Bisley Meet— Shoot-Off Necessary

TIE IS FIRED OFF IN SUDDEN DEATH FASHION BURKE'S SHOT GOES LOW IN SEVENTH ON TARGET

Both Men Finished With Total Of 283 Points Out Of Possible 300—Prize Is Worth $1,250—Commands Seaforth Highlands

BISLEY CAMP, England ,July 20 (By Thos. T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent). — The highest honors for marksmanship in the Empire went to Lieut.-Colonel R. M. Blair, of Vancouver ,to-day, when he won the King's Prize after a tie shoot with Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa.

Lieut.-Colonel Blair, commanding officer of the Seaforth Highlanders ,and Lieut. Burke ,of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, finished the final stage of the great shoot to-day with totals of 283 out o fa possible 300. Then they went out alone to determine the destiny of the prize of $1,250 given by His Majesty and the gold medal and gold badge offered by the National Rifle Association.

The Canadians steadily registered bull's eyes in the shoot-off, neither one yielding any advantage, but Lieut. Burke on his seventh shot dropped to the inner, and the prize went to Lt.-Col. Blair.

The result was quite satisfactory to the Canadians, for Lieut. Burke won the King's Prize in 1924. It was the first tie between Canadians for the Prize, which now goes to Canada for the sixth time.

Previous Canadian Winners.

Previous Canadian winners were: Pte. T. H. Hayhurst, Hamilton, in 1895; Pte. S. J. Perry, Vancouver, 1904 ;Pte. W. J. Clifford, Toronto, 1911; Sergt.-Major W. A. Hawkins, Toronto, 1913; and Lieut. Burke, in 1924.

It was the second time Lt.-Col. Blair had been in the final, while Burke had been in the final four times. In 1926 Blair scored 276, being the fourth Canadian. Sergt. A. G. Fulton, veteran English marksman, won that final with 286 after a shoot-off.

Lieut. Desmond Burke thus for the third consecutive year takes second honors in the classics. He lost by one point in 1927 and by three points last year. He scored 291 and 280 respectively in these finals.

Burke made a strong challenge for the prize at the long distance, 1000 yards to-day, after trailing Blair since the beginning of yesterday's second stage. He finished the second stage with 140 to Blair's 141, and half way through the final was three points behind. Then, at the lowest range he scored a fine 72 out of a possible 75, while Blair was scoring 69.

Leads All At 900

Lieutenant Colonel Blair was leading all competitors when the first of the two distances in the final stage of the King's Prize had been competed. The first distance was900 yards, the second 1,000 yards.

Blair scored 73 out of a possible 75 at 900 yards to bring his aggregate up to 214. C. S. M. Emslie of Toronto scored 74, his aggregate being 210. Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa with 71 had an aggregate of 211, and Sgt. J. W. Sharpe of Montreal also scored 71

COMMITTEE IS WELL PLEASED WITH SUCCESS OLD HOME WEEK

Deficit Of Between $2,000 And $3,000 Is Expected By Sponsors

WELL WORTH EFFORT

Deficit Represents Well Spent Money, Is Opinion Of Committee

"An unqualified success" was the unanimous expression of opinion regarding Old Home Week voiced by the chairmen of the committees and other officials who met in the City Buildings last night. That the stamp of success undeniably marked every feature of the week and that the event as a whole was one well worth the effort, was agreed upon by those present at the meeting was held for the purpose of receiving reports and completing business in connection with the celebration.

Through Old Home Week, Peterborough's name reached places and individuals that it might never have otherwise, it was pointed out. The city was advertised to an extent that could not be equalled by many thousands of dollars of direct advertising, was the opinion one committeeman. From several radio stations in this country and in the United States, announcements were broadcast reaching millions of hearers. One case was mentioned of an unknown station somewhere in the west on a number of occasions devoting considerable time to the event.

"I was rather dubious about the possibility of putting the affair across," commented E. A. Peck, M.P., chairman of the honorary reception committee, "but I was greatly pleased with the success of it. I congratulate all of you on the remarkable energy you showed and your excellent work which made possible the success."

District Poorly Represented.

R. M. Glover, chairman of the publicity committee, stated that more Old Boys and Girls had attended the celebration than those in charge dared hope for or even thought possible. At the same time he expressed disappointment in the fact the district in the vicinity of Peterborough was so poorly represented in the city during the week of the celebration.

Financial Report.

Reports on the financial end of the week were read at the meeting by Treasurer Frank Adams. Although QUEBEC, July 20. — (Canadian Press. — The Province of Quebec finished the fiscal year of 1928-1929 on the right side of the ledger to the extent of $4,011,795.62, and had it not been for the extraordinary expenditures to $500,000, for the University of Montreal, and $1,000 each for the reduction of the debt and public assistance this surplus would have reached $,511,795.62.

COAST GUARDS MAKE RESCUE

Saved Two Brothers From Leaking Speed Boat 18 Miles From Shore

REFUSED CAYUGA'S OFFER

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 20. — (Canadian Press).—United States coastguardsmen from the Youngstown station rescued William Hillstors, 34 years old, and his brother, John, 28 years old, both of Lyndonville, from Lake Ontario last night when their speed-boat sprung leaks and filled with water. The speed-boat was 18 miles out in the lake, off the Port Dalhousie, Ont., short when the brothers noticed it filling with water. Tearing up the floor boards in the stern of the boat they found two large holes. They stuffed rags in the holes and baled the craft.

Bound from Toronto to Niagara-on-the-Lake, the steamer Cayuga of the Canada Steamship Lines passed the speed-boat and noticed the brothers' distress. The officers of the steamboat offered to take the Hillstors brothers aboard, but the latter declined to abandon their craft. When the Cayuga reached the Niagara-on-the-Lake port the coastguard was notified, and Chief Boatswain's Mate William Bedel and Master Motor Mechanic R. S. Learned set out in a coastguard cutter to the rescue.

FARMERS PREPARING TO HARVEST WHEAT

Alsike Yield Is Reported To Be Good In Peterborough District—Seed Is Larger.

With the hay crop packed away in their barns, the farmers of this district will enlarge their harvesting operations next week. Fred McIntyre, Deputy-Reeve of Otonabee, cut one of the first fields of alsike in this county last week, and was well satisfied with the yield. The seed is larger than last year, and is of good quality. Mr. McIntyre remarked that he expected that the cutting of grain would become general next week, and although some of the crops now ripening appear to be spotty, it is believed that the harvest will be much better than some of the promises of spring held out.

In North Monaghan a few days ago Mr. McIntyre observed a field of peas that seemed completely wilted. He found that the vines were covered with what was probably a green aphis, a small sucking insect that can do considerable damage if the weather and other conditions encourage it.

Americans Victors In Doubles Match

BERLIN, July 20 (C.P.).—The United States doubles team of John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison made it three victories in a row for the United States against Germany here to-day, capturing the clinching match from the German pair of Daniel Prenn and Hans Heidenhauer, 9—11, 6—2, 6—4, 6—3, and this giving the United States the right to meet France in the Davis Cup challenge round.

Blair And Collings Shoot Off For Gold Cross

BISLEY CAMP, Eng., July 20 (By Thos T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—After shooting off a tie with Master Gunner H. Collings of Esquimault, Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair of Vancouver to-day won the trophy, gold cross and $50, for first place in the grand aggregate of the N.R.A. meeting.

Blair and Collings were the only marksmen totalling 509 in the aggregate, comprised of 13 service rifle competitions. So the interesting spectacle of the president and secretary respectively of the British Columbia Rifle Association firing off at 1,000 yards to determine the winner, was afforded to-day.

CADETS LEAVE FOR KINGSTON

Boys Will Spend A Week Training At Barriefield Camp

1,200 BOYS EXPECTED

Peterborough's third contingent to the military camp at Barriefield left this morning, when about forty cadets from the public schools and the Collegiate Institute boarded a special car at the C.N.R. station at 9.35, Kingston-bound. They were in charge of Major C. E. Jamieson, Lieut. E. G. Wagar, Lieut. R. Crawford and Lieut. F. E. Kerr.

They will arrive in Kingston shortly after noon, and will march to the camp immediately, where over 1,200 cadets of the province are gathering to-day. The youngsters from Peterborough were of an average age of sixteen years, and presented a smart appearance as they boarded the train in full uniform. Those from the Collegiate carried service rifles as part of their equipment.

The pupose of the cadet camp is primarily to develop cadets suitable to take commissions as officers in the cadet corps of the province. Those sent to the camp have been chosen with that in view, each corps being allowed a given number of representatives at the camp. The camp authorities provided for twelve per cent. of each cadet corps. A number of vacancies which became evident several days ago were offered to the Peterborough district, increasing the allottment to about twenty per cent. of the enrollment. The local cadet corps were unable to take advantage of this at so late a date.

The mornings at the camp will be taken up with drill and musketry work on the rifle ranges. The .22 rifle and the service rifle will be used in this work. The afternoons will be devoted to organized sports and swimming, and evenings will be free.

The cadets from Peterborough did not go as an organized company to the camp. They will return next Saturday.

SOUTH AFRICA DEMANDS STEPS TAKEN ON PREFERENCE SUBJECT

Abolition Of System Be Serious Blow To Several Industries

MAY BE ONLY CHANGED

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, July 20.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The view that early steps should be taken to call an Imperial Conference, to consider the question of Imperial preferences, is strongly urged by the Federated Chamber of Industries of South Africa. The chamber, referring to the intimation that the British Labor Government might remove the preferences, declares abolition of them would be a serious blow to many important South African industries, especially sugar and dried fruits, in the development of which the preferences have been of great assistance.

PREFERENCE HELPS TRADE

The Chamber believes the Imperial preference not only assists producers in the Dominions to develop important industries but also by encouraging inter-empire trade is an important factor in promoting economic growth of the empire as a whole. The organization expresses the opinion that the British Government has not intention of entirely sweeping away the principle of preference, but intends the existing method shall be altered to some other means.

WANTS DIRECT TREATIES

Sir Benjamin Morgan, until recently chairman of the British Empire Producers' Association, is reported as saying during his recent visit to South Africa that he favored a system of direct commercial treaties between Britain and the Dominions. Whether this is so or not, the Chamber declares the time has came to consider the whole preference question, believing Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden's recent pronouncement mor t a straw to indicate the direction of the wind than as an indication of a cut and dried policy. The chamber also deprecates the suggestion that the principles of preference should be swept away, feeling such action would bring serious harm to many industries throughout the whole empire.
